LATEST TELEGRAMS.

NEWS TO OCTOBER 15.

Brussels, Oct. 12—A meeting was held here yesterday and a unanimous protest against the deposition of the Pope was adopted.

Tours, Oct. 12—At the battle of Orleans yesterday messengers report that the French forces were much the smallest, and were literally crushed by the Prussian artillery and driven back into the suburbs. The Prussians opened fire on the town. Many fires occurred, and the railroad depots and other large establishments were destroyed. At last accounts the people of Lyons were flying in all directions. The Prussians had pushed to Beaugamy, beyond Orleans, and it is feared that the Papal Zouaves would be surrounded and captured. In view of the urgency of the case Garibaldi left for the field. The Prussians occupy Orleans. No news from Paris to-day. Balloons preparing to go there.

Versailles, via Berlin and London, 13th—Yesterday the French army of the Loire was driven out of Orleans after a nine hours' fight. Orleans was subsequently occupied. The Prussians took 10,000 prisoners. Their loss was small. The Bavarians participated in the engagement.

Lille, 13th—Particulars of the battle before Metz on Friday are received. The French made a sortie in force, and after a battle were driven back with tremendous loss. Prussians took a great number of prisoners. The cattle in and around Metz are dying by hundreds of Rhinderpest. The French fire from the fortifications continues incessantly. A balloon descended at Troyes to-day. News from Paris is most cheering. Order reigns everywhere. Confidence in Trochu seems limitless.

London, 13th—On Monday the Prussian cavalry drove 4000 Mobiles across the Eure, near Chenuessy. Losses of latter heavy. Nothing important from before Paris. News via Berlin say the French fleet is still off Heligoland. It is known that Garibaldi has left Tours for the seat of war. It is intended he will take command at Orleans.

Tours, 13th—No news from Orleans, whither reinforcements have been sent. Gen. Cambriel reports having gained considerable advantage over the enemy. The Germans have appeared at Mont du Dier, where a small detachment was defeated by the French. Heavy cannonading heard to-day in the direction of Stemay.

London, 13th—It seems that the Empress sent for Bombaki. He accepts command at Tours. The French were defeated at Messayres.

Tours, 13th—It is reported that a sortie from Montmedy has captured Stemay.

London, 13th—It is reported that 60,000 Prussians held Orleans. A battle is expected there to day. News received from Metz says Bazaine has been successful. Large numbers of Prussians taken prisoners. It is also reported that the siege of Metz has been raised. 3000 Prussians, under Prince Albert, entered Girsora; they await more troops and will march upon Rouen. The siege of New Brusack continues. A London report says Bismarck authorised the statement that intervention to secure peace would be acceptable to Prussia. Gambetti states that Bazaine has given his adherence to the Republic.

The World's special says people of Germany are anxious for peace. The German loss at Metz is said to be 5000, besides a great number taken prisoners.

New York, 14th.—Correspondence from Tours give a dreadful account of Prussian cruelties practised on French peasants. The latter in retaliation flogged a Bavarian captain to death and hung his men.

London reports say the Prussians have not been able to plant a gun in a position to disturb any part of Paris.

It is reported that Lyons is amply prepared to resist the Prussians. Heavy guns are in position and the entire population is in arms. All Southern France is united—no disorder there.

London, 14th—Reports say the Prussians have captured Bretuil. The garrison repulsed the first attack, but the Germans were reinforced and took it.

Berlin, 14th—All the German towns are ready with bonfires and illuminations to celebrate the victory of the Germans over Paris.

London, 14th—The official report of the French commander at Orleans says the fight was desperate. The Prussian artillery literally overwhelmed us for three hours, and a flank movement compelled our retreat, which was effected in perfect order.

Details of the battle before St. Quentin say the French showed great heroism and still hold the place. The terrible artillery fire of the French from Fort Mont Valerin has swept the country. Six kilometres of Prussian works were destroyed. On the north the Prussians were driven back to Boudenille, on the east to a point three miles east of Vincennes.

The Prussian circle around Paris is said to be expanding instead of contracting. The Prussians report that mutiny is imminent among the French troops at Metz.

Tours, 14th—Gambetti issued a proclamation announcing a victory in front of Paris. He calls to the other provinces to do better, and do as Paris has done herself.

A despatch via Berlin says the French troops have wantonly burnt the palace of St. Cloud.

Four French battalions made a sortie from Paris to-day, but were easily repulsed.

The Prussian government has ordered the appointment of assessors of damage to property at Strasbourg, the amount of indemnity to be included in bill of indemnity.

London, 14th—Confirmation received of success of Bazaine's sorties. He burned five villages and captured large herds of cattle.

The Prussians have commenced the bombardment of Soissons.

Prince Frederick Charles is not dead.

Tours, 14th—The news of the victory around Paris causes great enthusiasm.

Troops are leaving here for Orleans to join troops opposing the enemy there.

Garibaldi has been interviewed by the Herald's correspondent. He says he came from Caprera in a fishing boat, and will remain with the French till the last. He asks why America does not send material aid to France.

A despatch from the Hague says a row occurred in the King's cabinet. It was discovered he was going to declare war on Prussia. The majority of the people side with the king.

London, 15th—Deserters from Metz report the supply of bread and salt is nearly exhausted, but plenty of other provisions. The Uhlans now in Edinal number 700. A train of cars carrying provisions for the Prussians before Paris crossed the Moselle recently.—The Prussians occupy the heights of Soissons and have fortified them. They are also in force at Meuly. The Prussian reserves on the Rhine are moving northward. Gambetti issued a congratulatory proclamation to the people, citing new evidence of courage just given by the Parisians. They demand every day to be led in sortie against the enemy. They have already driven the Prussians from Staats, Dogny, Permatti, Joineville, Bibagny, Cortieuil, Basmandon and St. Cloud. The north of France is alive since the glorious affair at St. Quentin. The formal siege of Toussons and Verdun has commenced.

Tours, 15th—No official news received from Orleans to-day, though it is generally understood here that there was heavy fighting there yesterday. The French made a strong reconoissance a few days since. After a short conflict the Prussians were driven back. A body of Franc-Tireurs attacked a squadron of Wurtemburg cavalry in the forest of Fontainbleau, killing many. The remainder pushed to Melun.

Garibaldi has arrived at Bescanon. Bombaki has been appointed to command at Orleans.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

This instrument has been officially announced and proves to be what was anticipated, and termed, a six-by-nine arrangement. It would appear to be only a slight amendment to the old constitution, but it really confers upon the colonists a few very important powers for legislation, which we will endeavor to point out. In the first place, though by no means first in importance, the colonists may elect persons to represent them who can claim seats in the legislature by the right of such election alone, and without any further ceremony beyond the proof of qualification. By the old constitution the people could not elect as a right but only select or nominate as a privilege a person to represent them. Such selection was not sufficient to entitle the people's nominee to a seat. The selection was subject to the approval of the Governor, who, on approval of the same, issued a commission authorizing the person to take a seat in the Council. While the alien proportion of the population was preponderant such a system might have been excusable but it was probably never necessary. Certainly not so now, however. Prominently important among the points of difference between the old and new systems is the limitation of the franchise to British subjects, which is universally acknowledged as right and proper. The other principal points consist in confining to the Governor the right to originate money bills in the Council, giving the Council power to alter the constitution, the people's representatives a majority in the Council, and sents for four years. As regards the first point it is nothing new, except that it is formally declared. The right to introduce bills appropriating money has always been disallowed, and, with slight exception, no colonial parliament without ministerial or responsible institutions has ever enjoyed the privilege. Full control of the public revenues can only be secured to the people's representatives by responsible government. Any member of the Council, however, may recommend the appropriation of money. This rule, which is customary in Crown colonies and limited representative governments, is to secure payment of the debts contracted by the Crown, and to avoid the extravagance to which young colonies are prone. On the other hand it is frequently attended with the disadvantage of official extravagance of which this colony has been a very notable example. The power to alter the constitution, however, is the most important of any of the changes. It gives the colonists full scope for advancing to the extreme limit of self-government. If the people desire responsible government they may obtain it through the agency of the new constitution. On this point, however, we deem it our duty to the large, if not the greatest, proportion of the people who desire responsible government to point out the obstacles to obtaining it. The Council is to be composed of six appointed and nine elected members, who will hold their seats for four years. Of the nine elected members two will be called to the Executive Council. Probably more than two; the Governor may do so if he thinks proper. The official members and the Governor will oppose responsible government and, therefore, unless the whole number of elected members be pledged to vote for responsible government, it is easy to see that the present constitution may be maintained for many years, even after Confederation.

A PHILOSOPHICAL MINER—A merchant doing business in Barkerville sent a polite note last week to one of his customers who is engaged in mining on Thunder creek, and received the following reply, which we have been requested to publish:—"I received your note a few days ago. I have also had the pleasure of receiving my discharge from the Bulldog claim to make room for a sign-board of whiskey. Being misled by the idea that I would have employment all winter, I took the liberty to pay a debt I owed to Bill Muggins, who aroused my sympathy by the information that he was going home to visit his grandmother, and therefore needed the money. Intending to see sweet home myself some day, although no grandmother remains to greet me, I thought I would do unto others as I would have others do unto me under similar circumstances, so I discharged the obligation. I was also intrepid enough to carry out the same principle with regard to a board bill which had long remained on my stomach, producing as painful a feeling as did the board. I subsequently found it necessary to purchase a suit of gum clothes, shortly after which transaction—for which cash was requisite—I received the intimation of my services being no longer needed by the foreman of the Bulldogs. Under these circumstances, I am sorry to say that your case looks kloonass. Excuse the Chinook; but it expresses perhaps better than English that my poverty, not my will, consents to remain your grateful debtor. Besides, I have legislative aspirations, and Chinook, I have noticed, is extremely useful in a hot debate. As I am going over to the creek you will have an early opportunity of blowing me up for the indiscretions mentioned before. I received your wishes for my good luck with an appreciative belief in their sincerity. In reply, I would say:

Time is the pipe through which I suck
Beneath misfortune's sea,
The balmy breezes of good luck
From boughs of charity.

I forget the name of the author of these lines. Perhaps I never knew it. I would recommend you to read him if I did. I will not date this letter as I do not know the month. Be kind enough to put the day and date on, and I will do as much for you should you ever get into my fix. Be sure to remember that I am coming over to the creek.

THE COMING MAN.

P.S.—I bear no malice to the foreman of the Bulldogs.

N.B.—I am interested in a claim on an adjoining creek. They have struck slum. It looks well.

THE Fire Brigade have fixed up the distributing houses and general truck for winter use. We would suggest to the Fire Wardens the advisability of making another inspection of the town.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To the Independent Electors of Cariboo.

GENTLEMEN,

Two years ago you did me the great honor of selecting me as your representative in the Legislative Council of this colony, and I now solicit at your hands a repetition of that honor.

Since my return from Ottawa I have had the pleasure of meeting many of my old friends, and, as you are aware, have endeavored at a public meeting of my constituents to render an explanation of my conduct during the past two sessions, and it affords me much gratification to perceive by the numerously signed requisition for me to become a candidate for re-election, that my actions have met with the approval of so many. Should you once more place me in the proud position of your representative, my humble efforts shall always be used to the best of my ability in forwarding the interests of the colony in general, and especially the district of Cariboo, and, it is almost superfluous to add, in endeavoring to consummate the Confederation of our colony with the Dominion of Canada on the terms which have already been agreed upon.

There are, however, two points which have yet to be decided upon in the terms of Confederation—viz., the substitution of the Canadian Tariff in lieu of our own, and the adoption of Responsible Government.

For the first, I declare myself unequivocally an advocate; and in regard to the second, I shall support its introduction simultaneously with the political enfranchisement of British Columbia on its exchanging its present anomalous position for that of an independent province in the noble Dominion of Canada.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your most obdt. servant,

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

WILLIAM CREEK.

Winter seems to have set his white seal on the creek with the intention of keeping it there till spring, and mining operations are being regulated with the view of meeting the demands of the weather. Open work is at an end. A few of the hydraulic companies have prepared for drifting, and a few new companies have commenced work for the winter in old ground. All expectations of a freshet have ceased to exist, and the bedrock drain will stand as it has remained during the summer. If thoroughly re-opened and repaired a number of companies who have done little or nothing since spring will doubtless resume active operations and offer an increased field for employment. Apparently, under these circumstances, the prospects for the winter are far more encouraging than anticipated in view of the impending freshet. Work on the bedrock drain is to be commenced next Monday.

The Flume co. have finished work for the season in the Forward ground, and we understand that the final clean-up was satisfactory and indicative of future good results. The Cornish co. washed up 63 oz. for the week.—The Cariboo co. got out 92 oz.; the Ballarat, 140 oz.; the Forest Rose, 104 oz.; and the St. George co., 30 oz. for the week. The inexplicable origin of the Forest Rose lead has become still more unaccountable by the discovery of another channel, which so far appears to be distinct and separate from the one hitherto worked, although the two unite below the present workings. The new channel is precisely similar in formation, yields the same kind of gold, and is equally as rich as the other. The steady yield of the Ballarat claim is most gratifying—to the public as well as to the owners—because it has been fairly earned and contributes largely to the general welfare. It also furnishes proof of the great store of wealth lying in the ground above and below which hitherto has only been pierced or scratched, and presents a large field for the profitable employment of capital and labor for an indefinite period of time. The success of the Ballarat co. may be regarded as an assurance of the existence of an immense wealth about to be disinterred by the enterprise of the Kurtz and Lane co.

STOUT GULCH.

The Mucho Oro co. washed up 26 oz. for the week and the Taffvale co. 30 oz.

LOWHEE CREEK.

The Brown co. washed up 25 oz. for the week. The Victoria co. have extended their lower drive up to the prospect hole put down from the upper drive. It is now intended to work both drives. The Black Bull co. expect to carry their tunnel to bedrock very soon, for which indications are favorable. The tunnel for the quartz ledge in the Brown claim is being put in at the rate of ten feet per week.

MOSQUITO CREEK.

The Willow co. are making an ounce per day to the hand from a top-streak which runs through their claim, and it is believed that this pay stratum runs through a considerable portion of the creek. The Little Minnie co., working in the once famous Minnehaha ground, are getting out small pay. The Discovery co. have completed their ditch from Red gulch, which will enable them to work during the winter. The Tabb and Holman companies are making wages more or less. On the companies are doing about the same as before noted.

FRENCH CREEK.

The Clark co. have been driven out of their shaft by water, and are preparing to run a tunnel. Everything looks favorable for a channel in the ground where they have sunk this their second shaft. All the strata are very encouraging in appearance and position. The ground does not appear to be so deep in the lower part as in the upper part of the creek—a reversal of the ordinary rule in mining creeks in Cariboo. The tunnel of the Cosmopolitan co. is 130 feet below the surface. The Clark co. expect to see bedrock at a depth of 60 or 70 feet. The tunnel of the North American co. is also very deep. The great depth and width of the channel on this creek, together with the probability of its being rich, judging from the prospects obtained on the rim or high rock, make it a matter of importance to see it fairly tested. The Cosmopolitan co. have endeavored to do so with a perseverance and courage which might be classified as heroism.

BEGGS GULCH.

The Welsh claim continues to pay $5 per day to the hand. The Golden Hope co., who have opened a tunnel with the view of striking a continuation of the pay formerly found in the Skym ground, have struck a little pay, and believe they will succeed in finding the lead. The tunnel is in 200 feet. The Trust-to-Luck co., at the mouth of the gulch, have struck a bluff in their tunnel, which has cost a season's labor to run. The Jim co. are still at work. The impression of outsiders is that they are doing very well. A company adjoining the Jim co. are running a tunnel, looking to a continuation of the pay in the Jim ground.

ANTLER CREEK.

The Boyd and Harkins' companies are making from $10 to $12 per day to the hand. Nearly all the other companies have had to close operations owing to the frost. The results of mining on this creek have not been as good as usual owing to the late spring and the great body of water which swelled the creek till late in the summer.

LIGHTNING CREEK.

The Spruce co. have struck bedrock after running eleven sets ahead, and have returned and commenced to bottom up. The Lightning co. having got through bedrock have struck it as rich as ever. The Ross co. are reported to be doing very well. The Jayne claim is also paying well. The South Wales co. are fixing up for winter. The VanWinkle co. have resumed sinking their shaft, which is down about 70 feet more or less, and are now confident of reaching the bottom in a short time. The Gladstone co. have indications of shortly breaking through the rimrock.

VAN WINKLE CREEK.

The McCormick co. have got a shaft down over 50 feet and struck water, which, together with other indications, is regarded as favorable to the idea sought to be realised by the company, that the old channel runs under the right hill, thence down to the Jaynes claim, where it pays well and steadily.

NELSON CREEK.

The First Chance co. continue making from $16 to $20 per day to the hand. The Montgomery co. are in with their tunnel 100 feet under the left bank. The Every Chance co. have a tunnel in on the same side of the creek about 130 feet. The Butcher co. sank a shaft 22 feet and commenced drifting. The First Chance co. intend to work during the winter.

The John co. bottomed at a depth of 80 ft. and struck fair prospects. They have subsequently been engaged in rigging up a pump. The Good Hope co. are reported to be in the steady receipt of good pay.

The Warren co. have commenced sinking another shaft, the machinery for which is nearly completed.

Express—Barnard's express did not arrive here until Saturday night last, having been detained by the bad condition of the road and the departure of the steamer from Soda creek a day later than usual. There were several passengers by this express. Mr and Mrs Walker and four children, from Canada, to the Bonaparte settlement; Mrs Hoey and three children, from London, Ontario, to Clinton; Mr and Mrs Hyde and child, from New Westminster to Beaver Pass; Mons. Ismardie, from Paris, France, to Chimney creek; and Mrs. F. Neufelder, from Soda creek to Richfield. The down express left on Monday morning with two passengers—Capt. Joseph Blinn, late of the Caledonia co., bound for Maine, and H. Coulter, of the Brouse co., for San Francisco. The next express is expected here this afternoon, and will leave on Monday morning.

At it Again—The sluice-box robbers were at work again on Monday night last, and cleaned up the dump box and sluices of the Conklin co., below Cameronton, on the right of the creek. The company clean up twice a week, and there being no night-shift on Monday, the thieves took advantage of everybody's absence and did their work in a very miner-like manner. They turned the water into the ditch, took up the riffles, and made a clean sweep of everything just as thoroughly as if at work under the orders of the foreman.

New Creek—Captain Moffatt, from Stuart's lake, brought news to Quesnelmouth of the discovery of a new creek in Omineca, which is reported to prospect well. A miner who came to Stuart's lake from Germansen creek for supplies furnished the news, but declined to give further particulars than that the new creek was not far from Germansen creek, and that the miners on the latter creek were doing well.

Ashcroft Races—Mr James Ward's sorrel horse won the Thompson river stakes in competition with Doc. English's Oregon horse, T. Buie's mare, and Poole's grey horse Kingbald—mile heats, best two out of three. Kingbald, which was the winner of the President's purse at the races held here on the 4th July last, gave the sorrel horse a close run.

From Fort Garry—On Monday last the inhabitants of Quesnelmouth were favored with the interesting novelty of an arrival of a solitary traveller from Fort Garry, Province of Manitoba. He is a young Englishman, and left the scene of rebellion on the 25th of May last to avoid the conscription which Riel ordained. He was for two months on the eastern side and in the Rocky Mountains, being entirely ignorant of his position, but finally struck a gap through which he came to the western side of the mountains and subsequently found his way to Fraser river. He had one of Arrowsmith's maps with him, but was nevertheless unable to determine whether the river was the Fraser or the Columbia. He supposed it was the latter. Before getting to the river he underwent a great deal of hardship in consequence of his supplies having been used up during the time that he was lost in the mountains. In this extremity he was compelled to part with his horse, which he reluctantly killed for its meat. This also gave out, and he then subsisted on whatever he could catch in the shape of game, of which rats were the principal portion. On striking the river he determined to take the chances of reaching some settlement, and built a raft upon which he floated down to a point above Fort George, where he for the first time during many weary months met a human being. A party of Indians were encamped above Fort George, and from them he learned that the river was the Fraser. Having some Hudson Bay Company's paper money with him—the currency of the country he had left—he bought a canoe from the Indians and proceeded onward to Fort George. Here he stopped for rest and refreshment for a short time, and afterwards found no difficulty in reaching Quesnelmouth. The inhabitants of Quesnelmouth, always "open as day to melting charity," subscribed freely for the relief of their adventurous visitor, who is an intelligent person about 30 years of age. He is of opinion that horseflesh, although tolerably good when hunger roughens the appetite, is far from comparable with Cariboo beef. On his arrival at Quesnelmouth he had a promissory note for a crown ($1 25) on the Hudson Bay Company, payable at their offices in London sixty days after presentation. We hope the Company's agents will redeem it at sight. The loyal refugee is well informed as to the causes and objects of Riel's rebellion, which agree with the accounts of the same published in the Canadian papers. We have not had an opportunity of conversing with the traveller, whose story of his adventures would doubtless furnish considerable instructive and useful information, but have been favored with the foregoing brief particulars through the courtesy of Mr T. Harper.

Among the recent departures from Omineca or for the intermediate country were Messrs. Colbraith, Charles K. Wright, P. Dunlevy and M. Bohanan. The Hon. Edgar Dewdney, we understand, has also left for Germansen creek. The recent discovery has been most advantageous to the upper country farmers, who have found so much of a market at the new mines for their flour as to relieve them considerably of surplus stock. A large quantity of flour was lately forwarded to Germansen creek.

Hospital—The miners of Antler creek have subscribed $40 50 for the benefit of the Cariboo hospital. Mr Frank Bissonnette placed the money in the hands of the Grand Jury subscription committee on Thursday, who handed it over to Dr. Bell, the Governor of the Hospital. The total amount—including the sum above mentioned—given to the hospital funds through the agency of the Grand Jury committee is $1163.

Clinton Items—A piece of silver ore has been sent to the Assay Office, New Westminster, from Clinton. It is reported that a silver ledge had been discovered somewhere near Clinton, but its precise whereabouts is kept a secret. A fire company is about to be organised at Clinton. Mr James Noolan is spoken of for Captain. The company intend to use hose in connection with water furnished from the hill behind the town in the same manner as the William Creek Fire Brigade.

The Cariboo Amateurs held a meeting on Monday last to hear the report of the Liquidation Scheme Committee, which showed that their efforts had been completely successful in connection with the scheme. By the 1st of next month the indebtedness of the Amateurs and Fire Brigade on account of the Theatre and Firemen's Hall will be discharged.

Memory presides over the past: Fell's Coffee over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs; but Fell's Coffee has but one shrine, and that is every breakfast table. Its aroma walks the earth like a spirit, and can be found for sale at every respectable dealer's in British Columbia. Beware of spurious imitations.

Adams' grist mill at Soda creek is again in operation.

THE PAUCITY OF LEGISLATIVE MATERIAL.

Ed. Sentinel: A little of your space and patience, if you please, for a few remarks about demagogues. Demagogues figure in history many centuries B C. An enlightened government tolerates them. Is it any wonder, then, that they should have found a lodge in the vast wilderness of British Columbia? Grumbling is British and constitutional, but the demagogue is not satisfied with that glorious privilege. He would uproot everything that grows in natural fashion and plant his own upas ideas for growth in the free soil guarded by the omnipresent flag. The hobby of the Cariboo demagogue is responsible government. He would ride it roughshod over the government of expediency, which is bottomed by common sense. Responsible government, forsooth. Are we prepared for it? Let the paucity of legislative material answer. Where are the responsible government candidates? Nowhar. Our honorable and trustworthy delegate-member is the only man for Galway. Does not what he said in the Council stand approved by the circumstances of the time? What did he say in the Council? Said he, in answer to honorable Humphreys:

"I am opposed to responsible government, and I do not believe the chief desire of the people is for such a form. I am as well acquainted with the people from Yale to Cariboo as the honorable member for Lillooet, and I do not think he fairly represented their views in regard to responsible government. The paucity of legislative material is such that we may have bad men to represent us. In its present state the machinery of responsible government is not adapted to the colony. It would be like taking the machinery of the Great Eastern and applying it to a dairy churn. I do not think the real sense of the colony has ever been ascertained, and I think that if the present constitution were modified, giving the representative element a preponderance WE SHOULD GET ALL WE REQUIRED!!!"

Mark that, ye demagogues. The honorable gentleman said that we—including you, of course—should get all we required. And won't we? To be sure we will. ALL—take notice—everything, always excepting jawbone and prospected claims, which do not lie within the province of a Legislative Council to grant free gratis for nothing. But your demagogue will never be satisfied. He wants other people to work for him, and to eat their strawberries and cream without a cash equivalent—for jawbone in fact. Haven't we the word of our honorable and eloquent member for it that responsible government was a failure in Jamaica? Why, then, should we seek to establish responsible government in British Columbia? It may be said that the failure of responsible government was attributable to the hot weather in Jamaica because it has been a success in Canada, and consequently may succeed in British Columbia, where the weather is cold, especially in Cariboo. Will men never learn to reason from the data of history and contemporaneous fact? Is it not palpable to the most short-sighted—not to say the blind—that forms of government are as varied and complex as the various countries and races of the earth? "If the present constitution were modified, giving the representative element a preponderance, we should get all we required." Now, as nobody has come forward to contest the honorable member's undoubted right to re election, is it not clear that even the modification of the constitution was unnecessary, uncalled for and a waste of precious time to bring it about? The paucity of legislative material is appalling. Instead of modifying, we ought to preserve and carefully guard the enlightened system of government under which we have so long and gloriously prospered. The hon. member for Lillooet was "green" enough to assert that the people from Yale to Cariboo would not accept any conditions that would not give them control over their own affairs. How absurd! He deserved to be suspended. Is it not plain that he didn't know what he was talking about—at least as concerns the intelligent people of Cariboo. The constitution has been modified according to the statesmanlike views of our honorable member, and the people—of Cariboo—have shown that they don't care a button for the control of their local affairs because they don't want anybody else to represent them. What a smart "fellow" he is, to be sure. No doubt it was all his doing. He is a "darned sight smarter man" than the honorable member for Lillooet. He struck a true lead when he took to legislating, but that's not surprising, for he always did strike the lead. The responsible government demagogues, however, will not cry "Hail to the Chief." They want to get their fingers into the public purse without a voucher. Let them bring out their man. They dar'ent. He couldn't face the music, the eloquence, of our honorable member, who is the right man in the wrong place, because it isn't good enough for him. Demagogues, hush—dry up!

Philemon Jonassohn.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To the Electors of Lytton-Yale District.

GENTLEMEN,—

In reply to a request of many of the Electors that I would accept the nomination as candidate for the representation of Lytton and Yale District in the Legislative Council of British Columbia, and rest on their support at the coming election, I accept and declare myself on the situation.

As my political opinions are known throughout this colony, particularly as regards the question of Confederation, it will suffice for me to say that for years I have been and am to-day one of its warmest and faithful supporters, provided that the fundamental and express terms of our Union contract were equitable with other Provinces within the Dominion. The conditions which form the basis of the political, admits of two important issues to be submitted to the wisdom and intelligence of the country, to be decided by the ballot box—Customs Tariff and Responsible Government.

Clause 7 of the Terms:—"It is agreed that the existing tariff and excise duties shall continue in force in British Columbia until the railway from the Pacific connects with that of Canada, unless the Legislature of British Columbia should decide sooner to accept the Tariff and excise laws of Canada.

I am in favor of the Dominion Tariff on these grounds:—That it is equitable; that it will save at least $130,000 per annum to the Colony, whereas with the continuation of the existing tariff that amount and more would yearly slip into the Dominion treasury in support of a false political plea, called protection, whereas there is nothing to protect, and that in order to save not only the sum of $130,000 to the colony, but also that it will serve as a preventive to any unnecessary political agitation hereafter.

Clause 14 of Terms:—"The conditions of the Executive authority and of the Legislature of British Columbia shall, subject to the provisions of the British North American Act, 1867, continue as existing at the time of union until altered by the authority of the said Act, it being at the same time understood that the Government of the Dominion will readily consent to the introduction of Responsible Government when desired by the inhabitants of British Columbia. It being also understood that it is the intention of the Governor to amend the existing constitution in order to have the majority of the members of the Legislative Council elective."

I am not in favor of any such amendment as referred to in the latter part of Clause 14; but I will support as one of the conditions of union the introduction of a free form of government on a responsible basis, giving to the people, with union, the management of their own local affairs.

Our popular local parliament to constitute one chamber, composed of twenty members; six of whom having the confidence of the people, will represent the Government, their tenure of office depending on their having a majority in the House. Any form of government for British Columbia, whose institutions is not free and responsible, I will oppose.

In respect to inter-oceanic communication by rail, this great enterprise has always found in me one of its earliest and most faithful advocates; and as the Dominion Government, as a condition, undertake to secure the commencement simultaneously, within two years from the date of union, of the construction of a railway from the Pacific towards the Rocky Mountains, and the completion of such road within ten years from date of union, I believe it to be the duty of the country to observe that this stipulation in the union contract is faithfully fulfilled.

I will make no remark at present as regards the other terms of our political contract, believing that they will be unobjectionable to the country.

The abolition of Road Tolls on flour of colonial manufacture, if not the entire removal of the gate at Clinton, I will most willingly support, other local issues to be dealt with through local legislation.

In conclusion, I pledge myself to support the political principles above mentioned, study the interests and requirements of my constituents, and endeavor to promote the general welfare and prosperity of British Columbia; and in order to more fully explain those principles, I hope to meet you at an early day.

I am, Gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,
ROBT. SMITH.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To Physicians.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœe, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation.

With a feeling of profound confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
