Seymour Narrows To Be Surveyed

Victoria.—"Have decided to arrange for survey of the Seymour Narrows by engineer to be named by and connected with the department of public works; survey will start as soon as possible. (Signed) "ROBERT ROGERS."

The above telegram from the minister of public works, Ottawa, which awaited Mr. G. H. Barnard. M. P., upon his arrival home for the holidays, was the reward of the representations made to the government by the member for Victoria in conjunction with Mr. F. H. Shepherd, M. P. for Nanaimo and Mr. R. F. Green, M. P. for Kootenay, during their stay in Ottawa as to the importance of undertaking an official survey into the feasibility of bridging the Seymour Narrows.

Predicts the End of the World This Year

Des Moines, In.—"There won't be any Panama-Pacific Exposition Those poor, misguided persons on the Pacific slope are wasting their money. They had better be directing their energies in preparation for Judgment Day. For the good Lord is going to bring this world to an end in 1913."

This was the declaration here by the Rev. W. D. Parkhurst, pastor of the First Adventist Church, who backed his assertion with many quotations from the Bible. He also pointed to the Balkan war as partial proof of his prediction.

"All the seas and rivers and fountains will turn to blood," said Parkhurst. Hailstones weighing 57 pounds will fall, and the sun will be so hot that man will literally be burned alive. Next summer will be so hot that people will be cooked on their bones. When you turn the kitchen faucet next July warm blood will flow, and the soft skin of women will break out in loathsome sores, and seven plagues will devastate the earth."

Dr. Parkhurst advises the people to read the 24th chapter of Matthew, verse 27, if they don't believe it.

Peace River Mail Goes Through Ice

The entire mail, outfit and horses were lost recently by breaking through the ice on the Athbasca river. The Northern rivers are as yet unsafe.

Influx of Capital to Fort Fraser

Residents of Fort Fraser are in a very pleasant frame of mind at this season, since most of them are counting their property as being about worth double its value of last year. The main reason for the rapidly enhancing prices of inside lots in the townsite is the talking of almost limitless waterpower rights, to be utilized for furnishing light, water and power for industrial enterprises, of which Fort Fraser will soon have an abundance. The crops in the district have been exceptionally heavy the past season although it had been very dry, and much of the money derived therefrom has found its way into the city in the shape of real estate investments. Those persons who were fortunate enough to have bought business lots in the past are reaping the reward of their acumen, for it is no exaggeration to state that these lots, in the heart of the city, will reach a value far in excess of present prices upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific main line, to say nothing of the other capital and settlers pouring into the district.

It must be remembered that the Pacific & Hudson Bay line which will have Bella Coola as its western terminus will intersect the Grand Trunk at Fort Fraser. This latter place is destined to become the largest and most important city between Edmonton and Prince Rupert.

Predicts Election at End of Session

Saskatoon, Sask.—George E. McCraney, M. P. for Saskatoon, who has just returned from Ottawa, predicts that there will be an election at the end of the present session on the navy question. He states that many Conservatives believe in the Laurier policy and believes that the Liberals will again carry the country with a substantial majority.

President Taft Has Narrow Escape

Panama.—Fifteen minutes after President Taft had passed on his way to the ball in his honor at the National theatre, a kioska near the station on Central ave., the principal street of the town, was blown up by dynamite while the street was still lined with police.

Viceroy of India Very Near Death

Indian Fanatic Hurls Bomb Loaded With Needles

Delhi, India, Dec. 26.—The attempt on the life of Baron and Lady Hardinge yesterday by an Indian fanatic kept the police and civil authorities of the Imperial city of India occupied today. A large number of arrests have been made. No special arrangements had been made for the occasion and only the ordinary native police commanded by British officers were on duty in the streets.

Closer examination of the howdah in which the Viceroy was seated when the missle was thrown shows how narrow was the escape of Baron Hardinge. The high back of the howdah, which was made of hardwood, and against which the Viceroy was reclining was wrecked.

The bomb was of the ordinary type, but contained a large number of screws and talking machine needles. A bulletin issued this morning by doctors in attendance on the viceroy says:

"Baron Hardinge passed a restless night. It was necessary to relieve his pain with injections of morphine. He suffered little fever last night and none was present this morning.

"It was found through the operation last evening that the muscle under the shoulder blade was rather severly torn."

Hardinge refused to curtail the ceremonies of the durbar because of his injury, insisting that all plans go forward.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

S. S. Camosun docked here Sunday morning with the usual large consignment of freight.

Among the passengers for this port were included Messrs Carl W. Brink, J. House and William Keddy.

Mr. J. A. House is superintending the installation of the telegraphic instruments in the building opposite the Courier office, which has been rented by the Dominion Government to be used as headquarters for the operator at this end of the wire.

Mr. House reports that telephonic communication has been effected between 150 Mile House, Cariboo Road and the McKlinchy ranch at One Eye Lake where an operator is stationed. Telegraphic communications will be transmitted by 'phone between these points for the time being.

Mr. J. T. Brooks is operator in charge pro. tem. at Bella Coola and will remain until the line is in perfect working order, when a permanent operator is expected to take charge.

The many friends of Mr. Olaf A. Urseth will be interested to learn that he has chosen the Northwestern Conservatory of Music, Minneapolis, where to continue his studies. Under the personal direction of Professor Rittmerster, late of Berlin, Bella Coola's talented young violinist is making excellent progress and doubtless much more will be heard of him in the near future.

The annual meeting of the General Hospital Association will be held at Colony Hall, Hagensborg, Friday, January 17th, at 2 p. m.

P. Lauritson, Chairman.

The steamer Dunsmuir, Capt. Mathieson, came up from Ocean Falls; Thursday evening, bringing a party to look over some of of the extensive holdings of the Ocean Falls Co., Ltd., throughout Bella Coola Valley.

Mr. M. Smaby, who is accompanying the party, informed the "Courier" that the weather at the Falls had for some time been of an unpleasant nature, though practically nosnow has yet fallen.

Health conditions among the large force of laborers at that place are excellent.

Bella Coola Debating Society.

Despite the boisterous weather a large audience gathered at the Mackenzie School on Thursday evening, and listened with rapt attention to the various speakers expounding their ideas for or against "Votes for Women."

In the absence of Rev. W. H. Gibson, the leadership of the affirmative was taken by Mr. A. C. Christensen and being ably supported by Messrs Robinson. Wheeler, and Miss Roberts, gained a well deserved victory.

The next debate will take place at the Mackenzie School on Thursday 16th inst., at 7:30 p. m., the subject for debate being "Resolved that Capital Punishment be abolished."

The many friends of Mr. Reginald Hill, well known on the northern coast as the genial head net-man at Bella Coola cannery, will be interested in the following account of his marriage.

A very interesting event took place on Wednesday 4th ulto., at the home of Mr. John M. Gillis, 3125 Sixth Ave., Kitsilano, when his sister, Dollie Ann, a very popular young lady of Point Piim, P. E. I., and daughter of Mrs. K. and the late Donald Gillis, was united in marriage to Mr. R. Hill of Vancouver.

The guests included only the relatives and most intimate friends of the young couple. The Rev. Dr. Wright performed the ceremony, the wedding march from Lohengrin being played by Miss Ria Dunne.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white satin with the usual veil of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream roses and ferns.

Miss Tilly Hubley who attended the bride, wore cream silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Clarence Hubley was best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful set of furs, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet set with pearls and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links.

After the wedding breakfast the young couple left for Victoria on their way south, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with hat to match.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Hill will reside in Fairview, Vancouver.

The annual meeting of the Bella Coola Conservative Association will be held at 3 p. m. today at the town of Bella Coola.

All members are asked to attend. Annual subscriptions will be payable.

G. Lindsell, Sec.

Mr. Max Hickman, the well-known rancher from the Upper Valley, has been spending the holidays in town.

Mr. Hickman intends returning to his home in a few days.

For the benefit of those who may fail to recognise them in their newly adopted disguise, we may mention that Charlie and Jesse Hendricks have been in town over the holidays.

Wagons are housed and sleighs are the order throughout the Valley.

Dr. W. J. Quinlan of Prince Rupert wishes us to announce that owing to circumstances he has found it impossible to visit Bella Coola as previously announced, but will call here early in the new year.

Mr. Harry Morgan of Ootsa Lake, in sending his subscription to the "Courier" states that he has at time of writing just returned home from his last trip to Bella Coola.

Mr. Morgan reports beautiful weather, thermometer not yet below zero, only three inches of snow and stock still running out. His letter his dated December 1.

We are pleased to announce the arrival of a son to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mosher at Hagensborg on the 26th ulto. The 'Courier' extends its hearty congratulations.

Ocean Falls

(FROM OUR RESIDENT CORRESPONDENT.)

Mr. D. Broderick arrived at the Falls on the Queen City with a crew of men to commence work on the new storage dam at the outlet of Link Lake.

The new dam will raise the waters of the lake ten feet above the present level, and as the lake is sixteen miles long it will give an ample supply of water for power purposes in the driest season.

Mr. Broderick states that sixty more men will arrive on the Camosun to assist in the construction work.

The Prince Albert cleared this port at 2:30 a. m., last Friday direct from Queen Charlotte Islands via Millbank Sound.

Captain Donald reports heavy weather in the straits.

The S. S. Henrietta landed machinery at this port Saturday valued at $6000 which was cleared at the local customs office.

Duty to the amount of $1710 was paid on same by the Ocean Falls Co.

Nicholas M. Dapulos, a greek, until recently employed as steward on S. S. Dunsmuier, left the Falls on the last Camosun for Vancouver en route for Greece to assist his countrymen against the Turks.

"Salus populi suprema est lex."

SATURDAY, JAN. 4, 1912.

Consistency?

"Mr. Borden in office has proposed the same naval policy which he advocated in opposition," so says the Vancouver News-Advertiser.

It would be interesting to learn how the New-Advertiser could arrive at that conclusion.

Certainly the following utterance by Mr. Borden in 1909, with the German menace fresh in his mind, would give the average person a very different impression

"In so far as my right honorable friend the Prime Minister today outlined the lines of naval defence of this country I am entirely at one with him. I am entirely of opinion, in the first place, that the proper line upon which we should proceed in that regard is the line of having a Canadian force of our own. I entirely believe in that. The other experiment has been tried as between Australia and the Mother Country and it has not worked satisfactory in any respect. In Great Britain the contribution has perhaps been regarded as rather unsatisfactory. In Australia it failed in the end to meet with the approval of the people, for the reason that Great Britain felt constrained to ask Australia that the field of operations of the squadron should be extended to the China and Indian Seas; and when the operation of that squadron was so extended the Australians felt that the contribution which they had been making for some years past was not really being used to give that protection to Australia which her interests demanded. So that the policy of Australia at the present time is to build up a flotilla of submarines and torpedo boats which, in case of war, would co-operate with the armed cruisers and battleships of the British navy. It was pointed out in discussing this question that Australia in providing a force of that kind would provide a force which it would be very difficult if not impossible for Great Britain to send across the seas and that in thus protecting themselves they were providing the best possible force for the protection of the Empire. So, I am at one with the Prime Minister as far as this is concerned. I am at one with him in this respect also, that I think that an expenditure designed for that purpose ought in the main, at least, to be under the control of our own parliament and that by making an appropriation of that kind and attending to the defence of our own coasts by co-operation and co-ordination with the Imperial naval forces, we would be rendering a real service in the defence of the Empire and we would be doing our duty not only to Canada but to the Empire as a whole."

An Annual Occurrence

The settlers living above the Noosatsam River, impelled by a not unnatural desire to get to the stores with their teams to purchase the necessaries of life, have completed their annual task of constructing, by their own labor and at their own expense, a crossing over the aforementioned river.

This crossing is of course only of the same temporary nature as the several others the same settlers have been compelled to construct from time to time.

From now until late in the spring, the road to and from the new bridge over the canyon will be impassable for wagons or sleighs, being in several places a solid block of ice.

It remains to be seen if this state of affairs is to continue indefinitely or whether the visit of the Inspector of bridges this summer will result in something being done to enable the settlers above Noosatsum River to get to and from town without having to construct a temporary bridge or take the unhappy alternative of risking life and limbs by attempting to travel the New Government Road.

A Valuable Lesson

G. C. H. L.

The following words taken from the judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Morrison at the close of the Daniell trial, lately held at the Kamloops Assizes, contain a lesson that many will do well to ponder and take to heart:—"We are all in a young country, and we are all comparatively young, and the road is long. None of us can afford to have enemies, and none of us can afford to make them. None of us have too many friends, no matter what our position is."

The foregoing succinctly states a great truth. It may be taken as a fact, that many a hasty action would be left undone, many a word be left unspoken, or unwritten, had the author of it learnt the lesson contained in the above extract.

Mankind, as a general rule, is far too ready to see and comment upon the faults of his fellow man, while forgetting his own, and very few, if any, are themselves so perfect that they are entitled to sit in judgment upon the actions of their fellows.

No decent man can at heart have any sympathy with the 'muck-rake', an individual who is unfortunately only too common in these days.

Speech may be silver, but silence truly is golden, and he who knows how to be silent, how to make allowances, how to judge fairly, is the man who will earn the respect, and the friendship, of those with whom he may be brought in contact.

Particularly does the above apply to the Press, whose power is greater and more far reaching than many realize, and those in whose hands this power lies, cannot be too careful in keeping these precepts constantly in mind.

With the advent of a New Year, and the opportunity of making as it were a new start, the words of Judge Morrison may well be borne in mind when we are forming our resolutions for future conduct, and acting upon them cannot but conduce to a more harmonious understanding between ourselves, and our fellow men.

A Court House

The people of Bella Coola are law-abiding and altogether good citizens, but the time has arrived when a Court House is very urgently required.

It has been the custom for the school house to be used for the hearing of cases that occasionally arise (for cases will arise in the most enlightened communities.) This is not always convenient and the only alternative has been for the case to be tried in the constable's office, which also comprises the major portion of his private residence.

Bella Coola should have a Court House with a suitable office for the constable and the privacy of his home should not be disturbed.

Under present conditions one never knows where a case may be tried, whether in constable Broughton's office, in the town school, or in the Indian school on the Reserve.

If there is need in Bella Coola for a provincial constable, an Indian constable, an Indian agent, who is also a magistrate, three justices of the Peace, surely there must be some need for a Court House.

Following the custom of over twenty years, Bella Coola rested during Christmas week. The "Courier" staff being granted a respite from its arduous labors. Hence no paper.
