Ald. Baxter Elected Mayor of Vancouver By Acclamation

A situation absolutely unique in that city, a sensation such as has rarely been seen in city hall circles, was created at noon on the 2nd inst. by the return by acclamation of Truman Smith Baxter as mayor of Vancouver. It had been known all along that there was another candidate for the honor in the person of Mr. Jonathan Rogers, chairman of the Park Commissioners, but at almost the last moment it was discovered that his secretary had made out the candidate's certificate of title for the wrong lot.

It was too late to remedy the error when it was discovered.

Added to this came another sensation. The name of Mr. L. Taylor, proposed by Messrs Fred A. Montgomery and F. E. Hill, was handed in just too late, the nominations having been closed a moment before.

Mr. T. S. Baxter was thereupon declared elected mayor by acclamation.

The first person to greet the mayor-elect was Mr. Rogers, who briefly explained the circumstances which led to his disqualification.

Paul and Spintlum Given Into Custody

Kamloops, B. C., Dec. 30.—Under heavy police guard, Moses Paul and Paul Spintlum, who shot and killed Alexander Kindness, a provincial police officer, last May, were brought to the city Saturday and hurried to jail. Great interest is taken in the case, as the men have been pursued since the killing of Kindness. The men appeared to be in excellent health, and not particularly worried. They gave no trouble on the way here.

Rumors that the chiefs who were responsible for the arrest of the criminals have been threatened by friends of the two men preceded their arrival in this city. No credence has been placed in the story that the Indians are planning to free Paul and Spintlum by violent methods, but extra guards are being placed at the jail to prevent any possible trouble.

Big Shipbuilding plant will be erected at Sault Ste. Marie at cost of million and a half.

Salmon From Burke Channel For Kimsquit

Mr. Donald Moore, managing director of the Draney's Fisheries, Ltd., of Namu and Kimsquit, visited Bella Coola on Sunday last and arranged with some of the Bella Coola fisherman, who are now holding fishing licenses, for the buying of their fish during the coming season.

A satisfactory agreement was entered into whereby all the fish caught in Bella Coola waters by the independant fishermen will be taken to Kimsquit.

It was thought that the B. C. Packers' Association, who has had a Cannery at Bella Coola for some years past, would have taken early precautions against losing these fish, and it would have been well could these fishermen have been induced to patronise the home cannery.

There has however been in the past a feeling among the settlers of Bella Coola, who have been in the habit of fishing for the local cannery, that they were not always accorded the best of treatment, and this may account for their present action.

Sixteen licenses will also be granted for Kimsquit, but we learn that up to this date no applications for same have been received by the licensing official at Bella Coola.

Aged Emperor Dying

That Emperor Franz Josef of Austria is very near death is the assertion here today of the Paris Midi. The paper prints a despatch from Rome stating that the aged ruler is very feeble, despite the denials of the Vienna press, and that his death cannot long be deferred.

The despatch says that the Rome correspondent got his information on good authority from the Vatican.

New Line Across Cariboo

Application to parliament will soon be made by the Cariboo, Bakerville and Willow River railway for leave to build a line from a point near South Fort George following the Willow River to Bakerville, then crossing to Quesnel lake and beyond to Clearwater river, following that stream to to its junction with the North Thompson river. The Northern Terminus of the line will be on the Pacific Great Eastern track running south from Fort George.

Negotiations Likely to Be Broken Off

Turks Must Meet Terms of Balkan Allies

London.—According to Dr. S. Daneff, the chief of the Bulgarian delegation, unless the map which the Turkish delegation is now preparing showing the proposed boundary between Bulgaria and Turkey, should prove to be in accordance with the terms laid down by the allies, the peace negotiations between the Balkan and the Turkish envoys will be broken off. Dr. Daneff in the course of an interview said:

"The position of affairs has not changed so much for the better as people seem to imagine. It must be borne in mind that from the beginning Turkey has always said she would make certain cessions in Macedonia and Epirius and in part of the province of Thrace. There remains the question of Adrianople.

"This is one of the most vital points in the negotiations.

"The second difficulty is in connection with the matter of the Aegean Sea. There again we will insist upon our terms.

"In fact there is no ground for the impression in some quarters that we have the intention of modifying our terms as regards Turkey. Whatever we do afterward is not connected with our negotiations with Turkey."

Viceroy of India's Condition Causes Grave Anxiety

Delhi, India.—Great anxiety is felt here over the condition of Baron Charles Hardinge, viceroy of India, who was wounded recently by an exploding bomb while proceeding to the ceremonies attending the removal of the vice-regal headquarters from Calcutta to Delhi.

Physicians attending Baron Hardinge issued a statement that probably another operation may be necessary to remove some fragments of steel remaining in his back and shoulders.

The viceroy is in great pain and his fever has returned.

Gale Damages Quarantine Wharf

The new 1,000 foot pier being erected at Digby Island for the new quarantine station, sustained serious damage during a recent south-east gale, about 100 feet of the outer end being completely tore away.

The great seas which swept in on that point pounded away the dock.

Reported New Line to British Columbia

News comes from San Francisco that an English syndicate is contemplating the inauguration of another line of steamers. It is made on a report from San Diego, where Mr. Paul La Royal, a millionaire mining engineer, of the city of Mexico, and a representative of a large English syndicate, is investigating wharfage facilities.

The English firm, which is believed to be connected with the Morgan interests, has for fifteen years been engaged in exploiting lands and mines on the west coast of Mexico and is now ready to launch a line of steamers in the coast service between British Columbia and Panama. It will start with eight vessels and will later augment that number by the purchase of twelve more steamers, it is said.

Gun-a-Noot Visits Missionary at Kispiox

Simon Gun-a-Noot, who for years has successfully evaded the police in Northern British Columbia recently called on the Rev. W. Lee, a methodist missionary at Kispiox, for the purpose of withdrawing certain money he had invested in a local saw-mill. On learning the identity of his visitor, the Reverend gentleman advised the Indian to give himself over to justice. Simon agreed to consider the matter, but returning later told Mr. Lee that after thinking the matter over and talking with his friends he had decided to retain his liberty. He expressed doubts that the provocation for the killing of the two men would receive consideration.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

S. S. Camosun docked here Sunday morning bringing a large consignment of freight for our local merchants.

The passengers for this port included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Draney and family, Messrs Iver Dougner, Charles Tucker, Frank Broughton and Dr. W. J. Guthrie of Prince Rupert.

The outgoing [illegible] included Ed. Wheeler, [illegible]on, John Jorgensen.

James McMillan and Thomas West have returned to town after a lengthy stay on their trapping grounds. They bring back a goodly catch of furs, but report being much handicapped by bad weather.

Mr. Roy Mosher of Atnarko, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Mosher is line-man on a section of the telegraph line extending as far as Anaham Lake, and had just returned from examining the line and putting same in perfect order. He reports everything satisfactory on his station and on the completion of the installation of the instruments a test call will be sent to 150 Mile House.

It is expected that the line will be available in about a week's time.

Removal of Log-Jams in Atnarko River

A series of log jams on the Atnarko River has long prevented the salmon from proceeding to their natural spawning grounds at the head of that stream.

We learn however that a contract has been awarded to Walter Ratcliff, a rancher in the Upper Valley for the removal of these obstructions. We understand that Mr. Ratcliff's tender of $[illegible] was the lowest received.

We cannot recollect having seen or heard of any notice calling for tenders for this work, nor was the Courier honored by being asked to insert same in its columns. Perhaps those concerned in this matter had other and more expedient (if not so fair) methods of notifying the public.

We are glad to know however that the work has fallen into good hands, as Mr. Ratcliff residing in that district has the advantage of a thorough knowledge of the river in its various moods. The work is to be completed by the 1st June next.

J. A. Burke of [illegible]

[illegible] have arrived. Enough [illegible]

Judging from the large [illegible]ties of furs to be seen among local stores, it is evident that various kinds for which Northern British Columbia is famous, viz Marten, Mink, Lynx, Fisher and Fox, must be on the increase.

A very considerable amount of furs has come in during the last two weeks, for which the local merchants have paid high prices.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by a large number of local ladies and gentlemen who gathered at the Grand View Hotel on Wednesday evening last, as the guests of Mrs. J. S. Robinson, the occasion being a birthday party in honor of her daughter, Miss Cora Robinson.

Mrs. Robinson proved an admirable hostess and was ably assisted by Mr. Frank Hagan, their combined efforts providing an evening of unqualified enjoyment.

SATURDAY, JAN. 11, 1912.

Two Years Ago

One has not to be blessed with any abnormal gift of memory to well recollect the time when the House of Commons unanimously resolved to keep the naval question free from politics.

That was when Mr. Borden and his colleagues were unembarrassed and felt no restraint in speaking their minds.

Now, however that the naval question has been dragged back into politics, out of deference to the Nationalists, or some other factious group, Mr. Borden has thrown overboard the high-principled policy of a real Canadian navy, in favor of a policy of contribution.

Speaking in parliament on January 12, 1910—just two years—Mr. Borden said:

"It has been suggested that instead of the organization of a Canadian naval force, there should be a system of annual contributions from this country to the mother country; and I am free to admit that, from the strategical point of view, I would be inclined to agree with the view of the admiralty that this would be the best way for the great self-governing dominions of the Empire, to make their contributions.

"But sir, from a constitutional and political standpoint, I am opposed to it, for many reasons. In the first place, I do not believe it would endure. In the second place it would be a source of friction. It would become a bone of partisan contention. It would be subject to criticism as to the character and the amount of contribution in both parliaments. It would not be permanent or continuous. IT WOULD CONDUCE, IF ANYTHING COULD CONDUCE, TO SEVERING THE PRESENT CONNECTION BETWEEN CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

"Permanent co-operation in defence, in my opinion, can only be accomplished by the use of OUR OWN MATERIAL, THE EMPLOYMENT OF OUR OWN PEOPLE, THE DEVELOPMENT AND UTILIZATION OF OUR OWN SKILL AND RESOURCEFULNESS, and above all, by impressing upon the people a sense of responsibility for their share in international affairs."

It is indeed subject for thought how Mr. Borden can now advance a policy which he so recently condemned.

In one thing however, he predicted truly, the policy of contribution is a bone of partisan contention, but he who condemned the possibility has directly brought about the reality.

How well Mr. Borden was supported in his condemnation of a policy of contribution! The Hon. George E. Foster, whose recent speech has been so much lauded by some conservatives, speaking from the opposition benches, earnestly demanded the creation of a Canadian navy, while as earnestly denouncing a policy of contribution.

His speech was in part as follows:

"The first and greatest objection which I have to a fixed money contribution is that it bears the aspect of hiring somebody else to do what we ourselves ought to do; as though a man, the father of a family, in lusty health and strength, should pay his neighbor something per month for looking after the welfare and safety of his home instead of doing that duty himself. That seems to me, when you work it out, to be a basic objection to this form of aid. It goes still further than that. Suppose you contribute this year your sum, and next year your equal sum, and thereafter year after year. After ten or twelve, or twenty, or thirty years, you will have paid out an immense amount of money. You will have been protected in the meantime; but in Canada itself there will be no roots struck, there will be no residue left, there will be no preparation of the soil, or beginning of the growth of the product of defence. Yet some time or other, no one can doubt that with resources and with a population constantly increasing, we must and will have in this country a naval force of our own for our coast and home defence."

One thing seems evident, that Mr. Borden has decided that the naval policy for Canada is the one that will "conduce to severing the connection between Canada and the Empire," and that Mr. Foster said "bears the aspect of hiring somebody else to do what we ourselves ought to do."

Naturally Bourassa is opposed to the Laurier naval policy. He says in Le Devoir that Laurier wishes at all costs to add to Mr. Borden's tribute of gold that of blood. There are still three naval policies: Bourassa's, neither money nor men; Borden's, money but no men; Laurier's, money and men.—Toronto Globe.

A correspondent warns us that if we discuss this $35,000,000 gift to Britain in a churlish or dlsagreeable way Britain may grow annoyed and refuse to lend us the money.—The Globe.

As for the failure of the Canadian navy to secure recruits in sufficient numbers Admiral Kingsmill in his last official report says: "Owing to the uncertainty of the future naval policy, and to the accommodation being limited, no special efforts have been made to obtain recruits." Is any further explanation of the failure required?

The Glasgow Daily Herald, a great Unionist and Imperialist journal, says that "far from relieving the burdens of the British taxpayer, in one sense the contribution by the Dominion will impose on Great Britain a fresh burden. It is one thing to build ships and quite another thing to man them. A dreadnought can be constructed in less than two years. The British bluejacket's training extends over seven years which period the whole expense will have to be borne by the British taxpayer."

"I want to protest against the idea that loyalty to Canada is disloyalty to the Empire. Loyalty to Canada is loyalty to the Empire, and can be nothing else."—Hon. Frank Oliver.

Insulting the People

There is nothing more stupid or asinine in the political life of our country than the miserable business of calling names, and putting forward the claim that one party is more "loyal" than another party. If, as some politicians have the hardihood to assert, there is "disloyalty" in one of the old-line parties, then it may well be said that Canada is seething with "disloyalty." The intelligent citizens of Canada should not listen to the "disloyalty" guff of the professional politicians. It is one of the most debasing cries in the life of our country. It is made to catch votes and hoodwink the electors. The man who finds it necessary to talk about his "loyalty" is worth watching. It is the stock-in-trade of hundreds of cheap politicans. It is the liberty of every citizen in Canada to take whatever position he deems best in the interests of his home and his country, without the annoyance of being called a "traitor" by some weather-cock politician who one day stands for a Canadian navy and the next for naval contribution, as his party bosses may dictate.

The day is fast approaching in Canada when the politicians who talk so glibly of "disloyalty" will be hissed from the public platforms. There are no more genuinely loyal people in the world to their country, flag and Empire, than Canadians. It is time that the practice of insulting the intelligence of the people, by charging sections with disloyalty, ceased.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Editor,
Bella Coola Courier.

Dear Sir,

Ever since I received my first "Courier" I have desired to write you a letter congratulating you on the high quality of your newly-created paper and your readers on the paper itself. Chiefly have I enjoyed the jottings from Bella Coola and vicinity for they brougt vividly before my eyes the mountains, trees and streams, which had impressed me so profoundly, and the people among whom I had moved and whom I have not ceased to remember with the kindest feelings.

It is a fitting time of year to send greetings to you and your readers, for it is the time when one calls up the faces of far away friends. As the year is nearing its end, and faintly are heard the chimes that usher in a new one, I am back again in Bella Coo treading again the well-worn tr through a forest of white s ness, beholding the same eter hills, and hearing the rushing the same streams. Is it a wonder that your land impres one? I think there is no one w would not be moved by a l which Nature has treated so ki ly. Yet it is only in part t the mountains, the trees and streams make Bella Coola s vivid to me, I see again fam faces and hear again fam voices. If I could travel as sw ly as thought, how many tim would I have been back again Bella Coola.

This too, is a time when o things are passing away, wh all things are becoming new. is doubly true of Bella Coo There is an evolution taking plac The most optimistic cannot depic too bright a future. The senti ments expressed in your columns are strong; you have an import ant part to play in the mouldin of your land, for the pen is potent instrument. Only th highest and best is worthy of e

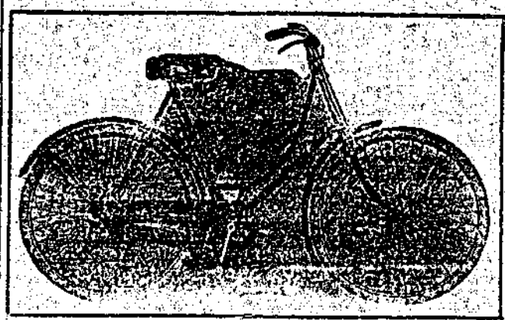
ADVERTISE IN THE "COURIER"



There's a Difference in the Price!

AND A BIG DIFFERENCE, but there's no practical difference in the value and efficiency of these Cycles. Some were damaged in transit, some are simply "shop-soiled" and some have been out on hire a few times only, but all are offered at BIG REDUCTIONS. Let us know your requirements and we will send particulars.

DON'T FORGET—That the expenditure of $10 cash at Plimley's entitles you to a ticket which will share in the drawing of a $1,500 "Overland" Auto.
