THE ATLIN CLAIM.

VOL. 7. ATLIN, B. C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1902. NO. 160.

THE SUNRISE CO.

New Plant Installed on the London Group.

Yellow channel Exposed.—Gratifying Prospects.—Some Very Substantial Work Done.

The Sunrise Co.'s new plant, on the London Group, is taking water from the south ditch, and has an increased pressure of 50 feet over their other installations, the head now being 119 feet. This is the first hydraulicing done on the high rim on the south side of Pine Creek.

Water was turned on last Monday and by Tuesday a face was opened up exposing the yellow channel as expected. The face shows a depth of between 15 to 18 feet of yellow gravel, and the gravel itself appears to be, at this point, less than 6 feet from the surface of the bench. From the lay of the gravel the channel was running south-westerly, away from the present creek, in the direction of Stevendyke Gulch and Spruce Creek.

The characteristic points of the gravel are the large accumulation of round and oval boulders the gravel itself being more or less cemented, but yielding readily to the monitor.

Where exposed, it may be mentioned that, this is the lowest point on Pine Creek where the yellow channel has been found, and from general indications it is most probable to be the last appearance on the present channel of Pine Creek.

The flume has been very substantially laid, in setting it the rim was cut down to a depth of about 10 feet in order to bottom the channel. It runs nearly parallel with the present bed of Pine Creek.

It is the intention of the Company to follow the channel up stream piping down from above.

We congratulate the Company upon this commencement of serious development work on their valuable property.

The Stevendyke Co.

The Stevendyke Partnership we are informed are working on the westerly edge of the bench upon which the yellow channel has been exposed by the Sunrise Co., and are running a big ground-sluice cut to trace if possible the existence of this valuable deposit as it crosses their property. Indications warrant them in pushing the work; and we trust their search may have a similar satisfactory conclusion as that attending the Sunrise operations.

THE ATLIN HOSPITAL.

Women's Ward now Completed.

Funds Provided by Presbyterian Ladies of Toronto.—Furniture Required.

The new addition to the Hospital, the women's ward, is now completed. It consists of one large ward, a private ward, bath room and a reception room.

Before this addition was erected the nurses on many different occasions willingly gave up their own private dwelling in cases of maternity.

The expense of building this new ward was subscribed by the presbyterian ladies of Toronto, the cost being over one thousand dollars.

Furniture is now required, and considering that the hospital has been in existence three years and that no one, whatever his or her circumstances, was turned away, rich or poor, heathen or christian, one and all get the same treatment and attention. Too much cannot be said in praise of the nurses, whose indefatigable efforts to bring comfort to the sick are to say the least commendable; it is not asking too much of the residents of this district to subscribe liberally to the list that is now being circulated around.

Double Wedding at Spruce Creek.

Miss. Lydia Boudreau and Mr. Armand Piquet, and Miss Marie Boudreau and Mr. Alexander Blondeau were married on Tuesday last, at Mr Boudreau's residence on Spruce Creek, the ceremony was performed by Father MacKinnon.

The brides are both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boudreau, only the intimate friends of the families were invited.

We wish them all every happiness.

RATES ON ORE.

The Rate not yet Fixed by White Pass Officials.

President S. H. Graves and Supt. P. F. Scharschmidt of the White Pass Route, came in last Wednesday, but have made no definite arrangements as to rates on ore shipments which it was anticipated would be adjusted on this visit.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1902.

It will be by this time, just four years from the inception of the camp, quite evident to anyone who has given the matter the slightest consideration that we have in our midst two elements detrimental to the welfare of the district.

These two elements are, on the one hand, the parties owning property, which they are desirous of disposing of by any means justifiable or otherwise and who are therefore desirous of "booming" the camp unduly, and as every body knows the reaction that is bound sooner or later to follow a "boom."

The other element, which does not perhaps do so much harm, consists of those parties, who own property, which they are desirous of holding and who wish to acquire more, and with this end in view do their utmost to decry the value of all property at all contiguous to that which they wish to acquire. This of course also harms the standing of the camp.

What is necessary to help a camp along is to have full and accurate news and information of its capabilities disseminated throughout the points where capital exists and we can suggest no better means than an exhaustive report made by a competent authority.

It is now over two years since we were visited by the Provincial Mineralogist and since that time many changes have taken place and much development work has been done.

We think that the Government might see their way to again send their Mineralogist to visit, and report on, this district, and we are sure that his report, which would be impartial, would give the outside public a good idea of just really what we have in this district.

We have contributed, in the last four years, a large quota to the revenue of the province and it is not too much to ask for this very slight recognition from the Government.

The matter is, in our humble opinion, at least worth ventilating.

The Board of Trade will discuss the advisability of taking action on the above suggestion at its next monthly meeting.

Governor Ross.

Improving Rapidly.

Gov. Ross has not yet been removed from White Horse and is still at Major Snyder's residence.

He has recovered his speech and can now move his limbs. His physicians have every hope for his speedy recovery, and are generally pleased with his progress.

Inducing Investment.

That we have a mining district worthy of more than ordinary attention is known to us, what is needed is ably put forth in an article appearing in the Mining and Scientific Press, from which we take the following extract.

"The possession of mineral wealth is not enough. It should be made known. One good way is to help the local newspaper. This is an age of advertising, and the press is the best for announcement. Tell the local editor the truth, buy his paper and pay for it. What he says about your prospect, if it has the right ring to it, will be noted by the larger journals and thus get before "capital." When "capital" does get as far as your town, don't assume that it can be easily led. Capital is usually shy and you must secure its confidence. Tell the truth; the truth is good enough and most people believe it. Don't inflate prices. Let the buyer have a chance to make a little. True the prospect may be worth $100,000, but wouldn't it be better to take a little less than to hold out for your own figure. "Capital" is willing to take chances sometimes but; if it goes away, you may have to hang on to your $100,000 property for some time, and may even die waiting. Twenty-five thousand is worth more to a live man than a $100,000 prospect to a dead one. Then, too, if "capital," when it gets to your place, takes a fancy to some property other than your own, don't tell the visitor that he will be sold if he buys that, or that you can put him on to something better. Let your neighbour, friend or enemy, make a sale if he can. The next best thing to having money yourself is for someone else near you to have it. It would be even well for you to praise the other fellow's property a little—much better than to "knock it". One investment, if satisfactory, leads to another, and the sale of your neighbour's property may help you dispose of yours. Of one thing be sure: "Capital" will be ready to believe any mean things you may tell it, and will feel like taking the next stage out of the place, while a little broad gauge treatment may be the means of considerable resultant good to all concerned."

Many a mining camp of merit has been "queered" forever by the mistaken notion of its residents that a would-be investor who strays in there is a fit subject for imposition. While they cannot affect the existence of mineral in the ground if they keep men from going down after it, the result is the same as if the ore were annihilated. Millions of dollars of ore in the ground will never benefit its owner nor the community unless it is taken out, and the men who are able to go after the ore should be met fairly by the prospector or promoter to the mutual benefit of all. Prohibitive prices and misrepresentation never opened a mining camp.

"Besides telling your local editor the true news and buying his paper, and showing in all ways that you appreciate his value, give him a little advertisement of your property. You won't lose anything by it. It were also well to take and carefully read a good mining paper. You will often see therein the names of men who are on the lookout for mining property; write them briefly, setting out in short meter what you think your local advantages are. Get your neighbors to make up a little purse and have some neat circulars printed; send those out to any address that may seem to you desirable: 99 out of every 100 may be wasted—circulars usually are—but one out of each hundred may start an enquiry. Just consider you have something to sell that needs advertising, and advertise accordingly.

You cannot attract deserved attention except in some such way. It is just as good business to advertise the resources of a mining district or the merits of a particular property as to advertise a concentrator or a hoist. The idea, is to make a sale and do business."

Dawson Telegraph Operators go out on Strike.

A special wire from Dawson states that the Government Telegraph operators are out on strike, due, it states, to non-payment of salaries and reduction of one third in wages.

So far the service is not interrupted and there is no likelihood of any serious trouble.

Klondike Clean Up.

The estimate of $30,000,000 for the spring clean-up is the largest on record for the arctic gold field, and goes to prove the permanency of this source of the world's gold supply.

Pointers.

In building flumes in dry weather the condition of the board lumber used should be noted. If dry and seasoned it should not be nailed to make close joints. An allowance should be made for the swelling of the boards when they become wet. Partly seasoned lumber or even lumber green from the saw can be used for flume construction. When battens are used in the boxes it is best to nail only one edge till they have been well soaked up by the flowing water.

Pine or fir riffle blocks for sluices are apt to occasion loss of gold, because of the pitchy grease exuding therefrom, flouring the quicksilver.

The ordinary rule for proportional dimensions of mine post timbers is that the diameter of the post in inches should be equal to its length in feet.

The A.O.U.W. at Home.

The entertainment given last Friday by the A. O. U. W., though not so well attended as the previous one, was voted another success.

The disciples of Hoyle and Cavendish had a good time. The Ping Pong Tournament went off with a vim and much interest was evinced; Mr. H. Young took the first prize whilst the honour of carrying off the booby prize fell to Mr. A. Kaye. Some of the guests tried their hands at the targets with varied success.

Then a well served lunch was passed around and an enjoyable evening wound up by the ever popular dance.

Sunday's Excursion.

The "Weather Man" evidently took note of Mr. Lipscombe's warning and the Scotia sailed on time with a full cargo of pleasure seekers.

A number of passengers got off at Mc. Kee Creek and visited the Hydraulic workings of the Atlin Mining Co. and combined with the pleasure of picking wild strawberries, which abound in profusion, all had a good time.

The contingent who went to Pike River enjoyed a game of base ball after lunch and altogether the outing was a most pleasant one and the thanks of all the excursionists for the courtesies shown them is due to all, from the gallant Captain to the cabin boy,

On the return trip in the afternoon the wind freshened cousiderably and "got in its deadly work" on two of our leading legal luminaries, one lost a brand new hat and the other got a brand new suit of clothes wet while regaining the steamer at the mouth of Mc.-Kee; but no matter, we trust soon to have another pic-nic.
