SECOND ANNUAL. From Page 1.

The past year has seen many improvements in the general appearance of the paper. New type has been added and the paper increased in size.

Its advertising and subscription list has been very much enlarged and it visits a number of distant cities.

Financially it has been more successful than ever before.

The News thanks its many friends for their kindly interest.

ABOUT TOWN

Smith and Mc. Rae have an unusually attractive lot of Christmas things.

The most beautiful, it seems to us are the Christmas books and photo things, but others might prefer the toys, china and leather.

The mineral output of the Boundary district for 1902 will aggregate 520,000 tons, of a gross value of about $2,500,000.

At the smelter a matte shed is being built to keep heavy snows off.

Subscription to "Anaconda News" .50 a year, or .05 per ticket, good for 5 weeks. By mail $1.00 per year.

CULTUS HEHE

Once said the young boss of a sleigh
 These pesky bills how can I peigh
 I would go to my dad,
 But it makes him too mad
 So I'll go off and hide far aweigh.

THE FIRST COPY.

The Anaconda News.
Monday, Dec. 10th, 1900.

Editor, I am going to start up a free paper, called the Anaconda News.
Robert Keffier.

A New house. It is a flimsy thing. A log house, it is quite nasty but strong.

The editor's printing office is but small so the paper is the same.

The old fleet of ships is fine. They have been taken out of the water.
Robert Keffier.

The above is an exact reproduction of the first copy of the Anaconda News. A glance at it shows the hardships of the early News office.

Today the News celebrates its second birthday.
