Valuable Furs Reach Town

Interior Indians Make Heavy Catches

The largest batch of furs seen in this place in recent years arrived in town this week when several Indian traders brought in the proceeds of their winter's work.

The furs which are estimated to be approximately worth $6000 include a number of beautiful silver-grey foxes, and are being much sought after by the local merchants who one and all deal more or less heavily in furs.

The skins are uniformly prime and consist of Marten, Lynx, Fisher, Otter, Mink, Fox, (red, cross and silver-grey,) Coyote and Ermine.

This last winter seems to have been an exceptional one for trapping several heavy catches having been brought in previously by whitemen amounting in the aggregate to several thousand dollars. It is gratifying to know that the fur in this part of the country shows no sign of diminishing.

Huge Grain Elevator for Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert, April 30.—As the result of an announcement by Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, third vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, before the local Board of Trade to the effect that this city is to get almost immediately, a 10,000,000 bushel grain elevator. Mr. Dalrymple stated that it will be built at Fairview, at the west end of the townsite, and that construction would start shortly. It means that Prince Rupert will be the first city to make ready for the vast grain movement which will come with the opening of the Panama Canal.

Britain's Budget Asks for Enormous Sum

London, April 30.—It will cost the staggering sum of $978,200,000 to run the English Government through the ensuing fiscal year, according to the chancellor, Right Hon. David Lloyd-George, on introducing his budget in the House of Commons. This is a big increase, the augmentation being caused by expenditure for army and navy armaments. According to the chancellor, the British public is going on the "water wagon." His speech showed that 8,700,000 gallons less spirits were consumed in the past four years than in the preceding period. The export trade of the country has now reached its high watermark.

Highway Bill Passes Third Reading

Little Benefit to British Columbia

Ottawa, April 30.—The last hope that British Columbia would obtain aid in the building of highways, proportionate to its needs, vanished when the Government formally announced that it was intended to distribute money according to population among the provinces.

The situation would probably have been little better had the opposition had its way, the only difference between the two parties as regards the matter being, that the Government while laying down the population principle of distribution, declined to embody it in the Bill as demanded by the other side.

The Bill passed its third reading on a straight government majority. By the terms of the Bill the thickly settled provinces of the East will derive the chief benefit, but British Columbia being but sparsely populated will profit but little.

Panama Canal to be Tried This Fall

Washington, April 30.—Replying to an enquiry from Secretary Garrison as to whether it would be possible to grant the request of Captain Raold Amundsen, the explorer, that he be allowed to take his ship Fram through the canal when he starts for the Antarctic regions this winter.

Colonel Goethals said: "The present schedule contemplated admitting the water into Culebra cut early in October and the completion of one flight of locks at either end of the canal by that same date. The passage of boats then depends upon the condition of the slides. It is hoped that we will be able to pass a ship before the close of the year and if this can be accomplished, the Fram will have no difficulty in making the transit of the canal and every facility will be offered for its doing so."

Fishing Rights Appeal

London, April 30. Leave to appeal has been granted by the privy council in the case of British Columbia Attorney-General versus the Dominion Attorney-General regarding provincial power to grant fishing rights.

The Canadian supreme court ruled that the provinces were incapable of granting such rights.

Calgary, April 30. The public market will probably be converted into a public swimming bath.

Duchess of Connaught in Critical Condition

London, April 30.—The Duchess of Connaught has suffered a relapse and her condition at present is considered critical.

The Duchess' relapse was entirely unexpected as Her Grace had been slowly gaining in strength for some time.

NEW WARRANT FOR MRS. PANKHURST

London, April 30.—A new warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, has been issued. Mrs. Pankhurst was again visited by the Medical Inspector of prisons, who reported the condition of her health such as would render her removal to prison inadvisable at present.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—By vote of 26 to 22, the senate passed a bill granting woman's suffrage

Bryan Plans for World Peace

Includes Limitation of Armaments

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Secretary of State Bryan is about to launch his first distinctive policy of international importance. It is a plan for promotion of world peace, which contemplates the negotiation of treaties between United States and all civilized nations of the earth. It will have as its most original feature a temporary limitation upon the armament and war preparations of disputing nations.

Police Graft in New York

Four High Officials Placed on Trial

New York, April 30.—Four officers of high rank in the city police who, according to the district attorney, have been figuring in a huge system of police graft, have been placed on trial in the Supreme Court charged with conspiring to pervert and obstruct justice.

Home Office Adopts Drastic Measures

Suffragettes Headquarters Raided and Documents Seized

London, April 30.—The Home Office has inaugurated a systematic campaign to put an end to militancy in England.

Suffragettes headquarters have been occupied and documents seized, a number of unsuspecting militant suffragettes being arrested.

Wanton Destruction by Militants

Birmingham, May 1.—The Billesly tennis club had its courts destroyed by militant suffragettes. A strong acid solution was used which completely destroyed the turf.

Chinese Ask Loan

London, April 30.—The group of London financiers received a telegram notifying them that the Chinese government was ready

Cannot Break Hay-Pauncefote Treaty

Great Britain's Consent to Abrogation Must be Obtained by United States

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Senator Chamberlain's resolution for the abrogation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, in the opinion of the state department officials, will be confronted with the contention that neither that treaty nor the Clayton-Bulwer treaty can be abrogated by the United States without the consent of Great Britain.

These treaties, the officials point out, are in the nature of civil contracts, and where one party, the United States, for instance, has acquired a valuable consideration under their terms it cannot escape the liability without the full consent of the second party.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

S. S. Princess Beatrice arrived at this port on Friday last bringing a large safe for the recently opened local branch of the Bank of British North America.

Manager Cran has had a strong room constructed to accommodate the safe, as the present premises which the Bank is only occupying temporarily, would not hold it without alteration.

Among the arrivals by the Princess Beatrice were—Messrs G. and E. Steinley and Martin Ravey of Vancouver.

Mr. Ravey is interested in large tracts of land in the interior as well as in Bella Coola Valley and visited this place in order to satisfy himself regarding existing conditions. He expressed himself as very agreeably surprised at the rapid development so evident throughout the district, and is desirous of becoming further interested financially in the Valley. See ad. page 3.

S. S. Camosun arrived here on Sunday morning with a large consignment of freight for several local merchants.

NOTICE

All entrances for open flat races, motor boat race, horse race, tug-of-war and shooting competition to be held on 23rd and 24th May, will be received by the chairman of sports committee (Mr. H. E. J. Hewitt) on or before

Monday, May 19.

The Camosun is due to arrive at this port on Saturday morning, but owing to rush of business at this time of the year in getting men and supplies to the various canneries, she has lately been arriving in the small hours of Sunday morning. It is gratifying to know, however, that the management hope that within the next week or two the Camosun will be able to arrive here about noon every Saturday.

NOTICE

The Grand View Hotel will supply SPECIAL PICNIC LUNCHES on the occasion of the 24th May celebration. Orders must be received not later than May 21.

Tea and Coffee will be furnished on the sports ground.

Special attention given to orders by mail

F. G. HAGAN, Prop. Grand View Hotel, BELLA COOLA, B. C.

Among the passengers arriving by the Camosun was Mr. B. Church, who is the advance agent of Mr. Bishop's survey party which is expected to arrive in two weeks time.

Mr. Church is making all necessary arrangements in regard to the transportation of supplies into the Interior.

On Tuesday evening last the Development League extended its campaign to Hagensborg, the residents of that place being entertained by the executive board.

An excellent musical program was rendered by members of the League at the conclusion of which refreshments were served.

During the evening addresses were delivered by the President and several members of the Executive, who outlined the objects of the League and solicited the support of the residents of that neighborhood.

The admirable way in which the people of Hagensborg responded is best evidenced in the fact that no less than twenty-five persons were enrolled as members.

It is gratifying to know that the League, although only having been in existence some two months, has a membership of eighty.

Dominion Government launch Kingfisher is undergoing repair preparatory to entering on the season's work, fisheries protection service, among other alterations being a new house.

P. J. Kenyon left last week for a short trip to the Chilcoteen country, when he will locate some iron claims that he has had in view for some time in that part of British Columbia.

Hardy Bay

(FROM OUR RESIDENT CORRESPONDENT)

A. M. Lyons, our genial postmaster, has built a new post office, which will be a great improvement over the old system of distributing mail.

That Hardy Bay is going to boom in the near future will be seen by the large amount of building now going on.

The Hardy Bay Construction Company started to build a number of summer cottages in the vicinity of Georgia Lake this week.

Hardy Bay can now boast of a locally-owned power launch for general freighting and towing to all points in the vicinity.

The Rev. Mr. Price, of Alert Bay, passed through here on his way home from Quatsino Sound last week.

The machinery for the Hamilton Lumber Company arrived on the Prince John last Monday. It is expected that the mill will be in operation in about six weeks.

Sydney Moon who recently had the misfortune to sever an artery of his right leg, just above the knee, while cutting brush on his preemption on the Kams Lake trail, is reported as progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Frampton, of the Trading company, left on the Camosun for Vancouver on a business trip.

Frank Poole has purchased a large launch from Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Brooks left on the Beatrice for Rivers Inlet for a few days. From there he will proceed to Vancouver for a short vacation before taking charge of his interest in mines at Atlin. Mr. Brooks will be greatly missed by the settlers in this locality.

What the Closure Means

Gag can be applied at pleasure of Government and the "Interests."

The Government's closure resolution has been announced in the government organs as not a closure but merely a revision of the rules. As a matter of fact it is a system of closure so drastic that when it becomes law Canada will no longer be governed by Parliament, but by the Cabinet; the Government will be able to practically ignore the Opposition, and at the same time force supply through without that discussion which has hitherto been the chief protection of the country against extravagance and corruption.

Broadly speaking the measure provides for a strict closure on any issue after a day's notice by a Minister of the Crown; that all but certain specified motions shall be decided without debate or amendment, and that on two days out of every parliamentary week the Opposition shall be denied the privilege of bringing up matters of importance before the House goes into committee of supply. Censure and criticism of the Government may be practically shut out.

It will be seen that it is so drastic that it well deserves the epithet given it by the Opposition of strangulation not closure.

THE OLD AND NEW RULES

Old Rule 21 provided that no member should speak twice in full session, except to correct any misapprehension, with the proviso that the mover of the matter under debate should be allowed to reply at the close, but "It is the duty of Mr. Speaker to see that every member wishing to speak has the opportunity to do so before the final reply."

Under the closure, on motion of any minister the gag may be applied on the succeeding day, with twenty minutes as the limit for speeches, and the vote to be taken at two in the morning whether any member wishes to speak or not. With a friendly Speaker the whole time could easily be monopolized by the government.

The old rules provided that in Committee members could speak as often as they thought fit.

Under the closure, supply can be forced through by a simple motion that the question be now put, which cannot be debated or amended.

The old rules provided that before going into committee of supply any member could voice any grievance or censure that might be necessary, and this could be debated.

Closure cuts this all off. It puts the gag on censure or criticism of ministers. With this closure in effect a complete stop could be put to the ventilation of such scandals as the Macdonald by-election, the Coderre charges or the Pelletier post-office mail bags locks scandal. It takes away an invaluable right enjoyed by the people's representatives for 600 years.

The practical effect is that the closure will guillotine discussion at the will of the government; force through any measure they desire, and hide any scandal they do not wish ventilated. It would be hard to imagine such a measure as in the interests of the people.

Although the Sifton administration has been endorsed by the electorate of Alberta, the Conservatives have made decisive gains, unlike the less fortunate Saskatchewan wing of the party, which was practically annihilated.

The increased forces which will be ranged on the Speaker's left should not cause any dissipation on the part of the Liberals, who must at once realize that it is absolutely essential to good government that there should be a sufficiently strong Opposition.

A Government practically unopposed, not infrequently, becomes a menace to the country. Its supporters often become mere automata, who record the will of the administration, without knowing, caring, or understanding why they do so.

This was only too plainly instanced in the last session of our own Legislature.

Considerable interest has been aroused by a dispute between two of our fellow townsmen regarding the ownership of a horse.

An almost parallel cases cited in the following verse received from an esteemed correspondent.

The Courier commends the suggestion as to the method of arriving at a decision contained in the following to the consideration of the parties concerned.

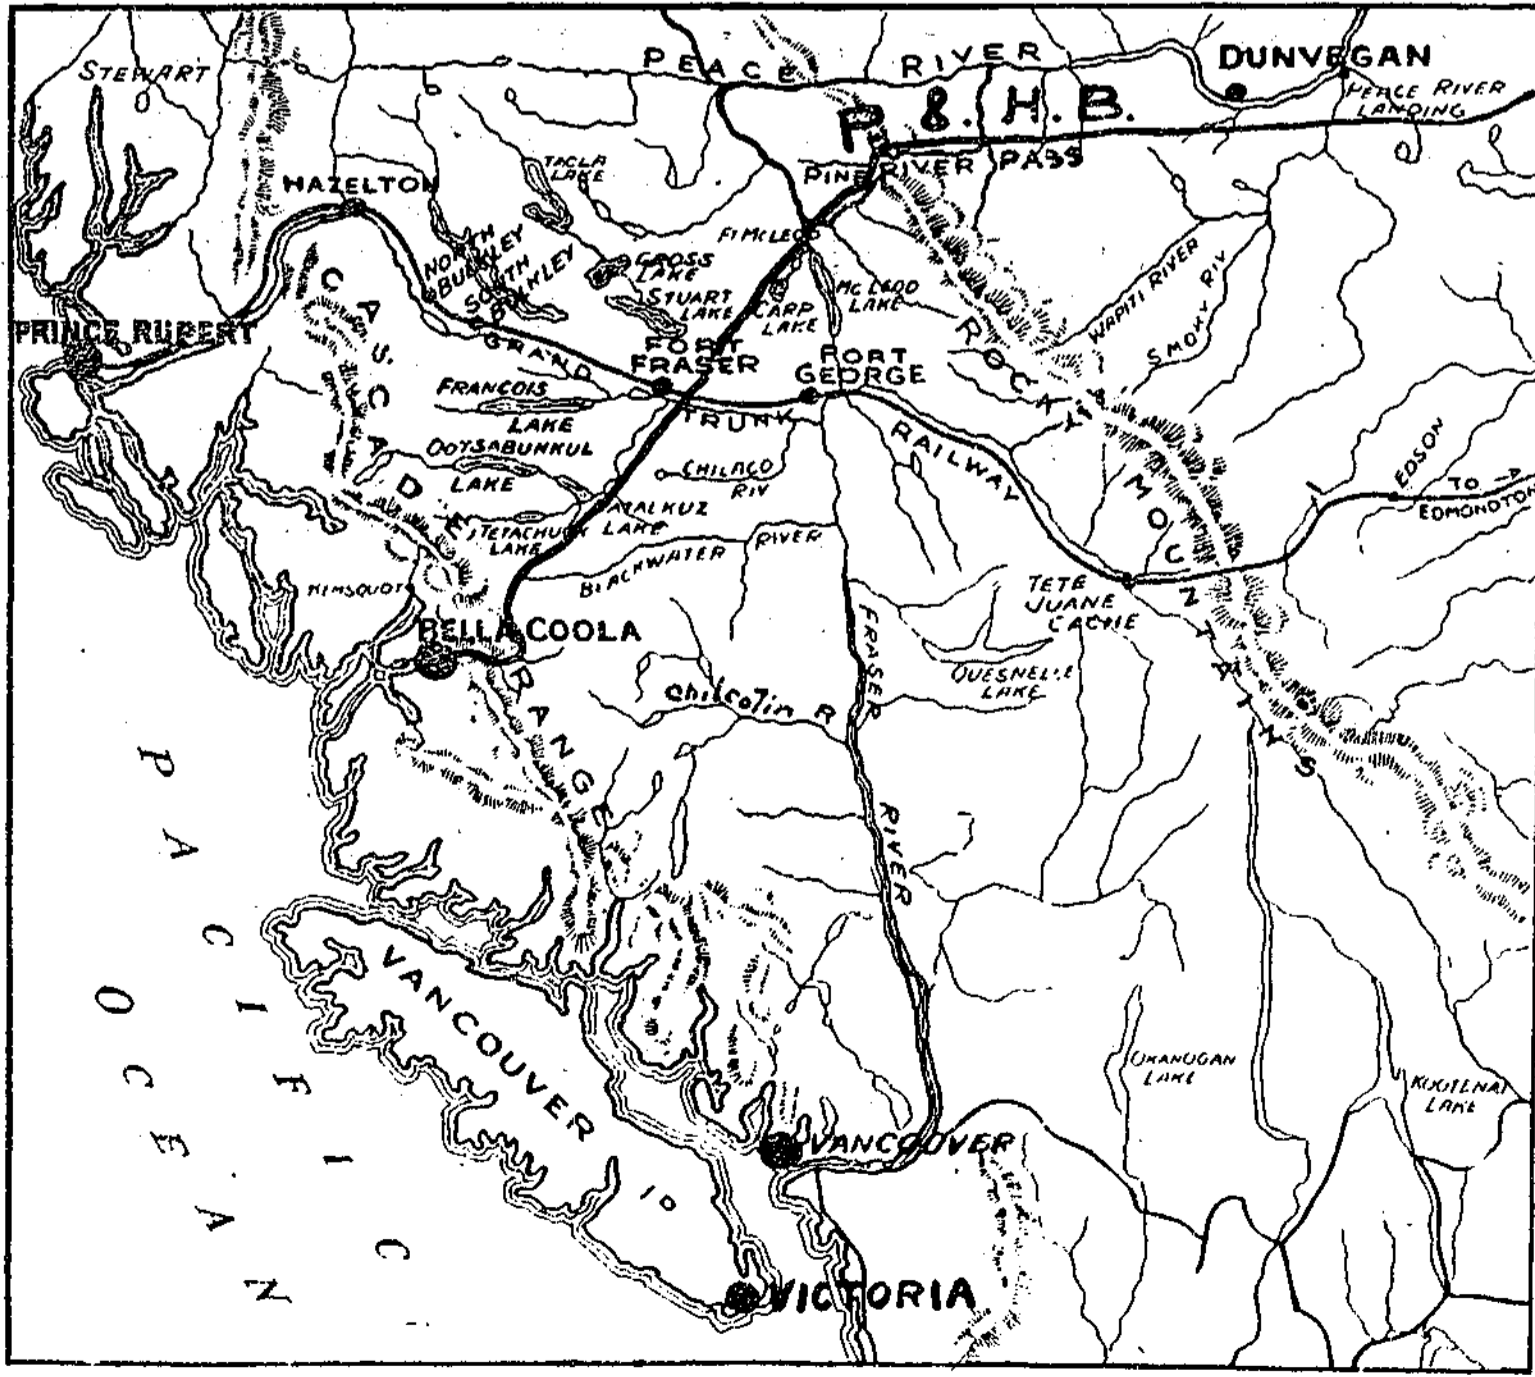

"KEAT PENYON'S HOSS"

In olden days the story goes
Two partners nearly came to blows.
The question being who was boss
Of a four-legged framework called a hoss.
Now Keat, a warrior bold was he
Who had fought for his King across the sea;
He wore a hat with a race track brim
And moustache of a strictly Kaiser trim,
Which bristled much as he scented a fight
For he clearly thought that "Might was Right,"
And challenged his partner to get down to biz
When he would prove on his carcass the gee-gee was his.
The partner however did not deem it fair,
But beneath the dignity of him, McMair;
Punching each other was not up-to-date
The fashionable way was to arbitrate,
He knew of a man, so wise, he reckoned
King Sol would have made a very poor second;
He comes from Scotland so 'tis said
Where they are short in the skirt but long in the head.
So off to this Solon they straightway sped,
Each tried his hardest to get in ahead,
But no matter how much one quickened his pace
A dead heat describes the result of the race.
Into his sanctum they rushed without knocking,
(Such conduct in our times is considered most shocking),
They found him sitting so deep in thought
That even their noise had distracted him naught,
His eyes to a paper were so fixedly glued
That with feelings of awe his disturbers imbued.
Such rigid attention they could not understand
Till they saw 'twas the "Courier" he had in his hand;
At last they got him back to earth
And started to talk for all they were worth.
Each thought the other should be in prison
For claiming to own what wasn't his'n,
And then they made the Oracle laugh
When they came down to thinking that each owned a Half.

To the ordinary man 'twould appear quite a poser
And beyond e'en the brains of a lawyer like Bowser,
But this Solon merely gave his collar a jerk
He at last had a basis on which he could work.
He knew all the laws from A B to Z
And could quote most of them easily out of his head;
He humm'd, then he haw'd, then quickly decided
By the Laws of Chance he ought to be guided.
The claimants waited with bated breath
As though 'twere a matter of Life and Death,
And both with nervous feelings quivered
When the Judge his ruling thus delivered:

"The question which appears to me
To want an answer first, you see,
Is 'which is the Half that each one owns
Of this compilation of skin and bones?'"
From the evidence given, I admit I fail
To discover the owner of head or tail;
But there is an Act I sometimes use
Of "heads I win, tails you lose;"
So the problem—how divide this hoss—
Ye shall decide by "Pitch and Toss."
When this is done, 'twere well if you,
Instead of dividing this hoss in two,
Would under the Laws of Chance again
Decide on the owner from tail to mane.
To accomplish this I would suggest
To have a race would be the best,
At which each rides his Half the horse
The winner gets there first, of course.
I'm not quite sure, but think you'll find
Who rides the tail will be behind;
The League will name the place and day
Most likely—twenty-fourth of May.

They thanked his Honor, then withdrew
Astounded by the interview,
The worn out sage then his bottle did seek,
But alack, and alas! 'twas the end of the week.
