No Port Mellon toll on automatic phones

Automatic telephone service by about the first of the New Year will be installed in Port Mellon and area, B.F. Abrams district commercial manager of B.C. Telephones announced Tuesday night at a meeting of Gibsons Village Commission.

He expects there will be about 100 telephones installed in the area and that the service will be tied into the Gibsons exchange which would mean no toll charges between Gibsons and Port Mellon.

This, Mr. Abrams said, would be pleasing to merchants of Gibsons who, he added, would be getting automatic phone service by June 1960 when equipment now on order would be available.

At Sept. 1 there were 830 through the Gibsons exchange and with additions between now and the first of the year it is expected there will be about 940 to 950 phones through Gibsons exchange.

Businessmen will welcome the fact there will not be a toll charge between Gibsons and Port Mellon. At present there are only nine telephones on the line to and in Port Mellon, Mr. Abrams said. He was accompanied by Robert Robertson of Mr. Abrams' office in North Vancouver. Reason for their appearing before the village commission was to get the village OK on the new service. This was given unanimously.

CCF Union conference

A C.C.F.-Trade Unions Conference will be held at Gibsons on Nov. 15 and 16 at Danny's Motel, starting at 10 a.m.

The conference will draw C.C.F. and Trade Union delegates, from the constituencies of Lillooet, Mackenzie and North Vancouver to discuss the advisability of forming a new political party in Canada. No decision will be made at this conference, but there will be a free exchange of views between delegates.

The conference is being held pursuant to resolutions passed both at the national and provincial level of both the C.C.F. party and the Canadian Labour Congress.

Tony Gargrave, M.L.A., conference co-ordinator, said, "This conference may be the forerunner of a new political alignment in Canada. It may well produce the only fundamental change in Canadian politics since the 1930's."

Over 100 delegates and visiting dignitaries will assemble at the Gibsons conference. Hazen Argue M.P., the C.C.F. parliamentary leader at Ottawa, will be at the conference to address a public banquet Saturday evening at 7 p.m. The public will be invited to attend the banquet which will be the high-light of the conference.

Some room for more members

Overture Concerts Association reports room for a few more members for this season's concerts.

At the last executive meeting the situation was analyzed and it was revealed that the number of members obtained was up to par but some more could be included in the membership to help obtain the best possible type of artists for the concerts. First concert will be the Chanticleers quartet in the High School Auditorium, Thurs., Nov. 27.

POSTPONEMENT

Owing to the Order of Eastern Star requiring the School Hall Thursday night to prepare for the Friday bazaar, there will be no Welfare Fund bingo Thursday night. The bingo bing will be resumed on the next Thursday, Nov. 20 at 8 o'clock, thus the advertisement on page two should be ignored.

Scouts annual meeting

Scout leaders, friends and prominent citizens will be guests of Sunshine Coast Scouts and Cubs at the annual dinner meeting and social evening in Danney's Potlatch Room, Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided while a guest speaker will highlight the gathering.

In a report to the monthly meeting of the council Les Chamberlin revealed plans to contact the department of recreation and conservation for a Scout camp site "somewhere along the shores of Sakinaw Lake."

Must elect to board

Under the revised Public Schools act the village municipality is now responsible for election of one village representative to the School Board, so stated a letter from the department of education in Victoria which was read to Gibsons Village Commission Tuesday night.

The letter also stated that owing to this year being a transitional year between the former and present system it was advisable to let the present representative for the village, Mrs. A.E. Ritchey, continue as representative until the end of December of 1959. After that date, representatives will have to be elected.

Accounts totalling $190.62 were passed, $63.25 for Workmen's Compensation costs, $68.84 for water, $52.38 for general expenses and $6.15 for roads.

Nurses plan panel discussion

The second meeting of the Sunshine Coast Registered Nurses' group took place Oct. 28 in the Public Health office, Gibsons, with 16 nurses present. A lively discussion took place on programs for future meetings.

The next meeting will be held Tues., Nov. 25 at the Sechelt Elementary School at 8 p.m. The program to be presented will be a panel discussion on the problems and disposition of the mentally retarded child.

Speakers will be two members of the staff of Woodlands School for Retarded Children at New Westminster, and two members from Vancouver of the Provincial Association for Retarded Children. The public is urged to attend this meeting to hear these speakers.

Mr. Chamberlin said there is a possibility the government still owns land along the lake which could be utilized as a site.

Scouts and cubs for the next year or two will make summer camps wherever it is feasible. "But," said Mr. Chamberlin, "we have to continue our search for a permanent site."

Don McNab and Norman Burley of Sechelt were appointed a committee in charge of entertainment for the annual meeting.

Ray Rhodes and Ray Kruse were representatives from the Kiwanis Club.

More than $600,000 has gone into building operations along the Sunshine Coast to the end of September this year and most of it into new homes.

This figure is the result of a B.C. Electric survey in the villages of Sechelt and Gibsons and the unorganized territories adjacent. The figure does not include improvements made at the pulp mill in Port Mellon operated by Canadian Forest Products.

For the nine months of the year $72,300 was spent on building in Sechelt, $79,028 in Gibsons and $507,000 in the unorganized area from Hopkins

Harbor improvements outlined by minister

The minister of public works Hon. Howard C. Green, has announced that a contract for $84,785.98 had been awarded to Greenlees Piledriving Company Limited of Vancouver for harbour improvements at Gibsons Landing. The company submitted the lowest bid on the project in response to the department's advertising for public tenders. Specified completion date is June 22, 1959.

Two 9 ft. by 40 ft. log floats and 12 mooring piles and seven fender piles will be removed from the existing work. An area 50 feet wide by 460 feet long will be dredged to a depth 8 feet below local low water.

Fire burns boat works

Garden Bay Boat Works, owned by H.J. Insley was completely destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock Saturday evening. The loss is reported to be in the region of $15,000.

Fire is believed to have started in the machine shop section but it is not known how flames broke out. Some tools were saved but the building was destroyed thus putting five men out of work.

When the fire broke out a bean supper and bingo session were underway in Madeira Park Hall. Some 40 persons forgot their bingo and jumped aboard the Columbia Mission boat John Antle along with Canon Greene and hurried over to help keep the fire under control. Beyond getting out some hand tools and suchlike, the rest of the equipment and building was destroyed.

Mr. Insley, proprietor, is not yet ready to make an announcement concerning future operations.

Hefty steer falls in well

"Ding, Dong, Dell, Pussy's in the well." Only this time it wasn't pussy but a hefty steer. "Who put him in?" Well he didn't tell us. Anyway into it he fell about nine o'clock on Thursday. Twenty feet down he went with his tootsies in six inches of mud and water.

"Who pulled him out?" Not little Johnny Stout. The RCMP officer decided that Inspector Chamberlin of the S.P.C.A. would know what to do and promptly phoned for him. He and his two helpers, Len Wray and George Webb were hampered by the darkness and lack of available equipment and seeing that the animal had room to stand and seemed reasonably comfortable reluctantly left the scene at 12:45 a.m.

Next morning bright and early back they went and with the aid of Eric Inglis' logging hoist out he came and sauntered nonchalantly away, apparently none the worse for a harrowing experience. Must have been a right well adjusted creature. The well was on the W.B. Porter property but the cow did not belong to Mr. Porter.

Landing to Pender Harbour area. All but about $150,000 of this has gone into the building of homes ranging from $5,000 to $10,000 or more. In the unorganized area alone $452,000 was spent on new homes.

The area is moving ahead so fast the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are reported to be considering building headquarters at two points in the area. Another progress indication is extension of Halfmoon Bay rural mail service from three times a week to daily and probable commencement of rural mail service in the area between Sechelt and Halfmoon Bay.

water section along the north easterly face of the wharhead measuring 179.4 feet will be constructed. Also included is the construction of a 150.2 ft. close pile breakwater section along the south easterly face of the wharhead, and the construction of 100 ft. and 200 ft. sections of "A" frame type timber breakwaters.

Approximately 470 lineal feet of 10 ft. wide timber structure and fibre glass pontoon floats will be built and moored. In addition a five by 50 ft. timber superstructure and fibre glass pontoon seaplane float will be constructed and moored, using a piling mooring system. Finally, alterations and the relocation of the existing 180 ft. log float will take place, again using a piling mooring system.

Plans and specifications were prepared by the Vancouver district office of the harbours and rivers engineering branch, Department of Public Works.

Special service at Port Mellon

Fourth annual observance of the dedication of Port Mellon Community church will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. David Donaldson, Gibsons Memorial United Church, will take charge of the service, assisted by Rev. H.J. Bevan who will deliver the sermon, Rev. E.F. Kemp who will take the bible reading and Canon H.U. Oswald of St. Bartholomew's Anglican church will offer prayers. Both Mr. Bevan and Mr. Kemp are retired United Church ministers who conducted services in the Port Mellon church.

The congregation through the church board invites the general public to this service.

Lounge opens

An innovation on the Sunshine Coast is offered with the opening by the Peninsula Hotel at Gibsons of a new cocktail lounge and banquet room. With the latter, the hotel is now equipped to handle dinners for clubs and organizations.

The new lounge is tastefully decorated in soft shades with indirect lighting. It seats 40 people.

Free movie

A free movie show will be given Friday night at 8 o'clock in the School Hall when the Ground Observer Corps will show pictures on air defence and atomic warfare.

There will also be a lecture by Flying Officer Pat Robbins on the effect of nuclear explosions and how the Ground Observer Corps fits into such a situation. The show will last about an hour-and-a-half.

HEADLANDS BAZAAR

The Headlands Service Club Bazaar held Tuesday in the United Church Hall was quite successful with the realization of $100.

Here are the building figures as collated monthly by B.C. Electric:

January	$106,000
February	55,100
March	110,000
April	55,500
May	65,300
June	45,020
July	76,150
August	56,900
September	88,350
Total	$658,320

It would appear from the figures that more building is started in the first three months, January to March than in the second three months from April to June. Total for the first three months is $271,100 and for the second three months $165,820. For the third quarter July, August and September the total was $221,400. The figure for the last quarter, October, November figure for the year to beyond and December should bring the the $800,000 mark.

One must also consider the money spent in the furnishing of new homes including equipment. This would mean that close to $800,000 will have been spent, mainly in home building along the Sunshine Coast this year.

Ski club will meet

The annual meeting of Mt. Elphinstone Ski Club will be held at the home of D.G. Poole in Granthams Landing, Wed., Nov. 19 at 8 p.m.

Members will hear annual reports from the executive and heads of committees. A tentative constitution will be presented for discussion and acceptance. Plans for enlargement of membership will be laid. The possibility of the installation of a ski-tow, and club transportation will be discussed.

The meeting will view colored movies, showing some remarkable and for the most part unintentional acrobatics of club members on skis. Coffee and sandwiches will be served.

Due to the effort of small but faithful work parties, the clubhouse on Mt. Elphinstone is now in the final stages of completion. "Gracious living" on the mountain, will, it is hoped, be a little less rustic this winter than last. It will still be primitive enough however, to satisfy the hardest outdoorsman.

The club would be grateful for the offer of any reasonably good, used furniture or fixtures. Old windows, sashes or doors would be particularly welcome. Contributors please phone Mrs. Barrie Stewart, Gibsons 59Q.

Though only members in good standing will have a vote on the various motions to be presented for consideration, the meeting itself is open to the public. Please attend if you are interested in skiing.

TEEN-AGER DEBATE

Support our teen-agers or condemn them? Which are we doing and why? Buzz-sessions will try to pin-point some faults and offer some constructive criticisms. Come out on Wed. Nov. 19 at 8 p.m., Roberts Creek School, to P.T.A. You will not talk alone.

Public meeting on cows

At the Old Age Pensioners Organization meeting next Monday, Nov. 17 the important matter of animals that are allowed to roam at large and destroy the gardens of members will be discussed.

This meeting will be open to the public and all are invited to take part in the discussion. Tom Hughes of the S.P.C.A., Vancouver has announced he will attend the meeting.

This is a matter that concerns everyone living in the district and it is hoped all interested will be present at the meeting in the Kinsmen's Club at 2 p.m.

As it is open session day all interested are welcome, re-

Payne meets veterans

Representatives of various Legion branches and Women's Auxiliaries heard W.H. Payne, M.P. for Coast-Capilano discuss veterans' affairs at the November meeting of Sechelt Canadian Legion branch 140, Nov. 7. Prior to the meeting members met Mr. Payne informally during a social half-hour. Ron Haig, Deputy Zone Commander introduced Mr. Payne at the meeting.

Mr. Payne is a veteran and saw much action during World War II, especially in Italy. He spoke impromptu and gave an interesting talk on his work in the government and especially emphasized the interest by the government in veterans' affairs.

He stressed the point that where a veteran although discharged as medically fit now felt that in later life that his illness was definitely due to war conditions then the department would willingly search records and go to great trouble in their review of the case.

Mr. Payne spoke at length on the work of the estimates committee of which he is a member; he also touched on many other aspects such as military, air and naval defences, the militia and the urgent need of a greater number of civilians in the Observer Corps, to help protect our vast territory should the need ever arise.

During question time Mr. Payne explained that difficulties had arisen on the problem of including Merchant Service men in the same categories as the fighting services. Although he felt the same as the government departments and was wholeheartedly in favor of their inclusion there could be no doubt the problem of proof of service in the theatres of war was at present unsolvable.

Many who posed questions were requested to write direct to Mr. Payne's office and he in turn promised to do his utmost to see that their difficulties and needs were known to the Veterans Department of the government.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to Mr. Payne and a further informal period during which refreshments were served.

Re-elect Malyea

At the annual meeting of the Fair committee Nov. 5, 15 members were present. Following are the names of the executive for the 1959 Fair, all being re-elected.

Roy Malyea, chairman; William Haley, vice-chairman; Norman Sergeant, honorary chairman; Mrs. M. LeFeuvre, secretary-treasurer by acclamation; Mrs. N. Haley, assistant secretary, by acclamation.

At the next meeting convenors for divisions are expected to be named.

FIRE AUXILIARY

The Ladies Auxiliary to Fire Services will meet in the club room of the Fire Hall Nov. 16 at 8:30 p.m. gardless of whether you are a member.

It is expected there will be a nice amplifying setup so that those who have difficulty in hearing the discussions will be able to cluster round the amplifier and reap the benefits of the discussions. A travelling mike will also be on hand for those who speak from the floor.

It is expected there will be an innovation in the musical line to help with the song sheet so everybody should come prepared to show what a lovely voice you still have even if an old age pensioner.

Arrangements will also have to be made for the final meeting of the year which will be a Christmas meeting.

Thumb twiddling ends

Many people are old enough to remember one of Marie Lloyd's famous repertoire of songs which included that sprightly number "A Little of What You Fancy Does You Good."

While Marie Lloyd did not have Gibsons Post Office in mind while singing that number to her numerous audiences of bygone days it does have something in common with the effort of the staff to obtain something which will do them, one hopes, some good.

The Post Office staff is desirous of closing half-an-hour earlier each evening from Monday to Friday. This would mean that the Post Office would close at 5.30 p.m. instead of 6 p.m.

If one considers the general trend for shorter working hours (excluding of course those individuals who turn out weekly newspapers) there is no reason why post office staffs should not be able to close shop half-an-hour earlier each working day except Saturday when one o'clock is closing time.

Experience has shown the period from 5.30 to 6 p.m. is one during which the staff twiddled its individual thumbs and wondered why other places could shut up shop at 5.30 but not postal workers.

Maybe the staff does not know Marie Lloyd's famous song. However members of the staff agree with the sentiment expressed thereby and have obtained support of Gibsons Board of Trade which agreed unanimously to the change.

As mail for outside points is usually cleared much earlier in the afternoon there does not appear to be any reason why the employees of the post office should not have reduced working hours.

Seals seal doom of TB

Fifty years have passed since Canadian editors began urging the public to buy Christmas seals. It all started in Toronto in 1908 when the old Globe ran an editorial on its front page announcing something new — the sale of Christmas stamps to provide funds for anti-tuberculosis work.

The idea was new to this country, said the writer, but Denmark had been using it since Christmas 1904 with splendid results. The special virtue of the scheme, which had been the inspiration of a Copenhagen postman, was that it gave everyone a chance to help.

Up to that time the general idea was that doctors were the only ones who could do anything about disease. The Christmas seal idea opened up a way for everyone to take a hand, according to their abilities. Men, women and children could help, rich or poor, young or old.

Every Christmas since, Canadians in growing numbers have bought Christmas seals to help stamp out tuberculosis. Time showed that what had once seemed hopeless is possible if we will stay on the course. Tuberculosis has not been wiped out yet but we know it can be done. So use those Christmas seals and help keep this disease under control.

Today's cars and dinosaurs

One Johannesburg used-car dealer said that the "automobile" is carefully repeating the history of the dinosaur. Like this prehistoric animal the American car is becoming so large, and so weighed down with chromium plated armour, that it is doomed to extinction.

There is this difference, however: "The dinosaur laid eggs which is not among the talents of the automobile. It is quite clear though, that in their elaborate styling and gimmicks the stylists have done just that — laid an egg." — South Africa News.

The Timid Soul

The gods Canadians worship

Because they worship mechanical progress, English-speaking Canadians have lost the ability to create heroes, Canada's best known historian maintains. This novel accusation emerges from a scathing analysis of the mid-century Canadian character printed under the title "The Gods Canadians Worship" in the October 25 issue of Maclean's Magazine.

Queen's University history professor A.R.M. Lower, author of many widely read books on Canada and Canadians, says that all former gods have given way in this country to worship of mechanical progress, symbolized by the automobile.

He names this chief god CAR and identifies several sub-gods: Equality, Democracy, Uncle Sam, and a young Goddess called Canada who, he says, may not really exist. One of the by-products of this mechanical society, which is "without question one of the most remarkable in history and, perhaps also, all its aspects considered, the most lunatic," is that heroes have disappeared from the Canadian scene.

Here is some of the evidence Professor Lower uses to back up his surprising claim:

"Can anyone imagine an Eisenhower in Canada — a successful general vaulting into political power? Even the great air fighters of World War I, who for a short time seemed to qualify a heroes, were soon forgotten.

"As for men of letters and scholars as heroes," the Maclean's article continues, "perish the thought! The chances of their becoming representative figures in a population such as ours were zero.

"Entertainers, actors, actresses we could not believe in unless they were American. A considerable section of our youth worshipped readily enough at Hollywood shrines, but we had no local national figures of the sort.

Halfmoon Bay notes

By PAT WELSH

Visitors continue to arrive weekends to enjoy the beauties of the Peninsula in its fall dress. The maples having shed their leaves, the Dogwoods are now taking precedence, their soft rosy leaves like torches thrusting upwards to the sky amid the dark green of the tall firs.

There was a gay atmosphere in the Halfmoon Bay hall on the night of Nov. 8 for the Halfmoon Bay PTA social evening. It was well attended and the variety table with its array of stuffed animals and useful articles was soon depleted. Some lucky people got their Christmas shopping done the easy way. Bingo followed. A weight guessing contest was won by Mrs. G. Rutherford and the door prize by Mr. Ellis. Winners of the raffles were Mrs. G. Curran, the racing bug; Fern Helmer the doll and Douglas Cochran the steak knives. In charge of the variety stall were the Mrs. E. Brooks, sr. and jr. At the door was Mrs. Peggy Doyle. Refreshments were under direction of Mrs. Q. Burrows and Mrs. M. Kingston: home cooking, Mrs. Surtees and Mrs. M. Foley and bingo, Mr. J. Burrows.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bennett have gone to Yarrow Bay for a month to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lang while that couple vacations in California.

Visiting at the M. MacKenzie home last weekend were Mrs. MacKenzie's sister, Mrs. Hal Skelton and her husband and son.

A marriage of local interest will take place Saturday in Vancouver when Joan, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacKenzie, will wed Barry A. McCue of Clinton, B.C. Joan is spending this week with her parents here.

A group of young children on the Lower Road presented UNICEF with $22.30, result of their Halloween collections, when they went forth into the night dressed in all manner of weird and wonderful costumes. The children were the Jacks, Fawcetts, John, Croft and Georgia Warn, Debbie Marsh, Iona Jones and Linda and Peter Yates. An idea for other youngsters for next year.

Members of Eastern Star entertained guests from West Vancouver and Squamish Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jantz, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Shaw, have returned to their home in Kelowna.

Mrs. Hugh Chisholm of Britannia, visiting the peninsula for the first time in many years, was a guest in the H. Wilson and M. Newman homes last week.

Mrs. Doris Drummond, grand chaplain, will open the OES bazaar and sale at the school hall on Nov. 14 at 2:30. It is anticipated that a large crowd will attend to take advantage of the many fine bargains offered.

WHY

IS WINTER THE BEST TIME—

—for repairs, maintenance, renovation and general clean-up work around your home or place of business?

In the winter men and materials are more readily available, and small jobs get better attention and can be more economical during the cold weather lull. This applies particularly to building and renovation jobs.

Among the earlier members will be remembered Albert Weal, old time resident of Roberts Creek, Charles Maywood and Fred Skinner of the B.C. Power Commission, now living in Prince Rupert, and Eric Lindwall, since moved to Kelowna.

The group will continue to operate under the old name of

As Keith was vice-president, elections for his replacement will be held soon. On Nov. 5, Bill Laing and Eric Prittle represented Gibsons club at the Lower Mainland zone president's meeting in Surrey.

Lonely Hearts

A lady I know told me the following story out of her experience. She lives near a large city apartment house.

One day as she passed a small boy met her and said: "Lady would you be willing to visit an old man on the third floor of that house?" He pointed to the apartment house then continued, "I run messages for him and I think he is dying and doesn't have anybody to look after him."

After a little hesitation the lady agreed and followed the boy. He took her to the old man's apartment and found him alone and depressed. He said: "My wife died about two years ago; no one comes to see me." I have seen you and a man passing on your way to the departmental store and you both looked so kind, I wonder if you would sometimes drop in — it would cheer me up."

The apartment was well furnished and the man intelligent and thoughtful. He went on: I go to the window and watch the people, thousands of them in cars and walking and I seem so entirely alone — no one knows me and I am terribly lonely. The lady promised to return with her husband. He had to make a business trip but was greatly interested.

At the end of a week he returned and they both set out for the apartment but the door was locked and they visited the Janitor. He said: "We buried the old man yesterday and there were just two or three people at the funeral. I don't know what he died of but I think it was a broken heart."

Evidently the man had some financial reserves but in a city of a million people he died of sheer loneliness. He watched the crowds — most of them good and decent — but he was starved for friendship and a little attention. What can we do about it? The pastor of a large Church told me that he invited all friends over seventy years of age to a gathering. He said: "I was amazed at the turn-out. Over a hundred came. Many present said it was the happiest evening for a long time. A club was formed and monthly meetings arranged. There is a suggestion here for other churches of groups who want to bring comfort to elderly people.

There must be a vast number of such people in every community who feel they are crowded out and forgotten. Where there are children or grandchildren the situation differs but I am thinking of those like the man in the apartment house who seemed to have no one to think of him.

We are here as George Eliot said, to help each other, or life has little purpose to us.

Our quotation to-day is an exhortation to kindness:

"Dear heart be swift in loving, Time speedeth on; And all the chance of blessed service Will soon be gone."

Weddings

SHAW — JANTZ

The Moravian Church, Vancouver, was the setting of the wedding of Elaine Antonia Jantz and Edward Robinson Shaw, with Rev. H.A. Hacke officiating at the double ring ceremony on Nov. 1.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jantz of Kelowna, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Shaw of Roberts Creek.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style white satin gown, with lily point sleeves and boat neckline, a chapel veil and pearl earrings. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Miss Deanna Shelby, Kelowna, and Miss Shirley Pollard, Vancouver, wore Kelly green organdy nylon gowns and carried rust mums.

Keith Wright, Gibsons, was the best man and ushers were Mel Hough, Gibsons and Jerry Jantz, Kelowna, brother of the bride. John Steele sang O Perfect Love. Organist was Mrs. Malita Miller.

JONES — DUNFIELD

Pleasant visit with daughter of former Gibsonite

By Thomas Humphries

To continue with our musical experiences, on May 12 we went to the Sadlers Wells Theatre to a performance of Gounod's Faust by the Carl Rosa Opera Co. and on May 16 we had seats at the Covent Garden Opera House for a performance of Elektra by Strauss. Both of these performances were, of course, absolutely first class and we were thrilled to the bone.

On May 15 we spent a most enjoyable and restful afternoon at the National Gallery. The Gallery is situated on the north side of Trafalgar Square and contains one of the finest and best hung collections of paintings in the world. Though not art connoisseurs we were suitably impressed and were interested to see the number of young artists scattered throughout the galleries with their easels and pallettes copying some of the old masters.

Many Gibsons oldtimers will remember Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fletcher who lived in Gibsons and Hopkins for some years. Mrs. Fletcher is now living with her son in Westview at the age of 90. We had a very pleasant visit with her daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Roy Chapman, who lives in Hampstead, a beautiful suburb skirting the famous Hampstead Heath.

Mr. Chapman told us that it was possible to walk from Hampstead to his office in the West End, a distance of six miles, on grass through the various parks almost all the way. The Chapman's son, John, at the age of 30, is by way of becoming a famous playwright, having had a play running in Whitehall Theatre for four years.

Other enjoyable visits were with friends in East Barnet, another pleasant suburb with parks and cricket rounds, and with Mrs. Morgan, the wife of our former music teacher at Elphinstone High School, who lives in another suburb, Cannons Park, about 10 miles out of the City. All these people were eager to drive us round the neighboring countryside to show us its beauty.

Now we come to our last Sunday in London which we celebrated by going to the morning service at St. Pauls Cathedral, a beautiful Choral Eucharist. This was an inspiring organ and choral treat and we heard a very fine sermon on the subject of banning nuclear tests and weapons.

In accordance with our plans we checked out of the Cumberland Hotel on the morning of May 19. We had completed our arrangements for the hire of a Vauxhall car for five weeks from that date and a uniformed girl driver brought the car round to the hotel at 10 o'clock. We put our luggage in the trunk, always referred to as the boot in England, and said good-bye to London. The driver took us out of the heavy traffic to the outskirts of London on the way to Oxford, explained the operation of the car, and then handed it over first noting carefully any scratches or blemishes on it so that we should not be held responsible for these at a later date.

With a right side drive and a left hand gear shift I must confess that for the first day or two driving the car gave me a mild case of the jitters. Keeping on the left side of the road was not too bad but, changing gears with the left hand and only using the right hand for the direction indicator required continuous concentration. The driving was made particularly difficult for me as I had been using an automatic transmission at home for the last three years.

With the car came a Royal Automobile Club routing through North Wales, Cheshire, Derbyshire and up to Harrogate in Yorkshire: road maps; key to R.A.C. telephone boxes and a hotel guide for the British Isles. Pasted on the wind-shield and rear window were stickers warning all and sundry that we were visitors to Britain and should be treated with care and courtesy. These were almost as protection as the big L signs we saw on so many cars in England denoting 'learner.'

In due course we came to Oxford where we stopped for lunch and a look at the colleges. We had no difficulty in finding our way into Oxford but we had a heck of a time finding our way out and on our route to Stratford on Avon. With a little patience we were eventually on our way again and driving through the beautiful Cotswold country, we reached Stratford on Avon about five o'clock. Through Cooks Tourist Agency in London we had made a reservation for accommodation at the Welcome Inn, one-and-a-half miles out of Stratford, and this hotel proved to be absolutely first class, a converted stately home surrounded by acres of parkland. We had also obtained tickets in London for a performance of Romeo and Juliet at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre and here we saw Shakespeare at its best.

BE A SAFE WALKER

Walking is still just about the best form of exercise to keep you in good health, according to doctors. But it can be hazardous if you get careless in the simple matter of crossing streets. The safe way is to cross at the intersection, highways, walk facing traffic; don't proceed with your back toward approaching cars. This is the advice of your provincial Motor Vehicle Branch.

Always give A LONG VIGOROUS RING

- when calling the telephone operator
- when ringing off

In a magneto telephone system, it is important that you turn the crank vigorously and continuously for about 3 seconds at the beginning and end of each call. The first long ring tells the operator that you want to make a call and the last tells her the line is free.

REMEMBER: the RING-OFF is especially important, otherwise the operator may report your line as "busy" to anyone trying to call you.

Guardian visits

Bethel 28, International Order of Job's Daughters, entertained friends and relatives Saturday evening on the occasion of the official visit of the grand guardian, Mrs. G. Williamson of Trail, and grand associate guardian, Mr. H. Spong, New Westminster.

Honored Queen Sheila Smith and her officers conducted the ritual and the girls were commended for their efficient work.

For the presenting of a cheque to Mrs. Williamson for the Job's Cancer Fund, Queen Sheila had fashioned a rural mail box in which the cheque was wrapped as a parcel, in keeping with the local motif of the table decorations in the banquet room. There the head table held a relief map of the Sunshine Coast, showing the roads, shoreline, mountains and waterways, with a flag denoting the residence of each Jobie.

Kathie Holland and Lynn Stenner were initiated as new members.

Larsens at convention

Among those attending the Auto Court and Resort owners association annual convention Oct. 29 and 30 in Georgia auditorium, Vancouver, were Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Larsen of Madeira Park. They report the largest attendance so far at any association convention and added many interesting speeches were given.

Jack Kennedy, director of the PGE was a speaker and J.C. Haddock, manager of Woodward's Victoria store who spoke on the history of chinaware. Ward Walker of Desert Caravan Inn, Spokane, discussed the problem of selling your motel to the public.

Tom Allen, Prince George, was elected president; J. Bodnarchuk, auto court vice-president and Mrs. Leah Shaw, resorts vice-president.

The convention heard Hon. Earle C. Westwood, minister of recreation and conservation discuss various matters among which were:

"Let us not forget that we have no monopoly on scenery. We do have, as Mr. Swendsen of the Washington State Ferries declared, an advantage in our particular allotment of scenic elements. We have water and mountains and greenery in more profusion than anywhere else in North America but if people outside the province do not hear about these elements, they are wasted from a tourist standpoint. It is, therefore, our job to tell potential visitors about what we have."

"But of course having those things that are called scenery is not enough. As John Fisher has often said and it will bear repeating here, a bad cup of coffee or a surly waitress or a bad approach on the exchange problem can jeopardize your customer relations."

"I feel very strongly that the government's role in the auto courts and resort business is one of luring the customers to the province — you take it from there. I certainly do not feel that it is up to us to get into the local tourist promotion business. It isn't our job to take each and every community in this vast province and attempt to promote it on an individual basis. It is our role though, to take the whole province as an entity and lay it in front of the prospective visitor."
