THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

The Indifference of Parents Evident.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Some Facts About the School System Found in the Year's Report Just Published.

A perusal of the Public Schools repart for 1905, just received, affords much of interest to one concerned about the cause of public education. It also contains some data that reflect on our own, among other localities, and charges parents quite as much as teachers, with the responsibility of defects.

Many of the interior towns of the province evidence a want of interest in this, what ought to be a matter of first concern, and unfortunately no towns appear to suffer more by comparisons and conclusions than Greenwood and Phoenix.

For purposes of comparison, we herewith tabulate a few of the smaller towns in the matter of enrolment and daily attendance, and must say that in view thereof we think the conclusions drawn by the inspector are right.

Town.	Enrollment.	Av. attend'ce
Greenwood	106	55
Kaslo	125	97
Phoenix	137	68
Grand Forks	296	220
Kamloops	327	216

It would appear from the above that about only 50 per cent of the possible attendance was made in Greenwood and Phoenix, about 70 per cent made in Kamloops and nearly 80 per cent made in Grand Forks and Kaslo.

Are physical conditions so different in Greenwood that the attendance is so far below that of Kaslo, Kamloops and Grand Forks? Is the weather more inclement? Is the distance necessary to travel greater?

We know that these are not the reasons.

Our school district is compact, the school is central, the climate unsurpassed. It is not for us to point out the trouble upon a rather superficial examination of the case, but we quote the inspector thereon, and his professional criticism ought to have weight. He says:

"Greenwood, inspected January 24, and March 6 and 7, 1905; 62 pupils present. School grounds leveled and planted with shade trees, rooms kalsomined and generally rendered more attractive and comfortable; small library and book case framed; additional apparatus supplied. The regularity of attendance at Greenwood school is certainly not what it should be, for instead of growing greater, it has actually shown a decrease for each of the past two years. The percentage of regular attendance for 1904-5 was only 52.36, which means that little over half of the pupils enrolled attended on an average during every school day.

"When parents are so indifferent as to allow their children to regulate their own attendance at school, teachers can do little to overcome a serious evil.

* * * * *

"The principal and his assistant take a deep interest in their work, and already have done much for the school."

But what matters the interest of teachers if the pupils do not attend? Why this expenditure for pleasant, healthful surroundings if not availed of? Why do our pupils on an average attend school only half the time, and as a result get less than half the actual benefits available?

The question is up to the parents.

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

It has an established reputation of more than thirty years as the most successful medicine in use for colds, croup and whooping cough. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Children like it. OUR HINDU VISITOR

This Immigrant Is Not Welcome.

MUST LEAVE COUNTRY

He Is Not Fitted for Our Rugged Clime and Must Get Out.—Better in War Than Peace.

During the summer and early autumn something over two thousand of our empire's citizens from India sought their fortunes in the golden west of the empire, entering British Columbia. Had they been fitted for the climate and work that awaited them, they doubtless would have been welcome, but they were not, and hence a persistent effort has been made to get rid of them. They doubtless had read or heard of the proud boast of our empire, on which the sun never sets, and relied rather on their citizenship than their qualifications for a welcome.

The number given by the government returns is much less than one would have expected by reading the provincial press. The howl against them has been loud, and has extended from the coast to the far eastern bounds of the province, the press of some small towns in the interior placing the number of this new incubus at four or five hundred locally. These figures must have been exaggerations in instances, now that we know that only slightly over 2,000 in all came.

But their habits were against them, and habits that are national are difficult to improve. And their physical qualifications were against them, and they were unsuited for the work they attempted.

The Chinaman is only tolerated because his work comes little into competition with the white man. But with the Hindu it is different. He essays to do a white man's work and bear a white man's burden, and he is unequal to it. As a result he cheapens labor and cheapens labor's reward, and the white laborer quite naturally dislikes this, while the employer of labor gets doubtful results.

We do not think that the outcry against the Hindu indicates any disposition among our people to treat British Columbia as a preserve for those now here. There is room for the right immmigrant and he will find a hearty welcome. But he must be fitted for the work he attempts, and his habits must be in sympathy with those of the white man.

The Hindu has not been treated very mercifully in the large towns, He has been allowed to suffer want sometimes, but if he cannot by his own works disprove the fear that he is likely to become a public charge, he has no right here. This he does not appear able to do, with the result that the Federal and even the Imperial authorities have found it incumbent upon them, the one to say, those here should be deported, the other to see that those yet in India and planning to come, must be told that they better remain at home.

British Columbia fields and forests, her seas and mountains, all rich in wealth and wanting labor to unlock the treasure houses, will welcome all who come, equal to the toil demanded, and with habits befitting its standard of civilization, but to the tall and swarthy Sikh it must say an unqualified "nay."

In doing this no disparagement is meant for the work of the Sikh in other fields, fields where he has shed lustre on his name and defended the cause of Briton, but no fidelity to the empire's cause asks us to open our doors to those unable to share our responsibilities.

ODD FELLOWS' XMAS

The Old Folk Give the Young the Time of Their Lives.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows had a great time last evening for the little folks in Eagles' Hall. The lodge room had been made beautiful for the event by aid of soap and water, paint and brush, decorations and art.

The occasion was an Xmas tree for the children of Odd Fellows and neither trouble nor expense was spared in preparation. The decorative genius of Frank Spearing had been called into requisition and he had transformed bare walls into fairyland. From the ceiling were suspended a number of beautiful Japanese center pieces and pendent thereon were bells in red.

Around the lower walls ran bunting of red and white gracefully festooned, while above blue and yellow surmounted with flags looked attractive.

Around the entire building Empire flags of many kinds appeared in profusion, while electric lights made the entire scene brilliant and beautiful.

But design and decoration were outdone in the spirit of the event, for this was notably children's night, and the music and the gifts, the folly and the fun, were intended for them.

Santa Claus, in the person of Frank Spearing, we divine, was on hand, loaded with toys and sweet meats and gifts spread on his person, the Christmas tree and all about the place it seemed.

The event was a red-letter one for the Boundary.

THE ORE TRAIN

THE SLOCAN—John L. Retallack is shipping the zinc ore at the Whitewater mill to Pueblo, Colo. Over 300 tons are going out, being concentrates of the mill run the past season. The ore is of good grade and is rich in silver values.

Good reports come from the Surprise mine. The long tunnel is being pushed steadily ahead and is now in over 600 feet. The formation of the lead is changing, and indications point to the fact that the ore vein is not far away.

THE SIMILKAMEEN—Mr. W. H. Armstrong, vice president of the Similkameen Mining & Smelting company, has received from the mine superintendent at Bear creek, a letter which indicates that one of the biggest strikes of high grade ore ever made in British Columbia has been made there. This information confirms advices previously received. About a week ago the superintendent wrote that a change was coming over the formation and it had widened from four to six feet. The last letter, however, states that the shaft is now in solid high grade ore. The shaft is six feet across and there are two feet of ore to the hanging wall making a solid body of ore eight feet wide.

This bears out the opinions of William Yolen Williams and Walker Harvey Weed and other experts that ore of this character increases in body and value as it increases in depth. The present work of the company is exploratory rather than actual mining, and yet they will have half a million dollars worth of ore blocked out within the next six months. This in itself will represent a handsome profit, which should be increased indefinitely when real stoping and shipping commence. Assays show the ore to run about $70 per ton, $50 in gold and $10 each in silver and copper.—News Advertiser.

THE CROW'S NEST—The coal shipments from the mine of the Canadian-American Coal & Coke Co., of this place, are now averaging about 700 tons per day.

ASHCROFT—In the near future "actual development work will commence in a district comparatively close to Ashcroft which will supply one of the long felt wants of the Pacific Slope—namely, an ample ore supply, and blast furnaces for the production of pig iron of high class," says P. H. Moore, M. E. Analysis of the ore prove that for tool steel and general manufacturing purposes the famous iron ores of Sweden are its only equals. In character the ore fulfils every requirement for successful electric smelting, and that method will probably be utilized, as an enormous water power is quite close to the ore deposits, which are very extensive and will undoubtedly furnish sufficient quantities for many years to come.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufectured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

Your Doctor

Can cure your Cough or Cold, no question about that, but—why go to all the trouble and inconvenience of looking him up, and then of having his prescription filled, when you can step into any drug store in Canada and obtain a bottle of SHILOH'S CURE for a quarter.

Why pay two to five dollars when a twenty-five cent bottle of SHILOH will cure you as quickly?

Why not do as hundreds of thousands of Canadians have done for the past thirty-four years: let SHILOH be your doctor whenever a Cough or Cold appears.

SHILOH will cure you, and all druggists back up this statement with a positive guarantee.

CHARACTER IN WINDOW DISPLAY

One of the best sources of advertising for a general store is window display. The number of passers by "caught" as regular patrons depends largely on the nature of the window dressing employed, says "Boostor" in the General Merchants' Review. The merchant who can decorate the show windows of his store so as to create a favorable impression in the mind of the passerby is well embarked on the road to success. It is well known that the appearance of a portion of food will, in a measure, influence its effect on the palate. The above is but an illustration of the idea your store creates in the mind of the observer by its outside appearance. In the retail trade, appearance is everything. On the appearance of your store hinges, to a great extent, your patronage. Lookers on are like flies on a screen door—some are sure to get in—and, when people "get in" your store it is very seldom they don't buy. The merchant with an interestingly decorated show window is sure to attract a greater crowd of lookers on than his competitor with a window display all out of style and date. When a shipment of new goods arrive, don't leave the old stuff in the window. Be "seasonable." Strive to create the impression and cause the statement, "That fellow's up to date." It's the up-to-date merchant who gets the trade. The accomplishment of the "up-to-date" show window is very simple. Have "character" in the display, don't display last season's goods, and light your window property. "Character is what counts in dressing windows to the best advantage from an advertising standpoint.

INDIVIDUALITY.

By "character" is meant individuality—don't because your competitor makes a strike with a certain style of window dressing, imitate him. Nothing will make you look as cheap to the people you are trying to appeal to, as to use another man's ideas. Imitation is and has been the ruination of many an otherwise flourishing general store business. To successfully conduct a general store in these days of advanced ideas, it is necessary to advertise. Good advertising is that which produces results from the smallest outlay of money. A little money and lots of ideas will accomplish far more than a lot of money and few ideas. "Window dressing of character" must necessarily be the product of a man of ideas. "Window display character" is the sort that "pulls," that nets the results. The principal idea of "Character" in window display is to make people "sit up and take notice." If the townspeople see a novel idea executed in your window display or a novel statement in your printed matter it will not be long before your advertising will be a "tea table talk." That's what you want. If you can make them talk about you it is easy to make them buy. Don't forget. Be original. The lighting, of course, depends on the color scheme of the display. It is far from correct to light a window showing white goods with a bright, white light. It is just as much an error to turn a soft, mellow light on a display of goods of a deep shade. Judgment must be used regarding the foregoing, of course. Lighting is one of the main features in successful window display. Few merchants fully appreciate it, but the success or failure of a "window dress" depends greatly on the method of the illumination.—Commercial.

Generally speaking, electric furnaces may be divided under two main headings, namely: Those in which the heating effect is produced by the electric arc established between two carbon or other electrodes connected with the source of current, commonly known as arc furnaces; and those in which the heating effect is produced by the passage of the current through a resistance, which either forms part and parcel of the furnace proper or is constituted, by a suitable conducting train, of material to be treated in the furnace. The principle of the later type is analagous to that involved in the heating to incandescence of the ordinary electric lamp filament, and such furnaces are, as a class, known as resistance furnaces.

A FOOD AND A TONIC

What the leading Medical Journal of the world has to say about FERROL.

After making a thorough test of FERROL in its own laboratory the London (England) Lancet published an article from which the following is taken:

FERROL

"This is a successful combination of the well-known valuable remedies, Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus. The formula is no secret, and our analysis showed the presence and amount of constituents as described. The preparation is a good one and of distinct therapeutic value. The association of an easily assimilable oil, in a fine state of division, with a phosphatic salt of iron which does not disturb the digestive functions and which is easily tolerated, determines its success as a food and tonic in wasting diseases."

What the London Lancet recommends as a food and a tonic in all wasting diseases must have very special qualities.

No higher endorsation is possible. The results following the use of FERROL for the past ten years have proved that this endorsation is well deserved.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in prominent Hospitals, Sanitariums, etc.

PAY ORE COLUMN

It is reported that M. D. Hall has the contract to deepen the Oro shaft, in Central camp.

Frank Goombs has been working for many months steadily on his claim in Central camp, near the City of Paris, and says he has a great showing of ore.

It is reported that the management of the Providence mine contemplates the multiplication of its capital many times. It will hardly be able thereafter to claim the property as a DRY mine.

The unwatering of the Cariboo-McKinney has been completed and mining has begun. It is the opinion of many mining men that although the Cariboo has been a good dividend payer, its best days are still before it.

Good word comes from the work being done on the old Sappho claim, south of Douglas creek. Some beautiful copper ore came from this property in the early days, but the lead was lost and for some years nothing but assessment work has been done. Recently the lead was found again and some good ore is being raised.

It is only a few weeks since Mr. H. V. Fuller and associates acquired the Tip Top under bond. Only a few days' work were done on the claim since taking it over when last Friday a lead of high grade ore 18 inches wide was opened up. The walls are smooth and erect and the ore very rich, being liberally besprinkled with free gold. The Bay, Mavis and Tip Top are all on the same vein and form a very promising trio of claims. These claims alone would boom any country in the world but the Boundary.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

For weeks past the civilized world has been getting ready for an approaching event, Christmas. Merchants everywhere have been buying and displaying goods peculiar to the season. Men and women everywhere have been planning for the event and what they would make it for the children. Young folk everywhere in cities and towns have had their thoughts turned to the old folk and the old home, and many have planned for Xmas dinner at the old table. Children have talked and wondered about Santa Claus and have lived the day in sweet anticipation.

What mean these things, this piling up of wares the dear ones would like, these whispered words, this spirit of gift-giving and home-going, this gladness among the old, this glee among the youth? From frozen north to sunny south, east and west, the human heart has felt the thrill.

'Tis but survival of the spirit of the song heard on Judaean plains those centuries ago. 'Tis but refrain of the heavenly anthem the shepherds heard, when starting from their nightly vigil with their flocks they heard the world's first glad proclamation of a coming peace. Swiftly to many human hearts, but all too slowly to the world, has that peace come. But the Christian world yearly recalls the proclamation in the season of Xmas cheer and gift. In this season the heart of Christian and infidel alike grows mellower and man thus pays his homage to the child born in Bethlehem that night.

In no perfunctory way, but out of warm heart, we say, as we began, "A Merry Christmas."

THE LAW'S METHODS.

Whether Sidney Sloane is a cold-hearted, red-handed murderer of his father, whom the state ought to punish, or a weak-brained degenerate whom the state ought to guard, is costing the people of Washington tens of thousands to discover. And the worst of it is, that after it has been decided, everybody will not have confidence in the decision. The trial is attended by such delays, such quibblings, the spectacle is neither inspiring nor proud. And whether he is either the full-witted parricide or the half-witted imbecile is he worth the worrying of brain, or racking of hearts that is going on? May not courts sometimes be too indulgent with an ingenious defense is the question we find ourselves asking day after day as we read the story of the trial.

EDITORIAL NOTES

ALTHOUGH very little of the Granby dividend of $1,620,000 for 1906 comes into the Boundary, we should not begrudge it to the outside stockholders. There was purchase money for properties and pay-rolls for development many years before there were profits. The pay-roll abides, the profits fluctuate.

WE wish to call the attention of our country readers to what is already known to those in town, that the patrons of the Times' advertising columns are the ones who carry the stocks and have the prices that will please you.

IF WE may coin a word, we would say optionism is contagious. The marvelous success that has so swiftly followed work on the Mavis and Tip Top brings others into the market.

DON'T tell your local paper, either by word or act, that you don't believe in newspaper advertising, and then expect it to boost for you gratuitously.

THE man who can see no good in those of opposite political faith is stupid, and the one who can, but will not admit it, is dishonest.

SOME men are optimists because they are sound, some because they are shrewd, and some because they are successful.

SOME men are knockers because they are cranky, some because they are cowards, and some because they are just cussed.

IMBUED with the Christmas spirit, churches and fraternal societies are aiming at events that will scatter the sunshine.

SOME men are pessimists because they are sad, some because they are sore, and some because they are stupid.

STRUCK BY A HOT BOLT

Peculiar Accident to An Engineer.

Edward Spencer, chief engineer of the S. S. "Glide," of Montreal, was working around his engine when a hot bolt flew out and burned his arm terribly. It was as if a red hot spit had been thrust into it! A supply of Zam-Buk balm was speedily obtained and first aid rendered. The famous herbal balm alleviated the pain, and to the surprise of Spencer and all his friends, at the end of a week the wound was completely healed. This is only one of several cases reported recently in which Zam-Buk has been proved a wonderful healer of burns, cuts, bruises, and abrasions. It is equally effective for ulcers, sores, open wounds, scalp sores, and blood poisoning, no matter how long these have persisted. Mrs. W. H. Taylor, of North Bay (Ont.), says: "I had a scaly spot about as big as ten cent piece on my face. I had it four years, and hardly a night during that time went by but what I applied cold cream or some ointment or other, but it would always be there, and the warmer the weather the worse it got. I recently applied Zam-Buk, and in about a week's time the spot had disappeared completely."

One of the world's greatest analysts says the healing power of Zam-Buk is due to the rare herbal essences of which it is entirely composed. For rheumatism and sciatica it is also a speedy cure. Its healing influence on the skin is unequalled, and it is so pure that the delicate skin of babes benefits from its application. It cures rashes and eruptions as well as more serious ailments, such as blood poison, ringworm, abscesses, etc. Indeed, as a household balm it is working wonderful cures all over the Dominion. Druggists and stores sell it at 50 cents a box. A sample will be sent by the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, to all our readers who mail this article with a one cent stamp to pay return postage. Write the name and date of this paper across the article before mailing.

Chalcopyrite is often mistaken for bornite. Bornite is red or brown in color when freshly broken, and acquires an irridescent tarnish upon exposure to the atmosphere. Chalcopyrite is brassy, and the fact that it often tarnishes with irridescence makes it closely resemble bornite. Bornite has a hardness of 3; chalcopyrite, 3-5 to 4. The specific gravity of bornite is 5; chalcopyrite, a little above 4. There is a greater supply of chalcopyrite than bornite, but the latter is the richer copper ore, as it sometimes analyzes as high as 70 per cent, while chalcopyrite will contain about 35 per cent of copper. Both minerals are native sulphides of copper and iron.

Copper miners in the Lake district divide their product into three classes, known at the mines as mass, barrel and stamp copper. The masses are sometimes of enormous size, two having been found which weighed over 500 tons each, and were worth at the time of their discovery nearly $500,000 each. Barrel copper consists of small masses weighing a few pounds to size too large for the barrels; the latter size is called "mass." Stamp copper varies from nuggets of some little size to microscopic flakes so light that they float upon water and are lost in the tailings of the stamp mills because their minute size renders them apparently independent of the laws of gravitation.

ROSCIAN OPERA CO.

Two Delightful Evenings of Opera at the Auditorium.

The Roscian Opera Company afforded the citizens of Greenwood two delightful evenings this week, at the Auditorium, rendering "Said Pasha" on Monday, and the "Bohemian Girl" on Tuesday evening. The company is about 30 strong and the work of the entire party was of a very high order. It was not left for a few good voices to give character to the entertainments, as is frequently the case, all the parts being well sustained, and both operas being well rendered productions The audience on both occasions was large and appreciative, and the company will receive a flattering patronage on its next visit to Greenwood.

The artists of the evening found the heating of the stage a very comfortable improvement on the usual order of things.

WORKS SMOOTHLY

Daily Reduction Capacity of No. 3 Furnace Much Above Normal.

No. 3 furnace of the B. C. Copper Co., is working very smoothly and is reducing at the rate of nearly 700 tons per day. Its actual capacity is nearly 15 per cent above its normal, and when the entire battery of three are in operation at the beginning of the year the daily reduction will be about 2,000 tons.

Early in the new year the third mammoth furnace of the Dominion Copper company will be ready for business. The new year will not be very old when the present smelters of the district will be in shape to handle over 6,000 tons daily, and that means two million tons of ore, or nearly, are to be mined and smelted in the Boundary in 1907.

The law of evolution holds in mining as elsewhere, and the last six years have witnessed great development in this, our great industry. Six years are not long in the life of a mining country, but marvelous has been the steady growth in that time.

FOR EVENING DRESS

Solving the Problem for Men In An Easy Way.

Until the advent of the Semi-ready tailoring, the purchase of a full dress suit or a Tuxedo was a $40 or $50 affair - and a lottery. The lottery was in the finish, for few tailors can get the real style of this garment, as they have only a few chances a year.

Semi-ready dress suits are tailored on the physique type system so that every man is sure of his exact fit and the correct length of his figure. A silk faced coat, with vest and trousers, in fine black cheviot, for $25 at any Semi-ready Wardrobe.

P. W. George & Co. will be pleased to show you how what "Semi-ready" tailoring profits the wearer.

SEATS OF THE MIGHTY

Chancellor Day of the Syracuse University, is out again in his defense of the seats of the mighty—the mighty rich. His defense of the Rockefeller type of wealth is loud and exaggerated and evidently he has little sympathy or respect for any but the immensely rich. He scorns the Lilliputs of trade and finance and mocks their efforts. Without the "big ones" to guide, the world's industrial and commercial life would be a heavy down grade.

Weathering—The term "weathering" should be confined to changes in cohesion and composition of rocks near the surface that are due to the decomposing and oxidizing action of surface waters. Its tendency is to destroy the rock as a geological unit.

If a train of dynamite three and a half miles long were laid and the necessary shock applied at one end, the entire mass would be decomposed into its gasses in one second. It would take about half an hour for an equally long train of gunpowder to be consumed.

A short time ago platinum was used very extensively in connection with 14 carat gold. Now there is not a bit of it being used that way. Its use to the jewelry trade is confined almost entirely to diamond setting to give color to the stones, and, of course, the higher platinum goes up in price the costlier such diamonds will become.

SMELTING RATES ON LEAD-ORE

This is an important topic for discussion, not only in the United States where the silver-lead mines, notably in Idaho, contribute annually over 60 per cent of the output of lead and a large part of the silver, but also in British Columbia and elsewhere.

A little over a year ago the Canadian government appointed a commission of Americans and Canadians to investigate primarily the zinc resources of British Columbia, and in their report, just published, there is also data of an interesting character bearing on the smelting of silver-lead ore.

It is remarked that the silver lead smelters of British Columbia are operating under less favorable conditions than those of the United States. Why? Because the supply of ore is less abundant, and of less diverse and suitable character. The result is that of the charge smelted only 66 2-3 to 75 per cent is ore (the remainder being barren flux which costs just as much to smelt per ton as ore does) against an average of 80 per cent in good practice in the United States.

WISE SAYINGS

Find fault with others, it will make them faultier.

Anticipate evils, you are sure to bring them upon you.

Imagine you are disliked, it will make you less likeable.

Worry about your work, it will make you less capable.

Sit bemoaning the past, you will never get on in the future

Decomposition—This term signifies a dissolution of a rock or mineral into its component parts, which involves a physical as well as a chemical change. It occurs most commanly during the process of weathering.

A RECIPE FOR SANITY

Are you worsted in a fight?
Laugh it off.
Are you cheated of your right?
Laugh it off.
Don't make tragedy of trifles,
Don't shoot butterfies with rifles—
Laugh it off.

Does your work get into kinks?
Laugh it off.
Are you near all sorts of brinks?
Laugh it off.
If it's sanity you're after,
There's no recipe like laughter—
Laugh it off.

Copper was mined on Isle Royale in Lake Superior many years before Columbus was born. Prehistoric races used the metal for their implements and ornaments. The copper occurred in native or volcanic rocks, and the primitive miners dug it out with no better tools than stone sledges. Much prospecting was done, judging by the numerous holes and pits. No less than 50,000 of the crude tools uced in the early days have already been recovered.

Great masses of native copper have been unearthed; many of these had been worked for fragments of the metal as cutting with the crude implements was almost impossible. A mass weighing 12,000 pounds was carried away in a vessel by the primitive miners. In later years mass copper, like that from Isle Royale was eagerly sought, but no copper of importance was found. Many articles made from Isle Royale copper are still being found in mounds and graves throughout the country, even as far away as Central America.

Gas was first used for illuminating by William Murdoch, an Englishman, in 1792.

In photography platinum produces a picture which is regarded as absolutely permanent.

Aluminum was first produced from its ores in 1827, Frederick Wohler, of Germany, having discovered the process.

The fire worshippers of Persia burned natural gas, which they doubtless obtained by various mining operations.

The discoverer of coke as a substitute for coal in smelting iron was Abraham Darby, an Englishman, who patented his process in 1750.

Iolite is a bluish minerol with a vitreous luster. It is a complex silicate of iron, aluminum and magnesium, and is found in metamorphic or igneous rocks. It is also known as cordierite and dichroite. The fine blue crystals are cut for gems.

WHY GUGGENHEIMS QUIT

The Ore Pinched Out at a Few Feet Below tee Surface.

The New York Herald of the 14th instant puts a new phase on the reason why the Guggenheims so suddenly dropped their holdings in the Cobalt, Ontario, camp. Says the Herald:

"Mining engineers who have returned from the Cobalt camp within the last few days state that the reason the Guggenheims gave up their option of the 400,000 shares of stock and pocketed a loss of about $1,700,000 is that the famous bonanza vein, 'No. 47,' pinched out a few feet below the surface. Other veins were equally treacherous.

"The Nipissing collapse has disheartened the management, according to the report of the engineeos, and very little work is being done at Cobalt. No shipments have been made lately, and it is said that little work on the property will be done until spring.

"The fact that the large stockholders have sold out from 252 down has led to the belief that new directors would enter the board. It is generally accepted as a fact that J. R. DeLamar, E. C. Converse and W. B. Thompson have sold practically the bulk of their holdings in Nipissing. The control of the property is now in the street."

MINING SWINDLES

Editor Mining World.

SIR—In reading over a number of papers laid one side, I have just come across The Mining World of November 24, and note your editorial article on the American Mining, Milling and Smelting company. Permit me to observe that this swindle would still be in a flourishing condition, in all likelihood, but for my own efforts, These are the grafters who managed to get the only decent rating ever accorded a mining swiddle in any edition of my Copper Handbook, in 1904, and I have been after their scalps ever since. It was an up hill job, and took me a long time to get fairly started, as I ran the gamut of the authorities from John Stark, superintendent of the Metropolitan police of London, to Sir G. B. V. Finley, attorney general of England, and back again. Eventually I induced a swindled investor in Scotland to swear out a warrant for these people and they have both gone over the road.

CULLED FROM OTHER COLUMS

BRANDON, Man.—The local indebtedness of the city has assumed large proportions, of approximately $1,280,000, a truly significant amount when the population of the city is taken into consideration. A year ago the total indebtedness in round figures was $872,000, and the last year shows an addition of $256,000, which is made up as follows: Schools, $80,000; water works, $58,000; sewers, $50,000; sidewalks, $40,000. and bridges, $28,000.

OTTAWA—The transcontinental railway commission will invite tenders in the near future for the construction of five more sections of roan. The location surveys have been completed over portions, and all that remains is to complete the forms on which offers will be submitted. One section extends from Moncton to Chipman, 50 miles; another from Grand Falls to the boundary between New Brunswick and Quebec, another 50 miles; a third from the interprovincial boundary westward to Quebec, about 100 miles; a fourth from La Tuqe on the St. Maurice river westward about 40 miles, and a fifth eastward from lake Abitibe about 150 miles.

NUGGET WEIGHS 967 OUNCES

Several gold nuggets were discovered recently near Tarnagulta, Australia, and two were recently found weighing respectively 967 and 373 ounces, the largest seen in Australia in 40 years.

Cobalt is found associated with iron sulphides and nickel bearing ores. Cobalt occurs in many forms, but it is not generally of much importance except in its associations with iron and nickel. Iron sulphide deposits that may contain eobalt are found as aquoigneous segregate, and chemical changes among rocks,

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

There never was a time when the ameliorating agencies were so numerous, so hopeful, so successful as they are at present in all parts of the Christian world, and Christmas comes to give these added and beautiful emphasis. For at this season, though it may not be confessed in words, it is the spirit of the Christ-Child which touches every heart into tenderness. Most of the year life is implacable enough, but the searing effects of rivalry and competition, and the struggle for the individual foothold under conditions which, while they make for greater earning power, at the same time are increasingly strenuous, are all too evident in a certain hardening of the nature.

For moral and spiritual health, then, the Christmas season comes to give to the most cynical something of the heart of a little child.

Indeed, no one who does not possess this heart of the child can enter into this kingdom, whose divine character and distinction and glory is—Love.

And that this spirit of the Christ Child works miracles, it is only necessary to consider with what eagerness and delight (with which perhaps a little shamefacedness is mingled) hard-headed men, in every community, give themselves to the work of service. The women are always administering, for the angel is in their gentle nature; but this is the crowning triumph of Love—that men whose habit it is to laugh at sentiment, are found not merely writing out cheques for hospitals, which is a small affair, but giving themselves to the work of service, hurrying to the orphans' homes with flowers and toys, and feeling a sudden lump in the throat as they witness the of the sick children—"spirits in prison"—ministry to whom means service to Him whose advent the Christian world will so shortly celebrate. The greatest thing in the world is—Love.

Magnetization of diamond drill rods used in a basic hornblende chlorite schist enclosed on either side by more acid rocks is quite interesting. The rods, it is said, become strongly magnetic and would sustain heavy spikes. The phenomenon is attributed to the influence of nearby ore bodies or the proximity of large deposits of magnetite. The holes where the magnetic effects were noted were inclined toward the north several degrees from the vertical and conditions were, therefore, especially favorable to the production of strong magnetic currents in the drill rods. It is well known that an iron bar held in a north and south direction is more readily magnetized than when held in an east and west line.

LUCKY BOB JACOBS

Said to Have Made a Million Dollars in Cobalt Camp.

Many ex-Rosslanders have made fortunes since they left this city, and this is the case particularly with those who go to other mining camps. Robert Jacobs, who worked in Crow & Morris' cigar store, and for a time was associated with the same firm in running a tobacconist business in Greenwood, is among the fortunate ones. About two and a half years since, he and his brother, Jacob Jacobs, secured a property in Cobalt, Ont., which proved to be among the richest mines of the camp. It is said that Robert and Jacob have each made a million on the mine, and, as it is still producing, they are likely to make as much more. At one time Robert, when he lived here, was unable to secure employment in a store and he applied for and secured work as a laborer in a smelter, and held the place for several months. Now he is a millionaire and can afford, if needs be, to have a smelter of his own.—Rossland Miner.

A GOOD WORD FOR B. C.

Mr. Horne-Payne, chairman of the British Columbia Electric Railway company, at a recent meeting of the shareholders of the company in London, had the following, among other good words, to say of British Columbia as a field for investment:

"We have introduced into this enterprise, not £70,000, but approximately one million and a half pounds, and into other enterprises in the province as much again, and still we have the audacity to look you in the face unabashed and to tell you to put more and still more money into the country. In spite of the fact that British Columbia undoubtedly lies under a cloud in the money centers of the world, or, perhaps I should say, has failed to secure its fair proportion of the development and confidence which other parts of Canada have been favored by European capitalists, I have the same unbounded confidence in its future that I have always had, and the same complete faith that the province is destined to support a very large and thriving population of happy people within its beautiful territory. How is it possible that it can be otherwise with a country which possesses such vast coal and iron deposits, such magnificent forest and unlimited water power to manufacture all that man requires, even gold and silver, and a market on both sides for its produce to the east in the teeming agricultural regions of the Northwest provinces and to the west in China and Japan. The prosperity of British Columbia has not yet started. Its coal output has reached in the Crow's Nest district 3,000 tons a day, in the Coast district, 1,000 tons a day, and the people are proud of it; but who can doubt, looking ten or twenty years ahead, that the coal output will be 40,000 tons a day, the country will be sending millions and millions of feet of lumber to build prairie homes, and the country will be smelting its own iron, its own copper and its own lead in vast quantities, and will be supplying the prairie with untold quantities of fish, vegetables and fruit, and many other things that they cannot produce themselves. The prosperity of British Columbia will really commence to date from the time when they commence to attract capital from the Old World investing countries in large sums."

Try This for Your Cough.

To relieve a cough or break up a cold in twenty-four hours, the following simple formula, the ingredients of which can be obtained of any good prescription druggist at small cost, is all that will be required: Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), one-half ounce; Glycerine, two ounces; good Whisky, a half pint. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours. The desired results can not be obtained unless the ingredients are pbre. It is therefore better to purchase the ingredients separately and prepare the mixture yourself. Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased in the original half ounce vials, which druggists buy for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case which protects the Oil from exposure to light. Around the wooden case is an engraved wrapper with the name—"Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure)"—plainly printed thereon. There are many imitations and cheap productions of Pine, but these only create nausea, and never effect the desired results, 11-24
