Further phone rate boost asked

The B.C. Telephone Company has applied to the board of transport commissioners for Canada for an increase in rates to provide the revenue required for the payment of income taxes in full each year, instead of on a deferred basis.

The company's application is the latest move in the complicated discussion between the federal government and certain utilities over how income taxes should be handled in determining rates.

Following are examples of present and proposed telephone rates for Gibsons and Sechelt with present rates in brackets:

Residence: — Individual (3.40) 3.90, two-party (2.70) 3.05, multi-party (2.30) 2.65; Business: — Individual (5.60) 7.15, multi-party (3.65) 4.70.

For Pender Harbour:
Residence: — Individual (3.30) 3.90, two-party (2.60) 3.05, multi1party (2.25) 2.65; Business: — Individual (5.35) 7.15, multi-party ,3.55) 4.70.

The requested rates would increase total annual revenues of the company by $5,754,000, or 12.6%

The latest application follows a judgment of the board in July in which it authorized the company to increase its exchange and long distance rates by an average of 2.94 percent. This resulted is additional revenue of approximatelyy $1,300,000, less than one third of the revenue requested in an amendment to the company's application of last April 2.

The board has announced that a public hearing will be held in Vancouver on November 17. The increase asked for by the Company would be largely used for paying income taxes, but would also cover the effect of a full year's wage increases.

Of the total amount requested in the latest application, $5,031,000 would come from exchange service and $723,000 from long distance service.

Exchange service rentals would go up an average of 17.6 percent monthly, and long distance rates would be increased an average of 5.1 percent.

Basic long distance rates would be increased by five cents on station-to-station day calls over 26 miles, and increases would vary on other types of calls.

The application also proposes another adjustment in the rate grouping plan under which rates are set according to the number of telephones served by each exchange. Under the new plan, Groups I and II, which include from one to 500 and from 501 to 1000 telephones, respectively would be combined in a new Group II, with the exception of 17 small exchanges which do not have continuous (24-hour) service. These would constitute a new Group I.

The Income Tax Act permits a utility company to temporarily defer payment of part of its taxes, which enables it to use this money for capital purposes. However, the cabinet ruled this year that any revenue set aside by a company to cover payment of the deferred income taxes later on could not be considered as an expense for rate-making purposes. This applies to only those companies coming under the jurisdiction of the board of transport commissioners. The B.C. Telephone Company and The Bell Telephone Company of Canada are therefore subject to this ruling.

Companies under other regulatory bodies such as the Public Utilities Commission of British Columbia, are not subject to this ruling, and the full amount of income tax, including the amount set aside for future payment, is allowed as a cost for rate-making purposes.

The B.C. Telephone Company and the Bell Telephone Company contend that they must provide for the future liability which results from deferring the payment of a portion of the taxes. Otherwise their ability to raise new capital for expansion and improvement would be seriously endangered. Unable to get increased rates, on the basis of tax deferment, the Bell Company has now filed a new application for increased rates to enable it to pay its taxes in full each year, in which case no liability is created. The B.C. Telephone Company has now followed suit.

Concerts arranged

Overture Concerts has organized for another season of music with Les Hempsall of Port Mellon as president with R.L. Cloke, music instructor at Elphinstone high school as secretary-treasurer.

Richard McKibbin in turning over the presidency to Mr. Hempsall said that in view of the fact the organization was peninsula wide he was of the opinion it should be headed by someone outside the Gibsons area.

There were some 20 or more persons at the annual meeting in the United Church basement Thursday night of last week and at that meeting plans were laid for the future season which will have three concerts.

Discussion centred on the type of artists desired with deferment until such time as it can be seen such bookings can be arranged. In the meantime, organization work will be going ahead towards a quick campaign for signing up members.

One important fact pointed out by Mrs. P. Polson, from head office of Overture Concerts was that membership in the Peninsula organization also gave the right to members to attend Overture Concert events anywhere in Canada if they happened to be in the city where a certain event was taking place. This gave the holder of a membership a chance to take in a specific concert in Vancouver if they so chose and would not affect any of the concerts held on the Sunshine Coast.

Merchants meet

An emergency meeting of the Sunshine Coast Merchants Credit association will be held next Tuesday evening, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in Peninsula Hotel and all members are requested to attend.

The meeting has been called to consider the future of the association and those who desire to attend should inform the president, Norman Watson at phone Sechelt 1 or the secretary, Sheila Little at phones Gibsons 162 or 231.

No problems says Sechelt

Sechelt denies having a problem:

A heading on a story in last week's paper which became confused somewhere between the writing of it and its appearance in the paper stated definitely "Sechelt has new problem."

Various members of the village commission have been striving to find it and some of the ratepayers are keeping a weather eye open but so far no one has come up with a new problem.

As regards the heading in the paper last week it can be attributed to gremlins who during dry weather become irritable and do things of an unusual nature. It has rained since and they have quietened down.

NEW PHONE BOOK

A new telephone directory became effective Wednesday which shows an increase in size over the book issued last year. There is also more information concerning long distance rates. The cover is a color job with the Centennial theme depicted on the Vancouver directory.

Trees and poles down power cut

The big wind at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of last week caused considerable power line damage from Langdale to Port Mellon. Five or six trees were felled across the highway bringing down power lines. In Hillside vicinity two poles were snapped and wires were pulled from their insulators for approximately a mile.

Langdale was without power for a period and longer periods without power were reported at Longview, Hillside and Williamson's Landing.

B.C. Electric and Hume and Rumble employees worked through the night to restore power and put the lines back in proper shape.

At Port Mellon some roof sheathing was peeled upwards on the recovery building and many tarpaulins on chip piles were blown off.

Those working on the power lines worked through the night and well into Thursday before the greater part of service was restored.

Insurance to continue

The first monthly meeting of the Gibsons Elementary PTA held Sept. 15 at 8 p.m. in Mr. Child's room was well attended.

Mrs. Spencer, the newly elected president, introduced the executive. Mr. Child, principal introduced the teaching staff.

Mrs. Clements presented past-president pins to Mrs. Hough and Mrs. Inglis who have given much time and effort to PTA work.

The PTA decided to continue the present group insurance, covering school children. This policy proved favorable to all parents present despite the fact the rates have increased from $1.50 to $2.00 per child.

It was decided a tea will be held for Grade one parents around the first of October, date will be announced later.

Honor class for the evening was Mrs. MacMillen's room. A motion was passed that in the future two attendance prizes be given, one for primary and one for intermediate.

Many parents who were disappointed when unable to obtain PTA calendars last year can get one this year as 100 have been ordered. Orders may be placed with Mrs. W. Scott.

Mrs. Lyons was voted as regional representative to the confederation.

All PTA members are urged to attend the first conference meeting of the term, Sat. Sept. 20 at 10 a.m. in the new Pender Harbour high school. Take a packed lunch, tea and coffee will be served. Contact Mrs. Clement regarding transportation.

Sechelt's first settler now 95

Sechelt's first settler enjoyed a quiet birthday with his family recently. Mr. T.J. Cook who has now passed his 95th birthday has had a varied career. He was at one time on the household staff of the Empress Eugenie of France and sailed the seven seas in his youth.

He settled in Sechelt in 1894 with his family and built a log house on the property which many years later became the home of Bryce Fleck and is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. McDermid.

Mr. Cook was justice of the peace for many years and is still spoken of with affection by old time Indians who remember him for his kindness to them in the early days.

He has two daughters, Mrs. Sam Dawe of Sechelt and Mrs. Henry Whittaker of Pender Harbour, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

JRC week comes next

Junior Red Cross week in Canada will be from Sept. 21 to 28.

During that week, youngsters will be enrolled in over 38,000 Branches in school class rooms in every province from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

Next year the Red Cross world will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of the Red Cross idea and junior sections of over 45 million boys and girls in 71 nations will participate. Here in Canada, the Canadian Red Cross Society will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the granting of its charter and juniors will play an important role in plans to commemorate the occasion.

One of the features of the 1959 celebrations will be an international Junior Red Cross Study Centre to be held next August at the University of Toronto. Canadian high school Juniors will be hosts to Junior Red Cross representatives from more than 30 nations in all parts of the world.

Civil Defence day Friday

National Civil Defence Day falls on Sept. 19 according to the latest Civil Defence Circular which contains a message from Hon. W.D. Black, provincial secretary.

In his message, Mr. Black says National Civil Defence Day is designed to bring home to people of Canada the great gulf that exists between present conditions and those which existed even a decade ago. Pioneer forebears learned how to protect themselves, their families and possessions the hard way, by bitter and often tragic experience. Not so today, Mr. Black writes. Federal, provincial and community Civil Defence organizations are ready and eager to help, advise and train people in the fundamentals of self-preservation.

The day will be marked across Canada by various means of putting across the Civil Defence idea and Mr. Black finishes by saying "you should prepare yourself now or it will be too late."

It is quite likely the Royal Commission on Education will be one of the topics to be discussed. There will be a joint meeting in the morning and for the afternoon session the teachers will meet separately and the PTA will hold its own meeting.

A A shells fall around Roberts Ck

Anti-aircraft shells are reported to have fallen in Roberts Creek area during a recent practice firing in Georgia Strait. Investigation has not produced any actual casings but plenty of people report they heard or saw shells land. Some point out that winds in upper levels could have been responsible for the shells being "off course."

The following letter should clinch the argument that something did happen in Roberts Creek on the day of the shoot.

Editor: Referring to an arday, Sept. 12 regarding, as ticle in the Vancouver Sun, Frithey put it, "The shelling of Roberts Creek." This is not a joke to be brushed aside. I can also testify that shells came over Beach Ave. on Tuesday, Sept. 9 when I was working in my garden. A shell whistled so close over my head that I ran for shelter. Having been in France and England during the war I have heard many and for the moment I was really scared. Now I see the navy denies that it was them. Well, who was it? We would like to know.

Mrs. J. Monrufet.

Another new home

A $5,000 home will be built on Lot 15, Block E, district lot 685 by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Roy. The house will be 22 x 26 ft., four rooms and one storey. A building permit to allow construction was issued Tuesday night at the municipal council meeting.

William and Jean Duncan were given a permit to build an 8 x 16 ft. addition to cost $450. Eli Feidler was given a permit for a $500, 20 x 22 ft. workshop and chicken house.

A Court of Revision on the Voters list for the village of Gibsons will be held Nov. 1 in the Municipal hall. Chairman A.E. Ritchey and Commissioners C.P. Ballentine and Reg Adams will sit as the court Any corrections or omissions may be rectified through this court.

The outside area fire department which aided the Gibsons Fire Department at the time of the Bal Block fire has asked for replacement of a 50 ft. section of hose damaged to the point where it is now useless. To this the commission agreed.

Accounts totalling $2,712.52 were ordered paid. Excavating for the water line on V.L.A. property took up $2,400; other water service accounts totalled $300.84 and the remaining $11.68 covered roads and fire protection.

Scholarship of $150 presented

Miss Sandra Arthur, dressed in her white graduation gown was guest of honor Sept. 10 at a potluck dinner given by Headlands Service club. Mrs. Rees, president of the club, presented Miss Arthur with a scholarship of $150 to assist her further education. At the request of Mrs. Rees, Sandra again gave her valedictory address, which was so well received on graduation night.

Mr. W.S. Potter, principal of Elphinstone High School expressed his appreciation and the appreciation of the school for the scholarships and prizes presented by the Headlands Service Club and the interest shown in education.

Miss Arthur leaves this week to start training as a nurse.

About 50 members of the club and friends attended.

How about it Gibsons?

Gibsons area people must face a cold fact, one which should not be allowed to exist. It concerns St. Mary's Hospital at Garden Bay.

This hospital is seeking funds through a drive in the Sunshine Coast area. The hospital needs these funds because the government allowance and the finances collected from patients are not enough for improvements.

Why should Gibsons area people be informed of this? Well the harsh fact is that so far Gibsons district people have contributed $10.

Hospital records show that two-thirds of the patients using the hospital so far this year have come from the Gibsons area. Sechelt has contributed $419. Halfmoon Bay has collected $74. Roberts Creek has sent in $183. Gibsons has contributed $10.

The areas covered in the above are not confined to the named place. For instance Sechelt includes Selma Park, West Sechelt and other regions.

The hospital needs $3,000 for needed improvements.

Just what will Gibsons people do about this?

The Coast News offers no advice but hopes the hospital campaign will be receiving cash or cheques almost immediately in letters bearing a Gibsons postmark. Mark your letter "Hospital Fund" and let that warm glow experienced by cheerful givers invade Gibsons area.

Unexplained magnetism

The guileless expression on a baby's face tugs at the heartstrings of the most hardened cynic. Why? Is it not that the infant exemplifies all the wonders of Creation and the greatness of the Creator?

"And God created man in His own image." The infant child we see is free from all sin and untouched by the temtations and evils of the world around us.

Who has not felt the urge to fondle a puppy, a kitten or a new-born lamb? In fact,the very young in all forms of life exert an unexplained magnetism on all of us.

Unconsciously, it must be that in the innocence of the newborn we see ourselves as we would wish to be — pure in heart and void of all evil thoughts or desires. At the same time our maternal or paternal instincts are aroused.

And just what are these instincts? Are they not the spirit of love and goodness implanted in all of us by the Heavenly Father?

One would not, with soiled hands or clothing, pick up a baby. Why then, do we not pick of the threads of God-given life with clean heart and knit them into the pattern which He has intended? D.A.D.

No dull moments aboard Empress while at sea

ARTICLE 4

(By Thomas Humphries)

For the next six days we enjoyed the hospitality of the 'Empress of England" on the Atlantic and there was never a dull moment. Breakfast at 8 a.m., morning snack at 11 on deck, lunch at 1, afternoon tea in our deck chairs on the covered promenade at 4 and dinner at 7. Strange as it may seem we were always ready for a meal.

There was a picture show every day; games on deck; music in the lounge; tote on the ship's run for the 24 hours ending noon each day; horse races with wooden horses moved according to the throw of the dice; bingo each evening in the lounge and dancing to the ship's orchestra to finish up the day at midnight. The trouble was that the ship's clock was advanced an hour each day at midnight and 12 o'clock midnight became 1 a.m., which was quite too late for us in spite of the fact that we had the odd snooze during the day in our deck chairs; so we left the dancing severely alone.

The Atlantic behaved remarkably well. We had a little rough weather and some fog off the coast of Newfoundland but the following days were calm and sunny until we reached the Irish Sea when we had some more fog which delayed our arrival in Liverpool a few hours. Arriving in the Mersey we had an early lunch on the ship about 12 o'clock and docked about 2. Then began the fun. Everyone seemed to be as anxious to leave the ship as they had been anxious to come aboard at Montreal, and with 750 passengers trying to get through immigration and customs as quickly as possible it was somewhat of a bedlam.

Once we had satisfied the Immigration Officer that we were good Canadian citizens returning temporally to the land of our birth we did not have much trouble locating our baggage (luggage in England), which was all sorted out on the dock under the alphabetical letter corresponding with one's surname.

Customs passed our suit cases without opening them and as we had checked them through to our hotel in London, we had no more trouble with them. It had been a arranged from the ship for the boat train for London to leave at 2.30 and tickets had been sold on the ship and British Railways presumably advised as to the number of passengers travelling to London. However, owing to the delay in arrival at Liverpool the departure of the train had been postponed to 5.30 for which the British Railways could not be blamed.

British Railways were, however entirely responsible for the inconvenience and bad impression given tourists arriving in Britain, many of them visiting Britain for the first time. caused by the fact that the train was short one full coach of accommodating the passengers travelling to London. No first class coach was available to meet this emergency and an empty dining car was shunted in to take the overflow. Furthermore, the coaches making up the train must have dated back to the early part of the century and the two dining cars on the train proved to be absolutely inadequate to take care of the demand.

Altogether we got a very bad impression of the socialized railway system of Great Britain from our experience on the boat train. We spent an uncomfortable two hours in the Dockside station waiting for the train to start and would have liked to pass on the time by having a cup of tea, but no station restaurant was available. When we did start and a dining car steward came round the train we found that we could only get seats for the second sitting and it proved to be 8.30 before we got in the dining car, fuming and famished. The food was poor but we were so hungry that we could have eaten anything.

We arrived at Euston Station in London at 11 p.m., shared a taxi with some friends from the boat and reached the Cumberland Hotel at Marble Arch in due course. There we found our reservation for two weeks' stay in order due to the fact that we had sent a deposit before leaving home. It was a good thing that we had taken this precaution as our friends were not so fortunate. They had no reservation and were only able to get accommodation for one night.

Buick Pioneers new Hardtop Styling

General Motors of Canada, Limited, has introduced its 1959 Buick cars. They feature completely new styling described as "a whole new concept in automotive design."

The entire line of 17 models shows a lavish use of glass with huge compound windshields that curve back into the roof, eliminating wind noise when the car is in motion. Four-door hardtops feature a giant curved glass "picture window" in the rear.

All models are lower and wider than last year and all series have been given new names.

The new cars will go on display in dealer showrooms this Friday.

The 1959 Buicks come in three series: LeSabre, the lowest priced in the line; Invicta, the outstanding performer, and Electra, the luxury series.

LeSabre and Invicta are mounted on a 123-inch wheelbase and measure 217.4 inches in length. Electra models are available in two overall lengths. The Electra is mounted on a 126.3-inch wheelbase and has an overall length of 220.6 inches. Companion models, Electra 225, also are mounted on a 126.3-inch wheelbase and measure 225.4 inches in length.

Hardtop models are under 55 inches in height, but headroom remains approximately the same as last year.

The new styling is highlighted by "delta-wing" rear fenders that flare outward at a jaunty angle. The twin headlights are canted at an angle to carry out the design in the front end.

The new four-door hardtop design features a flat line with a slender pillar behind each rear door. The area behind the rear door pillars is encased in a huge, curved "picture window" enclosing the rear passenger compartment.

In two-door hardtops the rear window curves up into the roof. The roof itself has been shortened to give rear seat passengers the illusion of sitting in the open.

A new kind of air ride, a combination of air springs in the rear and coil springs in front, is optional on all models.

Durable and powerful electric windshield wipers, which maintain a constant speed, are standard on all models.

Aluminum front wheel brake drums, are standard on all models in 1959. In addition, air-cooled brakes are offered for the first time on the rear. The new rear brake drums have 60 fins which increase air turbulence for smoother stopping and longer lining life.

Power steering, which is standard on Electra models and optional on all others, has been improved so that less than two and one-half pounds of effort is required to turn the wheel. However, the driver's feel of the road, so important to safety, has been retained.

An innovation this year is the new positive traction differential which practically eliminates the possibility of getting stuck in snow or mud. The new differential, which is optional on all series, automatically delivers power to the rear wheel having the greatest traction.

The new "magic mirror" exterior finish, which maintains its original luster for years, is standard on all 1959 Buicks and is offered in 13 attractive colors.

Decorator co-ordinated interior trims in nylon, broadcloth, cordaveen and leather are designed to complement new exterior colors. A wide selection of color and trim combinations are available for each model.

Weddings

DAVIS—ROSE

A wedding of interest to many in Alberta and B.C. was held in East Burnaby United church on Aug. 23rd when Marilyn Rose, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Turner of Sechelt, became the bride of Robert Davis, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis of New Westminster. Rev. Evan Fullerton performed the ceremony.

The dark-haired bride looked lovely in a floor-lengtth gown of Chantilly lace and tulle; with a finger-tip veil misted from a cap of sequins and brilliants. She carried red minature rose buds and white carnations.

Mrs. Grace Fennell, matron of honor, wore a coral dress of tulle over taffeta. Misses Helen and Yvonne Garry, school mates of the bride were brides maids. Their gowns were princess style of white embossed nylon over aqua taffeta. All attendants wore white feather hats and carried crescent-bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Little Sharon and Brian Wood, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. Sharon wearing a floor-length gown of white lace and tulle, with flowers in her hair. She carried a minature bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mr. B. Ono was best man and ushers were the groom's two brothers, Walter and Henry Davis.

At the reception in Eagles Hall in New Westminster Mr. Alf Garry proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. Collin Wood was master of ceremonies.

The newly weds will live in Haney after a short honeymoon trip on Vancouver Island.

Fish week

National Fish Week — September 22 to 28 will stress the value and variety of fisheries products available to the people of North America.

In B.C. the Fisheries Association, the Fish Wholesalers and the retail trade will specially feature the range of fish from the B.C. industry.

NURSES!!!

All graduate nurses on the Sechelt Peninsula are invited to a meeting to be held in the Nurses' Residence, Pender Harbor, Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 8.30 p.m. for the purpose of forming a local chapter in this area.

There are many things which the nurses could do as a group for the general welfare of the community in which they live. Let us get together, meet each other, and talk it over.

Notaries plan convention

The second annual convention of The Society of Notaries Public of British Columbia will be held at Harrison Hot Springs on Sept. 22, 23 and 24 and 250 notaries and their wives are expected to attend.

Three of the oldest practising notaries in British Columbia will be honored at the opening luncheon. These notaries are Harry Fooks of Agassiz, whose commission is dated April 1, 1910; Jack Loutet of North Vancouver, whose commission is dated 1909 and who was the first president of the society and S. F. Marks of New Westminster, whose commission is dated June 16, 1906.

Guest speakers will include P. R. Brissenden, Q.C., on "The Notary and the Law"; H. L. Robinson, registrar, Land Registry office, Vancouver, on "Mistakes and Misfeasances"; Hon. H. H. Stevens, who will instal the new officers of the society, and Attorney-General Robert Bonner, who will respond to the toast to the Province of British Columbia.

Panel discussions will be featured each day. The panels moderator will be Magistrate A. Johnston and amongst the panel members will be T. W. Carlow, deputy registrar of the Land Registry Office, New Westminster, and L. S. Parsons, barrister & solicitor.

An attractive program has also been arranged for the ladies attending the convention, highlighted by a fashion show which will be held in the beautiful Copper Room of the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel. There will be a golf tourney for men.

H. Hargreaves is president of the society; W. C. Atherton, vice-president; and A. S. Matthew, M.L.A., secretary. A. B. Jacobson is convention chairman.

Roberts Creek folk active

With the general exodus of the summer folk from the Creek it might seem to the casual eye that it has gone into a state of hibernation. Not so. The various clubs and organizations are getting under way, among them the Red Cross which will resume meetings at the Haslam cottage on Thursday. All past and new members should have a busy and profitable year ahead. The Improvement Association has had a meeting in the Club House. It was well attended and it also has plans for a busy season. Eastern Star sewing groups are underway as are church workers, preparing for fall bazaars. Music lessons have started again, and there are faint rumbles from the Players' Club.

Bears visit Roberts Creek

Mrs. Dick Reeves saw two black bears recently under her fruit trees eating apples. She called her husband but by the time he got there the bears had gone.

Mr. Shook also had a visit from the bears and they broke some of his trees. Mr. Ralph Smith, driving along the road saw one of the bears and they looked each other over then the bear ambled off.

All this is within a half a mile of the Roberts Creek Post Office.

Plan to clear? see BCE men

Persons planning to clear land, blast or fall trees near B.C. Electric power lines are asked to advise the nearest company office so precautions can be taken.

Each year when the weather is right for land clearing, some people are inconvenienced by interruptions to their power service because trees are dropped across power lines, or the lines are broken by blasting operations.

Police Court

In Magistrate Johnston's court, Gerald Gordon Fredericks and Norman Earl Wolansky, both of Gibsons, were each fined $10 for operating cars with defective mufflers.

Percy Alan Lee, Gibsons, was fined $5 for illegal parking on Marine Drive.

It cost Harold Pearson, Roberts Creek $10 for operating a truck without a rear view mirror.

Keith Jacklin, Halfmoon Bay a minor found operating a car without proper insurance, was fined $10.

A juvenile was fined $20 and his driver's license suspended for driving without due care and attention, while Leonard Erlandson, Vancouver, paid $30 for a similar offence.

Pietro Ditasto, James Madison, Peebo Moccin, Sidney Evans, and Walter Dyke, all of Vancouver, Edwin Reid Madeira Park and James Blake, Gibsons, were each fined $25 for speeding.

The value of the production of pulp and paper in British Columbia during 1957 exceeded $231,500,000. Of this 58.5% went to the U.S.A., 16% to off-shore markets and 25.5% to Canadian markets.

Nurse 40 years

Hilda Louise Whitcomb, 72, died Sept. 14 in Vancouver General hospital. She lived in the Donaldson home at the end of Seaview ave., after Mrs. Donaldson moved from Gibsons. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 1 p.m. with the service being held in St. Bartholomew's Anglican church with Rev. D.F. Harris officiating. Burial was made in Seaview Cemetery. Graham's Funeral Home was in charge.

Hilda Whitcombe had been a to Gibsons from Victoria a couple of years ago. She leaves nurse for 40 years and moved two sisters in Canada, two sisters and a brother in England and one brother in the United States.

It was Mrs. Whitcombe who made the $20 donation to the Gibsons Firemen's Fund through the Coast News before she died. Some months ago a fire occurred in her home and she was quite happy with the way in which the firemen took care to leave no trace of dirt inside.

VISITS PARENTS

Flotilla plans visit

Weather being favorable Friday evening members of the Vancouver Kiwanis club will visit Gibsons in their cruisers as a conclusion to their annual fish derby in Howe Sound.

This will be a red letter day for the Gibsons Kiwanis who will be hosts for this annual visit. The incoming flotilla of visiting boats made an impressive sight when they arrived last year.

Last Sunday was church parade for the Kiwanis at St. Bartholomew's Anglican church and the turnout was gratifying.

This week's Tuesday night meeting saw members of the Kerrisdale club as visitors to the local club. They brought their own entertainment and provided an enjoyable evening.

Forestry courses

Forests, forestry and the forest industry will be dealt with in a series of 12 Thursday evening lectures starting Oct. 2, in room 216, Buchanan building, University of B.C. campus. The fee for this university extension course is $10.

Instructors will be drawn from industry, government and the university and topics to be discussed include the forest resources of British Columbia, uses of forest land, trends in manufacturing, the protection of forest lands and marketing.

Applications for enrolment should be made not later than Sept. 16. Further information may be obtained from UBC extension department, Alma 4600.

A course designed primarily for employees of the hardwood industy is included in a second series of evening lectures starting Wed., Jan. 14.

Raffle winner

Mrs. C. Berg, Shaw Rd., Gibsons, was winner of the Sunshine Coast Fall Fair raffle of $50. This was announced at the meeting Wednesday night of last week in the Parish Hall where prizes were presented the winners of the various classes.

The hall was filled for the event and many of the awards were accepted by friends and neighbors of those unable to attend. The presentation of school classification awards will be made later at a school meeting to be arranged.

Have wheelchair

Arbutus Rebekah lodge No. 76 announces the wheel chair project is now complete. The committee in charge, Mrs. Christine Ritchey, Mrs. Violet Winegarden, Mrs. Dorothy Parnwell and Mrs. Alice Rees were given great credit as the result of their untiring efforts. They were faithfully supported by other members with card games, teas and other fund-raising ventures.

The wheel chair, now at the office of the Health Unit, is for any member of the community who finds the need for its use.

Lights changed

Adjustments to the street lighting system in Gibsons village have been made by B.C. Electric. The fixtures have been placed on longer mast arms and raised to make better use of the light.

Power company crews are converting the distribution lines in the northern portion of Gibsons Village from 2300 to 12,000 volts. This will improve service voltage in the district.

Nine power poles on Hall Road in Roberts Creek area have been moved to allow road widening and paving.

Park deadline

At the first meeting for the season of Sechelt Centennial Commission, Chairman Capt. Sam Dawe was perturbed that the Hackett Park project was not completed at the deadline set by the commission.

He suggested the matter be investigated, and the members voted unanimously that the work must be completed quickly in order to conform to government regulation concerning Centennial projects.

Square dancing

Organized square dancing classes were started for the young teens by Maurice Hemstreet in the Sechelt Church Hall, Sept. 12.

The first class was well attended and many interested parents helped with the formasion voted to donate $5 per tions. The Recreation Commismonth for use of St. Hilda's Church Hall.

Dr. Playfair sends thanks

The letter which follows was received from Dr. John Playfair who left St. Mary's Hospital at Garden Bay recently for a post at Minehead, Somerset, England. It is addressed to "All our friends on the Sechelt Peninsula" and reads:

"Mary and I decided the best way to thank all our peninsula friends for their farewell gifts and greetings would be to write this open letter to the Coast News. It meant a great deal to both of us to feel we had made so many friends during our stay in the area.

"We had a very enjoyable trip through Canada before departing overseas. We spent a few days on Vancouver Island, a week in Calgary, six days near Winnipeg, three weeks at Muskoka Lakes and three days in Montreal before flying to London, August 18.

"We are situated in a picturesque seaside town of 7,500 people which is at present teeming with vacationers. The surrounding area offers a vast network of sightseeing roads and nearby is famous Exmoor of Lorna Doone fame. We miss the mountains but it is a pleasure to see beautifully green grass and well kept hedges and gardens.

"We used the money so generously given us to help buy a little English car and we are now using every bit of spare time touring this lovely country. Right hand drive took some getting used to but we haven't cracked up yet.

"We hope we will soon be able to visit all the people whose names and addresses were so kindly given us before leaving Canada. Thank you again for all your kindnesses on behalf of myself, Mary and Ingrid."
