At Public Hearing Sechelt council fields complaints from public

by Penny Fuller

A public hearing was held in Sechelt last Wednesday to receive public input on proposed zoning changes in Porpoise Bay and council members found themselves under sharp criticism from the audience for their lack of response. The subject of the hearing was Bylaw 25-9, which would change the zoning in front of a small industrial area in Porpoise Bay.

One foreshore lease owned by Vic Walters, is currently zoned I-3 which permits light industry, warehousing, machine repair shops, offices, airports, aquaculture processing and the processing of forest and wood products. Walters spoke at the public hearing, saying that the focus should be on reclaiming the current industrial area for residential and tourist development.

While he agreed that no current business should be forced to move out of the area, he asked if there wasn't some mechanism by which any future owners of those properties would be unable to pursue further industrial development.

A second lease, owned by Rudy Crucil and leased by Sechelt Processing, is zoned M-2 with permitted uses including aquaculture and related activities including processing and freight handling.

The third lot, targeted for rezoning is a lease in front of Choquer and Sons welding operation which is currently zoned W-1 but which Allan Choquer has applied for I-3 zoning on.

Sechelt planner Rob Sabine came up with a slightly altered Marine 1 zoning, or M-1 zoning, which he recommends be applied to the foreshore in front of the industrial lots.

The M-1 zoning would allow boat building and repair, restaurant, launching facilities, fueling installations and moorage facilities. The alterations made to the zoning involve the removal of the requirement to perform repair and maintenance within a building.

Several residents pointed to the change in the M-1 zone as a contentious issue. If Bylaw 25-9 is adopted, this would remove the requirement from all M-1 zones in the Bay. Reg Rowe and Daphne Dulson were among several people who expressed concern about the noise level, which echoes across the waters of the bay, which would be, they said, inevitable with boat repair work.

Other members of the audience focused their remarks on council's attitude toward the public. Peggy Wagner told the council that she had bought her home on Porpoise Bay after visiting here last year with Elderhostel. She said that she might be the first to sell her property after seeing council's lack of response at the hearing.

Seabus link to Vancouver?

by Penny Fuller

A seabus link to downtown Vancouver could be less than a year away. At last week's meeting of the regional district board, Jim Yates presented a film on the new Stolkraft seabus that he is hoping will serve the Sunshine Coast and Bowen Island as early as next March.

The 18-metre seabus would carry a maximum of 100 passengers and make the trip from Gibsons Harbour to the seabus terminal in downtown Vancouver in approximately 45 minutes.

Yates has a lifetime of experience in the marine industry and was involved in Seaspeed Transport which ran a service to Nanaimo in 1984.

The Stolkraft hull is a new design which was developed in Australia. In 1987, a prototype of the hull was built at Pender Harbour Boatworks for Expo.

The design provides for minimum noise and wave disturbance, as well as being extremely fuel efficient and Yates explained that for those and other reasons, it was chosen over other transport options, such as the hovercraft.

The estimated charge for a one-way trip is $7.50 with special rates for commuters. Yates told the board that they expect to make two runs in the morning and two in the afternoon, with the possibility of a late night run if use warrants it.

Dock fenced

Following advice from its insurance company, B.C. Ferries has fenced around the dock at Langdale where the Dogwood Princess loads and unloads. This dock has always been used by private boat owners picking up passengers coming off the ferry from Horseshoe Bay in spite of it being posted for use by the Dogwood Princess only.

With that dock fenced off now, the nearest pickup site is Hopkins Landing.

SCRD protests

Highway patrol moving to Squamish?

Directors from all areas of the Sunshine Coast expressed their displeasure, at last week's meeting of the Sunshine Coast Regional District (SCRD), at the decision to move two highway patrol officers from this area to Squamish.

Area A Director Gordon Wilson placed the item on the agenda, but all the directors appeared to be aware of the decision.

Sechelt Mayor Tom Meredith said he had the rumour confirmed by Staff-Sergeant Hill, last week and has fired off letters of protest to various government ministries.

Wilson pointed out that the increased traffic accidents on the highway to Whistler, which is the reason given for the move, amounted to a 20 per cent increase. On the Sunshine Coast in 1988, the number of accidents were up 19 per cent.

On the Squamish/Whistler

Highway there were five fatalities last year, while on Highway 101 there were four.

Currently, Squamish has four highway patrol officers, while the Sunshine Coast has two. According to Wilson this area is entitled to one more officer for this population base.

The regional board voted unanimously to send an immediate letter to the Solicitor General stating that the removal of highway patrol officers from this Coast is unacceptable.

In a press release handed out before the meeting Gordon Wilson, in his role as provincial leader of the Liberal party, suggested that the decision was politically motivated.

"I cannot believe that such a decision could be made from an analysis of the statistics available. There had to be some politician who has an interest in Whistler pushing for this change," he said.

Officers sent to patrol the Coast, he conjectured, would have to connect with the ferry, which runs every two hours, and would probably be here for two days at a time, 'ticketing like crazy', before returning to Squamish.

SCRD Chairman Peggy Connor commented: "Everyone's going to know when they're here. It won't act as much of a deterrent the rest of the time."

Staff-Sergeant Stelter of the Sechelt RCMP told the Coast News that the proposed move was under study. "I'm opposed to it," he said.

Sergeant Hill of the Gibsons RCMP said: "All I can say is that this is being considered but it is definitely not a fait accompli yet."

Both Stelter and Hill will be attending meetings concerning the highway patrol at RCMP headquarters in Vancouver this week.

Gurney explains to Area F

by Ellen Frith

A public meeting for Area 'F' residents was called on April 10 at Langdale Elementary School to discuss restructuring and other concerns.

Jim Gurney, director for Area 'E' as well as other members of their Area Planning Committee (APC) were invited to attend.

Gurney said that because of media publicity surrounding the West Howe Sound Recreation Commission's change of administration the previous week, he felt that he should explain the SCRCD's position in person. The announcement of the intended administration switch from the Town of Gibsons to the SCRCD coming as an unpleasant surprise to those sitting on the commission was reported in the Coast News April 10.

"There seems to be a couple (Gibsons) aldermen who want to make an issue about it," Gurney said. He stressed that the move was not an anti-restructuring one but, "if some people want to make it a political issue, we can."

He said when the commission was initially set up, the SCRCD had no parks department and Gibsons had a recreation director which is why the administration went to them in the first place. Later, he said, "The town fired the recreation director without telling the SCRCD."

Gurney said that the change of administration should not have been a surprise to anyone. "We have initiated a parks director now and he has a couple of helpers," Gurney said. "All the SCRCD is doing is repatriating our own commission."

He also felt, he said, "The SCRCD can do a better job than the town does."

Larry Jardine explained the new SCRCD budget and its impact on Area 'F' and wood waste management was also discussed. Restructuring was the last item on the agenda.

The APC members from both areas met after the meeting for a 'closed camera' discussion on restructuring.

Correction

Last week we reported erroneously that charges against Alderman Ken Collins had been laid by D'Arcy Burk, president of the Gibsons and District Chamber of Commerce.

The charges were actually laid by the Gibsons RCMP. Sergeant Hill of the Gibsons detachment told the Coast News that he could not divulge the name of the complainant whose complaint led to the charges.

It should also be made clear that the Gibsons and District Chamber of Commerce has no involvement in the matter.

Written Arts pavilion construction gets underway

The new pavilion at Rockwood Lodge for the Festival of the Written Arts is underway.

Last Tuesday, nine cords of shake bolts from Cloholm Falls, donated by Weldwood of Canada, were unloaded at the Porpoise Bay dock. Gibsons Building Supplies donated the services of a truck and driver, and structural steel has been donated by Thyssen Steel of West Van and Tudor Sales of New Westminster.

The 4900 square foot building, seating 550, will be a permanent home for the festival and will replace the tents used in previous years. It will be available for other community cultural events and will be managed by a committee of volunteers.

Among the speakers lined up for this year's festival are Pierre Berton, Charles Lynch, June Callwood, William Deverall, Joe Garner and Doris Shadbolt.

Workshop instructors will be Andreas Schroeder, Pam Hawthorne, Myrna Kostash and Daniel Woods.

Budget blues

Could it be that we are being softened up by the mass media for the forthcoming budget? Could it be that the mass means of information in this country, while if not managed, are remarkably susceptible to the influence of those who call the shots?

We are moved to these reflections by the sudden rediscovery of the federal deficit. A remarkable number of 'think pieces' have surfaced in the various forms of mass media of late detailing the dangers of the federal deficit and the dire urgency of the government biting the bullet and presenting a tough budget.

Of course, when governments bite the bullet it is the taxpayers who get shot and by all accounts the average Canadian, often criticized for saving too much of his money instead of investing it, is going to have his pocket book and his savings account and his standard of living assaulted by a federal government suddenly steely-eyed and resolute about the need for tough action in the matter of the federal deficit.

Of course, this is the same government which was flying around the country last fall just before the election and dispensing huge sums of money from coast to coast as it sought re-election. As we editorialized at the time, there was suddenly nothing to say about the fact that we had, as a country, spent our way into debt.

It is remarkable how few of the think pieces now warning us of dire need for increases in taxation seem to note the discrepancy in the government's mind-set of last fall and now.

Surely we are not being manipulated as well as robbed?

Millions lost

And while we are sourly contemplating the way of a government with our dollars, may we note that at least part of the reason the province of B.C. is suddenly in financial balance must go to the Americans who called the stumpage rates we were charging for our trees virtually a subsidy to the forest companies, they were so low. Rather than pay the Americans a surcharge we elected, wisely, to raise the stumpage rates so we got to keep the money.

Put that together with the fact that last week the government's main financial watchdog, the Auditor General, told the province last week there was lots of timber we weren't being paid for at all.

And then think about the untold millions of dollars we have lost between stumpage rates which were absurdly low and accounting practices which allowed trees to be taken with no payment at all and wonder about the wisdom of our masters.

Meditation on pro-life

Outstripping the resources

by Ellen Frith

Everytime I hear the term 'pro-life', I think of the man I stood beside once in a field in Wales. It was springtime and before us were that year's crop of young lambs, some of them so newly-born they could hardly walk. "Hmmm-m-m," the man said to me, pointing out an especially tender looking one, "now that would go nicely with a bit of mint jelly."

It was difficult not to flinch but at least he was being honest. He really did see the lamb solely as a hot dinner. He was not, in my opinion, pro-life.

The next week, however, I met a man who was. He was an old Welsh farmer leaning on a shovel in the middle of a sheep paddock mopping his brow. He was hot as he had been busy digging a shallow hole and piling the dirt up on one side of it. "Lambs like to play, you see," he told me, "and they like nothing better than to jump down a little ditch and then back out again."

Sure enough, as soon as we had backed away, the lambs did indeed start to congregate and were soon jumping down the hole and clambering up the dirt mound in some sheep version of 'king of the castle'.

The farmer told me his family had raised sheep on the same piece of land for three generations and he knew no other way to make a living. "But it breaks my heart, you see," he said, indicating the lambs, "to send them to the slaughter."

The old Welsh farmer was, I think, pro-life.

There were also calves born that spring. They cavorted like puppies in the field and if you went up to them and sniffed, they put their noses next to your's and sniffed back. It was difficult having to imagine them served with white wine because, in a simple way, I'm pro-life too.

Of course, being pro-life these days means a completely different thing. To say you are pro-life labels you an anti-abortionist and a protector of the human 'preborn'. You may also claim to have God on your side.

Perhaps this is true, but there is an untold number of life forms on this planet and each is, in its way, as precious, as beautiful and varied, and as full of potential as homo sapiens.

It is human arrogance, a trait more strident in some cultures than others, to assume that we may cause the death of so many other creatures and life forms in this world, and, in fact, by our glut, bring the very planet to its knees, but that we, as the dominant species, must save even our 'preborn'.

It is thought that the knowledge of what happened when there was not enough food to go around was bred into early man's bones. History even suggests that as far back as the paleolithic era, this knowledge was expressed instinctively in ways to insure population density never outstripped the available resources. One method of doing that, of course, was abortion.

On a TV documentary on families, last year, one woman from Kenya, which is a country with one of the highest birth rates in the world, said if she had a choice, she would have liked three children. She could then afford to feed them, she said, and send them to school. Instead she had eight and was expecting another. They were all very poor. The resources were outstripped.

Coping with MS

by Beatrix

Having a disease is a stressful weight to lug around. I see an old person who is doing just fine and I feel envious. I'll likely get to be an old person but I might not be doing so fine.

I've been to a meeting of the new local MS Self Help Group. It is a good and useful fledgling organization.

I know I won't always get to the meetings. I'm a working mother of a small child. This week I missed the meeting. I'd had a busy day at work, my husband was working an afternoon shift, I didn't have a car or a sitter and I'd already been to one late meeting. I just couldn't go.

The information exchanged and available at these meetings is interesting and valuable. It is also painful to hear. I imagine the worst possible scenario, paralysis and blindness.

There is a limit, obviously to how much can be said, or read about MS. I don't intend to go on and on writing about it, although the disease goes on and on. I have learned a lot about this particular disease and I have also learned about coping and about sometimes not being able to cope.

Listen well to other's health circumstances and tragedies. I want to know what happened to them, what is happening to them and how they manage.

The 80's is supposedly the age of quality assurance in health care. People are not statistics or 'disabled' or the 'double bypass in room 7'. People with conditions and diseases are people still, always and first.

If I tremble or drop things or bump into furniture (none of which I do, knock on wood), I will still love my family and need to talk to my friends and get excited about planning the summer flower garden, look forward to all the other bits and pieces that make up my life.

Our diseases do not make us different, they only cause us to manage our lives differently.

My three year old asked me the other night as we hauled out the makings for muffins, "Do you still feel sick, Mama?" and I said, "No, I don't feel sick, Em, I feel really good now, but I still have MS."

She said, "Let's pretend I have MS" I said, "No, pussycat, let's not pretend you have MS." I kissed her a few times and we got on with the muffins.

Yesterday

*Yesterday - I ran and never walked;
I climbed an alpen oak to where it forked
And sprang gazelle-like to the ungriving ground
Unscathed. And in the springtime when I found
The fields aflush with early cowslips blown,
What happy gathering and bounding home —
Arms overspilling with my golden prize.
Yesterday I chased white butterflies
To keep in jars; and in the laughing rain
Danced jigs in every pool. I was the train,
The bird, the cloud - in tireless motion swung — yesterday - when I was young.*

Peace notes

Canada will follow USA

by Isabel Ralph

This is to say that those who take part in the Peace Walk in Vancouver this year should do it in better spirits than ever before. Much has happened since last year to promote the cause of disarmament. But peace is not yet assured. Even though Perrin Beatty, the author of Canada's White Paper on Defence, has now been made our Minister of Health, his dangerous and costly plan is still on the agenda and our Prime Minister does not seem to know what to do with it.

What we can be sure of is that Brian Mulroney will follow along with whatever the U.S. President wishes him to do, and in the complicated political machinery of that country there are plenty of hawks. President Bush's message to the world when he was elected was that he will lead a 'Kinder and Gentler America': KAGA. But behind the scenes his staff makes sure that it will not be very kind nor gentle.

A citizen of the U.S.A., William Arkin, came to Toronto recently to address a peace organization. He is the director of the Institute for Policy Studies in Washington and also the author of The Neptune Papers, outlining the dangers of nuclear war at sea. Arkin admits that President Bush is concerned about the colossal U.S. deficit and, as a result, allows more open debate than previously.

At the same time, the Pentagon is scandalously overfunded and a number of cold-warriors are jockeying with one another for the lucrative positions. Of these Arkin cites Brent Scowcroft as being the most extreme proponent of the nuclear arms race during the Reagan administration.

Now a new danger is threatening these men. It is that peace dove, Michael Gorbachev, who has been to Washington and stolen the image of the enemy from them. He has also been to England and had lunch with Queen Elizabeth. Brian Mulroney is the only western leader who has not met Gorbachev.

Meanwhile, in the Federal Republic of Germany, NATO is being closely watched. Many ordinary people, and also members of the popular Green Party are extremely critical of the presence of this military organization in their country. West Germans trust Gorbachev. They don't believe the Russians are dangerous neighbours. They have held peace demonstrations and are demanding that all nuclear weapons be removed from their land.

Our own Stephen Lewis, who was Canada's representative at the United Nations, declares that, "The only genuine realists are in the peace movement," and goes on to say that we should be addressing the needs of those who are hungry and those who are ill.

In the midst of all this our government plods on oblivious of what is happening to the rest of the world. The U.S. nuclear submarines are still at Nanoose, the cruise missiles go on being tested over our northland.

I have been in peace walks in Vancouver since the protests against the war in Vietnam but I can no longer attend these great demonstrations. I urge all you young people and vigorous elderly to walk in memory of Michael Burns and walk for me.

Recognition for our volunteers

Editor:
National Volunteer Recognition Week was celebrated last Wednesday by more than 200 volunteers who attended the Fifth Annual Volunteer Recognition Tea, sponsored by the Volunteer Action Centre, at the Sechelt Indian Band Hall. We would like to thank all the volunteers who came to the event, and extend once again our appreciation for the efforts of all those volunteers who were unable to join us, for their participation in the life of our community.

Our thanks go also to Peggy Connor, Chairman of the SCRD, Mayor Tom Meredith, and Alderman Lillian Kunstler, who presented certificates and awards and joined together to cut the cake, decorated beautifully, as always, by Sylvia Blackwell of Shop Easy.

A special thank you goes to the 69ers, Nikki Weber and Connie Wilson, who delighted the audience with some great songs and set the mood for an enjoyable afternoon.

Thanks also go to Ray Dixon of the Sechelt Indian Band for his generous donation of the hall for our event; Shop Easy for making the catering affordable; the Volunteer Action

Centre Advisory Committee: Anne Moore, Helen O'Keefe, Kim Clayton and Gay Shanks, for all their hard work; Fred and Ed for setting up the hall; the Roberts Creek Community Association for the coffee urn; Victoria Robinson for pitching in at the last minute; and Pharmasave for having provided volunteer centres across the province with their catchy Volunteer Week posters and brochures, which were given such prominence by Trail Bay and Sunnycrest Malls.

This was a special week for volunteers, but our hope is that recognition of all voluntary service will continue throughout the year.

Against cruelty

Editor:
Thank you for printing my letter of March 20 on laboratory testing of cosmetics on animals. I have been contacted by various people in this community since then in support of my letter, some of whom had considerably more information on the subject than I.

In the interest of being true to my belief that testing on animals must stop I looked through my cupboards - there wasn't a single cruelty-free product in my house! I was disgusted and horrified!

I do have some good news. The Health Food Stores in Sechelt and Gibsons carry Tom's shampoo, toothpaste and anti-perspirant as well as Mill Creek products; the pharmacies in both places carry Bronnley soaps and Webber creams. Most of these products were not on my list but I have since confirmed that these products are indeed cruelty free.

Also not on my list of ethical products is Beauty Without Cruelty and I have found that this is now available on the Coast from Irene Davy. This line includes everything from make-up to cream, shampoo and household cleaner.

Buying these cruelty-free products is only half the battle, though. I will be writing to the companies that still do this testing and letting them know how I feel. If you wish to write too, please contact me at 885-5281 or Irene at 886-4989.

I hope you will all join me in the fight against the unnecessary torture of animals for our vanity.

Dry Grad planned

Editor:
Over the past several weeks, a group of parents have been involved in planning and organizing the 1989 Dry Grad party to be held at Elphinstone Secondary School on June 26.

The committee responsible for the funding of this event has been actively soliciting support from the business community, both locally and in the Vancouver area.

By now, many businesses have received letters in this regard and have been contacted by various representatives. Response from the business community has been very encouraging.

We would like to thank all the businesses for their generous donations and to encourage others to contribute to this very worthwhile cause. A list of all contributors will be published at a later date.

We are hoping to complete the fundraising aspect of this event as quickly as possible to enable the other committees to plan and budget for various activities.

Anyone not contacted, but wishing to contribute in any way, is asked to contact Barry Quarry at 885-5466 or Eloise Yaxley at 885-4544. Donations of cash are to be made payable to Grad Parents '89, Box 1134, Gibsons. Thanks you.

Re: Grant to Gibsons and District Chamber of Commerce.

Your letter to the editor published in the April 10 edition of the Coast News requires response.

As a past mayor, you are aware that grant requests are considered by the council and awarded only after consideration and deliberation, and sometimes debate.

In this instance, the request for an increased grant was made first in 1988. At that time the council recognized that the chamber of commerce is a worthwhile organization which serves the community, but most specifically the business community.

For that reason council decided that any increase over the grant of the previous years would be raised by an increase in the taxation rate on the commercial assessment. Therefore, the commercial taxpayers (not residential) are carrying the tax burden for the additional grant to the chamber of commerce.

RE: 'The Nightingales'

This is to express our objection to the weekly series 'The Nightingales'.

We feel this program depicts professional nurses in a derogatory fashion, i.e. scatter-brained, promiscuous and handmaidens to physicians.

The nursing profession, as portrayed in this series, is far removed from reality and is insulting to nurses.

Furthermore, it is doing a disservice to the uninformed public who comprise much of your viewing audiences.

We ask that you consider dropping this series from your programming in the near future.

Wilson takes care of Pender garbage

by Myrtle Winchester, 883-9911

Madeira Park is certainly shaping up this summer, and the latest news is the approval, promise and delivery of a garbage bin by the 'Pender Harbour Centre' sign where tourists, especially the boat people wandering up from the government dock, can depart with their refuse.

Gordon Wilson, our SCRD Area A representative, deserves the credit for getting the garbage bin, as well as our upcoming street lights, the posts to hang them on, and maybe even a bit of sidewalk here and there.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Still on the topic of community improvement, the Pender Harbour and Egmont Chamber of Commerce is working towards a full resurrection, and plans include a clean-up of the area and other activities to woo tourists.

Anyone interested in taking part or even holding an office (current officers elected about five years ago wish to step down and turn the chamber over to 'new blood') is invited to a meeting on April 19 in the Madeira Park Legion Hall at 7:30 pm.

OPEN HOUSE

Serendipity Playschool, located in the Harbour Cultural Centre with the library, music school and art gallery, is holding an open house on April 26 from 9 to 11:30 am to show off their new playground and other improvements to the volunteer-run facility.

Everyone is welcome, and if you'd like more information about Serendipity, call Donna Ford at 883-9018.

BICYCLE RODEO

An RCMP sponsored bicycle rodeo will be held on May 6 at 10 am at the community hall for students of grades one to seven.

For more information about competitions, prizes and registration, call Dennis Gamble at 883-2286.

PARENTS' WORKSHOP

This week's Parents' Workshop on Monday, April 17, will be presented by Gwen Struthers at Madeira Park Elementary School at 7 pm and is entitled, 'Setting Behavioural Limits and Handling Power Struggles'.

Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (STEP) workshops are held every Thursday or Friday evening and will continue for another six weeks. For more information, call Gwen Struthers at 883-2457.

WILDLIFE

Everyone is invited to the Pender Harbour and District Wildlife Society's regular meeting on April 18 at 7:30 pm in the Madeira Park Elementary School.

A video on building a hiking trail in the beautiful Carmanah Valley will be shown.

BELATED CONGRATS

A belated but nevertheless sincere congratulations to Jennifer and Owen, who celebrated the first anniversary of the Beaver Island Grocery Store on March 31.

We're looking forward to the next year, and I'm sure it will be even better than the first.

LEGION NEWS

Branch 112 of the Royal Canadian Legion will hold its regular general meeting on April 17 at 8 pm in the Legion Hall. Members are urged to attend.

Last Saturday's entertainment evening in the lounge was a successful one, with the Carrie Fowler Quintet (that's the Carrie Fowler Quartet with vocalist Dawn Dickson).

As usual, the meat draw is happening every Saturday afternoon.

POSTSCRIPTS

We now have taxi service dispatched from Coast Taxi in Sechelt but located in Pender Harbour.

Pender parents unsure of French Immersion
 by Rose Nicholson
 Parents in Pender Harbour have some strong misgivings on the French Immersion Program in School District 46.
 In a seven page brief presented to trustees at last week's school board meeting the parents asked the question, 'Should this district respond to a trendy new fashion or should it endeavour to provide the best much in business, so please give it your continued support and patronage.'
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
 For those interested in the re-establishment of the Pender Harbour and Egmont Chamber of Commerce, a meeting is scheduled at 7:30 pm, Wednesday, April 19 in the Canadian Legion Hall, Madeira Park, for discussion of local issues and possible government funding for present and future improvement in this area.
CONGRATULATIONS IRIS
 Now a happy item: Congratulations go out to Mrs. Iris Griffith who has just received her 40-year Gold Membership Pin from the Gulf and Fraser Credit Union.

 They stressed that they support the CORE French program and strongly suggest that the board re-evaluate French Immersion. "Isn't the best choice" states the brief, "a single education system for all students? Both programs are capable of producing functionally bilingual citizens. Only one will do the best for the most."

NOTICE
 For the Information of Residents of the Egmont Area
 The B.C. Liquor Distribution Branch has received, and is considering, a request for an Agency Liquor Store in the community of Egmont. Agency Liquor Stores may be established, generally in conjunction with an existing grocery business, for the sale of beer, wine and spirits in packaged form. The program is intended to improve service to consumers in small rural communities without convenient access to retail liquor outlets. Comments on this subject may be made, in writing, to:

Fires interrupt wedding

by Jeanie Parker, 885-2163

Several guests left Stephanie Reed and Bob Dyer's wedding reception abruptly last Saturday but as a former fireman Bob understood. The Roberts Creek Volunteer Fire Department was responding to a brush fire on Oldershaw Road, their second call of the day.

Earlier they'd cleaned up a beach fire by the propane docks, including a lot of broken beer bottles. The previous weekend they'd doused three smoulding fires in the same area.

LIBRARY

The Roberts Creek Community Library has lots of new books and now that the days are longer you might want to stroll down in the evening for some information on gardening.

The Library is open 6 to 9 pm Tuesday, 3 to 7 pm Thursdays and 10 am to 1 pm Saturdays. REGISTER NOW

The Rainbow Preschool has its enrollment ups and downs so it's best to register your child now for the Fall. Phone Lori Swan at 886-9656 if you have a three or four year old.

NEXT MONTH

There's no meeting of the Roberts Creek Community Association this month but there will be one in May.

SINGLES ENTERTAIN

Cape Bretoner Steve Lloyd returns to the Roberts Creek Legion this weekend with music from the Maritimes.

Legion members are reminded of the Branch meeting this Wednesday, April 19 at 7:30.

Davis Bay News & Views

Book Sale

by Jean Robinson, 885-2954

The Davis Bay/Wilson Creek Reading Centre is holding its Annual Tea and Book Sale on April 23 from 2 until 4 pm. Come for an hour and purchase a book of your choice then enjoy tea and goodies.

There will be a silent auction of some of the older hard-cover books. If there is one you have coveted, check and see if it is for sale.

Be sure to browse the excellent library itself. There are a few Large Print books available again for those of you who find them easier to read. Check titles and talk to the librarian about getting one that interests you. These books are here for only about three months at a time. DB/WCCA

The general meeting of the Davis Bay/Wilson Creek Community Association was well attended. Vice-president Joan Newsham chaired the meeting.

Joan paid tribute to Hilda Costerton for the cheerful and dedicated way she has looked after hall rentals. Her constant efforts plus a change of advertising policy has upped the rentals considerably.

Joan also pointed out the wider door on one washroom to provide easier access plus the fact the cement 'landing' area is now in place at the bottom of the ramp leading indoors, for wheelchairs.

Unfortunately, guest speaker, David Pye, did not show up due to illness.

CONGRATULATIONS

Sincere good wishes to Betty and Ernie Wood on the occasion of their 48th wedding anniversary.

Also congratulations to Barbara Relton on her graduation from crutches to the use of a cane after a hip repair. See you on the golf course soon.

Buy a chunk of Chatelech! No, our high school is not up for sale. The grad students, to raise money for Dry Grad '89, have divided the school up into squares, on paper, of course, and they're selling each square for $5. The chance of winning the $500 prize is one in 300. The students will be selling these squares or chunks of Chatelech in Trail Bay Mall on Saturday, April 22 and 29.

BRIDGE

At the hospital Auxiliary merry-go-round bridge between Sechelt and Roberts Creek, everyone had a good lunch and a good time and we hope to see each other for a new, enjoyable season.

Phil Smallwood and Margaret Humm, bridge convenors, would like to thank Roberts Creek Legion for letting them have the use of the hall rent free for their start-off and wind-up parties. You're a great bunch of people.

To all the bridge players, thank you for making it so easy to run the thing and thanks for letting us win for once in the last 10 years.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

The Sunshine Coast branch will be having their Spring Craft Sale in Trail Bay Mall on April 21 and 22. Once again you will be able to buy those marvellous children's sweaters, and those special handmade clowns that everyone loves. For more information, contact Sylvia at 885-4793.

HIKE-A-THON

Sunshine Coast District Beavers, Cubs, Scouts and parents' fifth annual hike-a-thon will take place in Cliff Gilker Park on Sunday, April 23. Registration is at 12:30 pm. Canvassers will be going around asking for pledges and we count on your support.

HONOUR ROLL

At West Sechelt Elementary School the honour roll for this session is as follows:

Sechelt complains

Jerry Kirk of Tuwanek, rose and told the audience, "There's no such thing as a noise bylaw in Sechelt." He said he lived near Jackson Brothers and the Aquarius hatchery and, "They won't enforce it."

Some confusion became apparent about the difference between the official community plan (OCP) and zoning bylaws. Several people in the audience pointed to a notation on the OCP map which reads, "No new industrial designation to be permitted in Porpoise Bay."

Rob Sabine pointed out to the audience that the area being dealt with at the public hearing was already designated 'industrial' on the map. The specific bylaw delineating the permitted industrial uses, he explained, was where the changes were proposed.

These changes, he said, would eliminate some of the uses currently permitted under the existing zoning, except in the case of Choquer and Sons.

That business had some expressions of support for their application from the audience. Art Giroux, who runs a charter operation in the Inlet talked about the need for a fueling facility in the Bay. Ted Watson pointed out the deterioration of facilities for boats in the Inlet over the years.

Jim Land pointed out that the proposed bylaw would not extend industrial development outside the area designated industrial on the OCP, and that it was actually reducing the number of industrial uses within that area.

Before the hearing concluded, Joyce Fitzpatrick asked council to consider, once more, establishing a citizens advisory committee which could provide a forum for communication and discussion of potential problems before zoning bylaws are brought to public hearing. Mayor Tom Meredith promised to act on her suggestion 'ASAP'.

TOWN OF GIBSONS

PUBLIC NOTICE

Of
Zoning Amendment
Bylaw No. 555-22, 1989
(being proposed amendment to Zoning Bylaw No. 555, 1986)

Pursuant to Section 954 of the Municipal Act, this Public Notice shall confirm the intention of Zoning Amendment Bylaw No. 555-22, to amend the present zoning of the following property as described:

1. That certain parcel or parcels of land in the Town of Gibsons more particularly known and legally described as the north 70 feet of north 1/2 of west 1/2 of Lot G, Block 4-6, D.L. 689, Plan 3678 be rezoned from Residential 3 (R.3) to the proposed Public Assembly (P.A.).
2. This bylaw may be cited as "Zoning Amendment Bylaw No. 555-22, 1989."

Take notice that the above paragraph is deemed to be a synopsis of the bylaw, and not deemed to be an interpretation thereof.

Pursuant also to Section 958 of the Municipal Act, it is the intention of Council to hold a Public Hearing on Zoning Amendment Bylaw No. 555-22 as an Official Community Plan in effect for the subject area, and the proposed bylaw is consistent with the plan.

A copy of the Amending Bylaw is available for inspection at the Gibsons Municipal office, 474 South Fletcher Road, during office hours.

A bird walk on Sargeant's Bay

by Ruth Forrester, 885-2418

There will be a birdwalk along Sargeant Bay beach and marsh on Sunday, April 23 at 9 am led by Tony Greenfield.

Bring your friends, children, and binoculars to meet at the beach at the end of the road.

Then on Saturday, April 29 at 10 am you will be made welcome if you meet at the same place for a beach clean-up. This is part of a province-wide clean-up week 'Pitch in'.

A BOO BOO

I made one last week when I gave the date of the Teens Show for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. It should have been Saturday, May 13 at Greene Court. Tickets will soon be available.

GOLDEN DAY

A very popular Halfmoon Bay couple will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary April 21.

They are Bill and Evelyn Pallant who can be sure that love and good wishes are coming their way from all their friends and neighbours. May you have many more anniversaries.

NEWLY WEDS

Donald Dombrowski, formerly of Redroofs was married to Leann Lennon in Edmonton at the beginning of April.

The Pebbles in Sechtel was the scene of a happy gathering of family and friends to wish the young couple well on April 9.

They were on their way home to Edmonton after a honeymoon in California and spent a few days visiting in the area.

Donald spent his school years on the Sunshine Coast, and I know that his friends all would join in our congratulations.

SCHOOL NEWS

A reminder that there is a parent teacher-meeting tonight at Halfmoon Bay School. Time is 7 pm.

Starting this week the children of Grade 3 and 4 will be having swimming sessions at Pender Harbour pool. The wee ones will get to go later on.

We are sending out get well wishes to young Michael Stewart who was unfortunate enough to suffer a broken leg on a recent ski trip. May your broken bone mend soon.

ANOTHER REMINDER

Be sure to keep your odds and ends and do some baking for the Welcome Beach Flea Market scheduled for May 7 at the hall.

Large articles will be gladly picked up if you call Al at 885-3305 or Marion at 885-5270.

Busy day for executives

by Larry Grafton

April 12 was a very busy day. In the morning and early afternoon your executive and some fellow members were in attendance, with delegations from Pender Harbour and Powell River, at our semi-annual Regional Council Meeting in our hall. After a delicious soup and sandwich lunch topped off with tea, coffee and goodies, the group assembled under the chairmanship of John Miller for the business session.

Concerns of the branches were discussed and the necessary steps were taken to rectify each concern. It was good to have our executive officers on hand but disappointing that only one director was in evidence.

Due to personal pressures, John Miller has resigned as chairman of the council. His replacement will take place at a later date.

Following our council meeting, I was in attendance at the Volunteer Recognition Tea held in the Sechelt Indian Band Hall and sponsored by the Volunteer Action Centre.

It is quite amazing that when the volunteers of our small area are all congregated in one place, they completely filled the hall.

Most of us, I suppose, don't really think too much about it, but to see such a huge representation in one place was impressive.

Recognition plaques were presented to the various groups and individual volunteers. Our 69ers had the pleasure of presenting three or four numbers, with Nikki Weber conducting and Connie Wilson on the piano. (What would we do without them?) Doug Third was presented with one of the many recognition plaques on behalf of the 69ers. All in all, it was a most impressive gathering.

SENIORS' DISCOUNTS
 A recent column contained excerpts from a Vancouver Sun article by Felicity Munn with regard to seniors' discounts generally, and those of British Airways specifically.

I have had requests for further information regarding acquisition of the British Airways Traveller Card which entitles the holder to certain benefits. Should anybody require a copy of the article, a stamped addressed envelope to Box 742 in Sechelt will do the trick.

RESOLUTIONS MEETING
 Delegates to the Senior Citizens' Association of B.C. convention this year will be voting, on behalf of our branch, on three proposed amendments to the provincial by-laws and some 27 resolutions to the federal and provincial governments. This number will quite likely be reduced by the screening committee of the provincial body.

However, a meeting has been called for the morning of April 29 at 10 am, the purpose of which is to have our entire executive and directors go over the resolutions in order that your delegates may have voting guidance. These members should mark their calendars accordingly and plan to attend.

Planning our fuel future

by George Cooper

Nuclear power replace the plants that generate electricity from fossil fuels? No more CO₂ belching forth to clog our atmosphere?

The possibility seems good, especially to atomic power shareholders. Good, that is, until the matter is examined thoroughly.

First, as everyone knows, there is the matter of safety. There's no proof of that in existing reactors. Then there is the matter of the aging of the concrete housings and their 'embrittling' as they weaken under radiation bombardment. And what to do with a dead reactor? No one yet has an answer for that nor an answer for atomic waste disposal.

Since it is fear on the part of the public that has prevented the atomic power people in North America from selling any reactors in the past ten years, these same people hope to dispel fear by developing reactors that are 'inherently safe' or 'passively safe'. But these new models are still no further than the design stage.

The fission of atoms, however, is inherently dangerous, and the announcements of the atomic power people mere words.

Sierra magazine of April this year tells us that atomic reactors would have to come into operation worldwide at the rate of eight a week for the next 35 years to displace just half the deadly emissions of fossil fuel electricity generating plants.

Besides all this there are greater sources of gases hazardous to our climate. Among these are fossil-fuel use in transportation, industry and residences.

If no action is taken to curtail these uses of fossil fuel, in 50 years, we are told, CO₂ emissions will have tripled.

Energy efficiency is one means to reduce the use of fossil fuel, but that can only come at heavy cost. Yet 'each dollar put towards it will displace seven times more CO₂ than a dollar spent on nuclear power'.

Our present wildly abandoned use of fossil fuel energy, however, is going to harm us more than the present use of atomic power.

Japan can be a model for North America in energy use. In that country a comparable amount of gross national product is produced with half the energy used for the same end in North America.

Energy efficiency will free capital for reforestation, and for the elimination of chloroflourocarbon emissions, as well as the developing of means to reduce the amount of fossil fuel used.

Renewable energy resources like solar, wind, geothermal, constitute a potential, it is estimated, that is five times the total of all resources of fossil fuels in North America. A tremendous investment required there, however.

It is time to widen the protest about the use of fuels and to prepare ourselves for some strictures in our economy to bring about change. Perhaps then the calamity can be stalled.

Campground open

Brothers Park Campground is once again open for business.

Leased from the Town of Gibsons by the Chamber of Commerce, the campsite has been dormant for the past few years. The chamber has reclaimed the site and has contracted the daily management of the campground to Randy Vogt.

With about 25 sites available to both tent campers and recreational vehicles, the campground offers a convenient location for visiting tourists. Daily rates are $8 per tent and $10 per RV.

The site is located in upper Gibsons with maps and rates available at the Travel InfoCentre.

Merv Dunford has his 1989

Sea Cavalcade Committee well underway. Committee members are in the process of selecting a theme for this year with the emphasis being placed on the nautical history of the cavalcade.

A Casino Night and Dance at Sunnycrest Mall is being planned to help raise money. A date has not yet been finalized, so stay tuned for further details.

The Travel InfoCentre is offering inexpensive advertising for local business people. They have arranged for a professional display frame in which they will display business cards.

Cost for one year is only $15, and can be arranged by visiting the InfoCentre or calling them at 886-2325.

Road checks planned

Police throughout B.C. will stop approximately 200,000 motorists in this year's Spring CounterAttack drinking driving roadcheck blitz, April 13 to May 4, Labour and Consumer Services Minister Lyall Hanson

Hanson, minister responsible for CounterAttack said, "Not only will motorists who drink and drive be caught, but they will face more severe penalties than ever."

Last month, Hanson and Solicitor General Angus Ree announced that convicted impaired drivers now face a one year prohibition from driving, up from six months, and an automatic jail sentence for violating the prohibition.

Other existing penalties include a $300 to $2000 fine and up to six months in jail on a first offence.

Hanson said the Spring CounterAttack campaign uses the same winning combination as Christmas CounterAttack: public education, police enforcement and community support.

Gardening notes

by Marguerite

Welcome to gardeners who are newcomers to the Sunshine Coast. April is the spring planting month. Sow annuals and vegetables about the time the major forest trees come into leaf. It's excellent to sow directly outdoors, seeds of all but the tenderest annuals.

Valuable stores of organic matter for future soil improvement can be accumulated by maintaining a compost heap in approximately six inch layers.

A good compost pile is a most valuable asset, a real conservation measure, and a garden economy.

It's a nursery for earthworms soil bacteria, and a receptacle for garden and kitchen wastes, which are transformed into sweet rich compost.

Feed all spring bulbs and perennials with 6-8-6 fertilizers, or liquid fish fertilizer.

Shear winter heather and broom lightly after flowering. Keep weeds pulled, easier when they are small.

The Gibsons Garden Club meeting will be held on Thursday, April 20 in the Marine Room below the library at 7:30. Mr. John Osterdorf of Sunshine Coast Nursery will speak on 'general gardening'. Old and new members and guests welcome.

Our annual spring plant sale will take place on Saturday, April 22 in Sunnycrest Mall at 9:30 am. Sunflower seeds will be given to children for this year's largest sunflower head. This is open to all children, three years and up, including teens. Details next week.

Police news

GIBSONS RCMP

A red Snap-On tool box containing a fair number of tools was stolen from a residence's garage situated on Highway 101 in Gibsons. Anyone with any information regarding this theft is asked to contact Gibsons RCMP or Crimestoppers at 886-TIPS.

During the night of April 11 a quantity of chainlink fence worth over $1000 was stolen from the construction site at the Port Mellon mill. An investigation is continuing.

Over the weekend of April 8 & 9 approximately 400 golf balls were stolen from a private driving range in Roberts Creek. The minimum value of the golf balls is $200. Anyone with information is asked to contact the RCMP or Crimestoppers.

A black nylon Mondo change purse was found two weeks ago at the Just For You store. It can be claimed at the RCMP headquarters in Gibsons.

Commuters to Port Mellon are warned that traffic violations during the morning rush hour will be heavily ticketed. Sergeant Ed Hill of the Gibsons RCMP said that slow-ups caused by trucks coming off the first morning ferry and going to Port Mellon were causing some drivers to pass on the hill into Langdale and to speed through the Langdale streets in an effort to get by the trucks. "We are radar-enforcing heavily," Sergeant Hill said, "We are patrolling and enforcing traffic laws and we will ticket all offenders."

SECHLT RCMP

On April 13 a restaurant was illegally entered and property was stolen. RCMP are investigating.

On April 11 a Sechelt resident reported that person or persons unknown had attempted to gain entry into her vehicle. Damage to the vehicle door lock is estimated at under $400.

The same night another Sechelt resident reported that furnace oil had been siphoned from an outside drum.

Anyone with any information on the above crimes are asked to call the RCMP or Crimestoppers at 886-TIPS.

Gibsons twinning

Gibsons Alderman Lilian Kunstler, who is interested in twinning Gibsons up with a similar community in Japan, will be attending a Sister-City Symposium on April 29 in Vancouver to learn everything she can about the process.

Lined up to be Gibsons' twin is Tomakomai, on the island of Hokkaido, in Japan. Tomakomai is home to the Oji Paper Company and was once the same size as Gibsons. Since the paper company moved in though, Kunstler says, the place has grown.

"We've made contact with Tomakomai," Kunstler said, "now we're just waiting to hear back from them."

LEISURE

It is surely a sign of spring when a young man's fancy turns to digging in the sand. There are no clams in the pail at this point but there is something that is pinkish and wriggles a lot. This seems, by all appearances, to create a sense of accomplishment for young Damon Zbaruskas of Davis Bay. —Vern Elliott photo

King of Safecrackers Adventures of Holy Herb

by Peter Trower

It is eight o'clock. Dead on time as usual, the armoured mail truck trundles towards the intersection. The driver and his mate chat idly, boredly. They've made this damn run so many times, they know it better than their own backyards. Their monotony is soon to be relieved in drastic fashion.

The truck reaches the intersection and begins to rumble across the tracks. Herb brings his hand down in a slashing motion. Cox nudges Davis and the gates come rattling down like guillotine blades, trapping the armoured car between them. "Hey, what the hell's going on?" shouts the astonished driver.

Bertsche, Lou and Stahl converge on the cab from either side. The latter two are packing pistols; Bertsche, a wicked-looking sawed-off shotgun. "This is a stickup," he rasps in an even more menacing voice than usual. "Don't try going for those holsters or I'll cut you in half!"

In terrified unison, the guards raise their hands. "For Christ's sake, don't shoot!" implores the driver, "I got a wife and three kids!"

"Okay, get your asses out of there," barks Stahl and the guards make haste to comply. They are summarily locked in the back of the truck and Lou takes over the wheel. He flashes a hand at Cox and the screening gates lift again. The commandeered truck continues for a new destination with no one the wiser.

In the tower, Cox bids Harry Davis goodbye. "You've done your country a service today, Mr. Davis," he declares pontifically, "You may even get a reward for this."

A reward! Davis is left speechless with pride and delight, Cox descends the ladder, joins Herb in his sedan and they peel away in pursuit of their cronies. The whole manoeuvre has taken less than two minutes.

At a preselected spot near a foundry on Santa Fe Avenue, the two vehicles reconnoitre. The guards are taken from the back and handcuffed to the wheel with cuffs Bertsche has brought along for this precise purpose. The 13 sacks of registered mail are transferred to the sedan and the gang roars off leaving the guards glumly wondering what they are possibly going to tell the Chief Inspector.

The sedan travels a devious route to the house of Frank Wilson, late of Battle Creek, Michigan. Frank, the third Wilson brother to circumvent the law, has only recently moved to the Coast.

Frank (christened 'Burley', a name he hates) is a former baker with a history of mental problems. He owes both Herb and Lou considerable amounts of money and is anxious to repay the loans. Thus (after considerable discussion between Herb and Lou) he has been brought into the gang as a minor functionary. He accepts his position gratefully.

The loot is duly sorted at Frank's house. Cox suggests that they adjourn to his place for supper and a few relaxing drinks. The mailbags are jettisoned in an empty lot on South Compton Avenue. The Wilson gang's first armoured car robbery has gone off without a hitch.

We will let Herb himself describe the aftermath of this significant turning point in his underworld career:

"Two days later, we met Elerick and gave him a list of the securities, valued at about $500,000, which had been in the mail. He said he had ways of selling them and would be glad to do so for 10 percent of the net returns.

"There was also $3,000 in cash and a large amount of jewelry seized. I got a diamond and emerald bracelet, conservatively valued by a jeweler at $5,000 and an emerald bracelet worth $4,000. There were also wrist watches, gentlemen's watches, rings and a small silver whisky flask. I did not seek that. It was given to Bertsche."

On the Arts Beat

A treat planned in choral music

Attention lovers of choral music. (And there are many on the Sunshine Coast): On Friday, April 21 we will have some special guests from our northern neighbours, The Powell River Chorus.

This group has a 30 year old reputation as one of BC's finest amateur choral groups. Including some of the area's best solo singers, the Chorus has won competitions and performed around Vancouver Island, the Lower Mainland, the B.C. Interior and in the State of Washington.

This concert is sponsored by the Sunshine Coast Arts Council and is the Powell River Chorus' first performance on the Sechelt Peninsula. It takes place at St. Hilda's Church on Friday, April 21 at 8 pm. Tickets are $5 and can be purchased at Talewind Books, the Arts Centre and Hunter Hall Gallery.

The program features a wide range of pieces chosen for easy listening. Included are folk songs, a tribute to Irving Berlin, madrigals and spirituals.

COAST WHALES

Where was the whalers' shrine on Vancouver Island?

Get the answers to these and many other intriguing questions at a talk, illustrated with slides and artifacts, by Kevin Neary, anthropologist at the Royal British Columbia Museum.

The program in Sechelt will begin at 7:30 pm at the Sunshine Coast Arts Centre on Tuesday, April 25.

EXHIBITION

'Don Hopkins - Drawings, Paintings, Sculptures' opens Wednesday, April 19 at the Arts Centre. This exhibition of recent work juxtaposes non-figurative pieces of the imagination with figurative works of observation mainly from West Howe Sound, images of roots, clouds, trees, islands, mountains, flowers and people.

His work will be on display from 11 to 4 Wednesday to Saturday and 1 to 4 Sunday until May 7. All are welcome at the reception at 2 pm on Saturday, April 22.

LAST FILM

Wednesday, April 19 at 8 pm is showtime for the last film in the 1989 Spring Film Series at the Arts Centre. A Nos Amours was made in France in 1984. In this film Sandrine Bonnaire was introduced to North American audiences. She plays the daughter to Director Maurice Pialat's portrayal of a domineering father in an intense and highly charged movie.

For contrast, the Canadian short, George and Rosemary will be shown. This is a whimsical and hilarious romantic comedy about two golden agers who prove that passion is not exclusively for the young.

Admission is $3.50, $3 for seniors and students at the door.

JURY NAMED

A three person jury has been named to select the winning designs in the Arts Centre's card competition.

Artists have been working hard to meet the April 29 deadline for submissions. 625 copies of each of the four winning designs will be printed as greeting cards and sold as a fundraiser for the Arts Centre. The winners will also receive a cash prize. Contest rules are available at the Arts Centre.

Rhythms of Life

Planet of delusion

by Penny Fuller

Water is a fascinating element. With the right catalyst it can become either totally nebulous, like steam, or rock hard like ice. Whichever form it takes, liquid, frozen or vapour, it blurs the edges and changes the perceptions of anything that's viewed through it.

Neptune tends to be like that. It's been called the planet of delusion and illusion and represents such issues as 'God consciousness'.

Saturn, on the other hand, represents those practical, concrete things that reality is based on: rules, structures, consequences, etc.

When these two planets line up with one another in the sky, it indicates a time when reality structures may seem to be losing their solidity. People's bases for functioning in society get a little wobbly. The part of the brain, which does the logical, analytical-type thinking, might appear to be on vacation.

Saturn has been moving into line with Neptune since February and it will continue to be close to exact until the end of the year. Sometimes they'll appear to be moving forward, sometimes backwards. But they stick together for 1989.

Those of you who have been wondering when your brain will start functioning again are in for a long year. This year the analytical part of your brain (the left side) and the intuitive, creative part of your brain (the right side) are going to be somewhat scrambled.

The good news is that, of course, this is yet another important stage in personal evolution. It may be a confusing time for you, but your perceptions of reality are actually broadening, becoming less rigid and restrictive. Inevitably this leads to a greater understanding of your vast potential.

It could also mean that if you don't get panicky and feel as if you're going crazy, your left brain and right brain can learn to work together.

By the end of the year you could be more 'mentally balanced' than ever before, allowing your potential genius full range of expression.

Throughout this year, it's a good time to be easy on yourself and take whatever time you need to get centred. Last year was a time of action and change. This year is one of allowing some gentle assimilation.

As your perceptions of reality change, so do the conditions of your life. That's a pretty major undertaking. So if your left brain needs to take a vacation, let it. Read comic books, watch sunsets and waste time. There are perceptions being changed in your brain that you shouldn't try to interfere with.

DINING GUIDE

A listing of restaurants and pubs

Toast of the Coast

It takes a brave man to take over the running of what has long been something of a Sunshine Coast institution. Keith Senderling is such a man, having recently taken over the management of Andy's Restaurant in Gibsons from the much respected Maragos family.

Our first visit to the restaurant last week gave clear indication that Keith and his team are going to do just fine.

We arrived relatively late on Friday evening to find the restaurant pleasantly patronized with a cheerful, outgoing clientele, renowned pianist Elmer Gill performing in the small intimate lounge and occasionally table-hopping and visiting with friends, and all in all it was a very pleasant scene indeed.

The new management has the good sense to make a few initial changes and those most subtly introduced, and the menu is the generous selection of good food that customers of Andy's Restaurant have come to expect.

On this occasion my companion selected the calamari as an appetizer followed by sauteed prawns with leeks and wine sauce and pronounced herself more than satisfied. I was in a meat-eating mood and began with tasty teriyaki chicken and followed it up with truly succulent sirloin steak cubes in an intriguing Thai sauce.

We ordered some white wine in deference to my companion's seafood and enjoyed the house Toscano.

The service was fast and friendly, the food excellent, and the atmosphere most pleasant. Welcome to Andy's, Keith.

A hole-in-one

by Frank Nanson

Ken White makes a hole-in-one on the 8th hole! We hear that Ken's ball went directly into the hole from flight. None of this bounce and run stuff for Ken. I am certain he made many new friends that day, as a result of the usual drinks on Ken routine.

Fact: It is now known that the number of swing details that a golfer thinks about during the backswing is inversely proportional to the length of the drive.

The ladies 'Ruth Bowman Award' was won by Hazel Earle with a net of 30½ with Eileen Evans the runnerup with a 32½.

The first flight winners in the 18 hole ladies group were Pat Scarr with a net 34, Connie Grant with 36½, and Aleta Gerard with 37.

The second flight winners were Florida's native daughter, Helen Milburne with 35½ bb9, Eleanor Thompson 35½, and Eleanor Dann, 38.

In third flight we had Connie Hobbs with 36½, Nona Clayton 38, and Margo Matthews, 39.

There was a turnout of 88 plus a guest for the Thursday Senior Men's day where Art Kiloh took the closest to the hole honours on the 8th green.

The low net team consisted of Bill Foreman, captain, along with John Petula, Joe Mellis, Dave Doig and Howard Bayer.

You are reminded of the opening of mixed twilight golf on Mondays at 5 pm.

Hockey Awards

The annual Minor Hockey awards night was held on Friday, April 14 at the Royal Canadian Legion in Sechelt and was MC'd by Chris Fawcus, president of SSCMHA.

The Divisional Awards were awarded to the Most Sportsmanlike Player (MSP) and the Most Improved Player (MIP).

In the Peanuts Division, Scott Sutherland and Daniel White received the MSP trophies donated by the RCMP while recipient of the MIP was Cameron Steele.

From the Yellow Team, Michael Stewart was MIP and Ryan Nestman was MVP. Andrew DeBoer was MIP and Matthew Legge MVP from the Purple Team. They won the 'ESSO' awards.

The Divisional Team winners were Purple Team over Yellow Team.

In the Pups Division Brett Procknow was the MSP and the MIP was Tyler Wilson, winning the Divisional Award, while the ESSO awards were won by MSP Ryan Patterson, MIP Kai Jenkins and MVP Theodore Desta of the Drifters.

ESSO award winners from the Flyers were MSP Jeff Lewis, MIP James Rickbeil and MVP Jordy Radymski. In playoffs, Drifters won over Flyers.

In the Atoms Division the divisional winners were Nathan DeBoer, MSP and Jessie Paquin, MIP. The ESSO awards were received by Wings players MSP Nathan Rowan, MIP Corey Baldwin and MVP Sean Haime. The Stars players receiving ESSO awards were MSP Jack Darney, MIP Aaron Hamilton and MVPs Chris Hahn and Alex Hamilton. The divisional playoff resulted in a Wings' win over the Stars.

The Pee Wee Division's MSP were Darnel Hansen and MIP Jeremy Howden. Recipients of the ESSO awards were Darnel Hansen MSP, Raymond Sager MIP and Brad Wingfield MVP.

For the Thunderbirds, were Cody Munson MSP, Jeremy Howden MIP and Chad LaMarche MSP for the Blackhawks.

In divisional team playoffs, Thunderbirds defeated the Blackhawks.

In the Bantam Division awards went to Graham Ruck MSP and Aaron Boyes MIP. Receiving the ESSO award for MVP was Pete Anderson.

In the Midget Division David Paetkau won the MVP award while Clay Munson MSP and Jason Gallagher MVP won the ESSO awards.

A Special Award was presented to Jessie Stretch. It was a humanitarian award for his special contributions to everyone at the arena. He was presented with an NHL hockey stick autographed by rookie defenseman Link Gaetz of the Minnesota North Stars, in recognition of his contributions to hockey.

Also, special thanks are extended to Coastal Sea Trucking and Wakefield Tennis Club for their contributions and for making it possible for the Blackhawk Hockey Club of the Pee Wee Division to attend the Arbutus Pee Wee Tournament in Vancouver.

Minor Hockey Season has now ended and the executive would like to thank the sponsors, donation contributors, parents, relatives, friends and hockey players for an exciting, fun-filled year and the executive is planning for an equally exciting 1989/90 season.

Also, special thanks to the Coast News for printing the releases we submit weekly to your paper.

Forty-three play Mixed Scramble

by Terry Dougan

On April 1 the first Mixed Scramble of the season was held. Forty-three players turned out to play '4-ball, best ball'. The winning team was Jim Buntain, Evelyn Tapio, Bart Dillabough and Ernie Holloway.

Second place went to Randy Legge, Beth Mulhern, Roy Cumbers and Bea McFarlane.

In third place were John Willcock, Flo Burroughs, Harold Lennox and Vera McAllister.

Closest to the pin was No. 3 Randy Legge, No. 6 Bart Dillabough. Afterwards the gang had a great dinner in the clubhouse. The weather could have been better that day, but everyone had a good time.

Golf was rained out for the ladies April 6, so the gals enjoyed a social and lunch. They would like to remind everyone of their spring luncheon and general meeting April 20. Let's have a good turnout!

On Men's Day, April 8, Randy Legge won low gross. George Langham won low net and was also closest to the pin on No. 6.

The men are holding a Match Play Tournament starting Saturday, April 22. The low handicaps will play against the high, everyone has a good chance to win. Come on and sign up guys.

Pender motorcyclists plan off-road race

On April 30 the Pender Harbour Motorcycle Club is sponsoring its second annual off-road race, a 56 km run from Pender Harbour to Halfmoon Bay and back that's organized by club president Andy Ross.

The race, which starts at 10 am, will begin at the intersection of a logging road and the power lines on the Garden Bay dump road, past the dump site, and competition categories include Quads, Motocross and Enduro.

There are also Junior and Senior School Boys (including girls) categories, but entrants must provide release forms signed by a parent or guardian. The race course for juniors will be a shorter one than the adult course.

Registration is at 9 am on the day of the race, and first, second and third-place trophies will be presented to the winners of each category. There is a $10 entry fee.

Last year's race was a great success, and this year's is expected to be even bigger and better, with competitors from the lower mainland and Powell River, as well as from all over the Sunshine Coast.

For more information, call Pender Harbour Motorcycle Club President Andy Ross at 883-9971.

Schools to join in milk run

All three Sunshine Coast secondary schools are planning to participate in the 11th Annual B.C. School Sports Milk Run during the last week in April.

An estimated 300 B.C. secondary schools will join together to run, jog, walk, or wheel three kilometres in the largest fitness/nutrition event of its kind in Canada.

Upon completion of the Milk Run, participants receive a carton of milk, compliments of the B.C. Dairy Foundation.

The theme of the 1989 Milk Run is 'Every 1 Helping 1 Another'. In this spirit, each participant in the event is invited to make a contribution to help a disabled youngster. Contributions this year go to the British Columbia Lions Society for Crippled Children.

Elphinstone Secondary School in Gibsons, along with some younger students from the elementary schools of Gibsons, Langdale and Cedar Grove, will be running on April 26 starting at 11:30 am. They expect around 500 participants for a circular Park Road/Reed Road/North Road route.

Chatelech Secondary in Sechelt will probably schedule their run on April 27 and expect 200 participants.

Pender Harbour Secondary is running April 25 and the whole school, 120 staff and students, will participate.

Pre-natal classes

Preparation for labour and delivery classes are now being taught by Wendy Burlin, R.N. and Jeanette McBain, R.N.

Classes are available at the Sechelt and Gibsons Health Units, telephone 886-8131 for further information or to register.

There is no charge for these classes thanks to the sponsorship of the Coast/Garibaldi Union Board of Health and the Ministry of Health.

Peers counsel at Langdale

by Rose Nicholson

Familiar scene? Wait, the next step you may not have seen before. Matthew, another student, wearing a red cap with the letters PC on it, walks up and says, "Are you having a problem? Can I help you?"

He proceeds to lead the combatants through an eight step problem-solving routine that results in a friendly solution that satisfies both kids.

Correction

In the matter of the recent drug case which was brought to a successful conclusion, it was reported that Glen Barry was an undercover member of the RCMP. Sergeant Hill of the Gibsons RCMP detachment wishes it to be known that Barry 'is not and never has been' a member of the RCMP though he did assist in the successful investigation of the drug ring.

This scene was a skit put on for the benefit of trustees at last week's meeting of the school board at Langdale Elementary School.

It was an illustration of the school's positive approach to discipline, and it appears to be working very well.

Principal Anne Skelcher told the board that the school has developed a philosophy that stresses the dignity of the individual and personal development. The key words in the philosophy are cooperation, responsibility, positive action and respect. At Langdale they are attempting to make these words meaningful in the every day life of the students.

The Peer Counselling Program is an important part of this process. There are 16 peer counsellors at the school, students who have been trained in the eight-step problem solving technique. Backup is provided by teachers and counsellors, but the students themselves deal with a surprising number of problems.

There are four peer counsellors (identified by their red caps) on duty on the playground at lunch and recess times. Counsellor Fran Jovick told the board that the program is very popular with the students who really seem to have grasped the essence of the concept.

Students to start recycling

This week Sechelt Elementary is starting a paper recycling program in the school. It is one of nine schools in the school district who is participating.

Each class in Sechelt Elementary has a special plastic box in which coloured, white and computer paper will be collected. Students will meet once a week to sort and weigh the boxes of paper. A volunteer will then drive the paper to Peninsula Transport in Gibsons who will bring it to International Paper in Vancouver.

The used paper is then de-inked, made into pulp and finally recycled paper. Recycling one ton of paper from discarded waste paper uses half the energy, half the water, results in 74 percent less air pollution and 35 percent less water pollution, saves 17 pulp trees and reduces solid waste going to landfills.

To launch this program an assembly was held with a skit by the drama club and slides from the Western Canada Wilderness Education Committee.

Students also received a small tree to plant from the local forest district.

Chris Akehurst, a tree planter came and gave the children a few tips on how to plant a seedling. Laurel Sukkau of Sunshine Coast Recycling and Processing (SCRAPS) donated several wilderness posters to decorate the paper storage room in the school.

Guess Where

The usual prize of $5 will be awarded the first correct entry drawn which locates the above. Send your entries to reach the Coast News, Box 460, Gibsons by Saturday of this week. Last week's winner was Askley Koffinoff, RR 2, S3 C65, Gibsons, who correctly identified the old tavern sign on the deck of a little cabin overlooking a small lake near Egmont.

Mourning day for Canadian workers

The Sunshine Coast Regional District (SCRD) will recognize April 28 as a day of mourning for Canadian workers who have been killed and injured on the job. The decision was made after a presentation by the Sunshine Coast Labour Council at last week's meeting of the board.

Ron Neilson told the board that thousands of Canadians are killed or injured at their place of employment each year. He pointed to an article written in the Coast News in October 1979, when Rick Jacobson, a 23-year-old logger from this area, died in a logging accident.

During discussion of the issue, Gordon Wilson pointed out that there have been four fatalities on fish farms in this area. He suggested that the SCRCD use this day as a focal point for pressure on the B.C. Ferry Corporation and the Workers' Compensation Board to release information they have on worker safety.

The regional district, Wilson said, has been concerned for some time about two issues that affect local workers. The first is the lead levels on the middle and upper decks of the ferry, due to exhaust emissions. The second is the lack of safety standards on fish farms.

Although there have been studies done on both issues, neither the B.C. Ferry Corporation, nor the Workers' Compensation Board have released the information.

Howe Sound Plan

Believing there is strength in numbers, Area F Regional Director, John Shaske, has contacted the other directors of the regional districts bordering Howe Sound in an effort to encourage pooled political push on environmental issues.

The response from the regional districts of Bowen Island, Squamish/Lillooet, Greater Vancouver Regional District (GVRD) and the municipality of Lion's Bay has been "great," Shaske said.

"The GVRD realizes that while Howe Sound is a playground for them, it's a work place for us," he said. "They were very happy when we were the ones to initiate working cooperatively."

The plan of attack is to impress upon the various MLA's from the Howe Sound region how important the environment issues are to the area.

"We have to put anti-pollution laws in the books and then we have to pressure our politicians to make sure those laws are enforced," Shaske said.

The regional directors intend starting their strategy planning very soon by way of teleconferences.

"Lots of things can be done but we have to put pressure on," Shaske said.

Dixon's recreation comments

Gibsons Alderman Gerry Dixon brought up the issue of the takeover of the administration of the West Howe Sound Recreation Commission in the most diplomatic terms possible at last week's meeting of the Sunshine Coast Regional District (SCRD).

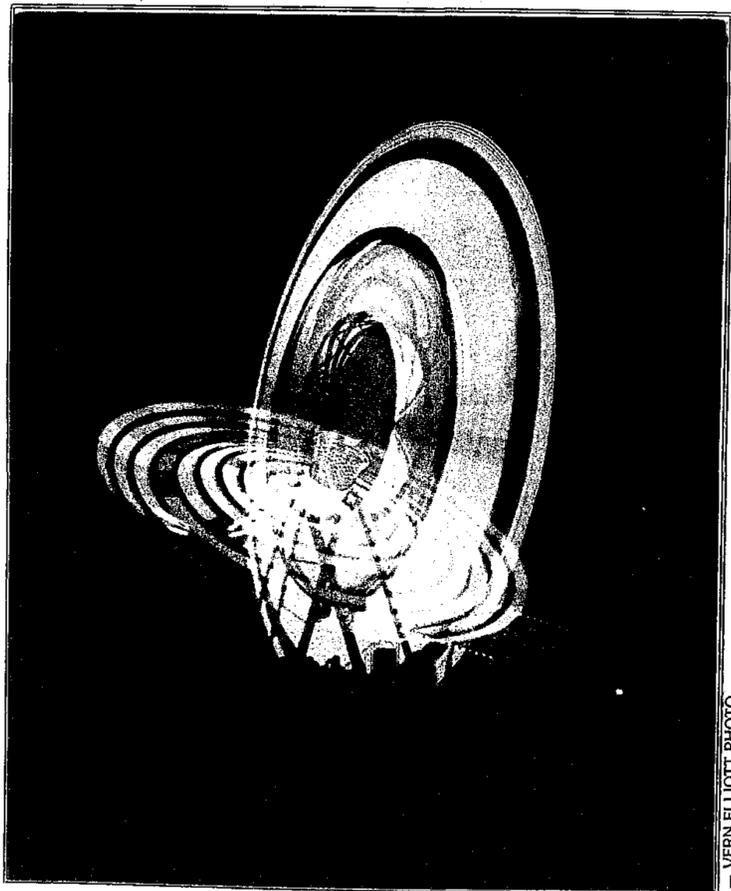

Dixon told fellow directors that he had not commented when the motion was brought forward to transfer the administration of the commission from Gibsons to the SCRCD because he had assumed all the players involved knew about the change prior to Jim Gurney's motion.

Dixon suggests that, in the future, the 'work horses' be in-involved in any discussion of this kind of change.

"You're not the only ones guilty of this," he told the board. "Gibsons has been guilty of the same thing in the matter of disposing the sludge from the treatment plant. But in the future maybe it would be courteous to talk to the people involved first."
