Janice Douglas of Elphinstone secondary school has been chosen Gibsons July 1 celebration queen. She will have as attendants these elementary school children: Leslie Hemsall from Port Mellon, Ethel May Rose, Langdale; Robin Nygren, Gibsons and Judy Taulbut, Roberts Creek.

The Sechelt Queen, Sandra Clarke, will also take part in the day's events.

Cliff Connor, Sechelt Board of Trade president; Glynn Davies, president of Port Mellon Community Association and Mrs. G. Corlett, member of Gibsons municipal council will judge the floats in the big parade.

The committee organizing this year's Gibsons July 1 Monday holiday celebration include Charlie Mandelkau, chairman; Mrs. Agnes Harding, secretary; Kay Mackenzie, treasurer; Andy Vanderhorn, floats; Tommy Parker, raffle; J. R. Wilson, parade marshal and Ike Mason, master of ceremonies and escort for the queen. Members at large include C. P. Ballentine, Mrs. Thelma Prittie, Dick Kennett and Howard Ennis.

The same type of parade will be held this year as in past years and efforts are underway to get Elphinstone secondary school band, the girl's drill team and the Job's Daughters drill team in the parade. Usual competitions for walking and bike entrants are part of the parade program.

Pender Hbr. swim classes

Pender Harbour Adult Recreation Association announces plans for the annual swim classes are well under way.

This year, instruction will be given at two locations and it is hoped this will result in larger classes. There will be classes at Garden Bay Lagoon and near Canoe Pass on the Francis Peninsula.

A qualified instructress, Miss Vickie Harford, will conduct the classes, commencement date of which will be announced later. For further information or advance registration contact one of the following: Mr. Arnold Tjorhom, TU 3-2690, Mrs. A. A. Lloyd, TU 3-2253 or Mrs. B. Lockhart, TU 3-2420.

Early registration is urged as it makes the task of organization much easier.

Co-operation

An example of co-operation took place Friday when the Super-Valu store at Gibsons gave space for a home cooking stall sponsored by the Parents' auxiliary to the Roberts Creek Elementary School. The sale was a success and members of the auxiliary are grateful to buyers, bakers and proprietors of the store for the generous response.

A contest on the sale came up with this poem entitled "Please" written by Jim Naylor, Grade 7. I'd much rather be dead Than miss tasting your bread An angel is just what you are.

With your heavenly pies That delight hungry eyes And your cakes as light as feathers... Your cupcakes are so fine They smell simply divine, I'd rather sniff them than hearther.

O.A.P.O. MEETING

This meeting will also be the last chance to get tickets for the annual picnic, July 17. Those members desiring tickets can obtain them from the secretary, Phone 886-2339. Tea and ice cream will be provided so take your own basket lunch.

As there will be no further meeting after Monday until September, convention reports will be offered at the Monday meeting.

Sunny sky, shady trees for meeting

On the afternoon of June 14, members of the Sechelt Auxiliary to the hospital enjoyed a combined meeting and garden party under sunny skies and shady trees at the home of Capt. and Mrs. S. Dawe.

Mrs. Cliff Connor presided during the meeting. A letter from the hospital administrator, Mr. W. R. Milligan, was read, thanking the auxiliary for its recent donation. The following is an excerpt from his letter: "The Sitz bath will be a great aid in treating certain types of illnesses. The surgical instruments have filled out and extended our operating room packs, making surgery much easier and faster to the benefit of patients and staff."

Architects draw plans

At the last general meeting of the construction committee of St. Mary's Hospital society, discussions were held with the architects Underwood, McKinley and Cameron, regarding a tentative schedule.

The architects felt that working drawings would be completed by Nov. 1. The committee felt that obtaining comparative quotations from different construction companies, analyzing quotations and obtaining the necessary governmental approval would take several months after working drawings are completed. This means that construction will not begin until early 1963.

The construction committee will proceed to obtain technical and financial information on major items of hospital equipment during the next few months. The committee will then recommend the choice of specific equipment to the hospital trustees, based on these studies.

In addition soil tests will be made in the near future at the site of the hospital. These tests will provide necessary information which will help in the design of the hospital foundations.

Woman injured

Headed towards Port Mellon after leaving the ferry at Langdale, Mrs. C. C. Addison of Port Mellon was injured when her small car failed to negotiate the Langdale turn and upset off the highway.

The accident occurred about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday. She was given aid by Dr. Hugh Inglis who then sent her on to St. Mary's Hospital at Garden Bay. Injuries suffered involve damaged ribs and possible lung troubles.

SEAL ON FLOAT

A seal estimated to weigh in the region of 350 pounds heaved itself on to George Pedlar's float at the Indian Reserve, north of Gibsons, Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock and remained there until after dark. It was seen at 10:30 p.m. Before dark it tried to climb into a dinghy and succeeded only in upsetting it. It has been seen in the same area, off and on, since then.

Water wasters warned

Gibsons council Tuesday night stressed the need for water users to respect water regulations during summer months and arranged to have inspectors keep an eye on violators of watering hours.

Council was told of people outside the village who illegally use water for sprinkling without regard to regulations during summer months. Permits are issued so water usage can be regulated and anyone sprinkling during June, July and August must have a sprinkling permit or else they face prosecution.

A closer eye will be kept on water use, council decided, in order to keep the situation under control.

Proposal to put pedestrian foot traffic line across Sechelt Highway from the church to School Rd. corner and across School Rd. to the Post Office corner will be presented the highways department for consideration.

Council again decided to press through the Union of B.C. Municipalities annual convention for the doubling of the tax limit exemption under the Tuberculosis Institutions Act.

Under this act the council does not have to assume T.B. patient costs if its collected revenue does not exceed $12,500. Council's long standing argument is that when this measure was passed in 1945 the dollar had greater value than today. Council asks that the exemption be raised to $25,000 which would be in line with values of today.

Accounts totalled $812.26 and were ordered paid, $317.46 for winter work, $190.11 general, $18.10 for roads, $105.58 for water and $42.46 for parks and beaches.

Council decided to leave Bal lane traffic downhill, rejecting a petition asking that traffic be sent upwards instead. The petition was of the opinion uphill traffic would be less dangerous. Council was of the opinion downhill traffic was of more use to road traffic.

Council voted $25 towards the July 1 (Monday) celebration in Gibsons.

Guides revel in expedition

Some Guides took part in a Vancouver Natural History Society photographic expedition to Atkinsons Park on Sunday. They found the lighthouse perched atop a rocky bluff and flanked by tall firs an interesting photographic study. The big eagle's nest in an old tree near the entrance to the park was unfortunately empty, the two young eagles having recently flown.

The Guides explored the rocky trails of the park finding a total of 25 different wild flowers in bloom including tiger lilies, cluster lilies, twin flowers, gum plant and steeple bush. The Vancouver botanists were looking for and found the ground cone which was one of the finds at Sechelt last week, a purple spike of flowers growing close among the salal bushes.

Members of the Natural History Society living in West Vancouver took the Guides to their house for refreshments before driving them to the ferry.

FERRY BREAKDOWN

Breakdown of the ferry Smokwa Tuesday afternoon has resulted in one ferry, the Bainbridge, holding down the run until arrangements can be made for another vessel. The breakdown on the Smokwa may mean the ferry will be out of commission for a longer than usual period. In the meantime efforts to get a replacement are underway.

FISHING GOOD

Proximity of herring inshore has resulted in an influx of salmon and fishing has been better than usual in this area. Most nights during the last ten days some 30 to 40 small boats have been visible off Gibsons wharf, some hauling in fish. Tuesday night Oscar Ivon of Gibsons, fishing in Langdale area hauled in a 35 pounder.

Vietnam child is adopted

Mrs. James Calder of Port Mellon has financially "adopted" Anh Pham Ngoc, a 6-year-old Vietnamese girl, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., P.O. Box 65, Station B, Montreal. The foster parents have promised to contribute $16 a month toward the child's support for at least one year.

Foster Parents' Plan, which has rehabilitated more than 100,000 children on a personal basis since its founding in 1937, is now helping more than 27,000 youngsters in Greece, Italy, France, South Korea, South Viet Nam, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

There are currently about 5,000 foster parents in Canada. Over the past 25 years, more than 600,000 Canadians and Americans have helped needy children overseas through Foster Parents' Plan either as individuals or as members of groups.

To encourage a warm, personal friendship between the foster parent and "his child," the foster parent receives a history of the child and a photograph, and correspondence through the plan office is translated both ways. This exchange bridges the gap between foster parent and child.

POWER ON KEATS

Power extensions have been completed on Keats Island according to B.C. Hydro information. Some 40 places have been connected with the power supply including the Baptist Camp, Eastbourne and Plumper's Cove

Where fish are biting

Strong winds and rough waters curtailed sport fishing activities in the coastal waters of British Columbia over the weekend. Although most reports indicate coho to be in continued supply, fishermen are beginning to catch an increasing number of large spring salmon. Large springs were reported from Horseshoe Bay, as well as individual catches from Cape Mudge and Cowichan Bay for the week ending June 17.

FILM ON CANCER

A film on cancer will be shown free Tuesday, June 26 in Sechelt Theatre starting at 8 p.m. Following the picture there will be a question period with Dr. Walter Burtinick and Dr. Eric Paetkau providing answers where available. This film will be for adults only.

Bracewell in wind-up

Thirty-five persons attended the last political meeting in Gibsons, previous to the June 18 election. This meeting was a Social Credit meeting in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Fri., June 15 on behalf of Vince Bracewell, of Hopkins Landing, Social Credit candidate for Coast-Capilano.

At the speaker's table were the chairman, Ron Haig, Mrs. E. E. Wallis, who introduced Hon. Frank Richter, provincial minister of agriculture, and Mr. Bracewell.

Mr. Bracewell explained this was a windup meeting for him in the constituency.

Mr. Richter spoke at length on the provincial agricultural policies of the Social Credit government. When it came time for questions various provincial political questions were asked. The chairman reminded questioners that the meeting was called for federal political purposes.

258 dog fish eliminated

On Thursday, June 14, Sechelt Rod and Gun club heard two interesting speakers, Dick Littler, president of the Lower Mainland zone of the B.C. Federation Fish and Game clubs, who spoke on pollution of waters, conservation and access problems.

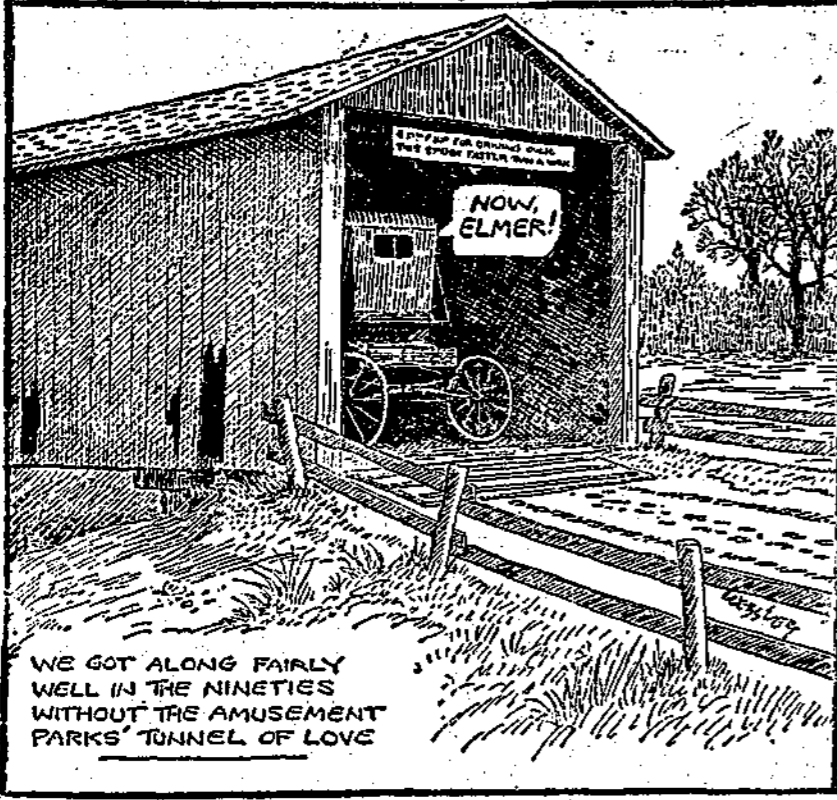

Reg Carver, treasurer of B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs, spoke on activities of the federation and finances. He also does considerable work with the CNIB and explained how welcome was the herring bait the club donates each year.

If the average sportsman realized that only 10% of fish and game license holders belong to any rod and gun club more would join for it is this 10% that makes the laws, conserves and makes more areas accessible, in short, improves hunting for the other 90%.

June 3, the day of the dogfish derby was rough and not many boats braved the weather, still 258 were caught. The Federation hopes that by starting this derby other clubs will follow and rid the waters of this objectionable fish.

At one point in his talk, Mr. Littler said, "The great Architect of the universe built this place for us so let us treat it like a home. We didn't ask to be born into it, but while we are here let us use it, enjoy it, and leave it in the same condition it was when we came."

A black eye showing

There is one thing to remember about the June 18 general election: The Social Credit party's centre of gravity has moved from western to eastern Canada, specifically Quebec and even more specifically, rural Quebec. When Social Credit stands up in parliament it will show a black eye given it by voters west of the Great Lakes. Four Secreds in the west, its birthplace, and over 20 in Quebec.

As regards the British Columbia vote, the "astute" Mr. Bennett showed the electors they had nothing to fear from a CCF or NDP government. How? Well, he took over the BCE, a CCF target, and the world did not come to an end, therefore a takeover of provincial affairs by the NDP might not be so bad after all.

In Coast Capilano constituency the sitting member, W. H. Payne, was soundly licked by Jack Davis. Mr. Payne did not have a Diefenbaker surge helping him this time.

About two weeks before election day a warning was given that there was the possibility of another election not too long after the June 18 vote. This summation of the situation turned out to be accurate.

Some people will maintain the Secred victory in Quebec will be a great boon to Canada eventually. Right now it has muddied the political waters considerably. It is going to cost Canada considerable to get proof the Secreds do not have the answer to today's monetary problems.

Now that the flood of political talk by mouth, mail, radio, TV and press has vanished quietly into the limbo we can look forward to a period of peace and quiet. Last night's intensity of effort to collect results for news media use is now so much waste paper to be cleared away by janitors who usually are quite happy over the fact elections do not come too often. The CBC did a good job all evening.

A conclusion is drawn

Let's take Premier Bennett's pre-election remarks concerning the $100 exemption limit on homeowner taxes and the elimination of per capita grants to municipalities at face value and try and draw a conclusion.

First, one must recall that he added municipalities would get grants equivalent to taxes on provincial government buildings.

The number of taxpayers in Gibsons or Sechelt municipalities who would benefit from the $100 exemption will not be numerous. This will not mean too much in the reduction of tax revenue to either Sechelt or Gibsons.

If the per capita municipal grants are discontinued it will mean Gibsons will be about $17,000 out and Sechelt close to $8,000. These sums are now part of their annual revenues on which they budget each year's expenditures.

Surely the premier means to arrange something to cover this loss. If it is not out of the government exchequer it will have to come from taxpayers or else municipalities will have to curtail expenditures considerably to keep within an income less the government grant.

How did this grant originate? Back in 1954 the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax expired. For a number of years this averaged close to $10,000 for Gibsons. Sechelt was not at that time an organized municipality.

In its place the government of Premier Bennett set up the Municipalities Tax Aid, 1955. This arranged for what was called a Local Government Grant computed at $14 per person for municipalities with a population up to 3,500. The larger the population, the smaller the per capita grant with $4.25 per capita for populations in excess of 50,000.

In practically all of his budget speeches Premier Bennett has usually commented on the most generous treatment his government accords municipalities of British Columbia.

If this most generous treatment is to continue what will be done to offset the loss. Will the ball be thrown to the taxpayer who now has a $100 exemption so that municipalities must increase the mill rate in order to keep revenues on an even keel? If that is what Mr. Bennett intends to do it will cost Gibsons something like 10 mills more. This year's mill rate in Gibsons is in vicinity of 10 mills.

To increase a tax exemption then increase the tax to make up for the loss created by the exemption is strange tax logic. Perhaps Mr. Bennett will clarify his remark. Will he clarify it in the same manner as he did before, grant exemptions then increase the assessment?

Canada's scientific progress

Recent Canadian developments in many scientific and engineering fields are featured in the Canadian Section of the World's Fair. The Canadian Exhibit, the largest single foreign display, consists of five circular sections, one of which is a diorama of the Canadian High Arctic. The diorama portrays an arctic community of the future with rocket and hovercraft landing fields, a submarine transportation system and many-storied apartment buildings built around a circular, dome covered community centre.

Many developments of the National Research Council, Canada's main scientific research organization, are on display. These include a device which automatically calls search planes to a crashed aircraft, an instrument for mending broken blood vessels, a camera which detects skin cancer and a radio beacon which acts as an automatic, unmanned lighthouse in remote coastal areas.

Another N.R.C. exhibit is the cosmic ray detector depicting Canadian scientific studies of cosmic radiation. Consisting of three 20-foot high panels, the symbolic patterns on the detector light up as it is bombarded by cosmic rays from outer space.

Exhibits of the crown-owned Atomic Energy of Canada Limited feature the famous Theratron Cobalt 60 Cancer Therapy unit. Designed, developed and manufactured in Canada, this machine is in use throughout the world, including the U.S.S.R. and China.

It hardly can be said that there is such a thing as absolute power or permanent power. There are numerous examples in history where the man who thought he had hold of everything came a crepper without notice. Even young people are old enough to remember apparently strong leaders in Moscow who died, and not of old age. As a young King, Richard II was shoved about by older relatives. When he began to get things his own way, he ruled wisely until his head got too big for his crown. Then he was done for. He was out of office in no time just as if there had been a general election.

Even in our own country and our own times there can be, or should be, a backfire when politicians exercise great power carelessly, or unscrupulously. They will not perish by the sword, for that end is obsolete, but there is electoral obscurity, a fate for a politician worse than death.

How many, and which present-day politicians will meet their fates depend entirely on whether the voters will punish for wrongdoing or whether the voters approve of what's going on.

Political morality has descended. Victims of an expropriation in British Columbia are twice denied the right to go to court to seek justice. A royal commission suggests that parts of railway lines not required in a possible unification may be left derelict and not paid for. In one of the provinces, elected leaders are making noises as if private owners have no rights.

A generation or two back, there was always compensation when a government in its wisdom, took over private property. Today there is hardly any more consideration for the real owners than if the politicians were elected Capones.

Who was Canada's first lady industrialist?

Agathe de Repentigny, born in 1657 at Montreal. Iroquois killed her father and grandfather when she was an infant. In 1703, when the French colonists were too poor to buy manufactured goods from France, she established a cloth factory. As weavers were scarce, she ransomed captive New England weavers. Lacking sheep wool, flax and hemp, she substituted goat hair, buffalo wool, tree bark and nettles. When she sold her factory ten years later, it was producing 150 yards a day of coarse but usable cloth that she dyed according to her own techniques. She also developed a new method of curing deerskin.

A model of Canada's first atomic power station, now nearing completion at Rolphton, Ontario, is displayed alongside the latest model of the Gammacell, used in many countries for irradiation studies.

Canada's activities in upper atmosphere research are represented by several exhibits, including the S-27 Topsis Sounder, Canada's first satellite. Built in Canada by Canadian scientists, the satellite weighs 320 pounds and is designed to study the ionosphere. It will be launched into orbit later this year from a base in southern California, and the scientific data obtained will be made available to all nations.

The transportation section features a new concept in transportation proposed by the Research Council of Alberta. Known as "Capsule Pipelining," a working model will show how many commodities formerly transported exclusively by road or rail may now be transported by pipeline. This section also displays models of Canada's latest aircraft, including Canadair's "Swing Tail 44," an all cargo plane now used by several American airlines.

The tremendous activity in Canadian chemical research is depicted through the exhibit of a new chemical process developed by Shawinigan Chemicals Limited of Shawinigan, Quebec.

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance as protection for your family—as a good way to save money regularly—as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages. These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too. The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

A backyard Seabox

Here is a backyard addition your youngster will love. We call it a Seabox. It's a wading pool constructed of sturdy fir plywood. Building it is simple. Lay out and cut the parts according to the cutting diagram. When measuring make allowances for the width of the saw cuts. Secure bottom to skids, attach ends panels to bottom and side panels to end and bottom. Use 1 1/2" galvanized screws throughout. Secure the seats, bevel the bottom skids on both ends. Round off all edges and sharp corners and give the Seabox a coat of exterior nousepaint undercoat and at least two coats of quality exterior house paint.

Since you won't always want the box full of sea, drill a drain hole to expel the water when you wish. Saves lifting it up and dumping. A pair of galvanized handles will come in handy for moving the box. Make sure the plywood you use is made with waterproof glue. This is identified by the edge mark PMBC EXTERIOR on every panel.

BOUWMAN — FLADAGER

A double-ring marriage ceremony for Sharon Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fladager of Gibsons and George William, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bouwman of Vancouver, took place Sat., June 16 at the Alliance Tabernacle with Rev. W. H. Brooks officiating.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie with neckline trim of aurora and pearl and wore a single strand of pearls, gift from the groom. A tiara of aurora held her bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and stephanotis.

Her attendants, Linda Koivula, maid of honor, Joan and Anita Dellar, bridesmaids and Patty Matthews, flower girl, wore deep aqua organza dresses with matching accessories. They carried bouquets of peach gladioli. The flower girl carried a basket of pink rosebuds and daisies. The ring-bearer was the groom's six-year-old nephew. Best man was Dave Doig of Vancouver.

Frank Verhulst of Gibsons proposed the toast to the bride at the reception at the Manhattan. Several telegrams of congratulation were received from relatives in Alberta, Saskatchewan and the brides aunt in Cuba. Guests came from Edmonton, Penticton, Gibsons and Los Angeles.

The honeymoon will be spent in Los Angeles and on their return the couple will live in Vancouver.

THIS SUMMER BE WATER WISE!

100 horses

One hundred Cariboo horsemen will add wild west flavor to the Barkerville gold rush centenary this summer. Cariboo Trail Riders, whose members come from all parts of the interior cattle country, plan a seven-day trail ride ending in the restored gold rush town, 60 miles east of Quesnel, August 12.

L. J. Wallace, chairman of the Barkerville Restoration Advisory committee, said the trip will follow the routes chosen by the miners who came in after Billy Barker made his big strike in 1862.

Barkerville historic park will be officially opened by Lieutenant-Governor G. R. Pearkes June 28. Billy Barker Day, 100th anniversary of the strike, is August 12. The B.C. Cabinet will be present for a commemorative church service.

The following day, the Trail Riders will stage a frontier type gymkhana and exhibition of pack horse travel. Riders will be of all ages. Men, women and children all will wear costumes similar to the dress of 100 years ago.

A total of 1,891,437 Canadians have received one or more free blood transfusions since the Canadian Red Cross Service was established in 1947.

J. "JAY" W. HARTLAND provincial winner of recent provincial finals of Jaycee Teenage Safe Driving Road-e-o, sponsored by Imperial Oil, is J. "Jay" W. Hartland, 18-year-old graduating high school student of Vancouver. He won over winners of local road-e-o competitions staged by Jaycees in 33 B.C. communities.

A happy vacation for parents is one when all the members of the family keep well. Many of these suggestions for living comfortably out of doors at a cottage, camp or in a trailer you may know. But the important thing is to get the family to co-operate in following them! Why not read them aloud, discuss them and make plans for healthy holidays!

The very first essential for a good camping site is safe drinking water. This is the one thing with which no chances can be taken, because various sicknesses especially typhoid fever are caused by germs in polluted drinking water. The appearance of the water has nothing to do with its purity. Crystal clear water may contain harmful bacteria. The one reliable rule to follow is — when in doubt about drinking water, always boil it for half an hour or treat it carefully, according to directions with commercial preparations such as chlorine tablets.

During the hot weather, children perspire freely and need to drink sufficient water to make up for the loss of moisture through their pores. Small boys and girls should not be given too much ice-cold fluid to drink.

Boiled drinking water should be cooled and then poured back and forth from one container to another to aerate it and make it palatable. Small quantities of charcoal dropped in water will absorb any odors. The Public Health authorities in any province co-operate in testing water from wells.

A safe milk supply is also a problem in some vacation areas. It is against the law in many provinces for unpasteurized milk to be sold. Cottage-pasteurizing over a wood fire is a bit arduous for a mother and so many families resort to the use of condensed or powdered milk. A generous supply of fruit juices is a good health investment.

A camping site should not be chosen near a stagnant pond or a swampy district where mosquitoes breed. A site where the air can circulate easily should be picked. Some of these repellants to keep away mosquitoes and black flies are a bit strong in their odor. But each year they are improved. Cheesecloth sprayed with an insecticide protects a small child in a crib or carriage from bites while he is asleep. The Canadian Entomological branch developed the following excellent repellant for mosquitoes, midges and flies: 1/2 fluid oz. Oil of Thyme, 1 fluid oz. concentrated extract of Pyrethrum, 2 to 3 fluid oz. Castor Oil.

An inquiring small boy in the woods may be stung by a honey bee, hornet, or a large bumble bee. If the sting remains in the wound, it must be scraped out and antiseptic applied. The Indians used crushed Jewel Weed juice to soothe insect stings. Ammonia or baking soda dissolved in water can be dabbed on an insect sting. Wet mud or clay also relieves the swelling.

A rarer affliction is a snake bite. Harmless snakes leave a row of small punctures on the skin. A poisonous snake usually makes two punctures. A tourniquet should be applied to an arm or leg bitten by a poisonous snake. If medical help is difficult to obtain quickly, a short cross-cut should be made over the punctures and the poison sucked out of the wound. If there are no cuts in the mouth, the poison from the bite will not have ill effects on the mouth or stomach.

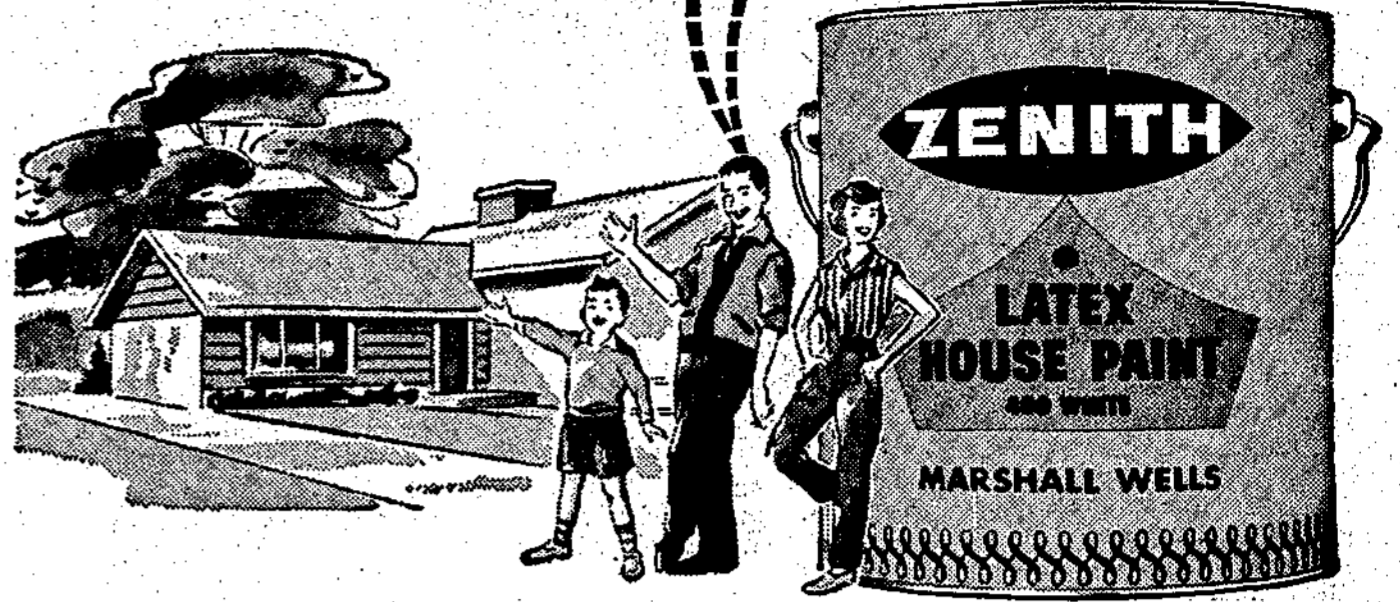

Parents should teach their children to avoid unnecessary hazards in camping, and also what remedies should be used for accidents. A simple First Aid Kit should be carried when traveling. Keep it in a locked cupboard with medicines out of the reach of tiny children.

These recipes are winners!

On the evening of June 8, finals of the Electrical Cooking Contest, sponsored by the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority in conjunction with the electrical dealers Gibsons Electric and Gibsons Hardware, were held in the Gibsons Electric showroom on the Sunshine Coast Highway, Gibsons, B.C.

A total of 15 contestants took part during the four week contest, and each contestant represented an organization of the community.

The judges advised that the entries were very close, with very few points separating them, and it was finally decided to award two first and two second prizes.

The first prize winners were Mrs. Mary Ström, representing the Arbutus Rebekah Lodge and Mrs. Celia Fisher and Mrs. Lenora Inglis, representing the Gibsons St. Mary's Hospital Auxiliary. A cheque for $20 was presented to each of these organizations.

The second prize winners were Mrs. Wynn Stewart and Mrs. Agness Harding, representing the United Church Women's Auxiliary and the Misses Patricia Smith and Carol Mylroie, representing Job Daughters, Bethel No. 28. A cheque for $10 was presented to each of these organizations.

The judging was made by Mrs. Jean Wyngaert and Mr. Dick Kennett. Mr. F. H. (Bob) Norminton, district manager for the Hydro Authority, presented mementos to the two judges for their able assistance and co-operation.

The results of the contest were gratifying, and it is expected that a larger and more interesting contest will be held next year.

To complete the evening, refreshments were served by Mrs. D. Hauka and Mrs. E. Anderson on behalf of the dealers.

Here are the winning recipes:

A public relations job

A Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade, is defined as being "a voluntary association of citizens banded together to promote the commercial, industrial, agricultural and civic welfare of the community and district in which it is located."

It is apparent that, in playing this vital role, the Chamber is involved with various "publics." Under the general heading of "public relations" it has three principal areas of contact:

- (a) Its own members.
- (b) Local citizens.
- (c) The municipal council.

Achieving good public relations is simply a matter of observing the Golden Rule - do as you would be done by.

This is true just as much in the case of an organization as of an individual. Good public relations can enhance the esteem and regard in which your Chamber is held. A comprehensive, well thought-out program - backed by sincerity and effort - will help ensure a good reputation for your Chamber.

Five essential ingredients for the successful implementation of a p.r. program are:

1. A strong board of directors.
2. Top level agreement on policy and objectives.
3. A well rounded program of activities based on the needs of the community and within the capacity of the Chamber.
4. Committees adequate in number, size and leadership to execute this program.
5. A competent manager or secretary, depending upon circumstances.

In public relations, the important point is the viewpoint. Look into an imaginary mirror and see your Chamber as others see it. Responsibility for a public relations program starts with the organization's board of directors, but does not stop there. It extends throughout the entire membership. Each member is an individual custodian in whose hands rest the chances of success or failure of the program.

In due course, the practice of good public relations simply becomes the habit of everyone in the Chamber doing the right thing at the right time in the right place. The results will be shown by what its various publics think and say, about the organization.

Sechelt News

BY MRS. A.A. FRENCH

All the world and his wife were here to see the Bounty which anchored off Sechelt for some hours cleaning up before taking off for Vancouver. A number of the school children had a look too. Many pictures were taken for future use.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Turner are back from Vancouver where they attended the convention banquet of the I.O.O.F. at the Commodore. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Smith are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anger of South Burnaby.

Newcomers to West Sechelt and planning on residing permanently are Mr. and Mrs. David Hayward of New Westminster.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pehota christened at St. Hilda's Anglican church with Rev. Denis Harris officiating were named David Bruce and Karen Lynne. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. J. Ewart of San Jose, California, for whom Mr. and Mrs. R. Clayton were proxy and Cpl. and Mrs. P. B. Payne of Sechelt.
