Offices, hotels, business places, the school building and all places of refuge are submerged to a depth of thirteen feet. Electric plants are destroyed and the city is in total darkness, this coupled with a terrific downpour of rain adds to the terror of the night.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

The mail steamer Camosun arrived here at noon on Saturday bringing a large number of passengers for this port, included amongst whom were: Dr. and Mrs. F. Cavanagh, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Hill, Messrs R. Edwards, C. Lacy, R. A. Teebay, A. Thompson, H. Eert, J. Moore and F. Anderson.

The list of outgoing passengers included Messrs G. K. Burnett, B. C. L. S., H. Garrett and H. Ramsay.

Mrs. Edwards accompanied her son Mr. Ralph Edwards up to his ranch in the Upper Valley.

Mrs. R. Hill comes to join her husband who is so well-known as the genial head net-man at the Bella Coola Cannery.

Mr. P. J. Kenyon has left for his ranch in the Upper Valley, where he intends residing during the greater part of the summer.

Public works have commenced. Foreman Draney and his gang are busily engaged in getting out piles for the much needed repairs on the wharf.

A great deal of money will be spent this year on roads and bridges and the only question agitating the minds of those in authority is the probable scarcity of labor.

To cut out the Canyon Bridge

The settlers above Nootsatsum will welcome the news that a government engineer is expected shortly, whose duty it will be to inspect the Bella Coola River above Nootsatsum and select a site for a new bridge.

The new road will necessarily be made on the north side of the river, thus cutting out the Canyon bridge and shortening the distance considerably.

HOCKEY—BELLA COOLA V. HAGENSBORG.

Local hockey enthusiasts were treated to a fine display when these teams met on Monday 24. The ice was in splendid condition and facilitated fast play. The teams lined up as follows:

Bella Coo'a		Hagensborg
McDonald	goal	Mackay
Fosback	point	Gordon
Grant, E.	cover point	Schulstad
Grant, C. F.	rover	Nygaard
Keeping	right wing	Saugstad
Clayton	centre	Oveson

The game was evenly contested throughout, the first moiety neither side being able to score. After the change of ends Bella Coola showed their superiority C. F. Grant scoring easily after a fine combined effort. This reverse seemed to have a demoralizing effect on the Hagensborg players who were never really dangerous throughout the remainder of the game. Bella Coola continued to press and goals followed from Keeping and Clayton, the final result being a well deserved win for Bella Coola by 3 goals to nil.

Max Heckman, the well-known and successful rancher of the Upper Valley, is visiting town for a few days.

Ocean Falls

S. S. Coquitlam discharged a large consignment of machinery at this port on Friday last.

The various logging camps operated by the Ocean Falls Company are expected to be in operation in about one week's time. The Company's several steamers and power-boats have been busily engaged in distributing loggers during last week.

The Company have decided to open a large store at South Bentick Arm in order to better meet the requirements of their numerous employees.

A wharf will also be constructed

A large shipment of timber exceeding two million feet will be shipped to the East next week.

Work on the new dam at the outlet of Link Lake is proceeding apace. The necessary blasting operations are nearing an end, and it expected that the concrete foundation will be commenced in two weeks time.

The pulp mill is not at present in operation owing to it having been found necessary to make some alteration and adjustments to the machinery. The storehouses, however, contain a supply sufficient to meet immediate demands.

The saw mill is at present only working one quarter its full capacity, there is however still a large supply of lumber on hand.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1913.

A Well Devised Plan

The Provincial Government is evidently alive to the fact that Bella Coola is on the verge of great developments, and that the time has arrived when it is necessary for the people to have better means of getting from one part to another than by the Indian canoe.

The "Courier" is informed that it is the intention of the government to construct a traffic bridge across the Bella Coola River, connecting the present town with a magnificent tract of land, already subdivided into town lots and forming part of the extensive holdings of the Pacific & Hudson Bay Railroad Company.

That there are at present but few people living on the south side of the river, does not detract from the merits of the scheme one iota.

The property on that side will in all probability be placed on the market, and what resident of Bella Coola is so lacking in faith as, to doubt that it will be quickly snapped up by enterprising business men anxious to get in on the ground floor.

Before the business man can reasonably be expected to buy and build, he certainly must be given ordinary facilities for getting around; and with us, ordinary facilities include roads and bridges, but not Indian canoes.

° ° ° ° °

While strictly in favor of the proposed construction of another bridge across the Bella Coola River, the Courier cannot let the occasion pass without earnestly expressing the hope that every care will be taken to make this bridge a credit to the place.

° ° ° ° °

We do not wish to cast any insinuations, but we do wish to remark that the very treacherous character of our rivers has been clearly demonstrated in the past.

° ° ° ° °

Experience is often a cruel teacher, and the people of Bella Coola have certainly paid dearly for some lessons learnt in regard to the bridging of Rivers.

Bella Coola Valley is a big place and the fact that there are other parts to be considered besides the immediate neighborhood of tidewater, must not be forgotten.

Were it likely that the building of the proposed bridge would in anyway jeopardize the chances of the settlers in the Upper Valley of getting their rightful share of the appropriation for roads, then would the 'Courier' oppose the scheme as not being in the best interests of the district, and anything but a square deal to the aforementioned settlers.

This, however, we consider impossible, as the money allotted for the building of the bridge, has been granted for that purpose and for that purpose alone.

The 'Courier' is out for development of the whole of Bella Coola Valley, and disfavors any attempt at discrimination.

There are numerous settlers in the vicinity of Atnarko who have been for years anxiously awaiting ordinary facilities for getting to and from town with their household necessities and implements absolutely necessary in order to faithfully fulfill the requirements of the Land Act as regards the pre-emption, (we also exclude the pack-trail from the category of ordinary facilities).

° ° ° ° °

The time is past when any sane-minded person, having a knowledge of the conditions, can be expected to admit that a pack-trail is sufficient to the requirements of these settlers.

The 'Courier' is gratified to learn, however, that a substantial sum has been allotted to the extension of the wagon-road into the Atnarko district, and trust that the work accomplished this summer will do much towards allaying the righteous indignation of these worthy people.

Have you joined the Bella Coola Development League? If not, why not? This means you.

THE WORKINGMAN'S INTEREST

What the contribution of $35,000,000 sent to England instead of the Laurier policy of a Canadian built navy means to the working man was clearly set forth by Mr. F. F. Pardee during the naval debate, as follows:

Hon. gentlemen opposite say that they propose to send to Great Britain $35,000,000, a large sum. What does it mean? If sir, my information is correct, seventy per cent. of that $35,000,000—that is, $24,500,000—will go into the pockets of wage-earners. If that goes into the pockets of workingmen, surely it is going to benefit practically every other class of the community, and, above and beyond all—a solace to the hon. gentlemen opposite—surely with that great band of industrial workers built up, their home market will be better than it has ever been before. Then I ask you, Sir, why in Heaven's name we should here as a Parliament take upon ourselves the right to send out of the Dominion the huge sum of $35,000,000 in order that the people of other countries may benefit by it, and not the artisans, the farmers and every other class in the Dominion of Canada. It is absolutely un-Canadian, both from the monetary standpoint and from the fact that the minute this Parliament votes that money, it publishes to the world that Canada, forsooth, will contribute to the fleet of the British Empire: but that she has not to-day the brains, the resources, nor, above and beyond all, the faith in herself to say: We shall spend that money, but we shall spend it within the precincts of our own country.

If Hon. George E. Foster even so much as hints an opinion that the Australians are incapable of building up a navy we fear we will never see our eloquent minister again.

AUSTRALIA'S CHARGE AGAINST CANADA

One of the most serious charges directed against any civilized country in recent years is, alas, made against the Dominion of Canada by its sister British nation, the Commonwealth of Australia. The charge made against Canada by Australia is that of having broken what is tantamount to treaty obligation. It is on a par with the British complaint against the United States of a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty governing the control of the Panama Canal.—Regina Leader.

ALLIANCE IS THE ONLY WORD

It is said that the naval policy of the government, so far as it is disclosed in the naval bill, means an ultimate reversion to the old love of centralization which was at the back of the hostility to self-government many years ago.

You cannot raise the old issue in the old way; but it does seem as though the old idea persists in some quarters where it should have been eradicated. I have met men who could no more conceive the propriety of having several navies within one Empire, leaving open the question of ultimate control, than they could suppose a man with several noses on his face. But if they had been in politics seventy years ago they would have vowed you could not have a collection of legislatures scattered around the globe, each passing its own laws, about commercial taxation, for instance, and still keep the Empire in being. The last protest made from England against Canada passing her own fiscal legislation, affecting the imports of British manufactured goods, was as late as 1887.

But the Empire has survived and grown in political glory, in spite of the wisdom of those who never really understood the blessings of freedom, and were afraid of self-government. Canada has falsified every prediction of those who believed in colonial dependence and subordination, and who could not apprehend that a Briton in America could be no less a Briton when he refused, even with blood, to permit the stay-at-homes to fix a badge of inferiority on him and on the Britannic institutions he called into being.

Alliance, not subordination, is the only safety for the future.—The Canadian and British News of Canada.
