LATEST NEWS OF THE FERNIE STRIKE. Some smelters closed. All Short of coke.

Our latest news from Fernie is that the strikers and the coal company have not come to any agreement.

In the meantime the smelters are all getting short of fuel; some have closed already, and if the strike is not soon over, others must soon shut down.

The outlook is rather bad just now, but we hope another week will bring good news.

The Anaconda smelter shut down today.

At the Providence.

A car of second class ore was shipped on Monday, and yesterday a car of first class went to Trail. The company hopes to get out another car of first class before the end of the month.

Twenty men are now on the payroll.
