This old house built 54 years ago by George Gibson, founder of Gibsons Landing, was destroyed by fire Monday night when at about 7:45 p.m. members of the fire department set the building alight. It blazed furiously until 10:30 o'clock. Gibsons council instructed the firemen to dispose of the building. They used it as a fire practice and aided by a wall of water against the former Coast News office, also more than 50 years old, kept the blaze controlled in its own area.

Band tickets available

Vancouver's famous Boys' Band, the Kitsilano Boys, will really be playing a return engagement, history proves. On their previous engagements (see editorial on Page Two) children of the area were so unaccustomed to concerts they could scarcely be controlled! Such has been the progress here, that not only are they concert-wise, but are perfectly capable of performing in concert themselves.

Where in the past, not enough people could be gathered together to make a supporting audience, today the auditorium can be packed to the doors and more, for anything so worthwhile as the Kitsilano Boys' Band, which has consistently won top honors, including first place wins last season.

Toronto, Chicago, Calgary,

London, (England), Ottawa, Dublin, San Francisco, New York, Hillegon (Holland), Oosterbeck, to name a few cities, have been hosts to this famous group under Arthur Delamont's direction. And now, again, the public of this area has an opportunity to hear them.

The Gibsons and Area Centennial Celebrations Committee had only two possible dates to choose from, so filled is the calendar of this popular band.

The following have tickets for advance adult purchase: V. Prever at Marine Men's Wear, R. Kruse, Rexall Drugs; Don Head at the Shoe Store, Pat Quarry for Port Mellon, John Perry of Pender Harbour, and H. Barendregt, Sechelt. They may also be purchased from Mrs. D. Wortman at McMynn Realty.

Caravan arrives April 12

A travelling time machine to take British Columbians and their friends into the past and through the present to the future, will be in this area next week.

The British Columbia Centennial Caravan, which was unveiled in Victoria on March 11, will be in Gibsons, Tues., April 12.

The caravan consists of two 55-foot truck-trailer units which are placed side by side to make one large exhibit. Special lighting and sound effects and animated displays make a trip through the exhibit an exciting and interesting adventure.

The caravan holds special interest for young people, but due to extensive vandalism during the Victoria showing, children must be accompanied by parents or must make the tour in organized groups. Admission is free.

In Gibsons the caravan will be located on Sunnycrest parking lot. It will be open from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.

BLOOD donors wanted

Get ready, everyone, for the Blood Donors' Clinics to be held in April. Three hundred pints are wanted.

For some years the Kinsmen's Clubs on the Sunshine Coast have done a fine job in co-operation with the Canadian Red Cross Society in annual clinics for blood donors at Gibsons and Sechelt.

Blood contributions sent in to Red Cross headquarters in Vancouver have fallen short of the total blood used at St. Mary's Hospital, Sechelt, by a considerable amount. Actually in 1965, the Canadian Red Cross clinic in Vancouver contributed 191 pints of blood to St. Mary's Hospital.

MAIL YOUR CARD

Post cards to be mailed to Prime Minister Pearson deploring cruelty in the sealing industry on the east coast can be obtained at the Coast News office and are also available in various stores in the community. SPCA officials in this area are supporting the move to acquaint the prime minister of the feelings of the public in this case.

JAMES C. M. WILLCOCK

James C. M. Willcock, local gravedigger, injured in an accident when his car collided with a stopped truck on Gower Point road on Thursday evening of last week, died in a Vancouver hospital Saturday. He took a turn for the worse when in St. Mary's Hospital and he was taken to Vancouver. He was a member of Royal Canadian Legion branch 109. The funeral took place March 30 from the Harvey Funeral Home, with Rev. H. Kelly officiating. Burial was made in Seaview Cemetery Field of Honor.

Clinic to seek new quarters

Gibsons council at Tuesday night's meeting agreed to lease required municipal land on Winn Rd. for the purpose of erecting a clinic. It is understood the present location is rapidly becoming unsuitable owing to poor parking facilities.

This type of building fits in with the area, Councillor Fladager said after Chairman Hodgson thought it would be better if the doctors could find a location elsewhere. Dr. Hobson said if one other property considered was not available it would be necessary for the clinic to move up the hill, which they did not desire to do. Clerk Charles Gooding reading the Municipal Act stated such land could be leased on a long term basis with rental revised if necessary every ten years. It would be necessary to sub-divide the lot.

Councillor Drummond urged the doctors to present some sort of plan to give council an idea of what was intended.

Faith Insurance Co., Burnaby, sought information on water and sewage possibilities for possible construction of a 30 suite apartment block just below village water tank property on School Rd. As regards the main problem, sewage, the company was advised to consult health officials and the school board who controls the effluent line on School Rd.

Ken Watson of Ken's Foodland was granted a building permit for a $5,000 extension, 15 x 55 ft. on the front of the present store on Gower Point Rd.

Floor for hall

Gibsons and Area Volunteer Firemen are holding their semi-annual Firemen's cabaret dance on Saturday, April 23 in the Elphinstone Secondary auditorium, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The orchestra from Vancouver is a popular one and will bring entertainers from Vancouver.

Proceeds from this dance will go towards putting a cement floor in the area fire hall, a worth-while project.

Tickets can be bought or reserved from any fireman or at Gerry Dixon's Barber shop. The usual goodies, beverages and spot dances will add fun, so make your reservation now for April 23. Lots of parking space is available and everybody is welcome.

Ogre in play

If you remember Gibsons Elementary school production of Hansel and Gretel and their delightful version of Mary Poppins you'll not want to miss this year's concert Friday, April 1, no foolin'.

The drama club will present The Dyspeptic Ogre, a modern fairy tale with Wayne Wright as the ogre, Christa West his Irish cook, Kathy Potter is the Jester and Toni King, the heroine who rescues the children from the ogre's castle. Mrs. M. Sleep directs the play.

The school choir directed by Mrs. M. Neilson will sing two groups of songs including the favorite Rolling Home which they sang on the CBC school broadcast. Twelve grade 7 boys trained by Mr. J. Ferrari will put on a tumbling and acrobatic display.

STUFF 3,000 ENVELOPES

Forty-two Kiwanis and assistants after a smorgasbord supper Thursday night of last week at Danny's Dining room stuffed 3,000 Easter Seal envelopes to be mailed to all from Port Mellon to Jervis Inlet. Returns are coming back slowly.

Reserve school to go?

The possible eventual closing down the reserve school at Sechelt and absorbing pupils there into public schools was suggested at Monday night's meeting of the district school board in its Gibsons board room.

It came up when Principal W. S. Potter told the board he had an application from the reserve school for the absorption of 25 grade eight students. Principal W. L. Reid of Sechelt Elementary spoke on the taking in of six reserve kindergarten children last year with success and hoped to be able to get mothers from the reserve to attend kindergarten and see if more can be interested.

Trustee Leo Johnson then advanced the opinion that eventually the school would most likely be closed down and the reserve children attending regular schools. While admission of the 25 grade eight students would upset the accommodation balance at Elphinstone Secondary the move was regarded as being in the right direction.

Principal George Cooper of Gibsons Elementary school outlined his pupil situation as he saw it for the next school term starting in September. He expected there would be 500 attending with close to two classes for every grade from one to seven. He was of the opinion the school would then be entitled to a library and space for the same probably in a basement room.

Mr. Cooper was given approval to complete arrangements for the trip to Seattle of the winners of the Science Fair which drew a large attendance. Mr. Potter outlined visits to come of special speakers from the Port Mellon mill who will give talks on engineering vocations available to pupils.

Trustee W. P. Malcolm of Pender Harbour advised the board to eliminate water transportation just as soon as present contracts expire in Pender Harbour area. By using bus transportation he visualized a saving of up to $6,000 a year. He urged that tenders for next season's transportation be advertised as soon as possible, covering the area Halfmoon Bay to Egmont.

Mr. Reid commenting on the pyromaniac activities at Sechelt Elementary which have ceased revealed that no clues had developed leaving the mystery still unsolved. The board after considering a letter from the Pollution Control board regarding the attachment of an apartment block to the school effluent system which the pollution board said made the system a common utility urged the school board to make the situation legal, cut off the apartment block or approach the village council to take over the line. The board will await developments.

Above is the Indian Reserve school band under instruction of Const. Jim Fitzpatrick of Sechelt RCMP highway patrol. Uniforms are red, yellow and blue, made by band members, sisters of the school and older girls. Band members made their own eagle feathered headdress. On Monday in Vancouver they played at RCMP headquarters, Shaughnessy hospital and in Little Mountain Park. The band is doing exceptionally well considering the age of the members.

Bruce Kidd film to be shown

Members of the Coast Comets Track Club have been issued invitations to attend a special evening of films at Elphinstone Secondary School on Friday, April 1 at 7:30 p.m.

The films were secured by Mr. H. Barendregt and featured out-standing athletes and training methods in all aspects of track and field work. Hi-lighted is Runner, the Bruce Kidd story and What Makes a Champion filmed in Australia. There will be shorts on the javelin, the discus and the four-minute mile, and cuttings from the British Empire Games in Wales. The piece de resistance of these UBC and National Film Board films is entitled I Was a 90 Pound Weakling.

All interested in attending who did not receive an invitation, may contact Mr. W. Naylor for further details.

There is no admission charge and visitors are welcome.

TIDEWATER CAPERS

A small but enthusiastic group attended the first workshop of the Tidewater Players on March 20 at Roberts Creek Hall. Mr. A. Lisch led the group through a series of questions and answers on acting, the hows, whys, rewards and expectations.

After a few demonstrations on the right and wrong ways of putting over certain dialogue Mr. Lisch divided everyone into groups and inside of two minutes they had to dream up the idea for a short skit.

It was lots of fun and the club is looking forward to the next workshop to follow the next meeting, Sunday, April 17 at 8 p.m. in Roberts Creek Hall.

Outline U.S. school work

The March 15 meeting of the Pender Harbour PTA at Madeira Park Elementary School heard Mr. Skelton report on the success of open house at Pender Harbour Secondary and that the free films supplied by the Arts Council were well received. Mr. Powers showed the special award won by this PTA for increased membership over the 1964-65 period.

The evening's program was presented by two students from Longview, Washington, Cheryl Keeton and Dave Peterson.

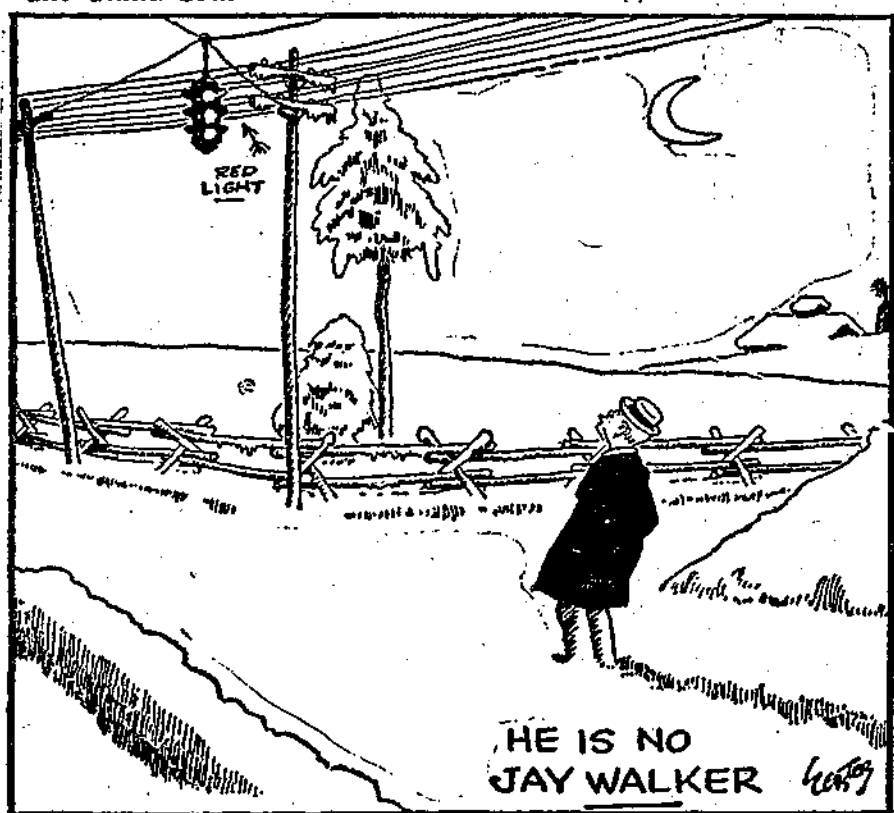

Cheryl reported on the courses given and class size. She also pointed out that a great deal more decision on exams is left entirely up to the teacher.

The school is organized in such a way as to allow greater inquiry by students, this seemed to mean that they have greater independence. At a recent Science Fair the whole school was enthusiastically involved. The greatest determinate as to how many continue in education is the Washington pre-college test, which is designed to disclose how much a student can learn and what their individual capacity is.

The next meeting will be held at Pender Harbour Secondary on April 19 at 8 p.m.

Unity in the Community gets things done

Just for the record!

Coast News telephones have been jangling since Wednesday over an incorrect assertion in an advertisement in last week's paper. That advertisement concerned the Kitsilano Boy's Band which is to visit Gibsons. The assertion which drew considerable attention informed the public that it was the "First Time Ever" for the band in this area. That is what started numerous phone conversations.

The facts are the Kitsilano band has been to Gibsons, Sechelt and Pender Harbor. Back in 1945, if one cares to check Coast News columns of that period, one can find a full-page advertisement dated Wednesday, Nov. 7, informing the public the band would be in Gibsons Landing, Nov. 15; Pender Harbor, Nov. 16 and Sechelt Pavilion, Nov. 17 with two performances at each place, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Comment in later issues revealed that the trip was a financial flop and an appeal was made for donations to help out. Considerable rain also rattled the roof of the halls in which they played.

Visit number two under direction of the Sechelt Music Appreciation Society and sponsored by Sechelt Canadian Legion branch 140, Union Steamships and the Coast News, was to support the Doreen Doyle Blue Baby Fund. This information came from a half-page advertisement in the Coast News dated May 23, 1947, announcing that the band would play Saturday, May 31 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, June 1 at 2 p.m. in the Sechelt Pavilion. Comment on the success or failure of this event did not appear to be available.

However eyewitness stories about the visit of the band to Gibsons did not speak too highly of the less-than avid attention displayed by the younger element of Gibsons. One eyewitness said the band leader stopped the band twice during the performance to quieten down the noisy youngsters. The performance was in the School hall which at that time was in the hands of the Women's Institute.

The Coast News will go out on a limb (feeling rather safe at that) and tell band members in advance that they will receive the proper attention when they perform on Sat., April 16 and the band will not have to be stopped to quell non-musical noise-makers.

The squeaky wheel helps

If there is one job to be done it will be to inform provincial government officials in Victoria that the Sunshine Coast, even though it has no high rise apartment problems and suchlike, does contain a goodly number of people whose problems deserve official notice.

However, there are those people who will rise up and claim that it is sweet to be remembered but it is often cheaper to be forgotten. Maybe so but after perusing various government annual reports one can come up with the conclusion that the Sunshine Coast is like the unwanted child deserving of better treatment.

One can read of the large sums of money poured into the "distressed" areas of the province with their excellent over-sized highways, magnificent bridges and suchlike. Which leads one to ponder over the values in meaning that words have in parts of the country.

An expression used by some metropolitan editorial writers informs readers that they are citizens of no mean city. Well, the Coast News can inform its readers and government officials as well, that we are citizens of no mean area.

The Sunshine Coast from Port Mellon to Jervis Inlet is an area which is drawing people to its shores without high pressure. It will progress regardless of political stripes worn by governments and will maintain its place in the scheme of things. If we have to become a squeaky wheel that needs greasing, it can be truly said that we are a squeaky wheel because the grease has been withheld from us.

School trustees report on tax study

Local taxation must play a role in the financing of the schools; the weight of property tax in British Columbia is not excessive; and B.C. has a modern system of education finance which is probably superior to that in most of the other provinces, according to a study of education finance in this province just concluded for the British Columbia School Trustees association.

The independent study was made by UBC Professor A. Milton Moore, an economist specializing in public finance, Professor Philip H. White, an expert in real estate and assessment at UBC, and Arthur Guttman, assistant general secretary of the trustees organization. It covers principles of government expenditure and taxation; the B.C. Foundation Program; the education finance system related to equality of educational opportunity and equality of tax effort; a review of the real property tax in this province; and comment on the burden of the real property tax.

"With the possible exception of the effect of distribution of the burden, we cannot find support for the view that the weight of the property tax in British Columbia is excessive," the authors state. "There will certainly be particular individuals in every municipality who will be able to demonstrate that their property tax represents real hardship," the study continues. "It is, however, exceedingly dangerous to argue from the particular to the general."

"Every instance of individual complaint against the burden of the property tax which has come to our notice," the study states, "has been rooted in an imbalance of the individual's wealth, as represented by real property and his income."

In terms of operating costs of each school district, an increasing proportion is being paid through tax effort which has not been equalized with the tax effort in other districts, the study points out. This results from increases in costs considered to be in excess of the basic education program — a program which has not been revised in a number of years. Tax effort to meet the cost of what is considered to be the basic education program has basically been equalized between school districts and an element of equalization in tax effort to meet capital repayments and interest has been achieved, the report states.

"It is not the conclusion that there should be no excess costs," the study indicates. "Rather it is realized that local autonomy allows school boards the privilege of effecting specific local wishes in terms of the standard of education in each district and that with such authority there properly is the responsibility to pay for such local standards on a local basis."

The report notes that "there is no reason for not drawing upon the real property tax as part of the total federal-provincial-municipal-school tax structure."

At the same time, the study stresses that a comprehensive evaluation and revision of the taxing statutes covering real property are overdue. A number of specific weaknesses and problems are cited including: lack of provision for compulsory general revaluations of property on a regular basis; the general scheme of exemptions and reliefs; grants in lieu of taxes on crown property; the administration of the real property tax; farmlands; taxable assessed value of land related to taxable assessed values of improvement.

The study suggests great improvements in assessment work would result by the general use of computers and states "on this and other grounds a strong case can be made for transferring the responsibility of making all assessments to the provincial government."

The report notes that this would not infringe on local autonomy because no policy decisions are required in determining the assessed value of a piece of property. "The policy decision lies in setting the mill rate which would still be left to the municipalities."

Local taxation must play a role in the financing of the schools, the study reports, because "an indispensable condition of financial responsibility is that the agency of government must make the choice between higher expenditures and taxes on one hand and somewhat lower expenditures and taxes on the other." "Accordingly," the report continues, "if trustees are to have the power to add to school expenditures, they must accept responsibility for causing local taxation to be higher."

The study stresses that a provincial statute requires that

IT HAS BEEN SAID

—By James Mandelkau
(in My-Ok, Elphinstone School publication)

I feel all things
Of life and love and such
Yet you say nought exists
Except that you can touch.

Who has seen religion
That I may see God?
Who has felt the force
That greens the desert sand?

Who has touched the souls
Of heroes all now slain?
Who has seen the pearly gates
Where these good men are lain?

Who has felt the music
That heralds in my life?
Who has touched the love
That whispers to my wife?

Who has seen the angels
Or the heaven where they dwell?
Who has touched the firepot
That Satan stokes in hell?

None have seen these things
So, then why persist? ...
What one cannot touch
Can nevertheless exist.

a standard mill rate be imposed on taxable real property to meet one half of the cost of the basic education program in B.C. This rate, which is set by the provincial government, accordingly is a provincially imposed tax. By combining the revenue from this tax, homeowner grants, and direct grants, the provincial government provides a high percentage of the total school costs.

The authors point out that the homeowner grant decreases the weight of tax on owner-occupied residences and increases the weight of tax on rented residences and commercial and industrial property. "If grants were paid with respect to rented dwellings, relief would be afforded low-income families in rented apartments and dwellings," the study states.

In preparation for their travel-study projects, the three B.C. winners will attend an expense-paid, two-day seminar in Saskatoon at the end of April, with the other 22 winners from the western provinces.

Mr. Hart said that the scheme is designed to encourage and expand leadership qualities in people in rural areas . . . so that they can assume leadership in developing better rural communities.

He noted that, following initial recommendations by local organizations of farm people, the 50 winners were chosen from 700 candidates by independent selection committees composed of agricultural authorities from all parts of the country. The bank had no part in the selection of winners.

The committee for the western area was under the chairmanship of Dr. L. E. Kirk, former dean of agriculture and former chairman of the board of governors of the University of Saskatchewan.

Court days questioned

A letter from B. L. Cope read at Monday night's Gibsons and District Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting in Welcome Cafe urged that the present magistrate's court arrangement is inconvenient to those working, forcing them to lose at least a day's pay in order to appear at court. Mr. Cope preferred Saturday.

Information received from the attorney-general's department stated the problem was being looked into to make it convenient for the public. RCMP report the present setup is the best they have had for some time. There is no difficulty in setting dates and times to suit those who appear before court. Saturday court sessions did not suit a good many people in the past, RCMP report.

BAN LIFTED

The ban on visitation at the hospital owing to the flu has been lifted and visiting is back to normal now.

COAT RETURNED

Vaughn Tariff picked up a man's corduroy coat on School road near the apartment block and after chasing down possible clues it was returned to the Williamson company paving crew which had done some paving in that area.

A patrol leaders weekend

The patrol leaders weekend at Wilson Creek Guide Camp last weekend brought together 36 girls from six Guide companies. The camp theme was the Woodcraft Emblem, with special emphasis on the Woodman's badge requirements. Woodcraft badges are requisite for the All Round Cord and to qualify for the emblem which is needed for a Gold Cord a guide must earn her hiker's and woodman badges and two of the following out-door badges, naturalist, stalker, tracker, bird-watcher, astronomer or conservation.

The girls worked in patrols learning the proper use of tools and how to look after them, how to fell a tree, tree-planting, identification of native trees and shrubs and use of map and compass. Handicrafts with a nature theme, spiderweb prints, spore-prints, blue-prints and driftwood brooches were popular. The girls took home a fascinating collection of work they had done.

Mrs. Lola Caldwell offered a crack of dawn birdwatching hike, and 25% of the girls kept the early morning date. The clear evenings made it possible for practice in recognition of constellations and even a satellite was observed making one of its orbits of the earth. There were 14 girls from Powell River, Texada 4, Roberts Creek 2, and 9 from Gibsons with leaders Mrs. V. Liebeck, Texada; Mrs. M. Francis, Mrs. N. Lalond and Mrs. H. MacNair Powell River; Mrs. L. Caldwell, Mrs. H. Newton, Mrs. D. Stockwell and Miss M. Swanson, Sechelt. Visiting helpers included Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen, Mrs. A. Labonte, Mrs. D. Gust and Patti Gust, Wendy Inglis and Sandra Ward.

Honor Ruben

The St. Patricks dance March 19 at the Port Mellon Community hall was well attended.

A highlight was a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ruben of memorabilia of their participation in community events. Mr. Frank West gave an interesting account of Mr. Ruben's activities as recreation director for the area, and thanked him on behalf of the group for his dedicated interest and success in launching programs of folk dancing, square dancing and various youth activities.

The Rubens will leave shortly on a trip to their native Denmark and plan on making a three month tour of Europe. On their return they will continue to live in Abbotsford.

"Goliath, why don't you go out and see what that nice little shepherd boy wants?"

Support for a campaign to reduce traffic accidents will come from the Canada Post Office on 2nd May with issuance of the country's first Highway Safety stamp. Postmaster General Jean-Pierre Cote announces. On the same day he will participate in sessions of the Canadian Highway Safety Council at Calgary, Alta., where opening ceremonies of the group's 12th conference will coincide with the date of issue for the new stamp.

Toronto artist, Helen Fitzgerald, executed the design for the new issue which portrays traffic signs and symbols in tones of blue and yellow on a black background.

In producing twenty-six million Highway Safety Stamps for use on Canada's mail, the Post office Department co-operates with the C.H.S.C. to impress upon users and recipients the need for an equal awareness of dangers to drivers, passengers, and pedestrians.

Minute message

Jesus said, "I am . . . the life." He is life at its very source — the purest, richest and most abundant that life can be. To trust him is to come into contact with life at its fountain.

The soul of man thirsts for a full and free life. Various adventures are undertaken in the search for a fuller, richer experience. These efforts often lead to disappointment. Many things which seem to offer a richer life fail to provide it, for "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Material things alone are not a sufficient goal.

All who are yearning for more abundant life will find it when they come to Christ. If we know within our hearts that the waters of the earth have failed and that we thirst for springs of heavenly life, let us come to him who said, "I am the life." — Rev. W. M. Cameron, United Church.

Agreement revision outlined

The B.C. coast forest industry proposals for revision of the master agreement with the International Woodworkers of America between Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing 120 firms, and IWA, bargaining for 25,000 workers in B.C. coast logging camps and mills, is now under negotiation.

Heading the negotiations for the industry is John M. Billings, president of FIR. The industry's chief proposal is for arbitration machinery to fix blame for illegal work stoppages in the industry and assess compensation for the injured party. Other main proposals call for:

- A five-day, 40-hour week within seven days. This would keep expensive machinery operating at its optimum rate and relieve pressure on recreational facilities by allowing woodworkers time off Monday to Friday.

- Conference on falling and bucking. In 1954 a base rate was established for fallers and buckers and since then through improvements in machinery the income for fallers and buckers has greatly increased. Average daily wages are now $55 per day and earnings of $95 are not uncommon. This has created serious distortions in the wage scale. The companies propose joint discussions with the union to seek a viable solution.

- Extension of job evaluation. Job evaluation in the plywood industry over the last seven years has established the proper relationship between jobs and virtually eliminated arguments over category rates. It is now proposed this be extended to other branches of the industry.

- More long weekends for employees. The industry proposes that when a statutory holiday occurs on either Tuesday or Thursday, that the observance be changed by mutual agreement to Monday or Friday to secure a continuous, three-day weekend.

- Equal pay for bus riding. When employees are entitled to travel time now it is paid at the job rate. That means a chokerman gets $2.57 an hour and the average faller gets $6.83 an hour for doing the same thing: riding side by side to work in the bus. It is proposed to pay all travel time at the minimum labor rate.

- Increased board and lodging rates. The rate for board and lodging in coast camps is now $2.50 per man per day. But the average cost to the industry per man is $5.75 per day. The proposal is to raise the charge to $4 per man per day to partially offset cookhouse losses.

- Seniority protection for foremen. Under the union agreement, employees promoted to foremen are not permitted to accumulate seniority while in that job. But employees on leave of absence for union work do retain and accumulate seniority with the company. The proposal is to place employees on the same basis whether they work full time for the union or for the company as a foreman.

- Limitation on retroactive pay. This proposal would limit retroactive pay where there has been any unreasonable delay on the part of the union in initiating or processing a grievance.

Canadians may be right in thinking the cost of housing is too high, but thanks to wood frame construction, a house is still one of the best buys on the market.

Post offices Pt. Mellon-Gibson road benefitted area not closed

As the result of a postmaster-general's enquiry into the feasibility of consolidating postal services in the Pender Harbor area it has been decided that the present service should be maintained, Jack Davis, M.P. for this constituency has informed the Coast News.

First plans were for the closing of Garden Bay and Irvine's Landing post offices but after a delegation from the area met with the district postal director in Vancouver and a field service official visited the area it was found there was some interest in extending rural delivery service but not at the expense of closing one or more of the post offices. At present unless an extension of Madeira Park Rural route No. 1 is the subject of a petition no action is contemplated.

In view of the geographical layout of the three areas the department has decided to leave any consolidation alone for the time being.

Float refused

A request for federal government built floats at Earls Cove has been turned down because construction of public facilities in competition with existing private facilities, for convenience of relatively few summer residents is not considered justified. No further action is contemplated according to information supplied Jack Davis, M.P., for this constituency by Hon. George J. McIlraith, minister of public works.

The request came from residents of Nelson and Caldwell Islands. The minister's letter to Mr. Davis maintained that as there were available landings at Pender Harbor and private facilities at Earls Cove another was not deemed necessary.

Piano wanted

Some of the older folks who like to sing a bit are in the market for a used piano. Any one with a piano of this sort should get in touch with Mrs. William Haley at 886-2338.

In the meantime there is an OAPO raffle going on to help finance a piano. Prizes on this raffle are $25 and a big grocery hamper. Meantime donations towards the purchase of a piano would be gratefully received.

DRIVE FOR TOURISTS

The California Tourist Promotion trip under the leadership of Mr. Ron Worley, assistant general manager of B.C. Ferries, will last from March 28 until April 2. 25 British Columbians will talk to 111 California clubs and organizations, as well as make many appearances on T.V. and radio, in their effort to bring more tourist dollars to British Columbia.

BALLET SCHOOL

Ballet British Columbia, the province's newly-formed professional ballet company, will hold a summer school for dance hopefuls this year and registrations for the five-week course are now being accepted. The school will be held in Vancouver from July 4 to August 6 in the Vancouver Opera Association Building. Registration forms may be obtained by writing to Ballet British Columbia, 886 Seymour Street, Vancouver.

By MAE BULGER

It is just 12½ years ago that the road linking Gibsons to Port Mellon was built. In previous years residents of Port Mellon were forced to endure the slow ferry service of the Lady Rose and the Hollyburn.

Anyone taking a weekend trip to Vancouver would spend from two to six hours on the boat. Residents were dependent entirely on boat service for needs such as medical and dental attention. All food supplies arrived once a week. It is well remembered how the housewives would rush to Gray's store to stock up on fresh vegetables and fruits. If they were not alert and running, chances were they would be without these necessities for another week.

These were grim years for prospective mothers and accident victims. Fortunately, serious accident victims were able to make use of the swifter company owned boat.

In Gibsons, improving and enlarging of Gibsons Elementary school has been consistently done. In 1952 Elphinstone High school was built, with vast improvements in both curriculum and teaching facilities.

On January 9 of this year, Langdale school opened its doors to an estimated 119 pupils. Grades from one to seven are taught by a staff of five teachers. The school is located in an idyllic spot. Nature studies are easily assimilated as the surroundings are woods, grassy slopes and far from the noisy clamor of industry.

New businesses have been established in Gibsons, and the older ones constantly strive to improve their service.

The newly formed Arts council has served to stimulate a renewed interest in arts, crafts and music.

The Adult Education program is also doing much to open up avenues for developing and improving skills in bookkeeping, typing, art, dressmaking, lapidary and ceramics.

A better and more abundant life is becoming increasingly possible for residents of Gibsons and surrounding communities through the efforts of dedicated talented and enthusiastic citizens.

A SURVIVAL RIGHT

This is the Centennial Symbol.

What does it mean? What does it mean to you?

We hope it means more than any other symbol you have ever been exposed to. Because this symbol is Canada. And Canada is you.

It is composed of eleven triangles. Ten representing the Provinces, and the other, our northern territory. The triangles are arranged as a stylized Maple Leaf, the identifying symbol for Canada and Canadians.

It is your symbol and it can help stand for your involvement in Canada. It can show your pride. It can interpret your enthusiasm for a greater Canada. From this point on, all Canadians will be caught up in the growing excitement of honouring 100 years of Confederation. Individuals will soon be involved with their own Centennial projects. Many communities have already begun to embark on large scale Centennial endeavours. Industries have initiated widespread Centennial efforts of varying degrees. All Canadians working to say "Canada" to the world.

You will be seeing this symbol everywhere. Like to be one of those behind it? We'd like you to use the symbol in your home; your office; at school; in your plant; wherever you can. The manual noted below may help to explain how you can best use it.

Remember, this is an opportunity for all of us to understand Canada, its history, its present and its future. Let's explore what can now be called a great country. Let's all be a symbol for Canada, the same way this is a symbol for Centennial.

When is fish cooked?

How can you tell when fish is cooked? The indications are as clear as traffic lights. A piece of raw fish whether white, or cream, or pink, has a watery, translucent look. During the cooking process the watery juices become milky-colored, giving the flesh an opaque, whitish tint. When the flesh has taken on this tint to the centre of the thickest part, it is completely cooked. At this time the soft connective tissue disintegrates and the flesh readily separates into flakes. If there are bones present, it comes away from them easily. Are recipes necessary? Good recipes will help the beginner and can be a source of new ideas for the experienced cook. However, when one is familiar with the basic techniques of fish cookery, cooking by the taste-sight method is often more satisfying than following a recipe. Seasoning fish, in particular, is more a matter of personal taste than a science. One of the easiest ways to handle a whole fish or a cut of fish is to bake it. Baking is a form of dry heat cooking. Fish products not baked in a sauce or with a topping are basted with oil or melted fat to keep the surface moist. Fish like a quick, preheated oven set at 450 deg. F. or 500 deg. F. However, if you plan to bake them in cream or with another such food which is harmed by high heat, it is advisable to use a moderate oven. Because of their flat shape, fish have a large surface area through which they absorb heat quickly. This is why baking time is usually calculated on their measured thickness rather than their weight. For fresh or thawed fish, allow 10 minutes cooking time per inch of thickness when using a hot oven (450 deg. F). Allow double this time for fish which are fast frozen. Toppings and sauces added to fish before baking may increase the cooking time by a few minutes. Is it advisable to bake fish from the frozen state? The authorities say yes provided your recipe does not call for special manipulation such as stuffing or rolling up in the case of fillets. It is believed that the juices are better retained in the fish when thawing and cooking take place almost simultaneously.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

By ANTHONY GARGRAVE MACKENZIE MLA

Once again at this legislative session we were told by Dave Barrett, MLA, that Oakalla is a school for crime. Mr. S. Rocks' borough Smith, director of correction, said in his latest annual report: "The maintenance at Oakalla Prison farm continues to present an insoluble problem. The obvious solution would appear to be its gradual replacement." The west wing of Oakalla is the holding unit for persons alleged to have committed crimes and for others who are awaiting appeals of their convictions. This unit houses about 200 inmates of all age groups and types of crime. Of this group about 25 to 30 are awaiting appeal, some of these for over one year. Amongst the very youngest are numbers of children who have been wards of the government for years and have been shifted from foster home to foster home, on to Brannan Lake and now Oakalla. Fifteen to 20 of the prisoners are 15 to 17 years old. The majority of the inmates are under 21 years. The rest range in ages up to 65 years. Seventy-five percent of the inmates awaiting trial could be out on bail if they had money. In effect these people, eligible for bail, are punished prior to being judged either guilty or not guilty because they cannot afford bail. The make up of this group varies from first offenders to homosexuals, alcoholics, drug addicts, safe crackers, in fact any type of crime. These people are mixed together indiscriminately and the atmosphere cannot be anything but negative. They spend an average of 18 hours per day in their cells. The cells are 10 x 5 1/2, off an aisle 3 1/2 wide and in tiers. Exercise is provided for about five hours per day in an enclosed yard of approximately 50 yards radius. The exercise consists of walking in small groups in constant scru-

Gadget award for Crosby

K. A. (Ken) Crosby won an honorable mention award for his submission to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, technical section Gadget Contest.

Each year the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association sponsors a Gadget Contest throughout the industry which is open to all employees. Canfor, the Canadian Forest Products employees newsletter reports.

Ken's submission was for a shatter nozzle at the spouts of chemical recovery boilers. This nozzle uses high pressure steam to shatter the molten smelt as it pours from the boiler spout. The operator controls the steam flow by using long rods which place him twenty-five feet from the splashing chemical.

The system adopted permits safe and accurate control under varying operating conditions. Boiler manufacturers are interested and think the application can well be applied to all new boiler installations for better operating control.

Weddings

TYSON — MacLENNON

The First Baptist Chapel in Vancouver was the scene of a pretty wedding on Feb. 26 when Carol Grace, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacLennan of Buckingham, Quebec, and Dennis, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Don T. Tyson of Gibsons were united in marriage. The service was conducted by the Rev. Stuart Frayne and attended by members of the immediate family. Mr. Paul Stagg, organist, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" before the marriage ceremony.

The bride chose a suit of white Italian knit, a flower-petal hat of white whimsy with a corsage of red roses, white heather and silver leaves. Owing to the illness of her father she was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Norman MacLennan of Port Alberni.

Mrs. Nancy MacLennan, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing a cocktail length dress of shrimp chiffon and carrying carnations was matron of honor. Little Lorene MacLennan in yellow nylon and net with a nosegay of tiny yellow and white chrysanthemums was flowergirl. Mrs. W. MacLennan, mother of the bride was charming in a suit of blue wool with hat en-tone and corsage of gardenias and feathered carnations. The spring colors of the wedding party were complemented by the pink ensemble chosen by Mrs. D. Tyson, the groom's mother. Mr. Leonard Pilling of Gibsons was best man.

The beautiful three-tier wedding cake made by the bride's mother was a rival for the centre of attention at the reception at the Ramada Inn, where the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Gary Norgard, brother-in-law of the groom. A number of telegrams from relatives of the bride were read by Mr. Leonard Pilling. Following their honeymoon at Harrison and points south Mr. and Mrs. Tyson are residing in Gibsons.

Canada's giant construction industry is responsible for three-quarters of all domestic lumber requirements.

Letters to editor

Editor: As many of your readers will know I have been campaigning for some time now in and out of the Legislature for the complete reconstruction of Highway 101 between Langdale and Powell River.

I need help from the residents of the area which your paper serves. I think it is important that various organizations such as Chamber of Commerce, Trades Unions and Social Clubs should write direct to the Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, Minister of Highways, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, urging that this work be done now.

I think it is important also, that responsible organizations throughout the riding form delegations and visit the Minister on this subject. People who write to the Minister should include personal experiences on parts of the road which they know best. This should include bridges if the writer has personal knowledge of their condition. — Anthony Gargrave, MLA, Mackenzie.

Listeners across Canada can now "turn on the Tapp" five times a week. "The Tapp" — Gordie, that is — is now heard on his own half-hour program on CBC radio every weekday afternoon. The Gordie Tapp Show consists of comedy and music featuring new and established talent from throughout the country plus the good-natured humor of affable MC Tapp.

Pender soars

(By ALLAN WALLACE)

The Dance Club St. Patrick's dance on Friday, March 18, drew a good turnout and netted the club about $30 profit.

The American exchange students left on Saturday, March 19 for their trip home. Our students returned the same day. Their reports to the student body gave a good idea of their trip and their experiences at the Longview schools.

At the same assembly, Brenda Lee reported on a tour of Vancouver hospitals undertaken by the Future Nurses club. Marilyn Gardiner reported on her trip to Victoria on the Education in Democracy tour.

Students from each of Grades 10, 11 and 12 went by bus to Vancouver on Wed., March 23 to tour Vancouver and Burnaby Vocational schools, also the Technical Institute. Three students journeyed to Simon Fraser University. This trip was worthwhile and of great interest to the students.

Teen-of-the-week: Bev Ness has been selected. Bev has been popular all through her school years. She is Grade 12 and is the secretary of the Student's Council.
