OUR COLONY IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Calif., April 6, 1910.
To the Boundary Creek Times.

Occasionally a Canuck gets homesick for a sight of the Auld Countrie, and takes it out in getting sick. Semi-occasionally he gets together funds sufficient to pay for a tie pass across the imaginary line, and if he has no creditors on the North Pole side he may make the venture.

Still, and much more semi-occasionally, he makes good in the place his debts have driven him, and he doesn't care to hike northward some more and doesn't give a hang whether he ever sees a creditor again or not.

Some get just as far away as their fear, and their pecuniary circumstances will permit, and just here I may say that down in San Diego, only 12 miles from the boundary of the land of Greasers, I met Charlie Pittock, who for so many moons dished out the luscious flap jack, flavored with the odor emanating from the adjoining livery stable. Charlie is now in the real estate business and is handling a subdivision of the largest city in the world (in area).

At a theater, whence I had gone to witness the faking prowess of Eva May Fay, I caught a glimpse of the smiling countenance of Charlie, the Trader, now known in polite society as Tennessee Stooke. No more does he swap off to the unwary the moth-eaten cinch strap, or the glue-stiffened buggy whip. Nay, nay. He He is now following in the footsteps of his namesake of the luscious flap jack, and is dealing out in large chunks to the tenderfoot great gobs of hot air on the virtues and possibilities of some arid portion of alkali mud. Ah, yes. Charlie still peddles the bull.

But wonders do not cease at this stage of the game, and I found before leaving the city of Panama Canal destiny, that your old townsman and socialist eccentric, Kirkwood by name, is holding down the position of building inspector. I understand that he was chosen because of the last syllable of his name, as they were very short of timber for the position at the time.

Being forced to cut short my visit to the Panama X. P. O. city, for what reason is my own business, I came to to the city of Angels, in which particular it is the metropolis of the Pacific coast, and here I find among the plutocrats, Elmer Miller, once a popular pill mixer of the Boundary metropolis? E. M. is all to the velvet, and makes a noise like coin when he mixes up in a deal in farming land, oil land, salt marsh or timber.

Strolling through the corridors of the hotels may occasionally be met the ex-bee king of California, ex-theater promoter, miner, charcoal burner, insurance collector, etc., etc., W. S. Fletcher, now a promoter of the first water, and it is reported that water is plentiful in many of his promotions.

In one of the largest wagon factories of the city may be found, stroking his expansive forehead, Tom Winnett, secretary of the Canadian club, Canadian advisor to the Chamber of Commerce, and a Canadian to the backbone, which, by the way, is not a very long journey. He, also, has accumulated bunches of the mazuma.

Now, Mr. Editor, pursuant to the above, and in behalf of my regard for your delightfully somnolescent community, let me extend to all your readers a cordial invitation to come down here, even though you are exposed to the hot air doses of Tennessee Stooke or the wily insinuations of wealth gathering propositions that may be presented by Fletcher or your ex-pill driver. Come down, for I say unto you that even a Gaunce, a Ketchum, or a Pat George could keep out of the clutches of the hungry wolf in this country, where Native Sons are a rarity, and where $4 is not considered a stake. Take my hunch and make the trip. You will sure like it and will prove it by never making enough to get away again, and later on you can send for Jim Grier to join you, and thenceforth the natives of this great state will know a spade as a spade, if not, as an old shovel.

Fare thee well.

WALTER S. KEITH.

DEATH OF BISHOP DART

The Right Rev. John Dart, D. D., D. C. L., bishop of the Anglican dioceses of Westminster and Kootenay, died at the See House April 14, at 4:30 o'clock, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which attacked him on the evening of April 6. Since that time little hope has been held out for his recovery, and he gradually grew weaker until on April 11 when, after a refreshing sleep, he rallied somewhat, but since that time there had not been any change in his condition. The funeral took place on Monday last from Holy Trinity cathedral, New Westminster.

In the death of Bishop Dart, the see of Westminster loses its second bishop, and the church in British Columbia one of its staunchest and truest sons.

The late bishop was born in England in 1837, and consequently was 73 years of age. He received his education at the University of Oxford, taking holy orders in 1860. Coming to Canada, he spent some years in the Maritime provinces, becoming a canon of the cathedral at Halifax. Fifteen years ago, in 1895, he was chosen to succeed the late Bishop Stillitoe, as bishop of the diocese of Westminster. He also had charge of that portion of the province known as the diocese of Kootenay, as up to the present time it has never had a bishop of its own. Owing to the late prelate's advancing years, the last meeting of the synod some months ago, held in New Westminster, authorized the appointment of a coadjutor bishop, to assist Bishop Dart. His last official appearance in New Westminster was only a few Sundays ago, when he administered the rite of confirmation in St. James' church and in St. Michael's church, Mount Pleasant.

BRIDESVILLE BITS

The Bridesville hotel is full to overflowing. Tom says "Me heart is broke."

It is reported that George O'Neill has sold his farm to W. Brown, of Rock Creek.

A hardware and farm implement store, and a blacksmith shop are the latest Bridesville acquisitions to be erected by Mr. Kane, of Chesaw.

Alex Broomfield, of Westbridge, was a visitor on Friday. He drove down a party of railroad engineers who are looking over the country.

C. A. Sullivan, of Moscow, Idaho, paid a visit to Bridesville this week looking over farm property. He returned to Moscow, but is expected back shortly.

Bruce White, the well known mining man of Spokane, with a party of capitalists, arrived on Saturday. They are looking over mining properties in the Bridesville district, and at Camp McKinney.

INCOMING HOSTS

It is expected that 100,000 British emigrants who will leave the old country for Canada this year will probably represent a capital of $5,000,000 in cash. Hundreds of emigrants are now paying $2.00 extra via New York because they are unable to obtain direct passage to Canada.

LUCKY MAJOR

Major R. G. Edwards-Leckie, familiar to all the old timers in the Boundary, has been offered the command of a new regiment of Kilted Highlanders to be raised in Vancouver. The Major sold a business block in Vancouver for $140,000 recently.

WANTS CASTLE

D. D. Mann, who drew a lot in in the Dunsmuir estate sale a few days ago, now seeks to purchase Dunsmuir Castle from the lucky winner. It is said that he wants to make a home in Victoria during the winter months.

MEDALS FOR PREMIER'S OWN

Our Greenwood Boy Scouts are the recipients of further honors. Last Wednesday week, at a meeting of the Scouts at their headquarters, letters from Martin Burrill, M. P., and Hon. Richard McBride, were read to the boys by F. W. McLaine, who, with J. S Birnie, paid the boys a visit. The visitors were shown over the barracks by Scoutmaster Hargreaves, and, after an inspection, Mr. McLaine addressed the boys. He explained that Mr. Burrill, our representative at Ottawa, wrote that he would give a gold medal to the best Greenwood scout; that Mr. J. R. Jackson, M. P. P., would be responsible for a silver medal for the second best scout, and that he himself would present a bronze medal for the third best scout. Mr. McLaine also read a letter from the premier, saying that the silk flag had been ordered to be sent to Greenwood. The Scouts almost raised the roof at the close of Mr. McLaine's remarks.

Mr. Birnie also addressed the boys and gave them good, wholesome advice, which the boys appreciated and cheered in proper Scoutlike manner.

Messrs. A. S. Black and W. W. Craig were likewise visitors during the evening and examined the boys in ambulance work, which was more than satisfactory.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From Boundary Creek Times of April 22, 1900)

J. P. Myers Gray has returned from Vernon.

Mike Kane is president of Greenwood Labor Council.

Hon. Joseph Martin, Premier of B. C., visited Greenwood this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robins will take up their residence at the National.

Mr. Robins, of the livery firm of Harvey and Robins, has returned from Alberta with 21 horses. Thirteen are saddle horses. There are three teams of pretty blacks for driving.

VISITS WEST POINT

By his own request, the visit of Lord Kitchener to West Point last Saturday, was unmarked by ceremony. The famous general arrived by rail at 12:20 and after a luncheon at the residence of Colonel Scott, superintendent of the United States military academy, spent the afternoon viewing the school and studying its methods. After luncheon Lord Kitchener watched the usual inspection and review of the cadet corps and the baseball game. He returned to New York later.

TO BE MARRIED

The engagement is announced of Miss Ethel G. Adams, of London, England, a daughter of the late Capt. Adams, of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, to Mr. T. Stuart Palmer, late of 3 troop, A squadron, Strathcona Horse. The wedding will take place at Calgary early in August, and Mr. Palmer has the congratulations of his many friends in which the Times joins.

WEDNESDAY FOOTBALL

The final match between the Mother Lode mine and Greenwood took place on Wednesday afternoon last, at 3 o'clock. As usual, the result was a victory for the wearers of the brown and white, the Mother Lode team, by 4 goals to 0. A great number of Greenwood sport enthusiasts witnessed the game, at the ball grounds, the weather being superb. The Mother Lode lineup was as follows: Davidson, goal; Hutt and Thacker, full backs; Henderson, Gravenor and Addie, half backs; Phillips, Harrison, Clark, Mercar and Bailey, forwards. Greenwood — Marshall, goal; B. Sapples, H. Sapples, full backs; Bray, Jones and Hart, half backs; de Wiele, Watson, McDonald, Bradley and Schultress, forwards.

A BALKAN EMPIRE

There is every evidence of the approaching birth of a new "world power," in Europe. The early confederation of the kingdoms of Turkey, Bulgaria, Roumania, Servia, Montenegro and Greece is more than a probability. With Czar Ferdinand at its head the United States of the Balkans would be a formidable power in Europe and Western Asia.

AN ANSWER

Editor Boundary Creek Times:

In answer to your puzzle in last week's issue, re rifle shot in same direction as train going 60 miles an hour, would say that any time you wish to stand in front of said rifle, we will have a practical illustration and find out facts.

Yours,
RIFLEMAN.

A BASE BALL

John F. Burns, a member of the freshman class of the Renssalaer Polytechnic institution, New York, died from a blow on the temple by a pitched ball at a baseball game last week.

A STRIKE DECLARED

By a referendum vote, taken at the Mother Lode last Friday, and at Greenwood last Saturday, the Greenwood Miners' union have declared a strike against the B. C. Copper Co., which took effect on Tuesday morning last. In consequence, the big smelting plant is idle once more, and the Mother Lode mine machinery is silent. This order effects about 375 miners and smeltermen, employees of the B. C. Copper Co. The strike was called as a result of the refusal of the company to dismiss the few employees who were not members of the Miners' union.

The Japanese military aeroplane investigators have reported favorably of an airship smaller than any now in use, invented by Captain Hino. He also has invented a military aeroplare shaped like a dragon fly with two propellors.

DESPERATE FIGHT

The Seattle Express to Vancouver was the scene of a desperate battle last Monday. Six hoboes, who refused to leave the train, were put off by force after a serious fight, Constable Lane, of Mission Junction, being killed.

AN ENCOURAGING VIEW

That the recent slump in Granby shares does not of necessity mean the end of Granby activity, or allow of the assumption, that because the total ore reserves in the Phoenix mines is less than was supposed, the smelter will have to cease smelting ere long. Even supposing that the Phoenix ore reserves are limited to 6,000,000 tons, the Granby Co. owns from 12 to 15 per cent of the shares of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., whose coal deposits at Fernie are estimated to contain twice as much coal as there is in the entire Alaska deposits, over which the concessionists are now haggling.

The Crow's Nest properties contain billions of tons. Granby's interest in this company alone may eventually be worth more than the present selling price of its own capital stock.

The Granby smelter has a capacity of about 4,500 tons a day. The entire Boundary country is dotted with copper prospects and mines. If the Granby did not have a ton of its own, the smelter could be operated as a customs' plant, and tho the tonnage would be smaller, the profits per ton would be greater than the company's profit on the treatment of its own ores.

The Granby owns the entire water power of the Columbia river at a point in the state of Washington within 35 miles of its smelter. There is a market these days for electrical power and the Granby, as a power company, could earn good interest on its stock at much above the present price.

Those who hold onto their stock are more than liable to reap a good reward.

OLD TIMERS

It is always pleasant to receive letters from old timers. Time was when Greenwood was inhabited by the present pioneers of the hundred and one new settlements springing up in all parts of this province and the prairies. The old timers of ten years ago are now the argonauts of Northern B. C., the advance agents of cities to-be, on the rugged coast line, on the farther frontiers of our vastly mineralized province. Some are the leading merchants and professional men of the centers of Alberta and Saskatchewan, some, who migrated to our immediate south, are magnates and to be reckoned with in the money markets of their chosen new home lands. Almost all of the old timers are doing well, and it is a pleasure to hear of or from them. Who knows, when our turn comes to go into the outer world, in search of adventure, wealth, health or position—(or a wife)—there may be some of the old guard left, who will appreciate news of our welfare, as we today appreciate news of those old Greenwoodites, who have settled in the Sunny Southland of California. That any old timer thinks enough of his one time home town to send a newsy letter to the editor of the paper is a good sign of his love of association, and it is with great pleasure that we publish a letter from one of the early day Greenwoodites in this issue.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Keep your eye on the coal mine at Midway. Greenwood is liable to have a coal baron's club ere long.

Mother Lode has squelched Greenwood at hockey, football and baseball. Can we not get up a checker team to redeem our checkered career. All aboard for the checker tournament.

Sunday's baseball match was an education in itself. Almost as interesting as an aviation meet. Everyone went up in the air. One unkind spectator said he used to play ball with the umpire 40 years ago—or was it 20?

Midway ranchers got away with the city delegates, and yanked the Fall Fair to their townsite, but it is doubtful if they can pull, haul or coax the $1,500 of Greenwood money, which was available for prizes, and which would have been donated by this city and its merchants.

The announcement of the forthcoming wedding of a Long Lake resident, which appears elsewhere in this week's issue, is a fine example of what a Greenwood bachelor can do if he makes up his mind to it. It's the difficulty of making up one's mind that makes so many cranky, baldheaded, disagreeable old bachelors abound in this country.

MARY McLANE

Miss Mary McLane, the eccentric young woman of Butte, Montana, who first came into public notice seven years ago as an author of rather morbid tendencies, is home again after several years spent in gaining impressions and experiences in what she calls the "mysterious East." It is said she will contiue to follow her literary bent and will publish another book shortly. She is a woman of ability of a kind, and if her literary efforts were more seriously directed might yet give us something worth while.—Weekly Observer.

It is well to have on hand a remedy, simple, effective and easily applied, for mosquito bites, insect stings, sores, bruises, sunburn, and injuries to the skin, and forty other ailments not always dangerous, but which can be cured by outward application. It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system.

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. MINER'S GRIT

S. H. C. Miner was the man whose grit and money or credit made Granby. He was at that time both younger in years and experience than he now is—otherwise Granby might never have been made—at least by him. It is neither here or there how he came to put his money into a British Columbia mining speculation, or whether Graves or White was the individual who provided the persuasion. Suffice it to say that Miner was in at the birth, and that he was the man who provided the wherewith to make of Granby the most successful mining proposition in British Columbia.

As already intimated, the big consolidation began with a mine or prospect known as Knob Hill and another one known as Old Ironsides. They were, and are, located at Phoenix, B. C. As work progressed, it became evident that failure would be the outcome unless smelting facilities could be provided close at hand. The result was the organization of the Granby Smelting company. The smelter was erected on the Kettle river, at Grand Forks, some considerable distance from Phoenix. Later were taken in a number of other companies, representing a considerable territory of ground in which copper existed, or was supposed to exist, in paying quantities. In the end, the proposition became a formidable one, and had it not been for Mr. Miner's large financial resources would probably never have succeeded.

A great deal of high grade copper ore was being shown in Montreal, those times, as coming from mines situated in various districts of British Columbia. The ore coming from the properties forming the Granby group was of low quality. Evidently the virtues of this high grade ore had been expounded upon to the detriment of the Old Ironsides and Knob Hill, for Mr. Miner was wont to remark somewhat testily that those high grade propositions would be dead and buried long before his low grade proposition had reached its zenith. In support of his contention, he would refer to the experience of well known copper mines, such as Rio Tinto, and the results certainly confirmed his contentions. The advantages of Miner's low grade proposition was that mining became quarrying. The values were disseminated in such a manner that picking and grading were abandoned, and it was decided that the old mountain should be removed and shoved into the smelter. The steam shovels simply scoop it up in sections, and in the subsequent operations the mineral is saved and the residue finds its way back to the dump. Had it not been for certain self-fluxing qualities attending the scientific mixing of the ores, the ultimate outcome would have deen problematical. As it was, one difficulty after another was surmounted, but not until Mr. Miner had personally backed the proposition, it is said, to upwards of $1,000,000. Then came the consolidation of various properties into the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power company, with a capitalization of $15,000,000, of which $13,363,030 was paid up. Mr. Miner was president and Jay P. Graves vice-president and general manager.

The first dividend was paid December 16, 1903, and consisted of 1 per cent. At the following annual meeting, for the year ending June 30, 1904, Mr. Miner resigned the presidency, having been identified with the property for seven years. He still remained one of the largest shareholders at that time. The fact is, Jim Hill and his Great Northern Railway interests had obtained control, Hill's object being to make the mine serve as a source of supply of freight for his railway.

The par value of the Consolidated company's shares was originally $5. The mines have had many ups and downs during their ten years of operation, and the stock of the Consolidation has experienced many fluctuations, as dividends were declared and became doubtful or were passed altogether. During 1904, the stock sold down to 25 per cent of its par value. In 1907, the shares having been converted into $100 shares, the price reached 151, being the record point. Recently the shares remaining in the treasury were underwritten at 85, and the stock this week broke to 37.—Toronto Saturday Night.

U. S. NAVY

The United States Navy department is planning to send a fleet of battleships to the Pacific coast this summer, provided the Naval appropriations bill, which passed the House of Representatives, is not pruned in the Senate. There is but one first class battleship on this coast at present, the Oregon, which is at Puget Sound navy yard. Sixteen battleships are together in the Atlantic fleet, while three are on special duty and ten are in various yards on the Atlantic coast. It is likely that some of the vessels sent to the west coast this summer will be kept here permanently.

At a depth of 3,750 feet the Calgary Natural Gas company were forced to stop sinking a well owing to encountering a large body of salt water. That depth is about sea level. Geologists do not confirm the rumor that it is the China sea, but at the same time the phenomenon is a great puzzle to them.

SAVED HER FINGER.

Mrs. B. E. Bedwell, of 337 Provencher Ave., St. Boniface, Winnipeg, writes:—"Some time ago my child took diphtheria, and while at each them the poison entered a small sore on the second finger of my left hand. This became very sore and developing soon after. For months after children were quite well I was suffering from a sharp, ugly looking finger. A scratch was caused originally by a pin and in itself was not at all serious. The consequences, however, of having this scratch, were very near fatal. When the blood-poison first set in the poultices and salve I had in the house. These, however, did not have the desired effect. Quite on the contrary the finger became more and more swollen and discolored. It then began to fester, and I had to call in a doctor. He lanced the finger to let out the pus, and you can imagine how painful the finger was. Despite care, however, it again festered and ointments, liniments, and other preparations which the doctor gave me, I am absolutely unable to bring about any cure.

"The doctor thereupon advised me to go into the St. Boniface Hospital. I learnt that if I went to the Hospital the finger would be amputated. We were told of a case similar to my own in which Zam-Buk had effected a cure when everything else had failed and the doctor had said that only amputation could save the person's hand.

"We, therefore, decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. A supply was procured, and we commenced the Zam Buk treatment. It only needed a few days to show the wisdom of this step. The blood-poisoning and inflammation were reduced, the pain became less acute, and it was evident very shortly that the trouble was being reduced to less and still less area. We recovered with the Zam Buk and in the end the festering sore was thoroughly cleaned, then healed. In under three weeks from first commencing with Zam-Buk, the finger was entirely well; and had we applied Zam-Buk in the first place instead of trying ordinary preparations, no doubt I should have saved myself hours and hours of acute agony."

All mothers should note this case. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for blood-poisoning, festering, cuts, scratches from barbed wire, bad legs, eczema, rashes, tetter, salt rheum, face sores, ulcers, piles, bad leg, varicose veins, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c a box all druggists and stores or post free from Zam Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c stamp for postage of free trial box. Refuse all imitations.

DUNSMUIR CASTLE

The stately Dunsmuir castle, put up in Victoria at a cost of about a million dollars, has been drawn for. Upon the death of Mrs. Joan Dunsmuir, the family decided to subdivide the large holding in the heart of the city of Victoria, together with the castle in the centre. About 120 lots were disposed of at $2,700 each, on the principle that they were to be drawn for, with one chance in addition for the castle. Each holder of a ticket therefore got a lot. Col. Cameron, a well-known contractor, was successful in drawing the castle. There is a standing offer of $50,000 for it, but a much higher sum will undoubtedly be obtained.

MILLION FOR MINE

R. K. Neill has floated the Neill Development Co., capitalized at $12,500,000, to purchase and operate 12,000 acres of rich placer in the Altar mining district, Mexico. The flotation is financed wholly by Spokane parties. The purchase price of the placers is $750,000 cash and one-third of the stock of the company. The property is known as the Paloma placers and is located about 15 miles east of the Gulf of California and about 25 miles by an excellent wagon road from Port Lobos, about 150 miles south of the international boundary line. They lie at an elevation of about 600 feet above sea level. So tremendous are these deposits and so extensive are the old workings that examinations extending from three to four months permitted various engineers to report on comparatively small sections. The last examination made by Mr. Neill himself and John V. Richards, covered minutely an area of only 100 acres. This block they estimate to contain no less than $6,000,000 in placer gold, and both gave it as their settled opinion that several hundred acres more are equally rich, while several thousand acres additional should approximate the same depth of gravel.

PERPETUATING THE PAST

How few of us there are, who have not hidden away in some bureau or closet, some almost forgotten, almost faded picture-memories of dear ones who have passed to the Great Beyond.

Possibly, too, we have been fearfully watching, as the years go round, the steady but relentless fading that promises, ere long, to make these dear treasures but a memory indeed. Why not perpetuate these old picture-memories while there is yet an opportunity? A few years hence even the faintest outlines may have vanished forever.

Modern methods and modern papers will give you a lasting copy of such pictures, and skillful work will preserve to you the portraits that you have almost despaired of and give them to you in most cases even clearer and more reminiscently than the faded copies you now have.

Why not bring these old pictures to me? I at least will truthfully tell you whether it is too late to save them.
