A NEW DAM

Glory holes--Library
Coal chute.

At the Mother Lode many improvements have been made. The glory holes are much larger and deeper than before. New shelters and danger signs have been built for safety from blasting.

Two of the boilers are being moved from the upper engine house to the compressor house below the hill to be used alternately with those already there.

A dam is being built in the bottom of the gulch below the compressor which will hold 200,000 gallons of water.

A government library consisting of 104 volumes, has been received at the Mother Lode from Victoria.

A narrow gauge railway is being built to send coal down to the compressor.

A Curious Fact

It is a curious fact that after a rain lasting for a day and night, small pink worms from half to an inch long appear on a board porch over a foot above the ground. After the rain the sun soon dries them up. When dry they resemble small sticks. A shower lasting less than a day and night does not bring them.

Every person wastes enough money in six or seven years to realize a handsome capital if part even were saved.
