Trucking rates discussed at Board of Trade meeting

Increased trucking rates on Black Ball Ferries was discussed at Monday night's meeting of Gibsons district Board of Trade and in a move to explore the situation William Sutherland was appointed to confer with a Powell River Board of Trade representative in Vancouver Wednesday. It is understood the Powell River representative was to approach Black Ball officials and go into the matter of rates.

(Wednesday morning Mr. Sutherland informed the president of the Board of Trade he had received information which made him change his mind about seeing the Powell River delegate and that he would not be going to Vancouver. Mr. Sutherland will report his reason to the Board of Trade's November meeting.)

Chairman of the Village Commission, A.E. Ritchey informed the board that under the Black Ball charter the company did not have to submit a change in rates to any government official providing it did not reach the 100 percent mark There was no recourse by truckers to any official body have a serious effect on the economy of the area, etons a in the way of a complaint, he said. The almost doubling of rates would have a serious effect on the economy of the area Mr. Ritchey said and he added he would like to see something done about it.

Mrs. Wynne Stewart, past president, moved that Mr. Sutherland be delegated to see the Powell River representative.

William McAfee, a member of the board and also the Sunshine Coast Tourist association passed along word that the Tourist association planned that in future a member or members of the Board of Trade executive would be invited to attend any Tourist association meeting.

Turning to the Herd Law ruckus which has been going on for some time Mr. McAfee wondered if the area was to be considered a "nine o'clock town" for the rest of its days in view of the fact nothing has been done about keeping cattle from roaming the highway. Latest information from Victoria, the board was informed following correspondence with government officials was the further news that the matter had been turned over to the provincial director of Farmers' Institutes for consideration. Mr. McAfee argued that the present arrangement was in effect accommodating local loggers who had a few cows. He wondered when progress would be made on this subject as it could not be considered a tourist attraction.

Rae Kruse, the secretary, brought up he matter of obtaining more members for the board and suggestions were offered that each member bring along another prospective member. The meeting decided that Mr. Kruse and the president, Fred Cruice, arrange follow-up letters to individuals who are not now members.

E.R. Boyce, district commercial manager for B.C. Telephones and a representative on the district Board of Trade association reported on the September meeting and urged the Gibsons Board of Trade to support the Squamish Board of Trade in its effort to get some action on the opening up of Garibaldi Park. He suggested the federal government was waiting to step into the park picture but cannot take over until such time as the provincial government makes some overtures in this direction.

One matter brought before the district board, he said, was taxation that property had the mounting cost of education to bear. Various areas were becoming concerned about it.

BARRIE ZWICKER, 23, Athabaska, Alberta, who worked three years on a weekly paper before entering Journalism '58, won the Thompson Newspapers $250 scholarship for standing first, and the Globe Envelopes Ltd.. $100 for standing first in Editing. He worked as a reporter on the Vancouver Daily Province during the summer.

Barry worked on the Coast News linotype from September 1954 to September 1955 and really knew how to handle the machine. He left Gibsons to attend Ryerson Institute of Technology where he won his awards. He is also president of the student Ryerson Press club.

Public meetings on school affairs

Here is your chance to ask members of Sechelt district School Board questions as to how they operate and why. There will be 11 public meetings held from Gibsons to Pender Harbour, taking in Gambier and Bowen Islands which come under the school board.

To give all ratepayers a chance to find out what is going on in the schools, meetings have been arranged and it is up to the public to attend to hear about board operations. The school board spends more taxpayers' money than any other organization in the area and has a payroll which is second only to Port Mellon pulp mill payroll.

Here are where the meetings will be held and at what time:

Nov. 1, 8 p.m., Roberts Creek school.

Nov. 2, 2 p.m., Egmont school.

Nov. 2, 2 p.m., Nelson Island school.

Nov. 2, 2 p.m., Veterans hall Gambier Island.

Nov. 4, 8 p.m., Bowen Island school.

Nov. 4, 8 p.m., Pieper's hall.

Nov. 4, 8 p.m., Halfmoon Bay school.

Nov. 5, 8 p.m., School hall, Gibsons.

Nov. 6, 8 p.m., Sechelt school

Nov, 8, 8 p.m., Madeira Park school.

Nov. 8, 8 p.m., Davis Bay school.

Four Night School classes ready to start

Next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock will see the opening of the night school under the sponsorship of the Board of Trustees, School District No. 46.

Four classes are taking shape with instructors chosen and the required minimum enrolment of 15 names already in. These four classes will meet all on one evening for the first time next week. After that they will meet on a night suitable to the class and instructor.

It is hoped that more recreational classes like square dancing or badminton, or keep-fit classes can be arranged for this coming winter. But first instructors must be chosen and approved by the Department of Education. More will be said about that later.

Night school classes for adults, 15 years and older and not attending school, fall into two groups: Vocational and recreational or cultural. The keynote is that class members find enjoyment and satisfaction in the evening's work. Doing something practical, enjoying the association with the class group, and having an evening of fun are what a night school student can anticipate.

An advertisement in this issue tells the details of classes ready to start next week. If any class is especially requested the night school will do its utmost to complete arrangements and get the class underway. There are dozens of possible classes to choose from.

Bring friends when you enrol at night school next Tuesday Oct. 29, upstairs in the old wing of the high school. As well as your friends, bring your class fee at the same time

Guide mothers special meeting

A special meeting will be held in the United Church Hall, Gibsons on Oct. 28 at 8 p.m. to which all mothers of Girl Guides and Brownies are urgently requested to attend.

Guide and Brownie leaders will be on hand to discuss their projects for the coming year.

Other interested friends are invited to come and join the discussion and enjoy a social hour.

2 excellent short films

Two excellent moving pictures concerning electronics were shown to Gibsons Board of Trade members Monday night and to members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night. The same pictures will also be shown to the Sechelt Board of Trade, Oct. 30.

Brought to the peninsula by E.R. Boyce, district commercial manager for B.C. Telephones, the pictures were about the Trans-Canada micro-wave setup, used in part for the TV Royal Visit, and on the Mid-Canada Radar Warning line near parallel 53. Both were voted extremely interesting by Board of Trade and Kiwanis members with the radar warning line getting the edge in interest. Bob Robertson assisted Mr. Boyce in presenting the films.

Legion holds annual feast

The newly decorated and furnished Canadian Legion Branch 109 hall at Gibsons was the scene of a successful Annual Dinner and Dance recently. About 90 people enjoyed the turkey dinner provided by the Ladies Auxiliary. Dancing to the music furnished by Ed Freer's orchestra followed.

President Comrade Beacon gave a short address on Legion affairs. The toast to the Legion was proposed by Comrade Bartle and replied to by Comrade Mortimer, president of the Roberts Creek Branch.

The chairman of the entertainment committee, Johnnie Wilson, assisted by other members of the executive and Mrs. Triggs, kitchen convenor for the Ladies Auxiliary earned special thanks of the members for the excellent way in which the arrangements were carried out.

CNIB drive pace set

The C.N.I.B. drive for funds is progressing, Edward Henniker, Bank of Montreal manager, who is chairman of the drive announces and to date $125 has been collected.

Canvassers are still making their rounds and it is expected that by the time the next report is made the increase will be substantial. Those who feel they have been missed by the canvassers may leave their donation at the Bank of Montreal office in Gibsons.

Those living elsewhere can leave their donations at the Bank of Montreal in Sechelt or send it to the Gibsons office. Official receipts will be sent out.

He is in B.C. addressing agricultural groups This meeting will be particularly interesting to poultry raisers and livestock owners. He is a top expert in Canada and U.S. as far as animal husbandry is concerned. There will be a question period at the end of the meeting.

Tourist men review year

The matter of the freight truck increase on Black Ball Ferries was discussed at a weekend meeting of the Sunshine Coast Tourist Association and a representative of the ferries explained that under the circumstances the increase was justified.

Tourist Association members reviewed the past year's operations and all reported they had a nice season and laid plans for future operations. The association, intends to intensify its drive for tourists.

Ski club names its officers

The newly formed ski club will be known as the Mt. Elphinstone Ski Club. Members over the weekend provided a working party which went to the ski run and cleared some of the bush away and decided on the proposed location for a cabin.

Officers chosen to head the organization are Wayne Poole, president; Gary Butler, vice-president; Florence Blain, secretary and Heather Bracewell, treasurer. Advisory officers will include Ted Poole, Vince Bracewell, Amie Myers and Bob Holden.

This cat a traveller

Editor: While we were over at Keats Island we parked our station wagon just behind the United Church. When we came back to go home, we made a quick ride to the ferry at Langdale, and while driving off the other side we heard a cat meowing.

As the cries continued we pulled off the roadside and looked inside the car. Finally we found a little kitten up on the frame just behind the wheel. After some persuasion we got him off his dangerous position.

Now we wonder if you would advertise our finding of this little kitten.

"Black, about 4 months old, male, phone FRaser 2576."

If someone claims him we could send him up somehow or other.

Election bylaw given reading

The municipal elections bylaw was introduced for third reading at the meeting of the Sechelt Village Commission, Oct. 16.

Tenders received on the work to be done at Hackett Park were tabled for further consideration.

Licence issuance showed an increase over the past year, and the Motor Vehicles Branch will be notified by letter of this situation.

Accounts payable totalling $178 were approved and passed for payment.

A reply to a letter from the minister of highways will stress the need for attention to the drainage problem in the village.

Speed limit raise sought

Commissioner C.P. Ballentine urged before the Gibsons Board or Trade meeting Monday night that the speed laws on the stretch of highway past Granthams area and towards Soames Point be removed from the present restricted speed limit.

Mr. Ballentine, a member of the Board of Trade, said the 20 mph speed limit was put into effect when the highway was a dirt road and now it has been paved there is no need for such low speed.

Mr. Ballentine urged the speed in the area beyond the bridge out of Granthams be 30 mph and then further aong 40 mph. There were numerous complaints of tourists being nabbed in that open road stretch by RCMP who argued they only enforced the law but did not make it.

The problem will be attacked by writing a letter to the RCMP who will turn it over to the Vancouver RCMP for their approval and then it will be sent to the highways department for action.

A thank you

Members of Gibsons Teen Town thank Mr. and Mrs. Daphna and Norm MacPherson for their sponsorship. Without their help, it would not have been the success it is. All young people from 13 to 19 years old are invited to meetings and dances.

Progress satisfactory on school at Kleindale

Satisfactory progress is being made in the construction of the new high school at Kleindale and completion is expected by Dec. 31, the School Board learned at its Oct. 15 meeting.

Work is progressing on the Bowen Island School and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupancy by the end of October if no obstacles develop.

With regard to the Gibsons Elementary Annex, completion of which has been delayed by the slow progress on the heating plant, the Board interviewed the heating contractor and took steps to ensure that he will complete his work by approximately October 31.

The delay in the completion of this school has caused very serious inconvenience resulting in numerous letters of complaint being received by the Board from parents, and it is hoped that the steps taken will ensure that the school will be ready for occupancy early in November.

Total enrolment in all schools in the district is now 1423, an increase of 73 over a year ago, or 5.4 %.

Arrangements are being completed for the establishment of night classes at Elphinstone High School under the supervision of Mr. George A. Cooper, vice-principal. A sylabus of courses is being prepared and will be published in due course.

A letter from Mrs. Goepel of the Association for Retarded Children of B.C. was considered, and consideration is being given to the possibilty of the establishment of a special class in the district for these unfortunate children.

George A. Marsden dies after long illness

After a long and protracted illness, Mr. George A. Marsden passed away on Monday evening at the Florence Nightingale Hospital, Whalley, at the age of 83 years.

Mr. Marsden was born in St. Helens, Lancashire, England, and came out to Vancouver with his family in 1912. After the family were grown up he and his wife settled in Gibsons some 20 years ago.

In Mr. Marsden's passing, Gibsons has lost one of its most colorful and public spirited citizens. One of nature's gentlemen, he was always ready to help in any community work. He was particularly interested in the schools of the district and was a member and chairman of the Gibsons School District before consolidation into District 46 took place. After consolidation, he was an invaluable member and chairman of the board for many years. He took a keen interest in music and organized and conducted a glee club in Gibsons. When a branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses was organized on the Peninsula Mr. Marsden was one of the leading spirits and served on the board until disbandment. He took a keen interest in the establishment of the local Credit Union where he served as a director. He was keenly interested in Gibsons United Church and acted as church secretary, trustee and member of the session until illness prevented him from carrying out these duties about 18 months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsden celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1949 and at that time were presented with an illuminated address in appreciation of their services to Gibsons United Church. Their family comprised three sons and 2 daughters, Arthur, Eric and Kenneth, all of Vancouver and Mrs. J. Blount (Dorothy) of Seattle and Mrs. Colin MacDonald (Jean) of Ottawa. The sudden death of Kenneth some five years ago was a great blow to his parents.

A memorial service will be held for Mr. Marsden at Gibsons United Church at 1:30 pm. on Thursday, October 24, Rev. D. Donaldson officiating and burial will follow in Capilano View Cemetery where Mrs. Marsden was buried last December.

Ferry truck tariffs

Considerable speculation has risen along the Sunshine Coast as the result of Black Ball Ferries boosting ferry rates for trucks something like 90 percent.

The Coast News has nothing official on which to work. therefore cannot offer any considered view but judging from what various truckers have said, the move while not liked, is being taken in a fatalistic manner, meaning that there does not appear to be anyhing they can do about it.

There is a feeling among the truckers involved that they are helpless because they are faced with a system which allows no appeal and secondly that a behind-the-scenes member of the provincial government is on the directorate. This they do not regard as being even slightly democratic.

The rate increase, reported to be roughly 90 percent seems staggering but as with every problem there are two sides. There is the general version which has it that the increase is unprecedented, exorbitant and ruinous to truckers.. Then there is the other version that the rate to be put into effect on Dec. 1 is what the rate should have been in the first place, meaning that the truckers have not been paying their full tariff. Why? The argument presented is that to make truck traffic profitable in the long run, a low rate, so low that scow transportation would be unprofitable, was instituted.

There you have the two points of view. There is another angle to be considered. It involves a breakdown of the full truck load cost increase over the cost per pound. There have been arguments on this ranging from a five cents per hundred-weight to 15 cents per hundred-weight. Dividing the maximum cost, 15 cents per hundred-weight, to each pound would mean a small part of one cent per pound. If this is correct the blow seems somewhat softened.

However, one should not regard what is published here a gospel truth because the Coast News is not in possession of all the economic facts and a clear picture cannot be presented. This much is known with certainty, the truck rates on the ferry have been increased. The economic effect remains to be seen.

LETTERS to editor

Editor: How many Xmas cards will you send out this year? 100-200 at an average cost to each household of $10 to $15? Have you ever stopped to think what this money might do if it multiplied by just 100?

Sure, it's a nice gesture to send cards to your neighbors and people you see every other day, but isn't it rather silly? These friends receive your cards along with dozens of others and place them around the hearth and then into the fire they go. Money gone up in smoke.

Your daily acquaintances should know and realize that you do wish them a Merry Xmas whether you send them a card or not.

Therefore this year instead of sending cards locally, lets all give $5.00 toward some local charity, or development, such as the Centennial project, and help put the real spirit of giving back into Xmas.

If you are interested and agree, leave your name at Box 100, Coast News.

Let's Give.

Who established the first school in the Canadian Arctic?

The first school in the Canadian Arctic was established by Kris (or Charlie) Klengenberg, a Canadian citizen who operated a trading post at Rymer Point on Victoria Land. It is said that his occupation of this post, after he had become a Canadian citizen, strengthened Canada's claim to the Arctic Islands. The school was established for the education of his own and neighboring children and, after his death in 1931, his daughter carried on his work for the welfare of the Eskimo. He left his native Denmark at the age of 15 to sail the seven seas, and in 1893 he married an Eskimo woman in Alaska and settled down to lead the life of an Eskimo in the Arctic.

Where was transatlantic radio communication first established?

Who was Cornelius Kreighoff?

Kreighoff was a popular and successful painter in Canada in the early part of the 19th century. His anecdotal portrayals of habitant life, winter scenes and Indians, are prized as records of an earlier way of life. He is well represented in the collections of the National Gallery and the Public Archives at Ottawa.

He was born in Germany, studied music and art, and travelled in Europe as a strolling musician and artist. After military service in the United States, he opened a studio in Toronto. In 1848 he moved to Longueil, Que., and later to Montreal, where he painted landscapes and portraits. In 1853 he moved to Quebec City where he remained for 13 years and did his finest work.

"She can't spend this—it's registered in my name."

BETWEEN OURSELVES BY Archer Wallace

GARDEN OF THE MIND

In his book "20,000 years in Sing Sing", Warden Lave says that for most prisoners, enforced silence is terrible. Having too much to do is better than idleness. Many a busy man looks forward to retirement, but soon tires of it.

A social service worker in New York told me about a family who lived under a train-way where the noise of the trains was deafening. She managed to get them a two-week vacation. After their return to the city, she called to see them and found they were disappointed. A lively boy in the family said he couldn't sleep because of the noise. The bull frogs chirped all night, he said. The overhead trains he did not mind, but the bullfrogs were strange and annoyed him.

It is true that we live in our minds. What was said of a great thinker is true. "He was very much at home in his own mind".

The great thinker William James said at the close of his active life that the two lessons he had learned were, first that behind all material phenomena is a divine spirit and secondly that it was possible for human beings to get in touch with God and to be helped by Him. That is something to remember — God wants to help us and can supply our spiritual needs.

A Canadian judge expressed his disbelief in what a lawyer called unpremeditated crime. Vicious living is the result of the wrong kind of thinking he said, and we can live right if we think right.

Admiral Peary said he found the Eskimos believed that God was hostile; when storms came God was angry. We have a different philosophy. We believe as Isaiah said, "The spirit of God is in every man and the inspiraton of the Almighty giveth him understanding".

People who work in gardens have tranquility and peace because they work with God and they know He is a helper. As Paul wrote: "We are workers together with God". An old man told me recently that early in life he gained the idea that God was the source of all good thinking and it had blessed him all his days. In an Ontario city, a lady heard a sermon on the goodness of God and said to the speaker: "I wish I had realized that long ago — I would have been a happier and better woman. I have lived in fear and self-depreciation when God was willing to fill me with peace.

Recently I had some conversation with a man who for many years has been Chaplain in a large jail. In talking with him about the prisoners he said: "Nothing is so demoralizing as to make a man feel he is despised by others. It destroys his ambition and self-respect, and nothing does a man as much good as to respect him and show him kindness.

It is possible for each one to get in touch with God and be helped — that is a supreme truth and the secret of serenity and peace. We may err, but God is on our side and an everlasting reservoir of strength and love.

Our quotation today is by Dinsdale Young:

"We go to Church not because we think we are better than others, but to get all the spiritual help we can get.

The Sad Story of the Shrinking Dollar...

Pity this poor woman . . . perhaps a friend or neighbor of yours. She had the idea that if she got into the family car and drove many miles to THE BIG CITY, then she could do better with that shopping dollar than she could right here in our town.

When she finally reached home again, she was tired and unhappy . . . but a lot wiser. After figuring the cost of gasoline and oil, wear and tear on the car, parking fees, restaurant meals and the repair bill for a badly dented fender, that shopping dollar had shrunk so much she had to squint to see it.

Moral: Buy everything you need from your local merchants. Their stores may be smaller, but in selection, style and value they invite comparison with any other source. And local shopping is a relaxed pleasure, not a costly, time-consuming beating.

The bold lines of Buick's 1958 styling are exemplified in the luxury and beauty of the Buick Special, the big volume seller in the Buick line. Dual headlights and a dazzling new grille adds breadth and lowness to the front end design. The Special, which is mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, boasts new and bigger brakes, and exquisite new interiors that complement the glamorous exterior colors. The new miracle air ride and either variable pitch or the revolutionary flight pitch Dynaflow are optional equipment on the Special.

New Buick features many changes

Details of the 1958 Buick, including many mechanical and styling innovations and the introduction of a new luxury series known as the Limited, have been made known by General Motors of Canada.

The 1958 models, with dynamic new styling, feature the new miracle ride, a revolutionary new Dynaflow transmission, improved brakes with thicker linings and a host of other engineering changes.

The new Buicks come in five series, topped by the new Limited, a distinctively-styled model which is Buick's new entry in the prestige car market.

All models are equipped with dual headlights on each front fender.

The new styling features are apparent from every angle, with the most spectacular change in the grille.

Previously, grilles have been distinguished by vertical or horizontal bars of chrome, varying in design. Instead of chrome bars, the new Buick grille is distinguished by chrome squares, like jewels, set in four rows that extend all the way across the front to the outer extremities of the car.

The fender line has been lowered and the hood line raised slightly to complement the new front end design.

The front fenders project out over the headlights and the leading edge is capped by a chrome strip which extends around the fender and becomes part of the side molding. This molding extends gracefully along the side of the car all the way back to the rear wheel cutout, which has been modified to reveal only the lower portion of the wheel.

A "V" and ring adorn each front fender on all models to make it easier to gauge distance in traffic.

The rear fenders of all models are topped by a chrome applique which blends with the newly-styled tail light housing.

Heading the list of exclusive engineering achievements on the 1958 Buicks is the new flight pitch Dynaflow transmission in which the stator vanes operate on the same "switch the pitch" principle as an airplane propellor.

The new transmission also has three turbines instead of two, which increase the torque output.

Replacing the low range position on the Dynaflow quadrant is a grade, or hill retarder, (G) to give greater transmission brakage on hills, reducing the wear on brakes.

Flight pitch Dynaflow is standard on the Limited and Roadmaster series and optional on all other models. Variable pitch Dynaflow is standard on the Super and Century series and optional on the Special.

Air suspension is optional equipment on all models.

All brakes on the 1958 Buicks have been improved for safer operation. All cars are equipped with 12 inch brakes. Total contact area has been increased to 218 square inches.

All cars are powered by a 364 cubic inch high compression V-8 engine, with two-barrel carburetor on the Special and four-barrel on all other models.

The new models come in 20 body styles mounted on two wheelbases, 122 inches for the Special and Century and 127.5 inches for the other four series.

Held over from 1957 because of their popularity are Onyx Black, Dover White, Colonial Cream and Silver Grey Metallic.

240 years of safety

Five workers with a total of 240 accident-free work years in the forest products industry of British Columbia were honored at a special dinner in Vancouver sponsored by the Joint Forest Products Safety Committee of B.C. About 65 top management, government and labour leaders took part in the ceremony.

The Honorable Lyle Wicks, Minister of Labour, presented the winners with outstanding performance certificates and engraved wallets.

The first award went to Giacoma Clozza for 48 years of accident-free work. He is employed with the Ocean Falls division of Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited. Second and third awards were won by Carl Lilos also employed with Crown Zellerback at their Canadian Western Lumber Co. operation at Fraser Mills for having worked 47 years without an accident and Thomas E. Perks of McMillan & Bloedel Co., Menzies Bay division, who has completed 43 years of work without an accident.

Special awards were presented to William Foster and M. Orwick, both employees of McMillan & Bloedel Limited. Their records were 50 and 49 years injury-free but all of their employment was not in the forest products industry of B. C.

Farmers' Institute outlines its services

At the Howe Sound Farmers' Institute monthly meetings comments have been made from time to time on the furthering of projects within the scope of this organization. The members have realized for the past few years that there has been, and is, a movement away from agricultural pursuits to industry.

The same conditions prevail in many agricultural districts of this province, and until such times as are favorable for the farmer, it is the institute's pleasure to act to the best of its ability in any problem that concerns the welfare of the community.

"We feel that a mistaken idea exists that the institute is only for farmers, but we wish to point out that this organization serves all those who have the community at heart, irrespective of their occupation," said Mrs. M. LeFeuvre, the secretary. "Our efforts have included the following subjects: Roads and ditches, lime, the old cemetery, V.O.N., the fair, farmers' market, feed prices, stumping powder, pruning and soil analysis, foreshore lease, open wells, pure bred bull, land clearing, Junior garden club, donations.

"In order to advance ideas, even more effectively, we welcome newcomers. Our next meeting: Monday, Nov. 4, in Anglican Parish Hall, Sechelt highway, at 8 p.m. Will you come?"

BROTHER KILLED

Neil Creelman, killed in an auto accident on Vancouver Island Saturday, was a brother of Mrs. June Peterson of Gibsons. His wife died six months ago. Three children are left without parents and the mother of Mr. Creelman and Mrs. Peterson is at present ill in hospital.

Hilarious record

—Highlight of the Sunshine Coast Fair committee potluck supper one week ago was the playback of a tape recording by William Malyea which was recorded at a recent wedding reception. The event was held in the Anglican Parish Hall on Sechelt Highway with Canon and Mrs. H.U. Oswald attending. The recording gave renderings of various harmonious and inharmonious songs that were sung somewhat hilariously to the accompaniment of the guitar.

Another feature was the marking of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. Davies by the playing of an anniversary waltz for their special benefit.

REMODELLING

Remodelling of Sechelt Building Supplies will commence next week. The old section of the building, which has been on the highway since 1949 will be demolished and then rebuilt in keeping with the new section.

Mr. Dave Walker and his brother Tom have been on the Peninsula since 1945-46 and have their customers in mind when they announce plans for a bigger better store.

Halfmoon Bay

BY PAT WELSH

Gazing out of my kitchen window, nostalgic memories of a song heard long ago in another land came to mind, When Autumn Leaves are Falling, for just then a veritable shower of gold and tan leaves from our huge old maple tree fluttered to earth on their first and last flight. What a gorgeous sight these maple trees have been these last few days, thrusting their golden heads into the sky amid the dark sombre green of the tall firs. I remembered my first sight of the red sugar maples in eastern Canada, for never before had I seen such masses of brilliant color. It is well that Canada has chosen the Maple Leaf as her emblem, for it flourishes from east to west in colors of red and gold.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tchaikowsky have returned from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. G. Curran and Mr. and Mrs. C.N. Alexander have returned from a motoring jaunt that took them through the Okanagan Valley. Driving up the Hope-Princeton highway, they reached Penticton, then on to West Summerland where they visited at a very old ranch house which clings to all the old traditions. Then on to Kelowna and way points to Vernon and back through the Fraser Canyon.

Mrs. William Grundy spent a few days in Vancouver recently, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tinkley are at home after a month's holiday at Cortez Island, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hynek at Cortez Bay.

George Nairn, a long time summer visitor, has taken up permanent residence at Redrooffs upon his retirement.

Guests at the Paddy Welshes this weekend were Dr. K. Argue and Mr. Alan Greene, Mrs. E. Seed and Mr. Alan Pitts of New Westminster.

Those attending the Masonic Ball at Roberts Creek on Saturday from Halfmoon Bay, Doyle, and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Roy were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foley.

Chances are, you don't have all the electric appliances listed here. But the chances are equally good that you have more now than you did in 1946. And the more appliances you have, the more value you get from your electrical service. Our records show that the average residential customer now uses nearly three times as much electricity as in 1946, but pays less per kilowatt hour. Considering how much electricity does — and how little it costs — it's a mighty big bargain.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to convey our many thanks to friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement. Mrs. Katherine McKinnon and family.

I want to extend my most profound thanks to all the good folk who showed such great kindness to my little neighbor and friend, Harriet Morris, during her last illness, to Canon Oswald for his most comforting words, to the choir and congregation, who lifted up their voices in the beautiful hymns Harriet chose for her last farewell, with such moving reverence. To the pallbearers and the staff of St. Mary's Hospital. She will be greatly missed.
A.E. Sopp.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Charles Ernest Maple. His thoughtfulness and good cheer are memories that will aways keep him near. Remembrance also to others that were taken so suddenly in an airplane accident on Mount Garibaldi, October 19, 1953. Lovingly, Sister Bev, brother-in-law Gordon, nieces Carole and Kathy, and nephew Charles Ernest.

Oh how patient in thy suffering when no hand could give thee ease,
God, the helper of the helpless, saw thy pain and gave thee peace.
Alfred Beverly Robert (Freddie) Bunyan, October 29, 1957. Mother, Father, Johnny and Susan.

In memory of George Wartnaby who passed away October 23, 1955.
We who loved you, sadly miss you.
As it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are always near.
Loving Wife and Family.

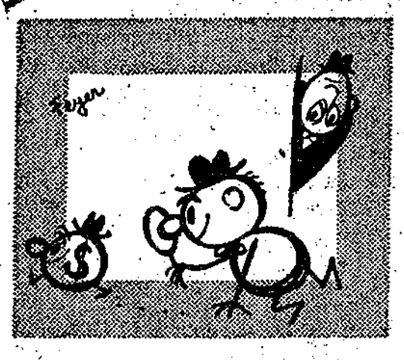
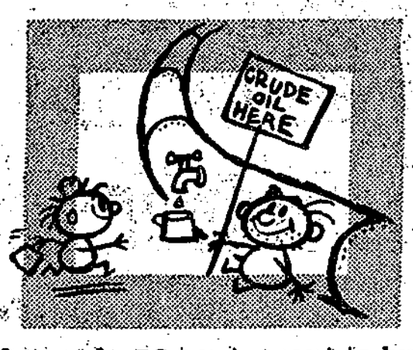
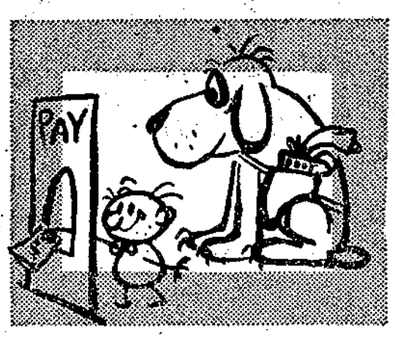
where the income dollar goes



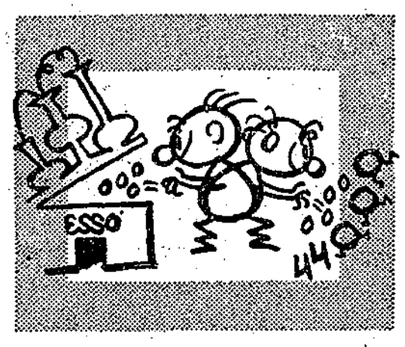
In supplying hundreds of different oil products to Canadian consumers from coast to coast, Imperial last year took in a large number of dollars. What happened to a typical dollar?



Well, nearly 56 cents went to buy raw materials—notably crude oil—and for freight, a big item in a big country.



More than 26 cents went for operating and administrative costs, including wages and salaries, and for depreciation. Ten cents of each dollar went to various governments in taxes (this does not include the provincial gasoline tax.)



Half of what was left—or about 4 cents—was put back into the company's operations. The other half was divided among Imperial's 44,000 shareholders, whose investment makes possible the company's existence.

Bazaar nets goodly sum

Members of St. Mary's Hospital Auxiliary thank their many kind friends for donations of work, articles for sale and cash, which all helped to make the bazaar a success.

A hearty vote of thanks goes to Canon Alan Greene for transporting both the workers and customers to and from the bazaar in the M.V. John Antle.

In spite of the inclement weather there were visitors from as far up as Vancouver Bay and as far down as Halfmoon Bay.

The raffle winners were: 1. Mrs. Milvany, Garden Bay, mixmaster; 2. Mrs. Stan Burns, 307 Beaver Rd., North Vancouver, quilt; 3, Mrs. Mary White, matron at St. Mary's Hospital, Pender Harbour, 2 pairs hand knit socks.

Net proceeds from the bazaar were $372 which is a good beginning toward the Tumbler Dryer.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES' publications are used by educational authorities across the country. Write to the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, for the booklets shown here. Available to the general public, 25¢ each.

Putting fascination into education

CREATING A GREATER public awareness of our country's fishery resources is one of the responsibilities of the Department of Fisheries of Canada. Its Information and Educational Service seeks to show present-day Canadians how this natural heritage is being maintained for future generations through proper conservation and management.

This work is carried out through the daily and weekly press; radio and television; magazines; educational publications; recipe pamphlets for housewives; exhibitions; permanent fishery displays; film and filmstrip showings; and illustrated educational talks to groups of fishermen.

Such is the standard of the Department's booklets that they have found a ready acceptance by school and other authorities. Most of this material is obtainable by students, teachers, private organizations and individuals.

Salmon Canada's top fish

Pacific Salmon is ranked as the most important and valuable commercial fish in Canada, according to the new 10-volume Encyclopedia Canadiana.

In an extensive article on the species, Canadiana gives the landed value for 1950 as $25,000,000 and states that the figure has been much higher in certain years.

The fish differs anatomically from the North Atlantic variety — first to be called salmon — but there is much similarity in general habits and appearance.

It is marketed principally canned, although large amounts of two species, spring and coho, are sold fresh and frozen. Pacific salmon are indigenous in the North Pacific Ocean on the American side from California to Alaska and in Asia from Siberia to Japan. Five species occur in waters off B.C.: Sockeye, coho, spring, pink and chum salmon.

The life histories of the five species are generally similar and somewhat like that of Atlantic salmon. All live in the sea and return to fresh water to spawn.

Sockeye salmon is the most highly esteemed species for canning, abundant from Oregon to northwest Alaska. Large runs, amounting to millions in many cases, enter the larger rivers such as the Columbia, Fraser, Skeena and Nass.

Heavy fishing, natural occurrences and industrial development have endangered these large runs. Close protection against illegal fishing and inspection to guarantee upstream migration are now carried out. In the case of the Fraser, the United States and Canada under a treaty have established a commission to investigate and regulate this most important sockeye-salmon fishery in B.C.

Both the Coho and the larger Spring — the latter may reach five feet in length and 100 pounds in weight — are famous game fish.

Weddings

KING — LUCKEN

St. Hilda's Anglican church, Sechelt, was the scene of a prettily arranged autumn wedding with the Sechelt Children's choir assisting when Avril Jessie Lucken and Murray Grenfell King were united in marriage. Rev. Canon H.U. Oswald and Rev. D. Donaldson officiated.

Principals were the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.C.G. Lucken of Wilson Creek and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell King of Gibsons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white satin tiered with lace in crinoline style. A pearl trimmed cap of satin and net held her finger tip illusion veil. She carried red roses and stephanotis, and wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Marjorie Brackley, Margaret Herrin and Sundi Stroshein, who wore pale pinkand blue in ballerina style and carried pale pink carnations. The best man was Ed Shaw of Roberts Creek. Ushers were brothers of the bride, David and Roger Lucken.

Over 200 guests attended the reception in the Parish Hall, where Mr. H. Lucken, an uncle of the bride proposed the toast. Cables and telegrams of congratulations were received from England during the reception. The young couple left for a trip to the U.S.A. by car. On their return they will reside at Davis Bay.

PTA meeting

An illuminating story of the British School system, its beginnings and its growth up to the present stage was outlined by Mr. Morgan of Elphinstone school staff, to Roberts Creek PTA on Oct. 15.

Mr. Morgan, a British teacher himself, spoke in interesting fashion about the strides Britain has taken in trying to give the best education to the greatest number of people, about the scholarship system and about the school lunch program in Britain.

Mr. Potter, high school principal, played a tape recording which our local schools had made as a gift to the children of Ghana when this country achieved its independence. This recording was sent through the Red Cross and is to be played over radio programs for the children in the Ghana schools.
