WE WISH YOU ALL A VERY Merry Christmas AND A Happy New Year

IN THE many churches up and down the Peninsula, Christmas and the New Year will be celebrated in the true spirit of the season, with reverence in commemoration of the birth of He whose teachings are the foundation of our civilization today and with gayety as a New Year is heralded in.

To most of us, our early memories of the festive season start with a huge stocking, hanging precariously full at the edge of the fire place — and the little church tucked away among the trees.

Mixed in with the shrill shrieks of exited youngsters, sifting down memory lane, are the quiet cadences of the Minister's voice.

Churches have always been, and always will be, the corner stones for each man and boy, women and girl. They are used as a base upon which to build a life of good to humanity.

In Christmas and the New Year's start we seem to take more cognizance of the church and its effects. This is as it should be.

The birthday of our Lord is a day which shall go down through the ages. A mixture of exited children and shadowed churches shall see to that.

It is good that the Sechelt Peninsula has sufficent of both.

CAR FERRY FOR GIBSONS

GIBSONS. Pressing for reclassification of Peninsula roads from secondary to arterial will be one of the first steps taken by B.M. MacIntyre, M.L.A. following announcement that Victoria Dock Company will operate a two ferry link between Vancouver, here and Powell River.

"Work on the Gibsons and Horseshoe Bay wharves will start immediately following permission to drive piling from the Federal Government", said Mr MacIntyre in an interview with the Coast News.

The slips which will be attached to the wharves, are already constructed and waiting in Puget Sound.

As of January 1. the Machigonne will operate under the house flag of Black Ball Company, parent firm to the operating Dock Company.

Car ferry service is expected to start between Gibsons and Horseshoe Bay early in May.

The company will also operate a ferry link from the Egmont area to Thunder Bay. The Provincial government has agreed to provide a road from Kleindale to Egmont in order to give a direct connecting link with Gibsons.

It is believed the Egmont service will take a year following commencement of the southern link.

Mr MacIntyre revealed his approach for getting superior roads (arterial roads are black topped under the Provincial Governments new plan) will be to point to the resemblance between Vancouver Island's and our roads.

"I will bring it very forcibly to bear on the Minister (E.C. Carson) that we are no longer isolated here", he said. "We are in the same position as Vancouver Island. We should now have arterial highways. In fact, the Minister has already expressed a willingness to review the whole position of our roads following start of the ferry service".

Mr MacIntyre went on to disclose that feelings were "mixed" in Powell River to news that the ferries would link the isolated town to Vancouver.

"There are some of our people who have never locked their doors in this town" he said. They feel that the ferries will open up the territory to the bad as well as the good.

"I should say that the majority are glad, but there is a large minority which is waiting to see what happens".

KIN TIGERS

GIBSONS. Kin Tigers ran up against a brick wall when they tangled with North Vancouver C.Y.O. in a league basketball tilt, dropping a hard fought 44 - 24 decision to the league leaders and last year champions.

The Tigers were without two of their first string, but this gave a chance to Chuck Kane to show his wares as he walked away with the game's highest total of 15 points.

Noel Poole, regularly slated as a spare, played first string position during the rugged game. "He is", said Coach Father Ed O'Dwyer, "rounding into a full time player.. His brother Mike and Wally Sandberg are both coming along nicely".

It was a tough night for both Jack Nestman and Ron Godfrey who continually circled the loop with their efforts To the boys, it seemed as if it was just one of "those nights".

C.Y.O. is a strong, well balanced team, according to the Tigers. 'It will be a feather in our cap when we beat that outfit," said, diminutive Stevie Littlejohn who attends all of the games.

According to the coach, "next time will see a different story".

INSTITUTE ELECTIONS

GIBSONS. Election of officers for the coming year will be main business during next meeting of the Howe Sound Farmer's Institute, in the Community Holl, January 8 at 8 p.m.

A general welcome has been sent out by Secretary Mrs M LeFeuvre, "to all adults who are interested in the aims and objects of the Farmer's Institute."

Reports will be read from the various committees. and discussions are to be open on the future of the fair and other kindred subjects.

The Road Will Be Hard

WE NOW have three new commissioners in the Village council.

Harley Anderson, Robert Macnicol and James Hall, are. to all intents and purposes, very new to the job of running the Village. They are all new to the job of municipal politics, and its present day ramifications.

Some of the prize boners of the year are due to come out from Village Council for some little time to come, but these will have to be taken in our stride as being the feet finding of just ordinary people trying to do the best they can for the village in which they live.

There will be more money coming into Village coffers from now on but there will be more territory over which it must be spread. Quite probably the per capita portion of the dollar will be spread thinner this year than last.

There are many projects facing the new council -- two of which, Mrs E. Nestman and William Skellett -- have been through this before, that will cause headaches and much inward strife.

We hope our new commissioners will approach their new duties with the intent to do best for the village and let personal ambition and flare for publicity die the death it should.

We are sorry James Drummond was not returned. But, we just have to hope that the people in their congregate wisdom have done the right thing in dropping the man who has led the commission through the last years of troubled finance. James Drummond tried his very best for the Village and for that we are grateful.

The life of minicipal politics for the new men, with the exception of Macnicol -- 20 years ago -- will be one of heart break and dead end planning.

The Department of Municipal Affairs under Mr MacDonald will always loom as the ogre in any pet plan. From that department must come approval for practically any worthwhile project. We predict our new Commission will run against that shoal many times

We also remind Mr Macnicol, who publicly stated he knew a lot of influential people in Victoria and would journey there in order to straighten out any trouble which may arise, that we already have a very capable man over there and he runs against the blank end of regulations and policy.

Let us not be too optimistic about the future of the new village. Our road will be a long one and strewn with many thorns. It will behoove us all to get behind the new commission and help with a pat on the back when that is rated.

We should also be prepared to give advice when we are in the posession of information that will be of help to they who work for us.

It will be a long battle to get good roads, sidewalks, sewerage systems, lights, water, scavenger service, building controls and beautification programs under way in our growing municipality. It can only be done when all of us get together and push.

That, now, is our job.

A Straight Record

WE HATE to be accused of belabouring a dead horse, but we are forced, because of the record, to point out to the Gibsons Liberal Association, that several of its contentions are not quite in keeping with the truth.

According to the letter written by Jules Mainil, president of the group,Mr Sinclair did not threaten to have advertising taken away from this paper. Mr Mainil repeated that twice. If our contention had been incorrect, once would have been sufficient.

James Sinclair is a man who is "good and able", says the Liberal Association. We sincerely hope he is. Several thousand dollars worth of good and able. We certainly pay him enough for being just that.

The Association takes the stand that we are "petty" in attacking a man of Mr Sinclair's stature.

We would like to inquire, since when has it been in poor taste or incorrect to admonish or verbally chastise ones own servants in a manner which would lead to better service- and in this case, to a better country in which to live?.

Are we to be like some people we know, and live in the shadow of the great god Liberalism, and eat from the crumbs which drop from off that bounteous table?.

We may be wrong in tieing in Mr Sinclair's majority with that of Hitler and Mussolini. We merely brought the parallel to light to show that majorities can rise and fall.

The Association takes the stand that casting a slight at Mr Sinclair is slighting the people who elected him.

There may be more tripe written but just where, we cannot say.

Mr Sinclair was elected because he is fluent and can make a good speech, because the people thought he was the better man of a very limited choice.

That is the way democracy works and by that we stand and fall. We have no kick with that part.

What the Association said in effect was this. Supposing our prime minister were to devolope homicidal tendencies and were to shoot someone; and supposing he were to be punished by being hanged by the neck until he were dead. Then, claims the Liberal Association in effect, the slight would be on the people who elected the prime minister. In other words. The electors should march around with bleeding hearts because they made a mistake.

Come, come now, Mr Mainil.

At this juncture we would point out that any person is entitled to free use of our columns to voice his or her own private views without comment from us.

The Liberal Association is a public body dedicated to public good, as it sees it. It and every other group, or society, is entitled also to use of these columns for the sake of clarity and correction, but it must be borne in mind that a public body,s views are public property. And as such, are liable to honest criticism.

We are well aware of the harm we may be doing ourselves by kicking the strongest political group on the Peninsula. But we have to tell the truth as we see it.

We know there are enough honest people in the Liberal Association to see canquer when it appears. They are the real strength of the party.

For the hangers on, the political hacks who live on Liberal or any other party crumbs, we do not care.

and the able.

Mr Sinclair might well have ignored any remarks you may have made regarding his fitness to hold office and about the huge vote received a year ago. His majority was so great then and would be so great now that he could have

Reader's Right

SIR.

Relating to James Sinclair's, letter and your editorial in your paper dated December 7. Your criticism of Mr Sinclair because of wharf expenditures may be sincere, but how, is difficult to understand. The economy of this area is based on fishing and logging and both these industries require safe and efficient harbours. Even if we had a perfect road system these wharfs would be needed.

The above might be only the honest difference of opinion between two men, and as such, not too much important, but, what is important is the insinuation that you try to draw from Mr Sinclair's letter and the insinuations you make in your editorial. Mr Sinclair in no way, threatens to take away Federal advertising from your paper, he does not tell you that he considers such advertising a waste of public funds. I repeat, Mr Sinclair did not threaten you. but he did graphically point out, human natures attitude towards the economy of public funds. The threat is a creation of your own mind - deliberate and for your own purpos. As editor of a small weekly your material is never plentiful, and striking material nonexistent. What a boon to the circulation of your paper if, in its columns, you could create a fight with a man of Mr Sinclair's stature. It is also, a very human weakness for the petty to tear at the good

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK

This is the last paper until January 4.

The Coast News will not print during the festive week. This will allow each member of the paper to enjoy Christmas in the fashion all of us would like. A full week off in which to just rest, and enjoy to the full, the fine peaceful flavours of Christmas and the New Year.

We will be back on January 4 with the usual news from Hopkins to Pender Harbour.

While discussing that long area we would like to wish each and every one of you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

A bit of wit

Our idea of an optimist is a man who took the marriage vows at the ripe old age of 90 and started house hunting for a home close to a school.

BRITISH COLUMBIA TODAY

Despite the tragedy of war, the past decade has been one of outstanding social and economic advance in Canada, and most particularly in this Province, of ours. Economic developements coincident with an influx of capital for indrustrial and mercantile ventures, along with enlightened public investment in hydro-electric, highway, railway and related construction, have resulted in a very substanstial increase in wealth and population, and in social welfare, health and educational advances that go to make life for the people of British Columbia more complete.

Economic and social growth of the magnitude seen in this Province can only occur in a politioal area enjoying the rights and privileges of stable government operating on sound economic principals. In British Columbia we find the favourable conditions for such progress which cannot continue without financial assistance, both of a capital and current nature. It can truthfully be said that aided by great natural resources and a secure faith in the future, sound governmental financial administration has made these improvements possible without placing any undue strain upon the economic system.

Teacher's Meeting

The Sechelt Local of the British Columbia Teacher's Federation at their meeting on December 12, considered the latest salary proposal offered by the Sechelt School Board. The teachers found the proposal unacceptable. The following points were brought out at the meeting:

1 Basic principles of educational finance in British Columbia call for increased government aid to assist rural areas to attain a basic standard of education. An important factor in this policy is the ability of a school board in such a district to obtain the teachers it needs by paying salaries equal o those in comparable districts. The government recognizes this principle by paying special aid to cover all approved current operating costs over and above the local levy of 8 mills. Thus the children of this district may have the services of desirable teachers without additional costs to local taxpayers.

2 The salaries asked for by the Sechelt Local of the British Columbia Teacher's Federation are, in general, lower than those paid in the adjoining school districts.

3 THE DISTRICT WOULD RECEIVE FINANCIAL AND EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS.

4 LOCAL TAXPAYERS WOULD PAY NO MORE TAXES BY VIRTUE OF THE SCHOOL TEACHER'S REQUESTS.

BETWEEN YOU'N ME

By BILL SUTHERLAND
Editor. The Coast News

This column has been missingfor several weeks now and, according to the person who used to read it ,that is all to the good.

Being a perverse and contrary individual, I have intent and malice afore thought in trying to get the dead horse once again on its feet.

By the time this appears, it will be Christmas and everyone will have big grins on their faces. We predict at least 73 percent of these same grins are forced or vacuous from just daze and daze of daze.

The elections are all over and we have men in our midst who are thrilled at the jobs they have received because they were foolish enough to offer their services. Christmas will probably help them into the new year and the new year will probably help them into the Easter season but what goes after that?. They will just have to negotiate on their own power from there on in.

During the season of Goodwill and Peace on Earth it behooves every one of us to be nice with each other. That is going to go rather hard with Trueman and Drew Pearson, with Robert Burns and the Department ofMunicipal Affairs, with Harold Winch and Boss Johnston, with Mayor Thompson and the people, with Horace Aggett Coast News and Jimmy and the School Board, with the Sinclair.

Perhaps if all these people think of what effect their words and thoughts will have on the world one hundred years from now they would probably decide their troubles were not worth airing.

I noticed this man McPhail recently took a slap at the editor of this paper. That was hardiy fair - using the editors paper to slap the editor's face. We scream about Democracy, so that is what it looks like when it works for the other guy.

Norman Sergeant was just in discussing the election of Commissioners. He is the tall fellow that has something to do with the Legion and helps look after the publicity. That reminds me , he has nothing in about the best story of the year - the bursary-scholarship of the Legion. how about it Norman?.

Sales are booming up and according to money authorities has been up during the year. In most cases approximately 20 percent above that of last year.

There has been an increase in population all along the area which means that more money is here. If things keep looking brighter we will quite propably have a liquor store and another , smaller edition of a Park Royal. Somebody, somehow, will think of some

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

POLLY HEWIT

A GOOD MANY HUSBANDS are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women keep them constantly in hot water; others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by irritating ways and words; others roast them. Some keep them in a pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good, managed in this way, but they are fairly delicious when properly treated.

In selecting your husband, you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in buying mackerel, nor by the golden tint , as if you wanted salmon; be sure you select him yourself as tastes differ.Do not go to market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better to have none unless you will patiently learn how to cook him. A preserving kettle of finest porcelain is best, but if you have nothing but an earthenware pipkin, it will do, with care.

See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with required number of buttons and strings sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silk cord called comfort as the one called duty is apt to be weak and they are apt to fly out of the kettle and be burned and crusty on the edges, since, like crabs and lobsters, you have to cook them alive. Make a clear, teady fire out of love, cheerfulness and neatness. Set him as near to this as seems to agree with him.

If he sputters and fizzles, do not be anxious; some husbands do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves them, but it must be used with judgement. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently, watch the while, lest he lie too flat and too close to the kettle,and so become useless. You cannot fail to know when he is done.

If thus treated, you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely wih you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want, unless you become restless and set in too cold a place.

SCHOOL NEWS

By MAUREEN ROSS.

MANY students and guests turned out for a wonderful school party, last Friday. The evening was spent in dancing and a few skits from the staff and the students.

Betty Grant presented the students gifts to the teachers and the students were really thrilled with the "house" pins that the staff gave them. We really had a swell time.

The boys in the Kin Tigers team came in rather late after playing a basketball game at North Vancouver. Sory to say, our boys lost by a score of 44 - 24.

The "Goslings" have the leadin the volley ball competition, the Falcons are next and the Knights are "in the cellar.

The Christmas exams are over and all of us "hard - working students" are looking forward to our holidays, so to all of our readers we send the Season's Greetings

SECHELT

By ARIES.

WELL THE KIDS can certainly show us something when it comes to holding dances. A very successful one was held in aid of the Junior Badminton Club and netted the teen - agers the sum of twenty two dollars.. Music was donated by Bob Cook, Frank Postlethwaite Jr, Kennedy Joe, (no relation to the Llquor Board chap we hear) J. Jervis and Mrs Stockwell .refreshments were free to the youngsters, and adults paid. David Parish kept a hawks eye on the door to see that everyone paid.

Square dancing was enjoyed and the other dancing also. Glad to see so many fathers there, noticed Jim Parker, Ken Whitaker, Doctor McColl, Jim Derby, Herb Stockwell and many others really enjoying giving the youngsters a lift.

Ann Jervis is Secretary Treasurer and Donald Head President.

We will certainly miss Mrs Seely who has left us to live in Fort St John. She has been here for about seven years and has taken an active interest in many community efforts. Came in to say goodbye to us and we felt sorry to lose our good neighbour.

Moving into the Seely house is Mr and Mrs Martin Bennick and their four nice little children Mervin, Lucille, Louise and Baby Melvin. Mr Bennick is a young war veteran who brought back a bonnie bride from Edinburgh. We wish them welcome and hope they will be happy here with us.

Over forty guests at the Sechelt Inn to help the St. Hilda's Parish Hall fund. Joint hostesses were Mrs L.F. Scott and Mrs E.E. Pearson. Cards were enjoyed and after the card party carols were sung. Mrs Jack Evans at the piano.. Refreshments were served and $20. dollars was added to the fund.

Seasons Greetings

It has given us great pleasure to serve you with ever expanding services which we hope are to your liking. At this season of the year it is up to each of us to look forward to another year of progress, success and happiness. May the bountifull blessings which are always wished for you, at this time of the year, be an actual fact in the future.

way of getting the extra money out of here. And that is the way these things seem to go-more or less on a cycle principle.

I think now would be as good a time as any in which to say Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all you wonderful people who have read this far. You have to be wonderful to get down here.

I would like to name a few of the friends of the writer of this column, but I find I can't think of one excepting the man who works in the sawmill who wrote me a scathing letter and then phoned up and said, "tear it up, don't print it. This is Christmas, and we sh uld be magnanimous to our enemies'. That's a true story, and just happened.

Merry Christmas to you all and may the New Year bring happiness to each person within the sphere of this paper.

This and That

By E. NESTMAN

WELL FOLKS when you get this it will be the very happy season of Christmas, or very close to it, I know if your anything like our house, you'll be running around like mad, getting those last minute bits of Christmas shopping done, and in all the exitement, no doubt your going to forget someone, or something, but that's what makes Christmas. we're not going to get any snow, sez I, with my fingers crossed, for I bought my small one a sleigh. The past two years, could'nt get him a sleigh for love or money, so this year made sure he would have one, and something tells me, thats it.

Personal news, is very scarce wish you folks would give me some, I'll certainly see that it makes the column.

An article in the press, from down Pittsburg way, quotes a rising tide of feeling, against the commercializing of Christmas, and they emphasize the slogan, "lets put Christ back in Christmas". A very worthy crusade, with the world in the state it is. The beautiful feast of Christmas seems to have been totally forgotten, in the mad rush of a buying spree and a bang up celebration.

Go to your church and celebrate Christmas, honor the "Child", on His birthday every one else is remembered, but He invariably is forgotten.

Hope to have a great deal more news after the holiday season, with every one having visitors, and visiting. Itshould make an interesting column. Charlie Burns, will be celebrating Christmas in California, lucky fellow.. We hope he has an enjoyable trip

May I wish you, once again, the very Happiest Christmas, and a very Happy, and Holy New Year.

MURDOCKS LANDING

Mrs Royal Murdock has returned home after a sojourn in St Mary's Hospital. The burns are still painful, but it is nice to see her back with us once more.

We all welcome our plucky little neighbor Mrs Sarah Wray, back home again. She returned on Saturday,accompanied by her daughter, Mrs M Dillabough, who is going to stay with her. She spent a few days with Mr and Mrs Charlie Wray at Irvines Landing, but is now settled in her own home.

Miss Merlene Dillabough returned to Vancouver on Sunday afternoon after spending a week with her family.

Mrs G. Phillips and her two small daughters, Alice and Esther left for Vancouver to attend the wedding of her daughter Mernice Green who was wed on December 1.

Mr and Mrs Bob Cameron have a little baby girl, born November 30 in St Mary's Hospital.

DON'T WASTE A BITE.

Turkey is a once a year delicacy, so while your Christmas turkey lasts, use it in as many delicious dishes as you can. You can make these recipes with chicken at other times of the year, but nothing can equal that special turkey flavour.

Serve every bite and when there is nothing left but the bare carcase, you can make turkey soup. These are some of my favourite turkey recipes, try them and see how you like them.

Turkey Tetrazzini .

mushrooms make this a delightful casserole. Serve it for a special buffet treat at an after-Christmas party.

½ 8-ounce package medium noodles
2 cups left-over turkey, diced
6 tablespoons fat
6 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
dash of pepper
½ teaspoon celery salt
2 cups turkey stock
1 cup heavy cream, scalded dash of sherry flavoring
6-ounce can broiled mushrooms or ½ frehs broiled mushrooms quarter cup toasted slivered almonds
3 tablespoons minced parsley
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook noodles in boilng salted water until tender. Drain. Melt fat and add flour. Blend and add seasonings and stock. Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in cream, flavouring, mushrooms, almonds and parsley. Alternate layers of noodles, turkey and mushroom sauce in casserole top with cheese and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serves 8.

Turkey Loaf

This is stretching your turkey in a delicous way.

2 cups thick white sauce
1 cup turkey stock
½ cup fine dread crumbs
2 cups diced cooked turkey
3 tablespoons minced parsley
quarter cup chopped celery
3 eggs, beaten

Prepare white sauce, add celery and eggs. Mix well. Add stock, crumbs, turkey and parsley. Mix together thoroughly and turn into a greased baking dish. Bake uncovered in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for about 35 minutes. Let stand 2 to 3 minutes. Loosen sides with patula and turn out onto a hot platter. Serve with sauce.

Turkey-mushroom sauce:

Melt 2 tablespoons fat in a saucepan and stir in 3 tablespoons flour. Add 1 can cream of mushroom soup, stir until thickened. Add 1½ cups cooked diced turkey. Season to taste and serve over a slice of turkey loaf. Makes 3 cups saue.

IF YOU NEED CASH IN A HURRY

DON'T SELL YOUR BONDS

Of course, there may be an occasion when it appears wise to sell your bonds in order to meet liabilities or reinvest your money, but more often than not it just isn't necessary. Provided you can repay a personal loan out of your regular income, the Bank of Montreal will advance the money you need against the security of your bonds at a cost slightly higher than the interest you receive on the bonds. Besides there are times when it's wise to have a reserve fund behind you, and any bonds you hold may be the foundation of such a fund. So, if you have a money problem which a personal loan would help solve, drop into the Gibsons branch of the Bank of Montreal, and have a word with Tom Larson, the manager. Ordinary B. ofM. personal loans cost six per cent interest a year; that's just 27 cents a month, for example, on a loan of $100 repaid in twelve monthly installments. If you have bonds as security, the rate is appreciably lower.

Before you decide it's necessary to sell your bonds, have a word with Mr Larson.

afforded to be magnanimous. On the other hand Mr Editor, always remember that any slur you cast on Mr Sinclair you cast on those who, acting freely and independently, gave him that huge majority.

This finally brings me to your most obnoxious remarks, trying to link Mr Sinclair and his actions with Hitler and Mussolini and their actions. Mr Editor, you choose to ignore both the democratic principles under which Canada is governed and the historic fact that Fascism and Nazism existed only by use of naked force.

When Mr Sinclair was elected, the people chose him freely and independenty, his strentgh lies only in their confidence and goodwill. Had he been defeated, no harm would have accrued to any individual, the harm would have been done to the whole of Canada through the loss of the services of a good and clever man.

This letter is not in defence of James Sinclair, but rather in defence of the democratic principles and the decency that exists in Canadian public life Mr Sinclair is in no more need of my defence than he is in danger from your editorials.

Jules A. Mainil.
President Gibsons Liberal Association.

SIR.

A month or two ago, without consulting the people they represented, the Village Commissioners of Cranberry Village, passed a resolution rejecting the increase in number of village commissioners from three to five, where the population was less than 2500 people. This resolution was endorsed by the Village Commission of Gibsons.

On December 14. the people of Cranberry Village by a small majority voted in favor of the five member Commission, thus repudiating the previous action of their Village Commission.

Also on December 14 the people of Gibsons voted into office, three Commissioners, nominated by the local ratepayers association who favored the five member Commission legislation by the B.C. Government. This condition made it possible to provide for representation of an amalgamating district on the Village body.

Robt Macnicol.

SIR: In your issue of December 14 there appears a letter from Mrs. G.R. Cooper, in which quite spirited exception is taken to phrases used in an article written by me and being run in current issues.

Certainly the objections made are well founded, if based only on the section of the serial article mentioned, and as it appeared in your paper. However, might I suggest that the good lady withhold her wrath?

The type-setting department of the "Coast News" is very prone to frequent and sometimes ludicrous errors and omissions in the matter of spelling and punctuation. On the point in question certain punctuation, which appears in the original copy, was omitted in the published text, so that the implication is much altered.

Further ,the issue of November 30 carried merely a first installment; I think, and certainly I hope that a perusal of th entire article will abundantly disprove the impression gained by Mrs Cooper by her reading of the imperfectly copied first installment. I trust she is a regular reader of your paper, and will learn this to be true.

I may say that the objectionable term was one quoted, with considerable amusement, by those old gentlemen; perhaps a bit "dour" at times, they still posessed a lively sense of humor. And I might further suggest that no "defense" on their part is required: Their work speaks for itself. A primary purpose in writing the article was to put some of that work on record, and, in these days of "easy money" to recall some of the times when there was almost no money at all. For which I am duly chastened. So what?.

Robert Burns.

Backward Glances

By Robert Burns

This was a job that could not be done piecemeal and required the first borrowing that had been done by the Village, and here occurred probably the most serious error in the municipal program up to that time. Just about when the Village was ready to go forward the war had broken out, and puplic opinion was against any avoidable puplic spending except for the war effort.. Consequently the Board delayed the work for some time, meanwhile the greatly increased load on the pumps was getting too much for machinery to take, and repair costs became heavy. Finally consumption began to exceed supply and it became necessary to get more water, war or no war. During the period of postponement engine repair costs had been considerable, and still more serious was the fact that costs of both labour and material had risen more than fifty per cent. However there was no help for it, and the job was done; since that time the gravity supply has furnished most of the water used by the Village system. Since the original hook-up much work has been done on supply sources and an earth reservoir of about one-half million gallons built. Recently it became possibe to purchase the land on which most of the gravity water originates, and this was done. Further work in renewing and enlarging the supply main is now required to permit use of the full supply from those sources.

Other work was carried on; considerable road and lane construction was done, so that now, while the roads are not by any means complete there is access by wheeled traffic to every parcel of land in the original Village; a Municipal Hall was built, and some office equipment aquired.

(to be continued next week)

YELLOW CEDAR LUMBER This is a coastal name for this fine wood and it is perhaps as well because its botanical name is Chamaecyparis Nootkatensis which is something else again. It is one of our hardy specimens that is not often seen by the layman or the low level logger for that matter as its habitat is the higher levels of the Coastal mountains, generally starting around the 2,000 ft. altitude. It looks quite similar to Red Cedar, but on closer inspection it is easily identified. As the logging of the lower Coast levels begins to climb upward it will follow that more of this fine wood will find its way to market. In the Sechelt Peninsula it is beginning to show up in general housing requirements and also heavy construction, where its sterling properties are slowly being appreciated.

No need for using inferier second growth lumber, Use Yellow Cedar. Cheaper and Better. Phone the sawmill, Wilson Creek 20 M. communities, most of which rely on the world's largest paper producing plant payroll have 1200 automobiles registered. It is believable that each of these vehicles will traverse our roads at least once per year, according to local authorities.

Boards of Trade along the Peninsula have already made plans to attract tourists from Vancouver and the south. Advent of the ferries will facilitate entrance to the Peninsula.

It is believed the major trend will be to have travellers originating from the south rather than "playing" for the flow from the north.

Hints are already out that produce trucks will be seen on our roads following start of the ferry.

Veteran Ferry Booster Roger Green points out that merchandising trucks from Vancouver will help rather than detract from local business men.

"If you look at the Fraser Valley you will see that these chain store and department store trucks seldom hurt any area. They just add one more service which helps to attract more people".
