THE HAYNES ESTATE

Evidence Taken in Supreme Court Sittings

VALUATIONS OF WITNESSES

Put the Worth of the Estate at Upwards of $200,000—Cattle Alone Worth $60,000—Case Adjourned

On Thursday, the Haynes Estate case occupied the entire day at the Assizes. On the death of J. C. Haynes, in 1888, his estate consisting of 22,000 acres of land, extending 27 miles up from the International Boundary line through the Southern Okanagan, was placed in the hands of the B.C. Land and Investment Co. for administration. In 1895, the estate including 3,300 head of cattle and 500 horses were sold. C. F. Costerton, of Vernon, at the time made an affidavit that the real estate was worth but $65,000. The cattle were sold at $13 a head. The evidence brought out here was given by a number of the oldest and best known residents of the section who testified as to valuation of the land and cattle. The counsel sought to show that no attempt was made to advertise the place, that not even the intimate neighbors had any notice that the place was to be sold, and that both land and cattle were greatly undervalued. J. A. Macdonald, of Rossland, appeared for the Estate; E. V. Bodwell, of Victoria, for the defendants. The case was adjourned to be taken up again at Victoria, on a date determined by counsel.

R. G. Sidley, who has been 23 years in the country and knew both the property and Mr. Haynes when alive, valued the cattle at, at least, $20 a head and the land at $8 an acre.

R. B. Kerr, of Midway, had been long a butcher in the country. He had never bought cattle in bunches for less than $20 a head If the beef cattle had been sold separately, they alone would have realized as much as all the cattle did as they were sold.

Henry Nicholson, of camp McKinney, has been here since 1865. He had been a government Assessor for 7 years, under Judge Haynes. He valued the land at $10 an acre and cattle at $20 a head. The ranch was assessed on the basis of a two-third valuation at $114,000.

D. A. carmichael, of Fairview, valued the land at, at the very least, $7.50 an acre and cattle at $20 a head.

C. de Bois Green, P.L.S., of Fairview, surveyor in the Okanagan since 1892, said the place was well worth $12 an acre.

E. Bullock-Webster, Penticton, had owned a ranch at Keremeos. He came here in '86 and in '88 had heard an offer made to Mr. Haynes of $180,000. This offer was refused, as Mr. Haynes held the property at $200,000. It was one of the finest ranches in the country for stock raising.

Mrs. Kruger, for many years the wife of the custom's officer at Osoyoos, and an intimate neighbor of the Haynes family, said that Sheriff Pemberton was "in a very delapidated state and in a condition of inebriety" at the time of the sale. She and her husband did not know of the sale until the sheriff came the night before. Deputy-Sheriff had told her that the cattle had been previously sold to Tom Ellis. Capt. Kruger went over to purchase cattle but none were put up.

J. R. Jackson, of Midway, valued the land at $7 an acre and cattle at $20.

W. J. Schoonover, of Fairview, formerly manager of the estate, put the number of cattle on the estate in his time at 3,300. The ranch could not be out-classed by any he had seen in the province.

The Grand Jury

The Supreme Court opened its sessions on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock before Mr. Justice Clement in the Court House. The grand jury chosen, was composed of the following citizens:

H. F. Stow, David R. Tait, Isaac Crawford, Albert Logan, Robert Wilson, W. G. H. Wilson, E. H. Mortimer, Duncan McIntosh, J. L. Coles, D. C. McRae, G. S. Baker, T. A. Garland, and R. H. Hewer.

In the case of the Crown vs. J. E. LeBlanc, the grand jury brought in a true bill. Their general presentment touches some vital needs of the community and is given in full.

May it Please Your Lordship:

The grand jury desire to extend to you a cordial welcome and to congratulate you upon the paucity of criminal offenses to be dealt with at this session of the court.

We desire to point out to you that the recommendation of the grand jury of 23rd May, 1907, with regard to the dangerous railroad crossing of the highway at Boundary Falls has not yet been acted upon, and we beg to again recommend that it be rectified without loss of time, as we consider the said crossing to be a constant menace to the lives of the traveling public.

We desire to point out that it is important that a speedy decision be given by the executive of the provincial government with regard to the rights of the Columbia and Western Railway company, who claim surface rights on mineral claims located prior to 1901, and who are now leasing and selling timber on some of said mineral claims.

We inspected the school and found it well conducted, but would recommend that a new heating plant be installed to avoid any possible danger from fire; that the building be painted as soon as possible, and that a flag pole be erected and a flag supplied, so that the spirit of loyalty may be firmly planted in the breasts of the rising generation.

We would again recommend that the city authorities install a fire hydrant near the hospital, so that fuller fire protection may be afforded.

We found the court house and jail scrupulously clean and in excellent condition, and we would recommend that a fence be erected around the grounds.

We would like to draw the attention of the proper authorities to the fact that the dairies in the district are not systematically inspected.

We again beg to draw the attention of the proper authorities to the fact that the government officials and provincial police officers in the district are inadequately remunerated for their valuable services.

We trust that your lordship's stay in the Boundary district may be a pleasant one, and that you may be long spared to perform the duties of your high office.

DUNCAN McINTOSH, Foreman.

There was a very light snowfall and the cattle had good winter protection.

R. H. Parkinson, P.L.S., of Fairview, said there was about 600 acres of meadow land on which hay was actually cut. 2,000 other acres could easily be turned into hay meadows.

The main witness was Frank Richter, of Keremeos, who was severely cross-examined by Mr. Bodwell. He had been in the valley 42 years. He knew the estate well and considered it a valuable property. He would have thought it a splendid bargain, if it could be purchased at $6 an acre. The market for cattle in '95 was good. The Kootenay country took all the cattle they could raise and there was very little expense to them in driving them over the Dewdney trail. He valued the cattle at $20 a head. He had purchased lots of them and had never got them for less.

WALLACE MOUNTAIN

The Sally Ships Two Cars of Ore

MR. GAUNCE VISITS THE FORK

Sally and Duncan Making Good—At Carmi, Wait Railroad Construction

Mr. W. G. Gaunce who returned on Tuesday from a two week's visit on the West Fork in an interview on the district spoke substantially as follows:—

"There appears to be [illegible] going on along the V. than usual. Of course this can be accounted for on many grounds. Many who have held mineral claims in the district becoming discouraged by delay in the matter of railway construction or compelled to go elsewhere to work for wages have abandoned their claims and gone to other camps. As a result many promising claims on which much work has been done have been abandoned. Some of these are being re-staked.

Then again quite a number of claims have been crown granted or are ready for crown grant and development thereon has been suspended.

In Wallace Mountain a strict look out is being kept for any available ground and quite a number of new stakes have been recently set on the mountain.

The Sally and Duncan are the only two properties on this hill on which anything like activity is seen, and on both these the working force is small, numbering only 7 or 8 men on each. Both these properties provide their own treasury out of development work, and a car of ore is being now shipped from each claim. A car now being freighted from the Sally is expected to net the owners $5,000. Of course to ship only the ore that will thus pay means to leave lots of cheaper ore in the ore bins, and as a result the Sally today must have $50,000 worth of ore on the ground that would pay handsomely with railway transportation or with a concentrater. But the Sally is slowly making good with no treasury but what it creates itself under all this handicap.

The Duncan and Bounty Fraction are looking well, never so well. At the foot of the 100-foot shaft the lead is 2½ feet wide. The car now being shipped is from the 75 foot level, where the lead is a strong 18 inches and rich. Most of the present ore is being taken from the Bounty.

The shaft on this property is sunk on the line between the two claims to the advantage of both. But the Bounty is so situated that it could be cheaply developed by a tunnel and pay from the grass roots.

At Carmi everything is stagnant awaiting decision regarding Midway and Vernon. In fact everything along the valley appears to hinge on the railway and if this road is not to be constructed it would be both justice and mercy to everybody along the river to let them know the fact, and at the same time let them and the country at large know on whom rests the responsibility for delaying the development of what must sooner or later become one of the richest and most populous sections of the province."

The B. C. Copper Co's. Smelter this week heated 6971 tons of ore, distributed as follows: Mother Lode, 3,796, Napoleon 204, Emma 6, Lone Star 35, Custom ores 2930 tons. Two furnaces are kept running.

Mining Progress.

A full force of men are at work on the Emma Mine, the property of the B. C. Copper Co., pushing the development work on the 200 foot level.

At the Crescent Mine word has been received from the head office in New York to push ahead the work. The new machinery recently installed is all ready to work. Bonnington Falls power is being given to the mine and everything will be running full blast on Monday morning.

At the Mother Lode yesterday concreting was started on the foundations of the new compressor building. Both day and night shifts are kept on the work.

Looks Like Win for City

The case of Portmann vs. City of Greenwood, over the Providence water right, was adjourned this morning until the next court. The Plaintiff pays the costs. It looks like a win for the city.

When this Compressor is finished it will be, with one exception, the largest in Canada.

At the Smelter of the B.C. Copper Co., a considerable amount of extension work is now well under way. By the installation of a centrifugal pump, with a capacity of 1000 gallons a minute, the company are doubling their present facilities for water supply. This pump is a duplicate of one already in operation and is driven by a 50 h.p. Canadian Westinghouse motor. This will give the Smelter here a 55 foot head with which to work.

An 8 inch pipe line, 150 feet long, is being run from Boundary Creek near the C.P.R. bridge to the reservoir on the hill above the Smelter, and a Byron-Jackson 2 stage Turbine pump with a capacity of 500 gallons a minute is being installed near the bridge. This will also be operated by a 50 h.p. C.W. motor. The reservoir holds 160,000 U.S. gallons.

A new crushing plant is also being installed at the sample mill The crusher will have a 24x36 in. jaw opening and will be run by a 100 h.p Allis-Chalmers-Bullock motor. As the ore drops from the crusher it will fall on a new 30-inch belt conveyor, which measures 225 feet from centre to centre. This conveyor will deliver the ore to the sampler in the Sample Mill.

In connection with the new crushing plant, a 250 ton ore bin is being erected and the contract is in the hands of Mayor Bunting. Foundation work has been completed and the structural work is under way. Finger gates, will deliver the ore by force of gravity into the crusher. This will also mean that a new track will be laid over the bins, in order to deliver the ore.

The main incline shaft at the Freemont Mine is now down 140 feet. A considerable force of men are employed in sinking it as rapidly as possible and it is expected that north and south drifts will be started as soon as the 200 foot level is reached. At a depth of 86 feet a break was encountered in the ore body. Eastward 24 feet from the shaft the vein was struck and a winze sunk 14 feet. Sinking was then continued in the main shaft and is being steadily carried on.

The new vein had a width of 8 inches and carried very good values in gold and silver; also some zinc.

LE BLANC ACQUITTED

Charged With Padding the Pay-Rolls of

THE GREAT NORTHERN RY.

Story of Slav Foreman Denied by Le Blanc—Straight Story Creates Good Impression

The only criminal case before Mr. Justice Clement was that of the Crown vs. J.E. LeBlanc.

The charge against Le Blanc was that with intent to defraud, he did concur in making a false entry in the time book of the V. V. & E. Railway and Navigation Company for the month of September, 1906. The name of Joseph Sitar, it was claimed, had been entered as an employee of that railway at Phoenix when not working there.

Joseph LeBlanc was assistant roadmaster for some 19 sections of the G.N. railway, including all of the railway's lines in Canada. The foreman of sec. 49 was a Slav Joseph Mabock, who was the chief witness for the Crown. Mabock had been previously held on the charge of obtaining money by cashing a pay-check made out in the name of Joseph Sitar, who had never worked on the line. On Wednesday, Mabock swore that LeBlanc had arranged with Eddie LeBlanc, foreman of sec. 50, who was his nephew, to put false names on the books and afterwards had arranged with him to present the time voucher at Grand Forks and secure the money, $47.25, while he, Joseph LeBlanc waited outside the station for him. That after getting the money he turned it all over to LeBlanc on the understanding that he was to return half of it to him. Nabok claimed to have stayed at Le Blanc's house in Grand Forks on the night preceding this deal, and that LeBlanc had followed him to Phoenix and had paid him $10. When the Great Northern began to investigate the matter, he said that LeBlanc had offered him $60 to get out of the country and had actually paid him $5 to get to Republic.

Two men who worked on the section were called to prove that Joe Sitar did not work there.

For the defence, the two daughters of the defendant swore that this Slav did not sleep at the LeBlanc home in August last. This evidence was corroborated, by one Frigot, who lived at the house.

The defendant himself took the witness stand and denied Nabok's story almost in toto. His daughter had kept the books and he had not even examined them. He had consistently refused to entertain any suggestion of padding the pay-roll, although suggestions had been made to him, on various occasions to do so.

The story of the defendant created a good impression and the jury took only about 10 minutes to render the verdict, "Not Guilty."

E. C. Miller, of Grand Forks, appeared for the defendant. The prosecution was looked after by J. D. Spence, of this city.

The case was brought on rather hurriedly, leaving the prosecution very little time to gather the necessary witnesses.

The jury was composed as follows: John R. Jackson, Foreman, H. H. Ber, J. A. Chandler, Percy Hallett, William Le Pard, of Greenwood, James Stewart, John Kavanagh, Dan Morrison, N. R. Feeney, Charles A. Mix, J. D. Watson, and J. D. Campbell, of Grand Forks.

The Curfew Rings Tonight

And what does it mean this bit of restraint of the old home cherished in a new country? When we were children in an Ontario town or perhaps in a land across the sea, the curfew called the children from the streets just as it grew dark. It means to us the same as the regulation of our fathers and mothers. And out here as in the older parts, it is the first sign that strikes a stranger, of a well-regulated community—a city of homes where the sentiments encouraged are those that will give to the country a spirit that shall maintain it through fair and rough weather, through financial prosperity and commercial depression.

Not all the customs of the older countries are found convenient in the new. It seems that the curfew is and that somewhere is a deep desire that the children shall grow to be citizens worthy the name—men and women who realize the privilege of conforming their own wishes to the best good of the community.

Let us not be afraid of the touch of sentiment that will help to make the children inteiligent and worthy citizens.

Clean Up the Streets.

Alderman Samis, of Calgary, has come under the flail of the irrepressible "Bob" Edwards of the "Eye Opener." As usual "Bob" makes some very terse statements but the offence of the gentleman is only that just previous to a municipal election he has raised the cry of making Calgary a clean city. The editor's ire is up and his sarcasm would be bitter where not Alderman Samis a good living man. Apparently in Calgary the streets are not used for a saw-mill and the wood, left some on the one side and some on the other side of the street for a week. The Calgary colonel does admit that the cry might fit Pumpkin Centre, B.C., but surely that is not Greenwood. 'Tis time to enforce the By-laws and clean the streets of cordwood piles. Be good and don't be angry.

No More a Daily.

"The Rossland Miner" sent out its last daily issue on Tuesday of this week. The editor is plainly discouraged in the endeavor to maintain a newspaper without the support of the business men of the city. He will make a careful canvass of the community and if sufficient support for a weekly paper is forthcoming, will continue in that way. Meanwhile he makes the following desperate offer:

"If there is in Rossland, any individual, company, or faction that will undertake the publication of a newspaper they will find a complete plant at the Miner office, which can be had on almost any reasonable terms."

CHAT.

The Enderby Progress turns up again as the Salmon Arm Observer, Vol. 1, No. 1. The editors are less committal in their new venture than in the old—at least in the name. We wish them every success. We're new at the business ourselves.

Mr. Kipling has apologized for writing "Our Lady of the Snows" and says he won't do it again at least until the snow comes. And this in Ottawa which is nearly if not quite as bad as the Slocan where it is true that 67 feet of snow fell in one winter, all on the top of a stump. Pity Mr. Kipling could'nt spend the winter there.

Just for a change we're not going to talk of copper—at least on this page. Do you think you can bear it. Some men in New York do. We simply could'nt help it—that is, the pun.

FALL STRAWBERRIES

Fine Box Picked 15 Miles from Greenwood on Saturday Last

On Saturday last Alex. Robinson picked on the North Fork of the Kettle River, about 15 miles from Greenwood, a box of large, luscious strawberries. With strawberries in late October and pansies and sweet peas blooming in the gardens well on into November, what may we not expect in the way of bountiful harvest in the Boundary country? In many an eastern town or city people would find it hard to believe that such things as are commonplaces here could be found anywhere north of the 49th paralell at this season.

The future of British Columbia will not find here simply a mining country, although her minerals will always make her famous the world over. In an agricultural way, the next ten or twenty years will see great development right in the Boundary section. In the "Sunset" of Saturday last, the Editor says what he thinks British Columbia has to offer to the homeseeker, in the following words that we may do well to remind our eastern friends are not fulsome or visionary, but a statement of hard fact.

"In no country in the world is there such a combination of inducements for rural population as we have in British Columbia and of none perhaps is less known. We have valleys which with population can be made to blossom like a garden. The rich warm soil will produce all the cereals and fruits of the temperate zone and some of them the hardier varieties of sub-tropical nuts and fruits. Those who see the splendid arrays of fruit and nuts at the Westminster Fair may get a faint idea of the capabilities of his province. In the Okanagan we have seen in the last few years vastly profitable orchards of apples, peaches and plums developed We have other valleys in which these fruits, with peanuts, olives, apricots, and other sub-tropical products have been successfully grown. And to all the facilities for the comfort, sustenance and profits of man we have the most magnificently beautiful country in the world. Nowhere in British Columbia need the settler be hidden from daily view of scenes and grandeur and beauty—the kind that uplifts the soul of man in wonder and gratitude to his Maker.

In filling these valleys with contented and happy people we are working out in a practical way the glorious destiny of this splendid province—we are planting among us people in whom will develop the tenacious, strong-hearted patriotism which dominates the peoples of all mountainous countries,

It is not too much to say that in undertaking the work of peopling British Columbia the Goverment has before it a work second to no other in importance to the future of this province. To shirk it or approach it in a half-hearted or carping spirit is to proclaim a lack of faith in our future, an unworthiness of the responsibility laid upon us as the custodians of a fair empire in embryo."

Little Copper Items

About five grains of copper are consumed and actually go out of existence every time that a railroad car travels one mile. In this way 5,000 tons of copper are consumed every year by Canadian railroads alone.

As little as 20 cents worth of gold and silver can be extracted from copper ore with profit. Last year in Canada, the gold and silver thus separated amounted to no less a sum than $460,000.

Dr. James Douglas, president of the Copper Queen Company, of Arizona, who is a Canadian and a native of Quebec, gives some interesting predictions of the future of copper north of the 49th parallel in the current issue of the Engineering Magazine. He says that "if no substitute is discovered and the demand for the metal increases as it has done during the modern industrial era, the supply will fall short of the demand, and the value of the metal will rise. . . . But upon the American continent, both south and north, there are wonderful possibilities of future discovery—in Alaska, and in British Columbia; in the Labrador Peninsula; in the great belt of country in which cobalt and native silver deposits have so recently been discovered between the Lakes and Hudson Bay. Nor should the great Canadian Northwest, even within the Artic Circle, be eliminated from view, for even Hearne's Copper River would not be shut off by ice from the world's markets by the closure of Hudson Bay for many more months than were the mines of Lake Superior till within very recent years, when their copper production could reach the East only after the opening of navigation."

"A TEXAS RANGER."

The most successful of all the western melo-dramas, dealing with cowboy life, which are so much in vogue at the present time, is "A Texas Ranger," which will be seen in this city for the first time on Saturday Evening next at the Auditorium.

The story of the play deals with the life of a cow-puncher named Jack Dallam, who has about as many thrilling adventures during the two and a half hours that the play runs as many people crowd into a life-time.

The comedy element has not been overlooked, and the characters of "Danvray Dalvina" Dalrymple and "Wildcat" are screams all the time they are on the stage.

Serious consequences were averted at Kingston by Zam-Buk. Blood Poison through stocking dye has on more than one occasion proved serious, and such might have been the case with Mr. Thos. Foster, of Kingston, had it not been for Zam-Buk. Mr. Foster, formerly an officer in the Horse Artillery stationed at Kingston, says:—"Last fall I had a nasty sore on my foot caused by the irritation from a projecting eyelet in my shoe. Before I was aware of it the colored sock I wore had poisoned the flesh and I suffered much in consequence. I tried a good many salves and ointments yet there was no improvement until I began with Zam-Buk. This ointment drew out all the inflammation and poisonous matter and healed the sore in several days after applying. You can publish this statement if you wish for the merits of Zam-Buk cannot be to widely known."

All skin diseases quickly yield to Zam-Buk. Sold by all stores and medicine vendors at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam Buk Co., Toronto, 3 boxes $1.25.

One of the biggest attractions of the present theatrical season will be "A Texas Ranger" which comes to the Auditorium for one night only, Saturday evening, October 26th. "A Texas Ranger" is a beautiful story of the Panhandle country. The parts will be in the capable hands of W. Lee Brandon, May Roberts and L. Victor Gillard. Seats on sale at Thomas Drug Co., $1.00 each.

NOTICE is hereby given that 60 days from date I intend to apply to the Hon. the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works for permission to purchase the following described tract of land, situated in the Kettle River Valley West of Midway, commencing at a post planted at the angle in the south boundary of Lot 514, thence south 30 chains more or less to the Columbia and Western Railway Right of Way, thence in a North Westerly direction along the said Right of Way 40 chains more or less to the south boundary of Lot 514, thence east along the south boundary of Lot 514, 40 chains more or less to the point of commencement, containing 40 acres more or less.
