CELEBRATION

ABOR DAY TO BE A GALA DAY IN GREENWOOD

'LANS WELL ARRANGED

y the Committee—Numerous Entries For Different Sports Assured. A Bicycle Contest.

Last Friday night the general committee got through a lot of business nd before they adjourned a programme of a good day's sports was mapped ut. The fare will begin at 8:30 in the orning when the parade will start om Kimberley avenue and follow ractically the same route as last year. he procession will be headed by the idway brass band of fourteen pieces ho are going to play during the day nd evening. Immediately after the rade there will be a log chopping ontest and the small sports will take the balance of the forenoon. At ne o'clock the drilling contest will egin. There will be three matches, ne for heavy weights, one for light eights and machine drilling. R. P. illiams, the Jenkes Machine company's popular resident agent has indly offered to equip the contestants r the latter event. After the drilling orse racing will begin. There will e a half mile free for all, to be run in eats, a 600 yard dash, a race for local iddle horses, owners up, a pony race, nd a race for lady riders. The firemen's races will include a hub and hub nd wet test. Teams are expected om Nelson, Rossland and Grand orks, so that the event should be one f the most exciting of the day.

A. W. Strickland, A. Ferguson and . Bannerman were appointed marhalls for the day. They are determined to have no long delays between vents. Arrangements have been ompleted with the C. P. R. for special ates and a special train service. The are will be a fare and a quarter for ound trip. Tickets will be sold at Rossland and Nelson on August 31st. ood to September 2nd. In Boundary istrict, tickets will be sold on Monday, September 2nd good to return on uesday. A special train will leave Cascade at 7 a. m. Monday morning, Grand Forks 7:50, Eholt 8:40, arriving at Greenwood 9:15. Visitors may return by special train at 12:15 midnight or by the regular on Tuesday.

There is a handsome trophy in Greenwood and thereby hangs a tale. It was put up at the Nelson celebration last year in connection with the bicycle races and it was won by Bert McIntyre of Greenwood. The cup was to be won twice before it could become the final property of the winner. Now under the rules of bicycle racing the holder of the cup has the privilege of contesting for its ownership in his own town but evidently the Nelson sports wished to have a string attached to the trophy. This week Mr. McIntyre was notified that the race for the cup took place at Nelson during the Dominion Day celebration, that it was won by some Nelson man, and asking him to return it forthwith. As this is the first intimation Mr. McIntyre had that such a race took place or was going to take place, and consequently he was denied the privilege of contesting, the cup will be run for in Greenwood on Labor Day and all the Nelson riders will receive due notice. Mr. McIntyre will gracefully deliver the cup if a better man wins the race, but he objects to being flim-flammed.

BACK FROM SIMILKAMEEN.

Last Monday, Smith Curtis, M. P. P., returned to Greenwood from the Similkameen, in which district he has been for about a month. He agrees with most other visitors that there are there numerous good mineral showings but many of these are held by prospectors and others who lack sufficient capital to open them up to such an extent as would fully demonstrate their values. The district, he thinks, has received so little attention at the hands of the provincial government that claim owners are in most instances discouraged, or at any rate disinclined to do much work whilst so little is being done towards making the different camps of the district accessible by wagon roads or trails. The appropriations made for such works are absurdly inadequate, so that the progress of the district is much hindered by this practical neglect of a large extent of country that would very probably, under more favorable conditions in the direction indicated, be having much more prospecting and development work done in it this season than is now being done. Mr. Curtis expresses confidence that the Similkameen has resources—mineral, agricultural and pastoral—that will eventually make it an important section of the province, but until roads and trails are made it is unlikely that these splendid resources will be developed to anything like the extent they should be. He is an advocate of the building of a wagon road from Hope through to Princeton, which road would, he thinks, not only be a base from which prospectors would work into comparatively large areas of country as yet unprospected, but would as well make the district so much more accessible than it is at present that many people from the coast would be encouraged to visit it and so be assisted to familiarize themselves with its great possibilities and its prospective commercial importance to coast merchants, who would consequently use their influence to secure for it something like adequate attention from the government. Mr. Curtis proposes to return to the Similkameen shortly and to spend a few weeks more in further acquainting himself with its resources and wants.

THE KING SOLOMON.

A drift has been started on the course of the lode on the King Solomon, in Copper camp, and the copper ore that is being taken out in driving is to be sent to the local smelter. Some of this ore, it is stated, contains a much larger percentage of copper than any other ore yet met with in quantity in the district. The drift is being run at the lowest level it is practicable to get on the vein starting from the surface of the side hill. The expectation is that at least 1,000 tons of ore will be obtained as this working is extended. Besides the men working on the property the owners have other men employed in improving the wagon road from Copper camp towards Greenwood, so that the teams that are to haul the ore may take heavier loads. The further development of the King Solomon will most likely attract attention to Copper camp anew, which is very much to be desired, this camp having been neglected for two or three years.

NEW COMPANY

CIRCULAR ISSUED SHAREHOLDERS OF GOLDEN CROWN COMPANY

REGARDING THE SHARES

In New Company and tells of Development at the Mine—Prospects are Bright.

The following circular has been addressed to the shareholders of the Brandon and Golden Crown Mining company, limited liability:

The proposed re-construction of the company of which you received notice some weeks ago has been accomplished, the necessary resolutions having been passed unanimously at a meeting at which more than six-sevenths of the stock was represented. The new company has been duly organized and the agreement for the transfer to it of the undertaking has been executed and registered.

As the liquidator's notice, which probably is now in your hands, informs you, each holder of shares in the old company, is entitled within a limited time to claim an equal number of shares in the new company of the same par value ($1.00), but subject to calls to an amount not greater than five cents a share. The new directors think it an opportune time to place before you the position of the mine, and to state what they believe to be its prospects.

As you are aware the Golden Crown is a full-sized mineral claim (1500x1500 feet) in Wellington camp, situate within two and a half miles of Phoenix by road. The work done on it is as follows: There is a prospect shaft of 53 feet, a tunnel of 322 feet, and a main shaft, vertical, with double compartments, 322 feet deep, timbered and built in a very permanent manner throughout. At the 30, 100, 150 and 300-foot levels there is in all nearly 2,300 feet of work, consisting of crosscuts, drifts, raises, winzes and stopes. The plant consists of a 60-horse power horizontal return tubular boiler, a 30-horse power hoisting engine, a 12x18 Rand straight line air compressor, a 36x8 air receiver, four machine drills, a 10x7x5x10 Knowles sinking pump, a 4x6x4 Snow duplex pump, a platform cage and all necessary accessories. There are two large ore bins, tramways, etc., and bunk, boarding and other houses, all well built. The above work and plant have entailed an expenditure of about ninety thousand dollars.

Ore to the extent of over 2,200 tons was, during 1900, shipped to the smelter, the returns from which ran from $8 to $24.96 a ton. There are strong reasons for thinking that these returns were not nearly as large as the ore was entitled to, but in any event the charges for freight and smelting, then obtaining, were so high ($7.00 a ton) that the company's profit was much less than it ought to have been. The freight haul was about 120 miles while now there are two smelters within a distance of twenty-two miles by rail. The cost of freight and treatment at present is little more than half what it was when our ore was smelted, and it is expected that still further reductions will be made for treatment. If when we shipped, the rates had been as favorable as they will be for the future, the mine would easily have paid for its own development as it proceeded.

The object of the re-construction is to pay the debts that are against the mine, and to develop it to the extent necessary to locate its principal ore bodies and get them into shape for economical and continuous shipping. To do this it is necessary that the shareholders should co-operate and that the call on the stock should be paid. At least a month and a half must elapse between calls, and the directors do not propose to make any call greater than one cent. They hope, moreover, that all the calls need not be made, there is good reason to believe that after the first two or three have been met, the debts arranged, and work recommenced, the treasury stock can be sold for enough to make further calls unnecessaty. It is purposed that the further development work shall be done through a practical mine manager who will reside on the property and who, with the assistance of a consulting engineer, will be able to do the work to the best advantage.

The directors consider the mine's prospects bright. Few mines in the Boundary country stand higher in the opinion of mining men, few produce ore of as high a grade, there is every indication that ore will be found in paying quantities, and the facilities for mining and shipping and smelting are, for the future, excellent. A spur track from the C. P. R. line leading to Phoenix, runs right into the property under the ore bins. The fact that the railway company built this specially, is itself a strong proof of the mine's reputation. They had an examination made and upon the report received, built the spur.

The head office of the new company is at Brandon, Manitoba, and the directors are as follows: Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald and William L. Parrish of Winnipeg, Hon. Senator Kirchoffer, His Honor Judge Cumberland, George R. Coldwell, K. C., Andrew Kelly, Frederick Nation and Joseph B. Curran of Brandon, and William A. Fuller of Greenwood, B. C. These men are representative of all classes of the shareholders. Among them are a number who bought their stock when the price was near its highest point. They are one and all deeply interested in the mine and they promise a careful and economical management of its affairs.

The secretary will be glad to receive from each shareholder, on the blank form sent out by the liquidator, the necessary claim for stock in the reconstructed company, at an early date.

JOHN INGLIS,
Secretary Golden Crown Mines, Ltd.

THE NO. 7.

Development work at the No. 7 mine, in Central camp, is progressing steadily. The drift at the 60-foot level is now in nearly 200 feet and the vein of quartz has widened to about four feet in width, which is the greatest width yet opened up in the mine. The 120-foot level is in 145 feet and here, too, the ore is showing up well. The contractor for hauling the ore to the railway at Boundary Falls put on a second team this week and is now delivering about 50 tons weekly at the railway siding. The ore is being treated at the British Columbia Copper company's smelter, Greenwood, the quartz coming in handily to mix with the pyrrhotite ores from the Mother Lode and B. C. mines.

If you want the best candies in the city go to Munroe's.

CROP PROSPECTS.

From the agricultural district along the International boundary line west of Myers creek come reports of excellent crop prospects. Visitors from Greenwood to those parts say that on some of the farms the hay and grain crops are looking well and that present indications point to a good yield. Oats and wheat are growing fast on the high-land farms and, with ordinarily favorable conditions continuing, a bountiful harvest should be gathered. There is not much land under fruit, but where there are fruit trees in bearing they are doing very well indeed. As far west as Keremeos a similarly favorable condition prevails, for those who have seen Mr. Richter's orchard say that apples, plums, and other large fruits are bearing freely and that the fruit is very fine this season. Each succeeding year seems to show more plainly that the Boundary country, from the Similkameen to Christina lake, is capable of producing much agricultural and horticultural produce and that there should not be any necessity for depending on outside districts for these products. With soil and climate generally favorable for their growth it is not surprising that there is an increasing tendency towards the acquirement of suitable lands and the cultivation of both fields and gardens.

THE SUNSET

MR. A. A. MUNROE ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL SHAREHOLDERS

VISITS THE MINE

And is Delighted With the Outlook—May Build a Smelter—Will Ship to Nelson Smelter.

"I am delighted with the outlook at the Sunset" said A. A. Munroe to a Times representative. "The ore bodies uncovered since my previous visit to the mine is far beyond the most sanguine expectations of my associates and my self. With sufficient ore in sight to maintain a steady output we will now seriously consider the erection of a smelter to treat our own ores. The Sunset ores are not high grade and the company in order to retain all the profit should treat its own ore. In the meantime we will ship 25 to 50 tons a day to the Hall Mines smelter. They are anxious to get our ores for fluxing and during Mr. Campbell's recent visit here he offered us flattering inducements to send Sunset ore to his smelter. They need about 25 tons a day for fluxing and this amount at least will be sent."

Mr. Munroe accompanied by his brother Dr. Munroe of Montreal who is enjoying a holiday trip in the west. They will remain here for several days before returning east.

COLUMBIA TELEPHONE

Companies Lines Have Been Acquired by Vernon & Nelson.

Greenwood will shortly be stripped of its uniqueness in a telephonic way and the Boundary metroplis will then be forced to struggle along with one telephone system just the same as do other large cities. At one time Greenwood enjoyed the distinction of being the only town in America, possibly in the world, that had three distinct telephone systems, but it was in an age of combinations and trusts. The Columbia Telephone company absorbed the Spokane & Northern Telephone company, and now the Columbia has been absorbed by the Vernon & Nelson. The deal was consummated a few days ago when the Royal Bank of Canada into whose hands the Columbia had fallen leased the Columbia lines to the rival company.

Chas. H. Wolf, ore buyer for the Granby smelter, paid a visit to the King Solomon mine a few days ago. He has since left for the Slocan, on business for the Granby company. W. Yolen Williams, the company's mine manager, has gone east on a business trip.

Owing to the delay in commencing the Phoenix branch, Dr. Foster has decided not to take up the railway medicine work but to continue practice in the city. He will be found in his old office in the Naden-Flood block.

F. Kirkham, representing the McCormick Manufacturing company of London, Ont., was calling on patrons of his firm in the city this week.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church intend having a literary and social meeting on Thursday evening, August 22nd, at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is given to all who are interested.

Daniel Grady, committed for trial at Cascade on the 5th inst., chose a speedy trial at Grand Forks last Saturday and was sentenced by Judge Leamy to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

W. T. Smith is stated to have transferred to Detroit parties the option on the Ruby claim, near Boundary Falls, mention of which was made in the Times last week.

Tender are invited, as advertisement in another column, for shaft sinking at the Mother Lode mine.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. White have returned to Greenwood from a visit to the Slocan extending over three or four weeks.

E. S. Moulton Barrett came in on last Wednesday night's train on his return from a trip to the Cariboo and Omineca country.

E. G. Wilson, superintendent of the Pueblo smelter, is back from a visit to the east. He has no information for publication about the starting up of his company's smelter.

Leonard Norris, government agent at Vernon, spent a couple of days of this week in Greenwood on official business.

A. A. Munroe and Dr. J. A. Munroe, who are interested in the Montreal and Boston Copper company, owning the Sunset group, in Deadwood camp, are now in town having arrived from Montreal through the week.

A diamond drill, for use in the Cariboo-McKinney company's mine at Camp McKinney, reached Midway last week and has since been taken up to the mine.

A number of shareholders in the Rock Creek Consolidated Placer Mining company visited the scene of the company's operations last Sunday.

Go to Anderson's pharmacy for drugs, toilet articles, sponges, soaps, perfumes, etc., Greenwood.

W. J. Goepel, provincial government auditor is in the city.

J. P. Keane, manager of the Cariboo McKinney company's mine, came in from Camp McKinney this evening.

Bush fires are burning in several parts of the district. One above the Eholt meadow, another near the B. C. mine, another between Greenwood and Wellington camps and one up the West Fork, between Westbridge and Beaverdell, are among those reported.

Ice cream and cake will be served in the local public reading room to-morrow (Saturday) evening.

ASTOUNDED THE EDITOR.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive guaranteed cure. Only 50c at J. L. WORK DELAYED

On V. V. & E. Railway by the Provincial Government.

It is reported that the V. V. & E. railway company are being hampered in the work of construction by the provincial government. Doubts as so the validity of the company's charter was raised by Joseph Martin and others during the discussions in the legislature last winter. The company's solicitors claim that they have authority vested in them by the Dominion parliament to build the railway and expropriate the necessary lands therefor. In securing the right-of-way however it is reported that the provincial government have placed such barriers in the way as are temporarily interfering with construction.

The following is the V. V. & E. company's contention regarding their statues:

"V., V. & E. Company was incorporated, in the first place, by a local Act. Chapter 75 of the Statutes of 1897. That Act created the incorporators into a body politic and corporate; it fixed no time as the limit of the life of the Act was devided into four sections and the time for completing the work was apportioned among the different sections in the following order:

The first section, to be completed within two years; the second, within three years; and the third and fourth sections, within four years.

The act was assented to on the 8th day of May, 1897, so that as to the building of the third and fourth sections the time does not expire until the 8th of May; 1901.

The situation however, would be this: Supposing the time for the completion of the railway to have expired, the corporatian would necessarily be dissolved it would still exist as a person, but its power to build the railway would be gone if it had nothing to depend upon except the local statute. While however, it was in existence, and with none of its powers impaired, an Act of the Dominion Parliament was passed, being Chapter 69 of the Dominion Acts of 1898, By section 1 of that Act the works which the compony, by the work for the general advantage of Canada, and by section 4 the company was given the right to begin the railway within two years, and to complete it within five years, from the date of the passing of the Act, which is the 13th of June, 1890, and the company was brought under the provisions of the Dominion Railway Act.

There can be no doubt that the parliament of Canada had jurisdiction to declare this work one for the general advantage of Canada, and there can also be no doubt of the proposition that, having declared it to be a work for the general advantage of Canada, the company which was authorized to construct the work came under the provisions of the Dominion Railway Act, and became thereby a Dominion company; so that parliament could, beyond all question, extend the time or do any other act which was necessary for the proper completion of the work in accordance with the general policy of the Dominion. To argue any other proposition would be to curtail and diminish the powers which the British North America Act has given to the Dominion over works declared to be for the general advantage of Canada."

FOREST FIRES.

Once more word has gone out that great fires are devastating the state of Washington. We have not heard of any exceptionally large fires of this kind in British Columbia, but the season is very dry and great danger exists. Time and again we have written to impress upon Colonist readers the need of taking the greatest precautions possible to prevent serious loss from this cause, and we have reason to think that greater effort is made in this province than in the neighboring state to see that nothing of the kind occurs. But the matter is one of such very great importance, that, even at the risk of much repetition, we mention it once more and ask every resident of this province, who may have occasion to build a fire in any place from which it may spread to the forest, to see that all chances of such danger is removed. No precaution is too great; the only safe course to adopt is to make the fire where it cannot spread, and before leaving to see that the last spark is extinguished. If this is done there will be fewer fires in the future than there have hitherto been. Some of the forest fires arise from clearing land, but we do not think that many of them have this origin. When a man is clearing land he generally keeps a sharp look-out to see that the fire does not spread. The most of them are due to carelessness on the part of those who make fires for some temporary purpose when hunting, fishing or prospecting. We again urge upon everyone building fires in dangerous places, and nearly every place is dangerous if precautions are not taken. to use extraordinary care to prevent damage being done. Colonist.

Dont forget to go to the South End Grocery for fresh eggs, good spuds, good mocha and java coffee, good tea and fresh groceries.

Enas. McCormick who was connected with Butler's saddlery in this city for some time has purchased the business of R. E. Doran at Moose Jaw, N.W.T., and is prepared to quote prices for all kinds of harness, saddles, carriage and farm implements.

NOTICE.

In view of the fact that typhoid fever reaches the highest seasonal curve at this time of the year, and remains high for the next two or three months, and that it is a water borne disease, the Medical Officer of Health of the City wishes to draw the attention of the public to the need for boiling all water used for drinking purposes. It should also be clearly understood that all crockery and glasses should be washed in water that has been boiled, as outbreaks of typhoid, scarlet fever and diptheria have been traced to vessels rinsed in unboiled impure water.

The opinion of the Medical Health Officer in regard to Twin creek water is that it is of highly doubtful purity, but he would not say that it is the only supply of water in regard to which the foregoing measure, viz., of boiling, is recommended, it applies with equal force to water from every source and he has only instanced that from Twin creek because it is lain on to many houses in the city.

Medical Officer of Health.

TAXATION ON MINES.

It is difficult to see why the Nelson Tribune should so persistently continue to defend an inequitable system of taxation. Monday last it takes the Greenwood Times to task for criticizing the present two per cent. tax on the output of the mines and says:

"Such expressions of opinion disgust reasonable-thinking men. How many industrial and business ventures, in this province, in the way of farming and lumbering and printing and merchandising, can show a profit? Yet all, without a single exception, are required to pay taxes. The Tribune will venture the assertion that the Greenwood Times is regularly assessed for taxation, yet the Times has not declared very many dividends. How many farmers in British Columbia are making net profits? Yet every one of them is required to pay taxes. How many of the sawmills operated in British Columbia are operated at a profit? Yet every one of them are not only required to pay direct taxes on their real estate, but a royalty, as well, on the lumber they manufacture. It is safe to say that 25 per cent. of the men engaged in merchandising are not making a dollar, but they are all required to pay direct taxes on their merchandise. Is it not about time to quit talking about the inability of our mines to pay taxes? If there are mines in the Boundary district that are being worked at a loss, why advertise the fact? A mine that is unable to pay a tax of two cents a ton on its output had better remain unworked until such time as it can be worked at a profit."

The Tribune is to be congratulated upon its freedom from disgust since its warmest admirer could scarcely claim reasonable thinking" among its virtues. In its assertion that farmers, printers and millmen are taxed, it naively suggests the objection to the system under which the mines are taxed. The farmer does not pay a tax apon the wheat and oats he raises, nor upon the butter, potatoes or other products of his farm. Neither the Tribune nor the Times is fined for paying $24 or $21 a week to the printer while Eastern offices pay half that amount. The job work or newspapers turned out by printing offices are not taxed, neither is the lumber from the sawmills. Why then should the output of the mines? Why should the mines be taxed on that produced by men earning high wages? If the government attempted to tax job work turned out by the Tribune office, the voice of John Houston would soon be raised against taxes on the money paid by him in maintaining a union office. Even the business man is not taxed on the selling price of his goods. The Times does not object to taxing mines, but it does object to unfair taxation. If the Boundary district is to be the great mining district we hope and believe it will be, less than $5 ore will be treated at a profit, a profit possibly of 25 cents a ton. Why should the owner be called upon to pay a two per cent. tax, on $4 out of $5 nearly, all of which is wages? The province by its plan of taxation places a premium on the payment of low wages in the mines. The higher the rate of wages the higher the rate of taxation on the net proceeds of the mine. The [illegible] almost as absurd as the latter day editorials appearing in the Tribune.

THE RAILWAY SITUATION.

In the absence of argument, three and a half columns of the editorial page of the Vancouver Province is taken up with miserable tommyrot by which it is hoped to frighten the people. The bogey man is J. J. Hill and his frightful weapon is a competitive railway. If he is permitted to build the railway, the ores of British Columbia will be treated at Spokane and the American city will be built up at the expense of the British Columbia cities. There is nothing remarkably striking about the Province article except its length and absence of originality. The alleged articles have done duty by the friends of the C. P. R. in every fight that has been made for competitive railways in this province. They are as ancient as the first application for the Nelson & Ft Sheppard charter away back in the eighties

Let us admit that the contention of the Province is correct and that if the Hill road be built the ores of British Columbia will be hauled to American smelters. The worst offender in this respect is the C. P. It has direct connection with all the American smelting centres and it was never known to refuse business. Surely if connection with United States seriously diverts ores from B. C. the Spokane Falls & Northern, the Nelson & Fort Shepard, the Kootenay Valley, the Galt road, the C. P. R. Mission road and others would have done so long ago. The truth is and no amount of verbrage will destroy it, that the ores are so low grade that they have to be treated near the mine and then conditions must be right or they cannot be treated at all. Low grade ores cannot be profitably treated with high grade railways. On the C. & W. line from Robson to the Summit, 30 miles, and down to Cascade, 24 miles, there is a grade of 116 feet to the mile and 14 degrees curves. From Grand Forks to Eholt there is 12 miles of same grade and curvature. The construction of the C. & W. showed great pluck and enterprise, but we in Boundary Creek pay the piper. The rate today on less than carload lots is almost as high as in the old wagon freighting days. Railways, if they are to give cheap rates, must follow the natural conformation of the country. If we are going to refuse railways to follow the natural highways and allow the C. P. R. to charge for climbing over steep mountain ranges we are taking the best means to drive off the capital we have been seeking in all financial centres of the globe.

The ores of British Columbia must be treated near the point of production, they must have the advantage of cheap transportation; to secure cheap transportation we must have competition and railways must follow natural highways. There is the whole case in a nutshell almost. Mr. Hill is building his road and will continue to build it and the B. C. ores will continue to be treated at home at a greater profit because of more advantageous transportation charges.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is with much satisfaction that we learn that the Dominion government has decided to exhibit the admirable collection of Canadian minerals which received so much favorable comment at the Paris exposition, and now attracting equal attention, at Glasgow, in London next year. The exhibit, which is in Mr. A. K. Stuart's capable charge, is first to be placed on view in the city or business centre of the metropolis, a suitable site having been selected, and afterwards permanently transferred to the Imperial Institute. The exhibition in the city, tor the two months proposed, dating from January, 1902, will unquestionably prove an excellent advertisement of our mineral resources, and advantage might well be taken of this occasion by the provincial government to making a special effort in the direction of calling attention, by the distribution of literature and through the financial press, to the opportunities British Columbia affords for the investment of capital. We would further suggest that overtures be made to the Federal authorities for the retention of at least the British Columbia portion of the exhibit in the city by allowing it to remain in the keeping of the province's Agent General.—B. C. Mining Record.

Dr. W. Spankie, who was visiting his brother, Dr. J. E. Spankie, left on Tuesday for the coast where he will spend a few days before returning to his home in Kingston, Ont.

The members of the Boundary survey party who for some time past have been at work on the International boundary line east and west of Midway, under W. G. O'Hara, of the Canadian Geological Survey, moved early in the week to Cascade, where they will continue their work.

D. A. MacKenzie, of the Russell-Law-Caulfield company's grocery and dry goods store, was taken ill a few days since. Fever threatened, but prompt medical treatment promises to avert a serious attack and the patient is now reported to be much better than earlier in the week.

Officer Lawder returned last Saturday night from a fortnight's vacation, spent on the Columbia river, near Robson. Together with Mrs. Lawder and the children, he had a pleasant though quiet holiday, the fishing having been good and no telephone or telegraph service to bother him.

The annual meeting of the fire department was held in the city hall on Friday, August the 9th. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, H. J. Bayly; vice-president, Chas. Wilson; secretary, W. M. Frith; treasurer, E. H. Mortimer; assistant chief, D. A. MacKenzie. Since March 1st the department has responded to six calls, only one of which was serious.

The name of W. W. Gibbs appears in a prospectus received in Greenwood recently as secretary and treasurer of the Copperopolis Copper company, a Portland, Oregon, organization having two mineral claims in the Quartzburg district, Grant county, Oregon, and 30 miles south-east of Sumpter. Mr. Gibbs will be remembered by many as one of the pioneer prospectors of the Boundary district, and one of the original owners of the Mother Lode, Sunset and Snowshoe mineral claims.

The Austrian, John Guba, who was last month sentenced at Grand Forks to five years' imprisonment for an abominal offence, escaped from the train while on his way to the penitentiary. The provincial constable, in whose custody he was, had five prisoners in his charge at the time and at one of the stations on the C. P. R. main line Guba succeeded in getting away whilst the constable's attention was taken up by the other prisoners. In this instance Guba proved to be literally one too many for the constable.

John Keough, a farmer at Colville, Wash., some years ago started on a prospecting trip. He located some claims in Summit camp which turned out not at all promising, accidently discovered ore on the B. C., bought the claim for a few dollars, began work, had ore from the grass roots, bonded the property for $60,000, was paid in full, invested in Greenwood real estate and retired to enjoy ease and comfort on his Colville farm. He has evidently struck it rich again. This time the property is near Boundary, Wash. If the sample sent to H. B. Munroe by Mr. Keough is any criterion, his Boundary, Wash., property is even richer than the B. C. mine. John Keough is a splendid type of the prospector and deserves his double success.

Police Chief McMillan, of Phoenix, was down one night through the week enquiring for a sporting woman who was alleged to have "rolled" a big Swede in the house of ill fame in Phoenix known as the Canadian Club. The woman was stated to have taken a lot of money from the man and then hired a team and got out as quickly as possible. Mr. McMillan learned that the faithless one had passed through Greenwood two or three hours before he arrived in the city, so concluded that by that time she had reached the land of the free. Since then the keeper of the sporting house has been before the magistrate, but there does not appear to be much chance of proving that she was a party to the alleged theft of the money. The Swede, who is a miner, claims that when he went to the dive he had $1,200 secreted inside his shirt and about $80 in his pants' pocket. He went to the house at 11 o'clock in the morning and towards evening he was "doped", so he says, and though he was aware that the woman who disappeared was taking his money he was powerless to prevent it and was not able even to report his loss until some hours later, when he recovered the use of his senses. The keeper of the house says that the man spent most of the $80 in treating the "gang". It seems he had all the "good time" that is coming to him at present, and that he is now free to earn some more money for the next soiled dove to whose tender mercies he may be fool enough to commit himself.

The riverside fete and carnival announced for last Wednesday afternoon and evening proved a very successful and enjoyable function from the patrons' point of view, whatever it may have been as a means of adding to the funds of St. Jude's Church of England. The attendance was numerous and the refreshment and flower stalls appeared to be doing a good business. The side shows contributed a fair amount to the general receipts, whilst the open air concert gave much pleasure. A feature not on the programme was some excellent part singing by a dozen or more visitors from the Mother Lode mine who, whilst preparations were in progress for the church choir to do their part, sang very nicely several numbers. Altogether, the singing around the big camp fire was one of the best parts of the entertainment, which was brought to a close at 10 o'clock by singing "God Save the King". The financial returns apparently were good, but the amount realized was not ascertained.

YEAR BOOK OF BRIUISH COLUMBIA.

The revised edition of the year book of British Columbia and compendium by R. E. Gosnell has lately been issued. It contains a large amount of useful information relative to the province, and having been brought as nearly as possible up to date will be of much service to those requiring reliable information. It is a comprehensive digest and yet the matter has been so condensed as to keep the publication down to a handy size. Much information is given respecting the varied resources of the province, its institutions, industries, climate, etc., and tables of statistics, maps and diagrams add to the interest of the publication. It is illustrated by numerous views and is altogether a work evidencing much care and labor in preparation, so that it will doubtless be of practical benefit to the province.

THEIR SECRET IS OUT.

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whittaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Diseovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of Whooping Cough." It positively cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. L. White's, Miller Bros., and W. E. Anderson's; drug stores.

MURDERER ESCAPED DETECTION.

A Bossburg despatch states that four weeks have expired since the jury impaneled by County Corner Baker, rendered a verdict of murder over the remains of a man found floating in Kettle river, near the Orient camp and as yet the county authorities have made no investigation of the matter.

Otta Leidiger, a barber of Russel, Wash., who has been missing for a month, answers to the description of the murdered man. Leidiger went from Eholt to Grand Forks, then to Cascade and from there to Russell, where he was last seen.

The deceased was about 35 years of age, dark complexion and wore a suit of brown clothing. He had no papers on him.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

To J. A. Drain and C. Hoffman, both of the City of Spokane in the State of Washington.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that I have expended $100.00 in labor and improvements on the "... Maud" Mineral Claim situate in Smith's camp in the Kettle River Mining Division of Yale District in British Columbia, to count as an assessment on said claim, as will appear by a Certificate of Work recorded 23rd March, 1901, in the office of the Mining Recorder for the said Kettle River Mining Division of Yale District, in order to hold said claim under the provisions of Section 24 of the Mineral Act; such being the amount required to hold the said claim for the year ending 23rd March, 1901.

And if at the expiration of 90 days of publication of this notice you fail or refuse to contribute your proportions of the expenditure required under Section 24, together with all costs of advertising, your interests in said claim shall become vested in the subscriber [one of your co-owners] under Section 4 of the Mineral Act Amendment Act, 1900.

Dated at Greenwood, B. C., this 26th day of July, 1900.

TO BE RUN WIDE OPEN.

Russell, situate immediately south of the International boundary line below Cascade city, is being resurrected, the route of the Marcus-Republic railroad being through the townsite. Two years ago one Russell took up a placer claim here and started a town, which was named after himself. A few log buildings were put up and for a while, so long as construction-work on the Columbia & Western was in progress between Cascade and Greenwood, several saloons, stores, livery barns, etc., did a fitful business. Eventually Russell became dead, to all intents and purposes, and it remained dead until a few weeks ago. Now it is being resurrected. E. W. Monk got tired of living at Phoenix on "miles of ore" and "glory hole" boosts, and transferred his attentions to Russell, which, so the unsophisticated visitor to the new aspirant for distinction as metropolis of the Boundary is informed, has lately been found to possess bigger surface showings of mineral than Phoenix ever had, has the best smelter site in the country, is going to be the best railroad town in the whole district, and is to be run "wide open" without let or hindrance, and consequently will soon be the only pebble on the beach—at least that's what the purely disinterested people one meets by the wayside (between saloons, four of which have opened up there in as many weeks) say. And truly things are beginning to move in this new construction town. The railway people are said to have take 1 hold of it and with a few others, who had to be let in on the "ground floor," are going to make it a live town. Col. W. N. Brayton, of Kaslo, is manager of the Russell Townsite company (to be incorporated) and E. W. Monk is secretary. The latter genial and energetic agent gives assurance that the new company has acquired two claims. One is the Russell townsite of 160 acres and the other is the adjoining smelter site of a like area. The townsite is an excellent one, almost level in open park-like country, timbered with pine that gives an abundance of fine saw-logs. Its water supply might be better, but in other respects it seems to possess many advantages.

As mentioned above, the town already has four saloons, in one of which is to be found Ira Black, who followed railway construction through both the Slocan and the Boundary and has now doubled back to pick up the new scent. In another is Pete Arena, well known in bygone days on the C. P. R. mainline about Revelstoke and who has run the whole gamut, from a hotel in Seattle doing a big business down to a very unpretentious establishment on the North Fork of Kettle river, which he had to run on a shoestring. J. Wilson, at one time in the saloon business in Grand Forks and until lately a partner in the Rossland hotel, Greenwood, is now a sub-contractor on the railway right-of-way, and frequently to be seen in Russell.

Among several carpenters busily engaged on half a dozen new buildings was one who hailed from Greenwood, whilst another had on the morning of the writer's visit come in from Phoenix to size up the situation. Grand Forks, too, had already contributed to the small but increasing population of Russell.

Arrangements had already been made, so it was stated, to commence next week the erection of a dance and music hall and, as well, a large lodging house, these being intended for the entertainment and accommodation of the large crowd of construction men it is expected will spend Saturday night and Sunday here. Two telephone lines run through the town and both will have local offices, with a telegraph office to follow later. Daily stages run to both Bossburg and Marcus. The railway station will be centrally located, but a 200-foot right-of-way [illegible] take a big swath out of the town.

It is stated that there are at least ten promising mining properties within a radius of three miles of the townsite, and on one of these the Russell Mining company is credited with having expended $10,000 in shaft sinking, making open-cuts and doing other prospecting work. Between Russell and Bossburg are other mineral claims, some of which are reported to have had a lot of work done on them. Across Kettle river, about a mile east of Russel, is what is described as a marble quarry and this is to be worked, if expectations be realized, and will contribute to the support of the new town.

But it is mainly upon railroad construction that the immediate future of Russell is to be built up. A mile or so north, on the Canadian side of the line, a number of men will be employed in putting a railway tunnel 860 feet through a high bench, whilst south of the town there are five or six miles of heavy rock work to be done on the line of railway. It is not unlikely then that Russell will be a "hot" town for the next twelve months to come, and beyond that few who go into business there to take advantage of the free spending of money that usually accompanies railway construction will care to look, leaving the future to take care of itself.

Outsiders say there is much litigation interfering with the mining development in this section and express doubts as to the security of title to either mineral claims or town lots, but this is a matter for prospective speculators to look into for themselves. Meanwhile Russell is enjoying a building boom, restricted at present by a scarcity of sawn lumber, but likely this will soon attain to respectable proportions.

YEAR BOOK OF BRIUISH COLUMBIA.

The revised edition of the year book of British Columbia and compendium by R. E. Gosnell has lately been issued. It contains a large amount of useful information relative to the province, and having been brought as nearly as possible up to date will be of much service to those requiring reliable information. It is a comprehensive digest and yet the matter has been so condensed as to keep the publication down to a handy size. Much information is given respecting the varied resources of the province, its institutions, industries, climate, etc., and tables of statistics, maps and diagrams add to the interest of the publication. It is illustrated by numerous views and is altogether a work evidencing much care and labor in preparation, so that it will doubtless be of practical benefit to the province.

THEIR SECRET IS OUT.

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whittaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Diseovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of Whooping Cough." It positively cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. L. White's, Miller Bros., and W. E. Anderson's; drug stores.

MURDERER ESCAPED DETECTION.

A Bossburg despatch states that four weeks have expired since the jury impaneled by County Corner Baker, rendered a verdict of murder over the remains of a man found floating in Kettle river, near the Orient camp and as yet the county authorities have made no investigation of the matter.

Otta Leidiger, a barber of Russel, Wash., who has been missing for a month, answers to the description of the murdered man. Leidiger went from Eholt to Grand Forks, then to Cascade and from there to Russell, where he was last seen.

The deceased was about 35 years of age, dark complexion and wore a suit of brown clothing. He had no papers on him.

TO BE RUN WIDE OPEN.

Russell, situate immediately south of the International boundary line below Cascade city, is being resurrected, the route of the Marcus-Republic railroad being through the townsite. Two years ago one Russell took up a placer claim here and started a town, which was named after himself. A few log buildings were put up and for a while, so long as construction-work on the Columbia & Western was in progress between Cascade and Greenwood, several saloons, stores, livery barns, etc., did a fitful business. Eventually Russell became dead, to all intents and purposes, and it remained dead until a few weeks ago. Now it is being resurrected. E. W. Monk got tired of living at Phoenix on "miles of ore" and "glory hole" boosts, and transferred his attentions to Russell, which, so the unsophisticated visitor to the new aspirant for distinction as metropolis of the Boundary is informed, has lately been found to possess bigger surface showings of mineral than Phoenix ever had, has the best smelter site in the country, is going to be the best railroad town in the whole district, and is to be run "wide open" without let or hindrance, and consequently will soon be the only pebble on the beach—at least that's what the purely disinterested people one meets by the wayside (between saloons, four of which have opened up there in as many weeks) say. And truly things are beginning to move in this new construction town. The railway people are said to have taken hold of it and with a few others, who had to be let in on the "ground floor," are going to make it a live town. Col. W. N. Brayton, of Kaslo, is manager of the Russell Townsite company (to be incorporated) and E. W. Monk is secretary. The latter genial and energetic agent gives assurance that the new company has acquired two claims. One is the Russell townsite of 160 acres and the other is the adjoining smelter site of a like area. The townsite is an excellent one, almost level in open park-like country, timbered with pine that gives an abundance of fine saw-logs. Its water supply might be better, but in other respects it seems to possess many advantages.

As mentioned above, the town already has four saloons, in one of which is to be found Ira Black, who followed railway construction through both the Slocan and the Boundary and has now doubled back to pick up the new scent. In another is Pete Arena, well known in bygone days on the C. P. R. mainline about Revelstoke and who has run the whole gamut, from a hotel in Seattle doing a big business down to a very unpretentious establishment on the North Fork of Kettle river, which he had to run on a shoestring. J. Wilson, at one time in the saloon business in Grand Forks and until lately a partner in the Rossland hotel, Greenwood, is now a sub-contractor on the railway right-of-way, and frequently to be seen in Russell.

Among several carpenters busily engaged on half a dozen new buildings was one who hailed from Greenwood, whilst another had on the morning of the writer's visit come in from Phoenix to size up the situation. Grand Forks, too, had already contributed to the small but increasing population of Russell.

Arrangements had already been made, so it was stated, to commence next week the erection of a dance and music hall and, as well, a large lodging house, these being intended for the entertainment and accommodation of the large crowd of construction men it is expected will spend Saturday night and Sunday here. Two telephone lines run through the town and both will have local offices, with a telegraph office to follow later. Daily stages run to both Bossburg and Marcus. The railway station will be centrally located, but a 300-foot right-of-way will take a big swath out of the town.

It is stated that there are at least ten promising mining properties within a radius of three miles of the townsite, and on one of these the Russell Mining company is credited with having expended $10,000 in shaft sinking, making open-cuts and doing other prospecting work. Between Russell and Bossburg are other mineral claims, some of which are reported to have had a lot of work done on them. Across Kettle river, about a mile east of Russel, is what is described as a marble quarry and this is to be worked, if expectations be realized, and will contribute to the support of the new town.

But it is mainly upon railroad construction that the immediate future of Russell is to be built up. A mile or so north, on the Canadian side of the line, a number of men will be employed in putting a railway tunnel 860 feet through a high bench, whilst south of the town there are five or six miles of heavy rock work to be done on the line of railway. It is not unlikely then that Russell will be a "hot" town for the next twelve months to come, and beyond that few who go into business there to take advantage of the free spending of money that usually accompanies railway construction will care to look, leaving the future to take care of itself.

Outsiders say there is much litigation interfering with the mining development in this section and express doubts as to the security of title to either mineral claims or town lots, but this is a matter for prospective speculators to look into for themselves. Meanwhile Russell is enjoying a building boom, restricted at present by a scarcity of sawn lumber, but likely this will soon attain to respectable proportions.

MINERAL ACT.

To Randolph Stuart, J. C. Haas, I. H. Ha[illegible]lett, Walter D'Eath and others concerned:

TAKE NOTICE that I have caused [illegible] to be done on the Diamond Joe, Doubtful, Ma[illegible]ed in and Deer Trail mineral claims, situate in the Greenwood camp, in the Kettle River mining division of Yale district, the work required by Section 24 of the Mineral Act, for the year which has expired, and have expended for such work and for recording the certificates thereof the sum of four hundred and fifteen dollars ($415.00); and if at the expiration of ninty days from the date of the first publication of this notice you fail to contribute your proportion of such expenditure, namely, Randolph Stuart, J. C. Haas, I. H. Haliett and other parties interested, the sum of $83.00 for one-fifth interest in said mineral claims, and, Walter D'Eath, the sum of $83.00 for a one-fifth interest in said mineral claims, together with all costs of advertising, your interest in said mineral claims shall be liable to forfeiture, as provided by the "Mineral Act Amendment Act, 1900."

Dated this 12th day of June, 19[illegible].

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Pound By-Law and Other Busines Transacted.

The continuabulary proclivities of the four-footed beasts in the city have driven good church members to desperation and has increased the percentage of profanity in an unusually moral town. This is all going to be remedied since the city council have passed a pound by-law, introduced by Alderman Kirkwood. Bells and their wearers which have been in the habit of roaming at will, will be taken to an isolated pound where they can no longer disturb the peace or ruffle the temper. The by-law was passed through committee at the regular meeting of the council on Monday and will soon become law.

Otherwise there was little business before the council. Some accounts were passed and the city engineer reported that he would immediately commence construction of the Washington street bridge.

Manager Warren, of the Electric Light company, was present and offered to give five 32 candle power lights for each arc light in the city. The council will further consider the offer.

DISTRICT ROADS.

Good progress is being made with the building of the wagon road between Eholt and Long Lake camp. For nearly two miles out from Eholt the working grade is about six and one-half per cent., but once the ascent of the mountain range is made the grade is so easy that only about 100 feet is the difference in altitude over the remaining two miles, or thereabouts, to Long Lake. The grade towards the Phoenix end of the road now being made to connect Summit and Greenwood camps is heavier, being up to eight per cent in places. As the heavy traffic is not likely to be towards Phoenix so much as away from it, this steep grade will not be of so much importance as it would be under opposite conditions. This road will probably be completed during the course of the next three or four weeks. Nothing definite appears to have yet been decided respecting the improvement to the Greenwood end of the Deadwood and Copper camp road, but it is promised that this shall be made this season. Work is being done on the Cascade-Grand Forks road, which is being improved east of Edwards Ferry by the making of about a mile and a half of new road to avoid some low-lying ground near Scott's, there being here a length of the road that in the spring is subject to overflow from the waters of Kettle river. Incidently an advantage is being gained in keeping the new portion of this road north of the railway track and so avoiding two crossings.

FIRE AT ARMSTRONG.

A dispatch from Armstrong states that a half-witted man named Eagles set fire to the store of Hardy Wright & Co. and that their store and stock and those of Wood Cargill & Co., Burns & Burns, three warehouses, C. P. R. freight warehouse, several small shops, the Masonic temple, Oddfellows hall, city hall and three dwellings were destroyed by fire. The heaviest loser is Robert Wood of this city, who is at present on his way to England. His firm carried a large stock which was only partially covered by insurance. From H. G. Ross, of Victoria, who represents several insurance companies, and who visited Greenwood this week, it was ascertained that the total loss of all concerned is about $80,000 and the insurance about $13,000. The man Eagles admitted that he started the fire, using coal oil he had obtained at Enderby for the purpose.

NOTICE.

In view of the fact that typhoid fever reaches the highest seasonal curve at this time of the year, and remains high for the next two or three months, and that it is a water borne disease, the Medical Officer of Health of the City wishes to draw the attention of the public to the need for boiling all water used for drinking purposes. It should also be clearly understood that all crockery and glasses should be washed in water that has been boiled, as outbreaks of typhoid, scarlet fever and diptheria have been traced to vesses rinsed in unboiled impure water.

The opinion of the Medical Heath Officer in regard to Twin creek water is that it is of highly doubtful purity, but he would not say that it is the only supply of water in regard to which the foregoing measure, viz., of boiling, is recommended, it applies with equal force to water from every source and he has only instanced that from Twin creek because it is lain on to many houses in the city.

Medical Officer of Health.
