$13,000 wharf repairs

Pacific Piledriving Company Ltd., 401 Yates Street, Victoria, has been awarded the federal government contract for Gibsons wharf and float repairs, Jack Davis, M.P. for Coast-Capilano reports. Amount involved in the contract is $13,658.75 and includes removal of the shed on the wharf and necessary flooring repairs and renovation of some of the older floats. Four tenders were received.

Tenders are due on Sept. 30 for construction and mooring of a new nine by 70 foot float at Madeira Park. Tenders should go to the Vancouver district office of the federal department of public works.

The Vancouver public works office has also received tenders for renewal of a 20 x 60 foot log float at Billings Bay.

Henniker heads CNIB

At the annual meeting of the Peninsula branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mr. E. N. Henniker, chairman; Mrs. H. Stockwell, vice-chairman; Mrs. T. Lamb, secretary and Mrs. W. Duncan, campaign chairman.

Mr. Alex Grant, field secretary for this district demonstrated the new talking books on tape which are replacing the books on records. A new type of player for these tapes has been simplified for use by the blind and is being distributed as rapidly as it becomes available.

He also spoke on the matter of Bill No. 22 which was a matter of some discussion in the press earlier this year and pointed out that it in no way restricted the right of the individual blind person to earn his living but was designed to prevent individuals or organizations making unauthorized appeals for funds to assist the blind. In this way the new regulation would protect the public from being defrauded by bogus appeals and would at the same time assist the genuine organizations of which the C.N.I.B. is one, to continue their work.

It was decided that the campaign date for the Sechelt Peninsula would be October 1 to 25 and the branch hopes for the same strong support they have enjoyed in former years.

The Dominion Command of the Royal Canadian Legion will select winners for the grand prizes of $100 making the total which can be won $165.

Pat on back for ferries

While Gibsons and Area Chamber of Commerce were pleased with the B.C. Ferry Authority service between Langdale and Horseshoe Bay now that two modern ferries are on the run, chamber members were at a loss to understand why there were no hostesses this summer.

The matter came up when Digby Porter reported on tourism activities of the chamber. It was thought that owing to the lack of sufficient tutors for hostesses, all the authority could do this year was to place hostesses on the runs to Nanaimo and Swartz Bay. However as a change of pace in ferry operations the chamber decided to give the Ferry Authority a pat on the back for what it had done. A letter will be sent to the management. Mr. Porter also thanked Gibsons council for black-topping Prowse road leading to the launching ramp.

School Board secretary resigns

Mrs. Anne Burns who has been associated with school board affairs in this area since 1944, tendered her resignation to Sechelt District School board meeting Monday night but will remain at her post until a successor can be appointed.

Her resignation, by letter to the board, resulted in District Superintendent G. Johnston saying that his association with her in school board affairs had been most amicable. He thanked her for the co-operation she had extended.

Mrs. Burns first became interested in school board affairs when the old Howe Sound School Board existed. In 1946 Sechelt District School board was formed and she joined it as secretary.

Barrie McDonald, provincial sanitarian informed the board of his findings as regards lighting facilities in schools as the result of a survey made at the request of provincial officials. In the poor classification were an unused Egmont room, Sechelt Elementary basement, Room 4 Kindergarten; Elphinstone room 103, library, room 201 and 208. Unsatisfactory rooms, a grade above poor were the Elphinstone typing room and home economics 207; at Sechelt building No. 1 rooms 5, 6, 7 and 8 and Pender Harbour secondary, the gym, stage and hall.

Generally Mr. McDonald said all schools have good lighting. Mr. McDonald was accompanied by Phil Crampton, his successor as sanitarian.

Night school possibilities included photography at Elphinstone and art at Elphinstone and Pender Harbour. Further effort will be made to see what need there is for night classes and a deadline of Oct. 10 may have to be set.

A letter from Mrs. Nancy Nygren concerning the condition of washroom facilities in the School hall drew some supporting comment and resulted in a check being ordered.

A previous motion of the board urging equal recognition of out of province teaching experience for teachers moving into B.C. was modified to cover public school experience only.

Offering the board a projection of school attendance probabilities for the next couple of years, Mr. G. Johnston, district superintendent offered the suggestion that the future problem for rooms would lie in Sechelt and recommended that the board start consideration on a West Sechelt school, property for which they now have. He urged an early decision on this so a referendum could be taken which if favorable would allow early construction with the possibility of it being in use by next September.

PTA forum for idea principal says

The first PTA meeting of the 1964-65 year was called by new Elementary School Principal G. Cooper to give parents an opportunity to discuss problems arising from school re-organization.

It was a well attended meeting and parents found Mr. Cooper sympathetic to their problems and were helped to an understanding of the difficulties these conditions make for the staff.

Mr. Cooper emphasized the importance of PTA to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas. He suggested as an example that the pros and cons of sex education in schools could be usefully examined. The function of the PTA as an auxiliary to the school is not any more so urgent and Mr. Cooper gave credit to the school board not only for seeing the need, but for providing a substantial budget, but of course a budget has limits and there are several ways in which parents can help the school, such as looking after the school insurance program, providing prizes for outstanding performance in citizenship, scholarship and for sports and assisting at school functions.

Now that the school district has a librarian films from the National Film Board are available and if parents are interested bi-weekly shows can be arranged for the children at a small charge.

Mr. Cooper asked the co-operation of parents to limit their child's use of the drive-in at lunch hour to essentials and only when absolutely necessary as it added considerably to the difficulty of the staff and the patrol is not on duty at the crosswalk during lunch hour.

The improvements to the corner of North Rd. and Sunshine Coast Highway were noted with satisfaction and will prove a real boon to the students on traffic patrol.

Mrs. West reported on the success of Kamchon Week in June when $85 was raised to build a fifth Elphinstone house in Korea. Twenty cartons of children's clothing had also been forwarded to the Dr. Peter Spohn Clinic and offers to help with mending of the remaining 10 cartons were gratefully received.

The 1964-65 slate of elected officers were: President, Mrs. A. E. Fisher; vice-president, Mrs. M. MacIntosh; recording secretary, Mrs. C. Strom; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. Alsager; treasurer, Mrs. J. Azyan; program chairman, Mrs. L. Labonte; membership, Mrs. J. Harrison; social convener, Mrs. J. Matthews and Mrs. A. White; magazines, Mrs. R. McKenzie; hospitality, Mrs. E. Dawe and Mrs. G. Dixon; publicity, Mrs. F. West.

Twilight Theatre is associating itself with this National Film Board series and will show them Sunday afternoons. There will be a $5 membership charge.

Through these films one can visit exotic Samoa, see an unusual wedding in Nigeria and visit the Netherlands. There will also be a closeup of unknown parts of the world, such as Sarawak, Kuwait, the Faroe Islands and the Falklands, all in beautiful color.

Their 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamont will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, Oct. 3 with open house at their home, Ulster Villa, corner of Glen and Beach Road, from 2 to 4 p.m.

They were married Oct. 3, 1914, in South Vancouver, by the Rev. J. R. Robertson, and resided in Vancouver up to the time of Mr. Lamont's retirement in 1944.

Since then, they have made their home in Gibsons. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lamont were born in Ulster province, Ireland. They have one son Samuel, who lives in Coquitlam. There are three grandchildren.

Action under way

Tidewater Players welcomed four new members to their numbers Sunday evening.

The session was a busy one. An outline for a winter production was discussed and adopted. When the members dispersed, after coffee and some informal singing with Bill Garrison accompanying on the guitar, the performance was cast.

Choreographer Diane Laird was instructed to have dancing teams in rehearsal within two weeks and Lottie Campbell and May Blatchford were similarly instructed in the matter of songs

Fire insurance cut

To mark Fire Prevention week which starts Oct. 4 Gibsons and Area Volunteer Fire Department has released information received from insurance underwriters explaining why insurance rates in this area have shown a drop of about 15 cents per $100 on fire insurance policies.

The rate reduction is the result of a re-appraisal last May when the entire area was checked from a fire prevention or insurance man's point of view.

The improvements which are reported to have resulted in the drop in rates include extensions to the water works system, additional volunteer firemen and an organization which operates effectively, an increase in the hose supply, self-contained breathing apparatus and modifications on water trucks to carry 500 GPM pumps.

Local officials of the fire department are quite pleased with the findings and that insurance rates have gone down because of their efforts to keep an active fire department on its toes.

Scouts at Evans lake

In co-operation with the Kiwanis Kids' Day committee, the Canadian Forestry Association of B.C. was host to some 200 under-privileged children between the ages of 12 and 16 at a Conservation Forest Day program at the Evans Lake Demonstration forest and Junior Forest Warden Training Centre north of Squamish on Saturday, Sept. 26.

This was the third year Evans Lake has been made the rallying point for Kiwanis' Kids Day outing, the boys being drawn from the Greater Vancouver area, the Lower Mainland and the Sechelt Peninsula.

Twenty-five Cubs and Scouts under leadership of Ozzie Hincks and Jim Stewart of the Kiwanis club and Geoff Thatcher, cubmaster, attended.

Special instruction was provided in forestry instruments, tree identification, tree growth studies, weather instruments and fire prevention. A spectacular film, A Fire Called Jeremiah, was a feature of the program.

Warden leaders, including J. A. Moyer, Chief Warden for B.C., and forestry students from the University of B.C. will provide the lectures and commentary. The day will conclude with field sports as time allows.

Transportation and luncheon will be supplied by the Kiwanis Clubs of Division 1A under J. E. Loucks, division chairman, boys and girls work.

Legion luncheon set for Oct. 19

The first meeting of the season was held by the Roberts Creek Legion Auxiliary on Sept. 14 with a disappointing turnout. It is expected attendance will improve. On those in hospital, it was reported Mrs. Harbord would be out in a few days, Mrs. Haynes is waiting for an opening in a nursing home, and that Mr. Mortimer would be out in a couple of weeks.

All the ladies are reminded that the combined luncheon is to be held in Westview on Oct. 19.

Date for the rummage sale is Oct. 23. Arrangements are being made to give what is left over to the Salvation Army. Some ladies in Roberts Creek have expressed the desire to join the Legion Auxiliary. They are urged to please get in touch with the secretary, Mrs. Bessie Clark, 886-9691, or the president, Milly Thyer, 886-7702.

So --- you want a job?

Mr. Sherman's talk to members of the Chamber of Commerce for Gibsons and area last week contained information which the teenager should, to use a hackneyed term, read, mark, learn and inwardly digest.

It contained a wealth of information which if graduating males would heed might save them a considerable amount of worry later. To preach to the teenager is not the wisest way to get a message across to them. Mr. Sherman was not offering them any sermon. He was giving them the hardboiled facts of life on the labor market as far as pulp mills were concerned.

His suggestion that they should complete Grade 12 before seeking employment is a rather tough piece of advice for some of them whose thoughts dwell on a quick accumulation of cash so they can buy some sort of an automobile and live it up sooner.

This is a fine theory but somehow the living it up fritters out before too long and the supposed wide open doors for the unemployed have somehow become closed with grade 12 bars blocking normal entry.

It is true that automation is taking over in many instances. Quite a few years ago automation reduced the pick and shovel brigade almost to a non-existent factor on the labor market and this trend has gone on in varied directions. Big machines have replaced the pick and shovel but it requires something more than a pick and shovel mentality to move earth or rubble these days.

Mr. Sherman's complaint as far as the Port Mellon mill was concerned was that the personnel department was unable to find enough boys with grade 12 status. It is the practice at the mill to use local labor wherever possible. The plant has quite an extensive program for apprentices but, he added with emphasis, grade 12 is a necessity and it would be to their benefit if the job-seekers were to first arm themselves with grade 12 experience before stepping into the labor market.

ABC... Always be careful

ABC has a special meaning to the fire services. In the field of fire prevention it stands for Always Be Careful, the symbol of fire safety seen everywhere in Canada. Also to the fire fighter, Class A fires, Class B fires and Class C fires respectively describe fires in ordinary materials, flammable liquid fires and electrical fires. Now the atomic age takes in more of the alphabet: Class D fires involving radiation hazards.

It is hard to imagine an easier and cheaper way to help safeguard the lives of citizens in the home than to suggest investment in the proper electrical fuse, costing under a dime. The alarming scale of overfusing across Canada is a proper concern of fire authorities, utilities and manufacturers alike. A survey shows that around a million homes, a fifth of the total, may have the wrong fuse in a socket.

Truly, the greatest arsonist of all is one who through ignorance or carelessness invites fire in the home. For example, in muzzling the watchdog by the use of other than a 15 ampere fuse in an ordinary circuit. Worse still, a penny or a hairpin!

The DavisOttawa Diary

By JACK DAVIS, M.P.
Coast-Capilano Constituency
Members of the house of commons were recently visited by a real ombudsman. He was Sir Guy Powles of New Zealand. Sir Guy's job, which is of recent origin, is similar to that of a Scandinavian ombudsman. This office goes back 150 years.

It is no accident that the office of a public defender was first created in these countries. Socialist or near-socialist in character, they have seen a great many government regulations and government decrees. A reaction has set in. So it is the job of the ombudsman to fight for the rights of the little man against red tape and the bureaucracy of big government.

With more than its share of bureaucrats, the need for an ombudsman is, no doubt, greater in other countries. However, the need exists in Canada as well.

The establishment, in 1962, of an office of ombudsmen in New Zealand came after ten years of debate. But it was followed, at once, by a renewed confidence in the public service. No doubt this is because the civil servants, themselves, have become more careful in carrying out their responsibilities.

Sir Guy Powles is not, himself, a civil servant. He is a special officer of parliament — not the government of the day. This is an important distinction. Reporting to parliament, and not to the government, he must therefore maintain his independence both from the cabinet and from the judiciary. This he must do in order to build a tradition of strong and impartial criticism aimed at the government's administration on the one hand and of helpfulness to citizens in their dealings with government officials on the other.

Complaints were quick to flow in. Not all of them, however, have been justified. Only about half have been worthy of investigation. Less than 10% were really justified. Much smaller in number they are however important. They illustrate the crying need for a public defender in modern society.

The government agencies have also been quick to put things right. At least half of the well-founded complaints were rectified before Sir Guy Powles could move in. Often the departmental officials did not wait for the ombudsman to complete his study before making amends. Nor has any case, as yet, occurred where Sir Guy Powles has had to report to parliament that a recommendation from this office was turned down.

In other words, there is another aspect. New Zealand M.P.'s are not altogether prepared to abandon the tedious task of personally attending to many of these complaints themselves. An M.P. who has an injustice righted gains some gratitude from a constituent — hence a few votes — for himself. Conversely, the M.P. who ignores his correspondence or hides behind the broad shoulders of an ombudsman is written off as failing to do his job.

In our Canadian system, an M.P. who registers a complaint rarely finds his way blocked by an official. Usually he receives a sympathetic hearing from the minister concerned. Also he can take a serious grievance to a committee of the house. There deputy ministers and the heads of crown companies are periodically called upon to give an account of themselves.

Still the setting up of an ombudsman in Canada sounds like a good idea. It will help to remove some of the injustices of bureaucratic oppression. But your members of parliament will still have a job to do. Write to him! He then can go to a minister. Then the message comes down from the top. Under these circumstances an offending official will be more inclined to make amends than if a local ombudsman comes knocking at his door.

Health Unit name helps

Now that the Health Unit from Lund to Pemberton has been officially named Coast-Garibaldi Health Unit, the School Board and municipal councils of Gibsons and Sechelt can now proceed with passage of a bylaw to enable each to compose a board of health. This board of health will contain school board and municipal representatives along with public appointees.

Each board of school trustees is charged under the Public Schools Act with the responsibility for providing adequate school health services, and appointing a school health inspector, who will be the health unit director where services are purchased from a health unit.

Each municipal council is designated as a board of health by duties of the Health act and is charged with the responsibility for:

1. Appointing a Medical Health Officer — The council of every municipality in the province shall appoint a medical practitioner duly registered under the Medical act to practice medicine and surgery, to be medical health officer of the municipality.
2. Administering the Health act and its regulations — There shall be a local board of health in each municipality which shall consist of the council of the municipality.

The local board shall superintend and see to the execution of any regulations made under this act, or to execute or aid in executing the same within their respective jurisdiction and to do and provide all such acts, matters and things as are necessary for superintending or aiding in the execution of such regulations, or for executing the same as the case may require.

First Christmas stamp

The first special Christmas stamps in Canadian postal history will go on sale October 14, Hon. J. R. Nicholson, postmaster general, announces. There will be two stamps of similar design, a blue five cent denomination and a red three cent issue.

The stamps, which will be printed by the steel engraving intaglio process, will show a family group of a man, a woman and two children in silhouette, walking off towards a Christmas star in a typical Canadian winter scene. The design is intended to express the feeling of Christmas as a religious and family occasion, and at the same time to portray the scene in a Canadian environment. It is also intended to tie in with the study of the family's place in contemporary Canadian life which was held last summer under the sponsorship of the Governor General and Madame Vanier.

Although in 1898 Canada produced a stamp bearing the words "Xmas 1898," the 1964 issues are the first Canadian postage stamps intended especially for use on Christmas mails. The three cent denomination is the stamp normally used for unsealed Christmas cards and the five cent issue is the usual rate for first class or sealed letters. The stamps will be withdrawn from regular sale at post office wickets immediately after Christmas.

The new stamps are both in the regular small size, similar to the general issue postage stamps. A total of 100 million five cent stamps and 300 million three cent stamps will be printed. The stamps were designed, engraved and printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ltd., of Ottawa.

What were Canada's first militia regulations?

A letter addressed to the Governor of New France by King Louis XIV on April 3, 1669, may perhaps be considered the first comprehensive Canadian militia regulations. By it the Governor was required to divide the people into companies with officers, to ensure that they had arms and ammunition and to see that they drilled once a month. As time passed, the principle became established that each parish had its militia company, service in which was required of all able-bodied men. The captain of militia was a person of much local importance. In addition to commanding the company, he gradually acquired civil functions and became the local administrator mouthpiece of the central government.

Is the opossum found in Canada?

The opossum, a small mammal about the size of a house cat, with loose, grey hair and a naked, scaly tail, is found in Canada only in southern Ontario. It belongs to a group of animals known as marsupials, so called because the young are carried in a pouch, or marsupium, during the greater part of their development. The gestation period of the opossum is only 13 days and the young are less than half an inch long at birth. They remain in the pouch until as large as house mice. Opossums feed on a wide variety of foods, both animal and vegetable.

APPENDICITIS IS STILL A KILLER

Despite all our wonder drugs, a neglected acute appendicitis is as deadly as it was fifty years ago. The average hospital admits 19 appendicitis cases a month.

They are difficult for even a physician to diagnose. Symptoms are similar to acute indigestion. Vomiting and diarrhea may occur. Pain may become unbearable. If you ever have such symptoms which do not soon go away, never take a laxative which can cause the appendix to burst, throwing its poison into the system. Instead, call your physician. We will rush any needed medicine.

Your doctor can phone us when you need a medicine. We will constantly endeavor to keep abreast of the expanding activities in the field of pharmacy — in this era of great change. We pledge at all times to be in the position to offer the finest of pharmaceutical services.

Auxiliary presents surgical lights cheque

Sechelt Hospital Auxiliary held its monthly meeting on Sept. 17, instead of Sept. 10, because of the BCHA convention at Hotel Georgia, Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

Mrs. J. Redman, president and Mrs. G. Hall attended and both found it interesting and informative. They submitted their reports to the meeting, Mrs. J. Redman reporting the events of the three days and Mrs. G. Hall talked on the Candy Strippers, a group of teen-age girls who work as junior auxiliaries in various hospitals.

Reports were given by the convenors of the business luncheon and the Friendship tea, held in June. Proceeds from the business luncheon were favorable and the auxiliary plans to make this an annual event.

The bedside curtains and drapes for the new hospital are well under way, and Mrs. A. Williams said that ladies outside of the auxiliary are helping with them.

The demitasse coffee set was won by Mrs. D. W. Steele, when her ticket was drawn by Mrs. Buckley at the Thurs. meeting.

Mrs. J. Fisher has offered to be the membership convenor for the auxiliary. Membership cards will be printed, and given each member in place of a receipt.

Mrs. L. Johnston came forward on behalf of the Catholic Women's League and presented the president with a generous gift. This money was raised through a bake sale these women put on and worked hard for. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to her.

Mrs. Mary Martha Joe generously offered to knit an Indian sweater for a Christmas raffle, so the auxiliary decided for purchase the wool for her and she was also thanked by all members.

A cheque will be presented to St. Mary's Hospital for the purchase of the surgical lights for the operating room.

The next monthly meeting will be held Thurs., Oct. 8, 2 p.m., at the cottage. New members will be welcomed.

Johnson; membership convenor, Mrs. E. Wiebe; publicity, Mrs. D. Fyles; social convenors, Mrs. C. Heino and Mrs. H. Steinbrunner; sewing convenor, Mrs. F. Wyngaert.

The auxiliary will continue to run the coffee stand at the Kiwanis Bingo under the sponsorship of Mrs. D. Sleep. Mrs. D. Fyles and Mrs. R. Emerson are convening a bake sale in the Super Valu store, Friday evening, Oct. 9, between 6 and 9 p.m. All contributions of home baking will be gratefully accepted and anyone wishing to bake or have baking picked up may phone 886-7714 or 886-2490.

Mrs. E. Henniker gave an informative report on her recent attendance at the provincial convention in Vancouver. HEED TRAFFIC CONTROL Complaints have been received of adults who ignore the students on traffic patrol at the Elementary school by pushing aside waiting children and crossing without the right-of-way. The children's complaints have been supported by eyewitnesses. Principal Cooper of the Elementary school makes it clear that unless the School Traffic Patrol is honored and respected by adult pedestrians he will take the patrol boys off the crossing altogether.

Aid for Mysore

Prize art work to be exhibited

Lionel R. Singlehurst sr., of Gibsons, whose paintings have won many awards at various exhibitions in Canada, plans to hold an art exhibit during October.

The one man show he intends to have in October will be held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ritchey for the benefit of Arbutus Rebekah Lodge.

Mr. Singlehurst who has done some fine marine oil paintings, exhibited at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto recently and obtained 90 percent in marks. He also exhibited at the Edmonton fair and at Vancouver's Pacific National Exhibition where one of his paintings was the centre piece for the oil painting display at the Craft-Hobby Show. At the PNE he won a first prize blue ribbon.

Mr. Singlehurst's works are well known to many people of this area who have seen his exhibits at the Fall Fair and the annual Hobby Show in the United Church Hall where he has taken top prizes for the last three years.

His paintings have been described as fine art in the depiction of his true experiences at sea dating back to before the First World War. Mr. Singlehurst is of the opinion there is a great deal of good artistic talent available in this area. A great admirer of Orvil Fisher's Second World War paintings,

LETTERS to editor

Editor: Having recently attended the monthly meeting of the representatives of the Gibsons and Area Fire Services, I was appalled to learn that the funds this organization has to work with are desperately low!

These funds are maintained through memberships. Each householder on landowner living within the fire protection area of Gibsons is expected to pay the small sum of $5 per year membership. Owners or operators of business establishments are assessed the nominal sum of $10.

Although we are all aware (or should be) that our fire insurance premiums are much lower directly because of the existing fire department, it is amazing to learn how many householders and business establishments are still, at this late date, on the unpaid list. It would be interesting to be able to observe just how quickly these same people would still conveniently forget their unpaid membership and call the fire department for help.

Through my canvassing efforts I know that these are people who, having refused flatly to pay the yearly membership fee, have never hesitated for a moment in calling out the fire department when necessary and then with home and family safe once more have had the audacity to refuse to pay the membership the following year!

Frankly, I would suggest that the only answer to this let Joe work and pay for me too attitude presently prevailing would be to form a Fire Improvement District and let everyone concerned pay their fair share.

Scout farewell

On Sept. 10, the First Gibsons Scout Troop said a last farewell to their popular and hardworking Scoutmaster, Mr. Al Raynor.

The campfire, held at Secret Beach on the far side of the bluff was opened in typical Scout fashion by Scouter Raynor. Next, Mr. Raynor presented five proficiency badges to two Scouts, Alan Wilson and Bruce Marshall.

Geoff Oram on behalf of the Scouts and Mr. Cy Johnson, on behalf of the group committee presented Mr. Raynor with two appropriate gifts, a gas lamp from the Scouts and a blanket from the group committee.

Scouter John Ferrari introduced Rev. James Ferguson and his wife, of Sechelt, who supplied guitar accompaniment to an energetic sing-song session.

The campfire was closed by Scouter Raynor who was sincere in his thanks to all the Scouts for offering him the opportunity of Scouting with them.

The evening ended with more than enough weiners and pop served by the ladies of the group committee — Alan Wilson

It's CSB time again!

Everyone Has Something To Save For is the slogan for Canada Savings Bonds. Once again Canadians have the opportunity to save, and share in the nation's financing with the new issue which will be available on Oct.

5. The return will be a straight 5% if the bonds are held to maturity in ten years.

Interest is 4½% for each of the first two years, 5% for the next five years and 5½% for the last three years.

Bonds, cashable any time for full face value plus interest, are obtainable from banks, investment dealers and through the popular payroll purchase plan. Payroll contributed $228,680,000 of last year's total sales of $1,245 million.

Another slogan is Easy to Buy, Simple to Cash, Good to Keep. Once again citizens can add to their sense of independence and security; provide for education, retirement, travel and emergencies. There has been an increasing tendency for Canadians to hold on to their bonds and as a result the $5 billion Canada Savings Bonds represent 25% of the federal government's outstanding debt and 40% of the government's direct and indirect debt held by the public.

The annual drive pours important and needed money into government financing.

YOUR BROWN GLOVE?

A practically new brown glove with knitted expansion areas was picked up Friday afternoon by Carol Lasser at the top of Bal's Lane. It can be claimed at the Coast News office.

The most practical fashions that ever braved a storm are this fall's new cotton coats and suits that look like real leather. They have the same grainy texture of real leather, along with all the natural, easy-to-care-for qualities you normally associate with 100% cotton. They take to soap, water and even an iron.

A practical fabric with a high-style look, the leather-like cotton is showing up in many all-purpose coats, suits and sports separates. One smart fall coat in leather-like cotton makes fashion news on two counts. It's in the season's pet shade, claret red, and in fashion's favorite shape, the reefer, slim and lightly fitted.

New leather-like cottons also show up in children's wear, men's wear, and in accessories and trimmings. Like all 100% cottons, these new fabrics require no special handling. Garments can be either machine-washed or dry-cleaned by ordinary methods, depending on linings. Spots and spills can be wiped away with a damp cloth or solvent. Ironing won't dull natural lustre of the fabric. Because of the special silicone finish, leather-like cottons are water-repellent, yet comfortable to wear because they "breathe."

Developed in Italy, this new fabric called lethakin is available in a rainbow of shades.

The Sechelt court will be held on Nov. 2 at 11 a.m. The chairman, Mrs. Christine Johnston and Councillors Frank Parker and Bernell Gordon will sit as the court with Councillor Sam Dawe as alternate.

A tax roll court of revision will be held in the municipal hall, Monday, Nov. 2 from 10 to 11 a.m. Chairman A. E. Ritchey and Councillors Fladager and Feeney will be on hand to hear appeals.

HALFMOON BAY NOTES

By MARY TINKLEY

Three weeks ago, Mrs. Mary Walker of Welcome Beach went north to visit her son, Robert Simpson and his family at Ramsay Arm. On Tuesday, Sept. 15, despite pressure from her family to prolong her visit, she decided to head for home. The following day the great mud slide hit the camp where she had so recently been a guest.

Her son came down from the hill where he had been working to get help for the crew who were cut off by the rampaging floods. He found the camp a shambles and his wife and 2½ year old son, Kelly, buried under a pile of mud and debris. His wife, in a state of shock, and Kelly, unharmed except for a few scratches, were flown into Campbell River.

When Mrs. Walker heard the news of the midslide, she returned to Campbell River and brought her daughter-in-law and grandson home with her. They are now resting quietly at Welcome Beach recovering from their terrible ordeal.

On Thursday last, another car went off the road opposite the Roy Doyle home. Bob Cunningham towed the car back onto the road and the driver, Mr. Hugman of Powell River was able to continue on his journey. This is the fourth accident on the same stretch of road within a period of three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lock, who have been renting the McAllister house at Halfmoon Bay for the past five months, have left to spend the winter at Ocean-side, southern California. Mr. Lock, who is 84 and looks more like 60, comes from Maple Creek, Sask., where he was engaged in mixed farming. Since his retirement he has lived at Gibsons and Galliano Island. Mr. and Mrs. Lock say they have had a grand summer and thank everybody in the Bay for making their stay such a happy one.

Another young fellow, who doesn't look anything like his age is Ernie Lewis who celebrated his 73rd birthday on Monday last.

The baby son of Henry and Lupe Guenther is to be named Richard.

Mrs. H. R. Pearce's guest last weekend was her granddaughter Miss Wendy Gilbertson.

At the Frank Lyons have been

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scanlon of Vancouver who have been visiting Redroofs for 25 years as guests of the Lyons.

Cliff and Peggy Connor, with daughter Mary, have just returned from a holiday at Burns Lake. At Bridge Lake they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Farnham who have the Bridge Lake Resort. Bill Farnham is well known in Gibsons where he used to operate a taxi and the Farnhams still return to Gibsons each winter.

Qualifying for the title of Redroofs Good Neighbor last weekend was Don Ross. After last Thursday's storm, Don arrived from Vancouver early on Friday morning to find that many of the boats in the Duck Rock area had dragged anchors. The Phil Dill boat was heading for Welcome Pass and Dr. Paine's boat was almost grounded. Other boats were so close together as to be in danger of colliding.

Don spent the whole day getting control of the situation, and with help from Mr. Richard Shaich, saved any of the craft from becoming lost or damaged. Not content with a whole day's good neighborliness, Don spent the rest of the weekend helping Tony Tschaikowsky put on a new roof.

A party on Saturday last to celebrate Brenda Derby's sixth birthday came to an unhappy end when Susan Oerby fell off a swing and broke her arm. Susan was rushed first to the doctor at Secheit and then to St. Mary's Hospital where she stayed overnight.

A NEW EMBLEM

A new emblem for The Canadian Chamber of Commerce was introduced at the opening session of the organization's 35th annual meeting in Winnipeg. It is a modern abstract of the maple leaf constructed from the three C's of the organization's name, symbolizing the three levels of operation in the chamber movement, community, province and the nation.

The busiest place in Halfmoon Bay area recently was undoubtedly Doyle's logging road, where many hopeful hunters went up and a few came back happy. On Saturday morning, the line-up of cars stretched from the gate down to the highway, and 40 cars went through. Of the six deer brought down, two were bagged by two school teachers from Vancouver.

A hunter from Powell River, accompanied by his son was at the gate at midnight on Friday. His was the first car through when the gate was opened by Harry McLean at 5:30 next morning. He brought down his deer while most people were still sleeping and was in time to catch the 10:20 a.m. ferry back to Powell River.

The recipe for Pineapple Nut Cupcakes takes full advantage of this unusual fruit. The egg whites are beaten and folded in, like an angel food cake, and the result is a pleasantly moist little cake, with an interesting contrast between the nuts and pineapple. Don't be surprised if the tops seem a little rough textured, as well as rounded — that's the way they're supposed to be.

PINEAPPLE NUT CUPCAKES
(Makes 18)
½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs separated
1½ cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1¾ cups once-sifted pastry flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup drained crushed pineapple
½ cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts

Preheat oven to 350 deg. F. (moderate). Grease 18 medium-sized muffin cups approximately 2 ¼-inch top inside measure. Cream butter or margarine and sugar together in large mixing bowl until fluffy. Beat in egg yolks one at a time; continue beating until light. Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Combine milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients alternately with liquids, beginning and ending with dry ingredients; combine well after each addition. Stir in crushed pineapple and nuts. Beat the 2 egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold carefully into batter. Using a tablespoon, fill prepared muffin cups ¾ full of batter. Bake in preheated oven 18 to 20 minutes. Remove from muffin cups and cool on cake racks. Serve plain or, if desired, with a pineapple butter icing.

THIS LITTLE BOY looks sad for a very good reason. For half his life he has suffered from arthritis and he is only three years old. He is not able to have the kind of fun other children have this summer because of this crippling disease. The only hope for him is the research being conducted by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Starting Monday, October 5 through to Saturday canvassers will call on householders in Gibsons village and area, Granthams, Hopkins Landing and Langdale. All contributions will be gratefully received and official receipts will be given all donors.
