BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES

A Weekly Paper published in the interests ot the Boundary Creek Mining District.

Vol. III. GREENWOOD CITY, B.C., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1897. 54 No. 2.

A FEW WORDS BY THE COLONIST EDITOR.

THE BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES alleges that the Colonist prints columns of abuse of its political opponents. Let THE TIMES prove what it says by the quotation of a single sentence, or stand convicted before the public as a base slanderer.—Victoria Colonist.

THE BOUNDARY CREEK TIMES would willingly accept the challenge contained in the above paragraph were it not prevented so doing by the ethics which should govern all controversies in journalism or otherwise. A few weeks ago the Colonist challenged the provincial press to make specific charges against the government. It stood ready to act as champion for the Turner administration against all comers. After howling for several weeks for some one to tread on the tail of that garment which had been provided for it by the Coal Kings of Vancouver island, the New Westminster Columbian accepted the challenge and made a specific charge against the government. The Colonist refuses to fight. How then can it ask a newspaper to accept another challenge? When it answers the Columbian we are quite willing to accommodate it. Until then the Colonist "stands convicted before the public" as a braggart and a bully.

In the same issue of the Colonist appears a paragraph that "it may perhaps be well to say once and for all that under no circumstances whatever will the editor of the Colonist discuss his private affairs in this paper." This same editor recently made a brutal personal attack on the editor of the Victoria Times with a view of damaging his chances for a position for which he is endorsed by nearly every other paper in the province. We do not believe in a "dog eat dog" policy among newspaper men, but this can be best prevented by resenting such attacks as that recently made by the Colonist on a gentleman who is held in the highest respect by every other member of the profession. The editor of the Colonist ought to know better. If his knowledge of his own family history can be relied upon his ancestors have been making history. They have been permanent citizens of the grand and glorious American republic it is true, but no one would ever think so after reading the anti-American editorials in the Colonist. According to the editor, it is equally true that he first saw light on Canadian soil but afterwards he became a citizen of the country whose people he now assails. Before shaking American dust from his feet the Colonist editor occupied a similar position on that enterprising paper, the Seattle Times. In the issue of April 20, 1896, appears the following:

A CARD.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

During the five years that I have been engaged in newspaper work in this state, I have frequently been made the subject of attacks on the ground of my nationality. I have never thought them worthy of attention, but when the governor of a commonwealth deems it a sufficient answer to charges of bad faith against him made by well known citizens, I am perhaps called upon once and for all to make a personal statement. An expurgated report of the governor's remarks in regard to myself made at the mass meeting on Saturday night, was printed in the Post-Intelligencer on Sunday and was as follows:

"Notwithstanding the charges published by an afternoon paper in this city edited by an expatriated Frenchman, who is more intensely English than the English themselves, and who is not a citizen of the United States, and does not wish to become one, I am with you in this issue."

I was born in the province of New Brunswick, Canada, where my father's family have resided for four generations, the first of the name to settle there being Simeon Lugrin of Romain Motiere, Canton of Vaud, Switzerland, his wife being Marguerite de Betram of Belgium. My mother's brother was John Stevens of Massachusetts, a member of a New England family that has given many distinguished men to the United States and among them one of the governors of the territory of Washington. My mother's mother was descended from the Ackermans of Pennsylvania and the Lawrences of New York, two families which are not unknown in American history.

I came to this state five years ago, this month, to visit my wife's father and her relatives, who, to the number of several score reside in this state, where they have large property interests and are well known. After an extended visit I decided to remain permanently here, and believing it to be the duty of every man who enjoys the protection of the laws of a country to accept the responsibilities of citizenship, as soon as I had reached this conclusion I filed my intentions of becoming an American citizen in the superior court of Lewis county, where I was then visiting and subsequently applied to Judge Robinson of Thurston county for admission to the bar and was duly admitted, a full record whereof will appear by reference to the records and files of Thurston county.

If these statements convict Governor McGraw of falsehood and slander it is not my fault.

I apologize to the readers of the Times for making my personal affairs the subject of reference in the columns of this paper. It has not occurred before and under no amount of provocation will it appear again.

CHAS. H. LUGRIN,
Editor of the Seattle Times.

One would almost suppose that the possessor of such distinguished ancestors would be above dealing in personal abuse and calling his contemporaries base slanderers.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Last Monday evening's regular meeting of the council was a harmonious but protracted one. Licenses was again the subject and weighty arguments were used in favor and against the imposition of heavy licenses. His Worship, Mayor Wood, presided and all the aldermen were present.

A. Campbell Reddie, deputy provincial secretary acknowledged the receipt of a communication from the council requesting a proportionate rebate of taxes for the year. The deputy provincial secretary informed the council that the matter had been referred to the treasury department. The council filed the communication. A letter from the manager of the Bank of Montreal at Vernon was also read. He congratulated the mayor and the aldermen and stated that the bank had great faith in the future of Boundary Creek and Greenwood in particular and he was sure that there would be no difficulty in borrowing a reasonable amount of money on the credit of the city.

The question of the city taking over and equipping the present waterworks was again brought up but after a brief discussion the council decided not to deal with the matter, because before a by-law could be passed and the money borrowed it would be too late to do anything this year. The clerk was instructed however to write to the city clerks of cities recently incorporated with a view to securing all possible information about floating debentures.

Mr. C. Æ. Shaw, C. E., was present by invitation and addressed the council regarding street levels. He said that he had already made a profile of Copper, Government and Silver streets which could be used for street leveling. He thought the better way would be for the committee to go over the streets with him in the morning. This was agreed upon and on Tuesday morning Mr. Shaw and the committee examined the different streets.

The council then went into committee to consider the license question. The licenses for hawkers and peddlers were reconsidered and Alderman Phelan moved that peddlers on foot be charged $25 for six months or $5 a week.

Alderman Galloway said it was simply absurd to tax a traveling tinker $25 for six months. The object of the council should be to secure the most revenue with the least injustice to any one.

The Mayor said peddlers would pass bad money, would injure resident business men and never come into a town without victimizing some one. After a long discussion the matter was compromised by making the license $20 for six months or $5 a week.

At eleven o'clock the committee rose and reported the scale of license fees complete. It was as follows;

Hotel License	$100	for six months.
Saloon License—none granted.
Bottle License—none granted.
Wholesale Liquor License	$50	for 6 months.
Restaurant Liquor License—none granted.
Billiard Tables	$5	each for 6 months.
Bowling Alley, etc	$5	"	"
Opium Dealer	$250	"	"
Wholesale Dealer	$10	"	"
Wholesale and Retail	$10	"	"
Retail	$5	"	"
Hawker	$25	"	"
Peddler	$20 or $5 a week.	"	"
Agents selling goods by retail,	$50	for 6 months
Agents selling goods by wholesale—no license.
Laundries	$5	for 6 months.
Pawnbrokers	$125	"	"
Livery Stable	$5	"	"
Conveyancer or Land Agent	$5	"	"
Auctioneer	$25	"	"
Contractor or Builder	$5	"	"
Investment and Loan Co.	$15	"	"
Trades not specified	$5	"	"
Street Fakirs	$15	a week.
Travelling Shows, etc.	$5	each exhibit'n
Fortune Tellers, etc.	$5	per week.

The assessor was instructed to prepare the assessment roll, the work to begin not later than October 1, and to be completed by November 1.

Street Levels.

The Board of Works and Mr. C. Æ. Shaw, C. E., had a rather knotty question to decide in the matter of giving the proper street levels on Government and Copper streets. In consequence of there heretofore having been no guide as to the level of the streets, buildings were erected in many instances either too high or too low. How to make a good street with the least inconvenience to the owners of the building was no easy matter to decide. Finally Mr. Shaw succeeded in giving levels that appeared to satisfy the majority and the members of the Board of Works were consequently happy.

Bring in the Ore.

Mr. Galloway has already secured some excellent specimens of Boundary Creek ore but the mine owners and prospectors should take a still greater interest in the matter. Since an exhibit is to be sent from Greenwood it should be the very best that the district can produce. It were infinitely better that no exhibit should be made at the Spokane Fair than have there something that does not do justice to the extraordinary mineral resources of Boundary Creek.

A MODERN CURIOSITY.

Rev. Mr. Leith believes that a clerk in holy orders can enjoy a joke like an ordinary man. He tries to take a sunny view of life and to enable him to do this he keeps a horse that would excite the risibilities of an old-time, old fashioned sanctimonious Presbyterian minister. The horse is all right as a means of locomotion but he is constructed on such wonderful plans that a Colville Indian must have been the architect. Minus a tail, having a double pair of ears and numerous large brands, he is a most peculiar piece of horseflesh. The parson can ride him all right but a stranger has to be careful. On account of the caudal extremity being missing, the centre of gravity in this horse is where it ought not to be. Consequently unless a stranger is careful he is apt to upset the horse's equilibrium and find himself once more on terra firma. Mr. Leith gave the horse to Mr. Garland, the owner of Anaconda, last week and both went up to look at some mining properties in Kimberly camp. On the way up the parson rode behind and when an opportunity presented itself he gave the tailless charger a vicious prod. The result was that Mr. Garland expressed surprise at the amount of spirit in the pony. On the return trip the real estate man mildly hinted to the parson that the latter had better go ahead. The parson took the hint and putting spurs to his horse reached Greenwood in good time.

Mr. Garland did not fare so well. He dismounted to lower some bars at Wallace's ranch and then this wonderful animal undertook to walk home without carrying any weight. Mr. Garland could get within a few feet of him when he would start out on a tantalizing trot. This was kept up until the addition was reached. Then the horse considered it would be undignified to allow a prominent citizen of Anaconda to walk into Greenwood and allowed himself to be caught. Mr. Garland being human was not a little provoked, but being a Presbyterian was prevented from using strong language. He again got into the saddle but forgot that his charger was lacking at an essential point. The result was obvious. The forward end of the animal took a downward movement and the real estate man took a flying leap into the soft earth of the addition.

Mr. Leith intends leaving for the east in a few weeks but before he goes he will secure several photos of his four footed curiosity and exhibit them to the college boys as a true likeness of a wonderful animal that is indigenous to Boundary Creek district.

The Mining Outlook.

The outlook for Boundary Creek district is most encouraging. Without taking into consideration the fact that there are two railway survey parties in the field, owners of mining property have wisely arrived at the conclusion that instead of waiting for a railway, the trade will force railway companies to build into the district. Permanent mining machinery is coming into the district; large contracts for work are being awarded and many claims are being crown granted.

Every one appears to have renewed confidence, money is being invested more freely both in purchasing and developing properties. When a railway does come, it will find more business than it can handle.

Real Estate Active.

During the past few weeks there was considerable demand for real estate in Greenwood and several lots changed hands at good figures. Mr. Geo. R. Naden, manager for Bealey & Co., bought five lots at different times during the week and re-sold them at an advance. Several inquiries have also been made regarding Greenwood real estate.

Attempted Robbery.

Word comes from Nelson, Wash., that an attempt was made on Tuesday last to hold up J. Privitt on La Fleur Mountain near Nelson. Mr. Privitt is president of the Big Four Mining & Milling Co., which owns the Big Four mine on La Fleur Mountain. While on his way from Nelson to the mine he was held up by an unmasked highwayman some four miles from the town. Mr. Privitt and the highwayman exchanged shots, the former having a 44-cal. revolver and the latter a Winchester rifle. A bullet went through Privitt's hat and he is supposed to have hit the robber twice. The latter started through the woods and Mr. Privitt afterwards heard a shot and it is supposed that the robber shot himself to end his sufferings. About 20 men are out trying to locate the robber or his body.

Keep the City Clean.

There are places in Greenwood which are in anything but a good sanitary condition. Some people appear to have become imbued with the idea that we are so situated that the laws of sanitation can be disregarded with impunity. A few summonses from the constable would at least convince them that there are others who do not share those views and are determined that the health of the city shall not be endangered by the carelessness or indifference of the few. Those interested in the welfare of the city should see that it is kept clean and healthy. If kept in such a condition the chances for an epidemic are very remote.

The Tinhorn Mine.

Mr. Russell of the firm of Dier, Davidson & Russell in an interview with the Victoria Times has this to say regarding the Tinhorn mine in Fairview:

"The Tinhorn bids fair to prove the greatest gold producer in British Columbia. Unless all available evidence is wrong, unless all knowledge and theory regarding minerals is valueless, the Tinhorn will take that position among the mines of this province. Just here I wish to correct a statement appearing in the Rosslander and reproduced in the Times regarding the Tinhorn. Instead of their being 500 feet of work done on the Tinhorn, as stated, 1000 feet is the correct figure. Then, again, there are about 10,000 tons of ore on the dump, estimated to be worth about $100,000.

The last finishing touches are being put on the mill, and it is expected to start running about the 1st of October next. We have heard it remarked that this is a "boom" property. Now, it may be mentioned that not one share of promotors' stock is for sale, nor would any of the holders take $5 for it. Parties desirous of purchasing Tinhorn stock have been repeatedly disappointed, none being for sale at any price. The property is looking better every day. An assay of ore taken across one of the tunnels by me gave an average estimate of $213 to the ton."

A Fairview Company.

The British Columbia Review contains the prospectus of the Fairview Gold Mining Company. The directors are the Earl of Kintore and other prominent Englishmen. The capital is £100,000, divided into £1 shares. The company are to acquire the Fairview group of mines, consisting of the Joe Dandy, Daisy Jean, Atlas and Belmont claims.

The Fairview school will be opened in a few days. Miss Glover of Vernon has been engaged as teacher.

Mr. Keene of the Cariboo Mine has purchased one-half interest in the Saw Tooth claim from Andy Connors.

J. H. Macfarlane, manager of the Summit mine, is ill at the Greenwood hospital. It is hoped that he will be fully recovered in a few days.

Mr. C. Æ. Shaw, C. E., drove out to Penticton last week to meet Mrs. Shaw and two children who arrived from the coast to take up their residence in Greenwood.

Mr. A. R. Tillman has about completed the erection of his sawmill at McCuddy's. R. S. Hall has secured the contract of hauling from the mill to Fairview and left for there on Tuesday.

W. T. Smith of the Republic Mining Co., returned on Tuesday from Spokane. While there he saw Mr. Corbin and he intimated that he would be up in Greenwood in about 10 days. His Chief Engineer Mr. Roberts will accompany him.

W. W. Gibbs, assayer, left Thursday for Canyon Creek where he will spend a few weeks enjoying a well earned holiday and also look after his mining properties in that district. During his absence, J. Harland will have charge of the assay office.

The City Council have decided to clean up Copper and Government streets, making them more business-like and passable. Men are already at work under the supervision of the Board of Works, taking out stumps and removing loose rocks.

R. V. Williams of the Jenckes Machine Company came over from Rossland to superintend the work of placing the Ironsides machinery in place. Good progress was made with the work during the week, the brick and other material having been hauled on the ground.

The contract for the erection of Camp McKinney schoolhouse has been awarded to Joe Frank formerly of Greenwood. The site for the school was donated by Hugh Cameron. Miss Blake who had charge of the Anarchist Mountain school last year has been engaged as teacher.

CAYLEY—COCHRANE.

Mr. Hugh St. Quentin Cayley, barrister, of Grand Forks, was married last week to Lenora A. Cochrane, youngest daughter of W. B. Cochrane, of Vernon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Outerbridge. Mr. Cayley before coming to this province was a prominent politician in the Northwest Territory. He was for several years a member of the legislature.

The Price of Silver.

Silver is climbing up slowly and is now only 3½ cents from the sixty mark which is considered by many to be the normal price. New York quotations of Thursday give 56½ cents with an upward tendency. The increased price is exceedingly gratifying to the owners of silver-lead properties. Lead continues to hold its own and all lead industries are booming.

A MODERN EVICTON.

There was considerable excitement at the Mother Lode in Deadwood camp last week and as a result Mr. Fred Keffer, manager of the Boundary Mines Co., and Mr. A. H. Lawder, Provincial Police Officer, appeared before Mr. J. Hamill, J. P., to answer to a charge of housebreaking and theft. There was no one present to prosecute, no evidence for the prosecution and consequently the charge was at once dismissed. The circumstances leading up to such an unusual proceeding are briefly as follows: When the Mother Lode mine was surveyed it was found that the cabins erected by Mr. Keffer for the company were outside the boundary lines. Mr. Martin Walsh who was foreman at the Mother Lode for several months, located a fraction and had it duly recorded. A short time ago Mr. Keffer gave a contract for work to McMillan & Co., and they wished to have the use of the cabins. Mr. Walsh was living in one of them and he refused to allow any one to use them stating that they were on his property and he would prosecute trespassers. Mr. Keffer was informed of the matter and he at once consulted Chief Constable McMynn. That gentleman instructed Officer Lawder to proceed to Deadwood camp and see that the peace was kept while Mr. Keffer moved the cabins to the Mother Lode ground. Mr. Keffer proceeded to carry out this work and with the assistance of seven or eight men succeeded in getting the cabins to the Mother Lode. Previous to this he sent a note to Mr. Walsh to come and get his household goods as the cabins would be removed. Mr. Walsh refused to accept the note and then a messenger was sent to him to give him the information verbally. "The Irish have stood it for years and I guess I can," was the reply. Mr. Walsh's goods were left on the ground. A pass book was found underneath the pillow with a ten dollar bill inclosed. Mr. Keffer took charge of this, to be handed to Mr. Welsh. When the latter came for his goods, he stated that $318 secreted in a stocking was missing. He consulted Mr. Leamy, barrister, and summonses were issued charging Mr. Lawder and Mr. Keffer with housebreaking and stealing. Afterwards Mr. Walsh went to Mr. Hamill to withdraw the charge but this could not be done in a criminal case.

When the case was called on Monday, Mr. Leamy stated that he had not seen Mr. Walsh since Saturday, and consequently having no instructions he would withdraw from the case altogether.

A. H. Lawder was the only witness. He said that on Sunday Mr. Walsh came to him and said that he (Walsh) was very sorry for what happened. He knew Mr. Lawder was only there as a matter of duty and he intended to withdraw the charge against all parties.

Mr. Hamill said that under the circumstances there was nothing for him to do but dismiss the case, Mr. Walsh to pay all costs.

THE RAILWAY SURVEY.

All doubt as to the authority of the report that Heinze's surveyors are in the field was set at rest by the arrival of a survey party of 18 men in charge of Mr. J. G. Sullivan, P. L. S. The party arrived on Sunday last and remained at the Palace hotel, Anaconda, until Monday evening when they left for the summit near Camp McKinney.

Mr. Sullivan was seen by a TIMES representative and he was quite willing to give any information regarding the work. He said that his party would begin at the summit near Camp McKinney and work both ways so as to finish on the high altitude before snow falls. Their work will include the putting of survey stakes along the route, making a record of the necessary curves, securing all the field notes for a plan of the railway and all data necessary to the beginning of active construction. The other party which, Mr. Sullivan stated, is now in charge of Surveyor G. R. Fair, is now working from the summit on the other side of Christina Lake. The survey will be completed within three months and if the two parties cannot complete the work in that time another party will be sent in.

Mr. Sullivan was asked when active railway construction would begin and he replied that he could not speak authoritively on the matter, but the survey would cost considerable money and it therefore showed a bonafide intent to begin construction at an early date. As far as he knew the route would be as already mapped out and as far as Boundary Creek district is concerned would run along Boundary Creek to Eholt, to Pass creek and down the North Fork. The approximate length of the road from Penticton to Trail is 200 miles. Mr. Sullivan expects to complete the survey to Greenwood in about 60 days.

A Runaway Accident.

Dr. Jakes looked the unique if not the distinguished family physician this week as he went to see his patients with his head tied up and limping along with the aid of crutches. As the doctor expresses it he appears to have secured a genuine monopoly of all the bruises and sprains and breaks that are attendant upon travel through the mountains. It does not make a particle of difference to the patients, however, because he will be by their bedside unless he should happen to get his neck broken—a broken leg or a twisted knee does not appear to make much difference to him.

The doctor and Mrs. Jakes were driving early Tuesday morning to Grand Forks when, going down the grade, the pole worked loose from the neck-yoke and the buggy ran against the horses who started down the grade. As there was no means of guiding the rig the doctor grabbed his wife and jumped. Fortunately Mrs. Jakes escaped unhurt but the doctor twisted his knee and secured several body bruises. The horses were captured and but little damage was done to the buggy. Dr. Jakes says his injuries are not very serious and his many friends hope that he will shortly be able to visit the sick without the aid of crutches.

Building Activity.

A good indication of renewed confidence in the district in general and Greenwood in particular is to be found in the fact that there are more buildings in the course of erection at present than at any other time in the history of Greenwood. Experienced men would be slow to invest their money in buildings of a permanent character were they not confident of the future, particularly when the majority of the structures are being erected to rent or lease. Good progress is being made on Mr. Hamill's new three story hotel. It is his intention to run a flat roof over his other building and also make it three storeys high.

Mr. C. H. Sansom has prepared plans for a handsome two story dwelling house to be erected for Mr. Louis Bosshart on Gold street. The residence is to be 42x24 and will contain eight rooms. It will be furnished with all modern conveniences.

Mr. Shaw, C. E., is building a large residence at the upper end of the addition. This is an ideal residential spot and it would be safe to predict that it will soon become the most popular residential portion of the city. Mr. Caulfield has purchased a lot and will also build there.

A Victoria capitalist intends building two or three houses on his lots in Greenwood this fall. There are several others who contemplate building shortly.

Trade Licenses.

The schedule of license fees which is published in this issue should give but very little dissatisfaction. Taxation in any form is not a pleasant thing and a direct tax such as a license fee strikes an ordinary tax payer as being the most unpleasant. Under the present system of taxation, however, licenses can scarcely be avoided and the council appear to keep pretty well in view that while a revenue is necessary, licenses should not be placed so high that legitimate trade will be restricted. After all taxation should be directed principally towards the land. It always struck us as being incongruous to fine a man because he is enterprising and industrious.

The Province's Klondyke Map.

It is scarcely possible that the bonuses given by the Victoria Board of Trade and the provincial government to a publisher of a Klondyke map was used in subsidizing the postoffice officials, but for some reason or other the rival map published by the Province Company did not reach us until a day or two ago although mailed early last month. Our mail service at best is anything but satisfactory but in this instance there must have been special reasons for the unusual delay. The Province's Klondyke map is a good thing however, and it is better to receive it late than never. Those who still have the Klondyke fever and there are a few of them left should secure a copy. They will find there a lot of useful information.

The tunnel on the Ellen claim in Summit camp is now in over forty feet and the ore runs high in copper and gold. The Ellen is the property of the Zenda Gold and Mining Co.

TRAIL TO PENTICTON.

A Trail correspondent sends out the following regarding the survey of the line from Trail to Penticton:

The survey work on the road from Trail to Penticton is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and it is now expected to have all maps complete before winter sets in, so that the work of construction can begin in the spring. The distance to Penticton is about 200 miles and the completion of this road will be a matter of great interest to the entire district.

Mr. Heinze, of the Columbia & Western, sent out engineers on the survey some time ago, and they succeeded in finding a much easier pass through the mountains than any hitherto discovered in that section. The pass they found requires a climb of about 4,000 feet, whereas the lowest that had been found up to that time was something over 7,000 feet. This pass was named Heinze pass, in honor of the man for whom the work was done.

The whole country is very hilly and in many places almost entirely unexplored. The most difficult portion of the survey will probably be along the streams which flow into lower Arrow lake and McRae creek, forming a divide about 30 miles in length. Heinze pass is about 13 miles long, and when the grade through there is completed the most difficult part of the work will be over. From this pass the road will run down Christina lake to Cascade City, across Christina creek and along the north bank of Kettle river. From there it will pass through a comparatively level country until Penticton is reached.

There are two surveying parties of 18 or 20 men each on the ground and the work of surveying will commence from the summit, so that the heavy snows there may be avoided. From there they will proceed to Dog creek and thence to Robson, 14 miles, thus making a direct line from Trail to Penticton.

An engineer went over the ground early last spring and took the altitudes of different points. They will give a fairly good idea of the nature of the country from Grand Forks to Camp McKinney. His figures follow:

Grand Forks	1,650	feet.
Fisherman creek	1,900	"
Brown's creek	2,200	"
Greenwood City	2,450	"
Boundary Falls	2,250	"
Rock Creek	1,800	"
Camp McKinney	4.500	"
McBride's ranch	3,200	"

Water Records.

Next Saturday, September 25, Mr. C. A. R. Lambly, Gold Commissioner, and Mr. Leonard Norris, Government Agent will be at the Courthouse, Grand Forks, for the purpose of hearing and adjudicating upon the applications for water records which have been made to them. It is understood that there are several applications for water records, including one from the "Greenwood City Waterworks Company" for the use of the waters of Boundary Falls.

A Daily Mail Service.

The Midway Advance states: "We wish to heartily endorse the efforts being made by the people of Grand Forks and Greenwood to have an official daily mail service established between those points. This has long been a necessity and should have been established at least a year ago, and it is neither right nor proper that private citizens should have to pay for the same. In our opinion the people of this district are now justly entitled to a daily service between Grand Forks and Penticton. The growth and importance of this section fully warrant it and the matter should be brought to the notice of Mr. Hewitt Bostock by representative people from Camp McKinney eastwards, without any further delay."

THE TIMES heartily agrees with the Advance that the district lying between Penticton and Grand Forks is of sufficient importance to demand a daily service. It appears a difficult matter to convince the officials however. The citizens of Greenwood have privately subscribed sufficient money to carry a daily mail both ways between Greenwood and Grand Forks but the postmaster at Grand Forks refuses to handle the extra mail until he receives instructions from Ottawa.

LOCAL NOTES.

The Republic Mining Company have some men at work sinking on the Republic.

Hewitt Bostock, M. P., is making a tour through East Kootenay. In all probability he will visit Boundary Creek this fall.

George Jefferson and E. B. Jacobs two mining men of Oakesdale passed through Greenwood yesterday on their way to Camp McKinney.

An acre of ground in the Greenwood cemetery has been deeded to the trustees of the Oddfellows' lodge by Mr. Robt. Wood, for use as a burial ground.

The Greenwood base ball club gave a ball in Nelson & Tynan's hall last evening. There was a large attendance and all spent a pleasant evening.

There are still several British subjects resident in the district who are not on the provincial voters' list. They should forward their applications at once.

A. Irwin, of Nicola, has been appointed Indian Agent, to succeed J. B. Leignton who resigned to accept the position of superintendent of the new B.C. Express Company.

Grand Forks is excited over a breach of promise suit in which prominent people are the principals. In the absence of particulars the names are withheld until next week.

Mrs. C. Scott Galloway and family left on Wednesday for Spokane where they will remain until after the Fruit Fair. Mr. Galloway will join them a few days before the Fair opens.

Provincial Police Officers Lawder and Gardom took a trip through the mining camps this week in search of two toughs who are wanted on the other side. They found no clue to the men.

Rendell & Co. have received the greater portion of their stock of liquors and cigars and are now in a position to sell by wholsale. They are this week advertising pure apple cider and pure cider vinegar.

Mr. Fred Shonquist left on Saturday for Vernon. Upon his return he and Mrs. Shonquist will leave for Butte where they will spend the winter. Mr. Shonquist says he will go to the Klondyke in the spring.

The Rossland Miner of recent date states that "A. H. Woodhouse, the mining expert, over-exerted himself during his recent visit to Boundary Creek district, and the result is that he is under a physician's care at the Allan House."

Fred. Carpenter, of Waterville, was the first to take out a hawker's license to sell produce in the City of Greenwood. Mr. Carpenter has many good customers in the city and made no complaint regarding the payment of the license.

You can get a nice clean bed at the Windsor. *

City Debentures.

Now that the city fathers are seriously considering the question of floating a loan it will be interesting to learn how well other newly incorporated cities succeeded in this respect. The city of Nelson debentures were for five per cent. and they were sold to the British Columbia Corporation, Ltd., for 98, or for $50,000 worth of debentures the city of Nelson secured in cash $49,000. Rossland debentures were issued at 6 per cent. and they were sold in Toronto at par, the amount realized in cash being $49,900. Nelson made the better bargain as Rossland only got $900 more in cash and the difference in interest between five and six per cent. will amount to nearly $10,000.

The Visit of Politicians.

Although a hurried one, the visit of Mr. Maxwell and party to the district last week should be productive of good. Mr. Maxwell denied having any political object in view, but he is too astute a politician not to make his tour a voyage of discovery. Politically he was sure to find out that while the great mass of the people are opposed to the Turner government they are also disappointed in the opposition. The electors have been patiently waiting for those whose duty it is to make a determined effort to unite all the forces opposed to the provincial government. If Mr. Maxwell is going to take a hand in the next provincial campaign—and there is no one that can fight more aggressively than he—he has surely discovered that before the fight can be successfully made, the people must know who the opposition leaders are and what they intend to do. If this is done there can be no doubt regarding the result. There will not be enough of the Turner party left to make a respectable opposition.

The Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern Railway and Navigation Company are going to make a determined fight for a charter and a railway subsidy next year. Whether the company has any backing or not, is a debatable question but they have what is more advantageous than a bank account these days—a strong political influence in the Dominion house. If they cannot get what they want themselves they may again succeed in preventing their opponents from getting any assistance. Mr. Maxwell must have discovered that the people in the district affected love a railway more than they hate Mr. Heinze and that members of the house endanger their political lives, federal or provincial, if by their quarrels they again succeed in preventing the construction of a railway into this district.

It would be well if other members of parliament made voyages of discovery. If they made themselves acquainted with the resources and the needs of the different districts, they would more rapidly come to the conclusion that personal schemes should be made subordinate to the public interest.

Mr. Hall Returns.

Mr. J. H. Hall, a prominent mining man of Butte, is again examining mines in the vicinity of Greenwood. Mr. Hall visited Boundary Creek district about two months ago and in an interview with THE TIMES reporter he stated that in his opinion Boundary Creek was the best mining district he had visited. Since then he has been in Eureka and other camps and he has not yet changed his opinion. Mr. Hall has spent the greater portion of his time on the Snowshoe claim in Greenwood camp and it is probable that he will shortly make such arrangements with the owners as will ensure the opening out of this promising property by a Butte syndicate.

A Business Change.

Mr. Thos. Hardy, of Anaconda, has purchased the hardware business of Armstrong & Birnie. It is understood that Mr. Birnie has been engaged by Mr. Hardy to conduct the business. Mr. Hardy is a shrewd business man and his enterprise deserves success.

Machinery for the Golden Crown.

Mr. J. D. Sword, the general agent for the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company, came over from Rossland on Saturday last and closed the deal with Mr. Collins for the purchase of the powerful machinery which will be used in operating this wonderful property. The machinery includes a 50 horse power boiler, a 30 horse power hoist, and 140 gallon sinking pump. Mr. Sword expects to have the plant on the ground in about 30 days. There was keen competition among the mining machinery men to sell to this company and Mr. McMillan, of the Macmachine Company, arrived from Trail only to find that the purchase had been made only two hours before reaching here.

The headquarters for the Ingersoll-Sergeant Company are in Montreal. It is one of the largest mining machinery establishments in the country and its manufacturers have earned a wide reputation.

When the machinery is in place on the Golden Crown, the work of opening out the mine will be rushed to the full capacity of the plant. The tunnel which is now in about 160 feet will be extended. This and the Ironsides machinery make the only two fully equipped plants which have been purchased in the district. Other mine-owners however are negotiating for the purchase of machinery and before spring several mines will be operated by machinery.

The Mother Lode.

Mr. Keffer, manager of the Boundary Mines Co., has awarded to McMillan & Co. a contract for sinking 50 feet of a new shaft on the mother Lode. It is probable that the contract will be extended so as to include sinking the winze in the tunnel from the 66 foot to the 100 foot level and crosscutting.

A Bank Official.

H. B. McKenzie, one of the inspectors of the Bank of British North America, visited Greenwood this week, coming over from Rossland with J. D. Sword. Mr. McKenzie was impressed by the substantial business appearance of Greenwood and if his report will be taken by the conservative officials of the Bank of B. N. A., there will be a branch bank established here before many months. Mr. McKenzie went out by the way of Penticton, his object being to look over the mining district between here and that point.
