Queen of July 1

Gibsons July 1 Celebration Queen who was selected at Monday's meeting of the Old Age Pensioners' organization. She will have four princesses from three elementary schools, Gibsons, Roberts Creek and Langdale. They will be Gayle Azyan, April Smith, Cynthia Jones and Kathy Shea. The July 1 Committee met last Friday night and reviewed their financial position which was close to $900 and regarded as good with Canadian Forest Products providing $150 to cover costs of bringing a band from Vancouver.

AN OPEN LETTER

This year's July 1 Celebration is shaping into one mammoth affair!

The committee for this year's celebration had a good nucleus from which to build, thanks to last year's committee which did a fantastic job. We know that with last year's nucleus together with what this year's committee has added, in the way of major events, it is going to be a highly successful day.

The most interesting item, we feel, is a July 1 Queen. This year's July 1 Queen will be one of our pioneers chosen from and by the Gibsons branch Old Age Pensioners Association. We felt this was fitting for our Centennial year. This is the appropriate time to honor our pioneers for the contributions they made throughout the past 100 years.

The July 1 Queen will be accompanied by four little princesses, chosen from the three elementary schools. They are Princess Gayle Azyan and Princess April Smith from Gibsons Elementary, Princess Cynthia Jones from Roberts Creek and Princess Kathy Shea from Langdale Elementary.

Due to the already indicated participation of so many organizations in the parade and on the fair grounds, parade marshalling and grounds managing will be quite a task. To avoid last minute arranging it would be greatly appreciated by our parade marshal and by our grounds manager if you would please contact them confirming your organization's intentions as to floats or concessions.

If you have not already confirmed this please do so at your earliest convenience. If you have so advised it might be wise to do it again, it means so much to a well organized parade and facilitates in setting down a well planned agenda for the day.

Don Elson is our parade marshal, his telephone number is 886-2420, his address, Granthams Landing. Our grounds manager is Ken Anderson; his telephone number is 886-2647, his address, North Road, Gibsons.

Thank you for your cooperation.
Mike Blaney, Co-chairman,
July 1 Committee.

PUC ruling discussed

The PUC ruling and reason for arriving at its decision was read at Tuesday night's council meeting, along with correspondence from Mr. Norman Procknow's lawyer, A. J. MacDonald, who maintained council should supply Sunnycrest motel a water supply until Mr. Procknow was able to connect with village water in October.

Council generally did not side with the PUC report which claimed Mr. Procknow had suffered discrimination but not undue discrimination. Councillor Sam Fladager said he felt the PUC should not have put that in the report. He said he felt the PUC was not clear on how the village ran its water system. Council's lawyer, C. D. McQuarrie, Q.C., by letter said he did not regard discrimination as proved. Chairman Wes Hodgson regarded the explanations by the PUC in its amplification of its finding as observations. The matter was tabled to await further perusal of the findings by Mr. McQuarrie. In the meantime it is understood Mr. Procknow is spending from $2,000 to $3,000, according to his lawyer, to lay a hose pipe from his gravel pit source in the region of the mountain side cemetery so he can open the motel.

Later in the meeting when applicant Z. Wiome, outside the village, asked for a water connection, council took the attitude that when the village is in the position of expanding water service outside the village the previous applications on file would get priority.

FLOWER SHOW

The Sechelt Garden Club will hold a flower show on Saturday, June 25 at St. Hilda's Hall from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Admission is 35 cents which will include refreshments. There will be plants for sale, a raffle for an Italian glass vase and a door prize.

Regional district step closer

The Sunshine Coast Rural Development committee meeting Monday night in Sechelt's Hospital Cottage moved closer to obtaining letters patent, the official recognition of formation of a regional district.

This regional district, planned to cover the Port Mellon to Jervis Inlet area, is being formed so varied services can be arranged where they are needed, such as garbage disposal, fire protection, land use, surveys and other services as required in unorganized sections. Water is one of the prime objects and a feasibility study is desired.

The meeting under the chairmanship of Norman Watson of Sechelt heard Chris Woodward of the provincial municipal department outline what he thought could be achieved within a regional district. As a result of his help the committee is now about ready to ask the government for letters patent to confirm formation of the regional district.

Mr. Woodward after hearing of area difficulties in getting anywhere near solving the garbage disposal problem, said he would check with departments in Victoria and see how some progress could be obtained. It

Two injured

Steve Littlejohn and George Orwell Dorais of Gibsons came around the corner, Gibsons bound at Seaview Cemetery apparently too fast, according to RCMP reports and smashed into a pole on the side of the road, careened to the other side and turned over.

Both suffered injuries, Littlejohn being rushed to St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver and Dorais to St. Mary's Hospital. Both are now up and moving around. The car was demolished. RCMP expect a charge will be laid.

Sechelt decides on single storey hall

Sechelt's municipal council after analyzing its present and future financial position decided at its meeting Wednesday night of last week to confine its new municipal hall to a one storey structure instead of the proposed two storey structure discussed at its previous meeting.

The building will be of the same dimensions, 30.3 x 30.6 feet with increased space due to stairway area being eliminated. Arrangements with the architect and contractor resulted in council considering elimination of the upper storey. Suggestions were offered that the upper floor be constructed but not finished inside.

In view of the fact no opposition had been registered on the taking in of 600 acres adjoining the village on the west side of Porpoise Bay council decided to petition the municipal department in Victoria to have the area included in the village. Council had advertised its intention previously and received no notice of opposition.

Other matters before council were a grant of $1,000 to the fire department which was passed; a decision that a set of keys for the park building always be with the clerk in the municipal office. It was decided that Sechelt's garbage problem be brought before council at its July 6 meeting. Following a chamber of commerce letter suggesting the council look into the purchase of Sechelt's water system, council ascertained from the water system officials that no price had been put on it, but any offer would be considered. Present owners, Union Properties hold their water rights until August 31, 1983.

Correspondence from Athel Vector Land Ltd., concerning land in Selma Park requiring water came before council. This correspondence outlined the stand of the Public Utilities Commission regarding help from the PUC. The PUC stated it was not able now or at any time to be of assistance. Council learned that it would cost from $15,000 to $25,000 to make water available to the subdivision.

Leader required

The Board of School Trustees of School District 46 (Sechelt) and the Sechelt Teachers' Association are planning a Community Conference on Education.

Tentatively scheduled for early December, the conference will involve trustees, teachers and the general public in a free-for-all discussion on the educational objectives in this School District — what they are and what they ought to be — and how to achieve these objectives.

Based on a similar and successful conference in Kitimat and other school districts, Sechelt School District's conference will probably take about one-and-a-half days. All teachers and trustees will be involved and an open invitation will be given to all members of the public to attend and take part in the discussions.

A joint committee of trustees and teachers has been formed to plan the conference. Chairman of the trustee representatives is Mrs. Celia Fisher.

The committee is looking for someone to act as a local coordinator of the conference planning.

Elsewhere in this newspaper is a questionnaire which members of the public are invited to complete and send in to the school board office. This will give the Community Conference Committee some idea of the relative importance of the various educational objectives in the minds of the local community.

CHORAL SERVICE

Sunday evening June 26, there will be a special service of song by Gibsons United Church choir in which the choir will provide favorite eventide hymns and anthems. Visitors and others are invited to attend. The service will start at 7:30 p.m.

Where do we stand now?

A UNION STATEMENT

This article is to inform the public of this area, more so than our own membership, as to where Local 297 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers is headed. As this local represents the biggest economic block in this area and because we strive to be a responsible organization, it is felt an explanation is due.

Just prior to the internal problems experienced by Local 297, this executive decided to break out of our cocoons and take our rightful place in the foreground of this area's community activities. It is a pity that this organization has not seen fit in the past to provide this community with its services and leadership. This is an era when community life means so much, and since we represent a large portion of this community we are obligated to take an active part in it.

When our internal problems became severe, about two months ago, we decided to maintain as much as possible of our new found community program and yet concentrate on fighting the break-away element within our local. It has been an exhausting two months and although we have defeated the movement, we have not won any battles.

Our community participation will increase now that we have more time, however, we still have to eliminate the causes for any break-away movement. This executive and all the past executives must take full responsibility for the dissension shown within our ranks. However, the real power for change lies with our membership and any executive must support the will of the majority.

If we do not eliminate the causes for which the break-away group fought they will be back next year and we will all suffer once again. This executive is, here and now, pledged to challenge anyone standing in the way of our attaining many of the goals voiced by the break away element. The only difference is that we will fight united, and when we've won, we will still be a member of a large union comprised of international brotherhood.

We are very proud of this local, for while we fought for our very existence we maintained our new found obligation to this community. This local, in the last two months has assisted Little League Baseball, made voters registration cards available to many people not on the provincial voters list, supplied a member of its executive to the July 1 Committee, donated to the July 1 Celebrations, is working on a float for that parade for the first time in years, assisted this area's Recreation Commission and helped in other worthwhile projects.

This local promises the citizens of this community that we will do our utmost to ensure that there will be no more internal problems. Now that we are united again we are not going to let the conditions prevail that made it so easy for a break-away union to gain support. We will be a solid and mature force in this community starting as of now, and will be for a long time to come.

Thank you,
Mike Blaney, Chairman,
Public Relations Committee,
Local 297, IBPS&PMW.

A Sechelt problem

This dynamic society which has become a byword in British Columbia is governed by the amount of money one has available. The dynamic angle becomes subdued as one descends the ladder of financial income. This applies to all types of spenders, people, municipalities and financial houses. However let's keep this to taxpayers and municipalities.

Mr. Bennett's richly endowed Peace power project and the millions of dollars being batted around loosely in Vancouver circles on waterfront and hockey arena developments should not be regarded as symptomatic of life in the outer regions of this wonderful province. We are a long way from talking loosely about developments costing millions. Even hundreds of thousands are a big gulp. So let's get down to something we can grasp mentally, say about $25,000.

A municipality like Sechelt with about 250 taxpayers, desiring to build a municipal hall, has a problem even at a $25,000 level. Total income ranges in the vicinity of $26,000, from taxpayers, government grants and incidentals. Until 1964 it was able to build up a surplus over an eight year period amounting to $30,000. Owing to increased expenditures this surplus has been reduced to about $15,000 and shows signs of being reduced even further before the end of this year.

Sechelt like all other municipalities faces a national tight money policy due to an inflationary spiral which is causing concern in provincial government circles as well. Construction estimates these days are fluid to say the least. By the time one comes to actually build, at least 10 percent should be added to cost. As an example Gibsons planned a water system bylaw for $98,000 in 1965. To be safe this has been raised to $113,000 for 1966.

The dynamic society at the Sechelt level is not much different to the type of society it had before dynamics entered provincial government thinking. Its future in the field of taxation has promise but over-expenditure at this time resulting in a tax increase would frighten off those areas which are mulling over joining the village. To saddle the municipality with a long term debt is no way to invite new taxpayers into the fold. Those taxpayers sought a low tax area in which to live and that is the way they want it.

Sechelt's council at its meeting last week gave close consideration to whether a two or a one storey municipal hall should be constructed. After checking financial possibilities available council decided to keep to a ground level office which would be more than double the size of the present municipal office. This way council has minimized the financial effect on ratepayers. Thoughts that the new addition to the village, the 600 acres on the west side of Porpoise Bay, which will bring some revenue to the village, will be able to help out, should not be taken too seriously. That area will require roads and other services and taxes from there will most likely be earmarked for the benefit of that area.

The village is fortunate in that it does not have to purchase land for its new hall. If it had to carry the purchase price for land as well as construction of a building, in a long term debt, the 250 ratepayers would surely have something to say about it. The type of building proposed will stand additions to it on ground level. This should provide sufficient accommodation for a good many years.

Producers of inflation!

In a statement of economic policy issued at its Winnipeg convention, the Canadian Labor Congress said there is "no evidence to support either the notion of runaway inflation or the notion that labor costs have risen rapidly."

There is evidence that inflation is a real threat and that drastic measures are needed to prevent it from getting out of hand. For such evidence, one can read in the Financial Times that in 1965 wages and salaries per unit of business output showed the highest increase in five years—4.5%. During the same period, business profits rose only 0.4%, the lowest increase in the same five years.

These are materials out of which inflation is produced.

An analysis of Quebec's election

By JACK DAVIS, M.P.
Coast-Capilano Constituency

Provincial election results are always interesting to members of parliament. They want to know why the winning candidates were right and the losing candidates were wrong. Post mortems of this kind were rife after the upset of Premier Lesage in Quebec a few days ago.

The first impression I got in listening to my M.P. friends from La Belle Province was that Jean Lesage did everything wrong. He was too conceited, he took his re-election for granted and he didn't try to explain his high-flown government policies to the ordinary people of Quebec.

There were also earthier matters which he either mishandled or refused to deal with; things like strikes on the waterfront, salary disputes with the provincial police and the recommendations of the Parent commission. This commission incidentally, would take education away from the church. Each had its effect. But even taken together, they were not enough to bring Mr. Lesage's quiet revolution to an end.

The Quebec election, in other words, was not simply lost by Jean Lesage. It was won by Daniel Johnson and his Union Nationale Party. The people of rural Quebec voted for local candidates who were concerned with local issues and local conditions. They didn't really vote against Jean Lesage so much as voting for men who seemed to care about the little man and the habits and growing pains of Old Quebec.

English speaking Canadians should, of course, remember that the Union Nationale used to be called the Conservative party. It is still loosely referred to as Les Blues. The Liberals are still the Liberals. They are Les Rouges. Les Rouges (or the Reds) always want to change things. They want to move Quebec rapidly and confidently into the 20th Century. This is why de-secularization of the schools was associated with the Liberal party. This is why the elimination of old style patronage boomeranged insofar as Mr. Lesage was concerned.

Obviously many people in Quebec — and most of them in country areas — were more intrigued with what the Union Nationale had to offer. They were not too enthusiastic about what Mr. Lesage and his cabinet of fast moving technocrats said. They wanted a bridge here and a handout there. Arguments about changing Canada's constitution went right over their heads. They wanted their elected representatives to come down to earth. They wanted to get back, part way at least, to the narrow and more comfortable parochialism of the late Maurice Duplessis.

RECOVERING FROM A CORONARY ATTACK

Most people have little or no physical disability following a coronary attack, and in such cases life after an attack should be essentially no different than life before, the Canadian Medical Association says.

However, this holds true only if the victim was living sensibly before.

Because of our affluent society with endless labor-saving devices and increased leisure time, the number of potential coronary victims increases. The typical North American male is overweight and under-active. He smokes too much, eats too much, and frequently works under pressure that causes more anxiety than satisfaction.

If a victim fitted in this pattern before his coronary attack, a re-appraisal of his habits is in order. A little will and determination can help to accomplish what seems to be a formidable task of altering the habits of a lifetime.

One of the first steps is to reduce the number of cigarettes smoked each day, with the object of eliminating them completely. Sensible weight reduction on a balanced low-calorie diet, particularly avoiding excessive fats, is also advisable.

Another step is to substitute walking for driving whenever possible. Exercise has both physical and psychological benefits. The physical benefits result mainly from assistance in weight reduction — though exercise alone will not accomplish this — and from the fact that the blood supply to a muscle increases with exercise. The heart muscle pumps blood to other parts of the body but also pumps blood to the heart itself through the coronary arteries.

Exercise increases the blood supply to the heart muscle and it is perhaps the lack of adequate, reasonable exercise which more than any other factor is increasing the incidence of coronary disease. Daily walking in reasonable amounts is what the doctor orders, and not just a round of golf on Saturdays with an hour or two at the 19th hole.

The psychological benefit of exercise results from the fact that moderate physical exercise promotes a mild sense of fatigue, and this in turn promotes mental tranquility.

Therefore, the C.M.A. advises moderation in all things, particularly food, tobacco and gasoline.

"No cups!"

Quebec are worried about Mr. Johnson. He talks more about French Canadian nationalism than Mr. Lesage. He has insisted again and again that French should be the only official language in Quebec. He has also said that Quebec should keep 100% of all the personal and corporation income taxes paid in that province. If he insists, this is bound to stir up a first class row with Ottawa.

But there is nothing like having to shoulder responsibilities. Once Mr. Johnson is firmly enscathed as Premier of Quebec he will have to deal with realities. He will have to get by with the money which Ottawa is prepared to let him have under our constitution. And he will have to deal with the problem of education at a time when French-Canadians, like everyone else, are having to up-grade their skills and meet the needs of industry and commerce in the sixties.

The political pendulum has swung back. The natural conservatism of Quebecers has shown itself at the polls. Mr. Lesage was moving too fast for them. Perhaps Mr. Johnson, in his turn, will not move quickly enough. But, he too, will have to get along with Ottawa. And the Canadian public will again begin to think that it is normal for the premier of Quebec to argue with the prime minister of Canada. Many of them could never really understand why Mr. Lesage, a Liberal, differed so much with his former colleague, Prime Minister Pearson, in Ottawa.

Nature is reluctant to put old trees out to pasture. So they grow older: prey to fungus, insects, decay. By harvesting mature trees before this happens, we make full use of a resource that would otherwise be wasted.

ELLIS — KEELEY

St. John's United Church at Wilson Creek was the scene of a pretty wedding on June 18, when Sharon Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Keeley became the bride of William James Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGrade of Port Alberni. The Rev. W. M. Cameron officiated.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white lace with a full, graceful skirt, the front of lace and the back of net trimmed with tiered lace. Her veil of lace trimmed net was held in place by a rhinestone coronet and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis. The attendants wore cocktail length dresses with full skirts and puff sleeves. Their matching picture hats were of beaded chiffon.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Diana Keeley, in rose color, and bridesmaids Barbara McCourt in green and Jackie McGrade in gold. Flower girl Barbara Newsham, wearing a white lace dress, carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds tipped with orange. Her headdress was a band of matching rosebuds.

The bride's mother was dressed in a two piece dress of brocade and wore an orchid corsage. Mr. Marvin Skytte was best man and ushers were Mr. John West and Mr. Duane Ladouceur.

A reception followed at the Legion Hall, Sechelt. Mr. Curly Lucken was master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ernie Pennington. Later the bride and groom left for a tour of the B.C. interior, with the bride dressed in a three piece pink suit with matching hat and white accessories. The couple will reside at Selma Park.

Out of town guests were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McGrade of Port Alberni, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pretty of Seattle, Mrs. E. McGrade of Vancouver, Miss Shirley Sears of Calgary, Mrs. M. Mills of Victoria, Mr. R. Robertson of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hart of Moose Jaw, Mr. and Mrs. T. Marrington of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. C. Yeomans of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. K. McDonald of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. F. White of Vancouver, Mr. Roger Lucken of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. David Lucken of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sampson of Nanaimo, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pennington of Vancouver, Mr. Aldis sr., Mr. and Mrs. D. Aldis and Mr Bob Patterson, all of Nanaimo.

Christen baby

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Flumerfelt was christened Jillian Grace on Sunday, June 12 at St. Aidan's Church with Rev. J. H. Kelly officiating.

The godparents are Mrs. Frances Reeves of Roberts Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Anderson of Gibsons.

The baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Swanson of Gibsons and Mrs. Lil Flumerfelt and Mr. J. E. Flumerfelt of Roberts Creek.

Following the service a buffet lunch was served at the home of the baby's parents.

TELEPHONE-TV installed in the B.C. Telephone Company's Vancouver public office on experimental basis permits customers placing new telephone service orders and the service representative taking them to see each other while they talk. Here, Doreen Smith of B.C. Telephone tries out the Video Tel set, talking with service representative Sharon Maxwell, who is at her desk in another section of the building.

Father Nash surprised

Father S. J. Nash, arriving at the parish hall of the Church of the Holy Family at Sechelt on Monday night, expecting to attend the regular meeting of the C.W.L. was surprised to find himself the guest of honor at a farewell party attended by nearly 70 of his parishioners.

Father Nash who is being transferred to Langley after serving the St. Vincent Mission for three years, was presented with handcut crystal bookends, one representing the Madonna and the other with the figure of Christ, and a purse of money for him to buy a book of his choice. From the altar boys of Sechelt he also received a Spiritual Bouquet. His housekeeper, Miss Essie Raddy was presented with a beautiful floral bouquet arranged by Eldred's.

Father Nash will be succeeded by Father Dominic Kenny who will leave our Lady of the Cenacle Convent in Vancouver on June 24th to take up his duties with the St. Vincent Mission. Father Kenny is no stranger to the parish having already served here between 1953 and 1957.

Last Sunday, Father Nash said goodbye to his parishioners at Gibsons at a social evening arranged by the Gibsons C.W.L. at which he was presented with a desk clock. The C.W.L. also gave a farewell tea for his housekeeper Miss Essie Raddy at the parish hall at Gibsons last week when they presented her with a crystal vase.

Mrs. N. Secord deaconess

Rev. Bruce Cameron, son of Rev. and Mrs. Murray Cameron of Gibsons, has written his parents of meeting former Gibsons resident Mrs. Norma Secord, at an ordination conference in Toronto. He reports that Mrs. Secord is now an ordained Deaconess of the United Church.

Rev. Bruce Cameron was ordained in May, in Vancouver, at St. Andrews Wesley United Church. His first assignment will be in Nanaimo, with the South Nanaimo Combined Congregations.

Auxiliary donation

At the June meeting of Pender Harbour's Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital, at Madeira Park Medical Clinic with Mrs. J. Love in the chair, a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. D. Phillip, convener of the successful Friendship Tea and to Mrs. B. Warden for the floral arrangements.

Following refreshments, Mrs. W. Johnston, president of the B.C. Hospital Association auxiliaries spoke on her visits to auxiliaries throughout the province as far north as Fort St. John. She explained operations of the auxiliaries division and also that of the work of hospital volunteers. Asked to pour were Mrs. M. M. McGowan, Mrs. R. M. Inglis, Mrs. J. Rowland and Mrs. F. Warne.

The auxiliary will donate equipment to the radiology department of St. Mary's hospital, also a year's subscription for a man's magazine for patients. A history, requested, dating back to 1937, compiled by Mrs. B. Warden, will be sent to the auxiliary division of the BCHA.

The chairman and members regretted that Mrs. M. Woodburn, a valued worker for many years, is leaving to make her home in England. Later this month, a farewell luncheon in her honor will be held at Eagle Lodge, Farrington Cove, Pender Harbour.

No meetings have been set for July and August so the next meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Sept. 14 at the Madeira Park Medical Clinic.

ROBERTS CREEK

Bill Coughlin flew in from Kamloops during the week to visit his sisters, Mrs. M. W. MacKenzie and Mrs. L. B. MacDonald, and their families.

Paul Beeman has received his Credit Union bank for reaching the $50 mark in his savings account. A prize will be given at the end of the month for the child who has made the most effort to build up his savings during the year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Connor have sold their home on the Lower Road.

Jeff Newman and family, of Comox air base, were visitors here for a week.

Mrs. Jen Monrufet back from six months in the Barbados sunshine, is finding that our June weather suffers by comparison.

Mrs. Olive Service has sold her home on Beach Avenue and is moving to Gower Point Road. Mrs. C. Graham's home has also changed hands.

Parting gift

Mrs. C. Graham was the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. E. Sturgeon on June 8. Mrs. Graham, who has been secretary of the Roberts Creek United Church for many years, is leaving her home on Beach Avenue, for health reasons, to reside in Vancouver.

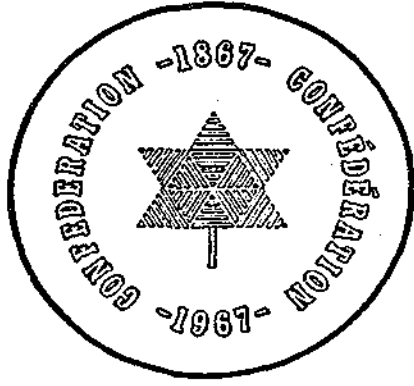

Rev. W. Cameron spoke of Mrs. Graham's faithful service to the church and expressed his regrets at her leaving and extended his wishes for an improvement in her health.

Included among the guests were Mrs. Graham's sister, Mrs. J. Anderson of Castlegar, and her cousin, Miss Barkley, of Glasgow. Mrs. Graham was presented with a table lamp.

Police court

Six more small vessel owners are facing court on charges of not having registration numbers visible. RCMP suggest that small vessel owners visit the police office and obtain a booklet on regulations and at the same time a registration blank to fill out.

Three minors were involved in having liquor in their possession and will face court shortly. Eleven motor vehicle act cases involving speed and crossing white lines were assessed the usual fines.

A former Ottawa man, retired chief engraver of the Royal Canadian Mint, Thomas Shingles and a Toronto artist, Mrs. Dora de Pedery Hunt, are the winning designers in the competition for the Centennial Medallion, Canada's Centennial Commissioner John Fisher has announced.

Mr. Shingles, who lives in Victoria, and Mrs. Hunt, will each receive $1,500 for their winning designs; Mr. Shingles for the obverse side of the Medallion and Mrs. Hunt for the reverse.

The Medallions, more than 5,500,000 of them, will be distributed to all Canadian school-children, as reminders of the Centennial year. The Medallions, minted by the Royal Canadian Mint will be made of red brass metal, an alloy of copper and zinc. They will be about the size of a silver dollar. Distribution will be through the co-operation of provincial departments of education, and territorial governments.

Dobers sail

Melbourne, Australia, is the destination for the M. W. Dober family, who plan on boarding the IBERIA next week. Their first stop will be Honolulu, where they will vacation until the London dockworkers strike is settled.

The Dobers were born in Australia, and spent two years in England. Mr. Dober has spent two years in Gibsons as school district librarian, and plans to fill a similar post in one of the private boys' colleges in Melbourne.

The appeals for Australia are in part the ideal weather and family friends and relatives. The summer months of December and January reach a temperature of 80 to 95, and the coldest months of June and July never drop below 60.

Their children are Mark 13, Karen 9, Cheryl 6 and Wayne 3. Mark, with Stephen Lee, was a winner for the most original picture in the recent arts council sponsored fence painting contest.

WATER SKI MEET

The Canadian Water Ski Association has been granted financial assistance totalling $6,339 by the National Advisory Council on Fitness and amateur sport. The major portion of the funds will subsidize transportation of competitors to the 1966 Canadian Water Ski Championships at Sherbrooke, Quebec, August 26, 27 and 28. Plans are for a total of 40 skiers and nine officials to receive travel subsidies, winners from regional meets.

Picked up in passing

CBC International Service and the RCA Victor Co. Ltd. have concluded an agreement through which 18 records featuring Canadian music and Canadian musicians will be released commercially to the general public.

This release consists of a single record of O Canada, and later 17 other records of works by major Canadian composers, performed by leading Canadian musicians.

The most ambitious part of the RCA Victor - CBC International Service agreement in honor of the Centennial of Confederation is the release of the first series of a continuing anthology of Canadian music recorded by CBC International Service; the releases will be on the RCA Victor Canada - International label.

This series consists of 17 long-playing recordings — in stereo and mono — of Canadian music. The release of the first series marks a major breakthrough in the commercial distribution of recorded Canadian music in Canada, offering the public 42 musical works by Canadian composers, performed by soloists and orchestras ranging from the Halifax Piano trio to the Vancouver Chamber orchestra.

Tree planted

A Centennial Douglas fir seedling was planted on the grounds of Elphinstone High School by Chairman W. B. Hodgson, of the Village of Gibsons and Phil Malpass, President of the Student Council.

Mr. W. S. Potter, Principal of the school introduced students to the Hon. F. X. Richter, Minister of Agriculture for the province.

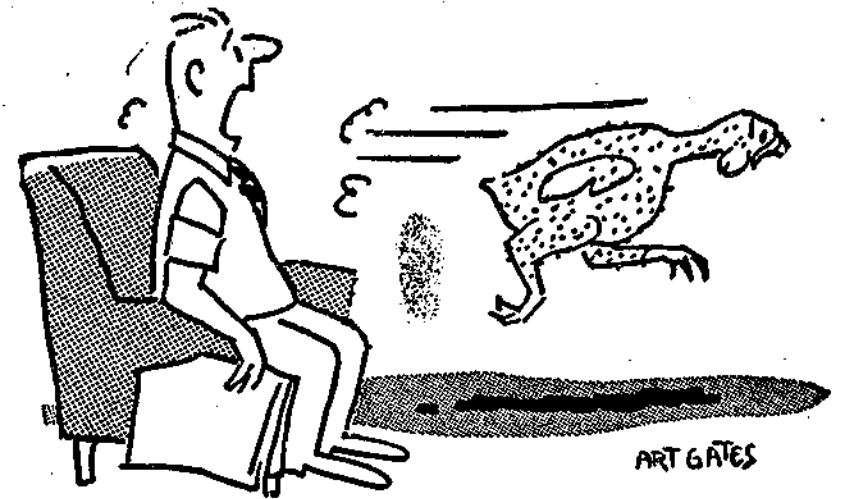

Mr. Richter pointed out the significance of planting a seedling tree. Forests provide the basis for B.C.'s major industries, and the youth of this province are charged with the protection and development of our natural resources.

Mr. Hodgson spoke of the planting as a fitting way to commemorate the joining of Vancouver Island and the mainland into the province of B.C. He expressed the wish that the students would grow in wisdom and strength and protect the future of B.C.

It costs so little to make a photo talk

When a family grows up and goes its several ways, when a job that has to be done separates you by thousands of miles from near and dear ones, there's a gap left that photographs only partly fill. And yet, it takes only a minute—and costs so little—to pick up your phone and make that beloved photo talk.

As the years pass by, the telephone becomes one of the strongest links holding scattered families together. On birthdays and other special anniversaries—on occasions like Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas—a long distance call is "the next best thing to being there."

If you travel frequently on business or have to spend extended periods away from home, be sure to arm yourself with a B.C. TEL Long Distance Credit Card. It enables you to call long distance from any phone in the country to any other phone and charge the call to your personal or business account.

VANCOUVER—PRINCE GEORGE..... $1.35
 NEW WESTMINSTER—CALGARY..... $1.50
 VICTORIA—TORONTO..... $1.95
 (Evening, station-to-station calls, first 3 minutes)

The pleasure of a long distance call remains one of today's biggest bargains. Despite rising incomes and living costs, many long distance calls actually cost less in dollars and cents than 10 years ago. Use Long Distance for all it's worth!

In Vancouver call 683-5511

If calling long distance, ask the operator for ZENITH 7000 (there is no charge).

Man not objects create accidents speaker says

W. M. Allison, manager of the accident control department of the Council of Forest Industries addressing a safety awards presentation dinner at Seaside Hotel, Port Mellon, Tuesday night of last week, said inanimate objects do not cause harm without human assistance. Humans cause their own injuries. Unsafe conditions cause two percent of accidents and unsafe actions 85 percent.

Unsafe actions of people are what matter and he urged that workers should get excited before the accident and not after. Don't know, don't care, don't think is an unwise policy. Consideration should be given to the fact that the human element causes most accidents. Training to prevent is everyone's responsibility. Accident victims would give anything to live over the ten seconds during which the accident occurred.

Mr. C. R. Rustemeyer, CFP manager of safety and training informed his listeners the Port Mellon mill was now in the position of leading the field in the low accident area. The mill was now second with a 2.52 rating and the mill in first place, Cel-gar, has only been operating a short while. There were about 200 days left this year to keep this better than ever before record, he added.

Andy Knowles representing the Local 297 union said it was gratifying that seven departments should receive safety awards. There were new employees in the mill and it was up to the older employees to take them in hand on safety instruction. He thanked the management for its efforts towards obtaining safety measures.

Mr. E. C. Sherman, resident manager, in closing remarks said it was a pleasure to see such progress at the mill. He felt sure the staff would continue the record. Recognition of achievement helps make a real success of the job, he added when commenting on the presentations.

The dinner, prepared by Paul Frykas, Seaside Hotel chef, drew hearty applause from the diners.

54th anniversary

On June 15, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Dubois celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary and Mrs. Dubois' 71st birthday. Mr. Dubois was born on Robson Street, Vancouver, 76 years ago. Mrs. Dubois was born in Hatzic and they have both spent the whole of their lives in B.C. They moved to Pender Harbour around 1919 and lived at Irvines Landing and later at Kleindale. For the past seven years they have lived in their house trailer at Halfmoon Bay.

When the Dubois family arrived in Pender Harbour, families such as the Kleins, the Donleys, McKays and Camerons were already established there. Irvines Landing was the most important settlement, with a regular boat service from Vancouver and a store, hotel and post office run by Gonzalez and Dames. The school at that time was at Donley's Landing where Hassan's Store now stands, but it was later moved to Irvines Landing.

In those good old days, there were fine stands of first growth fir to be logged; Jervis Inlet and Vancouver Bay teemed with fish and there was a canery in Green Bay. Mr. Dubois was caretaker for the P. B. Anderson Logging which had a railroad system laid through the bush to facilitate logging. He was one of many local volunteers who worked on the building of St. Mary's Hospital at Garden Bay.

Mr. Dubois remembers many interesting characters from those old days. Bill Matier, the respected and popular wharfinger at Irvines Landing, died in Vancouver a few days ago at the age of 91. Another former Harbour resident, Arthur Dingman, died on the same day. There was Nigger Joe, a big husky negro who was skipper of a fishboat which seined at the mouth of the Sakinaw and in off seasons, served as bouncer at the hotel. Mr. Dubois recalls only too well the murder of P. H. Johnson, one of the Harbour's oldest residents, for it was he who discovered the body in Vancouver Bay and thus solved the mystery of Mr. Johnson's disappearance.

Of Mr. and Mrs. Dubois' nine children, four are still living on the Peninsula. They are sons Benny and Leonard and daughters Mrs. Bob Lee and Miss Doris Dubois.

HALFMOON BAY

By MARY TINKLEY

When the Halfmoon Bay Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital held its annual dinner on June 13, 35 members and friends enjoyed a happy evening and an excellent dinner at the Winning Post at Ole's Cove.

Mrs. Ruby Warne, the president, made a presentation to Mrs. Marguerite Meuse of a leather writing case with monogrammed stationery. Mrs. Meuse who has lived in the Bay for 19 years is held in high esteem and has been a great asset to the community. She has been a member of the VON, of the Halfmoon Bay Hospital Auxiliary and the Halfmoon Bay Improvement Association and has served as secretary on the two latter organizations. She will shortly be leaving to live in Vancouver.

Miss Connie Lanham, who has been a resident of the Bay for nearly seven years while managing the Halfmoon Coffee shop was presented with a painting set. She will be taking up her duties at the Earl Cove coffee shop immediately. Mrs. Warne said that the community of Halfmoon Bay was indeed sorry to lose two such good friends but she hoped they would come back for a visit from time to time and they would always find the doors wide open for them.

Mrs. Pat Murphy moved a vote of thanks to the officers of the Auxiliary for their painstaking care and excellent planning of the arrangements.

Bob Cunningham missed death

Winn guests

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Slack of MacTeir, Ont., visited Lou and Harry Winn of Gibsons after an Alaskan tour on the Princess Patricia. They were taken on a tour of the Sunshine Coast by the Winns and expressed their delight at the scenery. Mr. Slack is a CPR conductor and their friendship started 22 years ago when they met on a train. Since then the Winns have been sending holly to them every Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thom are spending a holiday at their Redroofs home with guests Mr. and Mrs. Alf Preston.

Recent visitors at the Alan Greene home have been Mr. Paul Rising, his daughter Mrs. Margaret Kemp of Victoria, his cousin Miss Joan Rising of Gloucestershire, England, and Canon Alexander Trivett, who is the former Dean of Shanghai Cathedral.

The Dennis Gambles have moved their house trailer to Madeira Park and Gerry and Rose Gordon have moved to the Francis Peninsula.

They brought with them a brooch made with seal and beaver pelt in the form of a dog-wood flower for Mrs. Winn and a whale tooth key holder made in Alaska for Mr. Winn. Mr. Winn had previously sent them copies of Beautiful B.C. Magazine with the advice that they see Canada first. Mr. Slack, like Mr. Winn, is an elder in the United Church.

OPINIONNAIRE

WHAT SHOULD OUR SCHOOLS BE DOING TO EDUCATE OUR CHILDREN!

This is not a test of your knowledge or skill. It is simply a device to record your opinions about the job of the public school.

You naturally have opinions about the tasks of the public schools, and opinions about the relative importance of each of the tasks.

Assume for the next twenty minutes or so that the school board finds it necessary to decrease the number of functions or services which your schools can perform. You realize that children and young adults must learn many things, some from their home, some from their church, and some from the public schools. You must decide now which functions belong to the schools and which are most important.

The services or functions your schools now perform are listed below. Please indicate your opinion of their importance as tasks of the schools in this way:

1. Read the list through carefully and place a check mark against the three or four which you regard as most important.

Place an 'X' against the three or four you regard as the least important.

Then send the form to the School board Office. You need not sign it. It would, however, be helpful if you would check below to indicate whether you are a teacher, trustee, parent with children in school, or a taxpayer, or, of course, any combination of these.

- I AM a teacher
- a school trustee
- a parent with children in school
- a taxpayer

Please add any comments you might care to make.

IN MY OPINION, THE PRINCIPAL AIMS OF THE SCHOOLS SHOULD BE TO GIVE THE CHILDREN:

- A fund of information about many things
- Efficient use of the 3 R's — the basic tools for acquiring and communicating knowledge
- The habit of weighing facts and imaginatively applying them to the solution of problems
- A continuing desire for knowledge — the inquiring mind
- A feeling for other people and the ability to work and live in harmony
- An understanding of government and a sense of civic responsibility
- Loyalty to Canada and the Canadian way of life
- Knowledge of world affairs and the inter-relationships among peoples
- A well cared for, well developed body
- An emotional stable person — prepared for life's realities
- A sense of right and wrong — a moral standard of behaviour
- Enjoyment of cultural activities — the finer things of life
- Information and guidance for wise occupational choice
- Specialized training for replacement in a specific job
- The homemaking and handyman skills related to family life
- Management of personal finances and wise buying habits

A refreshing mood

Thought reactions on hearing music and looking at pictures have been recorded by pupils of grades four and five at Riberts Creek Elementary School. Their teacher is Mrs. Joan C. Warn. Here are some samples of their work, which at times does suggest a refreshing poetic mood:

SEAGULLS

Beverly Service — Grade 5
Fluttering gracefully about over the rough ocean the seagulls look like snow-white clouds floating by. Past the lighthouse with its jagged rocks fly the seagulls, past the boats and back again.

The seagulls look down on this monstrous ocean full of mystery and excitement. The ocean is full of things unknown, full of fish and other pleasant looking things. The seagulls fly past the children on the beach playing in the golden yellow sand, past red and white sailboats and back again.

The seagulls land occasionally to eat a big juicy oyster or clam or to dive into the cool refreshing water. These seagulls are graceful in their sweeping movements.

THOUGHTS OF A PICTURE

Sioux Hartle — Grade 4
The white snow falls with the wind. The wind's strength whirls, twirls and dances on the sea. Skipping and twirling on the ocean, it kicks the waves to shore where the green grass is growing.

It carries on to the cornfields in the farm. Young animals play here, butterflies fluttering, rabbits hopping, mice are scurrying birds are flying, weasels are staring and flowers are blossoming. The gold corn is swaying in the wind. The dark sky means rain and the animals go scurrying, hopping, flying and running home.

THE SEA

Peter English — Grade 5
The sea thunders and crashes against the rock on the beach. Gulls wheel overhead, screaming and mewing at the fishboats bobbing on the waves. They are waiting for some fish heads to be thrown overboard. Some seagulls are diving in the cool green waters trying to catch their own fish. Some waves are lapping gently up to the beach. In the golden sand some small children are building sand castles. Older children are wading in the water trying to catch the small bullheads that are in the tidepools left there from high water.

COOL WET SAND

Joan B. — Grade 5
I like to go down to the sea-side and feel the cool wet sand ooze between my feet. The waves roll and tumble over each other as they race toward the sandy shore.

It like to turn over rocks carefully and watch the little crabs scurry away sideways. I see which of them is the smallest and hold it carefully in the palm of my hand.

THE MUSIC OF THE SEA

Pam Mackenzie — Grade 5
The waves roar like hundreds of huge drums trying so hard. All the little drops fall and sound like tiny kettle drums beating time on the huge silver gray rocks. The calm little waves come ringing like violins. As they twinkle against the rocks the waves sound like tiny bells ringing.

THE ROUGH SEA

Carl S. — Grade 5
You see some birds riding the huge waves they slam against the rocks. Then suddenly the sea calms down and you enjoy yourself.
Soon you hear some rumbling.

RETURN VISIT

Captain Mike Costello, formerly of the Kahloke and the Quilliaute on Black Ball runs to Nanaimo and in Jervis Inlet visited Gibsons Wednesday noon of last week as captain of the Malibu Princess, a sleek vessel on the Vancouver-Malibu run, up Jervis Inlet. Aboard the vessel was a party of 40 members from a Toronto University private school. They were under the direction of Mr. Frayne Gordon, manager of operations of the Malibu Princess. Those interviewed said they had never seen anything like the scenery of Howe Sound. Their trip was

You look up and see a giant wave approaching. You run away and hide. Then you hear a loud crash. You look and you see the logs all broken and cracked.

John H. — Grade 5 THE SEA TRIP

We dash to meet the big green waves as they reflect their happiness into the sky. We pass the tall white lighthouse which shines its light at sea to warn ships, who otherwise would meet their death on the coral reefs. The dolphins jump and play to show how happy they are in their watery kingdom. The little clear green waves slap at the hull of our boat as if asking us to play.

KINDERGARTEN ART

A display of the best kindergarten art work done during this year will be hung at Gibsons Elementary School on Tuesday, June 28. Parents and visitors are welcome between 9 and 10:30 a.m. This should be of special interest to the parents of this year's students and to those whose children are registered for kindergarten in September.

LEISURE — PLEASURE

A Journalist friend comments that 5 years ago he often found time to do some writing in the evening, and that sometimes he wrote something pretty good. At least, he says, evenings gave him time for reading and reflection. Nowadays, he complains, the TV screen gobbles up a lot of the leisure time that once was put to better use.

Of course, he is 15 years older and perhaps no longer has the fire in his belly to try to write something of consequence. But it is true that pre-TV a person had to do a certain amount of arranging to be entertained, while now a person has to do a lot of arranging to have time free for something other than being entertained. — C. J. H.

The Canada Post Office will issue a 5c commemorative stamp on July 27 recognizing work of Canadian scientists in developing peaceful uses of atomic energy, Postmaster General Jean-Pierre Cote announces.

Marking the year in which the country's first commercial large-scale production of nuclear-electric power becomes a reality, the stamp is intended to emphasize concentration on peaceful uses of atomic power. Produced from a design by Toronto artist A. L. Pollock, the issue is blue in color, horizontal in format and prominently features a stylized illustration of structures comprising the new Douglas Point Nuclear Power Station located in Ontario on the shores of Lake Huron. A microscope at the lower left above which is a dove of peace, respectively symbolize research and peaceful uses of great power; superimposed on the whole is the symbol for a heavy water atom.

In making his announcement regarding the stamp the Postmaster General indicated a total of 24 million will be printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa.

THOSE FABULOUS FROST-FREE REFRIGERATORS!

They've got room for everything!

Where to put those tall cartons? That enormous turkey? No problem in the new refrigerators. They're much bigger inside, so there's room for everything. (You won't have to shop so often, will you?) Yet, thanks to clever thin-wall construction, they need no additional floor space. So they fit beautifully into your present kitchen modernizing plans. Shelf arrangements are flexible, freezer compartment is much larger. Plus — in-the-door storage, special meat keepers, butter conditioners — you name it. All this convenience — and here's the frosting. There's no defrosting. Ever. Choose from many models, including new two-door combination refrigerator-freezers.

WANT TO WIN A MINK?

Of course you do. Every woman can use a luxurious mink stole. Your appliance dealer's the man to visit. Simply see a demonstration of the new frost-free refrigerators, then fill out a form telling which feature you like best. And you might win a mink. How's that for a nice way to stay frost-free?

Seek recreation funds

The Gibsons and Area Recreation Commission, is soliciting for operating funds. It is hoped that the funds raised will enable them to expand recreational facilities in the Gibsons area. The commission's plans are far reaching in scope and will provide facilities for all age groups.

The commission approached Local 297 of the IBPS & PMW, and we were more than pleased to be able to assist them. It is hoped that this local's contribution will prompt similar and supporting action from our membership and that this public appeal will result in the same from citizens outside our sphere of influence.

This is a very necessary project and one which should concern everyone. Our leisure time is something we have not yet learned to cope with, and in a few years we will have even more spare time than we do now. Use of leisure time must not become a problem just as a lack of adequate facilities must not become a problem.

Let's all first give a small donation then get out and learn how to use these recreational facilities.

Please send any donation to: Gibsons and Area Recreation Commission, Mr. S. Fladager, 1436 South Fletcher, Gibsons.

Mike Blaney, chairman, public relations committee, Local 297, IBPS & PMW.
