Parking problem argued at Sechelt

When a proposed commercial building plan came before Sechelt village council at its meeting, Wed., May 2, a long argument ensued with the feeling by some council members the required off-street parking facilities under the bylaw were such that they restricted new building in Sechelt.

The building bylaw covering this problem, some members of council thought, required too much land for off-street parking for the size of the premises anyone wanted to build.

If a landowner desired to build a 50 x 50 foot floor space building, the landowner would be required to have available either on the lot or within 1,000 feet, 280 feet of parking space for every 100 square feet of space in the building. A 50 x 50 building would have 2,500 square feet. This would mean that the parking area called for under the bylaw would involve space for 25 cars, or 7,000 square feet of parking space.

Councillors, after lengthy discussion, decided to arrange sessions where they could explore the problem more thoroughly before any decision would be made.

Councillor Frank Parker reported he was getting good cooperation from willing helpers among tennis fans, the firemen, the Rod and Gun club and Kinsmen in the cleaning up of the beach at the launching ramp.

Final reading was given the bylaw to add penalties on overdue taxes with 5 percent added at Sept. 30 and another 5 percent added at Nov. 15. Street signs which had been previously ordered are expected to be in position in time for the May Day parade, Monday, May 21.

Councils set mill rates

Tax rates for Gibsons and Sechelt villages have been set by municipal councils in both places. In both cases there is a fractional school tax reduction with the addition of a 0.30 mill tax for Hospital Improvement District expenses. This 0.30 mill in each case represents something like $300 or $400 for a year's expenses for the H.I.D.

Here is the combined mill rate taking in the municipal, school board and requirements for the Hospital Improvement District:

	Gibsons	Sechelt
Municipal	10.20	10.00
School Bd.	20.85	20.85
H.I.D.	0.30	0.30
	31.35	31.15

Taxation in Sechelt is based on 100 percent for property and 75 percent of improvements. In Gibsons it is 100 percent on property and 50 percent on improvements. If Gibsons were to assess on the same basis as Sechelt the mill rate would be at approximately eight mills instead of 10.

Last year's school rate was 21.33. The Gibsons mill rate was 11.5 and Sechelt 10. This year Gibsons rate has come down 1.3 mills while Sechelt's remains the same.

May Day for Pender Harbor

Pender Harbour's May Day will be held May 21, in Madeira Park Elementary School grounds. The committee is planning a parade to commence at 12:30, then games and sports, a junior dance from 7 to 9 p.m., and an adult dance from 10 to 1 a.m. Coffee and hot dogs will be sold on the grounds after 1 p.m.

Attendants this year are Claire Donley, Madeira Park; Kathy McKay, Madeira Park; Faye Girard, Sinclair Bay and Judy Nygard, Halfmoon Bay. The queen is to be Cheryl Clay, Madeira Park. The retiring queen, Brenda Lee, Irvines Landing.

Flower girls will be Cindy Goodrup, Garden Bay; Lynn Rae Madeira Park; Joyce Nicholson, Sinclair Bay; Jill Fincham, Madeira Park; Louise Rutherford, Halfmoon Bay; Nancy Wiley, Madeira Park; pags boy, Gordie Kammerle, Irvines Landing.

Power cables laid to Gambier

Two 12,000 volt submarine power cables will be placed in Thornborough channel between Gambier Island and the Sunshine Coast area Wednesday as part of a program to provide electric service to Gambier Islanders by early July.

B.C. Hydro and Power Authority spokesmen said Peterson Electric Construction Co. Ltd. will install 7,200 feet long cables in the channel to link with the power system at Langdale.

The submarine circuit will terminate at Avalon Bay on Gambier Island to hook up with a 6.5 mile distribution system covering West Bay, Gambier Harbour, Avalon Bay and New Brighton areas. Hume and Rumble are constructing the land power system.

STORY HOUR TO END

The Saturday morning story hour in Gibsons Library will close for the summer after Saturday, May 26, to remain closed until Oct. 6.

A LETTER From Pender Harbor

Editor: In your issue of May 3 — in both your editorial and your front page item — you refer to the Pender Harbour Hospital Committee as "Hospital Opponents."

Let me say once more — the Hospital Committee is not opposed to the proposed new hospital — its whole purpose and aim is to keep St. Mary's Hospital open.

By ignoring this purpose you can only hurt the cause of better hospitalization in the district as it gives the impression that the people of Pender Harbour are opposed to their neighbors obtaining hospital facilities closer to them. This is not true and your reporting could lead to bad feeling between areas, which would cause difficulties over future mutual problems, which would hurt all residents.

I know your paper is interested in the whole Sunshine Coast and its future — but perhaps your reporting on this whole hospital question would be more helpful if it was more sympathetic to the aims of the group of sincere hard working people who, having supported and improved their hospital for some 30 years, have no intention of seeing it closed.

You would perform a real service to all your readers if you were to report the stand of the people who elected the Pender Harbour Hospital Committee, and their reasons for wishing to keep St. Mary's open.

If you did this your readers would be able to see both sides of this question, and make up their own minds.

A. A. Lloyd.

Editor's Note: An editorial on page 2 on the committee's attitude was written Sunday. This letter was received Tuesday.

Public meeting to discuss garbage

At a recent meeting of the Farmers' Institute in Gibsons, Barrie Macdonald, health inspector for the area spoke on the subject of garbage disposal. As a result the meeting decided to call a general meeting for Wed., May 30 at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Parish hall at North Rd. and Sechelt Highway.

The meeting was called in order to get the opinions of people living in the area from Hopkins Landing to Roberts Creek and anyone can attend the May 30 meeting in the Parish Hall. Various organizations have received letters on the subject of garbage as follows:

At our March 23 meeting the matter of indiscriminate garbage disposal was presented for discussion.

It is quite an accepted fact today that garbage is disposed of seemingly anywhere in this district. At the entrance to almost any trail, logging truck road, over embankments along government road, or even just over the ditch, along the highway, one notices where empty cans, et cetera have been dumped.

As a Farmers' Institute, in presenting this complaint for your perusal, we think not only of the local farmer, but also of anyone who, whether a member of this organization or not, but who like the farmer resides in a large parcel of land, in either case, there is no apparent appreciation of garbage being dumped alongside, or on this property. It is not by any means an appreciable sight.

There are times when one hears a motor-vehicle come to a stop some distance from one's house, but still alongside the person's property; a moment later a clattering sound rings out. On investigation one finds that garbage, composed principally of cans has again been dumped. The vehicle has moved on, the driver unknown.

We as an institute unanimously protest this disgraceful behavior on the part of certain residents within this district. Anyone committing such an offense is fully aware of his guilt, otherwise he should not have to hurry away. Such a one is certainly not possessed with any respect for his fellow citizen. This same offender would likely be the first to protest should he suffer the same treatment in front of his property.

It appears apparent, that in consideration of the rapidly growing population throughout this area, we are desperately in need of legal rural disposal grounds. With this thought in mind we appeal to you to exercise your initiative in appealing to our government to give this matter their attention in the immediate future. As citizens of the rural area of Gibsons and district we both deplore and resent the continuance of indiscriminate garbage disposal.

We trust therefore that this matter will receive your earnest and immediate attention. (Mrs.) M. Lefebvre, secretary-treasurer, Howe Sound Farmers' Institute.

Party tours area for information

Two familiarization tours of B.C. tourist spots were undertaken last weekend by information people in the industry. One visited the Sunshine Coast and the other Vancouver Island.

Arranged by the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System, local tourist associations were hosts to the groups. Included in the Sunshine Coast tour of three days were eight B.C. Ferries tourist counsellors; travel bureau personnel of oil companies; provincial government; tourist associations from Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle; and chambers of commerce operating information centres at Nanaimo, Brenton and Olympia.

The Sunshine Coast tour started at Langdale before noon on Saturday. The party lunched at Pender Harbour Hotel as guests of Pender Harbour Chamber of Commerce and had dinner at Powell River as Board of Trade guests. Sunday on returning the party had a coffee break at the Peninsula Hotel as Sunshine Coast Tourist Association guests about 3 p.m.

90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Anna Hjorthoy of Gibsons celebrated her 90th birthday, Sunday, April 29 when friends dropped in to help celebrate. Twelve sat down to dinner and many others called earlier in the day. There were three birthday cakes. Mrs. Hjorthoy before moving to Gibsons lived on Gambier Island for 50 years. She has lived in Gibsons for some five or six years.

45th ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. George Mortimer, known by hundreds as "Mom" Navy Mother, and Mr. Mortimer, will celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary on May 9. Married in St. Mary's Cathedral in Calgary in 1917, the couple came to make their home at Roberts Creek in 1953. They have three married children, none of whom are able to join them for the occasion.

2-3rd yes vote gets hospital

It has now been announced in the returning officer's proclamation that the date of the hospital plebiscite is Friday, May 25. At this time local landowners will be asked the following question:

"Are you in favor of the trustees selling debentures in an amount necessary to net a sum not exceeding $327,767 over a period of 20 years, for the purpose of improving hospital facilities in the district, including the construction of a new hospital near the village of Sechelt."

If two-thirds of the votes cast are in the affirmative, the last major step to obtaining modern hospital facilities will have been taken. Approval to obtain the necessary funds will mean that final plans will be prepared by the architects to permit construction to start, it is hoped, before the end of the year.

Hospital officials are now holding public meetings in the various communities to describe the issues at stake in the coming plebiscite. All landowners are urged to attend to learn the facts about the construction of the new hospital.

In addition a brochure is now being readied for mailing to all landowners. This brochure gives answers to questions which will be foremost in each landowners mind.

Some of the questions and answers are listed below:

Q. How much money will be needed to build and equip the new hospital? A. It is estimated that the total cost will be $886,330, plus a financing charge on the money borrowed by the community.

Q. What is included in this $886,330. A. In general, the cost of constructing and equipping a new 35-bed fire-resistant hospital; a nurses' residence and a sum to cover initial operating expenses.

Q. Must the full amount of $886,330 be raised by the community? A. Definitely not. Both the federal and provincial governments contribute.

Q. How much money will the ratepayers be required to raise? A. The difference between the total cost of $886,330 and the amounts contributed by the two governments, which is $372,767.

Q. In this area, how much will one mill raise? A. Approximately $29,340 per year, based on the 1962 taxable assessment for the area of approximately $20,340,000.

To raise the required annual payment for the foregoing estimated cost, what Hospital Improvement District mill rate will be required? A. It is estimated that the H.I.D. mill rate will not exceed two mills.

Cloud of smoke

For the Sechelt Volunteer Fire Brigade April went out in a cloud of smoke. At 5:15 p.m. on April 30 an alarm was turned in from the home of Basil Joe on the Indian Reserve. The fire had apparently started among some fish nets hanging in the basement.

On account of dense smoke great difficulty was encountered in fighting the fire. The loss due to smoke and water damage was considerable. This brings the total number of fires this year to 12 or one less than the total for the whole of 1961.

Recital!

On Friday at 8 p.m. in Elphinstone High School auditorium, one of the year's music treats will take place when the annual Betty Allen piano recital will take place.

Taking part in the program also will be first class honor students of the B.C. Music Festival including others who took part in the same festival.

Last year's Betty Allen recital was the finest music event of the year by local people.

The numbers Betty Allen will play will be Debussy's Jardins Sous La Pluie, Cathedrale Engloutie and Rachmaninoff's Prelude No. 2.

Property re-zoned

A public hearing for re-zoning the Wineyard property at School Rd. and the highway was held Wednesday night, last week and as there were no protests, council granted the request by the Home Oil Company to zone the property for commercial purposes. It was zoned as residential.

At Tuesday night's meeting, accounts totalling $797.68 were scrutinized and ordered paid, with $412.32 for winter works, $193 for roads, $117.31 general and $75.05 for fire protection.

Work will start on the fill for the recently walled area on Marine Drive Thursday morning. About one-third will be filled to start with.

Drive still on

The Boy Scout drive in Mt. Elphinstone district is not yet complete and further contributions can be sent to Scout headquarters in Gibsons or left at any bank. Total collected to date is $405.10.

One point noted by officials of the movement here is that the response by parents, of youngsters in the Scout movement and who are benefitting thereby, is not as promising as it should be. The money collected is earmarked for improvement of the Scout camp at Roberts Creek.

Instructors to be trained

The Canadian Red Cross Society has tentatively programmed a swimming instructor course for the Sunshine Coast. Duration of the course will be from July 16 to July 21 at some satisfactory point, not yet determined, but likely between Roberts Creek and Sechelt.

Candidates must be able to pass, on the first day of the course, the requirements of the tificate, or its equivalent. Successful graduates 16 and 17 years of age, will be qualified to serve as assistant instructors, graduates 18 years and over will be qualified to instruct in swimming and water safety.

Any persons 16 years old or over, who believe that they can qualify for this course, and who would like to enroll in it, should contact their local Recreation Commission. As the class will likely be restricted to 20 candidates, names of potential candidates should be submitted as early as possible.

Flower girls are selected

Flower girls who will accompany Queen Sandra Clark in Sechelt's May Day ceremonies, Monday, May 21, have been chosen. Susanne Jorgenson, Kathie Currie, Margaret Gory and Diane Dooley will come from Sechelt Elementary School; Anita Zral, Betty Humphrey, Cindy Nygren and Kathy DeKleer from Davis Bay school with David Taylor of Sechelt being the gift bearer.

Lonsdale Sea Cadets and band will attend this year's function and as they have done in the past will include their Sunset ceremony. The day's big parade will be managed by Board of Trade members.

At Hackett Park where the parade ends and ceremonies start Pohn Hayes assisted by members of the fire department will take charge. An attraction during the afternoon will be a trampoline exhibition arranged by Frank Zantolas of Port Mellon.

Entry forms for the parade can be obtained at most Sechelt stores and turned in at Cozy Court Motel or the Village Bakery. At the park there will be refreshment booths operated by the Sechelt Hospital auxiliary and the Ratepayers' association.

The butter subsidy

Details of the federal government's support plan for the dairy year starting May 1 reveals that the Agricultural Stabilization board has arranged with the trade to buy at 64 cents a pound all the creamery butter manufactured and to resell it at 52 cents a pound to the manufacturer. The board will continue to pay a stabilization payment of 25 cents per hundredweight for milk delivered by producers for manufacturing purposes. Surplus milk from producers delivered to the fluid milk trade will be excluded.

According to a federal government reference paper on Canada's dairy industry what is happening is that consumer resistance to the price of butter is restricting sales while at the same time, butter production is surging upwards, resulting in 65 million pounds becoming surplus for domestic use. It is also too high-priced to compete on the export market.

This situation was caused by favorable pasture weather in the east and a 2.3 percent increase in the size of the Canadian dairy herds, creating a 760 million pound increase in the quantity of milk produced compared with 1960. The reference paper also says it is significant the outlook for the first half of 1962 is for a further increase in milk production.

This story is similar to what happened in the hog market some two or three years ago when a surplus in canned pork was distributed free of charge to pensioners and welfare cases. Is a subsidy on hogs or butter the answer?

The government reference paper reports there is a world wide surplus of butterfat and adds that some big dairy producing countries have introduced measures to move their butterfat into consumption by putting penalties on excess milk production, compulsory return of some dairy products to farms for their own use and in increase in the fat content of milk for fluid consumption. Then it adds it would seem evident the dairy industry of Canada cannot count on a rising population to solve its production problems.

This 12 cent subsidy on butter means that margarine users and butter eaters will be paying this 12 cents through ordinary taxation which the government collects then redistributes, in subsidies and wherever else it decides to spend your money.

The comment which follows appeared in the April issue of The Printed Word:

The appallingly large surplus of butter in storage is due to the fact that the floor price encourages production regardless of consumer demand. Consumers in great numbers are mean enough or so frugal that they buy margarine that looks like lard but tastes like butter at a price that saves money for the consumer. On bargain days this saving can be as much as 50 cents a pound.

Who can blame the housewife who thinks she must skimp? There are rumors that even dairy farmers in New York state (but not in Canada, of course) serve margarine on their own tables because they cannot afford to consume a price-supported product.

An urban resident who dislikes the very thought of producing his own food may agree that a farmer should be well paid for meeting the needs and wishes of consumers in town and country. But a steady increase in the surplus of a food product is proof that the concomitant price support is excessive. How can the farmers and politicians get price and demand in proper relationship, especially now that one of the largest distributors of dairy products is selling the butter substitute off the milk wagons?

Still it cannot be forgotten that cows must be milked at inconvenient hours, and on Sundays and holidays with no double or triple-time pay for the farmer.

Many letters to the editor of the dear old London Times end with the question, "Where will it all end?" and echo answers "Where?"

What comes next?

Rereading the Pender Harbour Hospital Committee's statement which caused cancellation of St. Mary's Hospital Society annual meeting has resulted in second thoughts.

Take for example this paragraph: "Let us please make one thing clear — the Pender Harbour Hospital Committee and the people they represent are not opposed to the building of a new hospital at Sechelt. They are however, opposed to the closing of St. Mary's Hospital."

Such being the case, why is the Pender Harbour Hospital Committee continuing its fight apparently against present plans to build a new hospital?

There is no way for this Pender Harbour committee to keep St. Mary's open through the setup for construction of a modern hospital. If they are "not opposed to the building of a new hospital at Sechelt" their fight is with the authorities in Victoria. After the new hospital is opened there is no way for the Pender Harbour committee to have the Hospital Improvement Committee keep any other hospital open than the one it is primarily interested in.

The Pender Harbour committee knows the minister of health has already stated St. Mary's would not be allowed to remain open when the new hospital is available. It will be up to the Pender Harbour committee to press its need for St. Mary's in the right quarters and not continue trying to block plans for a new hospital.

Visions of Fancy By Les Peterson

Visions of fancy but fade as we go
Through the candles that number our years,
And castles and ships that we build long ago
All dissolve in a torrent of tears.

But what is a night without dreams of the day,
Or a day without hopes for the morrow?
How but for our visions could life e'er repay
The heart for its measures of sorrow?

The Windy Soul

A WINTER CLASSIC

Glamor of the SS Capilano

(By ERIC THOMSON)

The long line of cars and station wagons which rolled off the ferries at Langdale on Thursday before Easter, bound for summer homes on the Sunshine Coast, brought to mind such Thursdays of a bygone era, when it was not a matter of simply loading everything into the family car in Vancouver, and, thanks to Messrs Gagliardi and Bennett, unloading at some Sunshine Coast retreat two or three hours later.

Following the increase in the number of summer camps on West Howe Sound in the 1920's, the Union Steamships decided to put on a special trip on the Thursday night before Good Friday, so Vancouver casuals could have the pleasure of a really long weekend at their up-coast homes. There were also steamers to Bowen Island, Roberts Creek and Sechelt, but they lacked the fun and glamor of our Capilano, which was scheduled to sail for Gibsons, Granthams and Hopkins Landing in that order at 7 p.m. with passengers only.

We never left on time, but in the Union tradition, shortly after the whistle blew, there were always late-comers, laden with shopping bags and parcels, fated to break at the gangway. The comfortable cabin on the Capilano was filled with mothers and children, suitcases and parcels, until there was standing room only. Most of these folk had not seen each other since last Labor Day, and there was a winter's news to exchange. While the mother's knitted and fathers yarned, the boys and girls renewed their friendships, and the resultant din was something to remember.

There was one place of peace and quiet, and that was on the freight deck, which was clear on this trip, and there assembled the men who knew the ropes. There were plenty of deck chairs around the winch engine, and in the nearby galley the benign Mr. Billy Mah provided an extra large urn of coffee for the deckhands, which this trip included us. The only other occupants of the freight deck were dogs, averaging one per family.

The Capilano had a rail fastened to her ribs all round the freight deck and to this the dogs were attached by their leads. There was never any fighting, the dogs who had made the trip before either sat alert with lolling tongues and sparkling eyes, or lay flaked out, sailorwise, pounding their ear on the deck. The newcomers howled dismally. In the main cabin were the family cats. The old-timers, reclining in their respective open baskets, accepted the petting of the children, while the first-trippers, shut in their baskets, yowled and scratched, and would not be comforted.

This was the occasion of the West Howe Sound Annual Dog Show. To pass away the time, someone suggested that we set up a stand on the freight deck and have a dog show, each exhibitor to model whatever dog was handed to him. The good and bad points of the dog and of his or her absent owner were matters of impromptu and ribald comment, and the dogs certainly entered into the spirit of the show.

Meanwhile the Capilano was wallowing leisurely towards Point Atkinson, with Paddy Farina, her chief engineer doing the honors in the main cabin and the question arose whether we would go inside Bowen Island, or outside. Gibsons Landing, as it was then, was supposed to be the first port of call, for that embryo municipality had a Board of Trade which had a light trigger finger, and which wrote letters to the Union Steamships stressing the prior right of its residents to prompt service.

There were two factors, which on occasion made Gibsons Landing the last, and not the first, port of call. One of these factors was, whether or not we had a Killam on board. Mr. Lawrence Killam, then and now, had a home at Grace Harbor, now Gambier Harbor, and was also head of the big paper plant at Woodfibre, an important customer of the Steamship Company.

We had this genial gentleman with us on this trip as usual, so the Capilano turns up Howe Sound; then turns between Bowen and Gambier, where we see the lights of the three little Landings welcoming us after a winter's absence. Mr. Killam and numerous offspring disembark at Grace Harbor. The next stop, by rights, should be Gibsons Landing, but to the anguish of its members of its Board of Trade on board, we take a decided slant for Hopkins Landing, where my family and assorted families of Hopkins, Loutits, Blacks and many others joyfully get off to open up their homes.

There was another factor, which might be called the ace up our sleeve. My daughter,

Inga, always steered the Capilano on this occasion, and on making course after leaving Grace Harbor, she took such a generous turn towards Hopkins Landing that the captain considered that the only thing to do was to make that place the next call. This might send a letter of complaint to the com-

The Turning Point:

UNEMPLOYMENT: The Liberal Answer

By

Jack Davis

(Liberal Candidate)

for Coast-Capilano Riding

No responsible party will claim that it can wipe out unemployment overnight. There will always be a few workers who, because of import competition, automation and the introduction of new products, will be temporarily out of work. But persistent unemployment must be eliminated if democracy is to survive.

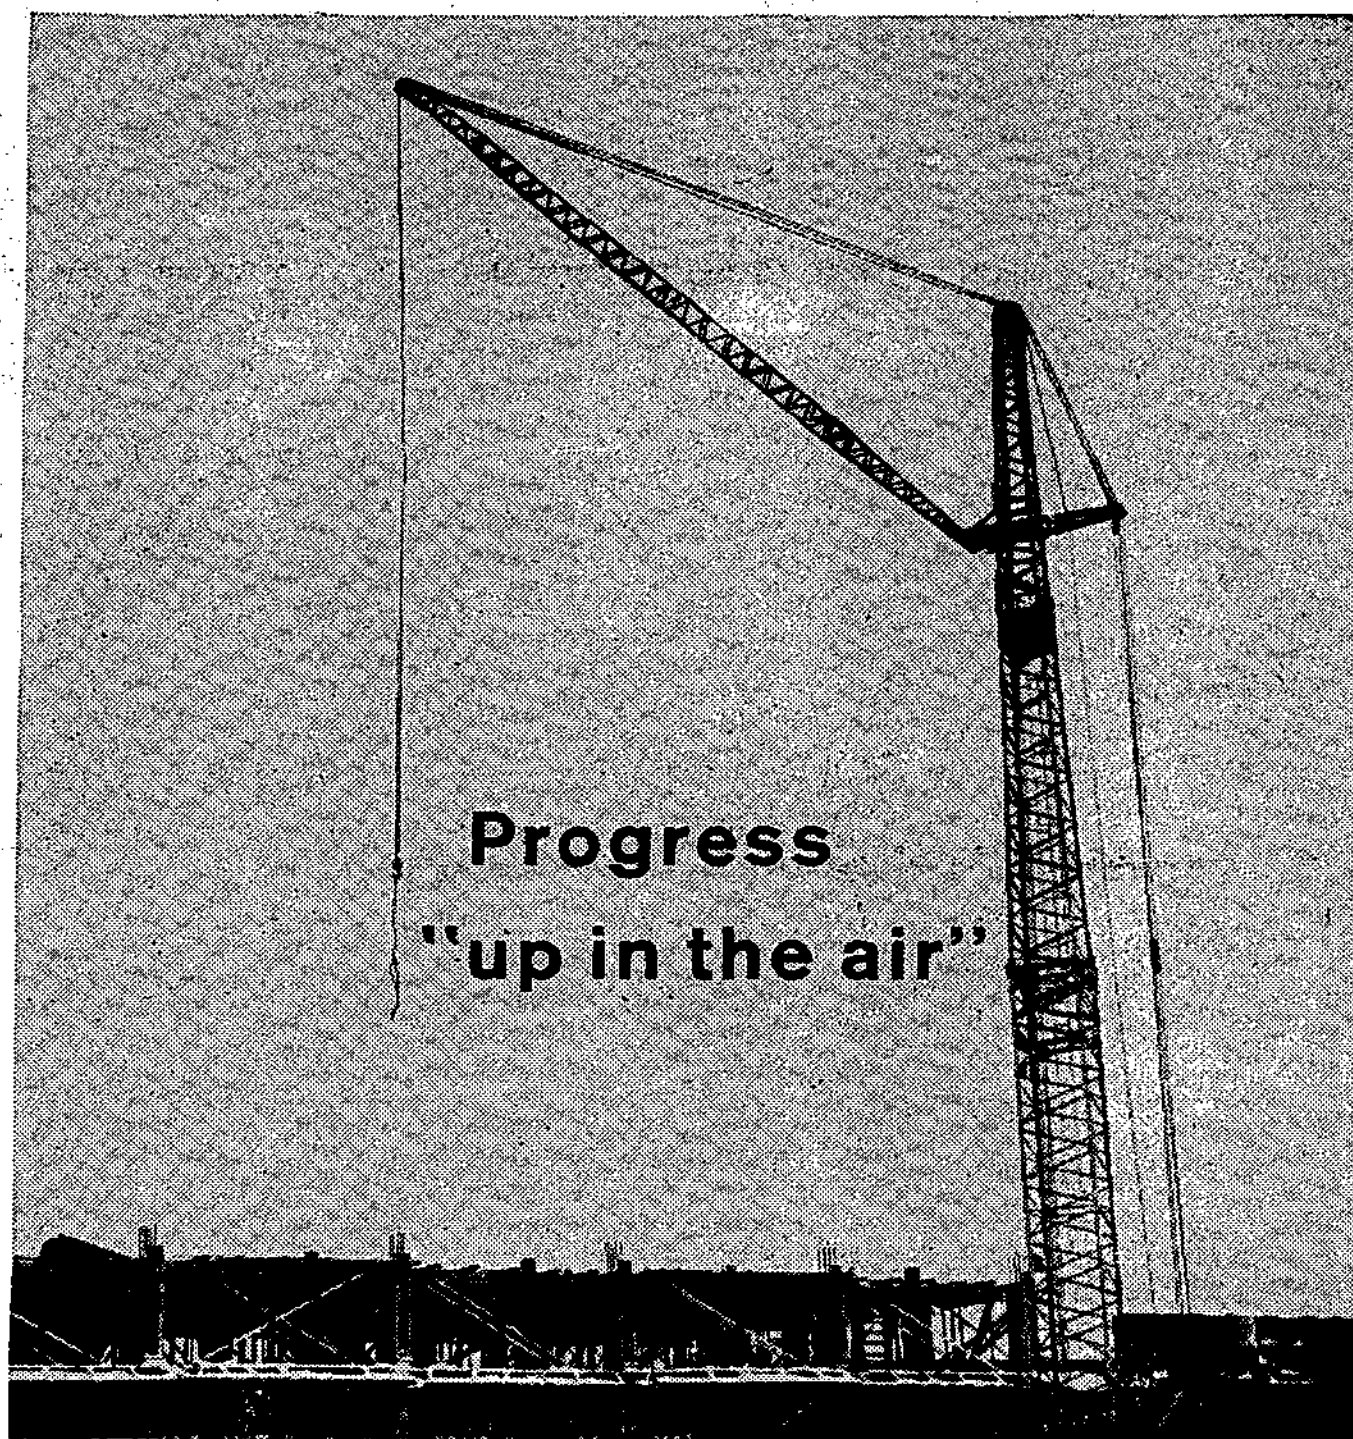

More Canadians are out of work than ever before. This cannot go on. Here are some of the things a new Liberal government would do to provide us with half a million new jobs:

- equip our Forces with conventional arms made in Canada
- co-operate with the provinces in building large projects (i.e.: on the Columbia) in areas of serious unemployment
- provide low-interest loans to the municipalities for slum clearance, low-cost housing, hospitals, and other vital services
- grant tax concessions to Canadian firms producing new products, and
- associate ourselves with Western Europe and other expanding free-trade areas.

Let's get action by electing the Pearson team! Let's get Coast-Capilano, B.C. and Canada rolling again!

Progress
"up in the air"

You can call a halt to progress any time — even "up in the air". The quickest way, for both individuals and business is to stop planning for the future — or not to have the ability to plan for any future.

In essence, the principle of fire, automobile and casualty insurance is that it is a plan for the future. It ensures progress by banding people together to share the expected losses of the few among the many. Because it allows people to "average out" their chances of a completely crushing loss into a relatively small fixed expense, insurance enables them to move ahead on a planned basis.

The fact that Canada's fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies are paying out more than a million and a half dollars every day this year in claims indicates that prudent Canadians make safe plans for their future.

LETTERS to editor

Editor: The problem of indiscriminate garbage dumping by a few individuals is posing a nuisance both in appearance and sanitation in the Village of Gibsons and the surrounding districts.

It seems to be a fairly common situation to find garbage cans and rubbish dumped on vacant lots and less used pathways.

There seems little doubt that as the population grows a system of compulsory garbage collection will have to be instituted. Until such time however, this area needs increased policing to stop this filthy and thoughtless habit and immediate provincial action to provide a garbage dump open to the general public.

R. Whiting, D.C., Secretary,
Gibsons District Board of Trade.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Something for Snack-time

Snack-time is anytime in the busy whirl of modern living. And often it's hard to dream up new ideas for these eating occasions. Had you ever thought of dressing up some of the perennial favorites and making them special enough to fill the bill? Here's a new twist in the realm of hot dogs that's sure to please palates and impromptu cooks too. Cheese Pups — wieners dipped in melted cheese and rolled in potato chip crumbs — are served in toasted wiener buns with chopped onions and mustard sauce. Crock-baked beans and crisp relishes, with frosted cup cakes and beverage, make this a snack that will be welcomed by hungry youngsters or active grownups.

Cheese Pups

6 wieners
1/2 cup processed cheese spread
1 1/2 cups fine potato chip crumbs
6 wiener buns
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup finely chopped onions
1/2 cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons horseradish
*Combine last two items to make sauce

Cook wieners in boiling water until thoroughly heated. Mel: cheese in double boiler over low heat. Dip wieners in melted cheese, and roll in potato chip crumbs.

Split and toast buns, and spread with butter. Place crumb coated wieners on buns and cover with onions and mustard sauce. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Egg - Crabmeat Sandwiches: made by combining 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs, 1/2 cup flaked crabmeat, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, one tablespoon salad dressing and 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice. Real good on fresh buttered bun halves

Here's an old-favorite recipe you'll enjoy making and serving to your family. The crunchy top is especially appealing. You can serve this dish warm or cold, with cream, ice cream, or lemon sauce.

Apple Crunch
6 to 8 apples, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup butter
1 cup light brown sugar
3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
Place apples in buttered casserole. Blend together butter, brown sugar and flour. Work until crumbly. Pack firmly over apples. Bake in moderate oven, 375 deg. F, for 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings. (If you like a spicy flavor, sprinkle the apples with cinnamon, cloves or nutmeg.)

pany, but it certainly produced a super cake for the Capilano from my daughter.

The good ship then had to call in at Granthams Landing, where she disembarked a murmur of school teachers, and I remember somebody quoting to the Gibsons minister on board that verily the first shall be last.

After we had lit the lamps and the stove and had eaten, we would see the Capilano at long last bound for home. She was a happy ship all her days, but never more so than on these pre-Easter sailings. This way of life and travel has ended, but it was fun while it lasted.

The people who come off the ferries at Langdale before Easter now range further afield than ever we did, and in getting there have different, but as colorful experience as ever we had. Last Thursday, my son Willie decided to visit the north tip of Savary Island, where he is building himself a beautiful home, and in passing through Hopkins, to collect his sire as an extra pair of hands.

Due to the number of cars awaiting the ferry, he was several hours behind time in getting to Langdale, but we were on our way to Earl's Cove in the late afternoon in time to catch the evening Quillayute across Jarvis Inlet. There were only a few cars and passengers on this ferry, mostly teachers bound for far-off points on Texada and Savary. Our destination was Lund, beyond Powell River. There was no other traffic, the moon was out, and the off-shore islands lay like jewels in the quiet sea.

We got to Lund shortly after 10 p.m. and there found the school teacher for Savary, surrounded by cartons of groceries for the little store that she and her husband run for the summer months. We had quite a load too, and the boys who run the water taxi were at the dock and were willing to take the three of us and our belongings over to the island then and there. We landed at the float below the wharf at the south end of the island and one and all hefted the parcels up to the top of the wharf, where the teacher's husband had his truck, and we had most of a truck on our own.

By arrangement with the owner, a distinguished Vancouver lawyer, my son had bought the 1962 plates for this truck which had been made mobile and left on the wharf for our use. We got our things into this vehicle.

The taxi boys had correctly figured that there was no water in the radiator, and had brought a drum of it over with them in their taxi. The reason that there was no water was that the drain tap on the side of the engine had been broken off, so the hole was plugged with a piece of wood.

Then we found that the lights wouldn't work, except the parking lights which blinked alternately. There were no brakes. I held a spotlight out of the window to light up the road ahead of the truck, and my son drove to the other end of the island, a distance of about 5 miles, on a government road, not one of Mr. Gagliardi's best, but the only one on the island.

It hadn't been much used during the winter, so there were fallen trees and the telephone wire waiting for us, but our luck held and we went under or over these and took the down hill grades in low gear. We stopped at a huge standing fir which had been stripped of its bark. This was where the path led off to our home for the next week, and after we had unloaded the truck, my son tried to start it, to take it to where it belonged, but couldn't get the engine to go, and the fact was that we had just made it to the last inch before the gas supply failed.

There ensued a week of hard work and good meals, and we missed the storms that hit Vancouver and the Island. We had a comfortable cabin, and the new house is going to be a thing of beauty both in design and in construction, and faces west to a beach of silver sand, and beyond to Comox and the Vancouver Island mountains, and I am glad to have had a small part in the building of it.

I have been by Rannoch and by Tummel, where the road leads to the west, and by Aviemore and Bora to the north, but our northwest road to Savary, a creature of yesterday compared with those old highroads, can match them in grandeur, all 80 miles of it, and some day it too will have its song.

'Nothing Old Hat about our house this spring!'

Bright and shiny, like a new spring bonnet — that's how our house looks these days. We've had it "done" all over and now the Joneses are keeping up with us. The cost? Well — much less than you'd think. We financed the "works" with a B of M Home Improvement Loan.

That's how you can get your home improvements done at lower cost. Talk to the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch soon — they'll be glad to tell you all about it.

Plates compulsory for motor boats

Plates stating the recommended safe maximum engine power and weight capacity limits will be compulsory after July 1 on pleasure boats 16 feet or less in length, and carrying outboard motors of 10 horsepower or more, throughout Canada, the department of transport announces.

As in the past, when such plates have been installed on boats on a voluntary basis, the stated limitations are recommended figures, aimed at informing boat owners as to safe margins within which to operate. The compulsory plate scheme has been instituted in an effort to reduce the small boat accident toll, which investigation has shown to be due, in large measure to overpowering of small craft, overloading or a combination of both.

To obtain the plates, where they have not already been affixed to boats by the manufacturers, boat owners must obtain application forms at customs offices, where they have been accustomed to obtain motor boat licenses, or department of transport steamship inspection offices. On these forms they will fill in the figures showing the various dimensions of their craft, and send them, in a postage-free envelope which will be provided, to the superintendent of nautical safety, department of transport, Ottawa, along with a fee of one dollar. The charge is levied to help offset, in some measure, the cost of the plates and of the administrative set-up necessary for their issuance.

In the event there is delay in forwarding the plate to the applicant, he will be sent immediately an official receipt certifying that he has made his application. This receipt will be accepted in lieu of the plate by any law officers until such time as the plate itself has been received and affixed to the boat by the boat owner.

The plates will be self-affixing, and will readily stick permanently to any surface. Once placed on a boat, the same plate will remain on that craft for the remainder of the boat's operational life.

The figures stating power and load capacity, by weight, will be arrived at from departmental calculations made with the use of dimensions given by the boat owner on his application form. The form itself will show clearly and simply how these measurements are to be made. The formulae used in calculating the limits were arrived at through extensive scientific studies and tests of boats and motors, in which the department of transport received full co-operation of boat and engine manufacturers and nationally recognized boating authorities.

Representatives of these groups from all parts of the country served as members of the Canadian small boat load and horsepower committee that studied the problems involved and reviewed the proposed formulae prior to their adoption.

The formula for arriving at weight-carrying capacity is worked out to provide a recommended maximum load of 12 and a half pounds per cubic foot of hull volume, to afford a reasonable margin of safety.

The formula for arriving at maximum recommended motor horsepower takes into account not only the volume of the boat, but the width of the transom (width across the stern) since narrowness at this point has an important bearing on the boat's performance and its tendency toward tipping.

In establishment of these formulae, the department has left the way open for their review, from time to time in the future, to ensure that they take into account changes that may be necessary as a result of improvements in boat and engine design.

Earnings of these employees in January aggregated $125,302,000 as compared to $123,601,000 a year ago.

LIFE of the PARTY

CHARLIE ALWAYS REMEMBERS

Depend on Charlie never to forget, even when his firm suddenly makes him fly up to Prince George on the very weekend we're celebrating a birthday. And sure enough, it was the long distance call he made that eventually got the party mood going.

Charlie is always the life and soul of a party — and how he hates to miss one! As long as he can reach a telephone, bless him, he very rarely does.

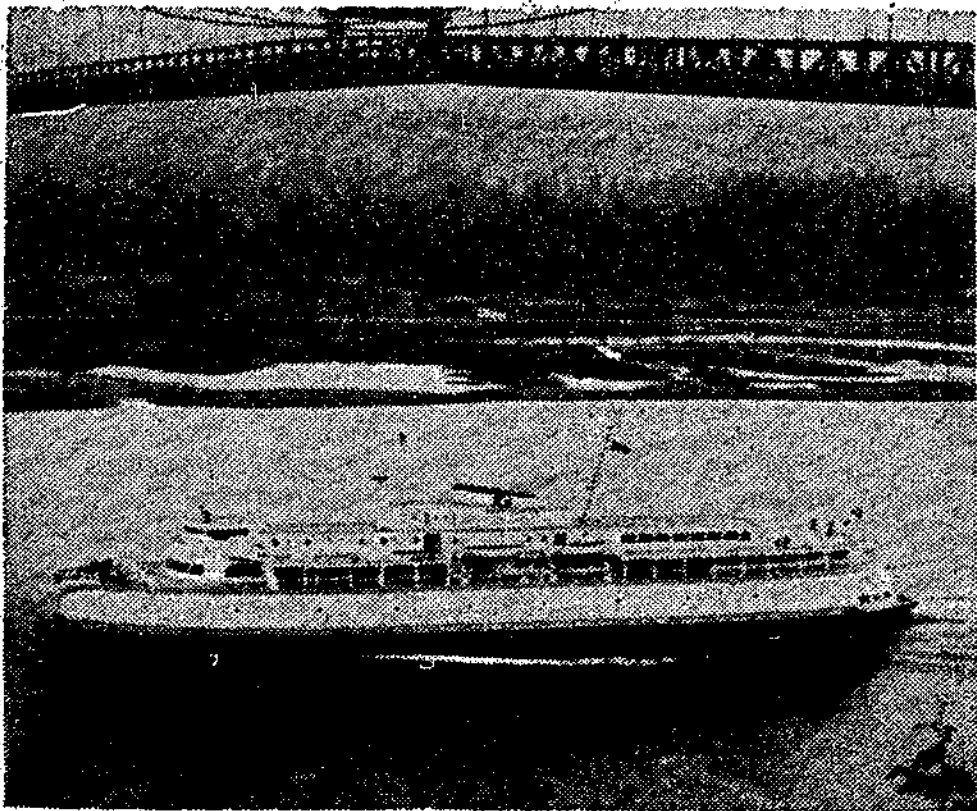

Happy Birthday

After 6 p.m. each evening (and all day Sunday) long distance rates drop by about one quarter. Vancouver to Kamloops, for example, can cost as little as $1.05.

Why don't YOU phone somebody near or dear tonight, when long distance calls are cheapest?

Hourly ferry service

Hourly ferry service between Vancouver and Victoria started on May 1 following acceptance of the M.V. City of Vancouver by Premier W. A. C. Bennett Wednesday (April 18).

Premier Bennett, chairman of the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System, formally accepted the new 1000-passenger ferry at sea from President Clarence Wallace of Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd.

The City of Vancouver will join the City of Victoria, Chinook and Kahlke in providing daily capacity this summer for 17,000 passengers and 1,800 cars. Capacity of the City of Vancouver is 110 cars.

The new ferry brings the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System fleet to 13, with two more ferries being built in Victoria and a further two announced by Premier Bennett. Ferry service is supplied to Nanaimo from Horseshoe Bay, the Sunshine Coast and the Gulf Islands.

One of the features of the new ferry is an elevator, built specially to aid the aged and infirm who cannot easily climb stairs. There will be a restaurant seating 144 people, plus a coffee shop.

Passenger comfort has been cared for with the provision of a heating and air-conditioning system of the latest design; the beam has been widened by four feet seven inches to provide more space between cars and add greater comfort to passengers entering and leaving their cars.

In the main propulsion equipment, the vessel is powered by four Ruston-Paxman diesel engines capable of developing 6,000 B.H.P. and providing a fully-loaded speed of 18 knots. The twin screws add to manoeuvrability and this is further enhanced by twin rudders and a 500 H.P. bow propeller of Kanewa design.

Other members of the B.C. Toll Authority are: Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, vice-chairman; Hon. W. D. Black, Hon. W. K. Kierman; E. M. Gunderson, Lyle Wicks General manager is M. F. Aldous and assistant general manager is R. B. Worley.

Another issue of Beautiful B.C.

The summer issue of Beautiful British Columbia magazine featuring articles of special interest to both British Columbians and their guests has arrived on the news stands of the province, the Hon. Earle C. Westwood, Minister of Recreation and Conservation announces.

The 48-page, four color magazine contains features on Rogers Pass, White Rock, Mission City's Soap Box Derby, Kamloops Indian Days and an educational feature on logging in B.C., plus the usual array of double-page scenic photographs.

An extensive feature on the Province's summer harvest will delight rural readers and the double-spread photograph of the hop fields in the Kamloops area is a gem.

Beautiful British Columbia Magazine, in its third year of production, goes to 66 different countries and has a subscription list of more than 16,000 subscribers. It is expected that more than 75,000 copies of the summer issue will be sold, with the majority of the copies going beyond the borders of the province.

A HEAVY TOLL

For parents only

Mother's Day is celebrated in quite a number of lands, and although many laugh at it, this day continues to be observed. On the second Sunday in May, men and women in every walk of life, boys and girls in all kinds of homes, pay tribute to their mothers. Famous people have written in glowing words of their mother's influence. Benjamin West, the President of the Royal Academy of Art in London, England, early in the last century, once said "A kiss from my mother made me a painter." Abraham Lincoln declared, "All that I am, or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

A tribute to a mother is a very personal thing. It is colored by remembrance of childhood days. Although some people scoff at Mother's Day as a commercial scheme, surely it has value. In a hurried age when everyone seems to be in a rush, when many people are reticent about expressing their deeper emotions, it is well to have a time to pause and think of the debt which is owed to all mothers.

W. D. Howells once wrote "A man never sees all that his mother has been to him till it's too late to let her know that he sees it." What a pity if this is so! If our mother has passed on to the "Great Beyond," let us recall all that she did for us, on her day. We can observe this occasion by making a special effort to do something she would delight to see us do:—attend Divine Worship or help some poor mother who is having a hard struggle to bring up her children.

If we are fortunate enough to have our mothers still with us, Mother's Day is an occasion when we can use our imagination to give a gift which will express our love. Flowers, candy, a book, a picture, something for her to wear or for her home—what a wide variety of presents from which to select one which will give Mother real pleasure! The Mother's Day cards are very lovely, but do try to write in your own words how much you care for her.

Take time to mention some special happy childhood memory, the taste of her apple pies, the little smocked dress or the small boy's suit she sewed with loving care. Refer to the time you tumbled out of the tree or fell off the swing and she looked after your bruises. Perhaps there was some long-forgotten incident when you were frightened out of your wits and she restored your courage. Let her know you still remember the days of long ago when you were just a child under the old home roof—because no matter what the age of a man or woman, a mother cherishes the memories of the days when her child was young.

You would likely find it difficult to describe your mother's face to a stranger. But you will likely appreciate these lines from a lovely anonymous poem "The Blind Child" in a poetry anthology edited by James Dalton Morrison:

"I know what mother's face is like,
Although I cannot see;
It's like the music of a bell:
It's like the roses I can smell
Yes, these, it's like to me."

SUFFOCATION

Never use airtight thin plastic in crib or carriage. It can suffocate a child in less than a minute. Destroy or discard it safely. No pillow or restraining device should be used in a baby's crib and small objects such as coins, buttons, beads and pins must be well out of reach. Propping a bottle in the crib to feed a baby is a dangerous practice, which can lead to suffocation.

TO VISIT HELSINKI

who are expected to attend the 5th World Youth Festival this summer from July 28 to August 5. About 25 young people from B.C. have already expressed their desire to attend this biggest international youth gathering of the year.

61 TEMPERATURES. You will need one of them next time you cook. Will you get it?

Guessing games should be played in the living room — not the kitchen. With an electric range, every meal comes out just as you'd planned: meat done to a juicy, tender turn, vegetables plump and tasty, cakes light and high.

Why? Because electric cooking gives you precision temperature control. Take the oven for example. You select the exact temperature a particular food requires — from 200° to 500° — and you get it! Set the timer and leave the oven to do the rest. The temperature is maintained and when the roast, cake or pie is done, the timer rings. Or, if you're planning to be out gardening or shopping during the day, put the food in the oven and set the automatic clock control. While you're out, the oven comes on automatically, cooks the meal for the correct length of time, then shuts off!

Your appliance dealer can show you a variety of range styles and models. Dozens of automatic controls and features — all automatic and all designed to take the guesswork out of cooking.

Night School - 1962-63

The Board of School Trustees of District 46, is interested in making arrangements for an enlarged Night School Program for the season 1962-63.

Where instructors and pupils are available, both Academic and Vocational subjects will be offered. However, the type and number of classes offered, will depend entirely on the response to you the people of the community, to this advance request for instructors and pupils.

Qualified teachers not employed at present, are urged to participate in the interrupted Adult Education, by offering to teach subjects for which credits are given.

People who are qualified by training and experience in other subjects or hobbies, but who are not necessarily professional teachers are also called upon to take part in the Night School program.

To assist in preparing courses for next season 1962-63 persons who are interested in taking part, either as teachers or as pupils, are urged to make use of and return the completed form provided below, either to the principal of your nearest school or to the office of the Board of School Trustees, Gibsons, B.C., as soon as conveniently possible.
