First wedding in Little Church

The first wedding to be solemnized in the Church of His Presence, Redroofs took place Sat., Aug. 25 at 2:30 p.m. when Sharon Bosch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bosch of Egmont, became the bride of Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown of Vancouver, in a double ring ceremony, Rev. Canon A. Greene officiating.

The tiny church was beautifully decorated with baskets of tall white gladioli and silver leaves tied with large satin bows, while tall lighted tapers cast a soft glow on the altar. The slender and youthful bride was a radiant picture as she came up the aisle with her father, her exquisite floor length gown of white French lace over heavy satin was en train, fashioned with deep V neckline back and front, lily point sleeves and a large flat bow at the back. Her shoulder length veil of French illusion was held by a tiny pearl and sequin coronet worn over the face during the ceremony. She wore the grooms gift, a pearl necklace and carried a shower bouquet of red rosebuds and small white marguerites tied with satin streamers and sprays of Lily of the Valley.

Her bridesmaid, Nancy McDicken of Vancouver, wore an afternoon length gown of delustered satin in a deep pink shade with matching head piece, her flowers were cream rosebuds tied with deep pink ribbons and accessories of white.

Glen Sutcliffe of Vancouver was best man.

The bride's mother chose a two piece suit in a Mediterrean blue shade, worn with white hat and white accessories and white Catalya orchid corsage.

A smart sheath in gold brown and beige tones was worn by the mother of the groom with tiny French chapeau of brown and gold net with veil, beige accessories and a cyobidieum orchid in matching tones.

Mrs. F. Brown of Vancouver, chose a sheath of black and white print worn with a smart black straw sailor hat, black accessories, white gloves and a gardenia corsage. Another smart sheath in copper and grey tones was worn by Mrs. B. Dalgleish of Vancouver with pink headress and tiny veil, beige accessories and a pink corsage.

Mrs. R. Higgs of Sechelt chose a sheath in gold tones with black accesories and pink corsage. As the bride came down the aisle with her husband after the ceremony she threw back her veil and was met by a barrage of rice and confetti outside the church.

A reception was held at Danny's in Gibsons and later Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Banff and interior points on their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a chic grey suit, pink hat and accessories.

Board praises Helen Bezdeck

Sechelt District School Board at its Tuesday meeting complimented Helen Bezdeck, Elphinstone Secondary school student for the fine showing she has made in athletics.

Board members were of the opinion Helen was setting a fine example for other students and hoped that she would continue in her successes in track and field events. All members of the board were gratified she had been able to compete far afield and hoped the experience she gained would be of benefit to her.

A contract for the building of a new school to replace the burned-out Roberts Creek school has been awarded but cannot be announced until approved by departmental officials in Victoria. There were 11 tenders before the board.

Cooking school!

Sechelt and Gibsons branches of St. Mary's Hospital auxiliaries combining with the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority and electrical dealers of Gibsons and Sechelt, will hold a cooking school demonstration in Elphinstone High School auditorium, Friday evening, Nov. 2.

The cooking school will be directed by Miss Jean Mutch cooking consultant for the power authority. All food demonstrated will be given away in various draws.

Hospital layouts detailed

Good progress has been made during the past two weeks on the preparation of plans for the new hospital. The architects, Underwood McKinley Cameron have completed the detailed layouts of all hospital departments. In some cases, this work is done in conjunction with government-chosen specialists who are familiar with the different phases of hospital operation. Approval of these consultants has been obtained and it is now necessary to get final approval from BCHIS in Victoria. The operating suite layout has been approved by the construction committee and must now be approved by BCHIS.

It is now planned to forward these layouts to Victoria for government study and final decision. This will undoubtedly require discussion in Victoria between the architects, members of the Hospital Construction committee and government officials but it is not expected that any serious delay will be encountered.

Preliminary planning for financing has been started with the request by the Trustees of the H.I.D. for proposals from various financing institutions. It is hoped that these arrangements can be made as soon as possible in order that no delay will be experienced when the working drawings are completed. At present, the project is slightly behind schedule but should still be ready for construction to start in the early part of 1963.

Continued opposition to the plan is being encountered from some residents living in the vicinity of the existing hospital. This oposition takes the form of continued letter writing to anyone who might be interested in delaying the construction project. Hospital officials feel that the new facilities planned will provide excellent hospital care reasonably accessible to everyone in the area to be served by the hospital. They point out that the project was instigated by the St. Mary's Hospital Society and has had full support from the majority of the members. In addition, the taxpayers have indicated their overwhelming approval of the construction of the new facilities.

Tent caterpillar advice offered

To those people worried about tent caterpillars the only thing Gibsons municipal council can offer, after asking for advice from the provincial department of agriculture, is how to protect individual trees.

Here is a copy of the letter council has received from the department, and read at Monday night's meeting:

"Your letter of August 29 to the deputy minister of agriculture, regarding tent caterpillars in your area, has been referred to me for reply.

"This same situation has existed for the past two or three years in several other areas of British Columbia. Apart from the protection of fruit or shade trees of individuals or a town or villag, it has not been deemed practical to apply any widespread insecticide control program. The caterpillars have some 14 or 15 parasites and predators which eventually overtake the caterpillar infestation. In your particular case, I hope that this occurs within the next year or two.

"For the protection of individual trees, a spray of four pounds of 50% wettable DDT per 100 gallons of water is usually effective, especially when applied when the caterpillars are very small. — Signed C. L. Neilson, provincial entomologist.

In the absence of Chairman A. E. Ritchey, due to ill health, Councillor A. H. Pay was chairman.

As a result of a complaint on garbage collection, the garbage collector will be informed he must collect garbage where he is asked to pick it up inside the boundaries of the municipality. Council discussed various complaints and situations inside and outside the village and decided all it could do was see that garbage was collected from all who desired to use the present service.

Accounts totalling $4,378 were scrutinized and ordered paid. The largest amount, $3,516.95. covered road paving with another $599.46 for other types of road work.

Gibsons Public Library requested a $400 grant from village council to match a $400 grant from the provincial government library board. Council decided to make the grant.

Further study is to be given the problem of traffic control in the post office, Shell Service station and church corners. The RCMP will be consulted before the next move.

Graduation Saturday!

Graduation exercises and the presentation of senior awards to pupils of Elphinstone Secondary school will take place Saturday evening in the school auditorium.

There will be the usual ceremonials connected with graduations. The speaker will be Michael Foster of the College of Education, University of British Columbia.

Community co-operation will be the conference theme and one of the highlights will be a symposium with Sam Dawe representing a municipal council, Mrs. Norman Bell, school board; E. MacDonald, recreation commission; Ron Haig, service organization and G. Pynn, community branch program. The symposium will seek ways and means of encouraging wider participation in recreational activities.

After lunch in general assembly Don Cunnings, recreational director, will speak.

Improvements for Sechelt

Improvements to Sechelt village roads and to the seawall in vicinity of the former federal wharf were discussed at the last meeting of Sechelt council, Sept. 5.

Chairman Mrs. Christine Johnston when discussing a letter concerning the renaming of one street suggested that the problem of street naming and street repairs should be left to a later meeting so council could take in the whole area at the one sitting.

As regards the seawall, Councillor Frank Parker, chairman of the parks and beach committee explained the work he had in mind involving the area from the wharf to Calypso cafe area which would involve earthwork to be done this fall so it could settle during winter months to allow final surfacing next spring and summer.

Councillors Parker and Bernel Gordon were chosen delegates for the annual meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Kamloops, Sept. 12 to 15. Council learned that the lease for the garbage disposal will carry on for another year.

Mr. Haley presented the prizes and Mr. Dowdie gave the young gardeners a talk on how to prepare and exhibit vegetables and flowers and also pointers on how to prepare and cultivate the soil for the best results.

Matthew, M.L.A. for Vancouver Centre and deputy speaker of the legislature, and thanked by Magistrate A. Johnston.

There will be many features for the ladies including a boat trip, a special ladies' sherry party, bingo and afternoon teas which will be attended by a psychic of international fame.

New officers will be installed by E. Bruce Cousins, Mayor of the City of Vernon. On Wed. Sept. 19, golfers both male and female will compete for the A. S. Matthew Trophy and other prizes.

Evening of fun planned

The Roberts Creek School Parents' Auxiliary bent on replenishing the lost implements of the schoolteaching business in the recent fire, are preparing a day and evening of fun and frolic at the Roberts Creek Community Hall on Sept. 22.

Tea tables will be set up in the kitchen in the afternoon while homecooking, needlework and other commodities will be sold in the main hall. There also will be games for the children. a white elephant stall, and perhaps a cup reader as well, or a ducky gypsy with a crystal ball.

The evening will be a chancy affair, with wild, wide-open bingo, cake walks, possibly darts and other pleasant and exciting means of subtracting nickels and dimes from a generous public.

The response to the appeal for donations has been magnificent and many merchants have given generously of their wares to make prizes for the games.

There will be a door prize and raffles, one of the latter a handsome coffee table made by Richard Birkin of the Oceanside cabinet shop.

Mrs. G. Thatcher was hostess to the Auxiliary members when they held their regular meeting in Sept. 4.

Mrs. F. Paquette made the request that anyone donating needlework to her for her stall place a price tag on it.

Belated discovery!

The Glassco Royal commission report on governmental services which "discovered" enormous waste in such operations did not come as a shock to Canadians. They have known it for years.

However there is one aspect concerning departmental heads and lesser fry which must not be overlooked. It is locked up in that conservative fear which leads departmental heads to preserve everything on which they can lay their hands in any conceivable issue.

This naturally leads to piles and piles of useless material being stored and stored and stored until we have miles and miles and miles of what can be termed useless paper.

It is easier to say file it. Most people know how hard it is for a civil servant to make a definite decision. There might be weakness in the idea of providing civil servic offices with larger wastepaper baskets. Such an outrageous suggestion would shock most departmental heads but then perhaps the governmental civil service at all levels and in all provinces could withstand the shock and develop less resistance in making decisions. It would pay off in streamlined operations.

Instead of having three carbon copies made of all documents to be destroyed, the documents would reach the oversize wastepaper baskets, thus cutting down labor costs and costs of storing unused material.

No.1 Hard people

A visit to prairie regions makes one realize the Sunshine Coast is an area of significance. It was exhilarating to get back to Horseshoe Bay and start breathing the purer fresh air which pours from the Sunshine Coast on to the areas leading towards Vancouver.

At the same time it would not be wise to sell the prairies short. There are fine people living there and they deserve a lot of credit for remaining in extreme cold and hot weather the prairies can dish up.

Where they grow Number One Hard wheat they also have Number One Hard people. It takes guts to live in that climate. So hats off to those hardy people who keep their roots in prairie soil. They deserve the best. We can recommend the Sunshine Coast to them.

Grant incorrect?

Examination of Premier Bennett's British Columbia Government News for August shows that it deals with the Ten Years of Progress of the Social Credit government.

Page six which deals with provincial grants to municipalities contains information which no municipal clerk or councillor will swallow, not even for one second.

It deals with the home-owner grant act which provides for an annual payment to municipal and provincial collectors on behalf of resident home-owners. The grant is applied as a rebate on the current year taxes of eligible home-owners.

Now if there was no home-owner grant the municipalities would receive taxes direct from home-owners. Because it comes through the government, what is rightly belonging to the municipalities bears the name of a grant from the government. This is clearly a case for posing the question when is a grant not a grant? The answer would be veiled in deep fog if it is to come from Victoria.

So long as it helps swell the figure Mr. Bennett chooses to use to show how generous he is to municipalities, so long will the meaning of the word grant remain incorrect. There is a moral in this and it is that people who like to understand English as it should be understood, should not read British Columbian government financial statements.

Christianity vs. Communism

A RECENT SUNDAY SERMON
[By REV. W. M. CAMERON]

Text: "What is Man?"

Often we hear it said that it isn't what a person believes that matters but what he does. What a person does, however, is determined by what he believes, especially by what he believes is the real truth about man.

Among the very influential believers today concerning the truth about man there are two that I wish to consider briefly — the belief of Soviet Communism and that of the Christian Church.

1. Soviet Communism's Belief About Man.

There is no doubt about the influence of Soviet Communism. It is vigorously missionary in character. It seeks world power and already there are few places in the world where its influence is not felt. It has organizations in the political, industrial and educational life of many countries. Its leaders, on the whole, are convinced, capable and enthusiastic people, and its party membership consists only of active members.

* * *

Since the influence of Soviet Communism is so powerful in the world today, it is important that people become informed regarding its belief about man. Soviet Communism actually believes that the real truth about man can be stated in terms of economics. The adequate production and distribution of material wealth will create for all people an environment in which they will find their redemption and their highest happiness and satisfaction. Man must, therefore, look to the State as his god, for there is no other, to science as his Saviour, and to material prosperity as his heaven.

The ultimate goal of Soviet Communism is the creation of this kind of heaven on earth and it recognizes no higher allegiance than loyalty to this cause. Therefore, Soviet Communism will use any means to serve its cause. Whenever it can, it will suppress freedom of the individual, and persecute and destroy any who will not conform. It reduces man to the status of an animal and the individual is of no more worth than that of an ant in an ant-hill or a bee in a beehive.

* * *

We may often have wondered how it is that Soviet Communism has been able to make such rapid growth in the world. The reason is that it has struck fertile ground almost everywhere. This fertile soil is represented not only by ignorant, poverty-stricken people, but all who are ignoring spiritual values, who look only to a changed physical and social environment to save mankind in the fullest sense, and who are so complacent or greedy that they are blind and deaf to poverty, injustice and suffering.

2. The Christian Church's Belief About Man.

The Christian Church believes that the real truth about man cannot be stated in terms of economics only. "Man cannot live by bread alone," as Christ said. The Church believes that the highest and ultimate truth about man is that he is potentially a son of God. It recognizes that man needs bread and believes that economic wealth should be justly distributed, and that the physical and social environment should be changed, where necessary, so as to contribute to human health and happiness.

It would be a great surprise to many Soviet Communists, to read what the people of Nazareth heard from Jesus' lips in their synagogue. It would be a great surprise also to many Soviet Communists to learn the fact that almost every great movement for social betterment during the past 1900 years has had its origin and dynamic in the Christian Church.

* * *

The Chrsitian Church believes also that man needs togetherness, but it believes in a togetherness that preserves the rights of the individual. Christian togetherness is not a regimentation that crushes individual freedom but a brotherhood under a divine Fatherhood.

In holding the doctrine of the Fatherhood of God, the Church believes that man was made in the image of God and because of this he is potentially the son of God. But there is a great difference in being potentially the son of God and being actually the son of God. Until a person has become actually God's son he does not know salvation in the fullest sense of the word.

The Church believes that man does not evolve by an inner necessity into divine sonship, nor by his own efforts alone. God came to the help of man in the person of Jesus Christ. "God so loved the world, that he gave His only begotten Son."

"As many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God even to them that believe on His name." St. Paul refers to Jesus as "the last Adam" or "second man," who is "the Lord from heaven." He is perfect man, man as God intended him to be. But Jesus is also Saviour, which means that He through His death, resurrection and living Presence is free to come to individuals, and under certain conditions He does come, with power to rescue them from sin and transform them from potential sons of God into actual sons of God. He exercises this power in all who centre their trust, obedience and love in Him, in other words, in all who accept Him as Lord.

Some would claim that it is wrong to centre trust and obedience and love in Jesus Christ, even though He was resurrected from the dead. God alone should be the object of our worship. But Christians believe Jesus' words as recorded in John's Gospel, "This is the work of God, that ye believe in him whom he hath sent." "All men should honor the Son even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father which hath sent him." "I and the Father are one." "Believe in God, believe also in me."

The Church holds, therefore, that Paul and Silas were right when they said to the Philippian jailor, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shall be saved." In other words, Thou shalt become actually a son of God, and through faith and effort, working out thine own salvation, thou shalt grow in spiritual and moral likeness to Jesus Christ, the Lord and to God, the Father.

Some years ago an African boy, trained in a Mission School, became a Christian. He went out into industry. One day in the factory he was unjustly accused by his superiors of theft. He met his false accusers with a perfect blaze of indignation and said, "I am a son of God; I could not steal."

It is said that every member of the Communist Party is an active member. In other words, what Soviet Communism teaches every member of the party actually believes is the truth. This belief, therefore, determines his conduct. Can it be said that every member of the Christian Church is an active member — that what the Church teaches about man he actually believes is the truth, and therefore, this belief determines his life and conduct?

How fast the Christian Church would grow, and how soon peace with justice would be established, if all Church members were active members because they really believed that all people are potentially sons of God and that Jesus can save mankind through a voluntary, personal acceptance of His Lordship!

ADJUSTING TO SCHOOL

The adjustment from a small family group to a large school one, is, of course, most perplexing for the little child just starting school. It is a great help to the new scholar if he knows another friend who is also beginning school life. Then he can search for a familiar face among all the strange ones.

The qualities which school children rate high are not necessarily those which parents place at the top of the list. Physical prowness is greatly admired by youngsters. The aggressive, able lad with leadership ability, may use language which mother says is "not nice" but Junior certainly can see that he is "Tops" with the other fellows. The hand-smocked dainty dress which mother made with such loving care may be so different from the sturdy, wash frocks of the other girls, that small May is miserable. A child does not want to be too different from the others!

It is not just the child starting to school for the first time who finds it no easy matter to get used to school. A great host of children every September know from bitter experience that the adjustment from vacation to school is demanding.

The change from carefree vacation days to the school schedule is an abrupt one. The adjustment is not easy for most children. The routine at home is usually fairly flexible. A child is free to ask his mother the question which comes into his mind. If he defends his seemingly "naughty" action, mother listens to his explanation before passing judgment. Many children enjoy participating in family discussion on different topics.

But the teacher has a large group in her care. She has a certain amount of work she must cover. It is impossible for each child to talk whenever he feels like it. Although "Quiet please!" may anger Junior, it is a necessary rule.

Promptness is a major virtue at school. Being late in the morning starts the whole day off wrong for the child and his tardiness is often not his fault. Mother must see that clothes and books are laid out neatly the night before in readiness for the morning scramble.

Children should be awakened regularly at an early enough hour so they can go to the toilet, wash, dress and eat without too much rush. A nutritious breakfast with fruit, cereal, milk, bread or toast with jam or honey gives a student energy to go on for the whole morning. The "On Time" regulation at school is part of the necessary preparation for participation in classroom learning.

Parents can help by using extra stores of patience and imagination the first week in September. The child's behavior at home often reflects a situation that he can't quite cope with at school. The small boy who yells at little sister and bosses her around may have been afraid to assert himself in the school playground. He wants to prove to himself that he is a "Big Guy!"

At bedtime, if mother watches, a child will often reveal by a chance remark what is troubling him. It is such a relief to be able to talk things over! Mother's attitude to school life and to the teacher will color her child's thinking. The teacher needs and deserves the parent's support in the first weeks of the new term and throughout the whole term.

Two christened

In the Church of His Presence, Redroofs, Sun., Aug. 12, the two youngest sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Gray of West Sechelt were christened by the rector, Canon A. Greene. They received the names of Lance Scott and Stuart Dean, godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray of Calgary, uncle and aunt of the boys.

Their paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. E. Johnson of Redcliffe, Alberta, was present and their two grandmothers, Mrs. W. Scott of Burnaby and Mrs. M. Gray of West Sechelt also their aunt Mrs. J. Farewell and family. A family dinner was held at the parent's home after the ceremony.

UNDER-STORY WORKER

When cutting down a tree, the beaver uses only his lower incisors as cutting tools. The upper teeth are used merely to hold onto the tree. The beaver must be assured of water at least two or three feet deep the year round as a refuge from its enemies, a highway to float food and lumber, and a cache for its food reserves. Not all beaver build dams to surround their houses with water. Many live in deep ponds or rivers where, even at lowest levels, there is ample water for their needs.

UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN

Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each

OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE

If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME

See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University — or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Savings, loan plan to help with education

Introduction of a combined savings and loan plan to spread costs of a four-year university education over a period up to nine years and embodying full life - insurance protection, has been announced by G. Arnold Hart, president of the Bank of Montreal.

The plan, to be known as the Bank of Montreal University Education program, will make it possible to finance college studies through modest monthly payments at substantially less cost than would be possible on a straight loan basis, Mr. Hart said.

Under the program, a parent, guardian or sponsor will undertake to make monthly payments during a student's last two, three or four years of high school, continuing through university, and terminating a year after graduation. In return, the parent will receive a lump sum at the start of each of the four university years, with built-in life-insurance coverage throughout to guarantee funds even if the sponsor dies.

Under one typical plan, by depositing $49.55 a month at interest, beginning two years before college and continuing for seven years, a parent will be able to guarante his child a $4,000 college education.

Other variations of the program range from payments of $9.39 a month for nine years to provide $1,000, to $99.10 a month for seven years to provide $8,000

If a student withdraws from college for any reason, the program may be continued as an insured savings plan, or discontinued, at the parent's option. If a college year is repeated, the plan will be continued as originally agreed and special provision may be made for the additional year.

Commenting on the University Education program, Mr. Hart said, "We see this new undertaking as meeting an important need of the times we live in. The program will enable many Canadian boys and girls to go to university who otherwise would not be able to do so because the short-term financial load would be too heavy for their parents to bear.

"We hope it will have a practical and realistic value to parents of children now in high school and that it will contribute towards developing the trained minds Canada will need so urgently in the years ahead."

MODERN CHANGES

The soft drink industry started with cork sealed bottles and wire loop stopper containers 75 years ago. Then bottles were washed by hand and soda pop was produced one bottle at a time on a foot-power machine. It is now an ultra-modern process capable of producing up to 300 absolutely sterile bottles per minute on a single production line.

MORE WOOD USED

Wood is the oldest of all building materials and the most favored. In this age of great technological advancement, man still prefers wood for his homes, his schools, his churches and many other buildings as well. Nine out of every 10 houses built today are of wood frame construction. Architects are using wood in its natural grain, texture and color in contemporary homes for wall panels, builtins, room dividers, sash and trim, doors, ceilings, posts and beams, and floors.

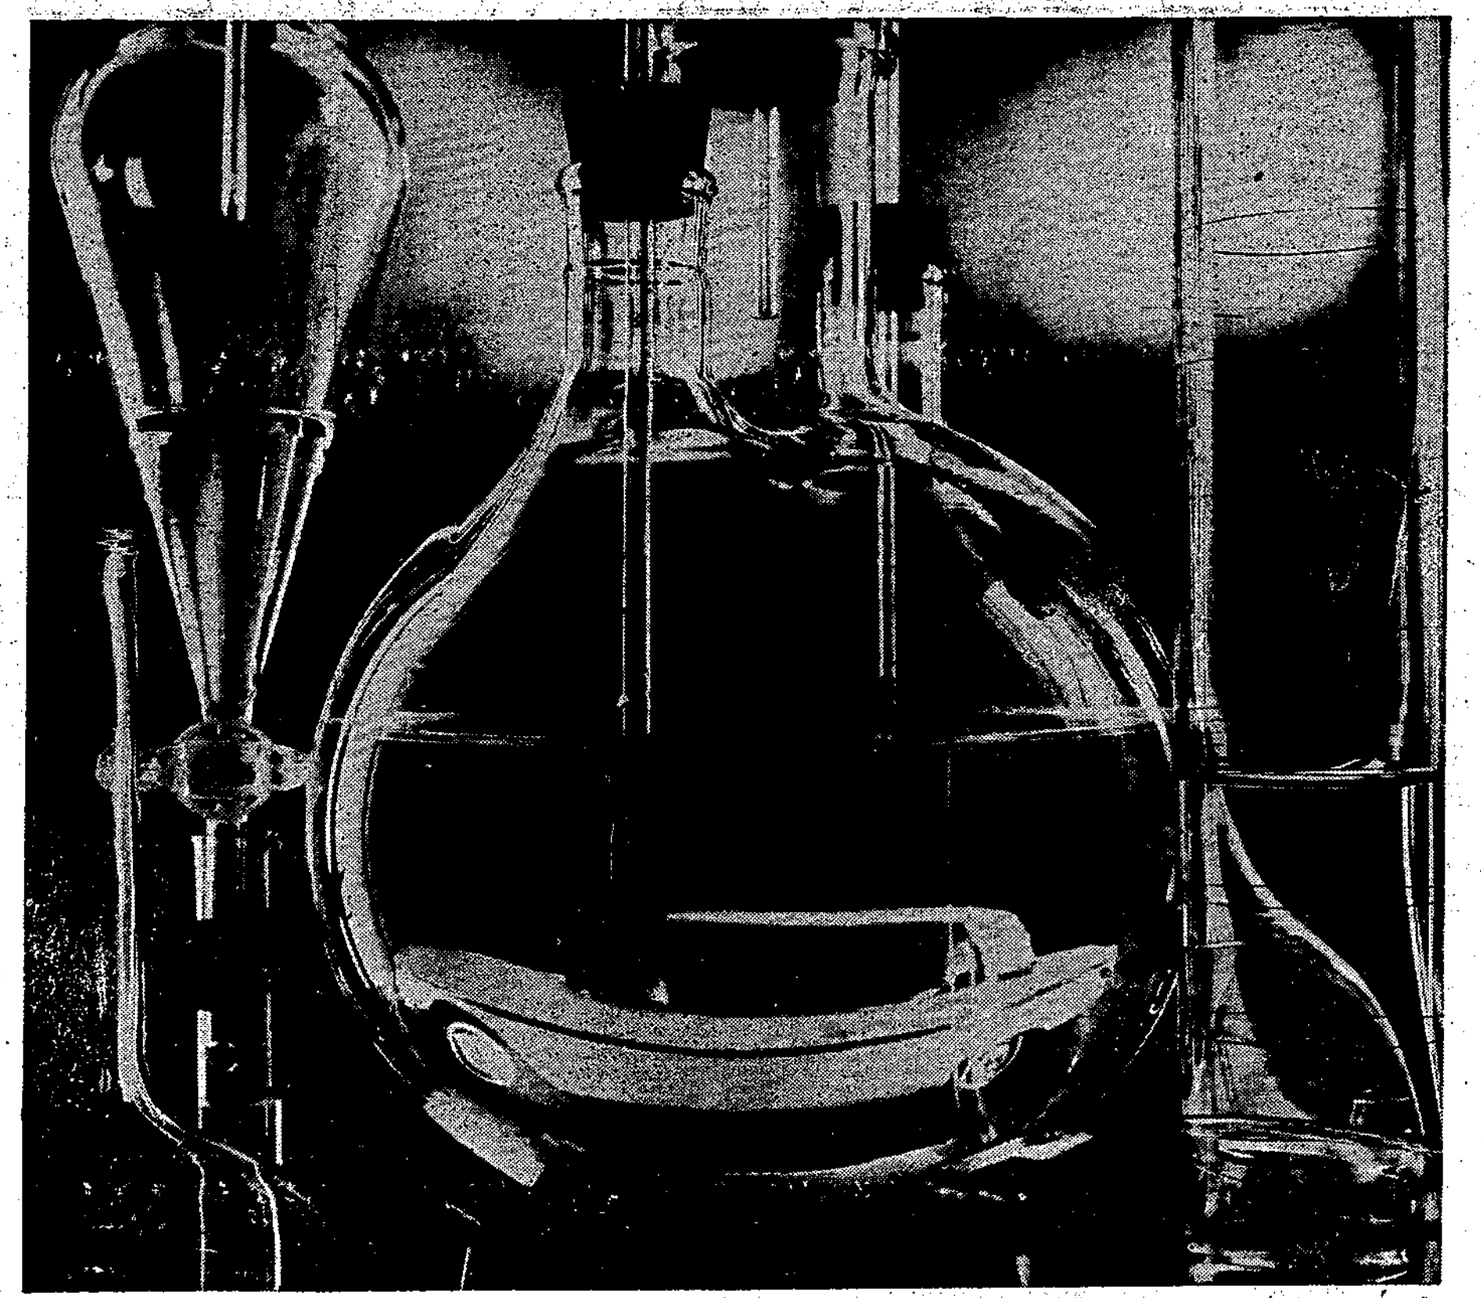
90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial


The fuels your car will use in the future are being designed today. In Imperial's ultra-modern research laboratories at Sarnia, scientists and technicians are working to ensure that gasolines for today's cars—and tomorrow's—are tailored for top performance. In the last ten years alone, Imperial has spent more than $80 million to build the equipment needed to bring you top gasoline quality.
At Imperial Oil's laboratories at Sarnia, Ontario, more than 200 scientists and technicians are working to improve present petroleum products—and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. Another 130 scientists and technicians are working at Imperial's Calgary laboratories on ways to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.

GAME REGULATIONS

More than 1,000 issuers of hunting licenses now have supplies of the 1962 Game Regulations. The folders, complete with map, contain information regarding open season on big game, upland game birds and migratory waterfowl, as well as bag limits and various hunting restrictions which should be known by all sportsmen. Hon. Earle C. Westwood, minister of recreation and conservation; urges hunters to obtain their 1962 folders and be familiar with the seasons and regulations before the general hunting season opens on Sept. 15.
