HAS CONFIDENCE

Mr. S. H. C. Miner and Party Visit Greenwood.

ALL ARE WELL SATISFIED

With the Granby Mines and Reduction Works.

S. H. C. Miner. president of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting company, Jay P. Graves, general manager, and A. C. Flumerfelt, assistant manager, drove down from Phoenix Wednesday morning and left for Grand Forks by the afternoon train. They visited the Greenwood smelter and thoroughly examined the plant there. Mr. Miner was seen by a Times representative at the Hotel Armstrong in the afternoon. He is one of the most successful business men of the east and takes a keen interest in all matters relating to the development and progress of this country. A keen observer, he soon discovered the weak points and suggested the remedies. When asked regarding the coke situation he said he did not care to express his views but he looked as if those views were decided. "I will say this" he added "that I am determined that our industry will not be hampered again by lack of coke. I have two or three propositions under consideration any of which will insure us a steady supply of coke. We have demonstrated that the low grade ores of the Boundary can be treated at a profit, we intend to continue developing our mines and increasing our smelters and refining works and I am determined that this work shall not be frustrated by lack of fuel. I am not in a position to give you details of my plan but you can rest assured that we will have coke.

Mr. Miner became reminiscent and in an interesting way described the evolution from a low grade wild cat, to a big group of producing mines that are the marvel of the mining world. He said that people had scoffed but he knew something of what had been done in Michigan and he had gone to work determined to demonstrate that big mines could be developed in British Columbia. The Granby company had already demonstrated that five dollar ore could be treated at a profit and they intended pushing ahead by adding new machinery and increasing their reduction works until they reached the maximum of production with the minumum cost.

Mr. Miner takes a pardonable pride in the success of the undertaking which has been built up in face of almost insuperable obstacles. He has confidence in British Columbia and believes that its natural resources, mineral, timber and fish will yet make it rich and prosperous. He does not agree with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy that this province is to reach its destiny through farming. Mr. Miner will remain in the district for another week before returniug east.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

One or two cases of scarlet fever have arisen in the city. The medical officer of health thinks it would tend to prevent a spread of the complaint if back premises were kept very clean and disinfectants liberally used. Immediate notification of this disease should be made either to the medical health officer or to the physician attending the family.

NOTICE.

TENDERS FOR CORDWOOD.

Tenders will be received by the the undersigned for delivery of 20 cords at his block on Copper street, Greenwood.

J. W. MELLOR.

Greenwood, August 6th, 1902.

MR. HILL AND THE BOUNDARY.

The Great Northern President Intends Doing Things in This District—Will Furnish the Smelters With Five Dollar Coke, Will Continue His Road to Greenwood and Phoenix and Will Build to the Coast.

Jas. J. Hill intimated at Grand Forks that although getting old, he intended to do things. The things that Mr. Hill does are important and the Boundary Creek Times was anxious to ascertain what they were. Mr. Hill is generally reticent about his future operations but the Times is in a position to say :

That Mr. Hill was greatly impressed with the Boundary district as a field for successful railway operations.

If the railway business is to be profitable, mines and smelters must be run at a profit.

Mr. Hill believes that the Boundary smelters are paying too much for coke.

Although a large shareholder in the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, he was not backward in criticizing its management.

He intimated that he had coal measures south of the International Boundary line which he intends developing. There is no duty on coke.

He intimated that within a year he would furnish the Boundary smelters with all the coke required at a cost not exceeding $5.00 a ton.

Mr. Hill is going ts build to Greenwood and Phoenix. His road is going to help to build up the Boundary country and he intends running branches to every point where there is a chance to develop the district and do business.

Mr. Hill is going to build through to the coast. He hopes the people of B. C. will soon get through voting bonuses as he does not want one. He builds railways to do business not to earn bonuses.

STRIKE SETTLED

Miners and Mine Owners Arrange Difficulties.

A FAIR COMPROMISE

Coke For Smelters May be Expected in Short Time.

The Fernie strike is over. The labor disturbance which brought the smelting industry of the Boundary to a complete standstill and which also threw hundreds of miners out of employment has been settled. Like most strikes peace was brought about by both sides making concessions. At first the strike lacked that energy and unanimity which generally characterizes the strikes conducted under the auspices of the Western Federation of Miners. But President J. Moyer of the Western Federation appeared on the scene. He succeeded in organizing the men at Morrissey and Michel. The men at Michel were called out and all responded. President Moyer was about to call out the men at Morrissey when he was informed that if he would see Manager Tonkin the whole matter would be amicably settled. He met the manager and basis of settlement arrived at. Manager Tonkin had demanded that the men work 8½ hours from face to face with one half hour for lunch. The compromise asked for 8½ hours from lamp station to lamp station and half hour for lunch.

The news of the settlement was gladly received in the Boundary. Although the Fernie mine is in bad shape on account of the accident the smelter men hope that by drawing on Morrissey and Michel for coal, the company will be in a position to meet the requirements of the smelters in about two weeks. Just previous to the end of the strike both the Granby and the B. C. Copper company thought they would have to close their mines but this will not now be necessary.

Are you using "Blue Ribbon "Coy-Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson left on Monday on a holiday trip to the coast.

The Providence mine this week shipped two cars of ore to the Trail smelter.

Several applications were made in chambers before His Honor Judge Leamy last week.

Sandy Cameron left last week for Calgary with a carload of horses. He expects to return in about ten days.

Geo. D. Curtis and J. B. Henderson, two Grand Forks architects were in the city to submit plans for the new school.

J. C. Haas, the well known mining engineer, is in the city and will spend some time here looking after his extensive mining interests.

Geo. F. Williams has returned from trip to Montreal, Toronto and other eastern centres. He is not discouraged by the recent fire but intends to open up with a new stock in a short time.

A. Ticaire and A. Heaurteau, two mining engineers of Paris, visited the principal mines of the Boundary last week. They had letters of introduction from the provincial mineralogist to the mine managers.

C. S. Holman the new foreman at the Mother Lode narrowly escaped serious injury last week. He was struck by falling rock which bruised him but the force of the blow was diverted and he thus escaped serious consequences.

Henry Lye of Vancouver was in the city last week adjusting the claims for insurance in connection with the Williams' fire. The claims were speedily paid and the damaged stock sold to T. A. Garland who has been rapidly selling it at a fire and water sale.

Titus Ulke of Sault St. Marie, spent several days in the district last week. He is connected with Clergue's refinery at the Sault and the object of visit was to see if British Columbia matte could not be sent there for treatment. Water power and fuel is cheap at the Sault and Mr. Ulke sees no good reason why Canadian matte cannot be profitably treated at a Canadian refinery.

TO MONTREAL

Messrs. Johns and Goodell have gone east.

WILL CONSULT DIRECTORS

Of Montreal and Boston Company. Will Enlarge Smelter.

Henry Johns, superintendent of the Sunset, and W. I. Goodell, superintendent of the smelter have gone to Montreal to consult with the directors of the Montreal and Boston Copper company. Advantage was taken of the lull in mining and smelting circles on account of the Fernie strike to go down to Montreal and discuss with the directors plans for future action. The short run at the smelter which was forced to close on account of the coke famine was eminently successful and in all probability arrangements will be made for doubling the capacity of the plant.

Mr. Johns has just completed his three years contract with the Sunset company. To him must the credit be given for the splendid work that has been done in developing this valuable property. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Johns are anxious to go away on an extended holiday and it is not known yet whether he can be induced to renew the contract. Should they decide to leave Greenwood they will be greatly missed by the many friends they made during their residence here.

J. W. Mellor hos sold his Greenwood stock to J. Lukov.

Eifty-one electors of the city of Greenwood took the trouble to walk up to the city hall on Monday and register their votes. Fifty-one voted for the by-law to raise by the way of debentures the sum of $5,000 for schoo building purposes. On Monday evening the by-law was finally passed, debentures were issued and signed by the mayor and city clerk. These were turned over to Mr. McBride who purchased them.

BENEDICTS WIN

The Married Men Again Defeat the Bachelors.

A VERY EXCITING GAME

Fisheaters Will Try Conclusions With The Musheaters.

To wed or not to wed that is the question,
Whether 'tis better all alone to suffer
The jeers and jibes of benedict ball players,
Or take a wife, despite a thousand troubles
And by thus wedding end them ? To ask—to wed
Doubt o'er; and with a wife to say we end
Defeat and be forever on the winning side.
With other benedicts —'Tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To ask—to wed—
To wed ! perchance a vixen; but what's the odds ?
For who would bear the scoff and jeers of men
The bleacher's scorn, the rooter's cruelty,
The pangs of defeat; the expense of beer,
The insolence of victoris, and the slights,
The defeated twirler of a base ball takes
When he himself might his troubles end
With the first asking ? Who such burdens bear
And groan and sigh under a single life ?
The fear of nothing after marriage
The dread commbial state, from whose bourne
No bachelor returns—can change our wills.
We fly to troubles that we know not of
Rather than be forever on the losing side.

Thus solioquizes, Capt. Law and the members of the bachelor base ball team. They met the benedicts for the third time and in the final inning all hopes of victory were completely destroyed. The score was an interesting one. The benedicts forged ahead of their rivals in the first innings, but the bachelors made a brave fight and in the first half of the last inning the score stood 30 to 39 in favor of the bachelors. It did not seem possible that this difference could be bridged but the bachelors got excited, 10 runs were made by the benedicts with only one man out and the single men again had to acknowledge defeat. Geo. F. Millar and Ed. Dill acted as umpires to the satisfaction of both sides.

WEDDED IN SPOKANE.

B. A. McIntyre and Miss Etta Merrian both of Spokane were married at the parsonage of the First Methodist church last evening at 8:30 o'clock says Wednesday's Spokesman Review. Bert was a popular salesman with the Russell Hardware company and his many Greenwood friends extend congratulations.

On account of the warm weather the education department has continued the summer holidays until August 18.

NOT SETTLED.

Two events that commanded the attention of the people in all parts of the Dominion were of particular interest to the residents of the Kootenay. One was the Fernie strike and the other the imprisonment of William McAdams, editor of the Sandon Paystreak. Last week it looked as if McAdams would remain in jail an indefinite time and there were no good prospects that the Fernie strike would soon be settled. But McAdams apologized to the court and was released and the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company and its men compromised their difficulties and the strike is over. The individuals directly interested may be satisfied with the outcome but the public had an interest in both events and they are not satisfied that either settlement is final.

In case of McAdams, he did what he ought to have done some time ago, but in the interests of the public the judges should no longer have the power which they exercised in the McAdams case. That McAdams was guilty of scandalizing the court no one will dispute, but the majority of the people protest against the method of imposing punishment. It is quite proper that the courts should have control of the court room and have power to summarily punish any contempt that occurs therein, but offences which occur outside the court room should be punished in the ordinary way. Laws should be framed to protect the innocent as well as punish the guilty. Judges should not have the power to drag newspaper men before them whenever they think they have been scandalized and impose any penalty which they, smarting under what they consider unfair criticism, may see fit.

The settlement at Fernie may suit the company and the men, but those who are dependent upon the mining industry will not be satisfied until some arrangement is brought about that will not leave the mining and smelting industries at the mercy of one coal company. Accidents and strikes may happen at any time and the smelting and mining industries are of sufficient importance to warrant the demand that arrangements be made insuring a regular supply of coke.

Both questions should be seriously considered by the Dominion government. It has the authority to introduce legislation restricting the power of judges, and it can satisfactorily settle the coke question by opening up the public coal lands in the Crow's Nest Pass.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES.

It is a difficult matter to follow the ramifications of currency and to gauge the effect business movements have in making or marring the prosperity of a particular centre. A dollar is started into circulation. That dollar may buy a meal for one, a bed for another. The same dollar may be the beginning of the preacher's stipened or the gamblers bank roll. There is no string to it, and it circulates round about bringing pleasure to one and pain to another. It would be idle to attempt to follow it and its numerous companion in their course. It is an easy matter, however, to demonstrate that a dollar sent out of circulation is no longer of value to a community and it is equally true that when the dollar is sent beyond the sphere of influence of that community it can no longer be a benefit.

Greenwood is a city whose growth and prosperity depends upon the wage earners. They are the foundation of the town. Take away the men who are producing wealth and there would soon be no city. It is only natural that the growth of the town should be in porportion to the number of men producing wealth. So many men are working in the mines, at the smelters and at various other industrial institutions. Their earnings aggregate a large sum of money. Merchants, bankers, doctors, lawyers, and even humble newspaper men are dependent upon the money of the wage earners for their livelihood. Each depend on the other but all draw from the same fountain.

A few weeks ago we published the returns of the Greenwood post office for the year ending June 30th, 1902. These returns showed that the local postoffice was doing a large business and was even worthy of a large federal building. It also showed that over $70,000 was sent out of the city by means of money orders and postal notes. Judging from the number of mail and express parcels received a great portion of this large amount went to the eastern department stores. It is easy to see that this is of great benefit to the Eatons, Simpsons, and Montgomery Wards, but difficult to discover what these men have done to help Greenwood in return. Of the money sent from Greenwood this way how much of it finds its way back? If the practice were still further increased and all the purchases were made in the departmental stores, how large a city would there be here? If the amount of money sent east for what could be purchased in Greenwood were spent here, would not times be better and more money in circulation?

Of course there are other avenues through which money is lost to the town. The payment of insurance policies, the interest on loans, and the tribute paid to a banking system whose shareholders live elsewhere and head offices are in Montreal of Toronto, all contribute to restrict the amount of money in circulation. Some of these are necessary evils but there are many methods which the citizens of a live growing town could adopt to keep their monep at home.

It is gratifying to find that we have one citizen who has sufficient confidence in the town to buy its debentures. The interest on these will be paid here and circuiated here. The amount is not large but it is an aggregate of small amounts that makes money plentiful in a community.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Saturday, August 9th, has been selected as the day upon which King Edward VII will be crowned. The celebration will not be upon as elaborate a scale as was intended when the important ceremony had to be postponed on account of His Majesty's serious illness but all British subjects under the circumstances will take a greater personal interest in their King. They all hope that His Majesty will have sufficient strength to go through the ordeal and that he will soon regain his usual health and vigor. The day has been proclaimed a public holiday in all British Dominions.

THE EDITOR'S EASY CHAIR.

After years of fakirs, chartermongers, subsidy seekers and all round hold up men, it is encouraging to read the healthy, vigorous words of J. J. Hill. Mr. Hill is a railway man. His business is building railways not exploiting the public treasury, nor confiscating public lands. He does not point a gun at the government and say "give me your money and your lands and I will build a railway. If you don't I wont build. He says "Leave me alone and I'll build a railway where it should be built." Its a new idea in British Columbia. Heretofore railways were built in this province to secure land grants and cash bonuses; Mr. Hill evidently wants to build a railway to get business, The idea of building a railway for this purpose in British Columbia is so novel that the small politicians have already discovered a motive. Mr. Hill is a greedy American who is building a railway into British territory for the purpose of robbing it of its natural wealth. With the people educated up or rather down to the belief that railways to be successful or even beneficial must first confiscate the public lands and plunder the public treasury and afterwards fleece the people in extortionate freight rates, we doubt whether Mr. Hill is wise in preaching a sound, business-like railway policy in British Columbia.

The Good Book with which Mr. Hill was doubtless made familar in his boyhood days back on an Ontario farm, cautions him and others against doing certain things that will not be appreciated. Mr. Hill pointed out the advantage of building railways without bonuses. A pap fed road is built over impossible grades and on dangerous curvatures. The desideratum is to get the bonus. The greater the engineering difficulties the greater the bonus. Mr. Hill says "He does not want any bonus, and a railway that could not live without a bonus would make a poor show with one." But what does he do? "We have a nice easy way to come in" he said and "their wheels will not slide on the rails." Again "They had a little road in the Crow's Nest that he was not ashamed of and could haul 2,000 tons with a single engine."

When a railway is built for business it must follow the natural routes and be built on easy grades. That is the secret of Mr. Hill's railway success.

It is a surprising thing that because Mr. Hill is a railway man and knows where to build a railway, every possible obstacles is placed in his way. It looks as if others outside the promoters profited by the plundering of the public. It is high time that the people should give the man who wants to build a railway along those lines a chance.

Speaking of railways, word comes from the coast that the provincial government have entered into a contract with McLean Bros., of Vancouver for the construction of the Coast-Kootenay railway. It will be remembered that two years ago the provincial government for no apparent reason, save that it did not ask for enough, turned down the V. V. & E. Last session the Canadian Northern deal was submitted to the legislature. McLean Bros., saw a glorious opportunity. They went to the government and said, if you can give such a big cash subsidy and land grant to the Canadian Northern, you must be equally generous to a Coast-Kootenay road. Give us similar assistance and we will build a road from the Coast to Kootenay—or to the moon if need be. The government was willing but the legislature bucked. Finally the land grant was thrown out and a cash subsidy of $4,500 a mile voted. Under the terms of the act passed by the legislature, the contract was signed last week. The signing of the contract does not mean the early construction of the road. The contractors have until September, 1903, to begin construction. It simply gives them a letter of introduction to Ottawa, where they hope to further bleed the people. Of course McLean Bros. know more about railway building than J. J. Hill. They say the Crow's Nest Pass railway got a subsidy of $11,000 and 20,000 acres of land per mile and that they should receive a similar subsidy Mr. Hill says "A railway that cannot live without a bonus will make a very poor show with one."

When things "swim" or become dim after being looked at for some time.

When the eyes ache, smart or water; when your eyelids get inflamed often, or when you have pain in the eye ball, orbit, temples or forehead.

When you have any nervous derangement that you cannot otherwise account for.

So far as their costumes were concerned they could easily be mistaken for Tracey or any other desperado.

Trades and Labor Congress

OFFICE OF THE SEC.-TREAS.,
P. O. Drawer 1017,
OTTAWA, ONT., July 15th 1902.

To officers and members of Trade Councils, Trade Unions, Central Labor Unions, Federal Labor Unions, District and Local Assemblies of the Knights of Labor in the Dominion of Canada—GREETING:—

FELLOW LABOR UNIONISTS AND BROTHERS,—The Eighteenth Annual Session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will convene in CO.F. Hall, King Street,City of Berlin, Province of Ontario, on Monday, September 15th, 1902,at 10 o'clock, a.m., and all laboro organizations are invited to send representatives.

REPRESENTATION

The basis of representation shall be as follows:—Trade Unions, Local Assemblies of the Knights of Labor and Federal Unions shall be allowed one delegate for each one hundred mem-members or under, and one for each additional one hundred or majority fraction thereof; Trade Councils, Central Labor Unions, National Trade Unions and District Assemblies of the Knight of Labor, three delegates each. Two or more Trade Unions or Local Assemblies of the Knights of Labor, whose aggregate membership does no exceed 150, may unite to send on delegate. No proxy representative will be allowed, and all delegates must be members of bodies they represent (except in the case of bodies composed of delegates from local organizations), at least six months prior to and at the time of election, but nothing in this clause shall be construed to prevent unions and assemblies from combining to send one representative, who is a member of one of such unions or assemblies; also provided that nothing in this clause shall prevent organizations being represented not six months organized.

LABOR LEGISLATION FROM THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Owing to the introduction of the following Bills, affecting labor, namely:

No. 140—"An Act for settlement of Railway Labor Disputes."

No. 122—"An Act further to amend the Act to restrict the importatio and imployment of aliens";

No. 32—"An Act to amend the conciliation Act, 1900";

"The proposed amendment to the Trade Mark and Design Act, with a view of legalizing the Union Label"; and

"The report of the Chinese and Japenese Commision on the Exclusion of Oriental Coolie Labor in the Province of Britsh Columbia," as to which, consequent upon the short duration of the last session, action has been deferred until next Session.

The coming convention (which must voice the opinion of organized labor, as a whole) will be the most important yet held, and at which some of the most brilliant men in the Canadian labor movement will assemble, and we hope that Divine Providence will give them light to wisely study the history of our movement by its examples, in taking into account the present necessities of our toilers and in devising means for their advancement, to promote the study of existing labor laws, to encourage the introduction of new legislation for the betterment of the conditions of the wage-earners of Canada, and, above all, to foster and extend the basic principles of our movement—Education, Organization, Legislation, Conciliation and Arbitration.
