NEW STRIKE

On the Morning Star— Big Pay Streak.

On the Morning Star, situated on the road to the Mother Lode just above the smelter, the annual assessment is being done.

The former work consisted of a small shaft and an incline about 20 feet deep. The lead was exposed in both.

This year the incline has been sunk about six feet and exposes the lead well. In this shaft the ore body is about three feet through with a pay streak of from six to eight inches.

Further to the south a tunnel has been run in about thirty feet and is on the lead all the way. At the mouth of the tunnel the vein is a small stringer. However, in the face of the drift it measures four feet. The whole lead here is well mineralized and it has a

TO START SOON

Boundary Falls smelter er gets ore.

The Boundary Falls smelter will probably blow in on the first.

The first train of ore went down on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. It consisted of five cars. Some coke was left in the yards when the smelter shut down, and more has been going down for some time.

On the Brooklyn and Stemwinder work is being rushed as rapidly as possible, so that the furnaces can draw a liberal supply from here after the 10,000 tons now on the dump have been smelted.

At the Sunset work began last week to get out ore for fluxing. The company's officers and principal shareholders will visit the mines and smelter this week. We wish the company a long and successful run.

ABOUT TOWN

Mr. Arthur Meyer left for a vacation trip Monday.

Inhabitants of the Boundary have been starting winter fires.

Boundary Creek is lower at the present writing than at any time for many years.

Almost no rain has fallen since June 20th, a period of three months and eight days.

The editor was again on the sick list last week from Wednesday afternoon until Sunday.

Mr. M. Lehner of the Mother Lode store returned from a visit to Spokane on Friday last.

Tamarack trees are turning yellow from the heavy frost. The poplar and other deciduous trees and bushes are also turning color.

MINING NOTES.

On the Helen mining is progressing. A car of ore will soon be shipped to the Nelson smelter.

The Tip-top was bonded recently by Randolph Stuart and J. C. Haas. It is showing up a nice lead of rich ore and promises well.

pay streak a foot across near the center. The ore body has been traced north and south for about a hundred feet. The ore is silver gold with some lead and zinc.

The wagon road comes within fifty feet of the mouth of the tunnel and a short road to the workings could be built for a small sum. With good transportation so near and with a fine lead this is the most promising high grade property in Deadwood Camp.

Editor to take Vacation.

The News will not appear for three weeks or a month as the editor is going on a vacation trip. He will visit New York, Columbus and Cleveland Ohio, and the World's Fair at St. Louis.

At the Silver King active development work is going on. Things look good.

Work is progressing on the Silver Cloud. Much first class ore is on the dump and they will soon be able to ship a car.

Mr. Mark Kay is doing work on the Toronto. It has a silver gold lead and is a promising claim.

Trees are being cut on the hill to the west previous to starting excavations for the slag railway.

The Silver Cloud was bonded this week for a large sum.
