COKE SHORTAGE

Mr. Keffer Returns From a Visit to Fernie.

STRIKE NOT YET SETTLED

Only a Partial Supply of Coke is AsSured.

Frederick Keffer, manager of the B. C. Copper company returned from Fernie on Thursday. When he left the coal town there were no encouraging prospects of the strike being settled. In the meantime the company is making about 180 tons of coke per day at Mosrissey and Fernie about half the requirements of the Boundary smelters. This coke will be apportioned to the various provincial smelters. The Fernie ovens are being fed from some coal that was stored near the railway track but this supply will be exhausted in a few days. When this happens and the strike continues, the output of coke will be confined to Morrissey.

Mr. Keffer stated that the officers of the company had assured him that no coke had been shipped to the American side since the mine accident and this statement was corroborated by that of the railway officials. What supply of coke they had was given to the Canadian smelters.

Word comes from Fernie that a qnorum of the executive of the Associated Boards of Trade did not meet there. President G. O. Buchanan of Kaslo wired the various boards asking them to send their presidents to Fernie to see if they could not bring about a settlement of the strike. A meeting of the Greenwood board was held on Saturday last when it was decided that no action would be taken unless assurances were given that both the company and the men were willing to refer the questions in dispute to the executive of the associated boards. Telegrams were sent to Fernie but as no such assurances were forth-coming, the board decided not to participate in the meeting at Fernie. This view was taken by the majority of the boards of trade.

The Sunset smelter blew out on Saturday last and the superintendent Mr. Goodell is in Spokane. Before operations will be resumed several improvements will be made to the plant. The smelter will get a carload of coke a day from Fernie but as this is not nearly enough to keep the furnace going sometime will elapse before smelting operations will be recommenced. The situation at the Mother Lode smelter is similar. The company is promised two car loads of coke per day. But as this is insufficient, time will be given to accumulate a reserve of coke.

At the Granby smelter, three furnaces are now running, but the supply of coke is rather a doubtful one and they may be forced to close down again at any time.

A dispatch from Fernie says: The advertised meeting of the executive of the Associated Boards of Trade called for this morning did not materialize owing to the non-appearance of a single member of that august body, and moreover not a line has been received here explanatory of their failure to keep their engagement. The local board of trade, the officers of the coal company and officials of the miners union fully expected the meeting to be held, and everyone was looking forward hopefully to see some satisfactory solution of the strike question as a result of the conference.

Whilst it is very problematic if a settlement could have been affected if the association board executive had met, still there was a noticeable anxiety on the part of both interest for a conference to be held, which argued favorably for at least a step in the direction of breaking the present deadlock. As it is, the associated board appears in a very ridiculous light. They have trifled with a matter of most serious importance to the entire Kootenay district, and any influence they might naturally have been expected to exert, as representing the business interests of their sections has been entirely dissipated.

Whilst there is nothing new in the strike situation, rumors are not lacking and the feeling prevails that an attempt will be made to import labor from other districts, and a careful watch is being kept on all incoming trains. In the present state of public opinion it would be decidedly an unwise move on the part of the company to adopt any such means of breaking the strike.

Perfect order prevails, and there is not any kind of lawlessness, but assuredly if non-union men were imported, there would be trouble, and and there are elements here which would be very hard to control in such an emergency.

Wind and Fire.

An Unusual Gale on Monday Evening. Fire at Anaconda.

For about half an hour Monday evening it looked as if a large volume of hot air had strayed across the mountains from Grand Forks. Without much warning the wind blew a terrific gale with the result that linemen have been working eighteen hours a day endeavoring to get communication with the outside world. The wind was of sufficient velocity to fell large trees that were apparently proof against the strongest gale that could blow. These trees fell every way and every where. Telephone, telegraph and electric light lines were broken in numerous places. The storm lasted only 30 minutes when a heavy rainfall subdued the elements.

At Anaconda things looked serious for sometime. Earlier in the evening the residence and office of T. A. Garland caught fire from a spark from a stove pipe in an adjoining building a volunteer brigade was hastly organized but all they could do was to save a portion of the furniture. The building was not insured.

When the wind rose, it scattered the burning embers in all directions and O'Brien's new hotel was in danger for some time.

The actual damage from the storm was not heavy. A few signs and awnings were torn.

The storm was not local but blew with equal violence throughout Kootenay, in Spokane and elsewhere.

Clara Mathes.

Clara Mathes and company will be here during the week of commencing July 22nd. The company is composed of actors of experience all of whom have been with Miss Mathes for over a year. The plays are all well known successes and are all presented in a proper manner. Specialties are introduced between the acts. The costumes etc., are all said to be of the most correct style and expensive material. Star and company are highly praised all the way to the coast. Charles Wheeler of the Tribune and the coast press speaks highly of Miss Mathes and in the coast States the company are booked for return dates wherever they played. The following is from the Vancouver Province: "Clara Mathes and company furnished an agreeable surprise last night giving an entertaining performance of Nell Gwynne. The play itself is the famous story in drama of winsome Nell, sweet Nell of old Drury, and her rise from orange girl to great actress. Miss Mathes in the title role obtained the affections of the audience from her first appearance and carried it through out the piece. The plot is different from that produced by the Nell company and more interesting. * * * The performance will be repeated this evening and is well worth seeing."

Nell Gwynne is to be presented here by Clara Mathes with the same cast as in the larger cities and at summer prices. There is an entire change of programme every evening during the week and the finest plays of Miss Mathes will be presented. There will be new specialties every evening. The reputation of the company and their plays and the popular prices should draw crowded houses every evening during the week. The company are playing to large houses at Grand Forks.

The Greenwood hose team is going to Nelson for the big celebration there on July 25th. The team is in good shape but is weakened by the absence of its lead man F. J. Mitchell who is visiting at Moose Jaw. He may get back before the celebration.

Death of Mrs. Norris.

Last Monday, Ida Maude, the wife W. H. Norris, J. P., Midway, died in the Sacred Heart hospital in this city. Mrs. Norris had been ill at their home near Midway for nearly a month, when it was decided to remove her to the hospital. Her malady did not yield to the careful treatment she received and on Monday she died from the exhaustion incident to her illness. The remains were moved to the residence of Mr. W. G. McMynn where a funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. D. P. Knox on Thursday afternoon in the presence of a large number of friends from Midway and Greenwood. The pall bearers were Messrs. Thos. McAuley, Jas. McNicol, Robt. Kerr, C. L. Thomet, E. A. Hain and C. M. Melville. The body was taken to the C. P. R. station and thence by the outgoing train to Ladner, B. C., where the interment is to take place.

The late Mrs. Morris was a daughter of Mrs. Kirkland of Ladner. Her mother and brothers live at that place. She was formerly a school school teacher and taught at Midway for sometime up to 1896. The deceased had a large circle of friends who sincerely regret her early demise and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved husband.

Under Arrest.

William McAdams, editor of the Sandon Paystreak, has been taken to Victoria by the sheriff to answer a charge of contempt of court. McAdams stated some things about the supreme court judges and his free trip to the coast is the result. It was about time some efforts were made to preserve the dignity of the supreme court bench in this province but before any beneficial result can be hoped for, action must be taken by those who get somewhat nearer the bench than than the sheriff's officers. If some of the supreme court judges would only clothe themselves in that dignity which is supposed to surround their high office, it would not be necessary to issue wrrrants for belligerent editors. The supreme court should not forget that it is possible to protest too much. Their characters and their dignitier should be able to withstand the free and easy attacks that sometimes appear in up-country papers.

Possibly the courts wanted to give Billy McAdams a little excitement. He certainly needed it, after publishing a paper in Sandon.

Another Good Record.

Another Greenwood boy creditably passed his examination. John D. Galloway who with his brother Charles attended the Vancouver high school, took the matriculation examination for McGill University. He received the results the other day which shows that he passed with a big per centage in his favor. His average for all subjects was over 75 per cent. Considering that Master Galloway is not yet sixteen years of age the showing is a splendid one.

A. J. McMillan

Managing Director of the Snowshoe Has Reached Rossland.

Anthony J. McMillan, managing director of the Snowshoe Mining company has reached Rossland from London, Eng. He is a director of the Le Roi Mining company, and a member of the special investigation committee recently appointed by the shareholders. While in Rossland Mr. McMillan will pursue his mission as one of the investigating committee, with power to do what may be necessary in the interests of the directors at this end of line.

Mr. McMillan states that John H. MacKenzie, manager of the Le Roi mine, has handed his resignation to the board, and insisted upon its acceptance. Mr. MacKenzie has consented to continue in the company's service for a few weeks, pending the appointment of a successor. No details with regard to the latter feature will be divulged.

THE POST OFFICE

Business Transacted During Past Three Years.

SHOWS HEALTHY GROWTH

Large Amount of Money Sent Out Through Money Order Department.

The returns of the city post office for the year ending June 30th, 1902, shows a large increase over the business transacted the previous year. Two years ago the business was larger but this is accounted for by reason of the fact that in 1899 a large amount of railway construction was going on and the employes used the money order department for sending away their earnings. The amount of busiiners done in this department is still large—in fact much larger than local business men would like to see it. The balance is much in favor of out going money orders. As will be noticed from the appended returns over three times as much money is sent away as is received through money orders. The savings bank deposits have increased to a very large extent. Below is given a tabulated statemeet which will prove interesting:

	Year ending June 30, 1900.	Year ending June 30, 1901.	Year ending June 30, 1902.
Stamp sales	$ 5,462.81	$ 4,364.65	$ 3,841.03

High School Entrance

The List of Pupils who Passed the Examination.

The pupils from the Greenwood school who wrote on the examination did remarkably well. Of the seven who wrote, six were successful in securing the number of marks necessary to pass the examination. Their standing compares most favorably with that of successful pupils in other parts of the province. Principal Hunter is to be congratulated upon the splendid showing made by his class. Below are given the result in Greenwood and other schools in the vicinity:

Greenwood: Candidates 7, passed 6.

Edward McCutcheon	745

A Half Holiday.

An effort was made during the week to secure the unanimous consent of the business men to a Friday half-holiday. A petition was circulated and received the signature of all firms save one. This has delayed putting the half holiday into effect.

There is a general desire for a half day's recreation. At present those employed indoors have only Sunday as a day of recreation with the result that Sunday afternoon is spent by many in the pursuit of base ball and other athletic sports. This is objectionable even to many who participate in these games but in the absence of a half holiday no othes time can be found for necessary recreation. During the summer months there is a feeling that there would be no loss of business by reason of closing one afternoon each week.

A GOOD SHOWING.

High school entrance examination is the crowning effort of public school life. The boy who successfully takes this examination gets a certificate that he has been sufficiently grounded in the elementary subjects to warrant his entrance into the high school where higher subjects are taught. Any weakness in teaching from the time the pupil enters the public school; any carelessness or skimming over of subjects during the public term is sure to be exposed in this examination. The examination is general, covering all the subjects in the curriculum. The examination papers are set by the education department which cannot know the particular groove, if any, in which the children have been educated so that they must have a thorough knowledge of the various subjects before they can expect to pass the examination.

The best guarantee of successful teaching is results and the best results are those attained in the final examinations.

Taking this as a guage, it is interesting and gratifying to notice that Greenwood has the best per centage of any similar school in the province as the following table will show :

SCHOOL	Candidates.	Successful Pupils.	Percentage of Success.
Cumberland	14	5	36
Duncan's	10	7	70
Sidney	9	0	0
Saanich	4	2	50
Ashcroft	3	0	0
Cranbrook	5	0	0
Grand Forks	1	0	0
Mission City	7	0	0
Revelstoke	10	5	50
Fernie	14	3	14
Kamloops	18	10	55
Kaslo	10	5	50
Chilliwack	7	6	85
Greenwood	7	6	85

The showing is a credit to the town, the teacher and the pupils. It should temper the feelings of those who are always ready to find fault. A teacher's lot at best is one full of worry and responsibility. In the interests of the children and for the success of the school, parents and others should encourage the teacher in his good work and should be slow to find fault. A perfect teacher would not be human.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Word has come from Victoria that Tacoma capitalists have purchased from private persons 150 square miles of timber lands at the north end of Vancouver Island. The syndicate will commence the construction of 150 ton pulp mill and intend to expend over $1,000,000 of which $350,000 will be spent in connection with harnessing the waterpower and starting the mills. Particulars of the big transaction are given in the following dispatch :

"Details were obtained to-day of an enormous deal recently made by the Tacoma Steel Company by which the corporation obtains 150 square miles of timber at Quatsino Sound, and will at once commence the construction of a big pulp mill.

In addition to the timber, the company will get a twenty thousand horse power fall on Maple Creek, where there is a 45-ft. fall.

The deal will mean the expenditure of a million dollars, of which $350,000 will be spent in connection with harnessing the water power and starting the mills.

Under the terms of agreement the company will start work before September 15, and the whole works must be completed and in operation before 1904. A cruiser has been up the coast laud finds that all the timber can be obtained a mile from shore, there being over 300 miles of coast line on Quatsino Sound. The timber will be hauled out by cable to the coast. Cruisers who have been along the coast, find spruce all along streams, unlimited quantities of balsam and hemlock on the higher ridges, and cedar in the low lying places. The lease is for 21 years, and open to renewal.

The Victorians who are selling hold forty per cent. of the stock. No shares will be placed on the market, as the company has funds to proceed.

Markets will be obtained in Japan, China and Australia. At first the capacity will be 75 tons daily, and the ultimate capacity will be 150 tons. Henry Hewitt is at the head of the Steel Co. He has pulp mills at Everett, but the supply of timber for pulp has so deteriorated that only a third-class article can now be produced. At Quatsino the very finest article can be made as the quality of the timber there is excellent."

It is gratifying to learn that foreign capital intends building up a new and important industry in this province. It would be equally interesting to learn how private individuals with a pull acquired such a large area of public lands.

Anthomy J. McMillan, managing director of the Snowshoe company is ezpected here in a few days. Geo. S. Waterloo chairman of the board of directors of the same company left London on July 12th. He will first visit Washington where he has a son in the diplomatic service, reaching here about the end of August.

Michel Men Resume Work.

Company are Shipping 700 Tons Coal Daily From Morrissey and Michel.

The miners at Michel who went out on strike on Monday, July 2nd, returned to work on Tuesday of this week. The new regulation introduced by General Manager Tonkin at the Coal Creek Mines did not effect the men at Michel, but sympathy for the Fernie Miners introduced them to go out. Briefly the history of the Michel strike was as follows: On Saturday, June 31st, the secretary of the union received a communication from the Fernie union requesting that they call out the men in the mines there, and at a meeting held Saturnay evening it was decided to grant the request and the men were accordingly called out. The membership of the union at Michel only consists of about one-third of the employees of the company at that place, and considerable opposition to the strike was expressed by the non-union men and it was decided to call a mass meeting on Monday afternoon to have a general vote on the matter. This idea was carried out and a ballot was taken by the underground employees resulting in favor of the men returning to work by a majority of 43, the vote standing 56-13. A large number of the union men however refused to vote on this occasion claiming that the nun-union men had no right to have a voice in the matter. Tuesday was a holiday, and on Wednesday morning only eighteen men turned up at the mine, the balance being unwilling to be termed scabs by the union men. On Thursday some 23, all of whom were foreigners went to work and on Friday fifty-one. On Saturday the union men determied to put a stop to what they called "scab labor" and a meeting was called for the purpose, but the foreigners in the mine got wind of the matter and deserted their work. No one went to work Monday morning, but there was so much dissatisfaction expressed on all sides that it was determined to call another meeting. This was done and a resolution was passed stating that the men would return to work on condition that the company would take back all those implicated in starting the strike. A committee of four were appointed to wait on the superintendent to lay the resolution before him. The resolution was satisfactory to the company and the men returned to work Tuesday morning.—Fernie Free Press

THE EDITOR'S EASY CHAIR.

Sir Thomas Shaugnessy does not weary in well doing. While in British Columbia he began by telling the people to quit spending all their time in the pursuit of politics. This was good advice. He returned home via the Great Northern. Now Sir Thomas does not often travel on any railway but his own. While the Canadian Pacific reflects the greatest credit upon the management, and while it traverses a country than which there is none more promising, still knowledge—useful knowledge—can be acquired by riding on another successful railway president's line. The Great Northern is James J. Hill's creation. It was his genius and administrative ability that made it one of the most successful railways in the world. It is a great railway worthy a great man. Sir Thomas no doubt kept his eyes and ears open while travelling over Mr. Hill's line. He noticed its engineering perfections but what interested him most was the traffic. He saw thousands of homeseekers coming west. He saw them settle in Washington and elsewhere on lands not as fertile as those that are still unsettled in many parts of British Columbia and the Northwest and farther away from ready markets. Sir Thomas sees rapidly and during that trip eastward across the United States he had time for contemplation. He thought of the many in British Columbia who would be without occupation if they accepted his advice and quit politics. It dawned upon him that his advice was only partial and that if he were going to be a public benefactor he must suggest an alternative to those who were thrown out of employment by reason of accepting his former advice. The many homeseekers along the line of the Great Northern impressed themselves on his mind. Why should not the land of British Columbia be tilled and support a large population of happy and contented people? The soil is arable, the climate the best, and the minining towns of the interior offer the very best market for all farm products. No sooner did Sir Thomas get home than he sent forth advice worthy of Henry George. "Go back to the land" he told the people. "A country can never be great while the people spend their time in discussing politics and the land remains uncultivated. If a province is to be sure, solid, permanent, it must have farmers and plenty of them.

The railway president's advice is sound but the mere giving of advice should not relieve him of all responsibility. The Canadian Pacific railway was never a colonization road in British Columbia. For political and international reasons, the Kicking Horse Pass was chosen as the entrance into province for Canada's highway with the result that the richest and best parts of the province were not opened up by the railway. In later years the development of the mineral resources of south-eastern British Columbia forced the C. P. R. to build the Crow's Nest Pass road. That system now terminates at Midway. To the west along the valley of the Kettle River, up the West Fork, along the benches on those watersheds, on Anarchists Mountain—everywhere in Southern British Columbia can be found land suitable for the settler, but no transportation and consequently no market for their produce. Around Rock Creek and up the West Fork are some beautiful farms but in the absence of a railway there is no profit in bringing produce to the nearest market—Greenwood. The West Fork country offers every inducement to the farmer, the miner and the timber man. But these want the assistance of the railway builder.

If Sir Thomas would only quit politics in British Columbia, it would be so much easier for the people to follow his advice and if he would build more railways the inducements to go back on the land would be much greater.

Speaking of railways, the troubles of the Hot Air line are now before the courts. W. C. Morris has begun action in the U. S. courts for the purpose of securing his alleged interest in the stock of the road. The company apparently does not know where it is at in the dispute. Last week Mr. Coffey the manager of the loan company which advanced the money to build the Hot Air line was in Spokane. He was indignant. He said the reports about his road and its troubles were not true. There was no quarrel between the company and Mr. Morriss, they were still good friends and he deprecated the tendency of irresponsible newspapers like the Spokesman-Review to publish idle rumors. Since then Mr. Morris began suit and now the Hot Air line's organ the Grand Forks News-Gazette (which is now under brand new management) pays its respects to Mr. Morris in the following bit of choice diction:

"The local public is familiar with the fact that W. C. Morris, while occupying the position of attorney of the Kettle Valley Lines, left the city suddenly in the night after General Manager Holland had proposed to investigate the accounts under Mr. Morris' charge.

Mr. Morris says he is not guilty of wrong doing; his sudden flight was certainly not the course usually pursued by an honest man. He has been making all kinds of threats against the company and, has now caused an action to be intstituted against the company claiming some interest in some stock which had been issued in his name as attorney for the parties interested At all events the officers of the company are not worried in any way over any action Mr. Morris may bring. They say he has not and never has had any interest in the company or its stock; on the contrary any accidents which the company has sustained are directly attributable to the misconduct of Mr. Morris while connected with the road

Here is a pertinent query: why dosen't Mr. Morris return to Grand Forks?"

The peace that reigns in Hot Air circles must be the sort that passeth all understanding.

West Fork Notes.

[From our own Correspondent.]

BEAVERDELL, B. C. July 12, 1902.—The rains in the first week of July caused a considerable raise in the Kettle river and tributary streams, and a consequent delay in crossing with teams at the various fords will be experienced this year. In addition to this also the temporary road which was in use last summer has been washed out at various points which will still further increase the delay.

The fishing in Beaver Creek and the West Fork has been fairly good for sometime past, but the real "big 'uns" which form the warp and woof of a fish story are only to be found in some mountain lakes about half a day's journey to the north. A party of eight ardent anglers returned from that fisherman's paradise about a week ago and numerous and varied are the yarns which tell of the catch. Any report which would limit the achievements of that expedition can be put down as an envious slander upon the reputation of the party for generous donations to fish hunger which were made on their return must be taken as evidence in their favor.

A pleasure party from Greenwood consisting of Messrs. Frith, Bayley and Humphrey did the camps this week and spent an enjoyable time.

C. Æ. Shaw has been doing some surveying in the district during the past week or two, part of it being connected with the townsite of Beaverdell.

Like other industrial centres there is the usual crop of accidents to chronicle. Last week W. W. Rambo narrowly missed losing an eye through the breaking a pick, and Hugh McKay in doing assessment work let off a blast which sent some rock in all directions as surface shots are in the habit of doing. He waited behind a tree for the customary length of time and on stepping out a piece of rock which had evidently lodged in the branches fell on him cutting an ugly gash in his head

---

T. L. Buckton of Phoenix, who was prominent in labor circles left last week to accept a position with an electrical firm in Pittsburgh.

S. H. C. Miner.

Speaks About the Granby Company's Undertakings.

Mr. S. H. C. Miner, president of the Granby Smelter company, accompanied by several eastern capitalists and friends, arrived in the city on Mondap, on the delayed express, and was met by Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt and other local representatives of the company.

In conversation with a "News-Advertiser" representative, Mr. Miner stated that he was en route to Victoria, but would return to Vancouver later in the week, and leave for Grand Forks, to visit the smelter, probably on Thursday. He and his friends had already been some time on the trip, having been detained in Alberta owing to the washout on the Canadian Pacific railway.

The attention of Mr. Miner was drawn to the telegraphic advices published in Sunday's "News-Advertiser" from Grand Forks, intimating that having obtained a supply of coke, the smelter had resumed full operations again.

Commenting upon this, Mr. Miner stated that although he did not know the exact local conditions at the smelter not having been to Grand Forks yet on his present trip, it was correct, however, that the third furnace had been re-started, and that the company would as it always had, endeavor to go on prosecuting its work, irrespective of external troubles, as far as it possibly could. The supply of coke obtained, however, did not, he imagined, mean that the strike at the Fernie coal mines was settled, and that coke would be forthcoming steadily from that source; he wished it did. As the matter really stood, the smelter needed some 11 cars, or over 200 tons of coke daily, to enable it to be operated to its full capacity. At the present time it was only receiving four cars daily from the Michel coke ovens, but it had managed to scrape up a supply from other sources, which had enabled it to resume full operations.

Speaking of conditions generally, Mr. Miner remarked that the copper market was satisfactory; at the present time the demand was slightly in excess of the supply. No small share of the recent rise and fluctations in the copper market had, however, little to do with either supply or demand, but with the manipulation of stocks on the exchanges.

Asked whether his company had entirely given up the idea of erecting a smelter on the coast, Mr. Miner did not care to commit himself to any actual statement. At the present time a refinery was more needed than a smelter. The matter was in abeyance, but that was all. It would be in the interests of the Province, as a whole, to have a refinery established and to enable the Province and those interested in it to derive the most benefit from it, it should be established at a seaport.
