TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

An annexation resolution, moved by Dr. Murray and seconded by J. S. McDonald, was thrown out of the Nova Scotia House of Assembly without discussion.

In England the probability of the House of Lords rejecting the Irish Church Bill caused much discussion and some apprehension of disorder.

A New York despatch reports the surrender of 40,000 Cuban insurgents. A despatch from Madrid announces that the Captain-General had countermanded the order for reinforcements, which indicates collapsing of the rebellion.

In the British House of Commons, Mons. Under Colonial Secretary, said every authority would be given to forward the interests of British Columbia in connection with those of Canada. Lord Bury regarded Canada as the future highway to India, and ridiculed any project for annexing Canada to the United States.

The Newfoundland delegates have come to terms with the Dominion Government, as to the consideration to be received by Newfoundland on entering the union. The terms are to be submitted to the people of Newfoundland at a general election next fall.

A Chicago despatch says: A movement is on foot among Republican politicians to make the position taken by the Senate on the Alabama claims a question in the canvass this fall. Arrangements are being made to carry out this programme in the ensuing election in Pennsylvania, advocates of which believe they can thus force the Democrats to follow the lead of the Republican party, or take sides with England, in either case damaging themselves by thousands of votes.

The N. Y. Herald says President Grant will not support Sumner in his views on the Alabama claims expressed in his late speech. He calls the speech good rhetoric but poor logic. He professes to believe Sumner himself not sincere, but to be actuated by a desire to overreach Banks and the annexationists by pulling England against all notion of ceding her North American possessions to this country. He holds that if we would not go to war with England, we must conduct negotiations with courteous diplomacy.

GENERAL NEWS.

Ten of the continental nations of Europe, embracing 130,000,000 inhabitants, have adopted the uniform gold coinage, and it is said that Germany and Russia will probably come into the arrangement this summer.

The bill authorizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister has passed its second reading in the British House of Commons, by a large majority.

Post office registration is not absolute insurance against loss or damage; but greater care is taken of letters and parcels so registered, and they are signed for by the officials at every stage, so that, in case of loss or robbery, recovery is facilitated.

The curse of the white man seems to be taking its effect on the wondrous garden of South America. The 102 tribes that existed on the banks of the Amazon and its tributaries in the 17th century have dwindled down to one-fourth of that number.

The result of the final appeal on the long litigation between the North-Eastern Railway Company and Mr. George Hudson, the "Railway King," was to confirm the reversal of the decision of the Master of the Rolls, and reduces Mr. Hudson to a state of penury. He is now in France, said to be utterly destitute.

Mr. Wells, special commissioner, has made a report to Congress, and supplemented it by the publication of a letter in which he states that there are "half a million persons within sight of the steeples of New York hungry and destitute and out of work."

In the course of the proceedings in the Court of Queen's Bench recently, in which a telegraph company was concerned, one of the counsel engaged told a good story of a clerk's mistake. The message to be sent was "Your wife is delivered of a fine girl." The message actually transmitted and received by the astonished parent was "Your wife is delivered of five girls." We have not heard whether the father survived the shock of the announcement.

During the first battle of Bull Run, a brigadier-general discovered a soldier concealed in a hole in the ground, and ordered him to join his regiment. The man, looking him full in the face, placed his thumb upon his nose and replied, "No you don't, old fellow; you want this hole yourself."

A WASTE OF RESOURCES.

It is generally believed, and there really seems no reason to doubt it, that there are rich and extensive resources in Cariboo, which ought not to be suffered to lie idle while it is possible to develop them. There is no end to the extent of ground which with efficient hydraulic apparatus and an abundant supply of water would yield rich returns for labor, and means expended thereon. It seems impossible, however, to do anything towards developing these or other resources, not so much from the want of means as the lack of the unanimity which is necessary to undertake great enterprises, requiring a combination of labor and capital. No one has any preferential proprietary right to the wealth of Cariboo. It belongs to the country—the empire at large; and whoever will undertake to utilize it should be allowed to do so. If the capitalist or merchant wishes to invest in mining enterprises, which would result in profit to the colony as well as himself through the employment of labor and the distribution of money in purchasing material, it seems folly indeed to throw any impediment in the way of his doing so. Especially unwise is this disposition to retard the enterprise of the capitalist when it seems neither possible nor probable that those who cherish it will undertake to do what men of means propose to do. By all means let the miners be properly protected in the enjoyment of whatever rights they have, but by all means allow capitalists to invest in mining enterprises whenever and wherever they choose. There are the Meadows, for instance. They lie quiet in all the idleness of primitive nature, their glittering wealth covered by rank grass. What should be the scene of busy toil is a poor pasture for a few cows. The men of Cariboo may talk of their energy, enterprise and powers of endurance under any circumstances, but the green grass and frowning forest of the Meadows are suggestive of the story of the dog in the manger. Why this field of wealth is allowed to remain idle when enterprising men say they are willing to risk their capital in opening it, is a source of regret to all who wish well to the country, and now that there is no probability of its being opened by those who professed to be able and willing to do so, and who raised their voices against giving it to the capitalist, regret changes into something like the contempt sought to be inculcated toward the fabled canine above alluded to. Is it any wonder that capital declines to harmonize with labor in Cariboo? How often is it said that it seems strange men of capital take no interest in the development of Cariboo? The self-reliance of the miners scares them away, and that self-reliance is their bane, for it operates toward defeating that which is equivalent to capital in undertaking great enterprises—the combination of labor. Two projects require to be undertaken to give an impetus to the prosperity of the country. One, the opening of the Meadows, and the other the distribution of water. Capitalists have proposed to undertake the first, but the second remains in abeyance, and sufficient unanimity on the part of those interested is wanting to undertake even the preliminary steps. Had the first work been allowed to have gone on, who now would have been injured? Who would not have been benefitted, indirectly at least, through the extension of the field of labor? Let there be no more foolish opposition to the investment of capital. Let miners have every opportunity to avail themselves of the wealth of Cariboo, but the welfare of the country demands that when they cannot or will not undertake to develop that wealth, any and every proposition having that object in view should be encouraged and gratefully accepted. Do not let our resources lie idle.

PRACTICE.—We are requested to state that until further orders the Fire Brigade will be called out for practice every Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock.

It will be seen by this statement that my labors in Cariboo have left me much the poorer, and afforded only twelve months' experience of that proverbially "hard" task of making "three guineas do the work of five." I had not the heart, after the terrible disaster of the fire to appeal to the liberality of the general public, or to ask assistance more particularly of those whose appeal to the Bishop of the Diocese was the immediate cause of my being sent here. They were involved in the general calamity.

I make that appeal now, and that with the more confidence because the income of the church for the past six months has been proved to be sufficient (had it been unincumbered) for the maintenance of the service.

Soon, I hope, a pretty little church will be added to our public buildings, and worthily and gratefully complete the rebuilding of Barkerville—a church which shall prove that men while working under ground have still some hopes which go upward and heavenward.

I am, &c.,

J. REYNARD,
Curate of Cariboo.

THE SEIZURE OF THE MARY LOWELL.—The telegraph has repeatedly given us intimation of late of a subject of diplomatic contention in which the Spaniards, Americans and ourselves are concerned. It was impossible, however, to learn what were the real facts of the matter from the brief, hasty and not very reliable despatches transmitted over the wires by the agents of the American press. From a perusal of the papers lately come to hand, we think that the following is a fair summary of the facts of the case. The Mary Lowell is an American vessel, and was seized by the Spaniards off Ragged Island, one of the smallest of the Bahama group. The prize was taken to the Havannah, and was then and there condemned by the Spanish tribunals. The Americans, nevertheless, demand her surrender to them, alleging that she was illegally captured on the high seas, six miles from Ragged Island. On the other hand, the British authorities require her surrender to them, as it has now been proved by clear evidence that the capture was effected within two miles of our small dependency, and therefore in British waters. The Spaniards will therefore have to override the decision of their legal authorities, and to give up their prize. The tone of the latest communications from General Dulce leads to the hope that he will acknowledge that his subordinates acted too hastily, and that he will yield the point. The Spanish authorities have been greatly irritated by the conduct of the Americans, who continue to pour into the island supplies of all kinds for the Cuban insurgents. The House of Representatives have passed a resolution calling upon the President to recognize the independence of Cuba. This line of action contrasts strangely with their bitter complaints against us for having acknowledged the plain fact of the belligerency of the Southern States.

FELL'S COFFEE has now stood the test of the last eight years, has superseded entirely the imported Chartres Coffee, and is now kept and sold by all respectable dealers.

THE CARIBOO SENTINEL

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23. 1869.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

WILLIAM CREEK.

Except the San Juan co., none of the hydraulic companies are piling. The Flume co. have commenced cleaning up, and yesterday washed up 100 oz. The California co. got 40 oz. last week, and the San Francisco co. 45 oz. The Cornish co. washed up 90 oz.

Below the canyon—the Barker co. washed up 173 oz. for the week; the Foster-Campbell co., 135 oz.; and the Canadian co., 26 oz. The Baldhead co. took out a few ounces over wages.

STOUT GULCH.

The Taffvale co. washed up 125 oz. for the week. The wash-up of the Coombs co. at the end of the week yielded 110 oz., which made over 160 oz. for the week. The Floyd co.'s ground maintains its late high yield, giving 90 oz. to the last wash-up, which makes the total for the week 192 oz.

CONKLIN GULCH.

The White Pine co. have been taking out expenses, but have not got into proper working condition. In the early part of last week the Felix co. only washed up a couple of ounces, but they got into the channel again and washed up about 17 oz. for the week. On Monday the McDowell co. were preparing to drift from their shaft towards the gulch, towards which the rock pitches. The Indian Queen is at her tricks again. She smiles and frowns in rapid succession. She is now making promises of rewards to her courtiers, who are making expenses or thereabouts. The Eclipse co.'s ground is looking better, and the Renfrew co. made expenses and wages for the week. The Lone Star, Reid and Gourock cos. are prospecting; and the Ericson co. made over expenses and wages for the time they worked.

FRENCH CREEK.

The Ambrose co. have been drowned out of their shaft, after getting down 120 feet. They intend to run a tunnel for drainage.

HOWE CREEK.

The Black Bull co. have made a contract for the completion of their tunnel. The Victoria co. are driving ahead with their tunnel, at the rate of 45 feet per week. The Kelly co. cleaned up 30 oz. for the week. Boyd is working in his tunnel, making wages. The Calaveras co. broke the shaft of their wheel last week.

MOSQUITO CREEK.

The Minnehaha co. washed up 75 oz. for the week; and the Tabb co. declared a dividend of 3 oz. to the interest from the wash-up for the week. The Discovery co. have completed their tunnel, and from the first set of timbers took out 11 oz. The Willow co. made a little over wages for the week; and the Holman co. declared a dividend of $73 to the interest. The Jeffree co. made wages; and the Hocking co. made $12 a day to the hand during the week. The new Discovery (Hough) have bottomed their shaft in the flat on the hill above the Jeffree claim, and finding they were not in the channel, have commenced sinking another shaft.

RED GULCH.

The Tom and Jerry co. washed up 26 oz. for the week, and the Butcher co. made small wages.

WHITSAW GULCH.

The Discovery co. did very little work during the week. The Hit-or-Miss co. made about $5 a day to the hand.

GROUSE CREEK.

Operations on Grouse creek are assuming a dull appearance. There is not enough water to keep the hydraulic claims in activity, and ground-slucing is the only kind of mining likely to give any returns, until a fresh supply of water shall be obtained. Very little is being done by the Fountain Head co. The Idaho co. are prospecting in the creek. The Rocky Point co. have commenced cleaning up and are doing pretty well. The Ontario, Cascade and Caroline cos. are short of water. The Salt Spring co. are preparing to drift in the upper part of their ground. Below them the Chinese co. are ground-slucing, and are communicative enough to say that they expect to do well by-and-bye. The Union co. have been doing very well, and expect a continuance of rich pay. The Discovery co. have commenced to sink a shaft behind their dump-house, and have a couple of men working in their tunnel, where they are getting small pay. Last week the Flume co. did not get much gold, having come across a deep hole. Next to the Flume co. are Lord & co., who are working on abandoned ground, and by cleaning the bed-rock are making good wages. Below them the Hard-up co. are prospecting; and two French companies are doing well in surface diggings. The Waverley tunnel is going ahead.

BEOG'S GULCH.

The Grappler co. are making wages. A company have commenced to work the ground abandoned by the Ancient Briton co. The other company on the gulch are doing well.

ANTLER CREEK.

A company has been organized to prospect Antler creek, about two miles below the old town. It is intended to run a drain tunnel to bed-rock. Prospects were found in the ground in 1862, but it was then abandoned on account of the excitement on William creek. The Middlesex co. are troubled with water in their shaft. Eight miles below Grouse creek, one man, working alone, has been making $5 a day in shallow diggings. There is plenty of water in this creek, and nearly all the companies are ground-slucing.

BLACK DEAR LAKE.

Nothing has yet been done towards prospecting this lakelet, but the farmers and others about Williams Lake are still organizing for the purpose.

EAGLE CREEK.

The Richard co. have not yet completed washing up, but from that portion of the bed-rock which has been already cleared, the ground pays wages. Water getting scarce.

LIGHTNING CREEK.

Nothing of any importance has transpired on this creek since our last report. The Davis co. are preparing to wash. B. Moore & co. have commenced sinking a shaft about two miles on this side of Van Winkle, close to the wagon road.

DAVIS CREEK.

The Red Dragon co. are sinking another shaft, higher up the creek and further in the hill than the previous one.

ANDERSON CREEK.

The Emily co. have washed up 7 oz., minus $1, for two months' ground-slucing.

KEITHLEY CREEK.

The Grotto co. are making over wages, and the Howick co. are making about $5 a day to the hand. The Cascade co. have got through the bed-rock and expect to reach their shaft in about two weeks. The Stonewall co. have got on to pay again. A new company is starting in to prospect between the Hard-up and the Stonewall. The Hard-up co. expect to get through with their incline in about ten days. The company opposite Oushmere's store have got down with their shaft, and are drilling and getting a little gold. A few other companies are prospecting.

ORDAR CREEK.

The Aurora co. are still working and making over wages. Another company are working on this creek, on a bench about a mile above the Aurora co.

HARVEY CREEK.

The Minnehaha co. have got down with their shaft and got some gold in the bed-rock, which is pitching into the bill.

GOOSE CREEK.

The St. Ninian co. expect to be in solid ground in about ten days.

LITTLE LAKE CREEK.

Two companies are making wages on this creek.

SUPREME COURT OF THE MAINLAND.

M. B. BECHT, Chief Justice, presiding.

TUESDAY, JUNE 22.

Hon. G. A. Walkem stated that R. Lipsett, F. J. Barnard, A. Weldon and Chun Kee had made arrangements to the satisfaction of the District Magistrate for removing the causes of complaint embodied in the indictments presented by the Grand Jury, and that he would, in consequence, enter a nolle prosequi, which was allowed by his lordship.

Brouse co. vs. Tyack co.—This was an appeal from the decision of the Gold Commissioner, who when the case was tried in the Mining Court gave judgment in favor of defendants, on the ground that he had no right to review the acts of his predecessors in office, or reverse their judgments. Mr. Walker, on behalf of defendants, disputed the right to appeal on the ground that the judgment of the lower court was given in accordance with finding of facts, and instanced a case, the Grouse creek co. vs. Canadian co., which he alleged was precisely analogous, and in which his lordship decided there was no ground for appeal. His lordship denied the correctness of this position and maintained that the case alluded to was one of boundaries—of fact—while this a question of law.

Judgment.—Appeal dismissed without costs. Forty inches of water reserved for the creek claims.

MINING COURT.

(Before C. Brew, Esq., Gold Commissioner.)

TUESDAY, JUNE 22.

Miners' Drain Co. vs. Ruby Co.—This was a suit to compel defendants to show cause why they had not cleaned up their drain before abandoning their charter. Defendants alleged that they did not consider themselves responsible for the condition of the drain, which was due to the carelessness of the Bed-rock Drain Co. The Judge, in giving his decision, said that he found the Ruby company had held a charter which before it could be given up required that the drain should be given over to the Gold Commissioner in good condition, which had not been done. He, therefore, ordered the Ruby co. to put the drain in proper condition, or if they elected to let the work be done by others, to give $500 bonds for the completion of the same. As to the allegation of defendants that the condition of the drain was due to the carelessness of others, that, he considered, had nothing to do with the case, but would constitute ground for an action for damages. Hon. R. W. Carrall, on behalf of defendants, stated that such action would be entered.

THEATRICAL.—On Saturday the performances of the amateurs gave much satisfaction and pleasure, as was evident by the frequency of the applause and the hearty bursts of laughter. In the "Charcoal Burner," none of the performers showed any hesitancy or want of confidence so usual to amateurs. Only one impediment to the enjoyment of the acting seemed to be apparent, and that was caused by the number of acts into which the drama was divided, owing to the want of sufficient stage material. Mr. Howman, as the leading performer, had a difficult part to play, but he succeeded in rendering it very satisfactorily. Mr. Thompson was, as usual, imitatively droll. Mr. Grant improves with each new effort, and he made a decided advance, on this occasion, in identifying himself with the juvenile hero, Edmund Esdale. Mr. Havelock, as Matthew Esdale, was applauded in the first scene, through which he carried his role somewhat in accordance with the author's intention, but in the succeeding scenes he seemed to lose the proper personation of the old man Esdale, and evidently played for the sake of effect rather than development of character. Abel Cole is generally admitted to have been well played by Mr. Fraser, and Caleb Brown by Mr. Smith was well handled. The Hon. R. W. Carrall was quite at home as the amiable parent of Edith Harrington, notwithstanding the fact of his being a bachelor. Edith Harrington and Barbara Jones, by Miss Emily and Florence Wilson, could not have been played much better by regular professionals, except that the correct reading and clear apprehension of character displayed by both ladies might have been made more effective by additional energy, the result of practice. In the concluding piece, "The Head of the Family," they were still more successful, especially Florence Wilson, whose representation of Cousin Charity was very life-like and the requisite volubility was well maintained. Edgar, by Mr. Bennett, was rendered in strict accordance with what we would suppose were the characteristics of the person in real life. No spasmodic effort at display nor awkward assumption so frequently manifest in the acting of amateurs, characterized Mr. B.'s efforts, and his make-up showed a correct taste. Mr. Ormandy's Jeremy Hackle was the good-natured, droll character intended by the author to afford variety and contrast in the composition of the comedy. Gregory is not a character of sufficient compass for Mr. Hudson's histrionic capacity, and he did not consequently appear to as much advantage as on previous occasions. The attendance was not as numerous as usual, owing doubtless to the fine weather, but by no means small enough to warrant concluding that the public interest in the performances of the amateurs is on the wane.

COLONIAL NEWS.—A steam fire engine, for the use of the Deluge company, Victoria, is about to be shipped from England.—R. Smith has laid an action for slander, damages $10,000, against P. Kilroy—both of Lyton.—Mr. John Baie, formerly a trader on William creek, died recently in California.—T. Reynolds and Joseph Lascelles were brought before Judge Pemberton, in Victoria, on a charge of having conspired to defraud Joseph Lammon of the racehorse Greyhound. The case was postponed for further evidence.—Wm. Lyons' counsel endeavored to obtain a new trial. Judge Needham refused, and the previous judgment, sentencing Lyons to 12 months imprisonment, stands confirmed.

FOURTH OF JULY.—A meeting was held in the Theatre on Monday evening to take the preliminary steps towards the celebration of Independence day. A committee was named and a programme agreed upon.

DEDICATION.—The attendance at the dedication service of Rev. Mr. Derrick on Sunday was large, and comprised members of almost every denomination. It is about eight months since Mr. Derrick arrived here, and during that time he has succeeded in raising the wherewithal to build a snitable church and residence, both of which, together with the furniture, has been paid for by subscriptions of the inhabitants of Barkerville, and surrounding creeks and the collections made at the services. Mr. Derrick has shown much energy in his mission. He preaches in Barkerville in the morning, tramps off to Mosquito creek in the afternoon, holds a meeting there, and returns again on foot and preaches in Barkerville in the evening. On Friday he visited Grouse creek. The miners on the different creeks which the rev. gentleman visits show their appreciation of his efforts by very liberal contributions when collections are made. Mr. Derrick seems to feel somewhat proud of his success, and indeed he has reason to be so, as not a cent has been received from any missionary society since his arrival, and the voluntary contributions of his hearers alone have been the means of building the church and parsonage.

PRACTICE.—On Saturday night, Capt. Oppenheimer, wishing to ascertain the promptness of the Fire Brigade in obeying a summons to attend duty, caused the alarm to be sounded shortly after twelve o'clock, and it soon appeared that the members were ready to obey the call. With such apparatus as the Brigade now possess, an immediate rush was made for the sawmill, above Richmond, which was reported to be in danger. Their services, however, were not required; but the alacrity with which the Brigade turned and marched away clearly showed what may be expected of them when there shall be any real necessity for practical duty.

THE ACCIDENT AT QUEENSMOUTH.—A brief telegram in our last paper announced the death by drowning, of Mrs. Senay. From parties who have since arrived from Quesselmouth we learn that the three men who were in the boat, together with Mrs. Senay, at the time of its upsetting, were Messrs. Brosseau and Senay, and Livingstone, the ferryman. They were crossing the Quessnel river, but the cause of the accident has not yet reached us. The men were picked up by Mr. G. B. Wright, and two of his men, who were working on the steamer Victoria, at a short distance below where the boat was capsized.

NOTICE.—Mr. C. McCallum has reopened business in the store next above the Bank of British Columbia, where he has a large assortment of Dry Goods, comprising Pants, Shirts, Drawers, Neck-Ties and other apparel. Also, a lot of best French and English Tweeds. Mr. McC. continues his tailoring business, and makes Pants to order, and of the best material. He sells his goods cheap and for cash.

"LET IT COME DOWN."—Weather prophets say that when the springs in a mountainous region swell and flow more rapidly than usual it is a sure sign of impending rain. Yesterday the springs exhibited this phenomena and we are curious to know whether the atmospheric quidnuncs have their prescience based upon fact or fancy. It is no mere fancy to say that rain is coming, for of that we are quite certain—the question is when will it come.

BOOKS.—Mr. Bowron, librarian of the public library, has received a variety of useful and entertaining books which will be placed on the shelves of the library for the use of the subscribers. Mr. B. intends to add to the stock of books as often as the financial condition of the institution will admit of the necessary expenditure.

THE BEST COFFEE.—In order to obtain a first-class coffee, it is necessary to secure the very best berries, and to roast them according to the most approved method. This is done by Wilson & Rickman, Fort Street, Victoria, who are prepared to furnish, for cash, Coffee that never fails to elicit the approbation of those who use it.

FRESH BUTTER.—Messrs. DeNouvion & Kurtz are receiving by every fast express quantities of the finest fresh butter, put up in rolls, to suit the demand. The colonial butter, at this season of the year, is acknowledged to be superior to any imported butter.

BURNED.—On Sunday afternoon last the cabin of Richard Johns, on Eagle creek, was totally destroyed by fire. The occupants were absent at the time, and everything in the cabin was burned.

TALL.—A liberty pole, a hundred feet high, is being prepared for the Fourth of July, and will be erected in front of Stirling's saloon.

RYDER'S OX-TEAM, from Quesselmouth, arrived yesterday.

THE Dominion tariff on imported beavers is $10.

THE BIGGEST NUGGET ON RECORD.

A Melbourne correspondent of the New York Times, under date of March 1st, says: There is no doubt as to what has been the most important and interesting event of the past month. Everybody has heard again and again of the great "Welcome" nugget, and models of it have been the centre of attraction in the international expositions. But a greater than the "Welcome" nugget has now turned up, and has been duly christened the "Welcome Stranger." The story of its discovery is extremely interesting. Two men had been working for a long time in a claim at Dunolly, where a year or so ago they had found a couple of nuggets weighing respectively 108 and 36 ounces. They had again, however, got "dead broke"; the storekeepers had refused them any further credit, and they were feeling very badly indeed, when one of them, in following the claim by working round the roots of a tree, struck something hard with his pick, immediately below the surface. He had no idea, however, what had stopped his pick; for, miner-like, he grumbled out, "Confound it, I wish it was a nugget and had broken the pick." The nugget, when it was unearthed, was found to weigh 210 pounds troy, and on smelting it yielded 2,288 ounces and 10 penny-weights of pure gold. It was scarcely covered by the earth, and was less than a couple of inches below the surface. Dunolly, the ground on which this gold monster has been found, is a very old digging, but has never been regarded as a first-class field. Every now and then a big nugget has been found, but whatever gold has been obtained has been discovered in pockets. The "Welcome Stranger" is the largest nugget on record in Australian mining annals, and in fact is believed to be the largest mass of gold ever discovered. The largest nuggets previously found in Australia were as follows: The "Welcome" nugget, found at Ballarat at a depth of 180 feet, and weighing 134 pounds 9 ounces; the "Blanche Barkly," found at a depth of 13 feet, at Kingower, and weighing 145 pounds 3 ounces; a nugget at Canadian Gully, Ballarat, weighing 134 pounds 11 ounces, at a depth of 60 feet; the Lady Hotham, weighing 98 pounds.

MATHEMATICALLY MAD—The Chicago Tribune publishes an account of the great demonstration which took place in Chicago, and concludes the report, which occupies about ten columns, with the following curious mathematical summary of the procession:

No. of men on foot,	400,001
No. of men not on foot,	400,002
