June 14 deadline

Jobs plan underway

Thanks to the receipt of a LEAD (Local Employment Assistance and Development) grant in the amount of $50,385, a committee is currently at work developing a long-term economic and employment strategy for the Sunshine Coast and a specific proposal designed to create jobs within a year.

A successful joint application to Employment and Immigration Canada for LEAD funding by the Sunshine Coast Employment Development Society (SCEDS), the Economic Development Commission (EDC) and the Sunshine Coast Regional District (SCRD) has resulted in the formation of the Economic/Employment Strategy Committee, whose work for a period of six months is based on the fulfillment of three major objectives: 1. to complete a five-year economic/employment development strategy for the Sunshine Coast, including a short-term action plan for 1985-86 implementation; 2. to examine four or five promising job sectors to determine each sector's potential to create permanent employment, and to identify the sector with the highest employment potential; 3. to complete a feasibility study on a recommended enterprise project within the most promising sector and to develop a specific proposal to be submitted to LEAD for project funding.

In a press conference held last week, project leader Bonnie Pyplacz explained how the project will proceed in accomplishing its goals by its June 14 deadline, and stressed that public participation will be crucial to the committee exploring long-term employment strategies which will best reflect the types of employment local residents desire.

Working with project advisor Maurice Egan, economic consultant John Struthers and his research assistant John Reynolds begin this week to interview groups and individuals involved in the areas of business, human resources, community interest, government and politics and to hear their views and recommendations.

General community involvement will be invited in March when a number of open house information sessions and forums which will debate the pros and cons of various possibilities will be held.

By the end of April a five-year Economic Employment Strategy will be completed, and the most promising sector will be singled out. The committee will determine one possible enterprise within that sector, and will spend May and the first two weeks of June completing a feasibility study on the suggested project and preparing a specific proposal which will be submitted for further LEAD funding.

Job creation is the objective of the committee: employment

Towards district municipality

Sechelt growth studied

A preliminary meeting was held on Wednesday, January 30 in Sechelt between members of the restructuring committee and representatives from the ministry of municipal affairs.

Both Area Planning Committees from areas B and C have approached the village of Sechelt with a view to joining the village to create a district municipality if a plebiscite should show that the people want such a move to take place. Last week's meeting was a fact-finding one, where appropriate moves were discussed and information exchanged. The ministry of municipal affairs will present their preliminary report by April 1 according to Tom Moore who sat with the committee to advise and listen.

It was agreed that it is of prime importance to gauge public opinion; a public meeting will be held and some kind of opinion poll, possibly by telephone, which provides a greater response than other methods. A plebiscite will then be held if the poll shows sufficient interest, and if an over-all vote of 50 per cent plus one is received in favour of the incorporation the minister will then consider the application and act as he sees fit.

Mr. Moore stressed the importance of keeping interest up,

Till Expo paid for

No hospital expansion for BC

Area A Director Ian Vaughan had some bad news for the Sunshine Coast Regional District board on January 24 when he reported on a meeting with Minister of Health, Anderson on expansion at St. Mary's Hospital.

"There will be no more money for hospital expansions until the provincial government has finished paying for Expo '86," explained Director Vaughan.

"We were told to lump all the small building proposals into one large proposal," he continued, "so that it would have a better chance of being done. Now, we've been told, if we're very good we may get the whole thing by 1989 or if we're really good, we'll get it bit by bit, maybe in a year or two."

development rather than economic development, noted Pyplacz. "We would be satisfied with a break-even enterprise if it created a number of long-term jobs," she said.

both from the public and from the ministry; if there is a public hearing it is important that the plebiscite follow closely.

The pros and cons of restructuring will have to be laid before the public before a decision can be reached. The advantages of obtaining district municipality status are many; by-laws need not be registered, the borrowing formula is more generous, new committees may be formed, and, because a district municipality represents more people it has more impact in the political arena. An important benefit is the strong powers such a municipality has for dealing with problems such as drainage.

Even though taxation considerations and funding are powerful incentives for incorporation, they are not always the only reasons; other issues are often more important, such as the desire to have long-term control over the direction the development of the area will take.

Until the ministry of municipal affairs completes its preliminary report the restructuring committee will be listening to the public's voice, and doing what it can to provide the information necessary to make an informed decision on this important move.

In other news from the SCRCD meeting, directors received a delegation from Mr. Bob Ellis concerning a park dedication, and went on to discuss the latest moves from the department of highways on the question of access to the Pender Harbour golf course.

Mr. Ellis has a long and frustrating story going back 17 years when he originally bought his property in West Sechelt. He found, after the purchase, that the house he had bought was ten feet over the property line, at which time he started subdivision proceedings. Seventeen years later Mr. Ellis is faced with a situation where his application for subdivision will be denied unless he gives a portion of his property for park dedication. This is not feasible because

'Cap College not affected'

SCRD buys building

Sunshine Coast Regional District chairman Jim Gurney has announced that the SCRCD has entered into an agreement with R.B.R. Investments to purchase the Capilano College building and property to provide accommodation for the regional district office.

The purchase price for the 6000 square foot free span steel construction building on 1.7 acres of land is $360,000 - $100,000 less than it would cost to purchase the board's present 7000 square foot premises.

The board tentatively assumes ownership on March 1, 1985, but Capilano College will continue to occupy the premises until September, 1986. The current triple net lease with Cap College provides revenue, in excess of expenses, of $12,000 per year.

According to Gurney's press release, "The purchase price and renovations will be financed by a combination of using the $180,000 presently held in the regional district's Building Reserve Fund and Municipal Finance Authority borrowing. The amount to be borrowed will not exceed $250,000."

Initial financing will involve the "payment of $163,000 from the regional district's Building Reserve Fund, and the assumption of the existing one year term mortgage for $197,000". A down payment of $36,000 (10 per cent) has already been made.

The press release continues, "The regional district has taken this action to reduce the cost of providing office accommodation. This action will produce a reduction of at least $23,500 per year based on a 10 year term for the amount borrowed. Ultimately the saving to the taxpayer will be approximately $70,000 per year which is the combination of lease fees and taxes on the present offices."

The board has been assured that this move will not adversely affect the presence of Cap College in the community, and will work with the college to ensure a minimum of disruption to both operations when the time for the actual move comes.

"I'm confident we have made the best choice," said Gurney, who noted that the board has been investigating options for the last year. The motion to purchase received unanimous support from those directors present at a special meeting last Monday, Gurney said.

During February

Talks scheduled on B.C. schools

The Sunshine Coast School District is scheduling meetings for members of the community to discuss the public school system in British Columbia. The meetings have been prompted by the Ministry of Education's release of a discussion paper "Let's Talk About Schools", as a beginning of a process to determine the future direction and emphasis of provincial schooling. Ultimately this is intended as a means of guiding the revision to existing legislation. The current school act was written in 1958.

All pupils in the schools have taken home a pamphlet from the ministry describing the provincial review and the topics of discussion. These pamphlets went home on Friday, February 1.

The schools will be holding meetings during the month of February at which any member of the public may attend, in order to gain information and share opinions regarding elementary or secondary education in B.C.

The district school review committee, composed of Janice Edmonds, John Denley and Brian Beecham, will also be holding four public forums throughout the district following the school meetings. At the public forums individuals or groups may make presentations or present briefs in response to the "Let's Talk About Schools" discussion paper.

Public forums are scheduled for: Wednesday, February 13, 7:30 p.m. at Pender Harbour secondary school; Wednesday, February 20, 7 p.m. at Sechelt elementary school; Wednesday, February 27, 7 p.m. at Elphinstone secondary school; Wednesday, March 6, 7 p.m. at Bowen Island community school.

Individuals or groups wishing to present a brief at one of the district meetings should register their intent and obtain further information by contacting David Short at 886-8184.

Copies of the discussion paper and the response document will be available at all meetings, your local school, school board office, and may also be obtained by contacting David Short.

Sunshine Coast displays drew considerable attention on opening day (last Saturday) at the Vancouver Boat Show, and the chief attraction was the aquarium housing several newly baptised B.C. Salmon Sharks.

We sing sweetly

Last week in New Delhi the leaders of India, Mexico, Sweden, Argentina, Greece and Tanzania signed a declaration calling for a halt to the production, testing, and deployment of new nuclear weapons and the militarization of outer space.

The six leaders claimed to represent five countries and six important non-nuclear nations. During the conference President Raul Alfonsin of Argentina declared that the people of the world had lost "Their right to life. We never renounced it, but almost without realizing it we have seen it snatched away by the superpowers' arms race."

Of interest to Canada, perhaps, are some remarks made by President Miguel de la Madrid at a breakfast press conference after the signing of the declaration. He was asked if he was aware of the risks he was taking by signing the New Delhi declaration "because the superpowers dislike being told what to do by other countries".

Madrid said that life itself was a risk and that the fundamental sense of foreign policy is to promote and defend national independence. "An autonomous foreign policy is one of the clearest demonstrations of the sovereignty of a country."

Now it would seem from this point of view, somewhat wistfully, that it would be a marvellous thing if the prime minister of Canada could with as much dignity as the president of Mexico affirm this country's right to an independent world view from the giant neighbour that both countries share.

Canada's increasingly embarrassing failure to speak any note of its own without fear of American disapproval is part and parcel of the differences between the neighbours to the north and south of the United States.

Mexico insists on retaining long term control of its land and its industry. In the shadow of the world's most powerful nation Mexico, though faced with economic difficulty, insists with pride and dignity on its right to freedom of thought and expression.

On the other hand Canada is now and has been since the first world war, simply up for grabs. Outside capital is invited in virtually without condition and Canadians seem only to crave that enough crumbs will be spilled from the international feasting on their resources to keep their stoves in winter fuel.

A Canadian journalist noted recently that when Prime Minister Mulroney was a boy soprano he always was asked to sing for the president of the Iron Ore Company when that Chicago-based gentleman visited Baie Comeau. Could it be that little has changed except the deepening of the Mulroney voice? Maybe if we just sing sweetly enough those rich folks to the south will be nice to us.

The first and second generation immigrant family looked on education as a means by which the son might rise above pick and shovel work, which his father and grandfather perhaps could not avoid. Any amount of schooling was better than none. If working at farming, fishing, or logging kept the young student away from school for all but a few weeks of the year, what was learned during those few weeks was so much the more significant. Reading, writing, and arithmetic were realities at the turn of the century; they were implements just as important to the operation of farm, business, or trade as were tools or goods. The working class of the early 1900's often unabashedly looked to the middle class for its values. Parents knew that the son's only opportunity would probably lie in the labour market, but they strove to give him skills that could be used if a chance for something better were to come along. The daughter, would in all probability marry a labourer; but, if at all possible, she was given lessons in art or music, refinements that would make her feel less out of place among members of a class above her birth. The products of these frontier homes and schools comported themselves rather well, by and large, in later years, sometimes scarcely discernible among a less "deprived" citizenry.

Musings

John Burnside

We were walking down the boardwalk in Puerto Vallarta last week when the conversation turned to cats.

"Did I ever tell you about the most remarkable cat I ever owned?" I asked.

"I'd have about a fifty-fifty chance of guessing, wouldn't I?" said Fran, assuming that I was about to wax eloquent about the two very fine cats we presently own.

"Not so," said I, and proceeded to describe for her the cat I called Fidele Castro to the delight of my children years ago when they were small in Fernie, B.C.

"Fidele wandered into our house in September of 1968. We didn't want a cat and didn't encourage her but she was very beautiful and hung around, catching grasshoppers to sustain herself, I remember, which really impressed me for she wasn't much more than six or seven weeks old."

"What was she like?" I could tell that Fran wasn't vitally interested so I restricted any further rhapsodizing to a simple description.

"She was a beautiful white, fluffy Persian cat with an incredible striped raccoon tail. There were two little dark marks just between her ears. She was the most magical cat I ever saw," and there we left it.

Fidele had persevered, winning over my three children then aged about five, four and two, and so it was when we moved from Fernie to Gibsons in June of 1969 Fidele came with us with a litter of kittens in the back of our red and white Rambler station wagon.

For reasons too tedious to dwell on, the independent cat decided to leave the residence on Franklin Road in Gibsons which first gave us shelter on the Sunshine Coast and for two years the whereabouts of the spectacularly marked cat, or whether she lived or not, was a mystery.

My then six-year old son Stuart came in one day and said he had seen her. I was skeptical but investigation proved him right; the unmistakable cat was queen of the Lepage residence on Burns Road. She gazed at us aloofly from the Lepage window sill and that was that for Fidele Castro.

On the day of our return from Mexico last week I went home for the first time in 23 days, about 11:30 in the morning after a stop-over at the Coast News. I pushed open the back door and stared in disbelief at the cat that stretched and hopped down from the window ledge where it had been sunning itself. It was a cat I had not seen in more than a dozen years, the self-same cat which had come with me from Fernie almost 16 years ago - Fidele Castro - but how did she come to be in my kitchen in Roberts Creek at the end of January 1985?

We pieced it together swiftly. My friend and co-worker Dianne Evans was house-sitting for us while we were away and had brought with her, her cat which she had found living wild, two thirds of the way up Sechelt Inlet, 10 years ago. She had persuaded the cat to give people another try and it had been her inseparable companion ever since.

Apparently the Lepages had taken the cat, a superb mouser, up to a logging camp on the inlet and an accident with diesel fuel had frightened her into taking to the wild.

I know there will be no dearth of skeptics but I believe without shadow of a doubt that the cat knew me as surely as I knew her. I phoned my daughter, the mother of my grandtwins, in Colorado with the news of the magical second re-appearance of Fidele Castro long after we could have believed her alive. It was as though we had all been transported magically backwards to the time of their childhood.

Fidele Castro had done it again.

More than ever she was the most remarkable cat I'd ever known.

Maryanne's viewpoint

A questionable timetable

by Maryanne West

I'm not sure whether the forthcoming forums to be held in Pender Harbour, Sechelt and Gibsons to discuss the School Act and how it should be brought up to date, are focusing only on administration and organization or whether it is an opportunity to include a wider look at education itself.

I don't think you can separate the two. Surely how we understand education and how it meets the needs, not only of the children, but of the whole community will determine how the Act itself takes shape.

It would seem an opportune time to initiate such a discussion, but I'm a little surprised at the government's timetable, unless of course they've already made up their minds and this is just a public relations exercise. Let's hope not.

Perhaps when they receive public input they'll realize it's not a simple cut and dried issue, but one which may become an ongoing discussion.

A Gallop poll taken in the U.S. in 1982 found that there was agreement from every major group questioned that "America's strength in the future will depend more upon developing the finest educational system in the world than on developing the best industrial system or the strongest military force" and the former education secretary T.H. Bell is quoted "Education is so special that it ranks in priority alongside and possibly ahead of the Department of Defense".

That in my opinion doesn't mean that we just have to pump more money into the present system, a system which evolved for a world and society which has changed and is changing so dramatically that the system is showing signs of an inability to cope with all the demands put upon it. Perhaps we should instead be thinking about a whole range of new approaches.

The stable world of secure employment for almost everyone with opportunities for advancement in one's chosen field, has almost disappeared and is rapidly being replaced by a world in which nothing is predictable. It becomes hard to plan ahead and there are few jobs available, particularly in what used to be called smoke stack industries. Old industrial plants cannot compete and new ones are automated needing only half the workforce. Advancement in any discipline may be summarily terminated by new technology.

So it will seem that the basis for any educational system will have to be flexibility with as wide a spectrum of opportunities for acquiring skills and following up interests as possible.

It's difficult to get a handle on what ideas the government has, but if education is to meet the needs of the widely diversified communities in B.C. it will have to be based on local autonomy and decision making.

A few thoughts off the top of my head: we might develop the Community School concept to include a continuing 12-month program, not only for children but for the use of the whole community. Job sharing and part time jobs will become the norm unless we are to have vast numbers of unemployed, so it may be more practical to offer a wide choice of learning opportunities at a community education centre where adults and children are free to come and go.

It sounds a little chaotic if you're still thinking in terms of rows of desks and kids all learning the same thing at the same time, but that isn't really the most effective way of learning nor of teaching.

Obviously strange ideas such as this will need more thought than can be given at these public meetings, but education will have to be an ongoing discussion and with the opportunity to try out different approaches. We can't afford to let education plod along still trying to serve an industrial age which has long gone.

Letters to the Editor

The quality of public education

Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to publicly respond to Mr. Caldwell's statements as reported in your paper.

I find it astonishing that a parent can be blithely recommending that we return to conditions extant at the end of the 1800's, as we approach the end of the 1900's. We can obviously cut education costs ad absurdum; perhaps we should purchase an Expo pavilion, put all the students of the Coast in it, provide a teacher for every 30 students, and presto! cheap public education.

The issue must surely be what quality of public (for all the public) education system do we want in our civilization. It is strange that our society has insisted that teachers and other educators attend university for several years, receive specialized training, and devote their full energies to the business, art and science of education. When these trained and experienced people begin to make suggestions concerning education, they are immediately reviled and accused of being militant, self-centred, child haters.

When parents, trustees, superintendents and teachers all start saying the same thing, then perhaps, just perhaps, there is something to be concerned about, especially as the vast majority are decent law abiding citizens, the majority of whom voted for this government.

The pay issue raised by Mr. Caldwell must also be carefully examined. Teachers are facing their fourth year of no pay raise, resulting in a 20 per cent reduction in their purchasing power. No other employee group has done this; every other group working for the government have received pay raises! Because one works in the service of public education, must we be the only ones to make continued economic sacrifices to support it, sacrifices above and beyond those made by any other group in the province?

The teachers are not seeking a 3 per cent pay raise this year. They have been awarded a 3 per cent pay raise for the 6 months from January to June, by final and binding arbitration. This award was made by the Honourable E.D. Fulton, the government appointed arbitrator for this district. He was bound by law to give paramount consideration to this school board's ability to pay, and to the reality of restraint. After this, he awarded a 3 per cent raise.

Moreover, arbitrators for 61 school districts, also awarded similar raises for the teachers, a tremendously powerful statement that teachers have had their wages unfairly restricted compared to all other employees in B.C.; and that they should receive a small recompense to begin to redress this imbalance.

Having visited the Expo '86 site on a field trip, as encouraged to by the government circular sent to every school in this district, it is apparent that this exposition will indeed be a cultural marvel, a triumph of the B.C. Spirit! However, I could not help but look at the gigantic model displayed in the pavilion, and see my legitimate pay raise, see closed hospital beds, see the crowded and increasingly dirty classrooms, and begin again to wonder at our society's priorities.

The Roman Emperors had their games while millions were slaves; we have Expo '86, but do not be surprised if some of us object to slavery.

Discrimination in pensions

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to the minister of health and welfare Jake Epp.

Dear Sir:

Re: Old Age Pensions

I have received your form, "OAS, GIS, SPA, Dec. 84", and I question your lack of fairness and sincerity in giving this raise of $50 per month to spouses under age 60. It should have been given to spouses over age 60 as well.

I realize this increase was due to legislation of the previous Liberal government, but certainly your government should have been able to see the unfairness of that type of legislation, and done it the right way, by giving it to all those over age 60 as well. Spouses under age 60 can in most cases, usually work, but spouses over age 60 are often not able to work due to age discrimination or health problems.

A case in point is my wife Ruby, who is 74 years of age, and never worked out of our home, in order to be eligible for the CPP. However, she has worked very hard for 58 years taking care of her spouse, children, and home - why this discrimination of justice??

Housewives should be entitled to pay into the CPP as well, so that when they are forced to retire, they too can have a decent, normal standard of living.

We receive the "GAIN" cheque each month from the provincial government (Socreds), for the past three years, since 1976 - April to April, and during those years we have had $3 deducted each MONTH from each one of us. In 1976 this cheque was $31.81, and it is now down to $18.81. It is certainly a misnomer to call this GAIN when it is nothing but a LOSS.

I want a detailed explanation from you why this has been allowed to happen, especially during these years of inflation. The prices for rent, groceries and ICBC car insurance, are still going up, not down. The people of this province have been discriminated against just grossly, so that Premier Bennett can have his "Expo '86".

Why are we not allowed the $50 increase as the single pensioners? If you feel it is too late to change the legislation now, why do you not allow us some relief with rents? For instance, if I have to pay $400 per month for a two bedroom apartment, as we do here, your ministry could allow us a 50 per cent rental allowance. There is not enough subsidized low rental housing in Castlegar for pensioners, so we have to pay high rents too.

When the Right Honourable Brian Mulroney was in Nelson, B.C., on August 24, 1984, speaking at Lakeside Park, he stated that if he was elected, he would see to it that every pensioner in Canada would receive a special Christmas bonus. We have not as yet received it, - which Christmas did he mean??

Coverage lacking

Editor:

I was quite disappointed with the coverage given by the local papers concerning the most recent educational meeting of the school board.

Though the different papers highlighted different parent briefs concerning the cutbacks in monies available for schools,

Ties to home

Editor:

Enclosed my cheque in the amount of $32 which I presume will continue my subscription for another year as I see it is now due.

I am pleased to say the Coast News is my tie to my home town as well as my old school friends who still flourish on the Sunshine Coast.

Who would have guessed in the early 30's that Wally Peterson would become mayor or that his kid brother Norm (I think we nicknamed him Winno) would later follow as an alderman or that elder brother Les would be a good high school teacher and historian.

On a sadder, note the passing of Dora Benn, widow of Teddy Benn along with his great horse "Sandy" who could pull any old car from a ditch, or clear land of stumps with ease at the sweep arm of old Andy Wilander's homemade stump puller.

The Coast News itself warrants praise from the day it started in the old building on the waterfront which used to be Coles Meat Market. From its infancy it has been a warm and left of centre paper in policy so, just once in awhile, to satisfy a lifelong Liberal, why not a more middle of the road editorial once in awhile?

Twenty-five years ago, Vancouver's largest newspaper said in a little fill-in paragraph on the editorial page "The official marriage of the Liberal Party of Canada and the CCF has been going on since 1957". Humour me.

BOARD OF VARIANCE

Applications are invited for the position of Member of the Board of Variance for the Sunshine Coast Regional District.

The incumbent will be familiar with Regional District or Municipal zoning by-laws with an interest in buildings and community planning. The local resident could be retired or semi-retired and willing to provide time for meetings as required. He or she should be familiar with most areas of the Sunshine Coast and its geographical aspects.

The successful applicant will act as Regional District appointee with no remuneration, however any out of pocket expenses incurred are reimbursed to the members.

Interested applicants should forward their resumes in confidence to:

Fire safety drill

by Jeanie Parker, 886-3973

Only one teacher and one student "died" in the fire drill at Roberts Creek elementary last Friday afternoon. The Roberts Creek Fire Department had set up barricades of painted flames and smoke so that the kids and adults would have to think about what to do in a real emergency situation where the usual exits might be blocked off.

The same point was made in the skits put on by the volunteer firemen in the gym afterward. How will you get out of your bedroom if the door is blocked by fire? The window, of course, but those who sleep in rooms without windows had something to discuss with their parents.

Chief Mulligan said the presentation went well but the success of the project to increase fire safety awareness can only be measured by how much information the kids took in and told their parents. Does your family have an escape plan in case of fire?

EARLY VALENTINE'S

The NDP are celebrating Valentine's Day early with a dance this Saturday, February 9, at the Roberts Creek Community Hall. Music is by "Used Guys" so come boogie the night away, support the Party, or both.

Tickets are $5 at Seaview Market, the NDP Bookstore, or The Bookstore. No minors please. Dance starts at 9 p.m.

KIDS' SHOW

"Showroom Dummies", those zany local clowns David Karmazyn and Chris Carrow, are performing a children's show at the Arts Centre in Sechelt this Saturday, February 9. There'll be music and lots of fun for children of all ages.

The show starts at 2 p.m. and admission is $1.50 per person. Juice and cookies will be available.

CREEKERS PERFORM

Creekers will have ample opportunity to hear their favourite entertainers perform next week. "Used Guys" will be playing Friday night at the Roberts Creek Legion for Valentine's and Hahle Geroux and company will be at Miller's Cabaret on February 14 and 15 for a farewell performance.

Sechelt Seniors

by Robert Foxall

Mother Nature must be as absent-minded as many of us octogenarians. She forgot that on February 1 she is supposed to blanket the Sunshine Coast with snowdrops and not cover us with snowflakes.

President Larry has asked to draw the members' attention to several matters that require attention. Replacing Jim Derby as Rentalsman will be Nicki Cornwell (885-3504). Make a memo of that number on your scratch pad.

Wood carving will have restarted by the time this is in print but it is hoped that the attendance will be as good as the arts group is having. They had 20 out at their last meeting but we need a volunteer to take over the co-ordination task. We feel that someone will come forward.

Have you got your tickets for the dance to be held on February 9. I hear they are going rather well, so phone right away if you haven't already got yours.

Other dates to keep reminding you of are bingo afternoons on the second and fourth Thursdays; the March Tea is on March 30; the plant sale is on May 4; Strawberry Tea is on June 15; fall plant sale is October 5; there will be a picnic August 15.

Now I can put these dates on my own calendar. You do likewise so you can't say you were not told.

We are still anxiously awaiting news about the grants towards our new hall. We know they are coming but would like to give everyone a reason for a big Cheer.

Other programs continue as they were so prepare yourselves for a busy summer.

I hate to write this but I must remind you that annual membership is now due.

Spring meeting

by Jean Robinson, 885-2954

The general meeting of the Davis Bay/Wilson Creek Community Association will be at the hall on February 11, 7:30 p.m. Shirley Bowers from Chamberlin Gardens will talk about spring things—readying garden area, berry bushes and fruit trees.

BRIDGE

Do not forget that there will be bridge at the hall on February 8. Ladies, the chairs at the hall are being repaired for us, a few at a time, by the Achievement Center. Hopefully our nylons and slacks will no longer be attacked by splinters.

Tickets on sale

Salmon Shark lotto/derby tickets go on sale this week, reports John Glover—Tourism Association director responsible for marketing them.

"We start selling at the Boat Show with an early draw on February 10. We want local folk to have a chance, too" Glover said.

Ticket books will be available at the Royal Bank in Gibsons and Sechelt, the Bank of Montreal in Gibsons, Sechelt, and Pender Harbour, the Credit Union in Gibsons and Sechelt. A book of 5 lottery tickets—with derby fishing licence or "armchair" licence attached—costs $10. Only 4,000 books will be sold.

The February 10 draw, at the Boat Show, offers 101 prizes: $1,000 and 100 tickets on The Provincial. A second early draw, May 4, offers 100 tickets on The Provincial. The final draw, May 19, offers 16 prizes: $1,000, five $50 'Expoasis Fun Certificates and 10 top-brand fishing rods and reels. Odds on winning a lottery prize: 18 to 1.

The derby takes place May 18 and 19 with 28 prizes for fishermen and the "armchair" numbered partners, ranging from $5,000 to $100.

"It's a great idea" commented Glover. "For $10, you get 5 chances to win 217 lottery prizes plus a chance at the big derby money, whether you fish or not!"

The Salmon Shark idea, launched at the Aquaculture Conference last November, is designed to offer sports fishermen an alternative to salmon—which could be severely restricted in future—and allow our tourism fishing industry to continue thriving. Anyone wanting to help sell tickets should call John Glover at 885-7884.

-In Memoriam-
Norman Hough

Norman Hough, a resident of the Gibsons district from 1948 to 1970, died in Vernon October 12 last.

When Norman and Alice Hough retired in 1970 from their dairy farm on Pratt Road, they moved to Vernon and led almost as busy a life as they had in Gibsons.

"He was usually up at 5 a.m. and often went away for a walk about the city before breakfast," his daughter, Doreen, says.

He came to know the farmland between Vernon and Chase as he often travelled with the veterinarian, Dr. Clapp, as his volunteer assistant. In earlier years in Gibsons, Norman Hough had been the unofficial vet - he had a special skill in handling animals.

Besides making leather bridles in this spare time, he revived his skill in italic handwriting to give his grandson Harold in Falkland, lessons in the art. And he encouraged and assisted granddaughter Heidi in showing her sheep at the PNE and other fairs.

Born at Wilmcote, Stratford-on-Avon, England, in 1906, Norman emigrated to a Saskatchewan farm in 1927. In 1931 he moved to Birtle, Manitoba, where he built up a substantial sheep ranch. The family sold this ranch in 1948 when they came to the Sechelt Peninsula at first to visit but soon to stay.

It was in Birtle that Norman and Alice, a schoolteacher, met and married, and where their children were born. Mel, now a beef producer in Falkland and Doreen, Mrs. K. Stewart, of Chaster Road.

Norman's job at a sawmill on Porpoise Bay ended in injury after only a few months, and he and his wife turned to farming again with the purchase of the old Kullander place - a 10 acre parcel on Pratt Road. Over the years the 10 acres expanded to 80 and became the large dairy farm so many of us vividly remember.

When he retired in 1970 the dairy operation was closed, and the land sold to Montreal Trust for subdividing into hobby farms. Quality Farm and Garden Supply now uses the former dairy barn and the milk room. The former Hough family home is still in use.

"Mel and I delivered milk before school as far away as Hopkins Landing," Doreen says, "but in later years customers called at the dairy for their milk. We always had a waiting list of customers." Doreen adds, "The hard part of dairying was to find the 60 to 70 tons of hay the herd needed each year. We had to find it all locally, too."

Norman Hough served on the school board for 10 years during the time Anne Burns served as secretary-treasurer. "He was always proud of the certificate of service to the school board that the other members presented to him." In those years he often took Hunter's Water Taxi to meetings on Gambier or Bowen, and flew in small planes to places like Vancouver Bay school.

Norman and Alice Hough found Vernon a most suitable place for their retirement - the amenities of a small city, and farms and farmers to talk to almost within walking distance, and two lovely grandchildren only a short drive away.

In his years in Gibsons, Norman was a member of Mt. Elphinstone Chapter of the Masonic Order, and of Miriam Lodge in Vernon. He was also a member of Job's Daughters. He was a life member of the Trail Riders Club and was long associated with the 4-H Calf Club.

"I don't think he had ever been a hospital patient in his life until this last brief illness," says Doreen.

Many of us fondly remember the Hough Dairy and the friendly, practical man who ran it.

MORE...BEYOND FLOSS

1. Rubber tip stimulator: some toothbrushes have a rubber tip on the end or they can be purchased separately. These can be used by massaging on top of the gums all around the teeth or ideally the rubber tip is placed under the gum tissue and therefore promotes healing in the area of infection.
2. End-tuft brush: either flat or tapered bristles—only a few tufts of bristles at the end of the handle. Its small size allows it to get into hard to reach spots. The soft bristles are firm but flexible enough to get under the gum tissue and give the gums a good work-out. Super for orthodontic bands (braces).
3. Floss-threaders: used to get dental floss under bridges and orthodontic braces. It is made of flexible plastic and works on the needle and thread principle.

Halfmoon Bay Happenings

Absences despite columnist

by Ruth Forrester, 885-2418

ONLY SOMETIMES

Sometimes there's a Halfmoon Bay column and sometimes there's no such item to be found. It's not that you're truly absent. It's just that you're busy with the old typewriting machine and pour forth words of wisdom and essential local announcements. This task is performed without fail except for holidays, but occasionally some wee gremlin decides to get into the act around the news office and for some unknown reason it seems to choose the old Halfmoon Bay section on which to play tricks by making said column completely disappear from the face of the earth. Oh well - we'll keep on trying and extend apologies to those who should have been mentioned last week, like the hospital auxiliary meeting for Monday and the Writers' Forge Reno night which is by now a thing of the past. With that off my chest I will proceed with current affairs.

WELCOME BEACH COMMUNITY

By now most of you will have received your report of activities of the Welcome Beach Community Association with announcements of coming events. But for those of you who were missed here is a rundown of what you can look forward to in the next few months.

First of all, be sure to keep Saturday, February 16 in mind for the Valentine dinner and dance at the hall. There will be live music by Paul Hansen at the organ and a very delicious family type dinner will be served.

Sechelt Scenario

Gardeners meet

by Peggy Connor, 885-9347

PREPARING FOR SEEDS

The Sechelt Garden Club's first meeting for 1985 will be on Wednesday, February 6, 7:30 p.m. at St. Hilda's church hall. President Barry Willoughby will be putting on a demonstration of preparing for seeding and taking cuttings, with a few slides on the same subject.

Visitors welcome. The spring show and sale of plants will take place on April 13.

A DIFFERENT ANGLE ON PORNOGRAPHY

"Pornography, A Distortion of Erotica", is an audio visual slide show being presented at the St. Hilda's church hall on Tuesday, February 5, at 7:30 p.m. by Reverend Margaret Marquardt.

Everyone is welcome, the show is suitable for teenagers, it is not supporting or knocking pornography but pointing out the difference in the way it is presented.

There will be a discussion period after, with coffee served. Sounds like an interesting evening, about a 40 minute show.

CLOWNS NOW ON AT ARTS CENTRE

Those zany local clowns David Karmazyn and Chris Carrow are presenting "Showroom Dummies" on Saturday, February 9, starting at 2 p.m., admission $1.50 per person.

The show is at the Sunshine Coast Arts Centre and should provide lots of fun for children of all ages. There will be a juice and cookie booth.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Pursuant to Section 720 of the Municipal Act, a Public Hearing will be held to consider the following bylaw of the Town of Gibsons:

"Town of Gibsons Zoning Bylaw No. 500, 1985"

It is the intent of Bylaw No. 500 to replace the current Zoning Bylaw No. 350 for the Town of Gibsons.

The purposes of Bylaw No. 500 are:

- To divide the Town of Gibsons into separate zones;
- To regulate the use of land, buildings and structures, including the surface of water, within each zone; and
- To regulate the size, shape and siting of buildings and structures within each zone.

The Public Hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, February 11, 1985, in the Council Chamber at the Municipal Hall, 1490 South Fletcher Road, Gibsons, B.C. All persons who deem their interest in property, to be affected by the proposed bylaw shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard on matters contained therein.

The above is a synopsis of Bylaw No. 500 and is not deemed to be an interpretation of the bylaw. The bylaw may be inspected at the Municipal Hall, 1490 South Fletcher Road, Gibsons, B.C., during office hours - namely Monday to Wednesday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Thursday and Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Due to the length of the text, the bylaw shall not be read in its entirety at the Public Hearing.

R. Buchan
MUNICIPAL PLANNER & APPROVING OFFICER

ed. Admission is a mere $5 per person for those who help out with the dinner and the charge will be higher for those unable to contribute. You should make a point of deciding to go before next Thursday in order that the numbers will be known in advance. Call Eileen Greaves a call at 885-3926 or Marion Terilon at 885-5270 for reservations and information. The support of all members and friends will be essential to make this the usual social event.

Another social evening is planned for March 16 when the theme will of course be St. Patrick's day. More on this later.

The date is also set for the annual plant sale at the hall and this will be April 6, so get cracking on setting out your garden or house plants as soon as possible.

Word is that the Monday afternoon carpet bowling sessions may be in danger of having to be cancelled unless there are a few more people to join in these fun afternoons. Where else can you have a couple of hours of good fun and friendly competition for only two bits! One o'clock on Mondays is the time and it would save the day if a few more of you would turn out.

HEART FUND

A reminder that some help is still needed for the fund raising campaign for the local branch of the Canadian Heart Foundation. Fay Hansen is the lady to call if you are willing to lend a hand. The number is 885-3575.

THANKS
The Beavers and Brownies of Halfmoon Bay would like to express their appreciation for the great response to their bottle drive - it was the best yet and the kids all say a big thank - you.

Talking of the kids - those who attend the Halfmoon Bay school are sure lucky to have such an imaginative staff who go out of their way to make school an interesting as well as fun school to attend. On February 8 they will be celebrating their hundredth school day of the term. Each child has to bring a hundred objects of their choosing to school, and all day long they will be working with hundreds and multiples of same. Fun as well as educational. On the following day of February 9 the children will be able to participate in the February children's program at the Arts Centre in Sechelt. There will be fun and music for children of all ages with a clown show featuring the "Showroom Dummies" with Dave Karmazyn and Chris Carrow. Admission is $1.50 per person and there will be juice and cookies available. Take the kids along to this one.

WRITERS TAKE NOTE

Poet-writer Peter Will be in attendance at the next meeting on Wednesday, February 13, of the Suncoast Writers' Forge at the Arts Centre. Mark this on your calendar. Everyone is welcome to attend - refreshments will be served and there is no admission charge.

GET WELL WISHES

Have just learned that a very special lady by the name of Barbara Grimsey has been under the weather and spent a couple of weeks in hospital. Barbara is now home and coming along nicely.

Pender honours

Second Term 1984 - 85
Grade 12: Honourable Mention, Liz Lawrenuk.
Grade 11: Mike Phillips, John Griffith, Karen Meyer.
Grade 10: Honourable Mention, Vicki-Wilkinson.
Grade 8: Jennifer Jones; Honourable Mention, Diana Bryant, Suzanne Wilson.

Film at Arts Centre

The 1983 film Heart Like a Wheel is a stirring film around the real-life figure of Shirley Muldowney, a top American racing car driver who managed to crack this most exclusive of male-dominated sports and achieve championship status. Shirley Muldowney is a working-class hero. She represents the American longing for daring, danger and escape, the belief that we can become 'someone'. Fast-paced, action-packed, and shot through with songs from two decades, Heart Like a Wheel is pure adrenalin. Arts Centre, Wednesday, February 6 at 8 p.m. Adults $3.50. Seniors and students $2.50.

Pender People 'n' Places

Annual Spring Bazaar

by Joan Wilson, 883-9606

SPRING BAZAAR

Circle May 4 on your calendar for the annual Pender Harbour Community Club Spring Bazaar. Now is the time to call Muriel Cameron for supplies so you can knit or crochet some articles for the event. When the weather improves and you start gardening again, save those plants you thin out for the plant sale.

The Community Hall, used by many different community groups and often given free of charge for special events, costs about $800 a month to maintain. All this is rased by the club. Membership fees are now due and may be paid to Jane Reid or any executive member. Don't forget bingo every Thursday night. Mae Currans won the trip to Reno. The next one could be yours!

AUCTION

Turn those unneeded items in your basement into cash and help the Community Club at the same time. The club is holding a consignment auction on Friday, February 8. Call Jane Reid (883-9078), Bernice Hanna (883-9289) or Nancy Brown (883-2380) to register your items, then bring them to the hall between 10 and 4 on Friday.

If you're buying, come and look around from 6:30 until the action starts at 7:30 with Gib from Ruby Lake Restaurant. You take 80 per cent, the other 20 per cent helps the Community Club toward a new heating system, and we all have a great time. Refreshments will be available, so bring the family out on Friday night.

FIREWOOD

With $30 and a pick-up, you can buy a load of alder firewood, cut into 16 inch blocks, at the Pender Harbour Golf course site. Stop in from 8:30 to 4, Monday to Friday.

PHSS GRADS AT SFU

Congratulations to former Pender Harbour student Susan Wilkinson. She qualified for the President's High School Entrance Scholarship from Simon Fraser University at the end of grade 12 last June, and, having successfully completed her first semester, has formally received the award. Susan follows two other PHSS grads at Simon Fraser: Barb Szabados, now in her third year, and Riccoh Talento, in his fourth year. Riccoh distinguished himself academically and received several major awards. We can be proud that of the six recent grads who went on to university, five are still working hard and earning good grades. More proof of the good things done by Pender people!

ENDINGS AND BEGINNINGS

Pender Harbour lost two residents last week, Lawrence Nall of Kleindale, and Ted Sundquist, a real Harbour pioneer. No local services will be held. Ted leaves a large family on the Coast, and many friends who will miss him.

Debbie and Leo Lansimaki welcome a new daughter, Kira, a sister for Kyle, born January 30. Catherine, Hugh and Caitlin Gadsby have a new son and brother Liam, who was born on January 21.

BURSARY FUND

The cost of post-secondary education is rising every year. You can help deserving local students by contributing to the Pender Harbour and Egmont Bursary Fund. Thanks to the hard work of Marlene Hillhouse, the fund now has an income tax number so that your contribution is tax-deductible. Call Marlene, Shelly Kattler or Iris Griffith for details.

EDUCATION FORUM

The Parents' Committee of Madeira Park elementary will hold a general meeting on Wednesday, February 6 at 7:30, to view a special videotape from the ministry of education, "Let's Talk About Schools", and to complete an inventory of school services. All parents and interested people are urged to attend, particularly parents of pre-school children.

POTLUCK SUPPER

By popular demand, parents and students of Pender Harbour secondary will hold a "Gym, Swim and Supper" on Wednesday, February 13. The fun starts with games in the gym at 4, a swim from 5 to 6, with a potluck supper at 6.

Last fall's event was great fun, especially for those of us who hadn't played volleyball for a long, long time! Parents of secondary students, please note that report cards were issued on Friday. If you didn't receive one, start making enquiries.

LET'S TALK ABOUT SCHOOLS

Immediately following the potluck supper at Pender Harbour secondary, a public forum on schools, their goals, funding and future, will be held for EVERYONE concerned about education. Mr. John Denley and a special committee will hear your opinions. This is the first of four such public meetings in our school district, paid for directly by the ministry of education. Parents, be on the lookout for a special pamphlet that your children will be bringing home. Other interested people could pick up relevant literature at either school office during school hours.

Let's show the rest of the Sunshine Coast how to turn out and state our opinions on this vital issue, Wednesday, February 13, at 7:30.

BRIDGE HISTORY

Thanks to everyone who has given me information on the Canoe Pass bridge and life in the Harbour before it was built. I am working on it, and hope to have a story next week. The trouble is, there is so much happening in Pender Harbour that I never get a chance to fit it in.

Don't dump, donate program helps locals

The Unemployment Action Centre's Don't Dump-Donate service has been a great help to many residents on the coast. We appreciate your concern and generosity with donations to date. The demand for furnishings is exceeding the supply. So we urge you to check your garage or basement for articles that are just gathering dust.

Some of these needs are: 5 couches; 4 kitchen tables & chairs; 1 double bed; 2 dressers; pots & pans; dishes; cutlery; towels; blankets; electrical appliances. We can use just about anything but these items are most pressing. A truck is also needed for delivering and pick ups. If you can donate one or are willing to accept small monthly payments or, can trade for whatever we have here, call Ron at 886-2425.

Donations of wood are needed to build shelves in order to enhance our clothing exchange area. These materials need not be in perfect condition.

Egmont News

Heart Month here

by Ann Cook, 883-9167

COMMUNITY NEWS

Here it is Febeairy, Febroary or Feboary, however you say it I call it the Heart Month. That makes me think of Annabelle Antilla 883-2633; she's the lady who is looking for canvassers in this area for the B.C. Heart Foundation. Be a heart fund volunteer - someday YOUR heart may thank you. There must be someone in Egmont, Earls Cove or Ruby Lake who will volunteer to canvass this area.

MIXED POOL

Mixed pool anyone? Be at the Backeddy Wednesday evening 8 p.m. The pool table hasn't been as busy as last winter, so there can't be any pool sharks around; that should add to a fun evening.

FIRST AID

Dear Linda Curtiss, we haven't forgotten you and your concern for our area regarding first aid. We are working on it, on Egmont time! For Egmont folks who were not at that meeting we are looking for Egmont residents interested in taking the industrial first aid course.

A few have shown an interest but of course money and transportation are holding them back. If that's your reason, come to the school and let's talk about it; remember where there's a will there's a way.

SCHOOL

I told you I would remind you to come to the school Wednesday, February 6 at 3:30; both John and Don will be there for the school society meeting. Notice that first name business; that's just how well we are getting to know John Denley and Don Fairweather.

The school society meetings aren't just for the parents of the school children, they are for everyone concerned, grandparents, school taxpayers, aunts, uncles and the couple down the road. Come and get the facts and have your say. Don and John are easy to talk to and easy to listen to and understand.

School business is everybody's business. Help our children get the best education possible as one day they will be the Dons and Johns—the people we must trust.

HEALTH

Health is also everybody's business. My way of thinking is that if I am not well and healthy somebody is going to have to help me to take care of myself, and I like to be independent. For a start, think about taking care of your heart. That means exercise; walking is the best exercise for any age. Another BEST is a fitness class and we have one happening right here in the community hall every Monday and Thursday at 7 p.m. Do your heart and heart throb a favour, get in shape; she doesn't like your spare tire any better than her own. Don't worry about anyone showing you up, as Diana encourages us to go at our own pace so there's no competition.

BITS AND PIECES

Thanks to all the people who have saved postage stamps. Every little bit helps to fight cancer.

Reminder, Egmont clinic day is the second Tuesday of each month. That's the twelfth of this Heart month.

The Backeddy, Fritz Family Restaurant in Earls Cove, Ruby Lake Restaurant, Gulf Service Station, Harbour Video or B & J Store in Halfmoon Bay are the places to buy a ticket for $1. That will give you one of three chances to win a $150 shopping spree at IGA in Madeira Park put on by Pender Harbour Lioness Club.

Shine up your dancing shoes; there's going to be an Egmont wedding party, as soon as we can confirm we have a bride and groom to attend.

Belated birthday wishes Sherrie Higgins, and Kristi, and Fred. Happy Heart month birthday to Adam Wallace, Megan Marion, Crystal White, Jackie Williams, Brenda Silvey, Karlene Walker, B. McClelland, Winnie Earl, Sarah Silvey, Sally Rentmeester, and Little Toni.

Cooking

seems to go in splurges. Sometimes we seem to live on nothing but Toad in the Hole or Macaroni & Cheese for months and then I break off in a completely different direction and we live on exotica like Fondu Bourguignonne and Ratatouille. After a while my conservative family complain. "Can't we have some food you haven't messed about with?" they plead. I usually appease them with roast beef—so that I can mess about with some obscure Chinese dish with the left overs! Don't tell. After the last plea however I decided to give them a dear old Roast Stuffed Chicken served with savoy cabbage, parsleyed carrots and roast potatoes—not to forget gravy.

Roast Chicken    salt & pepper    2 tablespoons butter
1 medium chicken    3 strips bacon    lemon juice

Stuffing:    2 cups soft breadcrumbs    1 grated apple
6 tablespoons chopped onion    1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup chopped mushroom stalks    1 teaspoon savory
6 tablespoons chopped parsley    salt & pepper

1. Make the stuffing by melting the butter and gently sauteing the onion until soft. 2. Mix all ingredients together.
3. Wipe the cavity of the chicken out and sprinkle with a little salt. Loosen the skin at the neck and as much as possible from the breast—push it away with your fingers.
4. Insert the stuffing between the skin and the breast meat and skewer in place. Insert the remainder of the stuffing in the body cavity.
5. Cut slits in the bacon every ½ inch and place over the chicken breast.
6. Melt butter in roasting pan and place chicken in. Sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Cover with wax paper and roast for 2 hours at 325°F. Baste frequently.
7. Ten minutes before serving, remove the wax paper, spinkle a little flour over the bird, baste and return to the oven for ten minutes at 375° to brown.

To complete the meal I made "Creamy Pink Pud". I delved into the depths of my freezer and came up with a package of frozen red currants. Frozen loganberries or raspberries would do.

Creamy Pink Pud
3 cups red currants    1 pkg. plain gelatine or other fruit    3 tablespoons custard powder
2 tablespoons sugar (less    3 tablespoons sugar or more depending on fruit)    2½ cups milk
1 cup whipping cream

1. Simmer fruit until pulpy. Press through stainer to remove any seeds.
  2. Return juicy pulp to medium heat. Add sugar and gelatine and stir for a few minutes until gelatine has dissolved. Remove from heat.
  3. Blend custard powder and sugar with a little milk. Add rest of milk gradually. Heat till boiling, stirring constantly until mixture has thickened.
  4. Mix pulp and custard. Cool. (Add extra sugar if required before cooling.)
  5. Whip cream and stir in swirls into mixture. Pour into serving dish and chill thoroughly.
- I tell you, they ate it, they asked for more, they said do it again. It's enough to put you off cookery books for life!

Customer Service

As competition for available business gets keener and keener, new services are developed that will attract customers. One of the services we saw publicized in The Sun was a grocery phone order and delivery service. This, of course, was not being offered by the established self-serve supermarkets but by a franchised operation, with delivery costs added.

I remember years ago most food stores, including large ones, particularly the department stores that carried groceries, would take phone orders and deliver. Gradually the Cash and Carry trend eliminated these services as being too costly. The food market of today prefers customers to shop personally. In this way they shop the store where they get to choose from a broad selection of foodstuffs, including a continuous stream of new items.

There is a need, however, to serve people who for various reasons either can't or don't want to go out. We know this by the kind of calls we get from time to time.

The Homemakers of Human Resources and the Sunshine Coast Community Services with their volunteers provide excellent service to the extended care patients and many others needing transportation and help. We see them in the store almost daily,—but I have a feeling that there are a lot of people, not in these categories, or even simply indisposed, who might like to have the benefit of a phone order service and delivery.

Our business is slightly ahead of last year, and the year before, but costs keep escalating, particularly those over which we have no control.

So do let us hear from you. If there is any way in which we can extend services to be mutually beneficial we want to do so. A phone call would be nice, but if you are serious a letter would be even better.

P.S. Please do not remove grocery carts from our premises unless you undertake to return them promptly. The ocean claims too many. We fished three out again yesterday. Usually it's a total loss, and they don't come cheap. We ask the support of our customers on this major problem.

Gibsons Library booming

by George Cooper

Reports given to the Gibsons Public Library Association at the annual meeting January 28 showed circulation increasing about 5000 each year since 1982, the reference section abounding, and the juvenile section thriving both in its circulation and story-time sessions. Book borrowings in 1984 were around 28,000, Bernadette Buhrkall the librarian last year, reported. The magazine racks contain such publications as the National and Canadian Geographics, Consumer Reports, Stereo Review, The Beaver, and Equinox. Some of these are donated and others subscribed to out of library funds. Attendance at the story-time reaches as high as 22 a session in the juvenile section librarian, Gail Reimer reported.

In its reference section the library stocks copies of all current provincial regulations and acts. As well there are books on biography, music, encyclopedias, and birds, and sets of encyclopedia. Last year the board saw that the service was making far too heavy a demand on its loyal volunteers. The voluminous task of selecting, ordering at the best prices, and cataloguing required some paid clerical assistance. Gibsons council has agreed in this view and in the 1985 provisional budget has granted $5000 to the Library Association to provide 15 to 20 hours weekly for a clerk.

Volunteers, as they have been doing the years past, will continue in much needed service at the circulation desk, and of course, the librarian will remain a volunteer service. Pam Feichtner, temporarily librarian again after serving in 1983, says the position is still very much a volunteer one and she would not consider it to be anything else.

Pam pointed out the invaluable assistance that the provincial Library Services Branch provides community libraries, in the way of training in librarianship, a consultative service as near as the telephone, and special loans of large print books, and books in other languages. Our main service is still our circulation of fiction and other recreational reading, Pam said.

Grants in 1984 were $7005 from the Provincial Library Services Branch, $1850 from Gibsons, and $1800 from the regional district. Other income: memberships, $1250; fines and donations $734.05; book sales, an average of $300 for the two sales in 1984 and sales in previous years.

If you have a mind to donate to the library, you can now get a receipt for an income tax deduction from them. A worthy service to support.

Steve White said the book sales were a kind of rummage sale and brought in a little cash and, more important, new members. Books sold are those that no one is borrowing and are culled for the sale to make way for popular titles.

Members new to the board this year are Chuck Ashby, Bob Nygren, and Chuck Giesbrecht. They replace veterans retiring, Olive Manton, Ted Henniker, and Diane Strom. Continuing on the board are Fred Dowdie, who was chairman in 1984, Bill Sneddon Sr., Stu Metcalf, Jean Mainil, Steve White, and Ken Barton. Norm Peterson, for seven years chairman of the Library Association in Gibsons, is the Gibsons council representative to the library this year.

REMEMBER SENIORS DANCING SATURDAY

Sechelt Seniors Branch 69 invites members and friends to their Valentine's Dance on Saturday, February 9 at their hall in Sechelt. Social hour starts at 8 p.m., dancing at 9, bring your own bottle, admission is $3 each.

HONOURING HAROLD NELSON

A party was held in honour of Harold Nelson in West Vancouver Legion on Saturday, February 2. Arranged by his sister Phyllis Shaw who along with her husband will be retiring shortly to Halfmoon Bay.

Two reasons to celebrate, Harold's birthday and his final retirement from B.C. Hydro.

Harold spent 12 years on council for the village of Sechelt, six years as mayor. He has lived on the Coast since he was three years old and had 32½ years with B.C. Hydro. Now retired at an early 60, what is next in your future, Harold?

This will be a family reunion with Hansens, Billingsleys, and Nelsons attending from here, and others coming from the interior, Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island.

CHAMPIONSHIP DOG SHOW JUDGE

Bill Walkey of West Sechelt is now qualified to judge working dogs of seventeen breeds. Bill received the results of his exams back in record time of two weeks, which is an indication of how well he did, must have crossed all his t's etc. as this is one of the exams where 100 per cent is needed to pass.

The requirements a person needs just to get this far are amazing. There are many prerequisites. One has to have bred dogs and shown them for 10 years and of course Bill has been very successful with his Bull Mastiffs, is Western Director of the Associated Editor Club, and is also associated editor of a prominent dog magazine.

Following right on the heels of receiving his judging papers he has been invited to judge an important B.C. Dog show in the fall.

Congratulations Bill, and good luck as you pursue qualifying for the next step up.

Aid for lonely writers

by Betty and Perry Keller

Writing is a solitary occupation—just one lonely soul pounding thoughts into words on his typewriter keys, month after month, with no one to guide or encourage him. At least that was true in days gone by! But today's successful writers are providing guidebooks for those who would follow in their footsteps, and your reviewers have been taking a look at three of them.

Richard Rohmer, author of the best-sellers Ultimatum, Exonerated, Balls! and How to Write a Best Seller, which he confidently predicts will be a best seller, too! It is a step-by-step guidebook on how to proceed from the germination of the idea for a book to the etiquette for autographing the final product.

He warns writers to steer clear of "literary" projects if they want to produce best-sellers—in Canada, this means a book with hardback sales in the 10,000 copies bracket—because although a literary book "frequently sends the critics into orgasms of unfettered flowery praise for the author's enormous capabilities,....critics don't buy books and the people in the market-place are pretty pernickety when it comes to putting down hard cash for literary lollipops". He adds that "many of the greatest books ever written did not sell at all until long after their authors were dead"—which may comfort one's heirs but hardly puts food on the table of the author.

Rohmer advises caution in "the excessive use of street language, explicit and coarse sex scenes, and excessive violence", because the reader should not be "repulsed or insulted". The key to the amount to be used, says Rohmer, is the readership that the author is aiming at, as well as the author's own good taste—or lack of it.

Rohmer's book is written in the aggressive, super-confident style that he used to good advantage in his earlier works. Whether his approach to writing will work for others remains to be seen, but it's a good book for stirring up the latent creative cells.

The Armchair Guide to Murder and Detection by David Peat is a much more specialized "how-to" book: it provides the would-be detective story writer with all the procedural information he ever wanted to know but never had the courage to walk into a police station to ask.

Peat, a Canadian, gathered information from Canadian, American and British police sources, and since the book has only been on the market a few months, most of the data is current.

So for the writer who wants to know how to give a neutron

This week we present a wide variety of topics:

1. Crime Stoppers. Constable Wayne Leatherdale of the Gibsons RCMP explains the community supported "Crime Stoppers" program. A video tape presentation will also be introduced.

2. Addiction - Part 1 Alcoholism. River Light anchors a discussion with members of the community about the problems and abuses of alcoholism.

Forum for Young Canadians. Chatelech student, Andrea Rayment, was in our studio to discuss her plans to attend a forum in Ottawa where students from all across Canada gather to participate in discussions on various relevant topics.

activation test for gunpowder residue, or needs to know what a stool pigeon is called in Lancashire, or correct American legal jargon, Peat has all the answers.

The third book for writers that your reviewers looked at was The Romance Writers' Phrase Book by Jean Kent and Candace Shelton, and it is exactly what the title implies—a collection of 3000 phrases culled from romances (published by Harlequin, Silhouette, etc.)

The writer who wants to describe the heroine's furtive glances at the hero simply looks up the section on "Eyes" and runs a finger down the pages until it stops at "Movement", and she will find 89 different ways to describe the lady's roving eyes.

The authors say that these "tags" were not intended to be used verbatim as they are merely listed to stimulate the writer's imagination, but none of them are copyrighted, so they are free for the using!

How to Write a Best Seller by Richard Rohmer, McClelland and Stewart, $9.95.

The Armchair Guide to Murder and Detection by David Peat, Deneau Publishers, $10.95.

The Romance Writers' Phrase Book by Jean Kent and Candace Shelton, General Publishing, $7.95.

Gallery browsing

A quick stop at the galleries confirm the local artists and craftspeople are as busy as ever.

Hunter Gallery in lower Gibsons boasts a new image, more open and airy.

Local watercolourists Joan Thompson Warn, Hazel Coxall, Sue Clark and Greta Guzek display a cross-section of their talent.

Strong traditional oils by Ruth Gehring, Kathleen Wells and Harry Gregory will help to support this airy feeling.

Lots of pots. Varying price range by Mary Glen Hodgson, Pat Gallagher, Betty Warren, Pat Forst, Cindy Kirk, Gloria Fyles, and Ann Gurney.

Alan Grout's benign blue expresses the image of the gallery.

Show Piece Frames' commanding view of Gibsons Harbour has inspired Cindy Buis' etchings of harbour activity.

It appears Elaine Futterman's hiatus has ended, her wheel has turned a good selection at Show Piece Frames.

After a goodly amount of hard work and patience Bullwinkle's Hot Glass studio is in production. Harry invites us all to view.

Bullwinkle's continues to have an invigorating collage of local talent.

The Shadow Baux Galleries are bubbling with enthusiasm with new items for spring. A collection of Japanese artists in sculpture, pottery, calligraphy and culinary cuisine. Linda Molloy's new designs in wearable art are a kaleidoscope of colour.

An interesting array of Kevin McEvoy's prints portrays the exacting skill of stone lithography.

Concerts planned

Due to the success of the Countryside Concerts series completed January 6, two further concerts have been scheduled.

The first, February 11, will feature Lyn Vernon as soprano soloist with Bruce Dunn and the Canada West Chamber Orchestra. The orchestra has 12 professional string players and a harpsichordist.

The harpsichord will be used in a stirring piece of music by Handel which Lyn Vernon will sing. It will also be used in Bach's magnificent concerto for two violins which will feature

The seven artists from Vancouver which make up the group show currently at the Arts Centre, Sechelt were all selected from the large "Warehouse Exhibition" held in an old warehouse in Vancouver last November. There is no particular unifying theme in this exhibition, partly because more than one person chose who should exhibit and partly because variety was one of the criteria of the selectors, so that local viewers could see a little bit of some of the different things being done in the large and increasingly active art scene in Vancouver.

To be specific, here is a run down on who and what is in the show.

Clint Atkinson - had a varied career (sailor, faller) before studying at the University of Victoria. His huge charcoal drawings which close up look like incoherent scratches and marks, from a distance become groups of people leering, grinning, grimacing. In his "Winter Fun #2" he gives us the reverse side of the idealistic holiday ad.

Dennis Walliser, also a social commentator, gives us a very appropriate painting for this particular time of the Meare's Island crisis with his "That's the B.C. Spirit", depicting a range of hills covered with stumps and a busy crew of men and machines cutting down the last tree.

David Ostrem who left Vancouver three months ago to go to New York, pokes fun affectionately at society sending us his messages in brilliant colours from Motown, Cartoonland and deep in the heart of the fifties.

Paul Howells has always been interested in wildlife and initially trained as a wildlife officer but changed his vocation to study art at the University of Manitoba. His expressionistic portrayals of animal subjects are odes not only to the spirit, but also to the energy and mystery of nature.

Sylvia Scott who teaches interdisciplinary arts at the Emily Carr College of Art and Design sees the process of art making as communication, as a way of understanding the world. Her collages of fragments of letters received and sent, of dreams and small objects which relate to her experiences at that time, enforce her statement.

Dianne Radmore is an artist who uses clay (as in her masks), natural and man made objects to create her simple but powerful collages which are like primitive ikons. Her fascination for archaeology, anthropology and primitive art forms shows in the quiet intensity she manages to achieve.

Nancy Boyd works as a graphic designer, illustrator, architectural renderer but has spent the last two years concentrating on painting and is presently working on a new series, again dealing with lost cultural forms which is the subject of her two pictures in the exhibition.

VISIT THE SUNSHINE COAST

The Centre of Aquaculture Industry in B.C. and look for business opportunities

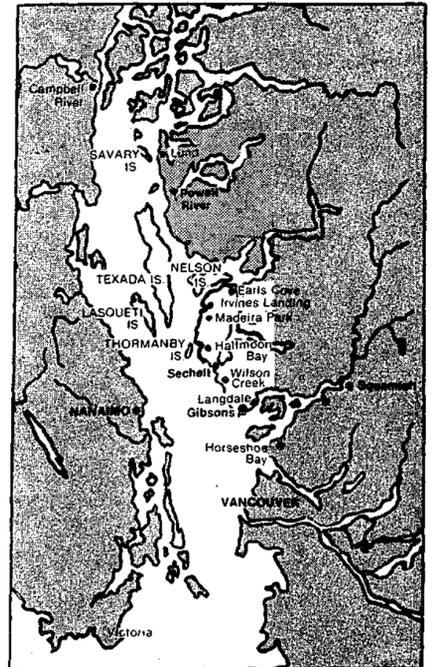

Of course the Sunshine Coast offers all the amenities that make a rural location attractive to business, cottage industry and small manufacturing.

But we also offer some of the finest ways of living you can find anywhere, mild westcoast climate and as the name says, lots of sunshine, and a quality of life with all the community services and facilities that your family would want.

Last, but not least, our recreation potentials; sports fishing, boating, diving, hiking, canoeing, cross country skiing, sailing bar none.

Close enough to Vancouver for a day trip and only half of cost of going to Vancouver Island, and remember, when you paid your ferry ticket in Horseshoe Bay, you also paid for return - all this on 1/2 a tank of gas.

Also this summer, Seaspeed Hovermarine service. Downtown Vancouver to Gibsons in 45 minutes. Seabus comfort and style for commuting, visits and sightseeing

If you are thinking of establishing or moving your business, consider these options;

- a good place with room to grow for people and business
- a positive attitude towards growth and economic development
- reasonable priced serviced industrial land
- skilled workers who like to work
- proximity to Vancouver and to the lower mainland markets
- balanced urban and rural living with the Town of Gibsons (home of the Beachcombers) and the Village of Sechelt surrounded with some of the most beautiful, active and liveable coastal country
- make a better living, and your family's living better, in the middle of our outdoor recreation paradise
- golf course under construction in Pender Harbour
- new 400 boat marina in Gibsons
- home of the Salmon Shark
- Economic Development strategy to be completed by June 1985

Sunshine Coast's Bantam team, Imperial Esso Dealers were in Seattle, January 26 and 27.

On Saturday the Esso Dealers won a hard fought game 4 to 3 from Seattle Highlands. Top scorer in this game was Ryan Paul with two goals. Rob Stockwell got 1 goal and 2 assists. The other Esso goal was by Corey August.

On Sunday morning after a two hour session Saturday evening at the Red Dot indoor water slide the Esso Dealers skated to a 6 to 1 victory over the same Highland team. Top scorers were Ken Sorenson, 2 goals; Corey August, 2 goals; Mike Siebert, 1 goal; Ryan Paul, 1 goal. David MacIntyre got 2 assists as did Paul Klassen.

The Esso Dealers team would like to give a special thanks to the mayor and council of the village of Sechelt for donating the pints that they traded with the Seattle team.

They hope to bring Seattle up to Sechelt for their tournament in early April along with a number of other out of town teams.

Minor hockey

Tremendous support for the minor hockey executive was exhibited at the January 28 general meeting. Only six people were there at the start of the meeting which had been promoted for people to express their complaints and suggestions. The lack of attendance can only be interpreted as support for the executive for which they are extremely grateful.

Decisions were made regarding play-offs and the annual awards night. Fund raising was prominent in the discussion and in particular, the upcoming Bingo night on February 16 at Roberts Creek, where $2,000 in prizes will be available. Tickets may still be purchased from Marilyn MacIntyre at 886-9827. Occasionally, people are heard to make suggestions about hockey at the arena. In particular, suggestions as to what part of the anatomy of what executive member can be inserted into what area. Unfortunately these people could not make it to this meeting. Hopefully, they can come to the annual spring meeting when elections for new executive officers will be held. They will surely be interested in volunteering for a position.

Through the mist of sorrow, watch for the soft beacons of friendship to guide you. Your friends, neighbors and family will support you and help to lead you to comfort and consolation at the time when you need it most. . . . We pledge ourselves to giving you the best assistance possible.

Reverend runs for president

Liberal leadership sought

Reverend Val Anderson, minister of Grace Memorial United Church, Vancouver, has announced recently that he is seeking to become president of the British Columbia Liberal Party, (at the provincial convention March 23 - 24 in Victoria).

He has indicated his complete support of Art Lee, leader of the British Columbia Liberal Economic/ Employment Strategy project leader Bonnie Pyplacz explains the timetable for developing both a one-year and five-year employment plan for the Sunshine Coast. On the right is project advisor Maurice Egan.

Placer mining

Over 300 delegates plus 40 industrial exhibitors are expected to be involved in the prestigious fifth annual RMS - Ross International Placer Gold Mining (1985) seminar to be held on February 4 to 6, 1985, at the Westin Bayshore Inn at Vancouver, B.C.

Over 20 pertinent presentations will cover topics of importance to the placer gold mining industry including recent developments in recovery systems and effluent treatments. In addition, Peter van de Velde of Toyo Pumps North America, will be announcing a revolutionary, new method for moving nearly waterless products long distances through pipeline systems.

Interested readers may contact, 604-792-5911, 604-792-4361, 604-6107 for more information.

Party, as the person to help lead our province out of the chaos which has been forced upon us.

Val Anderson, very aware of the overwhelming suffering that has come upon thousands of B.C. citizens, is committed to help develop the organization necessary to have a party with the will and the means to form an effective government in British Columbia.

Started by the increasing violence - mental, emotional and physical that is gripping our province, he feels the time is long past for a movement that works for co-operation and integration. He believes that we must cease fighting with each other and instead work together to overcome the ills of our society.

He believes that the rural and urban dwellers must listen carefully to each other for in the final analysis each is dependent on the other. Young and old must share their common aspirations for a community that all can enjoy. Employed and unemployed must pull together to create the jobs needed so desperately.

As founding chairman of the Vancouver Food Bank he knows that the people of the community will respond when challenged.

For comments, Val Anderson may be contacted at 879-3412 or 733-3436.

Medical hero here

by Reverend Dale D. Peterson

Every Canadian should know about Dr. Ben Gullison, one of the great, unsung heroes of this country. Tom Harper, religion editor of the Toronto Star, once described Dr. Gullison as "a man whose healing work equals or indeed surpasses that of Albert Schweitzer and others of similar renown". At 79, and still going strong, Dr. Ben Gullison is the founder and chief inspiration behind Operation Eyesight Universal. In recognition of his achievements and service to the country, Dr. Gullison was awarded the Order of Canada in 1980.

Since its formation in Calgary in 1963, Operation Eyesight Universal, a distinctly Canadian organization, has been responsible for restoring sight, through surgery, to over a quarter of a million babies, children and adults in 17 developing countries world-wide. More than 1 million people have been saved from permanent blindness through the preventive care of Operation Eyesight's 30 mobile eye clinics and 40 regular stations or clinics throughout the Third World.

Operation Eyesight Universal guarantees that 90 cents out of every dollar goes directly to this healing ministry. As an example, a gift of $25 will pay for the removal of cataracts from both eyes of a Third World blind person, including food while they are treated and spectacles should they need them. Donors will, in due time, receive a card naming the person who receives their sight—specifying their age and sex, and signed by the operating surgeon.

Residents of Gibsons and the surrounding community will have an opportunity to meet Dr. Gullison and hear him speak at a special service to be held at Calvary Baptist Church, Park Road, at 7 p.m. on Sunday, February 10, 1985.

On prisons

Last fall prison chaplain Ted Cryer visited the Sunshine Coast and spoke at Bethel Baptist and Gibsons Pentecostal Church. We will again have the opportunity to learn from Mr. Cryer on February 9 when he returns to present a Saturday workshop at Bethel.

The workshop is broken down under the following headings.

9 to 12: Prison and the Prisoner, The System, Christians, the Local Church and Prison Ministry.

12 to 1: Please bring a bag lunch; coffee and tea will be provided.

1 to 3: Volunteers, Volunteer Preparation, Questions and Answers.

This is no charge for the workshop and no pre-registration required. Call 885-3919 for more information.

On salmon treaty

Skelly calls for legislator input

Ray Skelly, New Democrat MP from Comox/Powell River, recently urged the Conservative government to permit parliament to study the proposed Canada-U.S. Salmon Interception Treaty before the Mulroney cabinet ratifies the agreement.

Skelly alluded to the fact that for years the two governments have been attempting to negotiate and come to some agreement on salmon interception policy. A previous attempt to ratify a treaty was squashed by the U.S. Senate after pressure was applied from Alaska.

"Now that a treaty has tentatively been agreed upon," said Skelly, "the minister of fisheries should allow Canadian legislators the opportunity to study the proposal and its implications."

"The U.S. Senate has still to ratify the agreement and through this process American legislators will have an opportunity for input," stated Skelly.

"In Canada there is the probability," said Skelly, "that there will be no opportunity for Canadians to have input or for legislators to study the treaty and its ramifications on the industry. The Tory cabinet may simply ratify the proposal and that will be the end of it."

Skelly noted that many people involved in the west coast fishing industry have grave reservations about the treaty. These include:

The term for some provisions is too short.

Any salmon enhancement efforts on major Canadian rivers may simply allow the U.S. the opportunity to intercept larger Canadian resources in the future.

If the Canadian government ratifies this treaty it will then have abandoned the principle of ownership of anadromous species and ratified the principle of U.S. access to Canadian fish.

Canadian sovereignty over the management of Canadian fish stocks has been compromised by placing management jurisdiction in the hands of a joint Canada U.S. management board.

The U.S. refuses to recognize equitable Canadian rights to salmon in Canada-Alaska transboundary rivers.

The U.S. Senate may refuse to ratify this treaty or may demand changes which would be even more detrimental to the west coast fishing industry.

The authority of the joint Canada-U.S. management board over fisheries management programs may seriously disrupt traditional fisheries in Canada.

"These concerns are far too serious to be ignored," stated Skelly, "the treaty and its implication to the fishing industry in Canada must be studied by parliament."

Skelly said, "The Mulroney government in its undignified haste to ratify the West Coast Intercept Treaty is simply providing the prime minister with something to give away when he meets with American president, Ronald Reagan in Quebec City on March 19, 1985."

Bird count excellent for 1985

Our coastal Christmas bird counts are much dependent on the weather for success in finding both species and numbers of birds. This year we had excellent conditions in the morning, but rapidly deteriorating weather in the afternoon with light rain and poor visibility. However, most species are sighted in the morning, so the weather probably didn't significantly affect our totals.

All in all it was an excellent count with six groups covering our count circle which stretches from West Sechelt through Roberts Creek, Gibsons, and Langdale to Port Mellon. We managed to find almost all of the species one would expect on the Sunshine Coast in the winter, with the most surprising miss being Merlin. Other misses were both Common Murre and Pigeon Guillemot—these two species for the second year in a row.

I have looked most days for Common Murre this winter, but have seen none, so it was not surprising to miss it on count day. No Screech Owls were seen, though T.G. searched in Porpoise Bay Provincial Park before dawn. The Red Breasted Nuthatch was missed, but this species is very erratic on the coast in winter. Last year they were quite common all winter long, but this year they appear to be totally absent, none having been seen since October.

Every year we add new species to our all-time CBC list. This year we added five: Peregrine Falcon, Ring-Billed Gull, Jaeger species, Pygmy Owl and Common Redpoll. That brings the all time total to 111.

The bird of the count was undoubtedly the Jaeger seen by Doug Brown and John Hind-Smith in Howe Sound. The bird, though not identified specifically, would almost certainly be a Parasitic. It is relatively common along our coast in the fall when it harasses migrating Common Terns, but is almost unknown in B.C. waters in the winter. It was watched for about two minutes chasing gulls.

Pygmy Owl was predictable this year as they have been fairly common in the preceding weeks. Two were seen, both in Gibsons. Peregrine and Ring-Billed Gull were both expected to be seen eventually on count day in our area. The common RedPolls were seen in mixed flocks with Pine Siskins in the Howe Sound area. Pine Siskins were extremely hard to find in the Sechelt to Roberts Creek area but were abundant around Howe Sound.

Our record to date: 1979, 69 species, 4530 individuals, weather rain, snow, wind; 1980, 70 species, 5075 individuals, weather heavy rain; 1981, 84 species, 7419 individuals, weather clear, cold; 1982, 67 species, 5725 individuals, weather rain, strong winds; 1983 92 species, 11,795 individuals, weather clear, cold; 1984, 88 species, 7668 individuals, weather clear a.m., rain p.m.

Remember dues are due. $10 family, $7.50 individual, $5 seniors.

Human rights conference on Friday

There will be a conference on human rights and the peace of nations, co-sponsored by the Canadian Human Rights Foundation and Simon Fraser University, to take place at the Hotel Georgia, Vancouver, on Friday, February 8.

Speakers will be Dr. George Ignatieff, Chancellor, University of Toronto, and former Canadian ambassador to the United Nations (UN) who will speak on the right to life and the threat of nuclear destruction; Professor John P. Humphrey, Faculty of Law, McGill University, former director, UN secretariat, human rights division and president of the Canadian Human Rights Foundation, who will speak on the relationship between human rights and peace; Professor F.Q. Quo, Department of Political Science, Simon Fraser University, (SFU) addressing the question of breaking down the barriers to understanding; Professor Charles Bourne, Faculty of Law, University of British Columbia, (UBC) who will talk on individual rights and the changing character of international law and new political and legal structures required to promote the greater interdependence of human rights and peace; Betty Zimmerman, director of Radio Canada International who will talk on the role of the information media in relation to human rights and peace and Dr. Thomas L. Perry, Professor of Pharmacology, UBC, and member of Physicians for Social Responsibility (B.C. chapter) who will speak on opportunities open to Canadians to contribute to the development of human rights and peace.

The conference will be structured so as to permit maximum debate amongst participants.

For more information contact Ms Janice Frye, SFU, 291-4565.

Police news

GIBSONS RCMP

The theft of nine cases of two litre bottles was reported on January 25. The bottles were stolen from a storage compound located on Henry Road. Theft totalled $45.

On January 30, a Pratt Road resident reported that approximately 25 to 30 gallons of gas had been siphoned from his dump truck. The theft could have occurred between January 28 and 30.

Five merchandisable trees, four large cedars and a large fir, were reported stolen on January 31 by the owner of the trees, Ian McKenzie.

Vandalism was reported on January 25 from Elphinstone secondary school. The school's janitor advised police that $200 worth of damages were incurred when vandals smashed a window on the west side of the school.

Shortly after midnight on January 25, police apprehended an adult female resident of Gibsons as a result of a motor vehicle accident report received from the School Road area. The woman was charged with impaired driving as a result of police attendance; she was also charged with possession of a narcotic when a quantity of marijuana was found in her purse.

An adult male passenger of the car driven by the woman was taken to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of injuries. The driver of the other vehicle involved in the accident was not injured.

The woman was just driving out of the Legion's parking lot when she hit the other car.

SECHELT RCMP

It was a quiet week for the Sechelt area. Two break-ins were reported to police on January 28; the Bathgate store in Egmont was broken into during the night and groceries and a quantity of cash were taken.

A residence located on Redrooffs Road was broken into. Coins, personal papers and a watch were stolen.

Childhood course

The Sechelt campus of Capilano College is offering two courses in working with young children, starting February 8.

The first course involves developing new creative ideas for young children through art.

Using art helps children gain an expanded appreciation of the world around them. Participants in this workshop will explore art as a means of self-expression and creative growth for children.

This course starts Friday, February 8, at 8 p.m. and then runs all day Saturday, February 9, 9 to 4 p.m.

The second course is running March 8 and 9. It focuses on understanding the behaviour of young children. Practical methods for dealing with anti-social behaviour will be presented. Again the course starts on the Friday night and continues on Saturday.

Each course costs $55. Pre-registration is necessary. More information is available at 885-9310, Monday to Friday after 12:30 p.m. at Capilano College.
