TELEGRAPHIC.

A Budget of Interesting News From Many Quarters.

(SPECIAL TO THE CLAIM.)

Tangier, Aug. 16.—The European in Morocco are in great danger. The feeling of the tribesmen is intensely anti-Christian and the position of the whites is one of imminent danger. Several European massacres are already reported from the interior.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—At a meeting of the executive of the telegraphers it was decided that every operator in the United States should be ordered out. The Federation of Labor and the Railroad Telegraphers strongly endorse the action. Reports from all over the country demand that there be no arbitration.

New York, Aug. 16.—The strikers are steadily gaining ground. The companies are very badly hampered as they cannot possibly secure enough strike-breakers to handle even the local business. Stocks are quieter and prices are going back to the standard.

Boston, Aug. 16.—The printers of this city have refused to handle any copy of the Western Union Telegraph and the Postal Telegraph Companies. This movement will greatly strengthen the hand of the striking operators.

Portland, Aug. 16.—The Railroad Operators here have been ordered to refuse to handle commercial messages.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—Capt. Schonwoldt, of the German ship Eva, who has just returned from the Orient, predicts that a war between Japan and the United States will occur within the next two months.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 16.—Speaker Cannon announces that the House is strongly in favor of the warships being sent to the Pacific. Congress will stimulate naval enlistments.

New York, Aug. 16.—Richard Mansfield is rapidly failing. There is no probability of his ever appearing on the stage again.

New York, Aug. 16.—The President's message has been stolen and an advance copy used on Wall street. Prices are being boosted on the strength of the advance tips being given out that the administration has reached the end of the fight on trusts. The parties who gave out the message are known. President Roosevelt desires to make an example of them when they are arrested.

London, Aug. 16.—In the House of Commons yesterday Birrell had to face a shower of questions concerning the Belfast strike. The Irish members wanted the troops withdrawn. Birrell answered that "the government was fully alive to the urgency of the matter, and were doing all in their power to secure a settlement."

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The dates for the meetings arranged for R. J. Borden, leader of the opposition in Dominion politics, have all been set. He will speak at Victoria, Vancouver, Kamloops, Nelson and Grand Forks.

Dr. Young Returns.

Dr. H. E. Young, provincial secretary, minister of education and member for the Atlin district, came in on Friday's boat. He will probably remain two weeks or so before returning to his official duties at the capital. The Doctor is looking exceedingly well, and expresses himself as pleased to be back once more amongst his old friends in the district.

Farewell Dance.

Those who attended the farewell dance to Mrs. James Haslett, held in the Kootenay hall Wednesday evening last, had a thoroughly good time. There seemed to be an infection of merriment and good nature in the atmosphere. The hall was comfortably arranged with a cosy corner or two and flags adorned the walls. The music, thanks to Mrs. Costigan and Mrs. Woods, was most excellent, the two ladies were generous in their responses to encores; the floor could not have been better, in fact, everything contributed to make the evening a most enjoyable one.

Refreshments were laid in the dining rooms, and at midnight recess was called and the good things discussed. The tables looked very dainty and enticing. Dancing was presently resumed. Mr. Lipscombe favored the gathering with a couple of good songs.

At the break-up the entire company joined in "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mrs. Haslett spoke her thanks very prettily, and the evening came to a close.

The committee are very much indebted to Mr. Rosselli, who so very kindly placed the hall at their disposal, and very materially helped with his practical suggestions and labor.

Mrs. Haslett and family leave on Tuesday for Skagway, where they will take up their residence.

In Discovery, last winter, Mr. Paxton went out to ascertain what the thermometer registered. The above was the result. The morning of January 27 at 27 minutes 2 7 it was 27 below zero.

Two school teachers for the Atlin district are due to arrive next week. Miss G. Pineo is to take charge of the Atlin school and Miss Sterling goes to Discovery.

Joe Palmer, junior, had the misfortune, last Friday, to slip and fall on the grizzly bars, in the ditch at the upper steam ditcher on Pine creek. A few days in dry dock and he will be right as a trivet.

The Rev. John Pringle came in to Atlin last Tuesday for a visit to his old friends and a rest, having been 'under the weather' lately. He left on Friday's boat.

Chief Constable O. F. Conley returned on Friday's boat from a trip to Westminster, where he placed Henry Garneau. He had not the slightest trouble with his charge.

Messrs. T. M. Daulton, R. A. Chadwick, G. W. Rudd and Pete Crow constitute a prospecting party which arrived in Atlin the first of the week. They represent the Anglo-American Mining Company, which has bonded some quartz properties near Conrad.

Private information from upper Birch, Wright, Otter and Spruce indicate that a large majority of the miners will have a good season. Wilson creek is still the centre of attraction, and, if the present showing keeps up, it bids fair to rival some of the rich creeks of the Yukon.

A hunting party consisting of George Sinclair, Frank Koble, T. D. Harris, M. R. Jamieson, E. M. N. Woods and H. Young left on the Scotia Friday afternoon for the north end of Atlin lake. No doubt there will be a record slaughter of game, as the hunters had a plentiful supply of ammunition—both barrelled and bottled.

The Bishop of Gabway says that there would be less lunacy in Ireland if the children were fed more on potatoes and oatmeal and less on tea.

The International Telegraphers Union have placed a reserve fund of $1,000,000 to the credit of the striking telegraph operators.

The Goldie apartment house, on Fifteenth street, Seattle, was burned down recently, the loss amounting to $40,000. The fire was of incendiary origin.

The newspapers of Victoria are demanding that the mayor and aldermen should resign, and hold them responsible for the recent devastation of a portion of the city by fire.

The White Pass & Yukon railroad has ordered one of the largest narrow gauge engines ever built, and the same will be used between Skagway and the Summit, as a helper. The engine and tender will weigh 106 tons.

A few days ago the entire Chinese crew of the German steamship 'Talesman,' lying at dock in Seattle, attempted to desert the vessel in a body. The officers, armed with rifles, drove them back and forced them to go to work.

Frank Rockefeller, who lives in Cleveland, declares that he is writing a book which, he says, will force John D. Rockefeller to leave the United States. He says that his father is alive, and that he intends to tell everything in the book which will throw light upon the manner in which the Rockefeller millions were amassed.

The notorious Bill Miner, Albert F. McCluskey, J. W. Clark and W. J. Woods, the four convicts who escaped from the Westminster penitentiary on August 5th, are still at large though they are being tracked with bloodhounds. Deputy Warden Bourke thinks they were assisted from the outside.

Fifty thousand working men in Chicago greeted W. D. Haywood upon his arrival in that city. Women fell upon his arms and wept and kissed him. Haywood addressed the crowds and thanked them for their sympathy, which he declared had saved him from being sent to the gallows. He said that the trial he had received had been unfair, and that the mine owners intended to have him legally murdered. He severely criticized Roosevelt's letter in which he and the other defendants were classed as undesirable citizens.

A New Corner.

At St. Andrew's hospital, during the wee hours of Thursday morning, a little stranger made his debut into this great, big, strange world. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Plumb are the proud parents of a healthy eight pound specimen of the masculine gender. Mother and infant are both doing nicely. Little Martin, who has been doing wheelbarrow stunts for some time back, will be in great shape for the perambulator.

CHARLES L. COLLIS, EDITOR-MANAGER.

We would like to make it plain, yet at the same time assure our friends and readers we have no wish to hurt their feelings.

Do not, please, ask us who wrote this or that article, or who was the writer of a certain letter. If there is one thing that is harder to get out of a newspaper than than money, it is the name of a contributor of a letter. So many people ask, some thoughtlessly and some with impertinent curiosity, for this information we thought it might be just as well to set the matter right by this explanation and appeal.

Card of Thanks.

To the Editor:

Sir.—I have been in the hospital for the last two months and I feel it my duty, and a pleasure also, to express my thanks and gratitude to the two nurses in charge, and to Mrs. Walters, for their kindness to me. The management of the institution and the way in which the service is rendered, is certainly a credit to the board of trustees and the three ladies. It is only when one has to go there that the worth of the hospital can be truly appreciated; and the miners and others in the district are fortunate indeed to have such a place of refuge and rest to go to in case of sickness or accident. The treatment received there reminds one of the kind and loving ministrations of a mother.

Boys, when a call is made on you for help for the hospital dig deep down into your 'pokes' and give freely for surely it is a good cause.

TOM WHITE.

Atlin, August 6th, 1907.

Graham Creek Holders.

To the Editor:

Sir.—I am forced to ask you to publish a short reply to your comments on my letter of last week, with regard to Graham creek.

You say that my statement that Mr. Muir is represented by the Gold Commissioner is absolutely false.

I therefore ask you to refer to the recorder's office as follows: Placer Bills of Sale, folio one, volume nineteen; recorded August 1901; Wm. Muir to J. A. Fraser, power of attorney. Again, look up folio seventy-seven, volume six, Leases Bills of Sale, you will find Mr. Fraser as principal for Mr. Muir gives a power of attorney to J. Frank Ware, recorded 7th March, 1903. Again, look up lease number 393 on Graham creek, you will find Mr. Muir executes the same per Mr. J. Frank Ware.

Now, in the face of these documents, how can it be said that my statement is absolutely false? The documents speak for themselves and the truth is apparent.

CALHORE.

Atlin, August 12, 1907.

In answer to Calhore's letter in this issue, we say: It was not our statement that the assertion made by him in his first letter was "absolutely false." It was a statement made by the Gold Commissioner and we quoted him.

Following the suggestions in the second letter we referred to the different volumes mentioned by Calhore. Anyone may do the same by applying at the Recorder's office, there is no secrecy about the affair, the public may know for the asking. The documents exist, as the letter writer says, but they do not prove what he is trying to show in his letter. This is only our humble opinion based against that of a mighty intellect. Furthermore, we again quote the Gold Commissioner when we say very emphatically: "Calhore's statement that Mr. Muir is represented by the Gold Commissioner is absolutely false."

If Calhore, or any other person, has any grievance against the Gold Commissioner, and thinks he has the evidence to prove it, let him write to the Minister of Mines his statement of case. Let him get his facts marshalled and present them at the fountain head. If there is any virtue in his case it will receive consideration and the wrongs be righted.

If there are any other communications from the same source they must be over the bona-fide signature of the writer. We do not propose to be a fence behind which anyone may hide and throw doubts and aspersions on another's character and standing. Get out into the open and declare yourself, and don't seek our protection. It is not for us to substantiate your charges. If they are true and your honesty of purpose apparent, then you will receive the support of all good people. If otherwise and your honesty of purpose doubtful you will soon know the result.—Ed.]

A German paper states that an artist painted cobwebs on his ceiling so truthfully that the servant girl wore herself into a state of nervous prostration trying to sweep them down. Peach of a girl!

The Knocker.

"The Knocker" is the off-spring of Failure and Envy. He is an only child, and like most only children, generally spoiled. He never reaches real majority. Success in others hurts him like a tight shoe.

When he grows up he goes into the laundry business, and wherever he goes he carries with him a lot of soiled linen and a clothes line. Having no property of his own, and being too poor to rent, he becomes a "pocher," makes his headquarters in the offices of other people, and particularly in hotels where a "live-one" is due at any time. There he sets up his tub and stretches his line and remains, until you interrupt him with the polite invitation to come again when you are not so busy, or when he has a little more cash.

"The Knocker" always gets business for the firm that doesn't pay his salary. As soon as his own firm finds that out he is retired without notice or pay. Nobody wants his company. His employment is a dangerous business experiment. His words are without fruit. No one places confidence in even the good things he says, for they are attributed to sinister motives.

He is a business vandal, continually tearing down without replacing anything better, an unwholesome creature with a bad heart and with eyes set so close together that he can peep through a key-hole with both of them at once. He cannot look you in the face for love or money.

In the quadruped kingdom he would be either a hyena or a skunk or a cross-bred. Among the birds of the air he would be a cuckoo in disposition, with a crow's complexion, while as a reptile he would be a viper. He "does" everybody, relatives included. Relatives are usually his first victims because they are decent enough to place some confidence in him. He is the one man that can perform that wonderful contortionist feat of getting beneath himself. He is as dangerous to a community as a leper let loose.

When you meet a "knocker" do not patronize him. Do not listen to him. Soak him a good one on the place where his brains out to be, and kick him where they really are located.

In a mining town a barber was convicted of murdering his wife. Although the evidence was purely circumstantial the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, as the result of the eloquence and persuasion of the prosecuting attorney. When the judge told the prisoner he had a right to express a last wish and asked him if he had anything to say, the man stood up and, facing the prosecuting attorney, said in a clear voice:

"Your honor, I should just like one more chance to be allowed the privilege of shaving the prosecuting attorney."

A Grave Message.

Mr. Lively walking past the cemetery last night, after spending a convivial evening in Discovery, was suddenly hailed by the voice of an old friend, who 'slipped his cable' a few years ago. He immediately faced round, and there, standing in front of the graves, he saw old "Bill"—looking as natural as ever.

"Come over here I want to speak to you," said Bill, in deep sepulchral tones.

Mr. Lively boldly advanced towards his old friend, but when within ten feet he was told to stand.

Then Bill continued: "I have come out of my grave to tell you fellows in Atlin that if you don't hurry up with the Cemetery Fund and get us safely fenced in, and the jumpers fenced out, me and my mates will haunt every soul in the district. Now be off with you."

The order was quickly obeyed; and, we may add, another subscription has been received towards appeasing the wrath of poor old Bill and his mates.

An Easy Matter.

The man was playing euchre with the very latest belle of the season, his three month's bride way trying to busy her mind as well as her fingers with a piece of embroidery.

Suddenly the husband turned toward his wife with a patronizing air.

"Pardon me," he exclaimed, "I had not noticed that I was between you and the light."

"Oh, pray don't move," the little woman replied, "I can see through you perfectly well."

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease CONSUMPTION, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, CATARRH, BRONCHITIS and all throat and lung MALADIES. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address

The Gold Laws.

Sir.—Will you kindly permit me to briefly reply to your criticism of my letter of August 5th.

You begin by saying I hurl questions and charges at an absent one. Now, that is precisely what I did not do. I "hurled" questions at you, and I am still waiting for the answer. I distinctly said that when our member came in he would be asked these questions too, thereby giving him fair warning and time to marshal his facts. I consider the end of the session the proper time to ask questions and not wait until the eve of an election and then "hurl" all manner of accusations at his head.

The only charge that I made was that the forwarding of the resolutions of miners meeting was the "last of them." I probably should have added "as far as we know." The only other hint of a charge was in saying we did not want a government voting automaton, (you omitted the word 'voting,' but I am sure you will find it in my letter.)

My authority for the so-called charges is the votes and proceedings of the legislative assembly, which I have carefully perused.

I do not plead guilty either to the misconception of the meaning of the word 'tinker.' As to the American use of it—that's another story.

And now I have great pleasure in endorsing every sentence in your editorial re the "Japs." A more serious question than the Gold Laws and a more difficult one to solve. The trouble is that all our representatives shift the blame on the other fellow, instead of combining to face the peril.

OLD TIMER.

Discovery, Aug. 12, 1907.

We did not see the resolutions the miners sent to our representative, though we knew of them. We realize that our member's return to his constituency was delayed on account of a multiplicity of duties and we had faith in him to do his best, and, on his return give good and sufficient explanations of his actions. That is the reason, Old Timer, we did not attempt to answer your questions.

Thanks for your expression of approval.—Ed.
