The character of the petty intriguing carried on by the Provincial Government of British Columbia and by its party organs, is meeting with attention in the East.

problems in a sympathetic and broad-minded spirit, with due consideration for the country as a whole. Each province has a right and a duty to keep its particular needs before the people of the other provinces and before the Dominion authorities.

What could make a more ideal community than a combination of the mining and fruit raising industries in the Boundary? Put your faith in the 'fruit farming idea'!

Greenwood is gathering mineral specimens. Don't forget about it. The Secretary of the Board of Trade will receive samples.

Peck McSwain is traveling for Calgary, and Peck will be in at the Fair and have another experience to retail. From the way those Alberta towns advertise, if Peck only had a sidestep he could work again the game of Riley & Riley, the Pacific Coast Advertising Brokers—mainly Brokers.

The Vancouver Sunset makes the break in answer to the criticisms offered by the papers of the interior to its attack on Mr. Duncan Ross that these papers are local and are influenced by local reasons.

You can stack your chips on it that the immigration problem of any country won't be settled by any man who tries to beattle any man on trial for his life by referring to him repeatedly before a jury as a Dago working on a railway. A Dago working on a railway, be he charged with eyes so heinous a crime, is, in the eyes of the law, innocent until he is found guilty, and as such is bound to be respected as any other man.

Provincial Items. Prince Rupert celebrated Victoria Day. Grand Forks estimates for this year amount to $58,484.

A new $75,000 building will be built by the Anti-Tuberculosis society at Kamloops. Yesterday, June 4, navigation opened on the Yukon river from White Horse to Dawson City.

Joseph Abbott, a railway fireman running between Kamloops and Revelstoke, fell between the cars on Tuesday week and was killed. John Henry, a trapper at Horsefly Lake, in the Cariboo, was found recently, dead in his bed. It is thought his death took place early in January.

A Conservative association formed at Prince Rupert demands that the Provincial government's part of the townsite be sold by public auction there. Bioscope pictures of B. C. will be shown in England next winter. Among the scenes to be photographed this summer for that purpose are cannery operations, fruit orchards, lumbering, logging and mining industries.

G. W. Fairweather, G. M., of the Kettle Valley lines, says that the link in their road between Lynch creek and Franklin Camp will be constructed this summer. W. P. Tierney & Co., who have the contract, will probably pitch camp there about July 1st. Provincial Fishery Overseers practically stopped all fishing on the Skeena river last week because boat pullers did not have certificates saying they were British subjects.

A large party of Indian chiefs, representing every tribe in British Columbia, and headed by Chief Joe Capilano, were in the city on Wednesday, on their way to interview the Dominion government with a view of coming to some amicable settlement regarding the lands at present occupied by the Indians in the province. They will interview His Excellency Lord Grey and Sir Wilfrid Laurier during their stay at the Dominion capital. The party occupied a special car, which was held over here to allow several chiefs from this district to join them. Only three members of the party have ever crossed the continent, and even of the chiefs, who are over 70 years of age, have never traveled in a train. Their respective tribes are planning a big reception to the chiefs when they return from Ottawa.—Kamloops Sentinel.

Fruit Industry. What Apple Trees Bear. Messrs. Sears & Porter, of Hood River, Ore., have furnished a record of crops borne by 297 apple trees which should stiffen the backbone of some doubting Thomas as to the wisdom of planting an apple orchard in British Columbia.

Calgary Fair. British Columbia will have a floor space 16x21 feet, for its exhibit at the Calgary Fair from June 29th to July 10th. The exhibit will consist partly of fruit and partly of lumber products, together with some specimens of fish and animals from the museum.

Northern Spy Apple. Mr. F. E. DeHart of Kelowna, B. C., has the following to say about the Northern Spy apple: 1. It is the best known. 2. The public ask for it more than any other variety, therefore it sells best and sells quickly.

JOURNALISM. Mos' nights I'm playin' on the street. Or slidin' on the hill. Or skatin' on the dandy pond. Above the oatmeal mill; But not on Thursday night, you bet. That's when I have the fun, Cos Thursday is the night they print The Weekly Signal Gun.

The office is on Station street, Beside the railroad track; The place is dusty as can be. The floor is awful black. The editor's a funny chap, But, gee, he knows a lot; You'd order see the stacks an' stacks Of Bluebooks he has got. He never reads 'em, no, indeed, Becos the bloomin' Goyament Can't make no good excuse. For all the crazy things they've done; 'N then he winks at me, 'N sez: "Come down 'n he-p me out On Thursday, after tea."
