A QUESTION OF PAINT

Interesting Suits iu the County Court—Rendell & Co., Awarded $2 70 Against J. W. Mellor—Other Paint Cases Were Heard.

His Honor, Judge Leamy, jurors, lawyers, witnesses. J. W. Mellor as plaintiff, sundry defendants and several interested spectators, listened to a tale of painting in Greenwood.

Red wasn't the color so there was nothing in the various chapters to shock the bench or entertain the bar. J. W. Mellor of Victoria, opened a branch store in Greenwood and did considerable business. He decided to close out last July but when it came to settling accounts he was met with claims for breaches of contracts. Mr. Mellor brought action to recover and among the number that found themselves defendants in the county court were Isaac Hoyt Hallert, P. M. George Arthur Rendell, Robert Wood and Ralph Smailes as the firm of Rendell & Co., and Ralph Smailes as the owner of a substantial two story dwelling house situate in a commanding position overlooking the busy town of Greenwood. The case against Mr. Hallett was first heard. Arthur M. Whiteside appeared for Mr. Mellor, while Henry Curtis Shaw defended his partner. The following jury was empanelled: Robert Wilson (foreman), H. A. King, H. J. Clint, C. J. Eales and A. Logan. Mr. Logan is the popular successor to Miller Bros., jewellers. He carries a big stock of clocks and watches, all of which are running and keep excellent time, but notwithstanding this Mr. Logan came late and narrowly escaped dire punishment from the learned judge.

But that is a different story to the painted one. Mr. Mellor the plaintiff was the first witness. He stated that his men had painted Mr. Hallett's house. He paid some cash and there was still $98 43 due as principal and interest on a promissory note given for the balance. He told of a conversation he had with Mr. Hallett when he demanded payment of note, but Mr. Hallett refused, claiming that the house had not been painted properly. Mr. Mellor promised to paint it over again, but Mr. Hallett would not consent and refused to pay the note. He had sent nothing but the best material to the Greenwood branch. The building only wanted touching up.

Cross-examined, Mr. Mellor held that the paint had been washed off the house by much sprinkling of the house during the warm weather. He had considerable trouble with his painting in Greenwood. He used No. 1 Elephant white lead, which contained about ten per cent letharge.

This was the plaintiff's case, and Mr. Shaw asked for a non-suit. His Honor replied that he would let the case go to the jury. The jury then visited Mr. Hallett's residence and examined for themselves. Upon court resuming at two in the afternoon, Mr. Hallett took the stand in his own behalf. Before his cross-examination was completed, an offer of settlement was made. The interested parties and their counsel retired, and after a fifteen minute heart to heart talk returned and reported a settlement along the following lines: Plaintiff will re-paint the house and premises in question and guarantee satisfaction for one year. The sum of $95 sued for to be paid into court by the defendant; the plaintiff to add $50 to the sum also to be paid into court. At the end of the year three arbitrators chosen in the ordinary way are to decide if the work and material are sufficient for their purposes. If not the defendant pulls $145 and releases plaintiff of further liability; if O. K. the plaintiff takes the pot. Each party to pay one half of the disbursements in action, not to exceed $35, and each party to pay his own costs.

The jury was discharged and Chapter I was concluded.

The second chapter opened with the following jury: H. B. Munroe (foreman), Messrs. Leysons, Foster, F. Irwin and Gorman West. The plaintiff and lawyers the same, defendants Rendell & Co. As it was approaching dusk the jury were taken before any evidence was heard to view the Rendell building, and an adjournment was then taken until Wednesday morning at 9.30.

When court resumed Mr. Mellor gave evidence in his own behalf. In this case the claim of bad painting was raised by the defendants. In addition there was a counter claim for damages and offsets in the shape of accounts of Grierson and Dalmadge, Mr. Mellor's manager and bookkeeper. Mr. Smailes, manager for Rendell & Co., held that Messrs. Grierson & Dalmadge came to him to get the painting of the block and his own residence, but he was looking for business himself and he replied that he would have to give his painting to those that traded with him. A contract was then signed on the understanding that goods needed for Mellor's store or by Grierson and Dalmadge would be purchased from Rendell & Co. to offset the cost of painting. The contract stated that chemically pure white lead was to be used and the work was to be done to the satisfaction of Mr. Smailes. Both Mr. Mellor and Mr. Smailes gave evidence, Mr. Mellor stating that the lead used was No. 1 Elephant.

Mr. Hallett told of having purchased a tin of No. 1 Elephant in Phoenix, that Mr. Sundberg, assayer at the B. C. Copper Company's smelter, opened the tin and took a sample, and that a second sample was sent to Mr. Sundberg.

Mr. Sundberg said he analyzed both samples. In one was adulteration equal to 29 9-10 per cent, in the other 29 8-10. The adulteration was chiefly byarites, which was often used because it could be purchased at one-twelfth the cost of white lead.

Sam Grierson, Mr. Mellor's ex-manager, gave evidence for the defence. He told of the arrangement made with Mr. Smailes for painting the Rendell block and the residence. He threw a side light on the tricks of the painting trade. "Chemically pure" white lead mentioned in the contract was a brand of white lead which had as much adulteration as No. 1 Elephant. He had difficulties with several painting jobs and he blamed the material used. He is now painting on his own account, and has no trouble because he buys good lead at a cost of $9 a hundred instead of $6 a hundred, the cost of No. 1 Elephant. It would cost $260 or $270 to re-paint the Rendell block and put it in good order.

Duncan McIntosh told of a conversation between Messrs. Mellor and Smailes in Victoria last spring. He was asked his opinion about the building and he then told Mr. Mellor that the building was a disgrace and he should re-paint it to preserve his reputation. Mr Mellor then said he would write to Grierson to re-paint the building.

After counsel and His Honor had addressed the jury they retired and brought in a verdict of $270 damages for Rendell & Co.

In the case against Ralph Smailes by J. W. Mellor the point at issue was whether the personal accounts of Grierson and Dalmadge could be charged against J. W. Mellor. Mr. Shaw asked for a commission to examine Mr. Dalmadge, who is at present in Spokane, and the case was adjourned pending the arrival of Dalmadge's evidence.

Mr. Mellor also entered an action against the Russell-Law-Caulfield Co., Ltd., for balance. Here the latter company claimed an offset in Dalmadge's account. A commission to examine Mr. Dalmadge was asked for in this case, and an adjournment taken for this purpose.

Lewis Bosshart of the National Hotel sued George Leyson for rent of rooms in the hotel, Mr. Shaw appearing for Bosshart and J. P. Myers-Gray for Leyson. Mr. Leyson claimed that he had paid for his own room, which was admitted, and that amounts due for rent were on account of the Anchor and Enterprise and McRae Copper Co., for which companies he had rented rooms for offices. Bosshart held that Leyson had become personally responsible for rent, but Leyson denied this. Decision reserved.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Do you use Blue Ribbon Tea?

Jack Lucy who went to Thunder mountain last spring has returned to Greenwood.

The Greenwood Fire Department will hold the second of its series of monthly dances on the 21st inst. The dance held last month was a delightful affair, and the boys are determined to improve each succeeding one.

All applications for renewal licenses in the Boundary Creek license district must reach I. A. Dinsmore, Grand Forks, the chief license inspector before December 1st, 1902 and money for licenses must be paid to the government agent of the district.

The Nelson Board of Trade has called a conference of those interested in the lead mining industry at the Board of Trade rooms, Nelson, Nov. 24. W. A. Galliher, M. P., will be present and consideration will be given to the best ways and means to assist in the development of the lead mining industry.

The public are invited to attend a meeting to be given under the auspices of the Greenwood Branch of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance in the City Hall on Tuesday next at 8 p. m. Rev. J. R. Robertson of Grand Forks will give an address. Mr. Robertson is exceedingly popular with the people of his own town, and also with those of Greenwood who have had the privilege of hearing him. The alliance has been most fortunate in securing for the occasion a gentleman so qualified to instruct and interest his audience. Some of the most popular vocalists and instrumentalists in the city are also to contribute to the programme. A collection will be taken up to defray the necessary expenses of the meeting.

RAILWAY LITIGATION

Has all Been Settled—V. V. & E. Railway Will Continue the Line Westward to Greenwood Where the Greater Portion of Boundary Ores Will be Treated.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Nov. 9.—The V. V. & E. this evening stole a march on the officials of the Kettle Valley Lines as a result the track of the former will be built into Grand Forks by 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The building of the V. V. & E., the Boundary extension of the Washington & Great Northern from Grand Forks junction to the depot site in Grand Forks, has been held up by injunction, which was instituted by the Kettle Valley Lines several months ago. Pressure was brought to bear on the officials of the Kettle Valley Lines by the Grand Forks' and other boards of trade of the Boundary country with the result that the Kettle Valley officials agreed to withdraw the injunction, provided the V. V. & E, secured permission from the railway committee of the dominion government to cross the Kettle Valley track at Grand Forks junction.

Immediately after this concession was secured memorials were signed by the several boards of trade, and delegates were sent to Ottawa. The petitions, together with the representations of the delegates, were sufficient to convince the railway committee as to the merits of the case and permission was granted to the V. V. & E. to cross the Kettle Valley tracks and to continue the line to Grand Forks and the Granby smelter.

Instead of holding to their agreement with the V. V. & E., the Kettle Valley officials made no attempt to have the injunction dissolved and openly declared that they would resist to the uttermost. A long litigation was in sight, which would have prevented the extension of the V. V. & E. track for several months even if the latter had won out in the courts

This afternoon the work train of the Washington & Great Northern came up from Marcus with a gang of men under Foreman J. Duffey, and all material necessary for the crossing which had previously been prepared. Work in cutting the rails of the Kettle Valley track and in putting in the crossing was begun at 5 o'clock and finished within an hour.

So quietly was the work done that not a person in Grand Forks knew of what had occurred until about 8 o'clock this evening. A guard has been left at the crossing and the work train sent back to Marcus for rails and ties preparatory to beginning work of laying the steel from the junction to the depot site in Columbia, adjoining Grand Forks, by 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. All the grading has been done from the junction to the depot, so that Washington & Great Northern trains will be running into Columbia by 6 o'clock tomorrow evening. The distance is about two miles.

It is understood that work will be pushed in the construction of the V. V. & E., to to the Granby smelter. The survey to the smelter leaves the line near Columbia. The Canadian Pacific railway's tracks will have to be crossed by the V. V. & E. about a half mile north of Columbia to reach the smelter, but as the C. P. R. has taken no part openly against the V. V. & E. it is believed that no further obstacles will be encountered by the latter line in its effort to reach the smelter.

While the putting in of the crossing at Grand Forks junction is in violation of the court injunction, the V. V. & E. officials expect to show that the Kettle Valley's violation of its agreement to drop the injunction will leave that line outside the pale of consideration at the hands of the court. As yet the Kettle Valley officials are unaware of the putting in of the crossing, and what action they will take when they learn of it is awaited with interest.

Since the above was written, it is learned that the Hot Air line has abandoned its fight in the courts and the V. V. & E. has at last defeated every effort that has been made to impede its progress in this country. Preparations are now being made for the continuation of the line westward.

At first the company surveyed a route with the intention of building up Fourth of July creek to reach Phoenix camp. It was found that in order to secure a good grade the road would have to circle round the hill up to Eholt and on the western side of the divide from there to Peoenix. A much easier route can be secured to Phoenix from Boundary Creek and the road will be built from Curlew to Midway through the Boundary Creek valley to Greenwood and from here to Phoenix.

The double advantage of this latter route can be easily seen when it is semi-officially announced that the Granby company will build a smelter on Boundary Creek. The mines are now capable of producing 5,000 tons daily and in order to treat this enormous quantity of ore additional smelter facilities must be secured. In the absence of additional power in the North Fork and taking into consideration the fact that ore can be hauled from Phoenix to Greenwood for less than half the cost from Phoenix to Grand Forks, there is an enormous advantage to be gained by building the smelter at Greenwood. The Granby smelter will not be abandoned but will be used to treat some Granby ore, Republic and other custom ores.

In addition McKenzie and Mann who are intimately associated with J. J. Hill, intend to develop their Dominion Copper Company's properties and erect a smelter on Boundary creek. Mr. Mann and his solicitor, J. N. Greenshields, K. C., are expected in here next week.

It is safe to say, now that the V. V. & E. has got rid of factious opposition, that it will begin active construction of its Boundary creek system at an early date.

At Michel.

Fernie, Nov. 12.—The situation at Michel remains unchanged. Everything is tied up, and 20 outside men were laid off this morning.

Credit is given to the men at the company's store only to the extent of the amount coming to them next pay day, and notice has been served on all persons living in the company's houses that they must vacate them within 30 days.

It is reported that the company is advertising for one hundred men to work the Michel mines. The Gladstone union at Fernie is discussing the advisability of going out in sympathy with Michel. Everything is quiet at Michel.

MARCONI SYSTEM.

Will Marconi break the telegraph monoply in this country? J. K. Greenshields, K. C. solicitor for the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company announce that the company is about to establish a system of wireless telegraphy across the Dominion of Canada connecting Victoria with Cape Briton. The company will also have a line across the ocean if that the term "line" is permissable in speaking of wireless telegraphy. All the principal towns and cities will be included in the system. The saving of tolls will be great. Press messages will be sent for one half the present price and there will be a reduction of 60 per cent on commercial messages. Mr. Greenshields says the Marconi system is no longer an experiment, there can be no doubt regarding its success.

The announcement opens up a rich field for conjecture. We will frankly admit at the outset that we have no knowledge of the Marconi system. Messages sent flying through the air are captured by some means at the receiving station. No wire is required. Such an undertaking should receive the favorable consideration of governments. It should be heavily bonussed but in so far as this province is concerned, the railways have already secured all the available lands and the credit of the province is pledged to the utmost limit. Has the government any rights in the air above? Can it give away property rights in space? If the bonus is given as it usually is along the company's line, what will that bonus consist of in the case of the Marconi wireless telegraph system?

As we have already stated there is here a rich field for conjecture. We are certain of one thing however that if there is any possible way of securing a bonus, J. N. Greenshields, K. C., will go after it.

Joking aside, the announcement is an important one, and the further operations of the company will be watched with interest.

It is difficult to understand why the Doukobours who are strenuously hunting for Jesus should be so anxious to come to British Columbia. According to some of the eastern skypilots who made flying visits to the west, the Son of Man is conspicuous by his absence in this glorious province. Probably the Douks do not take much stock in the conclusions of the eastern skypilots.

In school histories careful descriptions of crusades are given, including one in which Peter the Hermit figured conspicuously. Future historians will probably overlook the famous crusade of the Douks, who started a pilgrimage to B. C.

Instead of having money to burn the British Columbia government burnt their money before they received it.

It is time for a new political rumor.

It looks as if Premier Dunsmuir has resigned his job of resigning.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

D. McVicar, of Nelson, is in the city.

Joseph Genelle, the well known lumberman, was in the city this week.

C. M. Rendell and wife, of Eholt, were visitors to the city this week.

J. B. Ferguson, a well known insurance man of Vancouver, is in the city.

W. J. Goepel, government auditor, of Nelson, is visiting Greenwood.

W. Downie, superintendent of the C. & W., was in Greenwood this week.

F. Richter and wife, of Keremeos, spent several days this week in the city.

D. Wilson, School Inspector, spent the week visiting local schools.

Blake Wilson, of P. Burns & Co., was in the city this week.

R. L. Cawston was in this week with a big bunch of cattle for P. Burns & Co.

Jas. Dale has returned from a visit to his old home in Carmi, Ill.

The St. Andrew's Society hold its regular monthly meeting this evening.

George O. Guise, the Westbridge merchant, was in the city this week.

Miss Annie McLennan, school teacher at Camp McKinney, was a visitor to the city on Saturday last.

A. H. Speery has returned from a business trip to Spokane.

Ralph Smailes left on Thursday on a business trip to the coast cities.

E. Foyle Smith has returned to Greenwood after an absence of two years to resume his position with T. M. Gulley & Co.

H. L. Johnston and W. S. Keith returned from the West Fork where they secured a couple of fine deer.

Good progress has been made with the grading of Church street. If the mild weather continues the water pipe to Louisa street will be laid without much difficulty.

John H. McKenzie, a miner employed in the Cariboo mine, McKinney came here this week for medical treatment, a block of stone fell on his left hand badly damaging several fingers.

The ladies of Anaconda are host at a social dance given in Wilson's hall, Anaconda, thir evening. The proceeds will be given in aid of the public school at that place.

The British Columbia government has floated a loan of $3,500,000 in London. The loan was underwritten at 92. The greater portion of the money will go to cover an overdraft in the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

John Moran returned from a trip to Spokane.

John Kirkup spent last week in the city and district. He was assessing for the coming year. He was met here by J. R. Brown, assessor for the Osoyoos district, who is doing similar work in that district.

James D. Sword, M. E., has returned to the city after visiting the principal mining camps in Mexico and the western states. He is more firmly convinced than ever that the Boundary district leads them all when the short time mining operations in the district have been carried on is considered.

J. A. Zeller of Wimbledon, North Dakota, an experienced hotel man has leased the commercial hotel in this city. He has renovated the building throughout and in addition to doing a bar business he is prepared to furnish rooms and first class board at reasonable rates.

The Greenwood Miners' Union will hold their annual ball in the Auditorium on Thursday the 27th inst. The Union has already established a reputation as successful hosts at affairs of this kind and from preparations made, the coming dance will be better than any previously given. Excellent music will be furnished.

It is to be regretted that in the recent changes made in the Dominion cabinet British Columbia should be overlooked. Senator Templeman should have been appointed Minister of Marine and Fisheries. It is hoped that when further changes are made a portfolio will be given the representative from British Columbia in the Dominion Cabinet.

J. R. Brown left on Tuesday for Vancouver. He is solicitor for McKenzie in the suit of McKenzie vs the Knob Hill Mining company. It will be remembered that McKenzie sued the company for damages because of injuries received while working in the Knob Hill mine. McKenzie ran into a missed hole and received terrible injuries. He lost an eye, his face was badly burnt and he was otherwise injured. The jury at Greenwood awarded McKenzie damages in $2,500. The Knob Hill company appealed and the appeal was heard in Vancouver this week. E. P. Davis, K. C., appeared with Mr. Brown while J. A. McDonald of Rossland acted for the mining company.

New Ten Commandments.

I.

Thou shalt not go away from home to do any trading, nor thy son nor thy daughter.

II.

Thou shalt patronize thy home merchant and thy home printer, for yea, verily, doth thy home printer spread over the land glad tidings of the goodness and greatness and they shall patronize thee.

III.

Thou shalt employ thy own mechanics that they may not be driven from their homes to find food for their little ones, thou shalt consider him as thy neighbor, above them that dwelleth in a strange town.

IV.

Thou shalt not ask for credit as goods cost much money, and the merchant's brain is burdened with bills.

V.

Thou shalt not ask for reduced prices for thy "influence", for behold guile is in thine heart and the merchant readeth it like an open book. He laugheth thee to scorn and shouteth to his "ha, ha".

VI.

Thou shalt do whatever lieth in thy power to encourage and promote the welfare of thine own town and thine own people.

VII.

Thou shalt not suffer the voice of pride to overcome thee, and if other towns entice thee, consent thou not for thou mayest be deceived.

VIII.

Thou shalt spend thy earnings at home that they may return from whence they came and give nourishment to such as may come after thee.

IX.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against the town wherein thou dwelleth, but speak well of it to all men.

X.

Thou shalt take these commandments and teach them to thy children to the third and fourth generation that they may be made to flourish and grow in plenty when thou art laid to rest with thy fathers.

A farewell social will be held in the Salvation Army barracks on the evening of Saturday 21st inst., in honor of Ensign Southell who is leaving the city after doing good work here.

James F. Kennedy, chief engineer of the V. V. & E. arrived here today from St. Paul and went to Midway and Curlew presumably to begin construction work from the end of the line at Curlew.

Geo. F. Miller left this week for San Francisco.

THE EDITOR'S EASY CHAIR.

Two Greenwood boys are attending Vancouver College. Charles Galloway is the son of C. Scott Galloway and Herbert Ostroski is the son of L. I. Ostroski. The first was born a British subject and the second is the son of a good American. But education in a first class school on the Canadian side wipes out nationality. Both boys made a splendid oratorical showing in a debate in the College last week. The Britisher supported the affirmative side of the question "that the British Empire is on the decline," while the American lad eloquently upheld the cause that Britain is still the foremost nation in the world. The News-Advertiser has this to say regarding the debate:

There was a splendid turnout of the students last night at the College when the opening debate of the season took place. It was a debate that reflected greatly to the credit of the college, although being of a somewhat weighty nature, viz.: "Resolved, that the British Empire is on the decline." Although the affirmative had to contend against sentiment, they managed to make some very good arguments in support of their side of the question. The talent was fairly evenly divided, Messrs. Neville-Smith, Ellis, Galloway and Yates endeavoring to convince the audience that the resolution was well applied, whilst Messrs. McTaggart, Ostroski, Brydone-Jack and Shannon strove valiantly to show that England was still very much alive and to the front. The negative side of the question was successful, so that Vancouverites may now breathe freely again.

The discussion brought out quite a number of facts about the British Empire, which the boys were not slow to grasp, and showed that the responsible ones had spent time and thought upon the subject under debate. All the debaters acquitted themselves very creditably indeed, and gave evidence of no small amount of talent, talent which will probably be put to loftier ends before a great many years. Mr. Ostroski proved a very fluent speaker, and brought forth applause frequently by his patriotic utterances. Mr. E. O'Callaghan occupied the chair and Mr. E. De Beck acted as critic. Both these gentlemen made felicitous little speeches during the evening.

At a meeting of the Society held subsequently, it was decided to establish a paper in connection with the College.

A well known barrister and an equally well known commercial man made a trip to Beaverdell last week. They went armed against possible holdups, roadmakers, snake bites and other obstacles that might impede progress. Beaverdell was reached without an unusual incident. On the return trip however something happened. As the travellers were enjoying the pleasant drive along the smooth road constructed by the paternal government they noticed a masked man heavily armed approaching them. They at once came to the conclusion that a dangerous highway man had taken possession of the West Fork road since no one else appeared to take an interest in the thoroughfare. They were determined to die fighting however and at once got their guns ready for action. The supposed highway man was as badly frightened as the other two and it was with some difficulty that he convinced them that he had no intention of emulating Tracy. He turned out to be a well known local hotel man who has mining interests up the West Fork. The mask was explained by the fact that everytime he goes up the West Fork, his face is poisoned by the ivy which grows abundantly there. It is not necessary that it should touch, proximity is sufficient to make him a victim. He tried to protect himself by covering his face. He wont repeat the experiment because he not only ran a good chance of being shot but got poisoned as well.

Strange things do sometimes happen even on the West Fork road.

H. C. Killeen, road superintendent for the province of British Columbia has at last reached the West Fork. His chief announced his coming at intervals of three weeks ever since last May but took good care to keep him engaged elsewhere. Mr. Killeen went up to the West Fork alone. He road up from Midway as he wished to look over the route and form his own conclusions before consulting those who are interested in that district. It is stated that the permanent bridges will be constructed as speedily as possible and that the road will be completed early next spring.

Randolph Stewart who is a travelling representative for the B. C. Mining Record returned to the city this week after a business trip to East Kootenay.

Ald. J. J. Caulfield left on Monday on a business trip to Manitoba which may be extended to Toronto.

CHAPTER 40.

An Act to amend the Liquor Licence Act 1900. "1900 c 18."

(21st June, 1902.)

His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislate Assembly of the province of British Columbia, enacts as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the Liquor License Act (1900) Amendment Act, 1902.

2. Section 37, of chapter 18 of the statutes of 1900, being the "Liquor License Act 1900" is hereby repealed, and the following substituted therefore, :

"37. No license under this Act shall be issued or transferred to any person of the Indian race, or to any person who is not on the list of voters for the Legislature of the province of British Columbia."

MEETING OF KING COMPANY

Circular Letter by Secretary Issued to Shareholders.

An extraordinary meeting of the King Mining company owning the Oro Denoro mine in Summit camp will be held in the city of Rossland on December 4th 1902 at eleven o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of receiving the report of the Directors of the Company and of receiving and passing the accounts of the Company and to elect Directors for the ensuing term and for the purpose of authorizing the Directors of the Company to bond, sell and dispose of the whole or any portion of the assets of the Company and for such consideration and upon such terms as to them may seem reasonable, and meet and to enter into any contract or option to convey the property so sold to the purchaser thereof. In connection with the notices calling the meeting Smith Curtis M. P. P. Secretary of the Company has sent out the following circular to the shareholders:

The Directors of the Company beg to inform the shareholders that the Company's property has been idle since the last general meeting of the Company; that the option given Messrs. MacNish and Curtis nearly a year ago was allowed to expire, the reason given being that immediately after its being obtained the price of copper began to decline and in a short time dropped from 16½ cents to 11 cents per pound which deterred investors; that the Directors have since then endeavored to dispose of the Company's principal holding --the Oro Denoro Mine in Summit Camp, Boundary District :-- that they expect to lay proposals for the bonding of this Mine before the general meetings of the Company to be held in December next and therefore strongly urge the shareholders to be present or represented by proxy at those meetings. If desired proxies may be made out in the name of the Secretary.

The indebtedness of the Company augmented by interest, wages for caretaking and other small expenses is now in round numbers $25,000 and it is highly desirable that some disposition of the Oro Denoro Mine be made as the Company's creditors cannot be expected to wait indefinately for their money. To this end it is advisible that the Directors be authorized to dispose of the property as the delay and uncertainty of awaiting ratification by the shareholders may prevent a sale being made. The Directors have a high opinion of the Oro Denoro Mine and were funds available for its development have every confidence it would realize past expectations. The fall in copper prices has not closed Boundary copper mines, but their output has steadily increased, the ore shipped in 1900 being 96,730 tons, in 1901 390,000 tons, in 1902 to this date, in spite of coke shortage due to coal mine explosion and a subsequent strike, 410,000 tons. The output is now 2,000 tons per day and this will in 1903 be increased to 4,000 tons or more per day. The Emma mine, adjoining the Oro Denoro, has during the past few months been opened up and is now a steady shipper of from 60 to 125 tons per day. This fact it is believed will materially aid in getting a purchaser for the Oro Denoro.

SMITH CURTIS, Secretary.

A Magazine Thirty Years Old:—The Cristmas (December) Number of THE DELINEATOR is also the Thirtieth Anniversary Number.

To do justice to the number, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark, it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in it the best modern writers and artists are generously represented. The book contains over 230 pages, with 34 full page illustrations, of which 20 are in two or more colors The magnitude of this December number for which 728 tons of paper and 6 tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that 91 presses running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing oaer 20,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands.

A USEFUL THREAT

At a hotel a waiter came out of the coffee-room and informed the manager that a man was raising a disturbance because he could not have his accustomed seat at the table.

"Go in again," said the manager, "and propitiate him in some way."

Back went the waiter to the dissatisfied gentleman and said—"If you don't like the way things is done here, you can get out, or I'll propitate you pretty quick."
