Good Citizen award goes to Firemen

Sechelt's Volunteer Fire Brigade was honored Friday evening of last week at a function organized by the village council of Sechelt where the firemen as a body were presented with Sechelt's Good Citizen award.

Chairman Mrs. Christine Johnston of the village council made the presentation during a buffet dinner at Sechelt Inn. Tom Parish, fire chief, accepted the award on behalf of the fire department and thanked the village council for the honor.

The scroll was the work of Carol Moorhouse and was a fine specimen of handicraft work. Mrs. Johnston in making the presentation mentioned the firemen were on the job regardless of the weather. She also complimented the wives of the firemen for their part in making the volunteer fire department as good as it was.

The award read: Corporation of the Village of Sechelt Good Citizen Award, presented to the Volunteer Fire brigade of Sechelt for services rendered to the area. — Sechelt Village Council, signed by Mrs. Christine Johnston, chairman.

Sechelt celebrates May Day Monday

Sechelt on radio

Sechelt is slated to be on CBC Radio Saturday at 7:10 following the news when the program Name That Town will present information about the Sunshine program all the way to New-Coast. This is a coast to coast foundland. Each week a different town is taken for the program. Bill Herbert of the CBC Vancouver staff has been in this area gathering the required information.

No queen for Firemen

Will the volunteer firemen of Gibsons have a queen candidate entered in the July 1 celebration or will they not?

This question was raised at Tuesday night's meeting of the July 1 committee held in Legion hall in Gibsons. It was announced at this first meeting of the committee for this year that the Firemen's organization would not enter a queen. Members of the committee by motion urged the committee to ask the firemen to reconsider the matter.

Don Andow, Legion president was named chairman of the July 1 committee with Mrs. Wynn Stewart as treasurer and Archie Crowe as secretary.

The committee decided on a change in the ballot for the Queen this year. Instead of each ballot having names of all candidates on, each organization sponsoring a candidate would have ballots with the name of its candidate only on them. The committee when forming the various sub-committees suggested that PTA organizations should be drawn into the celebration.

The committee decided to invite Sechelt's May Day queen to take part in the ceremonies at the Gibsons July 1 celebration. Next meeting of the committee will be held May 5 at 8 p.m. in Legion Hall, when all organizations are expected to have their representatives to the July 1 committee named.

Sechelt's 13th annual May Day takes place Monday, May 22 in Hackett Park when Queen Jo Anne Robilliard will be crowned by the retiring Queen Eloise DeLong.

Part of the program will be a street parade with seven prize divisions with first and second prizes. These divisions are commercial, private and organization float entries and for the younger fry there will be bicycle and wagon competitions for the most original and most comical with the same in the walking entries by children.

As for years past North Vancouver Lonsdale Sea Cadet corps will be the Queen's guard of honor. The band will also take part in the parade and other ceremonies.

Master of ceremonies will be Harvey Hubbs. Escort for the queen will be Jack Redman. The queen's attendants will be Gail Braun and Lesley James. Escort for the retiring queen will be Jack Mayne. Her attendants will be Gail Page and Jaye Lynn Braun.

Flower girls will include Lynda Strachan, Glenys McLeod, Kathleen DeKloer and Janice Langley from Davis Day and Margaret Gory, Lygie Martinez, Debra McKissock and Charlotte Bain from Sechelt.

If the day should be rainy the crowning ceremony will be held in the Sechelt Elementary School activity room.

The parade will assemble on the Indian School grounds with judging taking place at 1 p.m. The parade will move off at 1:30 on to Porpoise Bay road and along the main street towards Hackett Park.

Besides the Lonsdale band Elphinstone High School band and marching team will take part. The school band will also take part in other sections of the ceremonies. Sechelt Firemen will be in charge of the parade and control of traffic.

On reaching Hackett Park, Elphinstone band will play while the queens and attendants seat themselves on the dais. Retiring queen Eloise will make her farewell speech before crowning new Queen Jo Anne. The Sea Cadet band will then play God Save the Queen which will be followed by the new queen's greetings. Mrs. W. Berry will distribute gifts to the queens and attendants.

Maypole dancing will be displayed by pupils of Sechelt Elementary school. Then Mrs. Christine Johnston will speak briefly followed by May Queens from Pender Harbour, Egmont and others, if present.

With ceremonies over an entertainment program will have the Lonsdale band playing after which the annual Sechelt trophy will be presented to the outstanding cadet of the Lonsdale corps. Davis Bay and Sechelt schools will follow with a ribbon dance. Elphinstone band and drill team will perform on the grass which will be followed by the presentation of parade prizes by Queen Jo Anne.

A new departure will be the presentation of the Sunset Ceremony before the queen and entourage leaves the dais. This is being presented because so many people were unable to remain as in past years for the ceremony at its proper time.

The Sea Cadets will place a wreath on the Cenotaph at 5 p.m. and during the afternoon there will also be the official opening of the launching ramp on the waterfront end of Ocean Avenue.

The May Queen's banquet will be held at Sechelt Inn at 5:30 p.m. to be followed by the May Queen's Ball from 7 to 9 p.m. with Maurice Hemstreet as master of ceremonies.

Recreation commission supports tennis club

Members of the Gibsons Recreation Commission met in the United Church Hall on Wednesday, May 10. Films in which Bill Tilden demonstrated beginning and advanced tennis were shown by Commission president Eugene Yablonski.

Vince Bracewell extended thanks of the Elphinstone Ski Club for a $50 grant made by the commission to that organization, and stated that the money would be put to the best possible use.

Don Andow, president of Branch 109 of the Canadian Legion, spoke of the Junior Olympic training program sponsored by his organization across Canada. It is hoped, he said, that a first track and field meet might be held at the Elphinstone High School grounds on June 10.

Sam Fladager, replacing Wes Hodgson, represented the Village Commission at the meeting.

The meeting passed a resolution to turn over a special recreation grant received to whatever group sponsors swimming here this summer. The sum of $50 was set aside to assist with maintenance of the tennis courts on the Kinsmen's Playground upon application from an organized club.

Mrs. Lucille Holden agreed to organize such a tennis club with approximately 20 adult and 20 junior members as a start. Mrs. Holden is president, and Mrs. Frances Stewart, secretary-treasurer. W. K. Peterson and Arlene Sharpe are junior executive members.

Playing nights will be Thursdays, 7 to 9 p.m. for adults and juniors, 6 to 8 p.m. Wednesdays and Sundays at Kinsmen Park. Persons desiring to join can phone Mrs. F. Stewart at 886-9697.

More telephones

Latest count of telephones on the Sunshine Coast from Port Mellon to Jervis Inlet reveals there are 2,125. This figure was announced by the B.C. Telephone company with March 31 as being the date of the tabulation.

Six years ago there were 823 through two exchanges, 356 at Sechelt and 467 at Gibsons. Present tally shows 1,058 at Gibsons, 651 at Sechelt, 293 at Pender Harbour and 123 at Port Mellon.

Total number of telephones in the company system increased by 4,485 during the first quarter of 1961 to bring the total to 551,277 at the end of March. The increase was the result of 34,796 connections and 30,311 disconnections.

Average number of business day calls for the quarter was 3,531,000, compared with 3,359,000 for the corresponding period of 1960, and long distance calls totalled 3,975,000, compared with 3,830,000 for the first three months of last year.

George Southwell, dean of B.C. painters and illustrator of B.C.'s history, died at his home in Pender Harbour on the weekend. He was 96.

The funeral took place May 17 with a service at St. Mary's Anglican church, Garden Bay with Rev. Denis Harris officiating. Burial was made in Kleindale cemetery. Harvey Funeral Home were directors.

Famous as a teacher as well as painter, Mr. Southwell painted until about 2½ years ago when he left Vancouver for Pender Harbour.

Raise $100

Approximately $100 was raised by Gibsons Kinsmen club at an auction sale recently and club officials thank all who took part in making possible the gathering of this money for a good purpose.

Proceeds will be used to improve the tennis court at Kinsmen Park and also on the baseball diamond now used by the various boys' leagues now operating on that field.

George Southwell, artist

George Southwell, dean of B.C. painters and illustrator of B.C.'s history, died at his home in Pender Harbour on the weekend. He was 96.

The funeral took place May 17 with a service at St. Mary's Anglican church, Garden Bay with Rev. Denis Harris officiating. Burial was made in Kleindale cemetery. Harvey Funeral Home were directors.

Famous as a teacher as well as painter, Mr. Southwell painted until about 2½ years ago when he left Vancouver for Pender Harbour.

The work of which he was proudest is in the Legislature Building. It consists of eight large murals, depicting the historical development of the province and illustrating the landscape and industries of B.C.

The first set of four murals are in the lower rotunda and the second set, completed when Mr. Southwell was 87, are in the dome.

Mr. Southwell was born in Bilbao in northern Spain and was educated in England.

He came to Canada in 1908 and worked in contracting and real estate before deciding to devote all his time to painting. He had studied painting in Brussels and Paris.

Some of his early landscapes were commissioned by the federal government and hung in the offices of Canadian trade commissioners all over the world.

One of his paintings was presented to the King of Siam (now Thailand) when the king paid a state visit to this country.

He had little appreciation of modern abstract art and believed painting was 90 percent hard work and 10 percent talent.

Mr. Southwell leaves his second wife, Ivy, whom he married when he was 83; three sons, John A., in Roberts Creek; Harry A., in West Vancouver; and C. Ray in North Vancouver; two daughters, Mrs. Lee Randolph, San Jose; and Miss Nora Southwell, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Sechelt helped

Kinsmen and Kinettes of Sechelt also had their part in the May 4 Red Cross Blood Clinic in Legion Hall, Gibsons. The Kinsmen of Sechelt with Niels Hansen looking after the publicity for the Blood Clinic, rounded up quite a number of Sechelt people who journeyed to Gibsons to donate blood.

As a result of the combined effort of Sechelt and Gibsons Kinsmen the clinic was even more successful than Red Cross officials had anticipated.

New light on grade sevens

To clarify last week's story concerning grade seven at schools in this district, a more simple explanation is offered. Following Chant report recommendations, grade seven was taken out of high schools and placed in the Elementary school jurisdiction.

Some parents have wondered what will happen to their children when school starts up in September under the new arrangement. Here is a list of schools where there will be a grade seven:

- Vancouver Bay
- Madeira Park
- Sechelt
- Roberts Creek
- Elphinstone school for Gibsons only.
- Port Mellon
- Bowen Island.

In Gibsons grade seven will remain at the high school for the time being.

Group hears market ideas

G. R. Thorpe, district agriculturist from the B.C. department of agriculture spoke to a group representing the Sechelt Rural-Wilson Creek Ratepayers association, Gibsons and District Ratepayers association and the Howe Sound Farmers Institute at the Selma Park Hall on Wed., May 10.

Mr. Thorpe had been invited to the meeting to answer questions on problems involved and the steps to be taken in the formation of a co-operative or a farmers market to stimulate business in this area.

Mr. Thorpe felt that a farmers market offered great possibilities for this area for a start and gave many valuable suggestions as to how to go about organizing and operating such a venture. He also answered questions as to the best types of small fruits and vegetables suitable to this district.

He advised that the department of agriculture will send qualified persons into an area to give short courses in various subjects. He mentioned livestock, poultry, veterinary, horticulture, apiculture. He suggested that the fall would be the best time for these short courses which last one or two days, depending on the number of subjects to be covered.

A minimum of 12 persons should be prepared to attend the lectures and discussion in any one course. Any person interested in one or more of these short term courses should contact the executive of any one of the three organizations sponsoring this activity.

Big sports day planned by Legion

A Canadian Legion zone athletic meet as part of the Legion's junior-Olympic training plan will be held sometime in July under plans laid down by the provincial command of the British Columbia Canadian Legion.

It was felt by Legion officials that holding trials in Eastern Canada was a waste of money when there were just as good coaches in western areas. This would give many more young people a chance to take part in the events leading to Olympic tryouts.

Winners of the local sports events would reach provincial finals at Empire stadium during August. In this operation the Legion is co-operating with schools which will be holding sports meets too. More details will be given on the plan later.

Don Andow, president of Gibsons Legion branch announces that there will be a sports meet held by the Gibsons Legion under this Olympics scheme. This meet will be held in mid-June on a date and at a place to be announced later.

Sechelt hospital auxiliary meets

The monthly meeting of Sechelt's auxiliary to the hospital was held on Thursday, May 11. Mrs. R. Alan Swan, chairman, gave an interesting report on the meeting of the lower mainland hospital auxiliaries which she attended recently in Vancouver.

A beautiful white bedspread, hand crocheted by Mrs. L. Berner, was displayed and raffle tickets for same are now available. Mrs. Jim Parker donated a stainless steel cutlery set for second prize and third prize is a bone china cup and saucer donated by Chris Variety Store.

The sewing convenor, Mrs. H. Carter and her committee will be busy once again making more curtains for the St. Mary's Hospital, also lined drapes for the nurses' quarters.

Arrangements are being made for a concession stall to be operated by the auxiliary on May Day. Mrs. A. Garry, Mrs. Swan, Kay Nelson, Harriet Newton and Freda Wilson are in charge. Hamburgers, sandwiches, doughnuts, tea, coffee and milk will be sold. The next meeting will be held at St. Hilda's Hall on Thursday, June 8 at 2 p.m.

School sports

At Howe Sound Track Meet in West Vancouver Sat., May 3, Elphinstone High School placed fourth. Six schools took part.

Elphinstone students who participated were Helen Bezdeck, Alice Kinne, Carol Holden, Diane Fiedler, Gail Greggain, Jean Cattanaach, Danny Coates, Albert LaFreniere, Brent Marshall, John Burritt and Bob Bezdeck. Helen Bezdeck was athlete of the day placing first in the 60 yard dash, running broad jump and the discus and third in the high jump and 100 yard dash. She amassed a total of 19 points.

Elphinstone did not field a large team owing to the fact of poor field conditions on Elphinstone grounds for training purposes. However results at the Howe Sound meet were better than expected.

Scientific film

A Moody scientific film will be shown Friday, May 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Gibsons United Church. This film is described as a film of the wonder micro-universe about us, hidden by the vagaries of size.

The pictorial subject matter has been drawn from the never ending panorama of nature. The microscope is the magic key to the snow, treasures beneath the earth, treasures of the desert, treasures of the Sea are shown.

Seek name for church

Gibsons new United Church is seeking a name and members of the congregation have been asked by Rev. David Donaldson and the church board to signify their choice by ballot on the collection plate at next Sunday's service.

Various names have been selected at random for consideration of the congregation but the final choice will be revealed when the ballots are checked after Sunday's service.

The congregation will attend a stone-laying ceremony on June 4 at a morning service at the new church. The building will be dedicated on the next Sunday, June 11, when various church officials from Vancouver will take part in the ceremony. The dedication has been arranged so it can take place while Rev. David Donaldson is minister. He retires at the end of June to be replaced by another minister.

Want to fly?

Elphinstone Aero Club will hold a ground school at the home of Fred Schroeder, West Porpoise Bay, Sechelt, every Thursday night at 7:30 p.m., starting May 25.

This school is arranged so that anyone interested in aviation with a desire to learn flying either now or in the future, can get their elementary training started. Further particulars can be obtained by phoning 886-2057, 885-2143 or 885-2253.

Delinquent shareholders

Sechelt district school board's administration may appear to be one of those things to be taken or left alone, just as you please.

This is one attitude. Another is to recognize the fact we have an institution costing the tax-payers of this area slightly over three-quarters of million dollars a year. The budget the board is working on for this year totals $788,693.

There are 14 schools within its jurisdiction, three of them high schools. Its area can be defined as north from Georgia Strait and west from Howe Sound to Jervis Inlet taking in the villages of Gibsons and Sechelt and contiguous rural territory.

It is a safe bet that where one holds shares in a business or venture involving the spending of three-quarters of a million dollars that the shareholders, who hope to gain from their operation, take a good look at budget angles.

What happens as far as the school board is concerned? The reader knows the answer. Maybe four or five people might show up at an annual meeting. Some eight or nine meetings are held at various parts of the community. Probably 42 people attend annual school board meetings.

Some folks would ask what do the ratepayers as "shareholders" gain or lose by not attending to school board affairs. The answer is not difficult to think out. The school board is no better than an uninterested public deserves.

Sechelt district is fortunate in having a school board which has worked hard during the last few years. It will become even more intense in its operation as the budget grows.

Annual meetings of the school board should draw good-sized crowds showing considerable interest in how their taxes are being spent. But could it be that money comes to hand too easily these days? Why worry? Let George or his wife look after it! Then give George or his wife a piece of your mind for doing something not pleasing to you.

A Russian viewpoint

In the event of a war breaking out between the western world and Russia, the Russian army authorities apparently are not going along with the theory of total annihilation judging from a policy paper written for the Soviet Army newspaper Red Star.

The writer of the policy paper was Col. A.M. Iovlev, candidate member of the Academy of Historical Sciences. He said that war among the big powers would draw in many other states and require all types of mass forces of land, sea and air.

In a rocket-nuclear war, he writes, there would be no distinction between front and rear. Vast numbers would be required to support troops engaged in anti-air, anti-atomic and anti-chemical defence, for the protection of communications and the liquidation of after-effects of the "means of mass destruction."

This is interesting information. Perhaps those people who see the world obliterated when someone in an unknown spot presses one button, will take heart and plan for at least a possible future instead of a definitely impossible one.

Perhaps one could at this point coldly state the net war's mass killing will proportionately equal the difference in mass-killing of the Second World War when compared to that of the First World War. We progress in a cumulative manner as far as mass killing is concerned but we have not yet reached the point where the fate of the world will depend on someone's pressing one button.

Penitentiary -- most attractive place!

(Article 4)

By Eric Thomson

Mr. Thomson, who is on a trip to England continues to describe his passage through the Panama canal.

We left Cristobal, which is the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal, after midnight, and this is written after breakfast while my recollection of the events of yesterday is fresh.

In the early morning we anchored off Balboa, the Pacific entrance to the Canal. There is a kind of marine bullpen where incoming ships anchor to await their turn to enter. It has a frontage of small islands, complete with palm tree and beaches, joined by a roadway, and on shore the background seems to be naval and military accommodation.

The land rises in low hills to the south and on the other side of these is the city of Panama and south of that, the site of the old city of Panama, sacked and destroyed by Sir Henry Morgan and his men, who crossed the isthmus in full armour to do the job. I had always thought that Panama was on the other coast.

Our turn came to enter the canal, and we were under way after breakfast, and were still in the midst of oil docks and naval barracks when a large white tailed bird circled close above us and ascended to join a flock of his cronies floating high above us. These were buzzards.

Next came pelicans, angling across our path between the masts and jack daws and martins perched in the rigging and long-beaked frowzy frigate-birds took the place of our sea gulls as followers. The amount and variety of this bird life was noticeable, even though it was right in the canal.

A few miles from Balboa we entered the first set of twin locks, side by side, named Miraflores. These raise the ship 51 feet in two stages and this is how they work. The ship enters the lock which is 2,000 feet long and the gates close behind her.

On either side, on the quays, is a little railway, with a cogged centre rail, on which run small electric locomotives, powered from a hidden third rail. Four are attached by cables on either side of the ship for pull ahead, brake, and hold back. These nose the ship almost up to the gate ahead, and hold her there while the lock is flooded, raising her to the level of the lock above, and when the water levels and pressures are equal on either side of the upper gates, these open and the cohort of locos haul the ship ahead to the next set of gates where the performance is repeated. Through these, the ship goes under her own steam through a channel about 100 yards wide to the next set of locks called Pedro

Miguel, which raise her 34 feet at one lift. Thereafter the ship threads her way through the Culebra Cut Channel into Gatun Lake, taking most of the afternoon, and comes to Gatun Locks, which consist of three stages, where the performance is reversed, lowering us 85 feet in about an hour and that left us a short run at Atlantic level, to Cristobal, arriving at dinner time.

So much for the framework, now let's go back and detail some of the matters of interest. The countryside consists of low hills, thickly clad with trees strange to us, some of which were in full bloom of yellow and red, mixed in with several kinds of palm trees, but no evergreens. The fore-shore was a wild tangle of trees, brush, pampas grass and creepers and I'd hate to have to clear a 50-foot waterfront lot in that country.

The canal authority, has, for health reasons, cleared miles of canal front, in some places to half a mile back from the canal, right down to the grass roots, mostly by fire, for in one place we saw a good-going bush fire just a hundred yards from us.

There are quite a number of settlements along the canal, on the hillsides for the most part, the houses being open all round and screened, trim and well-groomed, and some of these places, particularly at the locks, are heavily fenced in.

One such settlement, set in lawns and orchards, struck my wife and myself as by long odds the most attractive place to live in on the whole route. Unfortunately, when we could read the name, it was the canal zone penitentiary.

At all the locks and around these various administration areas the grass was cut like a tennis court, and all the concrete walks and railways were free from litter, and we were told that the management used a super-Hoover vacuum on these daily.

We had been told that the heat would be oppressive during the passage of the canal,

What is a Komatik?

The komatik is a wooden sled used by the Eskimo. For Canadian Eskimo it is the only means of transportation during the greater part of the year. The wood is obtained below the tree line or from driftwood. Construction varies according to the conditions of load and land, but all sleds are long and narrow with numerous crosspieces. Most important are the runners, which are slightly curved over their whole length, with an unturn at the front. The steel shoeing is removed as soon as sub-zero temperatures set in. It is replaced by frozen-mud runners which for most travelling conditions are superior to any other type. The komatik is commonly drawn by dogs.

Of interest to the Legionaires on the Peninsula was the 29th annual banquet of the district council at Collingwood Legion Hall, Joyce and Kingsway recently. Over 100 members attended dinner served by ladies of Collingwood branch.

Mrs. C. G. Lucken was official delegate from the Sechelt L.A. She was accompanied by President Ruth Mitchell and the secretary, Alice A. French. A highlight of the entertainment was a song by Mrs. Clark, 80 years old. She refused to use the microphone. She sang an old country comic ballad and got a good round of applause.

couver. Both active in Legion circles and the Selma Park community centre they will be very much missed. Mr. Marsh has been in ill health for some time and felt that the move to Vancouver was necessary.

FIRE HAZARD LOW

General moist weather conditions have kept the early spring fire hazard a low danger level. Of the 15 new fires reported during the week ending May 12; 9 occurred in the Kamloops Forest District; 3 in Prince Rupert; and one in each of the Vancouver, Prince George, and Nelson Districts. Fire hazard remains low in all areas of the Province.

LARGEST BUYER

Scout book sale successful

The 1st Gibsons Scouts thank all the people who donated books and magazines to the successful book sale which took place Saturday afternoon, May 6 at the Shell Station. Also thanks go to the people who bought books which gave the Raven patrol a chance to earn $29.59 which is 75% of the cost for this special patrol to attend the Powell River Camporee on May 12, 13 and 14.

Thelma Volen designed and made the sign "Ye Olde Book Shoppe" which helped the boys sell books.

On April 21, Mario Barendregt second of Eagle patrol in the 1st Gibsons Troop, received his interpreter's badge while on April 28, Ricky Wray, second of the Night Hawk patrol, received his second class badge.

Also on April 28, Mr. C. McMahon gave an informative talk and demonstration on the handling of different types of fire extinguishers as well as the prevention of fires.

On the same Friday evening Cpl. Ruggles of the RCMP explained to the scouts how to make and obtain some very useful and necessary equipment for scouting. The boys were interested in both fire prevention and the making of equipment.

The patrol competition winding up the end of April was won for the second time by the Falcon patrol, which has earned them a special weekend in Garibaldi Park later this year.

One half of the area of Canada is wooded and is suited only to the growth of trees.

and baggage car in the middle instead of at the front, and judged from that there might be some distinction of class or color in front of and behind it.

The traffic both ways in the canal is heavy and varied as to types and flags making it really a marine cross roads. We passed several dozen ships, from small yacht-like Norwegian refrigerator ships to square built, utility only U.S. ore-carriers.

We caught up with a ship of our own type, "Port Invercargill," from New Zealand, at Pedro Miguel. We couldn't get off our ship, they couldn't get off theirs, but we heard their crew hailing ours across the dock, asking if we had a guitar. I know the answer to that one.

When the tropical night has fallen, the boys collect on the deck-load of lumber, aft, and drink canned beer, to the accompaniment of a radio player on which the boys set tape recordings of South American dance music, interspersed with male song worse by far than anything our lady torch singers can deliver.

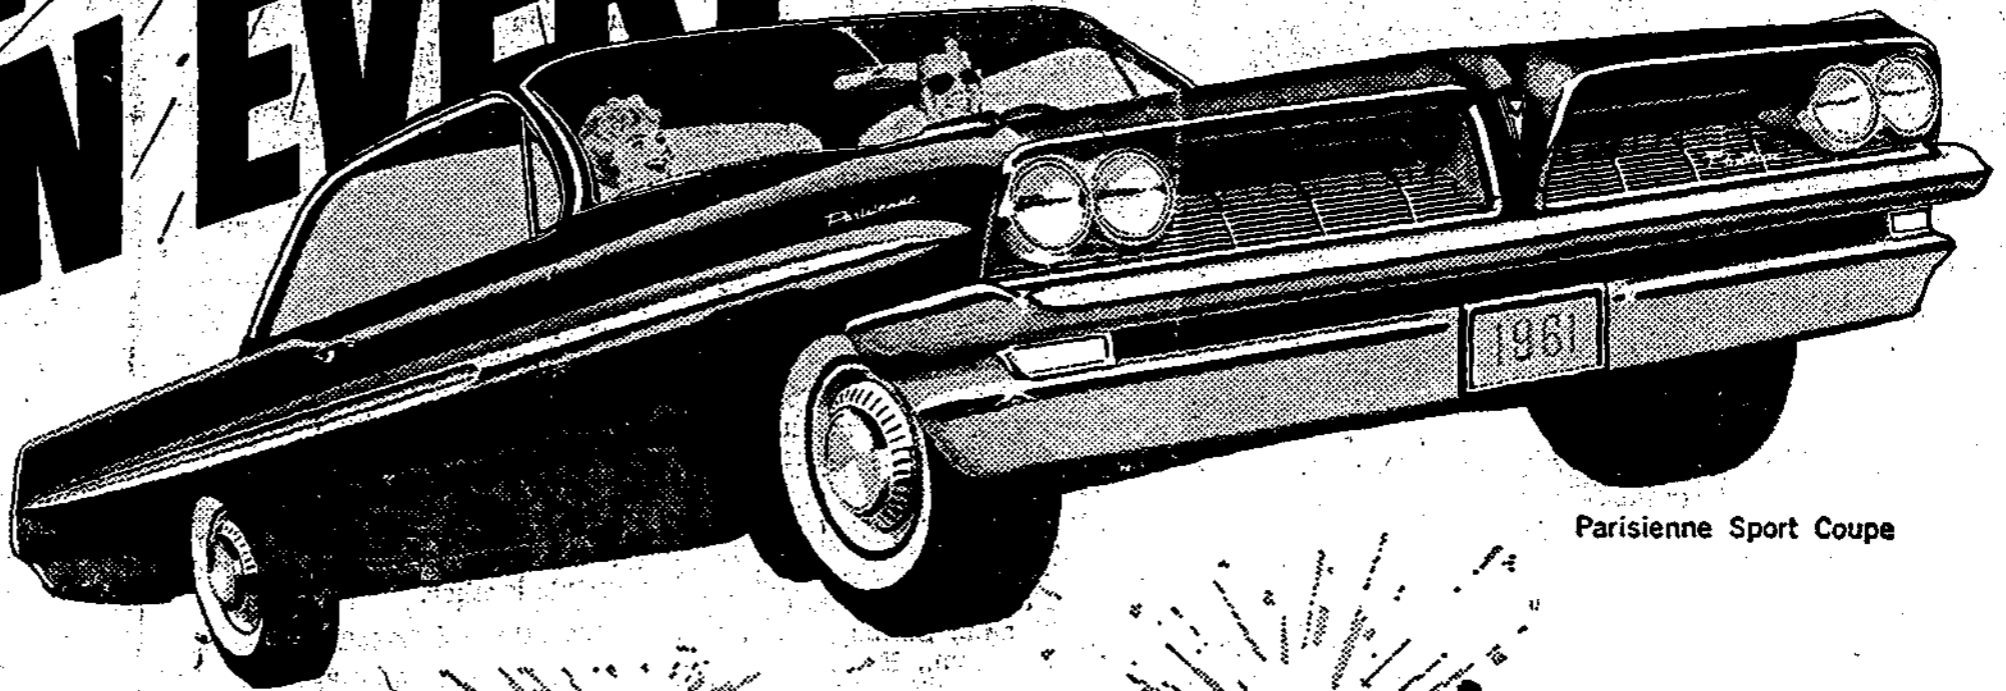

Our ship took on oil and water at Cristobal and I watched with interest the dockmen connecting up the sections of pipe from the dock to the ship's intake and came to the conclusion that we worked faster under Tom Fyles on the Hopkins waterworks.

It takes time to realize the enormous extent of the Panama canal, and of the variety of activity it involves, water, power, forestry, maintenance and defence and how smoothly and efficiently everything works out.

Some distance east of Pedro Miguel locks the canal is being widened by some 40 feet, the work being done on the north bank. This consists of drilling a row of holes in the soft rock at right angles to the present bank back to where the new bank will be, loading them powerfully and setting off the blast. When a number of these rows have been fired the debris is removed by bulldozers and trucks. One such blast went off about 500 yards ahead of us and the debris was falling almost to the time we got there. We got the dust and the fumes and it sounded and looked like an ammunition dump going up.

hall expands

Members at Roberts Creek Legion meeting May 13 were surprised to see the hall twice its original size. Praises went out to all of those who helped in the building and to those of the auxiliary who provided cakes for their tea.

Ways and means were discussed in how to raise moneys for the building fund. Official opening is on May 27 at 8 p.m. All members are asked to contact Mrs. Thyer, if she does not contact them, in regards to sandwiches for the night.

A birthday party will be held June 17 at 8 p.m. There are hopes of more local rentals. Mrs. Thyer is booking agent. There will be a tea held at Cummins on July 22. Mrs. Thyer has charge of tickets

Natural History

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

Twenty-three members of the Vancouver Natural History Society spent Sunday in the Gibsons Gower Point area. They were interested to tour Mr. Charman's garden and looked with envy at his early vegetables and flowers.

It was not a good day for birds but between 40 and 50 different species of flowering plants and shrubs were noted in blossom. A young engineer from New Zealand welcomed the opportunity to learn about British Columbia's trees.

Picnic lunches were eaten in the West's garden, the younger members returning along the beach. Several of the party stayed too long on Gospel Rock enjoying the view and almost missed the bus, in fact one gentleman was so busy taking photographs that he had to be rushed to Langdale to catch the ferry.

Glad Tidings men at camp

Led by Pastor R. F. Norris, Gibsons and Pastor Reg Lazell of Vancouver, 29 young men from Glad Tidings Tabernacle, Vancouver and branch churches in Abbotsford, Langley, Whalley and Gibsons went on a three day camping trip.

Arriving at Glad Tidings, Gibsons, a lively service was led by the young men. A delicious hot dinner followed. They journeyed by car to Porpoise Bay where they boarded the water taxi and travelled 12 miles up to Salmon Arm.

They hiked in the daytime and every night testimonies and singing around the camp fire. Clams were dug and delicious chowder was made on the spot and enjoyed by all.

Arriving back the same way a hot meal awaited the young men in Gibsons. Another lively service was enjoyed after which everyone journeyed home with many happy memories.

BALLET EXAMS
Thirteen children from the Gibsons area will take part in the Royal Academy Examinations to be held on May 27, at the Legion Hall. Miss Pauline Dibbs of England will be conducting the examinations.

Halfmoon Bay
By PAT WELSH
Halfmoon Bay Improvement Association Ladies auxiliary held another successful tea on May 13. Rutherford hall was crowded with eager shoppers who purchased children's wear, aprons, and novelties. Bedding and potted plants were also in great demand. Home baking tables were loaded with prettily iced cakes for Mother's Day, and bread, buns and cookies soon vanished.

Tea was served at small tables each with its vase of mauve lilacs and tired shoppers enjoyed tea, sandwiches, cakes, etc., and chatted with old friends. The children were not forgotten and the fish-pond was their rendezvous.

In charge of sewing, Mrs. R. Schutz, Mrs. Ed Edmunds and Mrs. T. Mosier; plants, Mrs. G. Jorgensen and Mrs. J. Allen; home baking, Mrs. Bev Robinson and Mrs. G. Nygard; fishpond and tickets, Mrs. M. Tinkley; tea, Mrs. Q. Burrows and Mrs. G. Rutherford; servers were Mrs. P. Dolye, Mrs. M. Foley and Mrs. E. Brooks. A beautiful ping dogwood tree was presented to Mr. and Mrs. A. Rutherford by Mrs. P. Doyle, president, on behalf of members of the auxiliary in recognition of their many kindnesses in the use of their home and hall.

Mrs. Bulloch and son of Dawson Creek visited Mrs. I. Haney this week, returning home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. M. Hanley of Deep Cove weekendend with his mother.

This week's RECIPE

Halibut Isle Royale

2 pounds fresh halibut steaks
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
Few grains cayenne
Juice of 1 lemon
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Green pepper strips (optional)

If steaks are large, cut them into serving-size portions. Place in a single layer in a shallow dish. Combine salt, paprika, cayenne, and lemon juice. Pour this mixture over steaks. Marinate in refrigerator for 1 hour, turning at half time to permit seasoning to penetrate both sides. Cook onion in butter until limp but not browned. Place marinated steaks in a shallow, greased baking dish and spread with onion. If desired, garnish each portion with several thin strips of green pepper. Spoon remaining butter from frying pan over steaks. Bake in a hot oven at 450 degrees F. until flesh will easily separate into flakes on testing with a fork. Allow about 10 minutes cooking time per inch thickness of the steaks. Serve piping hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Tender baking powder biscuit dough encases chopped apples to make this tempting dessert that cooks in a sweet sauce.

Dough

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Syrup

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
Boil together 5 minutes
2 cups chopped apples

Sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out on floured board in rectangle about ½-inch thick. Spread 2 cups chopped apples over dough and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut into 1-inch pieces and place cut-side down in buttered pan. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Pour hot syrup over slices. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F., for 45 minutes, or until done.

Chocolate Rice Pudding

(makes 6 servings)

½ cup dehydrated precooked rice
¼ cup butter
2 cups milk
2 eggs
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ cup cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla whipped cream, optional
Preheat oven to 325 degrees

F. (rather slow). Cook rice according to package directions; mix in butter while rice is still hot. Scald milk. Beat eggs slightly; beat in sugar, cocoa, salt and vanilla. Gradually stir in scalded milk. Stir in cooked rice. Turn into a 1½-quart casserole. Oven-poach in preheated oven until a silver knife inserted in centre will come out clean — about 1 hour. Serve warm with sweetened whipped cream and a sprinkle of pecans, if desired.

LOT OF WOOD

Now many people realize that an area of typical forest soil the size of a 50-foot city lot will grow 1,300 pounds of wood per year, if it is fully stocked with young fir timber. In an old growth forest, on the other hand, growth and decay generally are in balance, so that there is no net growth.

PUPPETS ARE FUN!

If you have been wondering about a new vacation activity for your children, have you considered the possibilities in play with puppets? School age youngsters can find this fascinating. Puppet means "doll" and puppets can be very simple or quite elaborate. Part of the fun is when a boy or girl makes his own puppet, and then learns to move it and speak its lines.

A child is helped in his emotional growth by being able to identify himself with a puppet. His puppet can be made to do things which he would hesitate to do for fear of ridicule or failure. The shy, the anxious or frightened child makes his puppet overcome obstacles, and indirectly he re-enforces his own courage.

For a very young child, simple fingerette puppets may be made to fit onto the first and second fingers. A tiny tot loves to do finger plays of Nursery Rhymes. A more ambitious puppet is a little upright doll which becomes a finger puppet when it is fastened at the back with an elastic band to the first two fingers of the hand. The doll's front appears to the audience. The band at the back is kept out of sight. A child can cause a finger puppet to run and walk and jump. To make the puppet's appearance more life-like, the arms and legs are usually fastened to the body loosely with a string.

A puppet figure is not large usually a foot or smaller. Sometimes a puppet figure is placed on a stick, and it is moved by a child below the level of the stage. This is the easiest way for younger school age children to manipulate puppets. The adolescent likes the challenge of marionettes, operated by hidden directors who work the strings attached to a puppet board and to as many places on the puppet as desired, the head, elbows, knees and hands and feet and back of the puppet.

The head of a hand puppet may be a piece of cloth, or a ball or a small paper bag, a piece of crepe paper, or even a potato with a face marked on it. A puppet can be clothed in a scrap of cloth or have a little coat and hat or a dress and bonnet. The child uses his fingers as the arms and hands of the puppet.

The older boy or girl who likes handcraft will take pride in moulding a puppet's head from papier-mache, (strips of damp newspaper pulp mixed with wallpaper past.) around a central cardboard cylinder. When dry this can be modeled using a kitchen paring knife as a tool. A slow oven will hasten the drying out process.

White undercoat paint mixed with crimson oil paint produces a satisfactory flesh tint. Hair can be glued on or painted on the head.

A puppet stage may be made from a large box with the front and top (or bottom if necessary) cut away. The operators or children who move the puppet are hidden behind a screen or curtain. Often they sit or kneel on a chair. A piece of cloth is thrown over the back of the chair to conceal the operator.

Each puppet's voice should be different and the boy or girl who makes a puppet naturally wants to be the operator. A child should be encouraged during a rehearsal to put expression into the speeches but also to speak clearly and distinctly. An informal play where the children choose to have their puppets take the parts of well-known story-book characters, and where they make up the speeches themselves is most satisfactory.

Puppets are Fun! Do give them a chance to prove their worth!

Small cannon
one man's hobby

According to Ron Hughes sr., of Roberts Creek, man's mind and thoughts turn back to stable tried and true, solid products of a bygone romantic age when he searches for a hobby.

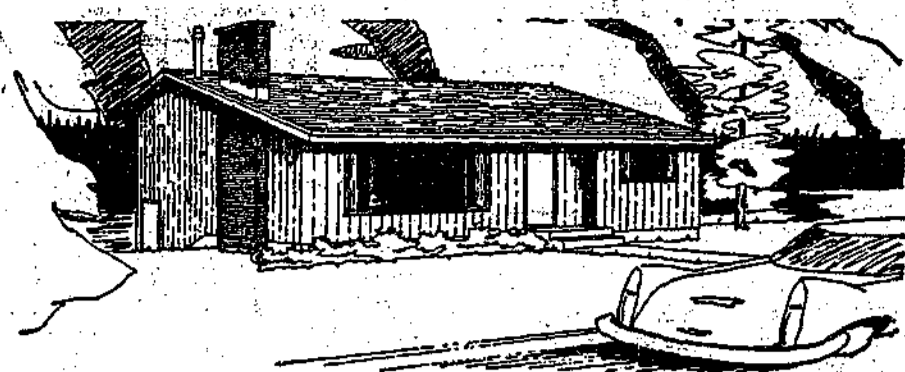

His hobby is miniature cannons. On a home made lathe and with cutting tools made from old files, using scrap bits and pieces of brass, he fashions six-inch, beautifully made and polished cannons, replicas of the old muzzle loading carronades used on wooden battleships since seen, as many as 125, protruding from their sides.

While the method of firing the tiny cannons is the same as the larger ones, the materials used differ somewhat. Mr. Hughes used a dab of gunpowder and a cigarette, but the explosion certainly carries authority.

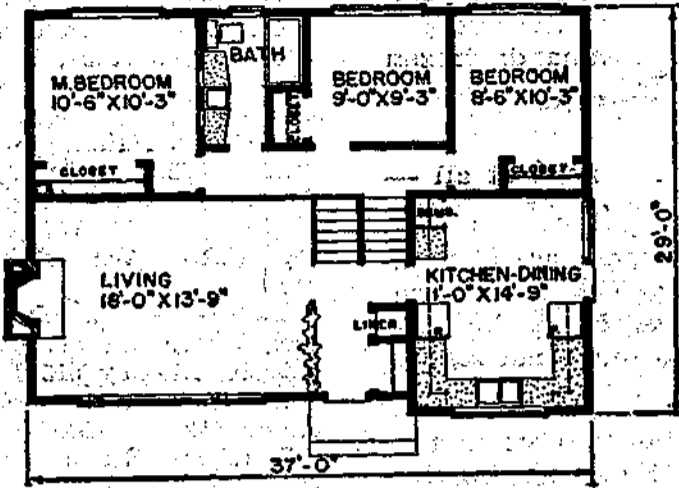

Several mantel pieces are enhanced by the dull gleam of these clever ornaments, as their maker toils over his lathe each day.

Newly elected officers for the C.W.L. of the Most Pure Heart of Mary Parish of Gibsons are Mrs. Mary MacKay, president, Joan Quarry, secretary; J. Gauvin, treasurer; Mrs. M. Dave, vice-president and Mrs. Turk, second vice-president.

PLAN NO.: R68-1036 THE BUILDING CENTRE (B.C.) LTD.
AREA: 1036.0 SQ. FT. PLAN SERVICE VANCOUVER, B.C.

For the home builder who would like a split level, but not too big, and also not too wide because the lot won't take it, we have designed this back to front split with the living dining and kitchen on the front and the bedrooms at the back, over the half basement with the future recreation room, laundry room, furnace room, etc. This is particularly good for a lot that slopes to the rear, and although the square footage is not too large, this is a big house in that there is no wasted space. It is ideal for the young family and the small lot. Carport could be used on the kitchen side of the house if your lot is wide enough to take it. Designed for N.H.A. approval, working drawings are available from the Building Centre, 116 E. Broadway, Vancouver 10. Send 25c to cover cost of mailing our new plan book, Select Home Designs.

MILADY VOTES FOR INDEPENDENT ACTION

The ladies, bless 'em, have improved their lot a good deal since the days of the kitchen woodstove. Now bright, white appliances stand ready for their command; frozen foods are in the freezer; and little cans of pre-cooked goodies line the shelves.

Makes you wonder why they need a stove at all — a can-opener and a few candles to heat them might do fine!

Actually, all these kitchen improvements are a good thing. With fewer chores at the stove, milady has much more time to enjoy life, and who can blame her for taking advantage of progress? A wife should have independence; it makes for happiness all round.

Nowadays, if the modern wife wants to visit in the next city, she goes; if she feels a new hat coming on, she buys it without reference to the Master for every penny she wants to spend. That's financial independence. A wife likes to feel she hasn't lost all her independence to become "just a housewife."

You know, it's surprising how quickly this 'independent' feeling grows when she has her own Bank of Montreal savings account. She deposits small amounts regularly, and when she wants ready cash for a new hat or a pair of shoes, it's there at the B of M, with interest.

Why not visit the Gibsons branch of the B of M soon? The accountant, Bryan Christensen, will be glad to show you how easy it is — and how profitable, to open a B of M savings account.

LETTERS to editor

Editor: I would be grateful if you would print this so the mothers and fathers of the children who play on the boulevard in front of our house will see it.

As most of you know Gibsons has a playground for the children. Why must they play on our boulevard?

I work hours mowing, cleaning and planting our bank so it will be a place the village can be proud of, only to have anywhere from 10 to 15 children make a mess of it and yesterday I came home to find they had used my bank for a slide and deliberately pulled up some of the plants. If any of the mothers and fathers would like to help me mow the boulevard they are welcome. Otherwise, how about teaching their children not to be destructive.

I take pride in my place but I am getting awfully discouraged, Mr. Editor, wouldn't you.
