A ROUSING CELEBRATION

It is not always that one can be proud of a celebration. But there were features in the big two days' celebration with which Greenwood kept Dominion Day that one can be very proud of. And besides this the very orderliness, the lack of friction, and the general good nature of the whole affair, are to be much commended.

The Calithumpian parade opened the celebration proper, on Wednesday morning, coming along Silver street at 9:30. Some roysterers had paraded the streets at 1:30 a. m., headed by the bagpipes, but the real celebration came on with James Cameron, Marshal, at the head. Then followed the mayor, the aldermen and the fire team, with the hose wagon, well decorated. The first of the floats of the business houses was Russell-Law-Caulfield's, a splendidly equipped kitchen, where two girls were cooking biscuits and throwing them into the crowd. Then came the colours of the Greenwood Liquor Co., with a conical display display of appetizers that would make anyone regret being on the water wagon. Evans, the painters, followed and showed the men with the brush at work on stretches of upright canvas, while from the head of the float there waved the silk banner of Evans, the painter. Then the blue bonneted boys under Instructor Hargraves, with their Bugle Band, led the way for the white lime workers' float of C. H. Archibald. A dainty touch of color came in again in the Maypole float of Bubar & McKay, around the bottom of which were a half dozen pretty little girls. Then came a mortar, representing the business of White Bros.; the Steam Laundry had its washing out, and to A. L. White's usual ingenuity fell the prize for the best comic float in the parade, and the parade was closed with the passing of the Greenwood City Band with 16 pieces.

Then came one of the prettiest little arrangements of the day, when 50 little girls, escorted by the Boys' Brigade and Band, marched into square formation and sang "The Maple Leaf Forever." It was the children's part in the opening of the celebration, and nothing would have more pleased the late Alexander Muir, who wrote the song, than to hear those children sing it on the borders of Canada, and so far from his home.

The prizes awarded for the parade were:

Best representative business turnout—Russell-Law-Caulfield Co.

Best decorated float—Bubar & McKay.

Best comic turnout—A. L. White.

Best decorated horse and rider—Jas Cameron.

Best decorated bicycle and rider—Fred Hall.

The Caledonian sports had large entries, were well contested, and resulted as follows:

50 yard dash, boys under 16—Howard Butler; 2nd, Mike O'Connor.

100-yard dash—W. Jones, Curlew; 2nd, F. Brouillett, Grand Forks.

50 yard dash, girls under 16—Cissy Hart; 2nd, Katie Mathieson.

220-yard dash—W. Jones; 2nd T. G. Stendal, Grand Forks.

Putting 16-lb shot—Angus McGilvray, Phoenix; 2nd, J. Prescott, Greenwood.

Running long jump—J. S. Yost; 2nd, H. McKay.

Running high jump—J. S. Jost; 2nd, H. McKay.

The baseball tournament was entered by Oroville, Danville, Orient, Phoenix, a Spokane special from Grand Forks, and by Greenwood. The first game, Oroville vs. Phoenix, resulted as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Oroville	4	0	1	2	1	3	0	—11
Phoenix	0	1	0	0	2	1	1	— 5

The Danville-Orient game showed some of the prettiest playing that has been done here for some time. The score stood:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Danville	0	5	0	2	0	0	5	—12
Orient	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	— 3

The football game between Greenwood and Phoenix came on at 6:30. After about 15 minutes Greenwood scored, repeating the act immediately by a good combination play. In the second half the play was safely in Greenwood's favor, two additional notches being put on the stick. Result, Greenwood 4, Phoenix 0.

At the same time the hub and hub race was going on, on Copper street. Grand Forks won the hub and hub in 19½ seconds, and Greenwood took the wet test in a record time, 24 4-5 seconds, Grand Forks making it in 26. These were followed by the exhibition of the Boys' Brigade, which has done wonders under the direction of Instructor Hargraves. The boxing, the club swinging, and the bugle playing were are well appreciated by the people. The dance, which followed, was one of the most largely attended of the season.

Yesterday saw the finish of the ball games, the Spokane special defeating Greenwood. In the fifth inning Thomas was put in the box and the Specials could score only two runs on him. The game was already lost, however, and the score stood as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Greenwood	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	— 2
Grand Forks	4	0	3	3	1	0	1	—12

This game was remarkale for the exuberance of the fans.

After lunch Grand Forks took a similar runaway out of Oroville, making the score 18-5, and the interest centered in the finals between Danville and the Specials. The game was exceedingly close all the way through, Danville scoring two runs on Elliott in the second inning, Grand Forks touching home once in the fourth and in the last half of the 7th playing the ball for two runs, winning the game. All the sympathy of the spectators was with Danville, who certainly had the best of the game until they fell down on an error of the first baseman in the last inning. Taking it on the whole, the baseball games were well worth all the money. The score stood:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Grand Forks	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	— 3

DENORO NEWS

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mrs. M. W. Ludlow spent the week end in Phoenix.

Denoro mine closed down for Dominion Day, and a number of the residents went to Greenwood to celebrate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cunningham are spending the week in Greenwood, visiting friends ane taking in the celebration festivities.

Miss M. Bennett, late of the Imperial Hotel, Greenwood, is now chef at the Windsor hotel, Denoro.

V. Dapato has gone to Spokane for several day.

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Phillips, of the store, will be sorry to hear of her serious illness since last Saturday, necessitating the calling up of Dr. Spankie late Saturday evening. Though still confined to her bed, we are happy to say she is improving.

O. T. Scott, bookkeeper at the Denoro mine, who, with his brother, is clearing a good deal of land on his ranch below Eholt, near the Greenwood road, sustained a serious loss last week in the death of a valuable horse. They have been making extensive improvements on their property and now have several acres under crop.

Wm. G. Rose, of Cascade, Presbyterian missioner at Cascade, will hold Divine service on Sunday at Denoro.

SOLID SEVEN SIZED UP.

A prominent Liberal of the Kootenay sends a marked copy of the Toronto World of the 21st June containing an appreciative reference to the British Columbia contingent at Ottawa. The World is the paper owned and controlled by W. F. McLean, M.P., familiarly known in Ontario as Billy McLean—the man who has contributed more ideas to the platform of the Conservative opposition at Ottawa, than even the leader or Mr. Foster, or it may safely be said, than any other half dozen leading Conservatives. The World gets in a tap at the Manitoba members and then proceeds to say that—

"When one looks over Sir Wilfrid's supporters from the Province of Manitoba and then scans the benches where sit the seven Liberal members from British Columbia, he is inclined to be enthusiastic over the big, brainy delegates from the Pacific Province. No better bunch could be got together than Big Bill Galliher, Bill Sloan, Bob Macpherson, Duncan Ross, Ralph Smith, Hon. William Templeman and Mr. Kennedy. This is not to say that they are all brainy, but average them up and they are a splendid lot. And they are all Liberals."

Funeral of the late Mrs. Dowding.

The following item which has been forwarded to us gives with additional definiteness some of the information given last week in reference to the late Mrs. Dowding. Her many friends will appreciate it:

While visiting some old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sausom in Spokane, Mrs. Dowding, after a short illness, passed away on June 20th. The deceased lady was one of the pioneers of British Columbia having arrived with her father, Capt. Pittendrigh in New Westminster early in 1874. In 1875 she married the late Judge Haynes removing to Osoyoos Lake where the Judge had his extensive stock ranch. Here in an ideal home, in this lovely spot, she aided her husband till his death in 1888, in dispensing a lavish hospitality and to those who can look back over past years, comes the memory of an Old English English Home with its kindly host and hostess surrounded by a group of happy children.

The suddenness of her death came as a great shock to her family and friends, her immediate relations being Mr. Val-William, and Sherman Haynes, sons, and Mrs. R. B. White, Mrs. R. H. Parkinson, and Mrs. R. Gardom, daughters. Owing to being out of the province some of the members of the family were unable to attend the funeral, which took place at Osoyoos on the 24th—the body being brought from Spokane the day previous.

The funeral service was held at the Old Kruger House (the wreath covered casket being placed on the porch overlooking the beautiful lake, the residence which had been for so many years the happy home of the deceased).

Though the notice of the funeral was unavoidably short a large number of old friends from both sides of the Line gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to one whose goodness of heart and kindly disposition had endeared her to those who knew her.

A touching evidence of sympathy was given by the Indians of the village of In-Ka-Mip, who held an impromptu religious service as a tribute of gratitude to one who in past years had always extended a helping hand to them in their need.

The Rev. Mr. Cameron conducted a most impressive service, commencing with the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee" followed by the Indians who sang several hymns in their native language. Mr. Cameron concluded with a touching and eloquent address to the assembled mourners.

A move was then made to the head of the Lake where on a small Knoll the Remains were deposited in their final resting place, so we have to write "Requiescat-in-Pace," over another of the fast diminishing band of the Real Pioneers.

Rock Creek Lands

Friday afternoon last, water was let in the big flume at the Kettle Valley Irrigated Fruit Lands at Rock Creek. The big box proved to be perfect and held water like as if the thing couldn't possibly do anything else. The flume itself is 3x2 feet, and is set on a trestle, the top of the flume being from 12 to 18 feet from the ground. The section just completed is part of the main ditch, is 1,200 feet long, and with the other 2,000 feet under construction this season will complete the ditch to Ingram bridge, making it six miles in length. At present there are completed, besides this, about two miles of laterals. The completion of this section will put 200 more acres acres under cultivation. The company is now starting to reap the harvest of the past three years' hard work, as they have a fine 100-acre crop of potatoes springing up, beside the large area of land on which an orchard is passing from bloom into seed. It is also understood that negotiations are about completed which will cover two fairly large sales of fome of the finest orchchard land in the country. Recently one of the company's lots was sold to Vincent Herzog, of Humboldt, Sask., who already has a part of his land under cultivation and a crop of potatoes showing up well.

The average band playing a concert confines itself to rendering a program, with a few encores, then leaving the stage. The "Kilties" famous Scotch-Canadian Band is not satisfied with this. In the first place, they dress in the full uniform of the Highlanders—brilliant in color, and not often seen in this country.

In addition to a program consisting of the best of music, with enough of the popular compositions to lighten the others, there is a male choir of 16 voices, who sing the Scotch and other ballads as only the Scotch can sing—then, this year, they have with them a troupe of Scotch Pipers and Dancers, headed by Mr. Angus McMillan Fraser, champion Piper and Dancer of America, who dances at every concert.

With all these extra attractions, the "Kilties" give the audiences gathered to hear them, both a musical treat and a spectacular one as well.

The "Kilties" appear in this city on July 6th, and will, doubtless find a large audience assembled to listen to them.

The band is under the leadership of Mr. Albert Cook.

FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1908

The Saturday Sunset has launched another conglomeration of invective at Duncan Ross. The Sunset became very brave once before. At that time it had no information, but was ready to wager. It is needless to say that it fell down ignominiously and has ever since been hopping around as if on hot coals. Someone told it that the V., V. & E. had thrown down Mr. Ross. Now it hears that probably the C. P. R. will build from Nicola to Penticton, and the line connecting the coast and the Kootenay be built. This, it calls, "rumors of wholesale railway subsidies and charters." If these lines were built it would very much hurt the Sunset, which goes so far as to hint that anything accomplished by Duncan Ross for his constituency will be at least tabooed, and we may suspect, from what has already happened, that it will be the prime object of the McBride government to hinder anything of this kind in every possible way. That part of the Sunset's information is probably reliable—the rest of it is not. On the contrary, it is positively ridiculous, and its inferences from the facts before it are worthy of a schoolboy, age about 13. The Sunset can try another ack. Duncan Ross is not lying awake nights worrying either about paying off old scores or about his own political future. Mr. Ross is putting in good, long hours every day trying to provide for British Columbia, and particularly for his constituency, the big things necessary for their development. His work is the work of a man, and not of a sulky child. Let the Sunset take a lesson.

Sir John A. Macdonald once said, when abuse was simply being heaped upon him, that little things of that character did not bother him, for he always remembered that as a boy, when stealing applss, he found the most clubs under the best trees. This is a good line when sizing up the effectiveness of an M. P.

The apple trees of the Boundary Creek and Kettle River valleys are yet going to be famous. The writer has seen some trees in this district in the past few weeks that will make any country wealthy, and land can be had here now for very little which in five or ten years will be sold for a fortune.

Martin Burrell has been making a plea to keep public abuse out of politics. Mr. Burrell is honest in his wish, but there is no place better to start a reform than in one's own household. Look at the Vancouver Province.

The Week, at Victoria, professes to know more about the Kootenay and Yale-Cariboo than F. J. Deane. No doubt it thinks so, but it won't get anyone either in Kootenay or Yale-Cariboo to think with it.

"Old Man" Simpson of the Cranbrook Herald, in one of his multifarious observations has the following: "The Nelson News, conceded to be the organ of Conservatism in the Kootenays, printed a statement in a recent issue to the effect that Duncan Ross was greatly responsible for the extension of the lead bounty and its favorable conditions. This is nothing strange, as Duncan Ross, since he has been a member of parliament, has never overlooked an opportunity to do all in his power to advance the best interests of the province. That is one of the reasons why the people of Yale-Cariboo will re-elect him at the coming contest.

The Liberals of Kootenay made no mistake in nominating Smith Curtis as their candidate for contesting the district at the next Dominion election, from the standpoints of availability and ability. He is easily the most available man the party has in Kootenay. He has been a consistent Liberal and at the same time a consistent advocate of dealing with labor questions on their merits. Few Liberals can refuse to vote for Smith Curtis, and many workingmen who are not Liberals will vote for him because he has shown them that he is not prejudiced against them. He has both ability and application, and it he will only apply himself to cutting out one-half of his speeches before he delivers them, he will not only be a useful, but an influential member of parliament. He can talk sense, and talk it in words that look well in print. He has ideas that are not reactionary. Smith Curtis can win Kootenay against such Conservatives as "Windy Willie" Macdonald and "Jim" Schofield, but were the Conservatives to nominate Fred Starkey, of Nelson, he would have his work cut out for him.—Prince Rupert Empire.

The way our Conservative press has been subsiding lately, one would almost think that they, too, have come to the opinion that there will be another solid seven in B. C. for Sir Wilfrid and the grand old party.

ABOUT NOTABLE PEOPLE

Banks, Sr., of the Toronto Globe, father of Banks, Jr., who takes pictures of the cabinet ministers in their off moments at Ottawa, is telling how Hon. J. J. Foy, the Attorney general of Ontario, made a neat pun at his expense. A group of newspaper men were talking election gossip with Mr. Foy, when the latter, who knows Mr. Banks of old as an ardent Liberal politician, asked him banteringly:

"Where are you going to run this election, Banks?"

"Why," replied Mr. Banks, with a laugh, "I think I'll run against you in South Toronto."

"I wish you would," replied the Attorney General, "for I always like to be sure of having the Banks behind me in an election."

At a dinner, recently, William J. Bryan was joking about his repeated attempts to be elected President, although Mr. Bryan considers them no joke, at that.

"After a time," he said, "I shall be in the position of the man, somewhat worse for wear, who came into a dance in Texas. The floor manager saw him and led him out. He came back. Then the floor manager pushed him out. He came back. Finally, the floor manager kicked him out, and he rolled down a flight of stairs. At the bottom of the stairs he considered the matter. 'I know what it means,' he said. 'They can't fool me. Those people in there do not want me to attend that dance.'"

The death of Dr. Louis Frechette, which occurred early in June, has awakened the English-speaking Canadian to the barrier that separates him from Quebecars. Dr. Frechette was esteemed, so we are told, by Victor Hugo and Longfellow, but although he lived to the age of nearly seventy, at our very doors, neither the wholesome character of the man nore the rare and delcate gifts shown in his work were appreciated or appreciable by many of his countrymen. It is not to be forgotten, however, that the French people add a very decidedly attractive feature to Canada's national identity.

The appointment of Sir Chas. Fitzpatrick as one of the four representatives of Great Britain on the permanent board of arbitration at the Hague, is a great honor for Canada. It is a recognition of Canada's partnership in the affairs of the Empire as a whole, and ought to do more than a century of flag-waving to make us feel our Imperial responsibilities as well as our Imperial possibilities. Sir Charles is a Canadian of very bright talents, and as Solicitor General was one of the ablest lieutenants Sir Wilfrid has ever had.

A man cannot, nowadays, enter public life without every detail of his life becoming of interest to the people. The latest illustration of this is in connection with Taft, who seems to have the Presidency of the United States under his hat. The Baltimore Sun says that, owing to the pleasant political relations of the Secretary of War with prominent members of the Catholic church in connection with the lands held by that church in the Phillipines and in Cuba, the query editors of various newspapers have been showered with questions such as, "Is Mr. Taft a Catholic?" and "What is the religious belief of Mr. Taft?" The correspondent of the Sun has made it his business to ascertain beyond doubt just what is the religious affiliation of the Secretary of War. The result was the positive declaration that Mr. Taft is a member of the Utitarian church. His father and mother before him were both Unitarians. Mrs. Taft is a member of the Protestant Episcopal church and worships at St. John's church, Washington, D. C., where she has a pew. Their daughter is a member of that church.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Fruit Industry

R. F. Stewart, speaking recently before the Northwestern Fruit Growers' Association, made the following remarks about the difficulties that meet the fruit-grower, which emphasize strongly the need and value of information along the line of the fruit industry, such as this column proposes to give.

DIFFICULTIES OF TRADE.

"One of the difficulties of the trade in securing an abundant supply of high class fruit arises from the fact that a great many people who have no knowledge or experience in fruit growing purchase a piece of ground and plant out an orchard, or they buy an orchard already in bearing. They have absolutely no idea of the business and after experiencing one or two discouraging and disappointing years they allow their place to go to ruin.

"There are also numbers of farmers who have an orchard in the corner of their farm, considered merely a side issue. They are so busy with their other crops that the fruit trees are almost entirely neglected.

"It is useless for any one to attempt to grow fruit in this country unless they are prepared to give their trees proper attention. An orchard that is never sprayed, and there are many of them, will soon be useless to its owner and become a menace to other orchards in the vicinity. There are so many pests to contend with that it requires constant vigilance on the check.

"In connection with the grading of fruit in this country great benefit has been derived by the enforcement of a law entitled the 'Fruit Marks Act.' Since it came into effect there has been considerable improvement in the quality of fruit marketed. The day has gone by for shaking apples off the trees and pouring into boxes as you would potatoes into a sack.

"In regard to the packing and shipment of fruits of a more perishable nature such as strawberries, raspberries, cherries, plums, pears, etc., great care should at all times be exercised. Nothing should be shipped that will not reach its destination in good order under ordinary conditions. If a crop is damaged by rain and rendered unsuitable for shipping to long distances the loss must necessarily fall on the grower. If the strawberries are picked during or after rain they will show decay. If cherries and plums are split with rain or affected with the cherry or plum rot, and if pears are on the ripe side, these are all liable to show more or less decay when they reach their destination.

SHIPPING DAMAGED ARTICLE.

"It is useless to ship these goods and expect the consumer at the other end to pay full price for a damaged article any more than the wheat-grower on the prairie expects to realize best prices for his crop when it has been injured by the frost. The defects cannot always be detected by the inspection of the fruit after it is packed. I have seen hundreds of crates of plums and prunes packed that had every appearance of being in perfect shipping order. No trace of rot or disease could be detected, but on examining the fruit a few days later indications of plum rot could be seen, and by the time the fruit had been seven or eight days in the crates a large proportion of it would be absolutely worthless. In cases like this the owner of the fruit is very fortunate if he realizes enough to cover the cost of the crates.

"In this country the cherry and plum rot are troublesome and are the cause of heavy losses both to growers and shippers. If there is anyone attending this convention who can give a remedy for this disease the information will be much appreciated. We are informed that it is a fungus growth, and while the faithful use of fungicides appear to have the effect of keeping some varieties clean, still thorough spraying with lime, salt and sulphur in the winter and three or four applications of bordeaux mixture during the spring and summer have failed to eradicate it from some varieties.

"The fruit trade of British Columbia is increasing by leaps and bounds. We have become heavy consumers ourselves and we are now putting up a strong fight with our friends in the East for the trade of the prairie provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

"The glowing accounts we have been hearing from growers of the thousands of dollars they realize every year out of their holdings are liable to make us very envious. And in order to better the condition of the fruit trade I think it will be necessary for us to keep closer in touch with the growers so that we may have an opportunity of learning from them how some of these large profits are made."

One of the members of the Northwestern Fruit Growers' Association, at its meeting recently, reported that from 600 Winesap apple trees, 6 years old, his return for one season had been $8,500.

In the Yakima Valley, Newton Pippins, Winesaps, Spitzenburghs and Johnathans are replacing such apples as Missouri Pippins, Lawson's and Ben Davis. The newer varieties are said to produce a higher class fruit.

The first straight carload of fruit imported into Vancouver came from Oregon. In a short time British Columbia will have such an enormous production of fruit that in the event of the failure for a season of the crop in Washington and Oregon, British Columbia will be able to supply the demand with fruit equally as good as any they can raise in the States south of us.

It seems as if a lot of people were constantly courting trouble in order to win a little sympathy.

PILES

Mr. Alfred Brown, of Merriton, Ont. says:—"For six years I have not known what it was to be free from pain. No one ever suffered more from itching bleeding Piles than I did and I tried everything to get cured but failed. One day a friend of mine who had been cured with Zam-Buk gave me a part of a box to try, and the relief I got was marvellous. I then bought a supply and before I had used it all was completely cured."

MINING

A meeting of the Western Branch of the Canadian Mining Institute was held in Rossland last week to arrange for the entertainment of the excursionists who will visit the Boundary mines under the auspices of the parent institute next September. The guests will consist of 15 of the accredited representatives of leading British and Continental mining and metallurgical societies. Accompanying the foreign engineers will be representatives of the leading mining journals, and also several friends of the visiting foreign engineers. The 15 accredited delegates will be the guests of the Canadian Mining Institute from the time they reach Quebec, and their expenses will be met by the Institute. The friends who accompany them and the press representatives will pay their own way.

For the purpose of entertaining the distinguished visitors the Dominion government has given $10,000, and the province of Ontario $3,000. The latter amount is especially intended to be used in defraying their expenses while visiting the mines of Ontario. The government of British Columbia has been asked to appropriate $3,000 towards the entertainment fund, and it is probable that a grant for this amount will be given. The visitors will accompany the excursion of the Canadian Mining Institute to the West, and the entire party will number about 100.

A. B. W. Hodges, the chairman, stated that the object of the meeting was to provide for entertaining them while in this province. The western branch will arrange to meet the visitors at Fernie, B. C., and they will visit Moyie, Nelson, Rossland, Trail, Greenwood, Grand Forks, Phoenix, Vancouver and Victoria and other points. At Victoria the annual meeting will be held. A committee has been appointed at Victoria, of which Premier McBride is the chairman, and in which the Tourist Association, the Board of trade and the executive of the western branch of the institute are represented, to entertain them. The institute will meet in rooms set apart for them in the parliamentary building.

In British Columbia, placer gold to the amount of $828,000 was produced last year, and the yield of the gold-bearing veins was $4,055,020. This was a falling off of about $100,000 on placer gold and $600,000 on vein gold production. The Trail Creek division is the heaviest producer of gold-bearing ore, having an output of $1,954,824 last year. The Yale or Boundary district, is a close second, with a production of $1,678,776. In placer mining, Cassiar, in the Atlin division, heads the list with a production of $408,000. The Atlin division is at the northern boundary of the province, while the Trail and Boundary districts adjoin each other on the southern boundary. It may surprise some to learn that British Columbia gets out over $40,000,000 worth of copper each year. Her production of $50,000,000 of lead is not so unexpected. Her most valuable product, then, is lead, next copper, next gold, then silver. Last year the output of silver was $2,745,448. This was a falling off from the production of the year before, showing, as does the output of the other metals, that 1907 was a quiet year in British Columbia.

It takes two to make a quarrel, but it is never any trouble to find the other one.

THE RETURN.

She left the nursing hills of Meenaghally,
A maiden, and the morning in her face—
Oh, the dim, fond eyes that watched her down the valley,
The hearts that glowed and trembled for her grace.

Why is it hearts of age alone are fearful,
When life no longer needs it pearl to guard?
Why is it only old faint eyes are tearful,
While youth with laughing glances soon is scarred?

She came to tears. Once, in the long times after,
Again she walked the well known fields of home;
Weeping she met the ghosts of her old laughter
That died with innocence beyond the foam.

A white cross now proclaimed the peaceful sleeping
Of souls that sooner would have known the flame
Than that the cross should there be proudly keeping—
And not their child—the father's spotless name.

Still, it was half of peace, amid the clover
To lay her face upon her mother's grave,
And know no cloud of time could e'er come over
The heart that hers its lillied fragrance gave.

—Francis G. Marquette in the Independent.

"Hit him on the kisser," came from a 15-year-old fan in the grand stand to "Big John" who was rebuking one of the Grand Forks team on yesterday morning. "Big John" smiled.

On the first day of the week, an elderly gentleman's birthday party was celebrated by a picnic to Midway. It is about three months since we last heard that so happy an event had transpired in connection with this person. Frequent birthdays are no doubt pleasant occasions.

The closing meeting of the Young Men's Club at St. Columba's church was held on Thursday night of last week and was a most pleasant conclusion to the year's work. The club hopes to reorganize in the first week in October when it will operate along lines similiar to those followed this year—debating and literary studies.

In our synopsis of the Regulations of the Department of Fisheries, concerning fishing in this province, the despatches from which we drew our information did not mention one change very important to fishermen. The Canada Gazette which followed later contains the following very important clause: "No trout under eight inches in length shall be taken in the waters of British Columbia and if taken shall be returned to the water alive. It is also added that no trout under three pounds in weight shall be bought, sold, or exposed for sale in the province of British Columbia.

Schools closed for the summer vacation on Tuesday. Under the system of holding entrance examinations at different times and under different examination papers, the entrance classes were dismissed a week before, their examinations being concluded. It is to be hoped that soon the waving of the flag and the patriotic singing exercises will be followed by some useful and sensible reforms of a necessary kind in the public schools of the province. The Education Department ought do more than begin their reforms on the examination system.

Just at the edge of Midway are two of the prettiest orchards one would care to see. One is owned by Henry Lee, and the other by Mr. Tipple. The writer recently walked through Mr. Lee's orchard, and the apples, cherries and green gage trees are bearing lots of fruit. A fine crop, of beautiful, large strawberries are just finishing. Not only at Midway, but on the Roy, Cristenson and Castleman ranches at Boundary Falls, and on Fritz Haussener's ranch up Boundary creek, are similar orchards. There are lots more like these springing up in the valley that ensure its future prosperity.

Just because they are not mentioned, don't think that the local industries are not doing business. Both smelters are hitting the ball with a good, swift stroke.

George Rondeau and Jack Dupont have taken over the Pacific Cafe. Mr. Rondeau has been cook at the Pacific for the past nine months, and Mr. Dupont for several weeks. Both are experienced cooks and have made the Pacific a very popular eating place. They can be depended on to give the best meals going.

There have been many rumors of late of the Midway & Vernon. The merits of the route are well recognized and the recent trip of General Manager Bury through the country on horseback, and the presence of some C. P. R. engineers on the grade west of Midway, tended to make it believed that the C. P. R. would take it over and build the road through. The C. P. R., of course, doesn't really publish its intentions, but late rumors indicate that there will be early developments of a different kind. However, everything points to the idea that the road will be built at an early date.

The Greenwood ball team rather outwinded the Phoenix fans on Sunday. At the end of the fourth inning, the green-suited nine hadn't found their footing on the declining diamond up the hill, and the score stood 8-4 in favor of the Phoenicians. Then Thomas was put into the box and the Phoenicians thereafter put up an excellent exhibition of fanning, much to the chagrin of the fans. In the fifth inning Greenwood batted out four runs, evening up the score. Phoenix fanned out in the fifth, and both teams repeated the play in the sixth. In the seventh Greenwood touched the home plate thrice and Phoenix once. The eighth was a repetition of the sixth, and in the last inning each scored one. Final score, Greenwood 12, Phoenix 10.

The smelter of the B. C. Copper Co. this week treated 11,654 tons of ore, distributed as follows: Mother Lode, 5,940 tons; Oro Denoro, 2,204 tons; Napoleon, 355 tons, and Lone Star, 266 tons.

Like Charon's Skiff.

That Rock Creek bridge will soon become famous in history. Before long, the people will regard it with admiration and envy. They will say: "It was begun in such a year, and its completion is not yet." The bridge, it may be explained, has been erected—lots of it—more of it than would be needed in half a dozen other places, but the approaches to the structure on either side have not been constructed, and the bed of the bridge is away above the level of the road. One may cross it by constructing his own temporary approaches, but it still leaves the thing in a very dangerous and useless condition. The member for the Similkameen has show remarkable judgment in spending the money of the people.
