Queen Annette Crowned at Mellon

by Mrs. M. Swan

In one of the loveliest settings in Howe Sound, Annette Marleau of Port Mellon was crowned Pulp Queen by retiring queen Kirsten Lien. The brief ceremony opened the big Labor Day celebration at the Howe Sound pulp mill. The Women's Service club had done a remarkable job of decorating the dias and had made the bouquets for the lovely queen and her attendants.

The Pulp Queen is 14 years old and is now attending high school in Gibsons. She was born in Vanguard, Saskatchewan, but has lived in B.C. for the past 11 years. Annette likes school, is good in most of her subjects, and is fond of most sports. Her father, N Marleau, is a fireman in the steam plant in the pulp plant.

Sports followed the coronation ceremony with Enemark Logging winning the tug-of-war. Hot dogs, pop, and ice cream was supplied to the youngsters with the compliments of the union. In the evening, Gibsons ball team beat the Port Mellon boys on the diamond.

Annette Marleau

The big affair wound up with a dance, the music being provided by the Mellonaires.

Winning tickets, drawn by Queen Annette, were won by R. English, who won the $25, Joe Macy, Ricky Swartz, J.M. Thorstensen, J.F. Gildroy, L. Swanson, and T. Enemark. Each won something Scotch.

Howard C. Green M. P. Talks Veterans Affairs

Howard C. Green, MP for Vancouver-Quadra, told the Gibsons Branch, Canadian Legion, that they must guard against the government policy of trying to put the care of veterans into the hands of the old-age pensions department.

The present trend, he said, appears to be to forget about the veteran as a war veteran, and treat him as a condidate for the old-age pension. This is contrary to the entire War Veterans Act which was based on the proper surmise that service in the front lines during the war had added ten years to each veteran's age.

He said that the allowance had now been increased to $50 for single men and to $90 for married men. The Legion had asked $60 for single men and $120 for married men. This, he continued, was, if anything, a little on the meagre side.

After outlining the recent changes in the act, he said that the Liberal members of the committee on veteran's affairs had taken one side and the opposition had taken the other side. The government members had evidently wanted to make as few changes as possible in the existing act.

He said that the Legion had done a fine job in preparing briefs for the study of the committee. These briefs had had a commonsense approach and will undoubtedly have a marked effect on the policy of the government with regard to veterans.

He also stated that it was the job of the Legion to do its best to look after less fortunate veterans.

"We helped each other at the front," he remarked. "We should be the same kind of comrades today."

Robert Macnicol said that when the next election comes up we should choose our candidates according to what their party will do for the veteran. One Liberal member from Vancouver, he said, had told him that "half a loaf is better than none".

At the same time, he said, the members took more than a loaf when they passed the bill granting pensions to members of parliament. Mr. Green, he said, had been one of three who had opposed the bill because of its implications.

Howard Green said that Bob Macnicol deserved more credit than anyone else in Canada for the work he had done to better the well-being of the veteran. Mr. Macnicol had served on many committees on veterans affairs, he said, and had always had the welfare of the less fortunate veteran at heart.

While in Gibsons, Mr. Green lunched with Mr. and Mrs. Macnicol, and met many old friends of his who are now living in Gibsons.

Magistrate A. Johnston of Sechelt brought greetings to the meeting from the Sechelt branch.

Mobile X-Ray Unit To Visit Peninsula

According to Harold Huggins, publicity man for the tuberculosis clinics, a brand new mobile X-ray unit will visit the Peninsula sometime in the near future. The unit has not yet arived from the has not yet arrived from the

The mobile X-ray, contained in a big van, has its own power supply and is a self-contained unit. It will stop along the roads to give free chest X-rays to anyone, free of charge.

The X-rays are taken on 4 x 5 film; it takes only a few seconds to register and have the photograph taken of the lungs; there is no undressing necessary.

Betty Pratt Given Legion Scholarship

Miss Betty Pratt was presented a scholarship on Sunday by Gibsons Branch Canadian Legion. The scholarship will enable her to attend Normal School in Vancouver. She received her certificate and cheque from the hands of Howard C. Green, MP, who visited in Gibsons to do the honors.

Mr. Green also presented a bursary to Eugene Blomgren who will be attending university. The bursary was obtained for the young Roberts Creek man through the efforts of the Legion here. Miss Betty Grant, who received the scholarship last year, also received her certificate from Mr. Green.

Before the presentation, A. S. Trueman outlined the purpose of the scholarships and the method by which they were presented. Funds for the scholarship were raised by the Junior Auxiliary.

Mr. Green said that Legions all across Canada were taking a keen interest in student scholarships, and he congratulated the local Legion and the recipients of the honors.

Sechelt to Plan Annual Water Galas

Two members of the Royal Life Saving Society from Vancouver will meet on Saturday with members of the Sechelt Board of Trade to map out a program of life saving and aquatic displays for next year. A display was held in Sechelt last month with the Life Saving Society presenting a varied program for the spectators.

It is hoped by the Sechelt Board of Trade that a special day can be set aside, annually, for Life Saving Society demonstrations. If this is the case, it will be necessary that more adequate equipment, such as diving boards, be provided for he demonstrations.

According to President Ernie Pearson, tentative plans call for an annual aquatic display by the RLSS with other activities tied-in to make for a full day of activity

Ratepayers Delegation Protests to Commission

For a few minutes, the Gibsons village commission was subjected to a barrage from delegates of the Gibsons Ratepayers Association when a delegation of their members turned up to Tuesday's meeting to protest the granting of water to six residents of the Indian Reserve.

Dr. Harley Anderson and Jack Gordon, speaking for the Ratepayers, began the barrage, strongly protesting the move of the council to grant water to users outside the village boundaries when the village was not sure of an adequate supply for its own use. But the big guns were opened up when W.B. Hodgson, president of the association, put in a strong protest against the granting of water, when he protested methods used by the council, and when he accused Commissioner Joe Schutz of sprinkling while the sprinkling ban was supposed to be in force.

He suggested that the village council should use the columns of the Coast News to tell the residents of village council affairs. Commissioners came back with the argument that the meetings were open to the public.

Hastily Joe Schutz got up to explain that he had not used water for sprinkling during the ban, and the other commissioners took turns in assuring the delegates that an ample supply of water would be available when the new pipeline was laid. They cited cases where present pipe, along the Cannery road, was leaking badly, wasting gallons of water.

Still, the Ratepayers were not convinced. They asked that no more outside connections be allowed until the new line is tested for a year in order that the village may be assured of its own supply. They questioned the commission on water at the source to which Commissioner A.E. Ritchey answered that further springs would be piped as soon as money was available.

Commissioner Boucher stated that the proposed $1200 addition to the municipal hall had been shelved so that the money could be put to use in connection with roads and water supply.

The barrage again became heavy when the question of the sale of the village truck came up. When commissioner accused predecessors of buying a costly piece of equipment which could not be used sufficiently to assure its worth, Dr. Anderson, a former commissioner, rose to his feet and accused some of the present council members of objecting to the purchase of the truck because of personal financial implications. Mr. Ritchey had said, during the discussion on the purchase that he "had a truck standing idle." He explained, however, that he was not in the trucking business.

Dr. Anderson said that the truck was being boycotted because the present commissioners objected to its purchase in the first place. He said it could have been used for many purposes, including the collection of garbage.

Mr. Hodgson rose to his feet

Villagers Fail to Name Commissioner

Taxpayers of Gibsons again failed to nominate for commissioner, this time to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Nestman, who has left to live in Selma Park. It will now be up to the village commission to name a commissioner to fill the vacancy to complete the term ending December 31 of this year.

Mrs. Nestman had been on the commission only a few weeks having been nominated to fill one of the positions created by the resignation of Messrs. Macnicol and Skellett over a matter concerning the purchase of two private pipelines. Only one candidate was nominated at the time—Mrs. Nestman—and Mr. Joe Schutz was named by the commissioners to fill the other vacancy, Now, the commissioners will be confronted again with the task of finding a commissioner.

The Ratepayers Association, which generally takes keen interest in the election of commissioners, has refrained from naming a candidate to fill the position. They felt that in fairness to the two commissioners who had previously resigned that they could not nominate anyone until the position of Commissioners Boucher and Ritchey had been clarified.

Former Resident To Go To Indonesia

Dr. Herbert Grantham who lived in Granthams Landing in the old days and went to school here on the Peninsula will be leaving Canada shortly to go to Indonesia where he will give adyice in setting up science courses in Indonesian schools.

Dr. Grantham was here in June to address the school graduates.

Sechelt Park Committee Speeds Clearing Work

Parks committee of the Sechelt Board of Trade has already started the Fall season activities. Clearing of the five-acre park site, donated to the community by Union Estates, has already begun, according to Mickey Coe, committee chairman.

The committee hopes to have the clearing of roads and the ball park by the end of the Fall season. Next year further development will take place. Several logging companies and private citizens have promised bulldozers and road equipment to help the job along.

Shares in blocks of $10 per share will be issued to finance the clearing of the park site and the shares will accumulate as a future investment in a proposed community centre.

A work party is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Sunday, with all the men of the community gathering in the school grounds with axes, power saws and shovels. A road must be built in to the property and the clearing of the play area commenced.

Mickey Coe and his committee are hoping that a good turn out of good men will be on hand on Sunday to get started on this important phase of Board of Trade community activity.

Ernie Pearson, trade board president, told the Coast News that a good deal of volunteer labor will be necessary to get the project on the way. Anyone interested in coming out this Sunday, or coming to subsequent work parties, is asked to contact Mr. Coe.

A matter of Concern

Whether we read the "Financial Times" or not, whether we concern ourselves with international affairs or not, the matter of the dwindling British market is a matter that is going to affect all of us. Even if we merely shrug our shoulders and get on with our little jobs here on the Peninsula, it is going to have its effect on our economy.

British Columbia has no new lumber contracts with Great Britain, no contracts for salmon, and no contracts for apples. Mind you, there are many other countries we can always deal with, but Britain has been one of our big customers.

It isn't that Great Britain doesn't want our lumber or our fish or our fruit. It isn't that Great Britain doesn't like us or our prices. She just can't pay the kind of money we want.

It seems to us that some international finance could be figured whereby Great Britain could pay in sterling and the Canadian government could accept that sterling, converting it into gold cerificates for the producers and shippers. We could then buy from Britain, paying for our purchases in the sterling she paid us.

Unless something is done, it looks as if we'll have to pull in our horns as a trading province, and probably take less money for our produce with a subsequent lowering of our living standards.

To make matters worse, it is conceivable that the Republicans could win the election in the United States. And the Republicans have been noted in the past for slapping up high tariffs. This may conceivably cut out some of our big contracts with the United States, and leave us with stocks of rotting lumber, rotting fish, and rotting fruit—and slim pocketbooks.

The other side

Since our editorial of a few months ago, in which we drew attention to the need for an increase in the mill rate at Gibsons, we have heard from the other side. And they present an argument which is both interesting and perfectly logical. We feel it only fair to present it:

Most of our residents here on the Peninsula have come here to escape the high taxation of Vancouver and district. They have come to buy homes and to settle here on small company pensions and army pensions. And, as long as our tax remains low, we'll get more and more residents with small, but fixed, incomes.

If a depression hits—and we don't think it will—or if there is a prolonged strike, or a long forest closure, the younger people will be moving away, looking elsewhere for work or government relief. And it is these oldsters— the Old Sweats and the retired folk—who will remain here to keep the grocer's cash register ringing up sales. True, they'll be buying in small quantities and they won't be able to afford the frills: but they'll be buying, keeping the Peninsula going until better times return.

Then, the progressive, younger men will return to the Peninsula to open up businesses, to advocate the coming in of industries—and to advocate higher mill rates—for progress.

We received a letter this from Sandy McPruss, which, we assume, is a pen-name. The letter is a good one; we want to publish it. Photography Hints For Amateur Fans

Developing your own roll of film is as easy as making a pie. (Developing means finishing the roll of film; and has nothing to do with making the prints—which is also as easy as pie.)

Ingredients:

From the drug store get tubes of developer. They are about a dime each. One will do for three or four rolls. Also get a can of acid fixing powder. You need water and light, and three pyrex or enamel dishes.

Procedure:

Mix developer as directed; pour into one dish. Mix fixer as directed; pour into another dish. Put water in the third dish. Try to have all temperatures around 68 degrees F.

Find yourself a light-tight room or closet with a shelf. (Be careful with the chemicals. They can damage paint.) Turn on a dim red light—the dimmer the better.

When you are sure there is no white light entering your darkroom, unroll the film. Tear off the paper backing and throw it away. Unroll the film and wash it in the water for a few seconds.

Take one end of the roll of film in each hand. Watch your fingernails! They are sharp! Rock the film to and fro in the developer for about two minutes. It should turn dark in about a minute. Examine it under the red light to ascertain the contrast, or leave to develop fully in about two-and-a-half minutes.

Rock in water to wash off the developer.

Rock in the fixer for about two minutes. Turn on a faint white light at the end of two minutes—if you like—and finish the job in the light. Fix for a total of about eight minutes.

Twist film into a figure of eight; fasten the ends with clothes pegs, and let the film wash in running water for about 20 minutes. Wipe film dry with a sponge, and hang up to dry.

It's easy; but—one word of caution— try out an experimental roll first.

ACCESSIBLE TIMBER RESOURCES

The accessible merchantable timber in Canada amounts to 193,230 million cubic feet, comprising 63 per cent of the total merchantable volume. This merchantable timber includes all trees over four inches and over in diameter at breast height, excluding wood in stumps and usuable tops. Accessible softwood timber accounts for 134,145 million ft. and accessible hardwood timber for 59,085 million cubic feet, or 56 and 44 per cent respectively of their total merchantable volume.

Planning Board May Include Peninsula

At the last meeting of the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Board, Councillor John Richardson of West Vancouver was asked to investigate the proposal that the Sechelt Peninsula be included on the board. The board comprises 24 municipalities which meet together to study planning for the entire lower mainland.

Councillor Richardson told the board that the rapidly expanding Sechelt Peninsula would certainly affect the North Vancouver and West Vancouver areas as well as Vancouver city. Development of the Peninsula is moving ahead at a fast pace, he told colleagues on the board.

Members moved to have Mr. Richardson study the proposal and submit a report to the next meeting of the Regional Planning board.

Powell River News Wins Competitions

The Powell River News brought honor to B.C. this week when the weekly newspaper in the paper town copped three top honors in the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association convention in New Bruswick. The paper won the Dunning Trophy for the best all-round newspaper in the 2000-3000 circulation class; won the Pearce Cup for the best editorial page in its class; and won the Beattie shield for the best front page in its class.

It is the first time any paper in Canada has won all three honors. The Coast News joins in sending cograulations to Al Alsgard and the Powell River News.

Cisco Kid Returns To CKWX

Stirring, new adventuresome stories of the Old West will be dramatized in a series of thrilling half-hour Cisco Kid radio programs. The radio version of the Cisco Kid is drawn from the character originally created by that master yarn-spinner, O. Henry. The Kid remains a swashbuckling son of the Southwest who drifts through cattle country performing deeds reminiscent of Robin Hood. He is accompanied in his hard riding, fighting adventures by dumpy Pancho, the comedy end of the team. The program is heard every Thursday at 7:30 on CKWX.

Census Figures Indicate Growth

For those who like statistics, here are a few of the 1951 census figures for B.C.

Population of our province in 1951 was 1,165,000, which was a 42 percent increase over the 1941 census figure of 818,000.

Vancouver now has a population of 345,000 as compared with 275,000 in 1941, and Victoria has 50,700 as compared with 44,000 in 1941.

Biggest cities in the province are: Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster with 28,000: North Vancouver with 15,000: Trail with 11,000: Penticton, 10,500: and Kelowna, 8,400. Biggest districts are: Burnaby, 57,700: Surrey, 33,000: Saanich 28,000: Richmond, 19,000: Coquitlam, 15,600: and North Vancouver District, 14,100.

Greater Vancouver has passed the half-million mark with a total metropolitan population of 524,000. Population of Gibsons is 722 and of the district, about 9400.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. J. Derby and family have left our sunny shores in favor of Salmon Arm. We're going to miss them. They were an active family in community affairs, Mrs. Derby being an executive member of the PTA and one-time captain of the Girl Guides. Helen Derby was at one time president of the student's council. George was a valued member of Pro-Rec, and Mr. Derby's generosity with his time and truck is well known. We shall miss them for all that, but above all we shall miss them for their unfailing good humor and their willingness to oblige.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Frank August in the loss of their infant son who passed away in St. Mary's Hospital this week.

Glad to be back in Sechelt after an absence of almost a year in Saskatchewan are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Laycock and daughter, Darleen.

We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson on the occasion of the birth of a baby daughter.

Back in Sechelt are Mr. and Mrs. C. Pootees and son "Chuck" and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parrish and son, David. Both families spent the summer visiting friends and relatives in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Back also is Bob Lemieux who spent the summer in New Westminster.

Visiting here again is Ted Walker of Ioco. He likes it here and perhaps will settle here. At least we all hope so.

Mrs. A. Bain has been visiting her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson.

First meeting of the Fall season of the Sechelt and District Liberal Association was held in the Legion Hall with the president, Magistrate A. Johnston, in the chair. The well-attended meeting named delegates to the forthcoming convention of the MacKenzie riding Liberal Association to be held September 20. Those named were Dr. D. McColl, George Kynoch, Mrs. George Colson, Mrs. A.A. French, William Allan, and Mrs. A. Johnston. Alternates named were Harry Batchelor and William Youngson.

Entering school for the first time this year are little Joan Brooks, Elaine Moffat, Carol Laird, Gary Simpson, Barry Mervyn, and Gordie King. We wish them the best of luck.

Teacher, Mrs. Hanney arrived back from Victoria and summer school just in time to prepare her schedules for school opening. A total of 13 in grades 1 to 3 are attending at present.

Au revoir until next year to the Leatherdales, the Leuchtes, the Sid Hoares, the B.L. Pearce family, the J.K. Smith family and the nurses from the Vancouver General Hospital who were staying with Miss Donna Smith.

Returned to town also are the Hartleys, J. McWilliams, and Mrs. McLeod. Mr. and Mrs. Pearce are in town for the weekend but are returning as they are now permanent residents. Mr. William Miller has been recalled to his job in town for a few months. Mrs. Miller is staying on here as her aviary needs constant attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey and Sheila returned to town with the pre-school rush as Mr. Godfrey is a school principal in Vancouver.

We are all glad to hear that Mrs. Bird's badly cut leg is almost healed. Young Walter Nelson didn't stay long at Dawson Creek. Evidently it rains too much up there!

The Halfmoon Bay VON meeting has been put forward from September 9 to September 16 at the home of Mrs. P. Welsh, Redrooffs.

$150,000 has been loaned out by the ROBERTS CREEK CREDIT UNION since 1941.

Hopkins Store Under New Owners

Hopkins Landing store, which has been closed for the past three months, will reopen September 22, with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chippendale behind the counters. The store is being completely remodelled with self-service counters. As business increases they'll be stocking some drugs, hardware and notions—in fact anything that the residents around Hopkins will require.

Mr. and Mrs. Chippendale have come up from Vancouver where Joe was a salesman to take over the Hopkins Landing store. But they aren't entirely newcomers to the area. Mrs. Chippendale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Attfield, have been living in Hopkins for the past five years since they retired. They used to vacation up here a long time before that.

Son, David, is attending Gibsons Elementary School in the sixth grade.

Local Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McDuffee and family, of Vancouver, are spending a few days vacationing at Granthams Landing.

We bid adieu to Bud and Diane Laird who have left Granthams Landing to live in Vancouver where Bud is now working.

There is now a Sunday School in Granthams Landing with Mr. Goodwin as superintendent. The sessions are interdenominational and open to all children who do not go to any other Sunday School or who find the walk to Gibsons too distant for them.

Mrs. Alice Steinbrunner, former old-time resident, now living in Squamish, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. H. Steinbrunner.

Legion Service For Mrs. Prince

Funeral services for Margaret Prince, wife of Charles Prince of Selma Park, was held in St. Hilda's Anglican Church with Rev. Mr. Harbord officiating. A native of Liverpool, Mrs. Prince was an active member of the Sechelt Liberal Association, and standard bearer in the W.A., Canadian Legion. She was given full Legion burial with the office read by Mrs. Alice Batchelor, past president of the W.A., and the traditional poppy was placed on the casket by each member. Pallbearers were Capt. A. Johnston, Branch president, George Batchelor, H. Kydd, J. Burgess, R. Mitchell and W. Perkins. Floral tributes were many.

The deceased is survived by her husband, a daughter in Vancouver, two sisters and one brother.

Always ready to help, Mrs. Prince will be missed by all who knew her, and knew her bright, cheery smile.

Father of Gibsons Woman Dies In East

Allan Ramsay of Winnipeg, father of Mrs. John Coleridge of Gibsons, passed away Tuesday in hospital in Winnipeg. The owner of a trucking line, he had been sick for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Coleridge left the Peninsula about two weeks ago to visit Mrs. Coleridge's ailing father, Mr. Coleridge returned to Gibsons yesterday, his father-in-law passing away while he was enroute home. Mrs. Coleridge is remaining in Winnipeg until after the funeral.

Mrs. Mellish to Address P.T.A.

"The Place of the PTA in the Rural Community" will be the subject discussed by Mrs. C.W. Mellish at the first meeting of the season of the PTA at Roberts Creek, Mrs. Mellish, who is chairman of the educational finance committee of B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, will come up from Vancouver for the meeting which will be held in the Roberts Creek school on Tuesday.

As the Gibsons group will be meeting on Monday, the Gibsons executive is hoping she will be prevailed upon to come a day early and speak to their group as well. At press time no definite arrangement had been made for her to be in Gibsons. The Roberts Creek meeting will hear Mrs. Mellish on Tuesday.

JERVIS EXPRESS SUSPENDS SERVICE

Marine Express Line's sturdy little passenger ship, "Jervis Express", made her last run out of Sechelt on Labor Day. Sechelt agent, Harry Sawyer, reports the ship was well patronized by Sechelters and that the company intends to run an improved service into Sechelt next year.

Wilson Creek Family Tours the West

Mrs. Marjorie Macdonald and family of Wilson Creek returned home early this month after an eight-week trip which took them to California.

Mrs. Macdonald, a widow, felt she wanted a change from the humdrum existance of every day life. So, making a sleeping bag for herself and smaller ones for the four children, she loaded the car, piled the kiddies in, and set out on a tourist-camping trip.

They visited throughout Washington, Oregon, Northern California, and the interior of B.C. before returning home. During their trip they visited Yellowstone park and many other points of interest, sleeping, most nights, out under the stars.

Port Mellon Briefs

By Mrs. Swan

Our congratulations to Don Dunham who came first in the Gibsons Salmon Derby and to Tommy Bentham who took third prize.

After several persons had reported seeing a bear around here, Roy Dick went out to get it last Sunday and brought it in. It weighed 180 pounds.

There were a lot of visitors up for the Labor Day celebration. Mr. and Mrs. O.Jensen, former Mellonites, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lien; Mrs. Davis and Sharon visiting the Arrowsmiths; Mr. Urquhart visited his son and daughter-in-law Jane and Bob. The Wilkes had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Thomson and daughters Bonnie and Beverly. Mr. and Mrs. N. Marleau welcomed Mr. and Mrs. C. Marleau.

Mrs. Oldenburg arrived home the end of last month with the new baby. Mrs. Oldenburg sr., who has been looking after the other children while their mother was away, has returned home to Ocean Falls.

There will be a shortage of baby-sitters in Port Mellon as 14 high school students had to leave to go to school. Twelve went to Gibsons and two to Vancouver. The dozen who are now boarding in Gibsons will be watching the progress of the road with interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilf Gray have gone on a holiday. Mr. Cliff Gray of Gibsons has taken over the store.

Gibsons Briefs

Gibsons Ratepayers last Thursday evening were emphatically of the opinion that the village must not supply water to areas outside the village until the commissioners are sure there is enough water for internal use.

"We are willing to see other areas supplied," a spokesman said, "but not until we are sure of our own supply. At the present time no one has much idea how much water we'll have on tap until the new water system is installed".

A farewell gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyngaert for Mr. and Mrs. Christiansen who are leaving for Edmonton. About thirty members of the Pentecostal Tabernacle, including the meeting of the Young People's group which moved en masse, enjoyed the social time, the luncheon, and wished the Christiansens godsspeed as they presented them with a scripture plaque.

WENDY YATES WINS SECHELT CHURCH RAFFLE

The draw for the talking doll was held in Tasella Shop last Wednesday September 3, and the lucky ticket was drawn by Miss Marguerite Doucett.

The winner was Miss Wendy Yates, daughter of the manager of Sechelt Bowling Alleys. The Altar Society of Holy Family Church extends thanks to all who bought tickets for this raffle which was sponsored by the Ladies of the Altar Society.

Business Hits New Peak This Summer

Business has been better this summer than last summer, according to most merchants on the Peninsula.

One grocery store in Sechelt reported that sales during June and July were up over those of last June and July, despite the IWA strike.

A storekeeper in Gibsons reported that his sales have increased year by year over the past seven years.

"Summer business was much better, in spite of the strike," he said. "If we hadn't had a strike we'd have done very well."

One automotive dealer stated that he sold over twenty cars, new and used, during July, even though the logging camps were closed.

Newcomers in the business circles in both Sechelt and Gibsons have found business better than they had anticipated during their first few months in business.

General concensus of opinions among the merchants on the Peninsula seems to be that we are entering an era of prosperity for the district.

Despite the fact the ferry has had a tendency to bring the Vancouver shopping centre within two hours of Gibsons, more residents appear to be buying at home—where their money will go further. They are finding that some goods are actually more reasonable here than in Vancouver stores.

Progressive businessmen are finding that their increased advertising in the local newspaper is boosting their businesses and volume sales are bringing a greater variety of goods to the stores.

Gower Gleanings

By GYPSY TOWERS

All serene on the waterfront this week. Daring to sneak a quiet week end is Miss Mary Dykes after Pa and Ma's deluge of visitors throughout the summer. Lending a hand to get in the winter fuel.

The J.D. Smith's rolling up the rugs for the Scottish dancers. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Nicholson and Mr. and Mrs. William Bow taking a motor trip up the valley as far as Chilliwack and back over the Lougheed Highway.

The Wilson Johnson's sporting a new fence and additions to the former Faye Winslow cottage. The new mixmaster at the James Beaton's being well tested whipping up all kinds of delectables for their dinner guests' teas and bridge parties.

The Harry Chaster's off on holiday to tour the Island having caught their quota of local springs but not quite making the prize. Congratulations to Bill Swallow for bringing home the bacon!

Mrs. Bill Dawson still far from well but recovering slowly. 'Tis a dash of white on the Jules Mainil's new home on the Pratt Road. The Syd Porteous' preparing to desert Gower for the bright lights of Vancouver for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thorn and the Rev. and Mrs. Oswald in to attend the funeral of Mrs. Harroway, long time friend of both families from White Rock, who passed away suddenly in North Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair, Sr., paying a return visit while son Jimmy and his family occupy their town home while looking for a spot to live.

End of Season Picnic Held

Gibsons Pentecostal Sunday School got down to regular sessions again with increased attendance after having rounded out the vacation season with a picnic at Elphinstone Park on Labor Day. About 75 members of the Sunday School and congregation attended the picnic, including several carloads from Wilson Creek.

Softball, Volley ball, games and races filled the warm afternoon and in the early evening the group moved into the little church at Roberts Creek for a worship service.

Kinsmen Governor Instals Officers

Landon DeLong of Chilliwack, deputy governor of Kinsmen of B.C. was here last week to instal the new executive of the Gibsons Kinsmen club. He remarked, prior to the installation ceremony, that he was going to work towards having more Kinsmen clubs come to visit the Gibsons group.

"You have an unsurpassed ferry trip over here; the meals served here are tops; and the local Kin are most hospitable", he said.

Those installed were Mike Landrey, as president; Jack Marshall as vice-president; George Miller as secretary; Harry Mylroie, treasurer; Don Hauka, registrar. Harry Smith, Laurie Speck and George Hunter were installed as directors, George Hill being absent.

Past-president George Hunter presented a past-president's pin to Immediate Past President Tom Larson.

Reporting on the playground, Laurie Speck said that the swings had been installed and the erection of a picnic table was partly completed. He suggested for next year, the planting of the playground to clover, the erection of a merry-go-round, further installation of tables, and the building of rest rooms.

President Mike Landrey named the following to serve on committees: John Wood and Harry Smith to the finance committee to assist Harry Mylroie; Tom Larson, Laurie Speck and Jack Marshall to entertainment; Reg Godfrey to be sergeant at arms; and John Wood to head the membership committee.

Lawrence Lewis was a visitor from Galgary.

WAKEFIELD VISITORS TO

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Walker Wakefield Inn had as their guests over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gordison of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slater of Arcadia California.

Gravel Crusher To Do Highway Work

According to Tony Gargrave, MLA-elect, a gravel crusher will be brought to the Peninsula this fall. It will be necessary to put a cover of several inches of gravel over the Gibsons-Agamemnon highway before black-topping can be can be laid.

"Batt" MacIntyre, former MLA for the riding, had told the Coast News last April that a gravel crusher would be stationed here this year.

Some progress has been made in preparing the road for gravelling. Two bridges and a bad curve have been taken out in one part of the Roberts Creek area, and another bridge was recently eliminated. Work is now being done on the bridge over Mission Creek at Wilson Creek.

According to Tony, the "million dollar highway" had been promised by the government, but no date was set for its completion.

"It may be completed in 1960", Tony remarked in a letter to the Coast News. No money had been set aside for the work, he said.

An executive member of the MacKenzie Riding Liberal Association, however, has told the Coast News that the former Coalition Government had definitely pledged itself to complete the road as soon as the ferry wharves are ready for the Jervis Inlet ferry.

PINTAIL BAGS 'EM IN ONE HOUR

Pintail, Daily Province, fishing and hunting expert, started out from the Gibsons wharf yesterday morning about nine o'clock to go to his favorite fishing spot, just this side of Gower Point. He was back in Gibsons by 11:15 in order to catch the 11:30 ferry to Vancouver. During that time he caught a nice string of fish.

Canada ranks first in world production of nickel, asbestos and the platinum metals; second in aluminum (from imported ore), zinc, and gold; and third in silver production.

Ratepayers

to explain that the Ratepayers had been against the purchase of the truck, but once it had been purchased, he said, they objected to its sale at a loss. (The council had moved to sell the truck to Eric Inglis for $2800.)

This, in turn, brought up the question of the bi-weekly financial satements which were handed out to the commissioners at each meeting.

"We would like to know where the money is going, and who is getting it." Mr. Hodgson told the commissioners. "For instance," he continued, "if we knew what the truck was costing us to operate it, we could better judge the action of the commission in offering it for sale." He asked that a copy of the bi-weekly financial statement be published in the Coast News.

When Mr. Boucher asked if he meant that the commission should pay to have it published, he said that the Coast News should publish it as a service to its readers.

All this was mixed in with the question of garbage collection; who would pay for the collection; the poor state of the roads; water and pipelines; and the poor job being done of enforcing the parking bylaw.

To which the commissioners asked, intermittently, where the money was to come from.

The commission then got back on the track of business, heard the report of committees, the reading of a bylaw amendment, and discussed delinquent business taxes.

When the commissioners moved adjournment, Ratepayers and Commissioners amicably said their goodbyes, and the commissioners thanked the ratepayers for coming to their meeting.
