Suzie Q retires from service

The Sunshine Coast Queen will sail its last run on Monday night if everything goes as planned with the introduction of the Queen of New Westminster onto the Howe Sound crossing.

Assistant Terminal Agent Barry Lynn told the Coast News on Saturday that all auxiliary employees had been laid off in preparation for the changeover and a reduction of services that will eliminate at least one night run as well as both the 5:30 a.m. and 7:40 a.m. sailings. The employees laid off the Sunshine Coast Queen have been sent to the manning pool and will be re-stationed on the new service.

The carrying capacity of the Queen of New Westminster is roughtly equivilant to that of the 'Suzy' with a total of approximately 200 vehicles per crossing. The Tsawwassen will remain the smaller of the two with a capacity of 140 vehicles.

Re-printed below is a proposed schedule for the crossing. It must be noted however, that sources within B. C. Ferries have stated that due to the poor connections with the Powell River crossing, as this schedule now stands, the Minister has decided to review the situation and minor alterations may be made before the schedule is officially released.

The lower Gibsons merchants and businessmen met at the Dogwood Cafe last week to discuss the future of their section of town.

Topics under discussion included the future development of the area and plans to attract more business to the lower village.

37.5 mills for schools

Local school board administrator Roy Mills told the Coast News last Friday that the increase in the provincial base mill rate for school purposes will raise the local school board mill rate to 44.97 in the coming year.

Mills stressed that these figures were based on the current "provisional budget" and added that either the school board or the provincial government might change the figures before they become effective next spring.

The announcement by Provincial Education Minister Pat McGeer last Thursday stated that the provincial government will need 37.5 mills of basic property levy in the coming year. The rate has grown from 26.5 in 1975 to 32.5 in 1976 to about 37.5 mills in 1977, an increase of almost fifty percent.

Should all other factors remain the same, the increase in the school board tax on property assessments will bring the local rate within the village of Gibsons to 82.78 mills, while Sechelt will rise to an even 74 mills.

A study in contrasts

Two Novembers -- a study in contrast. If you think we've been having funny weather, you're right.

The 16 year average precipitation for November is 180.1 mm. November 1975 netted a record of 277.9 mm of which 24.2 was snow, also a record. This year, November had a low of 65.3 mm of rain, which is quite a contrast. In 1975 precipitation was recorded on 22 days, 16 consecutively, out of 30, compared with just 12 days, this year.

In 1975 the temperature varied between a daytime high of 17 on November 4th, to an overnight low of -5C on November 29th. This year's daytime high, also on November 4th, was 13 C but the overnight low was only -1 on November 27th and 28th. So we have been lucky so far this winter, lets hope it will continue throughout January and February.

Appointment

John E. Nicholson, currently the Principal of Belmont Elementary School in Langley has been assigned the position of Superintedent of Instuction, effective January 1st, 1977, by the local School District #46 Board of Trustees.

Nicholson has previously served in Kamloops, Hudson Hope, Greenwood and Langley and has a Masters Degree in Education. Main interests include the development of Physical Education programs and the Elementary Reading program.

The Sechelt Teacher's Association claimed last week that the administrative post was unneccesary and that the money would be better spend in the classroom.

Shannon returned

Robert James Shannon, the suspected murderer of local Gibsons resident Bill Black was arrested on October 29th in Mexico City.

Superintendent Northrop of the Vancouver R.C.M.P. told the Coast News on Friday that both Canada and the U. S. were seeking to extradite Shannon, an escapee from an Oregon State Penitentiary. Northrop stated that Mexico was sympathetic to the Canadian request and expected that the Canadian government would be given priority in this situation.

Shannon, known locally as Shawn McCord, will be brought back to Sechelt for preliminary trial if the Canadian government is granted extradition. He will then be sent on to the Vancouver Assize courts, if found guilty, to stand for a murder charge.

Editors Note: Sunday, December 4th.: Shannon has been deported from Mexico and is now in the custody of the Vancouver Police. He is expected to be brought to the Sunshine Coast next week for a preliminary trial.

Voting confirmed

A re-count of the aldermanic voting for Sechelt Council by Judge Campbell of the Vancouver county court has resulted in a confirmation of the totals as issued on the Sunday after the election by Village Clerk Tom Wood.

Wood told the Coast News last Friday that the judge appeared to believe that it was not within his powers to question the legality of the votes, only to count the votes and tabulate the return. Candidate High Baird asked for the judicial recount last week after it was made known that at least two people who cast votes were not in fact eligible to vote.

Baird told the Coast News that he would be unable to continue the fight due to the high legal costs and the fact that he had already taken too much time away from his business.

Former Alderman Frank Lietner will now take up the seat once again despite the fact that the vote turned out to be a 137-137 tie between Lietner and barbershop owner Frode Jorgenson. Jorgenson earlier stated that he would step down in Lietner's favor.

Baird, in fourth position for the two vacant seats with 132, has already announced his intention to run again in next year's election.

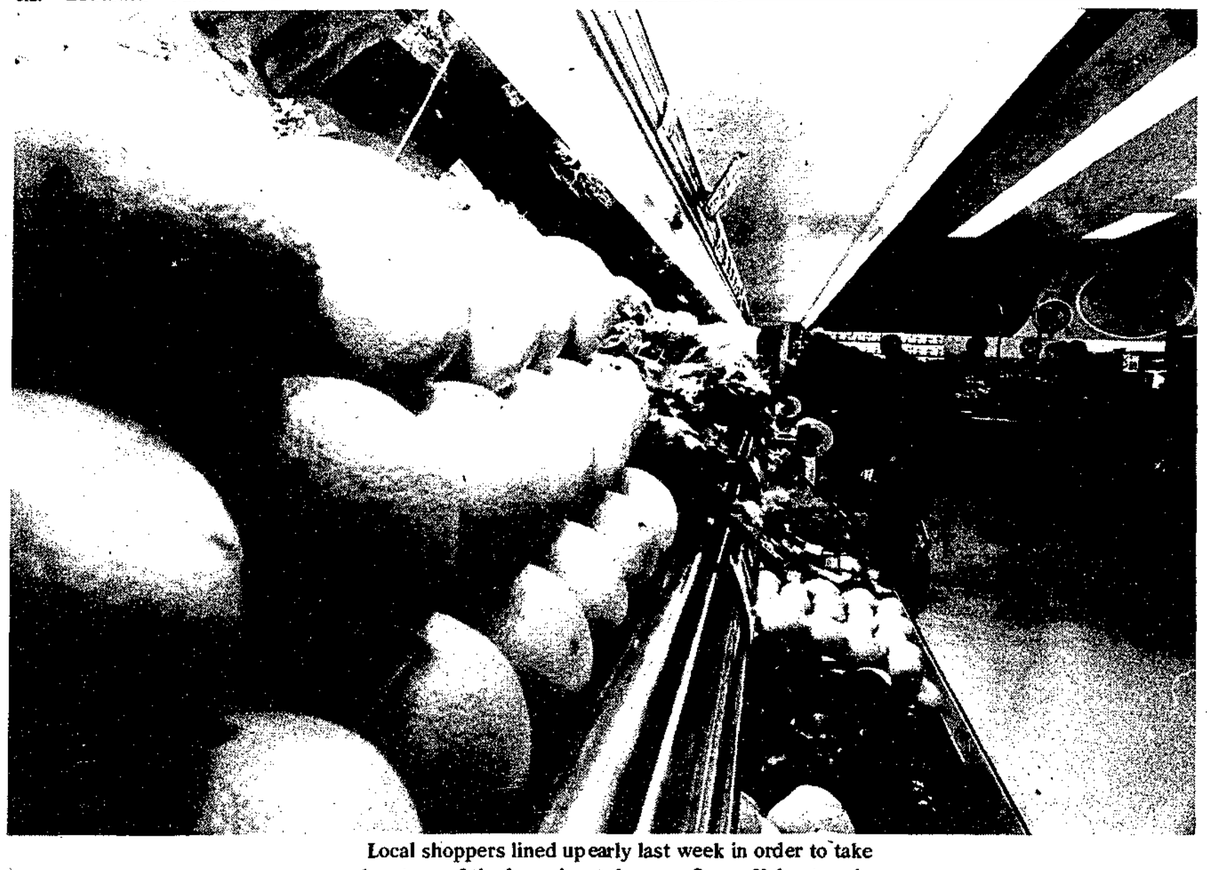
Curling grant

The Honourable Sam Bawlf, Minister of Recreation and Conservation, says that a grant of $16,666.00 to the Gibson's Winter Club has been approved.

Mr. Bawlf said, "This grant raises the provincial contribution to one-third of the construction cost of a four-sheet curling rink. The project had previously received $50,000.00 from the province."

The facility includes a lounge, viewing area, multi-purpose activity room as well as the rink.

"Volunteer labour, donations and enthusiastic community support played a major role in making this recreational facility a reality", stated Mr. Bawlf.



Local shoppers lined up early last week in order to take advantage of the bargains at the new Super-Valu store in Gibsons.

Santa Claus paid a visit to the new Sunnycrest Mall in Gibsons last week and as the picture shows he was every bit as jolly as his reputation has lead us to believe.

Santa will be visiting the mall every Friday evening from 6:30 - 9:00 and every Saturday from 2;30 - 5:00 from now until Christmas.

Santa will a little bit of help in setting the holiday spirit ablaze with appearances by the Gibsons Elementary School carolers on Dec. 15th from 1:00 to 1:30, the Elphinstone Secondary band and carolers on Dec. 17th from 7:00 - 8:00 and the Pioneer Girls Carolers on Dec. 22 from 1:00 - 1:30.

Superintendent

The decision by the board of trustees of School District #46 to go ahead with the appointment of a Mr. John Nicholson as Superintendent of Instruction, despite the objections of the Sechelt Teacher's Association and other groups is likely to once again increase the continuing confrontation between this board and it's teaching employees. The result, if not carefully handled will be a demoralization of the local staffs and a corresponding drop in the quality of education given.

The teachers feel that the board is only too willing to grant additional funds for administrative personnel while at the same time refusing to put extra staff and equipment in the classrooms were it is desperately needed. In addition the teachers felt that they should have at least a minority voice in approving the candidate for the post, although they still remained in opposition to the concept of the post itself. The board again saw fit to deny the teachers this right on the gounds that there were too many local applications.

What the board has accomplished is the hiring of a top flight educator who will be thrust into a post which the teachers, whom he must work with, describe as "useless". Nicholson will have little support and will be in the position of having to justify his very existence on a regular basis. Under those conditions we must agree with the teachers, it was badly handled. Now, it up to the STA to prove that they will not allow politics to influence the quality of education. Give Nicholson a chance. Not for the sake of the board but for the sake of the students he might be able to help.

Recount

A Vancouver county court judge backed up Sechelt council's original vote count for last month'selection at a special judicial recount in Vancouver last Wednesday, but unfortunately the main points of contention were left unsolved.

High Baird the candidate for council who requested the recount after losing by five votes, wished to see a full examination of the votes. The judge however, went by the book and decided that his sole responsibility was to count the votes accepted by the returning officer. With at least two people known to have voted illegally the decision seems at the least, slightly remarkable. Especially when the situation also involves a dead tie between candidates Jorgenson and Lietner.

Baird later announced that he is unable to proceed with further legal action to solve the matter, as his business has already been neglected and the costs would be prohibitive.

Once again it has been proven that if something can go wrong, it will happen in Sechelt council. Due to the fact that Jorgenson is willing to step down in favour of Lietner there will be no run-off to break the tie. With at least two illegal votes cast and only a five vote spread between Lietner, Jorgenson and Baird we will probably never know who actually has the right to take that seat on council in January.

At least Baird has proven that the "village elders" can no longer expect to get away with back-room private countings the day after the election. If the next election is not run cleaner, someone may take the matter to the courts and fight it through to a new election.

As the village returning officer stated at Mondays recount, "it was a waste of time". If she does her job right the first time, next year we may not have to bother.

Mill Rate

The Minister of Education, Pat McGeer announced last week that the instructional unit for 1977 will be $24,500 and that the basic mill rate will be raised once again to a new high of 37.5 mills. In 1975 the rate was only 26.5 mills.

Local school board administrator Roy Mills claimed last Friday that the increased government mill rate will push the total local school taxes up to about 44.97 mills, an increase of about 4.06 mills above the 40.91 mills collected by the board last year. The school tax rate will remain at about 51% of the total tax bill within the Village of Gibsons and about 58% within the Village of Sechelt.

The increases announced by McGeer prove only too clearly that areas such as this with high land assessments will always be the ones to receive the most benefit from this formula.

The time has come for education costs to be split up on a more even basis. There are too many local residents who will just not be able to afford the 80 odd mills of tax that is to be levied within the village.

Ha! whare ye gaun, ye crowlin ferlie?
Your impudence protects you sairly;
I canna say but yet strunt rarely
Owre gauze and lace,
Tho' faith! I fear ye dine but sparely
On sic a place.

Ye ugle, creepin, blastit wonner,
Detested, shunn'd by saunt an' sinner,
How daur ye set your fit upon her--
Sae fine a lady!
Gae somewhere else and seek your dinner
On some poor body.

Commentary

Moral pollution?

The Vancouver Police Department released a report on the juvenile justice system last week that claims the errant youths are costing the city more than $11 million per annum. Though, the figure for such crime on the Sunshine Coast is by no means as high, the problem still exists and what's more, is increasing in both frequency and violence every year. A constant stream of vandalizations, thefts and burglaries are reported by local residents and the police each week, most of which never see print due to the simple fact that they long ago ceased to be news.

The report also states that the onus for these crimes should fall on the parents and recommended opening up juvenile trials to the public and the media. The assumption, presumably being that if their friends were aware of their illicit activities, they would be embarrased into "going straight".

The report places little or no blame on the police themselves as well as other juvenile justice departments such as the courts, probation service or the Department of Human Resources, as might be expected.

Though it is hard to fault the report's recommendation that parents be held responsible for habitually criminal youth, in most other respects the police have once again shown that they understand little of the motivation or peer group pressure behind the rising juvenile crime rate. Opening up the court cases of juveniles to the press will merely serve to immortalize in print or film, the actions of a few. Those few will then become the idols of their friends who will strive to do them one better and make a bigger splash on page 1.

Then after recommending an "opening up of the courts", a further recommendation calls for "programs to be set up to counteract the problems arising from detrimental media productions". The report agains does not offer further clarification of that phrase.

Yet another recommendation in the police report calls for increased juvenile jail sentences and a new type of higher security juvenile institution for habitual offenders. The report does not seem to take into consideration the psychological effects of spending half of your adolescent years behind bars. Can we really expect a person to develop into a responsible citizen if when we still consider them too legally young to be responsible for their own actions, we at the same time punish them in a manner normally reserved for adults who are legally aware of their responsibilities?

The figures that accompany the report show better than any description by the police, the nature of the beast known as juvenile delinquency. The report claims that the $11 million in damages and losses to the city is comprised of $4.5 million in shoplifting, $4.5 million in arson, $1.7 million in residential burglaries and $500,000 in wilful damage to private and public property. Especially in the case of the arson attempts on schools etc., surely the answer lies more in psychological programs within the school to isolate and treat those youths who are so incapable of operating within the perscribed system that they might be willing to burn the school to the ground to escape that confrontation. All that can be done to counteract the other problems such as burglary, shoplifting and theft is to tighten security measures and make the parents responsible for the actions of their children.

If a fourteen year old youth is out snatching purses or stealing tape decks at 2 a.m., we must ask the parents why? If a couple of sixteen year old girls are caught shoplifting from the local department store on a Saturday afternoon, then the onus must fall on the shoplifters themselves, as it is unreasonable to expect that kind of control from parents, at least on a first offence. But what about the fifteen year old boy who is being hauled up on his thirty-seventh breaking and entering charge or the seventeen year old girl who has just been busted four times for soliciting? Will tougher juvenile jails help solve that situation? Are the parents capable of any control?

The onus must fall on somebody, but more than likely it is society as a whole. Parental permissiveness, lax courts, and "detrimental media productions" have done their work. The juvenile delinquent is too often a hero to his peers. It's a moral pollution that becomes harder to undo with each step we take towards a more regimented and faster changing world.

Perhaps, all we can do is learn to live with it, just controlling it as best we can.

Perhaps Walt Disney's most well loved film is Peter Pan, which is coming to the Twilight Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 9th, 10th, and 11th, with a Matinee at 2:00 p.m. Saturday. Below: During an ill-fated duel with Pan, the captain lost his hand. Hook's loss becomes the crocodile's gain. Fortunately for Hook, the croc swallows an alarm clock, which ticks loudly. Don't miss this exciting and unforgettable show.

Re-print...Re-print...Re-print...Re-prin

This article first appeared in the Coast News March 27, 1952.

Although a home-town boy is never quite accepted a prohpet by his neighbours, Les Peterson did, nevertheless, give the village something to think about when he addressed Kinsmen last Thursday. He advocated immediate planning for parks and playgrounds within easy reach of everyone in Gibsons.

Strangely, and without his knowing it, he repeated the theme used by Gus Sivertz, Vancouver Sun writer, when he addressed the board of trade three days earlier. Gus pointed out the importance of setting aside small tracts of land for children and for visitors.

A town can mushroom with new businesses and with homes and find, when the sawing and hammering is done, that no land has been set aside for a park bench, fish pond, and swings. Already there is limited access to the beach, and unless some planning is done now, the youngsters of Gibsons will have to go to Vancouver's English Bay or some other distant beach for a swim -- when we have miles of shoreline right around home.

Nobody wants to see Gibsons become another Coney Island, but as long as the ferry is running we've got to realize that day-picnickers are going to come around this way.

As Gus Sivertz said, one of the finest things we can do is show them that we like to have them drop in to visit us.

But, at the present time, there is precious little for a Sunday visitor to do when he gets here--unless, of course, he has friends who'll take him in.

Harmony Hall prepares for New Years

Well, to get back to business, how did you like the Gibsons Lions Club dinner? I throught it was fabulous, a million thanks to the Lions and also the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch #109 Royal Canadian Legion who did the cooking of such a wonderful meal. It was just marvellous ladies and on behalf of the members of Harmony Branch #38, O.A.P.O., I extend to you my heartfelt and grateful thanks for the job you did so well. I can see now why everyone around Gibsons looks so healthy, how could they look otherwise with such a wonderful bunch of cooks around. I would also like to thank all the members of the business community who donated all the wonderful gifts, you sure made a lot of people happy, so thanks for being so generous and may you all continue to prosper in your different kinds of business. Congratulations to Armand Wold and his vocalists for their wonderful music and entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. I was pleased and also surprised at seeing so many new faces at the dinner and was wondering if you can get out for a dinner, why can't you get out to the meetings?

If transportation is your problem don't let that worry you as we have a transportation committee formed, all you have to do is get on the phone and call Mr. Wally Green at 886-2963 or myself at 886-2363 and we will arrange it for you.

Our carpet bowling is really growing, we had 36 attending last week, the pool table and shuffleboard are also doing a landslide business, it is a pleasure to see so many seniors having a good time. To all our carpet bowlers don't forget December 16th is our Annual Social Gathering, so bring along some extra goodies and let 'shave a ball!

Don't forget Friday December 31st we are having our New Years Eve party, this is for Branch #38 members only but you are invited to bring a friend. I don't exactly know what the ladies are figuring on but I surmise it will be a smorgasbord, so bring along a little extra so that we can bring in the New Year on a full stomach. No liquor will be served so it is a case of B.Y.O.B. and ice and mixes will be supplied free. The party, I presume, will start at about 8:00 p.m. so let us know in lots of time if you need transportation. Music will be supplied by "The Harmony Hi Fi" so come on out and let's bring in the New Year with a bang. I hope 1977 will be as successful as 1976 has been, we have come a long way in the past two years, so lets continue to keep up the good work.

To get back to the Lions Dinner, I can't let it pass without saying thanks a million to the Sechelt Pipe Band who were just wonderful. It sure makes the old blood tingle when you hear the skirl of the Pipes, the tapping of the drums and last but not least, Moe Girard on the big bass drum, he sure can handle those "twiddle" sticks. Thanks a lot fellows for the wonderful job you did. It doesn't matter what nationality you are, the skirl of the pipes sure gets the old adrenalin flowing.

Carpet bowling will finish for this year on December 16th and start up again on January 6th. As many of you are aware, we now have a pay phone installed in the hall and the number is 886-9921.

For all those who wish to take out their membership cards for 1977, Vic Eckstein, our new Recording Secretary will be pleased to accomodate you over at the hall each Thrusday, until the 16th, between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. so come along and keep Vic busy.

Have you had your "Swine Flu" shot yet? If not phone 886-2228 and make your appointment, if I keep this up they will be calling me Dr. Holt, but don't forget it is to your own benefit and good health, so get these shots, as we want to see you around for a long time yet.

It is getting closer to the Christmas season, so on behalf of Kay and myself, I extend to you our warmest and sincerest greetings for a truly Merry Christmas and a bright, happy and healthy New Year. Don't forget the New Years Eve party (members only). Come on our and visit with friends you haven't seen for a long time. Now I must close as I have a deadline to meet, so as they say in the media, "Thats thirty for tonight". Good luck and God bless you all.

Auxiliary

The Sechelt Women's Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital is presently collecting signatures for the Christmas Greeting list to be published in the local newspapers. The list is open to the public so you need not be a member to have your name included. If you are interested, contact Betty Monk at 885-9310 or leave your name and donation at Uncle Mick's Ladies Shoe Store in the Trail Bay Mall, Sechelt.

Nutcracker

Editor:

On Wednesday, 1st. December, the Arlys Peters' music students and the Pioneer Girls of Calvary Baptist Church, travelled by bus and three station wagons to attend the group matinee at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre, of the Nutcracker Suite. It was delightful beyond words. The young people were involved in games and puzzles on the ferry trip over, and joined in singing Christmas carols on the return trip. We are grateful to the principals of the secondary and elementary schools who viewed this outing as a learning experience and gave approval to the absence of the young people from regular classes. We are grateful to the parents who helped us shepherd this large group. We had a fun day from beginning to end. Everybody contributed to the good day; the youngsters themselves by their excellent behaviour; the parents for their helpful co-operation; Rick Andrews our bus driver; The Queen Elizabeth Theatre for their second mile help, and McDonald's for their efficiency in packaging food for eighty hungry Gibsonites so that it was still hot when we got it. This outing is now part of our memories of lovely happenings.

From the Back Porch

Pete Svensen figgers we shud go fishin' this weekend an he asts if I'll giver her a gud try so wen I cum home the wife has jest flang out this here plant wich showed up last Christmas.

It shur luks like a terminal case to me so I asts where it cum frum an I ses these here plants is sposed to perk up wen you talk to them.

The wife ses she got it frum her mother who tride talkin' to it an I ses that explains it, becus she is ony gud fer ragweed, poison ivy an bullrushes.

She gets real worked up but finely she stops fer breath.

....an bindwort, I ses.

Wot the hell's bindwort? she asts an I ses I don't ritely know, but it shur sounds fitten fer yur mother.

By the time she has rund down from cussin' I got the tent out an the eiderdown bag rollt up.

I ses she shud have tried talkin' to it herself an she ses she did, so I tolt her like as not it kicked the buckit frum over exposure.

She starts spitten' an hollerin' like a tomcat jest back frum the vets an I got the fishin' tackle gathered up.

She wus still goin' strong an had worked her way back two generashuns in my fambly wen Pete Svensen showed up.

I wus throwin' things into the old Jeep an Pete ses how's it going? an I ses purty well on skedule but I gotta go back inter the basemint fer the gas lamp an frum now on he can call me Daniel becus wot I got goin' on in there is a real lion's den.

I fired up the Jeep an rollt down the window jest in time becus the wife is still hollerin' an she ses one of these days I am gonna get inter trubble with my big mouth an I ses I already did -- thirty years, five months an forteen days ago wen I put the ring on yur finger, instid of thru my nose where it has ben ever since.

I rollt up the window an we wus away an Pete ses that wus cuttin' her purty close an I ses nope, becus she is gonna take two days fer to cool off an she is gonna enjoy every minute cussin' me up, down an sideways.

Instid of worryin' whether the bears has et me, I ses, she is gonna hope they do an about Satiddy noon she is gonna visit her mother. Gibsons Hospital

Christmas greetings

Gibsons Hospital Auxiliary would like to solve your problem of how to send your Christmas greetings to all your friends and at the same time support our own St. Mary's Hospital. It is so easy. You make a donation to either the Royal Bank of Canada or the Bank of Montreal; your name is then included in the Greeting list published in our local paper.

Mrs. Amy Blain, 886-7010, will also take your donations for our Gibsons Hospital Auxiliary Christmas Greeting fund. We take this opportunity to wish all our friends and supporters a blessed and true Christmas.

Unitarian cake

Hazel Hadden is known locally as an excellent cook and this recipie is an especially requested one of hers. Not only delicious, the ingredients make it nutritionally superb.

Hazel Hadden's Unitarian Cake

½ cup margarine
¾ cup brown sugar
2 tbsp. molasses
3 or 4 eggs
4 tsp. vanilla
2 cups wheat germ
1 cup powdered skim milk
1 tsp. baking powder
Optional:
½ cup coconut
½ cup raisins, dates, nuts (walnuts, hazelnuts, filberts etc.)
Cinnamon

Melt margarine in 9 x 13 inch pan, in oven. Add brown sugar and scrape into bowl, line the greasy pan withwaxed paper.

To margarine-sugar combination add molasses, eggs, and vanilla. Beat together then stir in wheat germ, powdered milk and baking powder. Then add any or all of the following: coconut, raisins, dates, cinnamon and nuts. You can vary the ingredients and make it different everytime. Stir only to blend. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Peel off waxed paper immediately and enjoy. Excellent with cream cheese.

Kathy's Kaluh

1 bottle rye whiskey or vodka
3 cups sugar
2 cups water
1 vanilla bean
3 tbsp. instant coffee

Boil the water, add sugar and instant coffee and allow to cool. Add the bottle of rye or vodka, your choice although rye is preferred. Add bean and let sit for a month. The longer the better.

Despite many objections from local property owners these signs at the top of the Langdale ferry terminal continue to clutter the scene.

Books for Christmas gift giving....

by John K. Mason

The books reviewed have been chosen from currently available stocks of the N.D.P. Book Store, Gibsons, and the Sechelt Book Store, for the convenience of peninsula book lovers.

Skeena Country - Sound Heritage Vol. 5, No. 1. A publication in soft cover of the Aural History Division of the Provincial Archives, edited by W. J. Langlois. Published 1976. 57 pages. Price: $1.25.

Imbert Orchard, the CBC broadcaster, presented his entire collection of tape recordings, to the Provincial Archives, a collection extending over a 12-year period, and covering interviews with 1,200 pioneer British Columbians. This facinating 57 page softcover brochure, complete with many photos, draws on Orchard material and is a must for those interested in the Skeena Country.

Canadian Forestry - The View Beyond the Trees. By Charles R. Stanton. Softcover, 70 pages. Price: $5.25. Published by Macmillan of Canada and Maclean-Hunter Press.

A glossy paper booklet containing many coloured photos, charts, maps, etc. Seems a lot to pay for 70 pages, but that's your Toronto publishers for you.

Daughters of the Moon by Joan Haggerty. Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis. Published 1971, 344 pages. Price: $5.00.

Your chance to get a copy of this powerful novel by a local writer. The local is the Baeleric island of Formentera. An unsuccessful marriage has driven Sarah from London. She comes to Formentera in an attempt to straighten herself out. Anna, shocked by her husband's suicide, returns to the Baeleric island in a desperate attempt to revitalize an earlier affair with Alexi.

Both women turn out to be pregnant. As their pregnancies develop, the books becomes a fugue to several kinds of love, identity, conception and birth. The two stories weave together, in memory and dream, enunciating strange vistas of time and space, myth and reality. The parallel story-lines progress, fold back on themselves, then spiral together as we learn with Sarah of Anna's death in childbirth, and as Sarah begins her own delivery.

The language of this remarkable novel is poetic, masterful. The theme an intricate balancing of the personal against the universal...of woman's condition and two women's consumingly real lives.

Daughters of the Moon packs a wallop you won't soon forget. Don't miss it!

Sea Life of the Pacific North-West by Stefani and K. Gilbey Hewlett. Published by McGraw-Hill Ryerson, Scarborough, Ont. 176 pages, more than 200 photographs, many in color. Price: $14.95.

K. Gilbey Hewlett is Curator of the Vancouver Aquariam. Stefani Hewlett, his wife, has been the Aquarium's Curatorial Assistant since 1972. From a deep-rooted love of the sea and its life, this husband and wife team has produced a clearly-written, fulsomely-illustrated book for anyone desiring detailed knowledge of the aqueous medium covering most of the earth's surface.

Seaweeds, Sponges, Marine Worms, Moss Animals, Crustaceans, Molluscs, Spiny-skinned creatures, Sea Squirts, Fishes and Sea Mammals--all these are dealt with in a book filled with drawings and pictures in both black and white as well as color. The volume includes a list for further Suggested Reading and a subject Index.

Attractively bound in boards that will last, this 8½" x 11" book will make a fine addition to the library of anyone fascinated by the sea, its life, and adjacent border-lands.

West Coast Windjammers In Story & Pictures by Jim Gibbs. Superior Publishing Co., Seattle. Price: $9.95. 187 pages, many black and white photos.

Jim Gibbs' loving account of West Coast Windjammers is a vivid recreation of a time that has irretrivably gone. Its guaranteed to stir the blood of the most jaded with its accounts of a rugged breed of men--the oldtime sailing masters of the northwest coast. This book covers: The Principal Builders of West Coast Windjammers, the Golden Age of Sail, fascinating details from assorted Logbooks, Successful and Unsuccessful Windjammers and the Latter-Day Sailing Vessels. Includes appendixes on Pacific Coast Sailing Vessels (Commercial registry) over 100 tons from 1850-1908, a list of Latter-Day sailing Vessels over 100 tons built on the Pacific coast from 1909-1921 and finally, Windjammer Vignettes.

The lovely, old-fashioned photographs make of this book a doorway into a more romantic era of history.

Also by Jim Gibbs: Pacific Graveyard, Tillamook Light, Sentinels of the North Pacific, Shipwrecks of the Pacific Coast and Shipwrecks - Juan de Fuca.

Denison's Ice Road by Edith Iglauer. E. P. Dutton & Co., New York. 1975, 237 pages. Price $10.50.

New Yorker Magazine writer, Edith Iglauer, was in Yellowknife on another story when she met John Denison, pioneer builder of the 300 mile ice road to Port Radium on Great Bear Lake. Ice roads over rough norther terrain were originally pioneered by the Russians, but adverturesome John Denison--a British Columbian by origin -- made his own adpatation of the Soviet concept to the transportation needs of a High Arctic silver mine in the mid-sixties.

Edith Iglauer, an American freelance writer who had contracted a rare disease known as Northern Fever, had already done her first book on such a theme: The New People: The Eskimo's Jorney Into Our Time. When she met John Denison and was invited to come on a journey up the Echo Bay Road (named for the Port Radium silver mine Denison's trucks supplied), she responded to the challenge of a great First (nobody else but Denison's truckers had ever been so honoured).

Each winter, Denison's Road (or the Echo Bay Road) has to be built anew. The snow on the frozen lakes must be compacted so that the air is driven out of it and it freezes hard in the forty to sixty below temperatures. Denison estimates that it costs approximately $30,000 each winter to make his road operable (two government grants cover this). For the sky-high costs of repairs to equipment that breaks down along Denison's Trail -- as it predictably does under some of the worst weather conditions on this planet --John Denison gambles on a small dedicated elite of truck drivers who, like this man of iron determination, bring the many tons of urgently-needed supplies through to the Echo Bay Silver Mine on the edge of Great Bear Lake.

Edith Iglauer, a city-bred woman accustomed to Southern amenities, adapted to the almost impossible demands of Denison's Trail in winter. She has written an account of her trip In and Out with such accuracy and immediacy of detail that a northerner like Stewart Hodgson, Commissioner of the Northwest Territories, is lavish in praise of her book.

If the far north appeals to you--Denison's Ice Road by Edith Iglauer should be on your Must List.

The Great Planes by James Gilbert. 246 pages, Bibliography and Index. Grosset & Dunlap, New York, 1970. Price: $8.95.

This big - 8½" x 12" - gorgeous book about great aircraft offers mouth-watering colour photos of magnificent flying machines from their beginnings at Kitty Hawk in 1903 through the First World War, the Second World War, up to the Boeing Jetliners of today. We are also treated to memorable planes of the between years -- Ford's Tri-Motor, the Gypsy Moth, the German Jungmeister, Mr. Piper's Cub, the Imperishable DC-3; the Zlin (Czechoslovakian), Signor Frati's Cobras and the Lear executive Jet.

The only notable omission I can see -- in the World War II category -- is the Japanese Zero, about which I should have appreciated some of author Gilbert's expertise.

For the flying buff, this book could hardly be bested for the money. (It was originally priced at $14.95.)

The Tyger Voyage by Richard Adams & Nicola Bayley. Published by Jonathan Cape, London. Illustrations in colour by Nicola Bayley. 30 pages. Price $5.95.

More poetry and beautiful coloured pictures for very small citizens. An interesting enough story-line -- about the author's "curious" friends, the Dubbs, who turn out to be Tygers, and their wonderful adventures -- but I imagine whether you buy or not will depend on just what an impression Nicola Bayley's gorgeous drawings make upon you.

Richard Adams is the author of the phenomenally successful Watership Down (a children's story with rabbit characters which got too long to be read by dimutive citizens, but became a roaring world bestseller, all the same) and the grimly effective adult fantasy, Shardik.

Auxiliary report

Members of the Roberts Creek Hospital Auxiliary were hostesses at a very enjoyable Coffee Party and Bazaar on Friday, November 26th in the Legion Hall and they wish to thank those who provided items for sale and especially those who attended and bought things.

Tables were well stocked with gifts and crafts, home baking, plants and books and a white elephant display. A number of raffles received full support and prizes were won by: Door, Pyrex dish Mrs. Chamberlain, Grocery Hamper Mrs. Marshall, Doll Carrie Nixon, Casserole Dish, Marie D. #2188, Crib Quilt Mrs. Hornett.

A ladies gold wristwatch was found on the floor and may be claimed by identifying the watch. Call Mrs. Rodgers at 885-9258.

Members come and hear the report of the coffee party at the next auxiliary meeting, December 14th, 11:00 a.m. St. Aidans Hall.

Human Rights Day

On December 10th, the Baha'is of the Sunshine Coast will join with millions of people around the world to commemorate Human Rights Day. The Baha'i community will sponsor a talk and discussion on "The Elimination of Prejudice", at the Rippers residence on King Road, Gibsons at 8:00 p.m. The public is invited to participate.

Human Rights Day commemorates the signing of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948 by the members of the United Nations including Canada. In recognition of the interdependence of the human race, the declaration of Human Rights attempted to express a common code of basic human rights applicable to all nations. The United Nations Declaration states that the 'recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and unalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world.'

Among the rights guaranteed by the historic U. N. document are the right to life, liberty, and the security of persons; freedom from slavery; equal protection under the law; the right to found a family; freedom of conscience, religion, opinion, and expression; the right to work; and the right to a standard of living adequate to health and well-being.

In 1973, the U. N. launched a Decade for Action to combat racism and racial discrimination. International Women's Year in 1975 focussed the attention of the world on the need to eliminate discrimination against ' women. Earlier this year a major international event, Habitat, explored the dynamics of human settlements and their effects on individuals. On December 11th, U.N.I.E.F., the United Nations Children's Fund, which has consistently upheld the basic human rights of children, to health, security against want, and decent care, celebrates it's 30th year of operation.

The Baha'i world community has supported the basic aim of the U. N. -- to keep peace, to insure universal human rights, and to provide better social and economic living conditions for humanity--since the creation of the world organization in 1945.

Baha'u'llah, the Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith called all the peoples of the world to unite. "Only in one common Faith could mankind find enduring peace," He said. In His teachings, He stressed the need for world government, the need for elimination of prejedices of all forms, the recognition of the equality between men and women, the need for a universal auxiliary language for unity between science and religion, and for universal compulsory education of children.

The Langdale Elementary School girls held a cross-country race last week. Despite the rather brisk weather the runners turned in some of their best times to date.

'Mr. Scrooge' coming soon

Rehearsals are in full swing now for the Christmas play "Mr. Scrooge" to be presented December 15, 16, and 17th in Elphinstone Gym. This musical comedy based on Dicken's Christmas Carol will be Elphinstone's first Christmas production. There was much undiscovered talent within the school and hiding under mossy raincoast rocks but the co-ordination and direction of these scattered energies appears to be close to completion as Geoff Madoc Jones and Ken Dalgleish direct members of The Driftwood Players along with Elphinstone students and amateurs from the community toward opening night, Wednesday, December 15th.

From the looks of rehearsals it's going to be a good shot of Christmas spirit from the "Bah Humbugs" to the mistletoe. Adrian Stott is the musical director of a score ranging from a solo by Scrooge, played by Ebeneezer Madoc Jones, to zesty carols sung by the Madrigal singers. Many local stars and celebrities will be featured. George Matthews, who complained of continual typecasting as a transvestite, will be portly Mr. Fezziwig with Alexis Davison as his good wife. Mr. and Mrs. Cratchitt are Robb Ashby and Mavis Christmas with their children Kelly Henry, Nadine Swethurst and Fred Verhulst. Chef Terry Karkabe (of Dogwood fame) and Marionne MacFarlane team up with Ian (Cozy) Corrance as the ghosts who take Scrooge and the audience through strange and revealing occurances.

And alas, lest we forget Tiny Tim, that poor wretched little disfigured creature who reminds us to consider our blessings... played by Heather Hogan.

It's a fun play with a cast of close to forty people...plan now to keep those evenings open and came watch your neighbours bring in the Christmas spirit.

Cougars finish 4th

The Elphinstone Cougars finished fourth in the 10 team Senior Girls' Provincial "A" Volleyball tournament at Qualicum Beach, November 18, 19, and 20th. The ten teams presented the best small school senior girls volleyball teams from around the province.

Elphi finished the round robin part of the tourney comfortably in fourth place winning 6 matches and losing only 3. In the first match Elphi defeated Qualicum Beach 15-10, 15-11, but lost the second match 15-8, 15-13 to Prince George. Round robin continued Friday with Elphi defeating Delta Secondary 2 games to 1 then losing 2 games to 1 to Creston in a well played match with the final score in the third game 17-15. Mount Sentinel Secondary from the West Kootenays provided little opposition and Elphi won easily 2 games to 0 but Winfield, the eventual champions, defeated us 15-5 and 15-13 in the final match of the day.

On Saturday, Elphi swept the three final matches defeating Little Flower 2-0, Ucuelet 2-0, and Houston 2-1.

The top four teams, Winfield from the Okanagan, Creston, Prince George and Elphinstone went into the playoffs. Elphi played poorly and lost to Creston 2-0, then in a playoff for third and fourth, played well but lost 3-1 to finished fourth overall.

The girls played well and lost only to the three top teams. Next year when the Provincial finals are held here at Elphinstone, we plan to finished higher than that.

The team members were: Colleen Hoops, Cindy Frykas, Laura Campbell, Sigrid Petersen, Lynne Wheeler, Lorna Boyd, Ingrid Petersen, Deanna Paull, Becky McKinnon, Anne Plourde, and manager Lynn Husband.

Cadet gets honors

Petty Officer T. Kettle of the Sunshine Coast Sea Cadet Corp "Conway" was one of the 28 Sea Cadets of B. C. selected to take part in a special training exercise.

The exercise from November 18th until December 15th is designed to familiarize senior cadets in the fields of Seamanship, Communications, watchkeeping, and public relations. The three ships taking part in this cruise are HMC Ships Yukon, Qu'Appelle and McKenzie.

Cadets will board ships November 18th and live onboard while alongside in Esquimalt and will leave November 22nd. They will be exercising with U. S. Naval Ships in and around Hawaii and on their way home. They will be alongside in Pearl Harbour for 6 - 8 days and will have a chance to visit U.S. Navy ships and submarines.

Petty Officer Kettle is 17 years old and in Grade 11. Last year he spent 8 weeks at HMCS Quadra on an Operations and Communications course.

On the rocks

We are starting to get many activities underway with the pulp-mill playdowns on January 22nd. Four fellows there are looking forward to a Tri Mill Spiel in Prince George in February. The high school league has a bonspiel coming up on January 15th with four outside schools attending. This is their first spiel and we hope it will be successful for them. We also are looking forward to the first annual Gibsons Open Mixed Bonspiel coming up on February 18th, 19th and 20th. It will be a large 32 rink affair.

Several persons have signed up for the New Years Eve Party. Tickets are available to curlers or non-curlers so tell your friends. We do ask for you to give us an indication if you wish to curl or not so we can build the draw accordingly. Remember there will be an organist there to provide live music and we do look forward to a fun evening. The party is small, all we can accomodate is 80 persons so we recommend you get your tickets early or you might be left out in the warm.

As other important dates come up, we will inform you in this column, so keep your eyes peeled and read it thoroughly every week.

We invite groups to rent ice on weekends. Businessmen, mill workers, schools, hospital employees, ferry workers, everyone.

Work off a grudge against your competition and decide who is best once and for all.

The ice is available most Saturday and Sunday evenings. The lounge is also available for rent for $40 per evening. Phone Gus at the rink at 886-7512 for details.

The Winter Club had a very successful Grey Cup Day. We had the lounge open for the first time in its completed form. We hear the boys from the hangover league all sat around watching the game and enjoying the pleasant atmosphere. A hearty thanks to Ron Lacey for setting up the day. In the afternoon, Paul Gauci held a turkey shoot which was very popular with club members. Deidre Pearson supplied food for the day as she has done many times in the past and we are indeed thankful we have members like her who are willing to help out when we need them.

The Gibsons-Sechelt Invitational Bonspiel is our next big event. It is to take place on December 11th and 12th. Our 12 rinks are looking forward to a friendly rivalry with Sechelt's dozen. We hope however, that we will have the better of the day so Sechelt curlers, watch out! We're out to get you. Get your names in to participate in what I am sure will be an enjoyable weekend.

Physical fitness service

Now on the peninsula scene is the Sunshine Coast Physical Fitness Service, based in Sechelt but covering territory from Egmont to Port Mellon. The service is funded by Canada Manpower and works under the auspices of the Community Resource Society. The staff is Susan Milburn, Fitness Co-ordinator and Joy Smith assistant co-ordinator and secretary. Also a recreational director in Pender Harbour area. The members of their back-up committee are Karin Hoemburg, Ian Hunter, Darlene Snell, Jean Lubin and Susan Nicolls.

These eight people are working together to try to give the peninsula the most comprehensive fitness service possible. Directing their energies to the general public, their goal is to enlighten each community to the importance of regular exercise and good nutrition. A variety of programs will be offered in January with hopes of meeting as many needs as possible.

We are located above the Credit Union in Sechelt in the Community Resource Society's office. The phone number is 885-3611. We are open to suggestions and ask people to drop by and say hello between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

New Horizons cut the cake

Have you witnessed a forest fire? The last film shown at the Elphinstone New Horizons in Roberts Creek Community Hall revealed that only 20% of forest fires are caused by lightning; all others the result of inexperience or carelessness, leaving us something to think about.

Talent is surfacing in the group these days. First Chef Harry Gregory baked a cake and brought it to the meeting. We made short work of it at refreshment time. Encore, Harry! Secondly is inventor Jack James, who observing the difficulty in keeping bowls in position at the sides of the carpet, made four wooden "troughs" slightly raised at one end. Now, the bowls are held securely in place and convenient to reach, an idea that other carpet bowling groups could adopt. Contact inventor Jack for details.

The score of the men vs ladies bowling was incomplete at refreshment time (being 14 to 11 in favor of the ladies) so the men graciously conceded defeat in favor of the eats.

The welcome mat was extended to Mr. John Galliford and the two daughters of Mrs. MacLean. We hope they enjoyed themselves and meet with us again.

The music of the lively Square Dancing with the "Allemande Left" and "Do-Si-Do's" echoed through the hall last week. Later Mr. Jack Whittaker was presented with a gift as a token of our appreciation for his efforts.

Another highlight featured the montly "Birthday Cake" for all those whose birthdays came during November. Mr. Bill Grose lined up the four eligible candidates: Mrs. Betty Clark, Miss Ena Harrold, Mr. Jack James, and Mr. Harry Gregory. The two ladies blew out the candles and cut the cake to the tune of "Happy Birthday" while the two men looked on for the biggest slice.

Workers at Sechelt's Pacific Rim Aggregates plant celebrate their 519th day of accident free work.

New Books

Gibsons Public Library has just received some new books, perhaps there is something here for you.

In the Adult Fiction: Lady Oracle by Margaret Atwood, Lady of the Lotus William E. Barrett, Audrey Rose by Frank DeFelitta, Encounter at Kharmel Robert Dentry, Farewell Babylon by Naim Kattan, The West End Horror by Nicholas Meyer, Enchanted Summer by Gabrielle Roy, Margret and the Apparation by Georges Simeonon and Dolores by Jacqueline Susann.

In the Nonfiction, a biography by Robert Specht entitled Tisha. Child Care: Birth Without Violence by Frederick Leboyer and Twins by Carola Zenther. Mankind and Mother Earth, a historical book by Arnold Toynbee. And in the Science section, The Amateur Astronomer's Handbook by James Muirden.

Film society

by Keith Wallace

French comedy is what is in store at the Twilight Theatre for the Kwahtahmoss Film Society's December 8th show. The film is "Tall Blond Man With One Black Shoe", a 1973 production directed by Yves Robert and written by him in conjunction with Francis Verber. It is of a low-key comedy style aiming for quiet chuckles rather than belly laughs, all done in a clever and highly professional manner.

The title role is played by Pierre Richard, as a mild-mannered French symphony violinist who becomes a decoy in a power struggle between rival factions of a top secret security agent. This tall blond man is completely unaware of what is happening, even as electronic voyeurs and eavesdroppers are watching everything he does. Such blissful ignorance becomes a running gag which is well sustained by Richard's beautifully dead-pan style of acting.

Resource Society

This is the time of year to renew your membership in the Sunshine Coast Community Resource Society. If you have not already done so, we look forward to your renewal, the cost is $2.00 per person.

The Directory of Services is now available at these locations: Resource Society Office, Sechelt Book & Stationary, Sechelt Services (S.O.S.), Kruse Drug Store, Sechelt and the Shopper Press. The price is $2.50 each.

The new board members for 1977 are: Agnes Labonte President, Jean Lubin Vice President, Helen Hall Secretary, Frank West Treasurer, Doug Roy Director at Large, Hilda Costerton Director at Large and John McLeod Director. The Board Members are: Dave Christoff, Helen Fellowes, Ian Hunter, Sandra Lindsay, Marie Montgomery, Mary O'Brian, Martha Smith, Cathi Wallis, Irene Protocky, Sharon Craig, Claire Hawes, Mary Joss, Alice McSweeney, Father Nicholson, Marg Pearson, Darlene Snell, and Karen Freemantle. Hospital Representative is Doreen Docker.

The annual meeting took place October 21st, 1976 in the open area of Sechelt Elementary School, guest speakers from the Vancouver "Volunteer Action Resource Centre", were Mrs. Ruth Oliver and Ms. Sandra Wilking, speaking on the "Advantages of a Volunteer Service in the Area". The resource societies "Volunteer service" is now campaigning for volunteers to fill the needs of the community. Volunteers are needed to assist in many ways, examples are: Work with pre-school children, volunteer drivers, probation sponsors, social visits, help with the Elves Club in selecting gifts, raising funds, driving, etc. Librarians for Port Mellon and Sechelt areas, answering telephones, teaching arts and crafts, working in the Women's Centre, Roberts Creek, Entertaining children with musical instruments, leaders and assistance for guides and brownies, scouts and cubs, and many more.

Come in and register your services, tell the Volunteer Service what your interests are, and what type of volunteer work you would like to do. They will match up the interests with the needs of the organization or individuals involved. Be a good neighbour, volunteer your services through the Resource Society, (above the Credit Union, Sechelt). Call 885-3821.

Grafting cacti

It is becoming more and more common to see members of the cacti family decorating a neighbours window sill or coffee table - one would think the infinite array of cacti in a florist or plant store is enough of a variety for any avid cacti grower. One may find, however, that all the cacti are not being grown for their individual aesthetic contributions to their environment but to allow the owner to indulge in one of the most intriguing methods of propagating available -- a system called grafting.

All cacti and most succulents have the unique ability to attach themselves and grow on others by the grafting process providing new plants not found growing naturally anywhere. The possibilities are infinite, with your only limitation your imagination. A trailing cactus (such as the popular rattail) can be easily grafted onto a columnar cactus or a globe shaped crown cactus can be grown with ease atop the pad-like stem of a bunny ears cactus.

Grafting, which joins a stem section from one plant to a cut in the rooted stem of another, is a surprisingly easy technique to learn. Only cacti and the euphorbia succulents lend themselves to grafting for in them the inner ring of growth tissue that carries nutrients through the plants is clearly defined. When a straight, clean cut is made across the stems of these plants, these food supply channels are easily recognized so that the channels of one cut stem can be lined up precisely with the channels of another. When the two halves of the plant are properly positioned, a free flow of food and water to the grafted section from the rooted parent plant is guaranteed. The two cut surfaces should be joined together with slight pressure to ensure that any air bubbles that might allow the cut surfaces to dry or cause rotting are squeezed out. Strings weighted with hardware nuts can be draped over the top to hold the graft in place. It is advisable to keep the new plant out of direct sun and dry for a few days until the graft 'takes' then remove the strings and place your new plant in a sunny, warm spot. Grafting can be done at any time of the year, but results are best when done in the spring for at that time new growth is just beginning to form.

O.E.S. success

A very successful tea was held in the Roberts Creek Community Hall on Saturday, November 20th by Mt. Elphinstone Chapter number 65 Order of the Eastern Star.

The hall was decorated with holly and ivy, the head table was centered with a basket of holly and the tea tables had baskets of ivy all of which made a beautiful setting.

Convenor Mary Gordon welcomed the visitors and introduced the Worthy Matron, Miss Mary Steele. Mrs. Bea Rankin, the Cancer Convenor was introduced and spoke on the work of the Order, in particular cancer research and dressings, emphasizing that these dressings are given free to any in need of them. She also spoke on the Elizabeth Bentley Scholarships and the Estart awards given for training in religious leadership. Mrs. Rankin then declared the tea open.

The stalls of baking, novelties, sewing, Regal gifts, raffles and guessing games took over and were generously patronized.

The Job's Daughters assisted in serving and were of great service.

Winners of the raffles and guessing contests were: Mrs. Inez Roy, Miss Mary Steele, Mrs. M. Irvine, Mrs. E. Hageland, Mrs. E. Robertson, Mr. J. Pike, Mrs. Wigard, Mrs. C. Cameron, Mrs. S. Davis, Mr. J. S. Grisack, and Mrs. Ackerman.

The Chapter wishes to thank all those who helped and supported the fall bazaar, making it a great success.

This week on CBC Radio

Another of Rod Coneybeare's two hour specials will be heard on Special Occasions, Sunday at 5:05 p.m., this one a portrait of Cole Porter who lived a life as elegant, sophisticated and bittersweet as the songs which made him famous. He was unique, witty, frivolous, charming, a glittering, wealthy member of the cafe society who took infinite pains to conceal his shyness, who cultivated the bored, worldy facade of the smart set, but had tremendous drive, was a demon for work and was never satisfied until he had produced each creative piece exactly right.

Cole Porter was born in Peru, Indiana, he was a precocious, musically gifted child who craved love and affection and soon learned he could get it by producing pretty little tunes on the piano. He was popular at school and Yale because he could write funny or wicked songs for student shows.

He married a beautiful, and wealthy southern belle, 12 years his senior and for a time they amused themselves at a dizzying pace on two continents. In 1937 a horse fell on him and his legs were badly crushed. For the rest of his life he lived in pain--but during those years wrote many of the songs which made him famous.

Rod Coneybeare talked to intimate friends of Cole Porter and others who brought his shows and songs to life, including Gene Kelly, Fred Astaire, Ethel Merman, Alan Jay Lerner, Frank Sinatra, press agents, directors and musical experts, and presents their comments and his own impressions of Porter with some of the most memorable Porter songs. Just what sort of a man was this who gave us Begin the Begine, Night and Day, Easy to Love, and the rest?
