Possibly Rich Gold Fields Close Home

Returning Prospectors Report Favorably on Skowquiltz River Strike.

Several local prospectors have returned from the new gold strike on the Skowquiltz River, a tributary of Deane Channel, one and all being enthusiastic regarding the prospects of there being in the near future a prosperous mining camp in that vicinity.

The first news of gold on the Skowquiltz River was brought to Bella Coola by the Brothers Hendricks, who are old time prospectors and hunters on this Northern coast.

The rich dirt which they brought with them and the description of the lay of the land, soon attracted the attention of other local prospectors, with the result that a large party was soon off to the scene of the find, equipped with all implements to make a preliminary prospect of the country.

According to accounts received the scene of the discovery lies at the head of the Skowquiltz River some twenty miles from tide-water. The old river bed at this point is very wide and there is a great expanse of gold-bearing gravel besides extensive benches which in all probability will prove rich.

Will Be Developed in the Spring

Twenty-three claims have already been staked, but there still remains a large area of ground that should provide excellent prospects for the many who are expected to visit the place in the spring.

Already American capitalists, who have visited the place, have secured all the land on tide-water at the river mouth, and arrangements are being made for the building of a wharf and general store, and the bringing in of the most approved hydraulic appliances when serious work will be commenced at once.

The proximity of the strike to salt water, and the fact of it being so easily accessible should commend it to those prospectors who are willing to take the chance and go see for themselves.

Several old Yukon miners are amongst those already interested and when these soundboughs get enthused there is generally some very good reason.

New Postal Rate in Force

London, Oct. 11.—The bill introduced by Rt. Hon. Herbert Samuel, postmaster-general, some months ago facilitating the circulation of Dominion newspapers in the United Kingdom, is now operative.

Land Slide Wrecks Wagon Road

Upper Valley Cut Off From Supplies

Atnarko, Oct. 15. A serious land slide has occurred a short distance above the Gibson ranch, some thirty-five miles up the valley, completely demolishing a portion of the wagon road.

The Upper Valley is practically cut off from supplies as the road is now impassable for wagons and even dangerous for pack-horses.

The road at this point has for some time threatened to cave in, and in spite of temporary precautions taken this summer, the recent wet weather has caused the ground to break away with the above mentioned serious results.

Agricultural Society Elects the Officials

Prince Rupert, Oct. 11. At a recent general meeting of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural and Industrial Association. The secretary reported that there was a balance shown on hand of $3,162.85. Out of this there were expenses due amounting to $3,008.59, leaving a net balance of $64.26. But there was, of course, prizes to pay. There was about $4,000 to collect.

A. J. Prudhomme was elected vice-president. For treasurer there were nominated J. Lorne McLaren, A. Clapperton, G. R. Naden, A. H. Allison, L. Crippen, Harry Birch, and J. C. Brady; Messrs Allison, Crippen and Brady withdrew. On ballot Mr. Naden was elected.

For secretary only one name was put forward, that of Mr. Bullock-Webster.

Conference on Naval Defence

Scenes Laid For Vancouver

London, Oct. 11.—Vancouver probably will be the scene of the Imperial Defence Conference, though not so soon as November. It is quite a misapprehension to suppose the suggestion for the Vancouver conference, made by Premier Fisher of Australia in January last, was opposed by the admiralty. What the admiralty replied was that the notice was too short. Since then the Australian ministry has charged, but still desire to co-operate in empire defence.

Polar Bears to Draw His Sledges

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11. Writing to the Novoe Vremya, M. Siedoff, leader of the Russian northern polar expedition, says that he is using bears instead of dogs for transportation purposes. Though bears require more breaking in, they are sometimes used to draw sledges in the Archangel region.

Prospectors at Work on Sibolla Creek

Too Late in Season for Thorough Prospecting

Probably First Discovered Thirty-Five Years Ago

Recent reports from the Sibolla Creek gold strike add nothing to the general information already made public regarding the richness of the gold field, and until the party of prospectors, who are at present engaged in sinking a shaft on claim number eight, below Discovery, strike bedrock, and incidentally pay-dirt, the situation will remain unchanged.

Rush Expected Next Spring—Good Route From Bella Coola

With the opening of spring next year, there is certain to be a rush into the district, thorough prospecting will be undertaken, and there is little doubt that the true extent and wealth of the district will be fairly determined before the close of the season.

Preparations will be made at Bella Coola for the complete outfitting of parties bound for the diggings, as it is certain that the advantages of this route will be apparent to many of those who desire to take in complete outfits with the least hardship to themselves or their horses.

Probably Lost Mine Re-Discovered

It is probable that the recent discovery of gold on Sibolla creek is after all but another case of a lost mine being refound after having been completely forgotten.

About thirty-five years ago a lone prospector, a Frenchman, who had spent a considerable time in the Tahtsa Lake country, paid a visit to his home in Montreal. Having in his possession considerable gold and a rough map of the country, defining a spot where he asserted he had obtained excellent prospects of rich placer gold, he naturally endeavored to turn his knowledge to advantage. His story seemed so authentic that, while he himself was paid a considerable sum for his information, which money afforded him a trip to his native land, a party was at once equipped and sent to locate the rich fields as described on the chart, being backed, it is so stated, by some wealthy people connected with one of the leading Canadian banks. This party was unsuccessful in its efforts to locate this certain creek, and some time later a second party was despatched with no better result, since which time up to the present the country has been very little prospected.

Whether or not it was on Sibolla creek that this Frenchman discovered his gold, and if so, whether the ground is as rich as to warrant the enthusiasm raised in certain Montreal circles by the reports and gold produced by this early pioneer, remains to be seen.

Old Cariboo Trail to be Opened Anew

Ashcroft, Oct. 11.—Woodsmen will open anew the old Cariboo trail around the upper Lillooet lake, and the pathway of the gold seekers of the early sixties will be utilized by the fire protection service of the government. A crew of men have been sent to cut out the brush, replace worn-out bridges and improve the trail from the foot of the lake to the right-of-way of the Pacific Great Eastern Railroad.

Strike Is Ruining the Irish Capital

London, Oct. 11. Dublin's labor war is rapidly acquiring a wider significance. Peace negotiations having failed, each side is drawing on its final resources. Great crowds of thinly-clad hunger marked men and women are standing outside Liberty Hall awaiting their doles of soup and food. Dublin is being ruined.

International Enquiry Into High Cost of Living

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The President of the United States is endeavoring to have Canada co-operate with the American government in an inquiry into the high cost of living.

President Wilson has outlined a policy of investigation and is already taking active steps to carry it out immediately.

The Dominion Government, during the last year, has given much thought to the high cost of living, and it is understood is quite prepared to co-operate with the United States in an effort to get at and remedy the primary cause.

Harbor Work Costing $30,000,000

Ottawa, October 11. Work on Canadian harbors that will cost no less than $30,000,000 is now under way. The harbors being improved are St. John, N. B.; Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Vancouver and Ottawa.

Jottings of Bella Coola and District

The steamer Camosun arrived at this port on Sunday last at 9:3 a.m. bringing the following passengers: Mr. and Mrs. Langill, Messrs E. Wheeler, W. McNair, A. Munn, customs inspector, B. Clunes, Buran and Envig.

Mr. and Mrs. Langill have gone to their ranch near Hagensborg.

Special constable Wheeler has returned from taking a chinaman to New Westminster where he will spend six months in jail for having sold liquor to an Indian at the Bella Coola cannery.

Mr. McNair returns after an extended business trip to Vancouver.

Among outgoing passengers were Constable Broughton and witnesses in connection with the Kimsquit murder case, including Dr. Francis Cavanagh, expert medical witness, and Mr. W. H. Gibson, who will act as interpreter.

Other southbound passengers were Messrs Hanson and White who had been making an inspection of the new gold strike on Deane Channel, J. Bainbridge, W. Holland.

Mr. D. W. Hoage, of The Crossing, spent last week in town, being employed with his team in hauling material for the lock-up at present in course of construction.

Mr. Hoage came to this valley only about three years ago, and at once realizing the natural advantages of the place, purchased a fine ranch located some twenty-four miles up the valley. A practical and successful farmer, Mr. Hoage immediately set about improving his property, expending a considerable amount of money besides personal energy in that direction, until today his ranch can be classed as one of the finest in the whole district.

Mr. Hoage typifies that class of American agriculturists who have so greatly aided in the prosperity of the North West, and who being quick to recognise any advantages that a new country may afford have done much of the pioneer work in Western Canada.

P. J. Kenyon and Bert Rolston arrived in town on Monday from Kimsquit where they had been prospecting for several weeks.

Mr. Gyllenspitz left for his ranch on Wednesday last.

NOTICE OF BIRTHS.

On Monday, October 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Miles Brewster of Hagensborg, a son.

On Tuesday, October 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hammer, a son.

The Lysdahl Sewing Circle held their annual Auction Sale last Monday afternoon at the Lower Bella Coola School.

Mr. P. Lauritson as auctioneer, had ample opportunity of exercising his well-known persuasive power over the numerous buyers assembled, and that his efforts met with the success they deserved was amply demonstrated in the fact that the proceeds of the sale amounted to $144.

E. Gyllenspitz and R. A. Teebay who have been engaged in work on the Kimsquit trail, returned to town on Monday last.

Mr. Gyllenspitz states that the trail from Alcatcho to Kimsquit is now in good shape up to twenty-five miles from the latter place.

During their work these gentlemen fell in with Mr. R. P. Bishop and party, who have been engaged in running the 53rd parallel of latitude, and tying up all adjacent lands.

Mr. Bishop is nearing the completion of his season's work and expects to leave the country by way of Kimsquit, which place he proposes to reach by November 7th, when he will proceed south by the steamer Venture.

Mr. W. Marvin, of Atnarko, visited town last week-end.

Mr. Marvin much regretted not meeting Mr. Manson on the occasion of his recent visit to the Valley, as he had something important to tell him regarding the lack of a road in the Upper Valley.

Frank Burroughs pulled out for the upper country on Wednesday last with a bunch of horses which he will take through to Alexis Creek for the use of Mr. Robert Lowe.

George Young and Peter Marrin, two of Bella Coola's most successful trappers, left on Monday for their trapping grounds on the Lower Salmon River.

F. E. Bean, Charles and Jesse Hendricks, and several other local prospectors have returned from the gold strike on Skowquiltz River, a tributary of Deane Channel. All seem confident that they have an excellent prospect which will prove immensely rich on being developed.

The Sin of Omission

It would appear from the editorial columns of the Victoria Couriers, dealing with Mr. Brewster's recent speech in Vancouver...

At any rate the only criticism that the Colonist seems prepared to offer—and it was in duty bound to criticise—is in regard to what Mr. Brewster might have said, but didn't.

The omission that the Colonist is so concerned about, is that the Provincial Liberal leader failed to dwell upon the great prosperity that the province had enjoyed under the McBride administration...

What of this boasted prosperity? True the population of our cities has increased by leaps and bounds, until a social condition has obtained which has brought, for Vancouver particularly, a very unenviable reputation throughout the Dominion.

There has been considerable railroad development; but at what cost to the province?

Some roads and bridges have been built; but again, at what cost?

As regards the northern part of the province, it is not unfair, but only just, to say that practically the only development that has occurred and is occurring is due to the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway...

We have always contended that the only true basis of permanent prosperity in this country, is the agricultural industry.

The government has filled the treasury by parting with our agricultural lands in such a way as to absolutely prohibit settlement; nor has it made any effort to attract that very class of settlement so urgently needed.

has it concerned itself almost solely with speculating in the natural resources of the country; until now we find public money being spent to build roads and bridges, the great effect of which will be to further increase the value of the lands held by speculators.

We do not think Mr. Brewster omitted anything of much importance, except that it would have been interesting—from a Liberal standpoint—to have heard him tell how the treasury had been filled, and a few instances of how the money was being spent to fool the people into supporting the most speculative, autocratic and corrupt government in the history of Canada.

The Colonist remarks that there are several things which Mr. Brewster does not appear to have grasped.

Talking about grasping; perhaps the Colonist will tell us who grasped the $45,000 in connection with the Songhees Reserve. Some grasp that.

We are proud to know that Mr. Brewster is no grasper.

Owens, Manson, McMullin, Macfarlane and Company who are running the jail business, will not be able to furnish Bella Coola with a lock-up on contract time.

Last Saturday, court was held in the Colonist's court with seating accommodation for five. Some witnesses and the general public were permitted to lean against the outside of the counter, packed into a space of about 8 x 5 feet. Good enough for Bella Coola.

The new building when completed will not include a courtroom. But as the above mentioned large firm is composed of a lot of small men, what better can be expected.

J. W. Macfarlane, the road boss, stated recently in public that he had built twenty-five miles of road at the cost of two thousand dollars per mile.

This startling announcement so completely flabbergasted us, that we hesitated to reply until we had somewhat recovered.

Listen, Mr. Road Boss. There is not a foot of road in the valley that would hold heavy traffic, and the road for the most part is the same as laid out, cleared and used by the settlers years before you ever saw Bella Coola. You have built no road because you having the ability, you cannot. We believe your foremen could but you would not let them.

Tell us, Mr. Road Boss. We are informed that this year you succeeded in building one and a half miles of road in the Upper Valley at a cost of $9,000.

Is this correct? We hear also that you did some slashing of right-of-way which is not to be used. Is this so?

Mr. Manson on the occasion of his recent visit to this place, carefully refrained from explaining how the money intended for roads and bridges was being wasted by an officious and incompetent road boss.

He, as usual, talked larger and even larger appropriations, and so hoped to gull the settlers into insensibility regarding and reckless expenditures.

We feel inclined to inform Mr. Manson that the time for this kind of thing is past and gone.

The Conservative party in Bella Coola is completely disrupted, and all on account of Mr. Manson's toleration of the road boss.

If Mr. Manson wants Bella Coola to be converted into a Liberal stronghold, all he has to do is to let things go on as they are. But this community must be prepared to suffer in the meantime.

The farmers of the valley are busily engaged getting in their root crops, which from reports received are generally of first-class quality.

The recent Prince Rupert exhibition should give an impetus to the agricultural industry in this Northern part of the province, that can only trend to the lasting benefit of such districts as were represented.

Bella Coola's numerous successes at the above mentioned exhibition should do much towards assisting the local farmers and better transport facilities.

The local fair held at Hagensborg was even a greater success than usual, the various exhibits, although smaller in quantity than in previous years, being of an excellent quality.

The Courier does not consider, however, that sufficient interest is taken in these exhibitions. The exceedingly small exhibit sent to Prince Rupert, representing as it did the efforts of only three or four men, was in nowise creditable to the valley as a whole, and although the exhibit met with excellent success, the credit is due entirely to those three or four persons, and not, as it should have been, to the farmers as a body represented in the Bella Coola Farmers' Institute.

The Courier believes that, railroad or no railroad, the future prosperity of Bella Coola depends greatly upon our farmers, and urges that in future greater interest should be taken, and no opportunity of advertising the advantages of the valley as an agricultural and horticultural district should again be lightly passed over.

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill has evidently accelerated the demise of Mr. Borden's famous emergency and has made it synchronize with the handing out of the commercial olive branch by the German government.

"Cordial thanks for kind congratulations. Heartily recipitate the brotherly spirit. We are celebrating to-day the completion of an Australian unit of the Empire's semi-compelling navy, gladly sharing the obligations for the defence of the whole of the King's domain. In the spirit we greet our Canadian brothers. May the cement of the Empire set even more firmly as our navies grow." Premier

How Australia looks to Mr. Borden. But her statesmen cannot be blamed. Some of them are so diplomatic in concealing their contempt as Premier Borden has shown himself to be. They charge that Canada has violated the agreement of 1909 by which she bound herself to adopt a policy similar to that so successfully begun by their country and that charge is true, thank to Mr. Borden and his Nationalist allies.—Victoria Times.

Civility an Asset

Civility is one of the chief assets of a business man. It is also one of the first signs of a gentleman. A good business man must be a gentleman. One may have many qualities of the gentleman, such as good clothes, a patient smile and a private car, but the lack of civility marks him as anything but a gentleman. The use of unparliamentary language and a loud bravado voice on the part of one in authority is a very poor example for the subordinates. It may go with the rough-necks in the unsettled sections, especially when the rough-necks do not understand the talk, but in civilized communities, where ladies and gentlemen are travelling about continually, vulgarity and discourtesy on the part of those in high positions is very distasteful and unbecoming. — Omineca Herald.

The Kootenay has a nickel-plated steel oven which is as easily washed and kept clean as any cooking utensil. The large roomy ash-pan catches all the ashes. Ash chutes direct all ashes into the pan which is easily removed.

These two features of cleanliness are so important that the woman who is particular about her house will insist on having them. You should make sure of these features when selecting your new range.

I'll cost you more NOT to Paint your house than it will to paint it.

Thirty or forty dollars spent on painting your house may save you $500 each year on its selling price.

For PURE Paint is a wood-preserved. It prevents decay—arrests depreciation—and helps to increase the value of your property from year to year.

And if you do your painting with you secure the maximum of Paint Protection at MINIMUM cost. Because BAPCO PAINT covers 25 per cent. more surface than ordinary cheaper paints—and outlasts and outwears them by years.
