JOB WORK

Mining Progress.

Development work is in progress on the Little Chief, the mining property adjoining the Skylark.

Quite a number of men are working in the Maple Leaf Mine and Franklin Camp on the North Fork. Development work is being pushed ahead vigorously.

The report that the pumps had been taken out of the Brooklyn mine is denied. They are being kept running as usual and the mine kept clear of water.

The Golden Eagle, a mine of the North Fork in which a great many Greenwood people were interested in the early days is now shipping ore steadily over the new Kettle Valley line. Values are in gold and copper and run from $60 to $100 a ton.

It is now stated that the trip of inspection which was to be made this week by President J. Langleoth, Manager Jay P. Graves and other officials of the Granby Consolidated is cancelled for the present. They were expected in Phoenix this week.

Large local purchases of B. C. Copper Stock have been made within the last week. Through one bank alone, about $28,000 has been put into this stock by Greenwood people since last spring. Considerable stock has also been purchased through outside brokers. Speaks well for the confidence of Greenwood people in their mines and smelter.

The Buster Claim is another of the West Fork properties which are waiting the railway at Beaverdell. Joseph Kelly who went through here on Wednesday on his way to Waterville, Wash., reports that a syndicate will be formed in the near future to develop the mine and hold shipments until the railway is completed. A 26-inch vein of quartz and galena ore, which holds exceptionally good values has been found. Some of it ran as high as $153 to the ton.

On Tuesday, Frank McGuier, near the Richmond claim, working Bannock city on the North Fork struck a paystreak four feet in width. Mr. Guier was in the act of laying a tram track into the long tunnel on the property and just as he was blasting the ledge, he shot into a body of high grade copper ore which, on first appearance is claimed to resemble a jeweller's window more than anything else. Mr. Guier is an experienced miner but the spectacle before him roused him to action and he at once set to work to ascertain the real extent of the find. The Richmond lies next to the well known Diamond Hitch property. The lead just discovered on the Richmond dips east and has a trend a little north of east. It is creating a good deal of interest.

Pythian Celebration

Last Saturday was the 19th day of Ramadan, being the 9th day of the year A.H. 1325 and, the day whereupon Mokannah's band to the number of nearly three score were to journey to Phoenix to lead many Knights of Pythias into a new land. The command was spread abroad, "Go ye into the desert and seek the tyro and bring him hither that he may become wise." About twenty tyros from Greenwood Lodge went far up the hill to the imaginary oasis of Phoenix, that with the flashing of many lights, the sound of inspiring music and the exemplification of many rites and mystic ceremonies, they might enter into the Dramatic order of the Knights of Khorassan and be wise. About 50 visitors from El Mabarraz Temple, No. 92, of Spokane had arrived on the evening train bringing with them their brass band. A big street parade was held, after which about 100 tyros in all were initiated and took their canter on the goat over the burning sands. After the ceremonies, a grand banquet was served, elaborate preparations having been made for this part of the entertainment. At the close speeches were made by the Supreme Representative, Grand Chancellor a number of the visiting Knights and others

A CORRECTION

Mr. C. J. Leggett, of Midway, Junior Counsel in the case of the Haynes Estate vs. The British Columbia Land and Investment Agency, Limited, Alfred E. McPhillips, Thomas Dixon, Galpin, and Cuyler A. Holland has informed The Times of some inaccuracies in the story of the estate which has been widely published and which after being corroborated by one of the parties to the suit was used in The Times last week. "The evidence as given last week was accurate enough," said Mr. Leggett, "but instead of 3,300 cattle, we have not yet established that there were more than 1,300 head. Few horses were on the estate." It is, however, one of the contentions of the Plaintiffs that there were more than 1,300 head of cattle. The case is to be taken up again at Vancouver on a day hereafter fixed by His Lordship, Justice Clement.

Mr. Leggett has given a great deal of time and energy to working up the case and thinks it is sufficiently good without any over statements and he has asked The Times to give this statement publicity to that end.

HALLOWE'EN DANCE

From 75 to 90 couples took part last night in the annual Ball of Boundary Valley Lodge No. 38 I.O.O.F. in the Masonic Hall, Visitors from Phoenix, Eholt, Boundary Falls and Midway added to the interest and pleasure of the Hallowe'en festivity and were generous in their praises of the music and the dances. The music was in charge of Messrs. McHenry and Moore and supper was served to about 125 of the dancers at the Pacific Cafe. The Odd-fellows claim the best dance ever held in the community.

Owing to the dance here on Thursday night, very few of the Greenwood Oddfellows attended the dance given in Phoenix by Snowshoe Lodge the night previous.

SHARP RECOVERY OF PRICES

Curtailement of Production, Healthy Demand May Send Prices High—Heavy Sales in New York

The measures taken to relieve the money stringency in the New York market have caused some sharp advances in the prices of copper and of local mining stocks. In this week's issue of the Commercial Mr. Walker discusses the question of the permanency of the advance. His conclusion is that the recovery in prices promises to be a very sharp one. Speaking of the sales of last week, he says: "A very considerable portion of the buying has been for foreign account. The large amount of copper now being exported is not going to Europe for storage but to delivery to consumers. Domestic manufacturers have been considerable buyers also. . . . I have confirmed the report that the United Metal Selling Company has sold about 30,000,000 pounds of copper recently at a fraction above 12 cents per pound. The curtailement of copper production, which has now reached very considerable proportions, is certain to be a very vital factor in the metal market from December until June, a portion of the year when purchases by consumers are usually quite heavy. For instance the Montana production is being cut down at the rate of 200,000,000 pounds annually, and the curtailement of all the districts together is very nearly twice this amount, or between 30 and 40 per cent of the American output.

It should be understood that the Montana, Arizona and Mexico mines will not be able to resume operations and immediately supply the copper produced to the trade. It is about ninety days from the time the ore comes from the ground until the copper is electrolytically refined and cast into the various shapes to meet the requirements of the trade. In view of this, it would seem that those copper consumers who are maintaining an antagonistic attitude and refusing to stock up with copper at the ridiculously low prices now quoted are encouraging a continuation of the curtailement of production and paying the foundation for another pinch a little later on, which may send prices just as high as they went early this year.

July's big production is now going through the refineries. With the reduced mine outputs of August, September and October, the producers will in a few weeks find it difficult to supply the current requirements of their regular customers.

GALLANT WORK

Late on Friday afternoon, last week, Frank Lewis, of Midway, made a gallant attempt to stop the horses of Samuel Stooke, which had become restive, and as a result spent from Saturday to Monday in the Sisters' hospital here.

While the horses were standing in front of the drug store in Midway, one of them started to kick. They were starting to run when Mr. Lewis grabbed the bridle of one of them. Something slipped, one trace came off and Mr. Lewis received a kick in the face from one of the horses, which fortunately for him was shoeless. His face was badly jammed and swollen but by Tuesday he was quite himself again and left for his home by the afternoon stage.

Miss Murray, of Anaconda, and Mr. Duncan McRae's little girl were in the buggy at the time of the accident. Neither were hurt.

RUMORS IN THE AIR

Rumors that the Snowshoe mine at Phoenix was to close this morning are, so far as the knowledge of the authorities here is concerned, all in the air. The mine is still shipping its 1,100 tons a day or a little better than that and the manager and officials at Phoenix have heard nothing of any change in the intentions of the Company.

All the mines in the district which have been working during the last few weeks are still shipping ore.

"Any decrease in the number of men employed arises from laying off men engaged in development work. All the mines are running as economically as they can until they see what the future holds." was the declaration of the manager of one of the mining companies to-day.

Council Meeting

The Council meeting on Monday night was attended by Mayor Bunting, Aldermen Desrosiers, Nelson, Sutherland, and Sullivan.

The account of S. L. Johnson, City Engineer and a communication from Geo. Motion, of Nelson, re fire team horses were read and filed.

The application of Jas. Hampson, A. J. McGuire and T. A. Garland, of Anaconda, for a hydrant to be placed as near as possible to their houses was granted. It was stated that collections from Anaconda for water, were expected to be turned in, in good shape, in November.

The Council accepted a communication from W. H. Chappell giving the following prices for chimney sweeping. For one storey houses, $1.50 each, for two storeys and upwards, $4.00 to $5.00 for each chimney; for stove pipes 75 cents to $1.00. Ald. Nelson gave notice that at an early meeting he would introduce a by-law to embracing a system of chimney sweeping as a method of fire protection.

The clerk drew attention to the fact that the calls for lumber for repairing planks broken by people driving their horses over the sidewalks promiscuously, were far too frequent. The Police Commissioners will take the matter up.

The clerk reported that a man named Foley had refused to accept his cheque, claiming that he had done carpenter work and therefore should receive carpenter's wages. He had built a rough protection for some tools and supplies, but had not furnished instruments nor did he claim to be a carpenter. Council ordered that he be paid according to the pay-roll. Later Foley accepted his cheque.

The Mayor reported that the excavation for the reservoir had been made and that the pipe line to the reservoir had been completed. Providence Creek water was not being used. The extension at Anaconda would be completed on Tuesday.

WAGES AT BUTTE.

A despatch from Butte, Mont., dated Tuesday and published in the Nelson News says that the mine-owners there—have notified the unions that on November 1st, the scale of pay for miners will be reduced fifty cents a day.

Another despatch, dated Wednesday says: "In response to the notices from the mining companies that after November 1st, the old scale of wages would go into force the miners and smelter men's union met and by vote decided to abide by the contract, entered into at the time the recent raise in pay was granted, the contract providing that when copper fell below a certain point the old scale of wages should be reverted to. This means that there will be no trouble and that the 7,000 men affected will continue at work under the former scale."

At the offices of the Union here little confidence is put in the despatches by the officials of this district and as similar reports have been published before, it is looked on as an attempt to influence the miners of the district.

The Snowshoe mine at Phoenix shipped to Greenwood this week 3,710 tons of ore and to Trail 2,850, making a total of 6,560 tons for the week

The Smelter of the B.C. Copper Co. treated this week, 7,357 tons of ore distributed as follows: Mother Lode 3,505, Napoleon 93, custom ores 3,759.

The Egyptian of Pompeii

A dramatization of Bulwer-Lytton's famous Novel, 'THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII.' WITH HELENE SCOTT AND JOSEPH DESTEFANI

Little Mining Items

The old iron mines which 25 years ago, where the hope of the Bay of Quinte district in Ontario are now being worked again.

Hon. Wm. Templeman, Dominion Minister of Mines, has promised to have a representative from the Department of Mines examine and report on the platinum prospects of the Tulameen district.

When the chimneys in the smelting room of the Royal Mint are cleaned, an average of $1,000 worth of gold is extracted from the soot. This reminds us that the dust taken from the smelter flues and which at one time went out the chimneys, contains much greater mineral values than the ore itself.

T. Moore Fletcher, a mining engineer with large experience in various parts of the world, speaking to a representative of the Monetary Times recently described British Columbia as 'an ideal mining country. The copper properties of the Boundary are low grade but all the essentials are so convenient that even with a low price of copper operations are profitable. Labor may be a little unsettled but this will be adjusted in time. I saw some magnificent properties there.'

"EGYPTIAN OF POMPEII"

The "Egyptian of Pompeii," under the direction of Harold Nelson and Clifford Lane Bruce, will appear at Opera House, Greenwood, November 7, 1907.

The play opens with the fete day at Pompeii. Nydia, the blind girl, wanders through the streets selling flowers. Glaucus, the noble Achaean, converses with her but does not guess that she loves him, for to him she is but a child, and his affections are centered upon Ione, the beautiful Neapolitan maiden. She and her brother, Apacides, have been pupils of Arbaces, the Egyptian. And he, while trying to keep the brother from becoming a Christian, tries at the same time to win Ione for his bride. She, however, loves Glaucus. The interest of the play circles round Arbaces, the Egyptian, who with his base treachery and cunning makes a strong personality.

The plot is good. The costumes are typical of that early era—the sandalled feet, the flowing robes, and the band of Christians in their black cloaks and hoods.

While this production is under the direction of Harold Nelson and Clifford Lane Bruce they have spared no pains to make this new venture a success. A capable company of New York players have been chosen to fill the various roles to support Miss Helene Scott, who appears as Ione, the Neapolitan maiden.

QUICKLY!

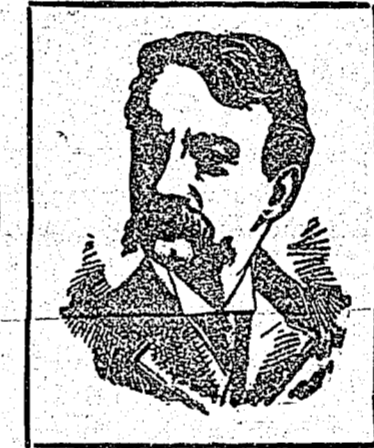

Miss Scott is too well known through the west to need mention, having appeared for so many seasons as leading woman for the Nelson, Bruce Co. Her many friends and admirers will be glad to welcome her after an absence of two years. Mr. Joseph de Stefani, an actor of great ability and long experience, appears in the role of Arbaces, which demands more than ordinary talent to portray. The play is a dramatization of Bulwer-Lytton's famous novel, The Last Days of Pompeii.

Special scenery has been provided, and the curtain descends upon the magnificent spectacle of Vesuvius in Eruption.

Before I was aware of it the colored sock I wore had poisoned the flesh and I suffered much in consequence. I tried a good many medicines and ointments, but there was no improvement until I began with Zam-Buk.
