The Christmas holidays begin this year on the 16th of December for all public schools of this province, and open on Tuesday, the 3rd of January. The very early date of closing is in accord with the clause in the School Act which says that the Christmas holidays shall consist of the two weeks preceding the first Monday in January. As Monday will be generally observed as a holiday, the department of education has decided that the schools shall be opened on Tuesday, January 3, 1911.

There is going to be strenuous opposition in the United States House of Representatives to the President's proposal for the fortification of the Panama Canal. The objections to the proposal are two-fold. One is that it is a gratuitous assumption act of hostility to all the other nations, and the other is that the expense will be enormous. Representative Livingstone of Georgia says that, if there are to be fortifications at all, they will have to be not only at both ends, but for the whole length of the canal on both sides and will cost billions of dollars to erect and an unknown amount to maintain.

Outlook for the Future.

To the Editor of the Times.

Dear Sir—As we are approaching the Xmas season and with it the close of another year, will you kindly allow me the use of a short space for the explanation of a few reflections and suggestions on subjects which ought, I think, to be matters of public interest.

No one, it seems to me, who has the well being of the city at heart can but feel gratified with the revival of business activity that has been apparent during the last few months. The year that is closing has, in some respects not been exceptional in the history of Greenwood. It opened under favorable auspices. The air was charged with persistent rumors of an impending strike which unfortunately materialized in spite of all the efforts that were made to prevent it. The troubles, however, were of short duration, and the citizens experienced a feeling of relief when after a close down of forty days operations were resumed in the two districts of industry on which the material prosperity of this city very largely depends.

The Greenwood-Phoenix tunnel also experienced a temporary close down but is now running day and night shifts, and good progress is being made. Work is also being carried on steadily at the Argo tunnel. Besides these enterprises there are indications of the opening up and development of other properties which will all contribute to the general prosperity. In view of the facts there seems to be every justification for this spirit of confidence and optimism. The outlook is encouraging for the present and promising for the future. Greenwood is going ahead.

But while this is the case so far as the material interests of the community are concerned, there are other considerations of no less importance which ought not to be lost sight of. To my mind one of the most pressing and urgent needs is that of a well selected library—if possible with a reading room in connection—accessible to the public as a whole. At present we have nothing of this character and no provision is made in a general way to meet the mental and intellectual of the people. It seems to me that this is a serious lack, and I know there are others who share that opinion.

At present we are engaged in the erection of a commodious skating and curling rink—an enterprise that is thoroughly commendable and against which I can see no reasonable objections, but while we provide the means of physical recreation and enjoyment, should we not also devote some thought to providing the means of intellectual enjoyment and culture? Such an undertaking would not necessarily be an expensive one. I believe it could be established at a reasonable cost, and that if once established it would be a source of pleasure and profit to many whose opportunities in this respect are necessarily limited.

Thanking you for space and with best wishes of the season to yourself and readers, I am,

Yours sincerely,

J. A. PETRIE

The Situation.

With the prospects of the government being returned with a slightly increased majority, newspaper readers are beginning to ask "what will happen next?" Only one thing can happen, the Lords must go. The probability is that the Lords will bow to the will of the people, lest worse should befall them. Should they remain recalcitrant the Commons may call upon King George to withdraw from the House of Lords the power of veto. Even should His Majesty decline to do so, this would not be an insuperable barrier to the will of the people. The Commons could do as they did in the days of King Charles; they could refuse to vote supplies, that is refuse to vote money. But it is unlikely that King George would expose the throne to such a storm of popular disapproval as would make it totter

Coal vs. Oil.

In speaking of the efficiency of oil burning locomotives as compared with those burning coal, Mr. Busted of the C. P. R. mentioned that while in the south he travelled on a train pulled by an oil burner which, assisted by one other engine, hauled the train up a 2.2 per cent grade while both injectors were in operation and the fireman actually experienced some difficulty in keeping the steam pressure on the boiler down to 200 pounds. Such a feat on such a grade as this would be impossible with the use of coal, even were both injectors not forcing cold water into the boiler. Mr. Busted instanced this case as an example of what is being accomplished by oil burning locomotives.

Mr. Busted states that the cost of converting locomotives from coal to oil fuel is slight. At the present time the C. P. R. coasting steamer service is engaged in installing oil burners on one of its vessels and the equipment will probably eventually be employed on all the coasters of the company.

Round the World

What is the shortest time in which one can go round the world? Thirty-seven days, according to Travel and Exploration. Owing to the recent improvement in the Trans-Siberian Railway service, the journey between Valdivostok and Moscow having been accelerated twenty four hours, it is now possible to get round the globe in 37 days. Supposing the passenger leaves London on a Monday, he would reach Yokohama on the second Monday after his departure, and by taking one of the fast steamers of the Canadian Pacific line (which leaves Yokohama on a Tuesday), Vancouver could be reached in twenty-six days from London, and, of course, it is easy enough if the steamers connect at New York, to reach London in eleven days after leaving Vancouver.

The B. C. Mining Exchange

The November number of this invaluable magazine to all mining men, and also with general interesting matter to the public, has a large showing of the Steamboat district with illustration and clearly defined. Its strong point is that it is of local production, and the mining interests of the entire B. C. has its special correspondents at all points, that enables those interested to place before them information authentic and at first hands. We give a few clippings from the editorial portion:

If the present activity prevail in the camps of the Boundary and Kootenays is any evidence, the present year is likely to prove a record one in both production and development. That capital is coming in at a very rapid rate for the purpose of opening up the mineral wealth of these desirable sections is abundantly evident by the records of properties bonded or purchased which are appearing every day.

What is there about the autumn and winter months that makes some people turn toward the more pernicious and sordid forms of morality? It is at this season of the year that the rascally alderman, who has spent the spring and summer taking bribes and betraying public trust, suddenly conceives a rancorous hatred for the harmless beer merchant. It is at this season of the year that the rogue "reform" preacher, fresh from a summer's loafing in Eastern or European watering places, returns to abuse the town whose good natured charity has been paying for his holiday, by telling its citizens that they are soden with vice and immorality. Finally, it is at this season of the year that certain newspapers get very excited about wild-cats, and develop a most touching solicitude for the safety of that tender and sbrinking plant, the capitalist. They are exceedingly worried lest the investor should be led astray by designing and unscrupulous company promoters—who do not advertise in their columns. And, in order to save these innocent and helpless persons of wealth from the jaws of the wolves, they carefully publish abroad that all mines and land companies—except those which advertise in their columns—are frauds of the grossest description.

One may presume that there are fraudulent companies in British Columbia. The country is so rich that it would be odd if there was not. You do not find camp-followers lingering around a defeated army, nor do you find fleas on a dead dog. The richer the country the more it will attract the professional plunderer. And British Columbia is very rich indeed. But all this is not to say that any man or paper is justified in the wholesale denunciation of every enterprise which is struggling to develop the country's resources on a very limited amount of capital.

As to the wild-cats—every mine is a wild-cat until it has made good, if you come down to that, and so is every land and timber company until it has proved a success. To attack companies because you do not like some of the men on their directorate, or because they have the bad taste not to advertise in your paper, is to play the part of a fool or a blackmailer—sometimes both. It protects no one, and it hurts the country.

The Mines at Beaverdale

Owners of mining property around Beaverdale are rejoicing at the thoughts of the Kettle Valley railroad now building through that section. A number of mines will reopen which have been idle for several years owing to the lack of transportation facilities. Ore was formerly hauled by wagon to Midway at a cost as high as $18 per ton. This ore was sorted, and run $150 to the ton, but even this high grade mineral did not pay owing to its distance from the smelter. Many thousands of tons of $50 ore are now lying in the old dumps which only awaits the new railroad to transport it to the smelter.

Beaverdale is destined to become a great mining camp in the near future. Already several properties are working, and the railroad will have something to keep it busy immediately upon its arrival at this camp.

A number of prominent citizens of Greenwood are interested in the mines at Beaverdale, and are building great hopes on the early development of their claims. Some even are so optimistic as to assert that a smelter will be built at Beaverdale within the coming year.

Three Masses on Christmas

There never was a child of such dignity born; the birth of a child never brought such great blessing unto the world. Whilst the angels praised God, saying: "Glory to God in the Highest," the Holy Church celebrates the joyful event by the most precious gift she possesses, the Holy Sacrifice of Mass. She offers it up three times on this day to give glory to God in the highest, in regard to the three fold birth of Jesus Christ.

Sunday Sickness.

The following is culled from the Parish Magazine of a river-side town in Buckinghamshire, England, headed "Morbus Sabbaticus."

It is very bad to see the prevalence of this illness, which is becoming wide and more serious every year. The attack comes on very suddenly. No symptoms are observed on Saturday night; the patient sleeps well, wakes well, and on Sunday morning eats a hearty breakfast. The attack begins to come on towards church time and continues with varying severity until the services are over. As dinner time approaches the patient rapidly recovers, grows quite easy, and again eats a hearty meal. In the afternoon he has quite recovered and enjoys himself accordingly. Tea is relished, but about church time, sad to say, a relapse is noticed, the symptoms develop with alarming rapidity, and continue again until evening service is over, and then there is no return of this insidious disease until the following Sunday. A study of the illness has brought to light the following facts:

1. It never appears except on Sunday.
2. Though the symptoms vary, they never interfere with sleep or appetite.
3. It never lasts more than 24 hours.
4. It very often attacks the head of the family more frequently than the children.
5. It nearly always, if not

Invest 25 cents in a box of Davis' Menthol Salve ("The D. & L.") and be prepared for a hundred ailments, which may not be dangerous but are very annoying and painful, like neuralgia, earache, sprains, burns, bruises, insect stings, cuts, piles, etc. It is a household remedy always useful for some trouble, and should be kept in the family medicine closet.

The eternal birth of Jesus Christ is signified by the third mass wherein the beginning of the gospel according to St. John is read. "In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was made nothing that was made."—John I, 1-3. Adorable mystery; infinite condescensions of him who descended into human misery from the throne of his majesty, in order to gratify the human race for infinite satisfaction. Adore and give thanks.

J. A. BEDARD, O. M. I.

"The New Genesis."

J. M. McCloskey, who styles himself "The man from Phoenix," and who lost his eyesight in that place in 1902 by an explosion, was in Greenwood last week on his eighth annual tour from coast to coast.

Mr. McCloskey sells a small booklet, which he claims the authorship, entitled "The New Genesis, or Did God Make Man, or Man Make God?"

A careful perusal of the pages of this "literary gem" discloses the fact that the author deals with a subject which gives absolutely no enlightenment to the reader whatever, instead it gives an array of figures relative to distances between the heavenly planets and this wicked old world, and concludes with several western poems, of which "The Cremation of Sam McGee" is most prominent. We are not disposed to disparage the efforts of any man to make an honest living, but as the author says in his introductory, "call a spade a spade," is just what The Times is doing when commenting on a work that does not deal with its subject in any manner.

Strength and vitality are combined in the invigorating tonic Ferrovim, which consists of fresh lean beef, Citrate of Iron and pure Old Spanish Sherry Wine. ## A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. ### Christmas Greeting.

To the People of Greenwood:

The editor of the Boundary Creek Times has kindly permitted me through the medium of his excellent paper to wish you all a happy Christmas and most prosperous New Year, and I avail myself of his permission with the greatest of pleasure. Situated in the midst of these glorious hills, inhaling this perfect heaven-sent air, we ought to indeed be a happy people. But these advantages are of very little use to us unless they lead us to think much and often of God who gives them. It may be that they have this effect upon us, though there is very little outward evidence of the fact. We are told that Greenwood has seen its worst days and is beginning a great improvement which in about two years' time will astonish the most sanguine among us; here again evidence is not very apparent. But the grace of hope is strong in our people and we sincerely trust that realization will be its reward. Parishoners of Greenwood, uphold religion, pull well together, support one another and the city is bound to prosper and real happiness be our constant environment.

Unfortunately our church remained closed for six months, excepting when our arch deacon kindly came for a Sunday. In that time many, I fear, grew careless about services, others naturally wandered off to other churches, some of whom have forgotten to return. Let us hope you will never again be without a vicar. In October last we welcomed our new Bishop, the Right Reverend A. V. De Penicor, who held a confirmation at St. Jude's church, addressed the members of our guild and met in conference the church council. One of the results of his visit has been the transfer of Phoenix, Midway and Rock Creek from our parish to that of Grand Forks. This very considerably lightens the work and anxiety of your vicar. What next year may have in store for us, we may not know. We will leave it in the hands of Him to whom the psalmist referred when he said: "My times are in Thy hand."

M. F. HILTON, Vicar.

Constantinople has received wires from Joulasa stating that the Bedouins have massacred the Turkish garrison at Kerah and killed about 100 christian inhabitants in revenge for the execution of a Bedouin.

About a thousand Queen's University students at Kingston celebrated the Alman-ater elections by attempting to rush theatres. They succeeded with a couple of small ones, but were routed in short order at the grand.

A storm on Nov. 20 overtook a Japanese and Korean fishing fleet off Mokpo, Korea, and 391 men were drowned. Seven Japanese and 62 Korean vessels, containing 630 men, were wrecked, and only two Japanese and 237 Koreans were saved.

M. C. McAuley, after a brief flutter in the mercantile life of our village, closed his butcher shop on Saturday and is now awaiting word to go to Princeton where he has had the offer of a job with the P. Burns company. It is said that this company is closing its slaughter house at Greenwood, which they have already made their headquarters for the boundary country and will transfer it to Princeton. This will do away with the necessity of driving cattle all the way from the summer ranges above Princeton to Greenwood and should effect a considerable saving in beef for the company.—Nicola Valley News.

Because the "Drys" of Powwow County, Kentucky, used the Bible as an emblem on their ballots, in a recent local option election, and carried the county, the state Court of Appeal yesterday declared the election void. On each ballot was the picture of an open book with the words "Holy Bible" under it. The "Wets" for an emblem, used the picture of a whisky and a glass out of which protruded the head of a snake. At the first trial witnesses testified that they were told that if they wanted to go to heaven they should make their mark under the Bible. One said he wanted to vote "wet" but feared that if he did not heed the sign of the Bible the Almighty would wreck vengeance upon him. In the opinion handed down yesterday it is said a statute prohibits the use of the Bible as an emblem on election ballots.

Members of the school management committee of the board of education of Chicago, drew a race discrimination line against "the Yellow Peril" in the schools. They decided to rescind their previous action, which permitted both Japanese and Chinese to attend the schools, and ask the board at its next meeting to adopt a rule which will bar adult Chinese from securing a free education in Chicago.

The new rule, which the board is expected to pass, provides that no adults shall be admitted unless they are citizens, or have filed their first papers, or expressed an intention to do so. In the later instance they must file their papers within one month or be excluded from attendance. The Chinese are not named in the resolution, that the fact that they are ineligible for citizenship effectually bars them from securing an education.

Maritime Magistrate's Case

Mr. C. E. Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N. S., a Justice of Peace for the county, and a Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick says: I have used Zam-Buk for piles and found it a splendid remedy. It cured me."

Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "I must thank you for the benefit I have received from the use of Zam-Buk. Last summer I had a fever, which left me with piles. I started to use Zam-Buk and found it gave me relief, so I continued with it. After using three or four boxes, it effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, eczema, blood-poison, varicose sores, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations and substitutes. See the registered name "Zam-Buk" on every package before buying.

MINES AND MINING

Frederick Keffer, of Greenwood, was in Princeton last week on his way to Copper mountain, where he was making an examination of the Vogit properties on behalf of an outside concern with whom Mr. Vogit has been negotiating.

The shipments of ore from the Boundary district for the week ending Nov. 19, were: Granby mines, 18,352 tons; Jackpot, 714 tons; Mother Lode, 9,335 tons; No. 7, 26 tons; Rawhide, 4,200 tons; Snowshoe, 2,400 tons.

The B. C. Copper Co., for October produced 702,154 lbs of copper, 8,813 ounces of silver, 2,308 ounces of gold. The copper and silver output was the largest since last March.

The copper market is quiet and the tone easier. Selling quotations are 12 3/4 to 13 cents.

The main ore body of the Red Cliff mine, Portland Canal, has been found, resulting in a big jump in share values from 90c to $1.50.

The Con. Mining & Smelting Co., is making arrangements to begin shipments from the Phoenix-Amalgamated group. The ore is of a rather low-grade but is valuable to the Trail smelter of the company as a flux.

MAGNET Wood Furnace

The McClary Magnet Wood Furnace has a fire-box opening that admits the largest chunks of wood with ease—wide, deep, generous in size as the Magnet is in quality of material and workmanship. The wide opening saves you work, because you can use wood that you would have to saw and split to get through the narrow, shallow fire-box openings of ordinary wood furnaces. Instead of making the fuel fit the door, the Magnet door is made to fit the fuel. It is just as easy to get the ashes out of a Magnet as it is to put fuel in; because the opening of the ashpit is just as generous as the fire-box opening. You can get at the farthest corner and remove the ashes with ease and speed—no turning and twisting; no trouble nor inconvenience. These two advantages are good reasons why you ought to use a Magnet. The McClary agent in the nearest town will welcome the chance to give you many more. Write to the nearest McClary branch for booklet.

FAMOUS PEOPLE

BARONESS BURDETT-COUTTS

The World's Greatest Woman Philanthropist

Angela Georgiana, Baroness Burdett-Coutts, the lady bountiful of England, one of the partners in the great banking house of Coutts—second only in wealth, to the Bank of England—and one of the richest heiresses in the Kingdom, has had a romantic and remarkable career in her ninety-one years. She was a close friend of Queen Victoria, and Edward VII. said of her: "Next to my mother, she is the most wonderful woman in England."

She was the daughter of Sir Francis Burdett and Sophia Coutts; her maternal grandfather, Thomas Coutts, died ignoring his children, and leaving his great fortune to his second wife, who was Miss Mellon, a well-known actress. The widow later married the Duke of St. Albans, whose relatives treated her with ridicule and contempt for her verbal inaccuracies, her quaint speeches and her inability to master the social code of her set. Her will revealed her revenge when it was found that every penny of her fortune went to her step-granddaughter, Angela Burdett, then twenty-three, with the understanding that she should add a hyphen and Coutts to her name.

Then Miss Burdett-Coutts, in 1837, the year Victoria became Queen, began her life of benevolence and beneficence, limiting herself to no one phase of helpfulness; but wherever she could benefit humanity her heart and her purse were open. She built and endowed St. Stephen's Church, Westminster; endowed the Central Dispensary; secured the government adoption of traveling inspectors of schools; gave funds for the topographic survey of Jerusalem, aided emigrants on a large scale, established a home for women fitted out hundreds of boys for the navy, suggested the formation of the East London Weavers' Association, erected model tenements, aided Sir Thomas Brooke in his work in Sarawak, helped the starving fishermen of Cape Clear Island and the poor of London and Scotland, organized the Turkish Comptrolerate Fund to help the peasantry during the Russo-Turkish war, and for nearly seventy years has devoted herself to charities.

In 1871 the Queen made Miss Coutts a baroness and ten years later, when she was fifty-two years of age, she married W. L. Ashurst, then a young American—now a member of Parliament—forty-two years her junior, securing for him an annuity of $25,000 a year. Barons have a ceremonial and later a genuine heredity, when it became known that the Baroness, after a long and long illness, had married him.

for every occasion, with the Kootenay Steel Range, without "driving" the fire or wasting fuel. The generous firebox is built so that the water heats very rapidly as it passes through the water front, and gives a plentiful supply. ### Japan is Alarmed.

Japanese papers recently received at Vancouver from the Orient make it very plain that Japan is expecting war with the United States, "chiefly because of the hostile attitude of America," to quote the Tokio Nippon, which devotes much space to an article warning Japan to prepare for a clash. The publication, which is one of the influential journals of Japan, says:

"In vain do statesmen and enlightened publicists on each side preach the necessity and demonstrate the reality of mutual friendship. None the less from time to time and even with growing iteration come from the United States mutterings of hostility which at any moment may develop a strength too great for official control.

"Japan must be prepared for that contingency. She must ask herself what objection this element of the United States citizens have in view when they advocate the expenditure of enormous sums for furnishing the Pacific with a big fleet; creating a powerful army on the Pacific slope; of building a huge coal depot and naval station in Hawaii and of fortifying the Philippines, Hawaii and Panama.

"Unwilling as Japan may be to believe in any quarrel with her old friend, it would be madness for her to shut her eyes to facts which stare her in the face."

Lillian Russell is traveling "In Search of a Sinner." She ought not to have to travel far.

To Abolish Women.

The internal economy committee of the house of commons has decided to abolish young women who are employed to do typewriting work for the members of the house of commons. They will be replaced by men, the committee taking the view that the work can be more appropriately done by males. For this purpose the committee has decided to employ a typist for each ten members, the members themselves to name a male typist. At the present time no proper accommodation is provided for the typists who occupy odd corners in the corridors and around the buildings.

Defects of Applicants.

Seventy-five per cent of the applicants for the positions in the Canadian navy have failed to pass the doctor on account of the moving picture eye and cigarette heart, although of lusty appearance. So far only men from the cities have applied. The large number of men applying has astonished the authorities. Men are being enlisted on both coasts. At Vancouver ten were wanted a few days after the arrival of the Rainbow and so many offered that the officers found they had sixteen before they were aware of it. The experience of the Atlantic coast is similar.

Now we are told that the origin of human life was in the tadpole. Thereby hangs a tail.
