

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

High Grade Claims Near the City are Showing up Well.

WORK ON THE BARBARA

A High Assay Secured From the Providence—Other Claims.

Slowly but surely the claims immediately surrounding Greenwood are being opened up. In addition to those claims whose magnificent showings of high grade ore drew attention to potentialities of the hills overlooking the town new ground has been broken with equally encouraging results. Ore buyers are coming to the city anxious to purchase the high grade ores on the dumps.

Some years ago the Barbara mineral claim was located. There was rock in place but the locaters placed more importance on the value of the ground for townsite purposes. The Barbara addition was surveyed into lots and placed on the market and the beautiful residential sites were eagerly purchased. But the rich finds on adjacent properties encouraged the belief that the Barbara was valuable for ore as well as real estate and prospecting work was begun. A promising ledge of high grade galena ore was uncovered. The work will be continued and it is probable that in a short time the Barbara will take an important place among the high grade mines near Greenwood. The Barbara is owned by Geo. R. Naden and associates.

Immediately below the Providence mine is the market garden of Adolphus Ferguson, more popularly known as Fungus. The genial proprietor of this beautiful piece of earth has succeeded in growing the most tempting products. His trade in the city increasing so rapidly he found it necessary to break new ground. In doing so the plough ran into rock which is a poor thing to grow vegetables on but which was found to be rich in mineral. Mr. Ferguson stripped the rock and found that it was no movable boulder but a continuation of the ledge from the Providence. He then located his ground as a mineral claim and being a loyal Englishman he named his claim the Coronation in honor of the auspicious event which will take place this month. The ore is similar to that on the Providence and is no doubt a continuation of the lead on that famous property.

On the Providence itself, the work is of the most encouraging nature. The dumps of high grade ores are rapidly increasing and there is now a large tonnage ready for shipping. Last week an eastern capitalist visited the Providence accompanied by a local business man. The easterner was not at all favorably impressed with the property. He was accustomed to seeing expensive machinery on the properties in B. C. and operations on an extensive scale and he could not see how a mine could be an important one when there were only a few men at work breaking and sorting ore by hand. He considered that the property was merely in an early stage of development and before it could amount to anything, it must have modern machinery and a large force of men like the Mother Lode and other big properties. He took a piece of ore from the dumps however and went to Vancouver where he had it assayed. In a letter to his Greenwood friend he stated that his opinion regarding the Providence was somewhat changed, since the assay showed $486 in all values. He thought the Providence good enough for anybody and would like very much to get a slice of it.

The Elkhorn is also looking well. Messrs. Smith and Longley who are working the property have considerable ore ready for shipment. W. T. Smith left for Spokane on Thursday and it is understood that negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the property at a large figure.

Messrs. Wood and Galloway are developing one of their properties near the Providence and are hopeful of uncovering the high grade lead that runs through the hill.

On the Gold Finch Messrs. Sutherland and McDonald are still getting out high grade ore and have a considerable quantity sorted and ready for shipment.

SALE OF CORDWOOD

It is understood that the government are taking advantage of the recent decision of Mr. Justice Walkem and have instructed their agent to sell all the wood seized and turn all the proceeds into the government. The wood affected was originally seized for non-payment of timber dues. The owners of the wood objected holding that as the wood was cut on mineral claims, the government was not entitled to royalty. Mr. Justice Walkem held that while the seizure might be bad, still it was wrong to strip mineral claims of the timber by cutting into cordwood and that he would not protect the defendants by interfering with the seizure.

The government have now decided to confiscate all interest in the wood and will sell it next week to the highest bidder.

THE SECOND FURNACE

The B. C. Copper company had decided to run both their furnaces this week but owing to the accident at the mine, the second furnace will not be blown in until the first of next week. The smelter is receiving regular shipments from the B. C. mine.

THE SNOWSHOE

At the fifth ordinary general meeting of the Rosland and Sloean syndicate held in London, Eng., the directors reported that they as vendors of the Snowshoe mine at Phoenix to the Snowshoe Gold and Copper Mines Ltd., have agreed to accept the purchase price of £150,000 in fully paid shares in the new company. The syndicate is therefore the largest shareholder in the Snowshoe, and two of the directors are also on the board of this promising new undertaking. The profit and loss account shows a net profit of £17,367 10s 4d for preliminary expenses, development work, office expenses, directors and auditors fees, etc. In addition 80,000 shares in the Snowshoe Gold and Copper Mines Ltd., valued at £80,000, have been transferred to reserve account.

The nominal capital of the company is £100,000, and of this amount on December 31st last, 37,340 shares were issued. Of these 70,033 shares were fully paid and 17,307 were 12s 6d paid up, leaving a balance of £2,660 shares to be issued.

MEMORIAL DAY

They will then proceed to the cemetery where the beautiful and impressive memorial service of the order will be held over the graves of departed Odd Fellows.

The best potatoes are those that have not been irrigated, you can get them at Crowston's.

GONE FAST

Mrs. W. F. Smith and family left this week for River Falls, Wisconsin. Mr. Smith accompanied them as far as Kootenay Landing. The visit to their old home in River Falls will be an extended one as advantage will be taken of the exceptional educational facilities of that town to educate the several little Smiths.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Richard Babb Met His Death at the Mother Lode Mine.

BY PREMATURE EXPLOSION

Two Men Were Injured—The Coroner's Inquest.

A fatal accident occurred at the Mother Lode mine about nine o'clock Sunday morning. Richard Babb a miner about thirty five years of age was killed and Ed Savage and Herbert Redpath injured. The accident was caused through premature explosion of a hole in the gloryhole. The other men in the gloryhole all made good their escape. Babb was the least injured of the three and the doctors decided that death was occasioned by a weak heart and the shock from the explosion.

The particulars of the accident were brought out at the Coroner's inquest which was held in the city hall on Monday, before Dr. Foster coroner and the following jury: G. Arthur Rendell (foreman) J. J. Caulfield, Geo. H. Collins, C. H. Phair, Ralph Smailes and Geo. R. Naden. I. H. Hallett was present in the interests of the B. C. Copper company and J. P. McLeod represented the Miners Union.

Dr. J. E. Spankie who in company with Dr. Sehon visited the mine and attended the wounded was the first witness. His evidence was to the effect that Richard Babb's death was caused by a weak heart affected by the shock from the explosion. The injuries alone were not sufficient to cause death neither would death have occurred in the absence of the shock. Harry Pascoe, superintendent of the Mother Lode mine was the next witness. He worked at the Mother Lode for about 18 months. He was superintendent from May 2nd of this year. He had 34 years experience as a miner. He said they went to work as usual on Sunday morning to do some blasting in the Mother Lode quarry. They had several holes to blast and one hole to spring. Babb and his partner William Bartlett proceeded to spring this hole with 4 sticks of powder, they had other holes to blast and they were charged up and blasted about two hours after the first hole was sprung. The holes first blasted were sprung the day before. James Noel then proceeded to put a fourteen foot stick in the hole that was sprung to find out if the hole was clear or not. Pascoe asked Noel how the hole was and he said "all right". Pascoe then asked him to charge a hole further up the cut. He put 20 sticks of powder in this hole which Pascoe told him was enough. During this time Babb and the shift boss were charging a hole below. Noel put the stick in the hole that was sprung a second time. Pascoe again asked him how the hole was and he again replied "all right". This precaution was taken to find out if the hole was warm or not. Pascoe left to charge up other holes. Noel and Sullivan then went to get some powder and proceed to charge the hole up. They charged the hole up using Bennett fuse and proceeded to do other work. About 9:15 they were ready to blast and blew the warning whistle. The men said they were all ready and he told them to set fire to the fuse. Noel was the first man to fire his hole. The instant he set fire to his fuse Pascoe saw a stream of fire and he yelled to the men to run but before any of them could get out of the cut the hole went off. There was about twelve feet of fuse in the hole. It must have gone off in less than three seconds. The fuse used for bulldozing went off afterwards. He and others who escaped came back to get the men who were injured. He considered it was a bad piece of fuse. Babb's was on another bench about 30 feet below the hole that went off. He didn't notice whether Babb had stumbled or not. He would give as the cause of accident a bad piece of fuse the same as might be in any other fuse. He and Mr. Keffer afterwards tested fuse from the same case and it took 30 seconds to the foot to go off. Noel is considered a safe man. He charged the hole and set fire to the fuse.

In answer to Mr. Hallett he said, the hole was twelve feet deep. There were 32 sticks of powder in the hole. There was 3 or 3½ feet of fuse above the ground. The fuse was not fired until about 13 minutes after the hole was charged. If it was a hot hole it would have gone off when charging up. He knew of other instances where fuse went off prematurely.

Thos. Corkill foreman in the Glory hole worked at the mine since September last. He corroborated the evidence given by Pascoe in reference to the work done the morning of the accident.

James Noel the next witness worked at the Mother Lode mine for about ten months in the glory hole. Had been mining for eight or nine years. He told of going to work Sunday morning as usual, of the springing of the hole by Richard Babb and his partner and the shooting of the two holes, mentioned by Pascoe. He told of testing the sprung hole to see if it was warm. The stick was left in the hole for 15 or 20 minutes, when the stick was taken out it was cold. He told Pascoe the hole was all right but he put the stick back again and left it there for ten minutes, he put the stick in a third time and left it there about 15 minutes. He gave it to his partner Sullivan to show him it was all right. They then commenced loading the hole. They put 32 sticks of powder in the hole, after putting in the powder they waited ten minutes till Pascoe was ready. The signal for blasting was then given. He split the fuse and laid it carefully from the hole. He turned around and saw the collar of the hole was on fire. His partner yelled look out below. We ran and just got clear over the embankment when the report was off. The yell of of Sullivan was loud enough for Babb to hear it. Babb was about 25 feet below them. The hole was 12 feet deep and 2½ feet of this would be taken up with powder. After loading a deep hole he always cleaned everything away from the collar and did so in this case. A twelve foot fuse would take 6 or 7 minutes to burn. He couldn't say how the fire got to the bottom of the hole unless it was through bad fuse. He just saw the fire there and far. He threw the match with which he lit the fuse over the embankment. The only reason he could give for the accident was a bad fuse through which the fire ran like lightning.

To Mr. McLeod, he said the diameter of the hole was 4½ inches. The length of the testing stick is 14 feet. The object of springing the hole is to enlarge the cavity for the powder at the bottom of the hole. This cavity was in accordance with the amount of powder put in to spring the hole. Four sticks a medium charge was put in and if there was any heat it would be around the sides of the cavity.

Mr. Mr. McLeod—A stick might be down for 40 minutes in a hole of that kind and be brought up cold.

The Witness—There would be heat in the bottom of the hole.

To the Coroner—Rock could not hold the heat for an hour and three quarters not that rock there. They didn't think it was necessary to put any water in the hole. He couldn't say how much time it would take for heat to pass away from the rock.

To Mr. McLeod—A soft pine stick would show indications of heat if any there, after being down 15 minutes, he was satisfied the hole was cold. He put no weight on the fuse to hold it down. It was not customary to do that with a long fuse.

To Mr. Hallett—Babb's body was scarcely touched with dirt. He could see no bruises on him. There was one small rock on his left leg. His body was found about 20 feet from where he was going to light the fuse. William Bartlett knew they were preparing to blast, he heard the order to fire and when he heard the report so suddenly he ran. He was 60 feet away when the explosion took place, he heard Pascoe yell and it was then every

GREAT NORTHERN

Will Shortly Quote Freight and Passenger Rates to Greenwood.

IS AFTER LOCAL BUSINESS

Stages and Freight Wagons to be run from Curlew to this City.

Within 30 days the Great Northern railway will quote through passenger and freight rates to and from Greenwood. This important announcement is semi-officially made. It does not mean that the railway will reach here by that time but until the work of extending the line from Curlew to the metropolis of the Boundary district is completed a fast passenger stage and freight wagons will be run between Curlew and Greenwood. It is expected that as soon as the line is completed to Republic work will be commenced from Curlew northward.

The Great Northern expect to have their line completed to Republic this month and as soon as this is done traffic will be commenced giving close connection at Marcus with the service on the Spokane Falls and Northern railway. These trains will of course pass through Curlew on their way to and from Republic. Curlew is nearly 20 miles distance from Greenwood with a good wagon road and an easy grade all the way. A stage line can make the trip from here to Curlew in less than three hours, so that passengers leaving here in the morning will reach Spokane the same evening, thus saving a day on the present time. For points beyond Spokane the same saving is made, so that the Great Northern expects to secure not only the local traffic but a big portion of the through traffic as well.

The big American company also intend to quote freight rates that will induce merchants to patronize their line. The wagon haul is a drawback, but then the railway has the advantage of an easy grade along the Valley of the Kettle River. The mountains have been avoided and the natural route for a railway followed, so that the difficulties of a wagon haul are not serious as would at first appear.

The most serious inroad into the C. P. R. business is likely to be made in connection with the traffic to the coast. With the long haul to Revelstoke and then down the Arrow lakes, the C. P. R., will be 24 hours behind the Great Northern to the coast. The only way this disadvantage could be speedily overcome, is by the rapid construction of the Midway and Vernon road. In this way passengers and freight could leave leave the C. P. R., at Sicamous and come down over the Shuswap and Okanagan and the Midway and Vernon to the Boundary country. The difference in time and distance could be thus overcome.

In the meantime Greenwood will enjoy the benefit of railway competition. Doubtless even with stages and freight wagons the business done by the Great Northern will be sufficiently large to hasten the construction of the railway from Curlew to here.

SUNSET SMELTER

All the machinery for the Sunset smelter has arrived and is now being placed in position. The day for blowing in the furnace has not been definitely announced but it will likely be early next week.

WHAT IS WRONG?

"Nor have I anything of importance to say on matters outside our own statement. Generally speaking, the past year has been a prosperous one for Canada, and so far the hand of the commercial barometer still stands at 'fair.' The revenues of the country are large; railway earnings are steadily increasing; farmers are prosperous; the outlook for lumber is improving and the tide of immigration has set in with greater volume, ensuring to Western Canada, and indeed to the whole country, more rapid progress in population and material prosperity. The natural resources of the country are being steadily developed; the output of coal is increasing; and it looks as if we were on the eve of important results in the iron and steel industry. There are indications also that the recent consolidation of Atlantic steamship lines by an American syndicate will compel Canada, in self defence, to take up the question of a fast Atlantic service, and if we wish to secure immigration, retain the traffic properly belonging to our own ports, and safeguard the interests of our commerce, we must see that the service both passenger and freight, is second to none in speed and equipment. There have been exceptions, and some industries have not shared in the general prosperity, but these can in most cases be traced to undue competition and bad management. Mining in British Columbia is still highly unsatisfactory and it may be some time yet before it recovers from the collapse of the last two or three years."

There is nothing particularly new in the above except from the encouraging statement of General Manager Clouston at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal. The heads of practically every financial institution doing a business throughout Canada have the same story to tell. In the maritime provinces, in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and the Northwest territories there is nothing but prosperity, but poor British Columbia is dismissed with a few words. "Mining in British Columbia is still highly unsatisfactory conditions are not hopeful in British Columbia" etc., etc.

There is a general era of prosperity but British Columbia the richest and best province of all does not share in it. What is the matter? It is too late in the day to say that the province is not possessed of almost illimitable natural wealth. The truth is that we have a very bad reputation. Advantage has been taken of the absence of political stability, of an epidemic of wild cat speculation and other ills, to fasten an unwarranted reproach upon the province. It is useless quarrelling with existing conditions. They must be faced. We cannot expect outsiders to put our house in order, we must do our renovating and repairing. The province is rich in mineral, timber and fish and has areas of land capable of supporting a large population. But this does not help the province much so long as the Cloustons and the other heads of the big financial concerns give it a bad report.

The first panacea for the evils that afflict us is to put an end to the condition of political a narchy that has prevailed for the last four years. A representative of the Toronto Globe visited British Columbia discussing the situation says:

There are no party ties in the legislature of a binding nature, and men who in national politics are liberals and conservative flock together here in the legislature and help out each others schemes. Premier Dunsmuir and his colleagues are confronted by an Opposition that just about equals the government supporters on such a matter as a vote of confidence, and the balance of power is in the hands of Mr. Joseph Martin and a knot of followers, who constitute a third party. There is thus reproduced on a miniature scale in the legislature of British Columbia such a condition as we often see in the chambers of France and Italy, where the men in office have to make all sorts of concessions to little groups of independents in order to retain power. In a province like this, where there is so much local feeling in regard to the policy to be pursued in development, and where various industries are concentrated at centres far apart from each other, it can readily be understood that a government can do much either to help or hurt the industry and commerce of the people. It is said by one of Victoria's most prominent citizens that the hesitation of capital to come into British Columbia and the restlessness of labor are alike due to the uncertain attitude of the Dunsmuir government toward capital and labor, and that until the legislature passes out of the third party stage into one in which a strong government, no matter how constituted, nonpartisan, Liberal or conservative, is confronted by a united opposition, there can be no hope of a return of the prosperity and progress of four years ago.

SOME RIBS BROKEN

J. J. Campbell, purchasing agent for the Hall mines smelter met with a rather serious accident in Phoenix on Thursday. He rode from here to Phoenix and in crossing the railway track his horse stumbled and fell throwing Mr. Campbell on the track. He was taken to the Phoenix hospital where it was found that some of his ribs were broken. He will be confined to the hospital for several days.

For good dry potatoes go to Crowston's.

FATAL ACCIDENT

man for himself. He was Babb's partner but left after loading the hole. Harry Sullivan, Noel's partner was the next witness. He said the stick was a little warm the first time they took it out. The stick was left in the hole the second time about 15 minutes. This time the stick was quite cold. Noel handed it to Sullivan, he felt it and the stick was quite cold. They told Pascoe it was all right. After loading the hole they waited half an hour for Pascoe to load some cracks. As soon as Noel lit his fuse he saw fire shoot from the hole, Pascoe ran and they ran. In less than two or three seconds it exploded. They couldn't have got more than ten feet in the time. The hole he was going to light was about 20 feet from the hole that exploded. He saw Noel light the fuse he saw fuse light as quickly as this before. The heat on the stick was quite appreciable. Noel said to him, it is too hot to load that and he answered that it was. And they told Pascoe this: It would be two hours after this before they loaded the hole with powder.

To Mr. Collins—The blaze from the collar of the hole rose five or six feet, it wasn't fuse that blazed.

To Mr. Caulfield—I shouted warning and ran at the same time.

To Mr. McLeod—As a rule holes are sprung on Saturdays and blasted on Sunday. He knew of no accidents when this rule was followed. A similar incident happened in the mine six weeks ago when a hole was sprung and loaded the same day. He loaded the hole and lit the fuse and it went off right away just like this one. No one was hurt this time.

To the Coroner—I consider a hole safe to load if the stick comes out cold. I wouldn't leave it any longer than this.

To Mr. McLeod—Sometimes water is put in to cool the hole but if the stick is right this is not necessary.

To Mr. Hallett—The case mentioned six weeks ago was a case of a quick fuse.

To the Coroner—Fuse is often tested to see if it is good.

After William Serrick gave evidence regarding Pascoe giving warning to the men, the jury retired and brought in the following verdict:

That Richard Babb came to his death through a premature blast in the glory hole of the Mother Lode mine.

Edward Savage was seriously hurt, his leg was fractured and he was badly bruised. Hubert Redpath escaped with some bruises.

The funeral of Richard Babb took place on Tuesday afternoon and was very largely attended. The Greenwood Miners Union turned out in body. Services were conducted at the Methodist church and the cemetery by Rev. J. P. D. Knox. The pallbearers were: James Noel, S. Shovel, Frank Tramblin, Geo. Johns, Sam Johns and D. B.

McLean. Richard Babb was from Cornwall where his parents resides. He has a married sister in Phoenix, Arizona. He worked in the mines of B. C., for several years.

THE CITY COUNCIL

At the regular meeting of the city council held on Monday evening the resignation of Ald. Sullivan was accepted with regret, and the council placed on record its appreciation of the valuable services rendered to the city by the retiring alderman. Tuesday the 17th was fixed as the day to receive nominations for the vacancy and Friday 20th the day of election if necessary. G. B. Taylor was appointed returning officer.

J. S. Alexander secretary of the Fernie Relief Fund wrote acknowledging the receipt of donation from Greenwood and heartily thanked the city for its liberal response to the appeal for aid.

The city clerk was instructed to have notice in the Times notifying owners of horses and cattle that unless the provisions of the pound bylaw were observed action would be taken by the council.

Ald. Kirkwood gave notice that he would move an amendment to the revenue by-law with a view to taking the prohibitive tax off fruit peddlers.

It was the best show of the kind ever seen in Greenwood. A roaring farce comedy describes "Too Rich to Marry" which appeared at the Auditorium Friday evening. The play abounds in absurd and impossible situations and gives plenty of opportunity for specialities by members of the company.
