To Confer on Mexican Situation

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson has called a conference over the Mexican situation. The ambassador at Mexico city has been summoned and will leave hurriedly for Washington.

The rebel leaders state that Huerta desires intervention.

Fierce Battle in Progress

A fierce battle is in progress near Hermanos close to the American border. Six thousand men are engaged and both sides are reported to have lost heavily.

Message From the Sea

Vancouver, July 17.—"Please look for me. I am lost on The Lone Fisherman's Island."

"Josephine Pogue."

The above note was taken from a bottle found floating in the Inlet off West Vancouver. The message was written on the back of a sticker taken from a popcorn package.

Will Endeavor to Obtain New Trial

Vancouver, July 17.—That Mr. Stuart Henderson, counsel for the defence of Moses Paul and Paul Spintlum, will endeavor to secure a new trial yet once again for his two clients, is an open secret. In the event of his succeeding in gaining the order for a new trial on technical grounds the charges of murdering Al Wai and the man White, over which the two Indians became fugitives at first, will be pressed; otherwise they will be set aside in view of the sentences now pronounced on the Indians.

Purser Robson Resigning

According to the Prince Rupert Daily News, Mr. Bert Robson, one of the best known pursers in the coast trade, has tendered his resignation to the Union Steamship Company, to take effect at the end of this month. He intends to go into the halibut business at Bella Coola. He has been on the Venture for the last two years and has a wide acquaintance up and down the coast.

Lincoln, Neb., July 16. Four persons were prostrated yesterday when the heat reached the official high point for the year 106 degrees.

Would Sell Ocean Falls Co's. Timber Lands

Millions of Dollars' Worth of Real Property Involved in the Case

That the trust deed to secure the loans of $3,500,000 made by the English debenture holders to the Ocean Falls Co., only offers security on the lands of the company to the extent of $100,100 is the startling discovery alleged to have been made by Mr. Chas. S. Arnold, solicitor for the Crane Co., of Chicago and Vancouver, who is now taking steps to sell up the lands of the Ocean Falls Co., to satisfy a judgment of $20,330.

Mr. Arnold contends that as the trustee for the debenture holders has registered the trust deeds as a security against the lands only for a specific amount of $100,100, that the Crane Co. can buy the lands in for that amount. With the lands, of course, go the buildings, so that if Mr. Arnold's contention is correct, his clients can acquire the 80,000 acres of timber leases together with the townsite of Ocean Falls, the hotel, power plant, timber mill, pulp mill, wharves, etc., for $100,100, leaving the debenture holders only the personal property, such as cut timber, pulp-wood, and moveable plant and machinery as security for the remaining $3,399,900.

Such a proposition is certain to be contested to the utmost limit of the courts, and before the matter is through will involve some important points of land registry law, which will probably in this way be brought before the Privy Council.

In the meantime the debenture holders of the Ocean Falls Co. are going on their ordinary course, and are said to be arranging the sale of the entire assets of the company, to responsible parties, as a going concern.

Predict Serious Shortage of Labor

Regina, July 17.—Government officials here predict a serious shortage of labor throughout the province this year. With the crop acreage increased thirteen per cent. over last year a difficult problem is presented.

Twenty-five thousand men could easily be employed in Saskatchewan this summer, but it is believed there is little prospect of obtaining more than half this number.

Lands at Revelstoke Declared Open

Revelstoke, July 17. Today is a red letter day in the history of Revelstoke and the Interior of British Columbia, the lands lying within the Dominion railway belt throughout this district being thrown open to settlement.

Vancouver, July 17. Captain Richardson, late of the Cetriana, has been appointed to the command of the Vadsø, vice Captain Noel who is now pilot aboard the Venture.

New Railroad Project With Bella Coola as the Terminus

Will Traverse Most Productive Lands, Connecting With C. P. R. at Beaver

In last week's issue the Courier announced the visit of Mr. E. Bath, M.A., B.Sc., to inspect the harbor and its immediate surroundings with a view to ascertaining its suitability for railroad terminal purposes.

Mr. Bath expressed himself as agreeably surprised and intimated that there was little doubt that Bella Coola would be utilized for the above mentioned purpose at a not far distant date.

It has now been ascertained that Mr. Bath's visit was in connection with a railroad project which includes the building of a line from Bella Coola to Alexis Creek, Chilcotin, thence crossing the Cariboo Road at a point between the 103 and 105 Mile Houses and following the various water-ways to Beaver, at which point it will connect with the C. P. R. line at present under construction from Red Deer, Alberta, which latter line is completed practically two-thirds of the distance, the steel reaching to a point in the vicinity of Coldwater Lake.

Mr. Bath spoke highly of the productive nature of the country which this projected line is intended to open up, of which he has a thorough knowledge, and further intimated his belief that the information he had personally acquired during his visit to Bella Coola would add considerably to the already favorable prospects of early railroad construction at Bella Coola.

Hundreds Are Burned Bulgaria Seeks Intervention of Powers

Salonica, July 17.—Late despatches confirm the reports of massacres committed in the district of Kilkish by Bulgarian irregulars.

In one instance they burned to death seven hundred men belonging to Kurkul by imprisoning them in a mosque under which they exploded bombs and setting the building on fire. They had previously assembled the victims' wives and daughters to witness the spectacle.

Even more terrible scenes were enacted at Kilkish, Plainza and Raynovo, women also being burned to death. Father Michel asserts that among the irregulars responsible for these atrocities were business and professional men and students from Sofia.

Sees Men Drowning and Stops the Work

Pilot of the Grand Canyon Says It Is Too Risky to Go Through Any More

Lillooet, July 17. "Too dangerous for me," is the verdict of J. D. Cowart, one of the pilots of the Grand canyon this season, who came to town after quitting the pilot business for good. Cowart piloted the first scow that went through the Grand canyon above Fort George, and has been stationed there since bringing loaded scows through. Before leaving the canyon he saw six scows lost at that point this season, while on Saturday two weeks ago, five more were lost with seven men. In addition to this twenty scows were lost this season to date in Goat rapids farther up the Fraser.

London, July 16.—It is officially confirmed here that Bulgaria has taken the initiative of asking the European powers to try to end the Balkan war.

France Offers Services

Vienna, July 16.—France has undertaken to negotiate with Serbia and Greece on behalf of Bulgaria to ascertain on what terms peace can be arranged. The French government has advised the Greeks and the Serbians not to demand too much or otherwise Bulgaria is likely to prefer to take the chances of fighting out the quarrel.

Temporary Cessation of Hostilities

London, July 17.—The combatants in the Balkans have agreed to a temporary pause in hostilities pending the submitting of terms to Bulgaria.

Turkey in the meantime is pushing troops in all haste to Adrianople in order to strengthen the position of the government.

While there will be no actual fighting, military operations will be continued by Serbia so that she may be in a position to resume the conflict should Bulgaria refuse to accept the terms offered.

Condemned to Death

Madrid, July 17. Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who on April 13 attempted to assassinate King Alfonso in the streets of the capital, has been condemned to death. Allegro fired three shots at the king, but his majesty, by skilled horsemanship, avoided the bullets, one of which struck his horse in the neck. Allegro is a native of Barcelona.

Two canoeists en route from Seattle to Skagway in an 18 foot canvas canoe have arrived at Ketchikan.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

S.S. Princess Beatrice arrived on Friday last week, her passenger list for this port including Mr. and Mrs. Verschoyle, child and nurse, Messrs E. Bath, M.A., B.Sc., J. Ratcliff, Rolla Chadwell and Roy Chadwell.

Mr. Cornelius, purser of the Princess Beatrice, remained here until the return of the ship from Kimsquit, in order to interview the local merchants and so become better acquainted with the requirements of the port.

The Beatrice returned from Kimsquit at about 5 p.m., shortly afterwards leaving for the south.

Mr. J. Ratcliff comes to join his cousins Walter and Frank Ratcliff, the well-known ranchers of the Upper Valley.

Mr. Rolla Chadwell is nephew of our genial fellow townsman Mr. James Chadwell.

S.S. Venture arrived on Sunday afternoon with the following passengers for this port:—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bieneman of Croydon, England, the Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Clayton, Olive and Myrtle Kirkpatrick, Violet Goodwin, Messrs Richard Goodwin and S. Gledhill, Miss Brewster.

The Misses Clayton are home for the school vacation.

The Misses Kirkpatrick are school friends of the Misses Clayton and will spend their vacation in Bella Coola as the guests of Mrs. Clayton.

Miss Goodwin and her brother are also the guests of Mrs. Clayton.

Miss Brewster, of Vancouver, comes to visit Mr. and Mrs. Le C. Grant of Aytoun farm.

Mr. Sam Gledhill, who has been spending the last two months in Vancouver and Victoria, brought with him a fine team of heavy horses.

Mr. Lou Heckman, of Stouic, visited town on Wednesday last, returning on Thursday with a load of tools and implements for the road gang in charge of his brother Max at work in the Upper Valley.

Rev. T. C. Colwell left town on Thursday morning for a visit to Firvale where he will hold service today.

The material for the new bridge over the Neclletsconny River, which arrived by the Princess Ena, is being hauled from the wharf and the commencement of actual construction will begin at an early date.

Constable Frank Broughton has purchased a saddle horse. He now only requires a fast motor-launch to make it very inconvenient for any evil-doer to make a successful get-away.

The Courier joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. William McNair in congratulations on the birth of a son last Sunday morning.

The majority of the local farmers are busily engaged in getting in their hay, of which there is a bumper crop this year.

Mr. P. J. Kenyon returned to his preemption on Tuesday last after being in town for a few days on business.

Messrs Joseph Tombolin, W. D. Stevens and Robert Lowe, arrived from the interior on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Tombolin, who proceeded south by Princess Beatrice on Friday, has been inspecting a large tract of land in the neighborhood of the Amalco River in which he is interested.

Messrs Lowe and Stevens brought with them a bunch of horses for Mr. J. M. Rolston, who intends pulling out on Tuesday next for a lengthy trip through the Upper Country.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Davidson, of Hagensborg, visited town on Wednesday last.

Church Notice

Services will be conducted on Sunday next at Bella Coola—Sunday School, 2 p.m. Evening Service, 7:30 p.m., subject "A Sermon for Men." At Lower Bella Coola—Sunday School, 10 a.m. Church Service, 11 a.m.

Shushartie Bay Notes

Three parties of surveyors are at present employed in surveying land for the scores of new settlers who are constantly arriving.

It is understood that the government intends to take the reserve off Township 24, Rupert District, which would undoubtedly attract a large number of settlers as the land is eminently suited for agricultural purposes.

The settlers at Stranby have decided to take extreme measures in regard to the local road-foreman, whose extreme high-handedness and incompetency has for some time past caused them considerable annoyance.

All the settlers have refused to work under him and a deputation consisting of nine of the most influential of their number have been sent to Victoria to lay their case before the government, with the urgent request that a competent man be placed in charge of the road-work in that district and that the settlers be assured a fair return for the money expended.

It is hoped by all that this deputation may succeed in bringing about a better state of affairs, as the progress of the district is being seriously hampered by the incompetency of the road-boss.

This summer so far has been the wettest in the memory of the oldest settler. Crops are very late, but are looking well under the circumstances.

SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1913.

A Warning

The matter of the kind of government we must endure is now largely out of our hands. It has become customary that we shall be liable to "government" in nearly every feature of our lives.

Are restraint, and restriction, and force, the less restraint restriction and force because we have placed ourselves under these by our votes? And still our cry is more restraint, more restriction, more "government."

The starting of a single stone on a mountain-side may cause an avalanche; throwing a cargo of tea overboard at Boston initiated a war which freed a people who now dominate half a hemisphere.

Never does any action cease with its immediate results, and never is it possible for even the wisest to foretell what INEVITABLY must follow. INEVITABLY, as we see after the event. In no case are the after-events so difficult to foretell as in regulations intended to influence the action and destinies of human beings.

hoped to be, and often act in precisely the reverse direction from their intention. In no sphere therefore should greater caution be observed than in the making of laws, and nowhere is it more likely that by increasing their number, failure and dissatisfaction will also be increased.

One point especially should be remembered and always borne in mind. Facilis est descensus Averni. It is easy, temptingly easy, to frame laws. It is easy, piece by piece, to sacrifice our liberty of choice and action. It is easy, gradually to appoint official after official. Nothing is simpler than to call into existence an army of government-appointed and people-paid civil servants.

WE HAVE, TOO, HAD AMPLE EXPERIENCE THAT THERE IS NO CLASS WHICH MORE READILY LOSES SIGHT OF ITS OBLIGATIONS, WHICH IS MORE DISCOURTEOUS, DISOBLIGING AND UNACCOMMODATING, WHICH IS MORE UNSYMPATHETIC, TO THE PUBLIC TO WHOM IT OWES ITS EXISTENCE, THAN THE OFFICIALS PERMANENTLY APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER THE PEOPLE'S CONCERNS IN GOVERNMENT OFFICES AND ESTABLISHMENTS.

While, as for retracing our steps and putting out of existence any public department once it has been instituted, that is unheard of—no matter what the expense, waste, or corruption it has invoked. We know all this, it is true, but what does our knowledge profit us. Apparently, on the principle that "like cures like," to ask for more government.

Let us at least, however, realize what we are doing. Let us fully understand that those laws which have done most for humanity or modern civilization have been laws which abolished others; which did away with restrictions; which, instead of hampering mankind in the countries affected, by enacting further limits on their activity, freed men from the restraints imposed upon them by previous laws. No parliamentary enactments did more for England than was done by the abolition of the Corn Laws. Similarly in England we find advantage upon advantage as other restraints were removed—in commerce, in printing and circulating papers and books, in religion.

Surely it is plain that the fewer the laws the greater the freedom. Yet our general impression is that we can best use our liberty by curtailing it: that it is not for us to govern ourselves; that we best show our freedom and liberty by asking a few men to take it away from us.

Let us learn first what ought to be done by each man for himself. So we shall learn what ought to be done by government. Having learned, it is our business to apply the lesson and keep "Caesar to those things that are Caesar's."

Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P., for Vancouver, on his return from Ottawa stated that Sir George Ross, Liberal leader in the Senate, had made an arrangement with Senator Loughheed, the Tory leader in that chamber, to pass the Borden Naval Bill, and had only been prevented from carrying out that intention by the protests of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Senator Dandurand.

Sir George Ross, Senator Dandurand and Senator Loughheed, Mr. Stevens' own leader have each declared that Mr. Stevens stated what was untrue.

Mr. W. J. Pascoe, who, by the aid of Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P., obtained an "exclusive lease" of the Spanish banks which enabled him to put a tax on all the sand supply of the city of Vancouver, has been endeavoring to obtain the exclusive seine fishing rights in the waters of Howe Sound. What an appetite for sand and fish.

This latter application also had the backing of Mr. Stevens.

Probably Mr. Stevens will next endeavor to obtain the exclusive rights of navigation through the Panama Canal for some of his intimate friends.

But Bowser is after Stevens and that bodes bad for the latter gentleman. Bowser is a terror when you get him mad, or jealous.

He can close the jails to convicted criminals, beat the Indians in land deals and do other wonderful things, but woe betide the other fellow who dares attempt anything of the kind.

HAS IT EVER OCCURRED TO YOU:—

That the government's policy seems to be, that where the farmer cannot be prevented from going onto the land; to tax him so heavily that he will take the first opportunity of getting off again.

That the Conservative grafters are not content with timber, lands and hard cash, but must even grab the sands of the sea.

That Premier McBride, who, whilst the Liberal party was in power at Ottawa, was so strong in his demands for a white British Columbia, seems lately to have lost his voice in this regard.

That he may have changed his mind as in the case of the statement that no naval policy would be suitable to him that did not include a Pacific fleet unit.

That the road-roller is still idle and likely to remain so.

That this goes to show that there is as yet no section of road ready for rolling, or that the roller is unfitted for the purpose for which it was purchased.

That it has only served one useful purpose, viz.—rolling the newly plowed race track on the sports ground, prior to the 24th May last.

That the roller cost considerably over $500 and having practically never been used should be worth nearly the same amount now.

That it would be well if the road-superintendent would sell the roller together with the practically unused yet discarded dump-carts to some district whose roads are completed to the point where rolling is required, and use the money obtained therefrom to some useful purpose.

That as an inducement to would-be purchasers he might throw in the canyon bridge.

That probably one of the newly imported bridge carpenters might be prevailed upon to design a sensible landing for small boats at the government wharf.

That the superintendent has tried it and failed.

Graft at Vancouver

Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P., has certainly done enough for W. J. Pascoe (with whom to use the member for Vancouver's own words, he is "well acquainted," and with whom he maintains a joint office,) to satisfy even the most avaricious of grafters.

In addition to assisting him in the notorious Spanish Bank sand grab, and endorsing his application for the exclusive seine fishing rights in the waters of Howe Sound, Mr. Stevens last year put the matter of securing a boat to be used as an additional fishing protection cruiser to be employed on the west coast of Vancouver Island into his hands.

In this deal Mr. Pascoe drew $5 per day commission from the owner of the boat, besides which it is alleged that he cleaned up $10 per day by padding the price to the government by that amount.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Stevens has not many friends like W. J. Pascoe.

The following are extracts from an address by S. H. Ford to the civic markets and industries committee at Vancouver.

"If the farmers of this country ever do form themselves into a union, then may God help the people!

"The provincial government is doing its best to freeze out the farmers of British Columbia. This year my taxes are 400 per cent. higher than they were last year.

"Appeal against such taxes? I tell you, this appeal court is a farce!

"I used to have 2,000 acres. Now I have only 600 acres. I tell you, I am getting out of the farming business just as quickly as ever I can.

"I am a farmer, but I don't want to see the farmers form themselves into a union. If they do, then God help humanity, for they can bring about a famine in the midst of plenty.

"Stop taxing the farmer, rather pay him a bonus on everything he produces and sells, the same as is done with steel industries and other great industries which you desire to attract to this province. The farmer is the man to encourage, otherwise there will be empty stomachs in the land."

Convicted suffragists declare they won't eat. Neither will they leave jail to recuperate and be rearrested. There is nothing left for the harassed Home Secretary to do now but provide for simple and impressive obsequies.

If the Canadian Northern is to be bought by the government we have strong hopes that Bill and Dan may be attached to the civil service after passing the necessary examination.

Our Canadian navy is now all composed of officers, so that we may still have the social side.

Tired of Third Party

BOURASSA WILL START NO MORE TO BE SOLD TO TORIES.

At Winnipeg recently, Mr. Henri Bourassa told his audience that he would not like to incur the responsibility of starting a third party in Canada, and start it upon a career of evil doing.

During the fall of 1911, Mr. Bourassa combined with the Tories to form a third party. The Nationalist propaganda with all its anti-Imperialist and unpatriotic influences was throughout financed by the Tories with money chiefly subscribed by the flag-flapping Imperialists of Montreal and Toronto. When, however, the French Canadians of Quebec and Eastern Ontario elected over a score of Nationalists to represent their ideas in parliament, they had the humiliation of seeing all but five of them turn back on their anti-Imperialist pledges and suffer themselves to be bought up by Mr. Borden. A more corrupt example of what sporting men call "The double cross" has never been known in Canada. It is small wonder that Mr. Bourassa, with his high sense of personal honesty, has given up the idea of starting another third party.

Tory Carpet Knights
NEITHER MAN NAVY NOR MILITIA FOR FIGHTING PURPOSES.

At the recent Niagara Military camp only 52 of Toronto's crack regiment, the Royal Grenadiers, turned out for training. The Toronto News, which led the campaign for Mr. Borden's $35,000,000 contribution to the British Navy apologizes for this by saying—"The members of the city regiments are nearly all holding good positions, and cannot leave for the week without forfeiting their pay." "Oh ye Tory jingoes." Plenty of money to pay, but not a man to fight. It is evident Toryism in the militia is as anxious not to man our Canadian regiments for fighting purposes as it is determined not to man or maintain Canadian battle-ships.
