OK extra ferries for overloads

Word from Victoria received by Don Lockstead MLA, now in Powell River, states that B.C. Ferries crews have lifted their ban on extra run ferries.

Mr. Lockstead added that negotiations with the union involved are continuing but that the union decided to drop its ban on extra runs until negotiations were settled.

It could be surmised that the extra ferry runs as an overtime issue are part of the negotiations under way between the union and Ferry Authority officials.

Tempers were beginning to run short over treatment of passengers specifically at the Langdale terminal which has achieved a 24 percent increase in traffic so far this year. While local councils, chambers of commerce and other organizations have complained along with the public speaking its mind, the situation did not improve. One week 125 cars and passengers were left over and this last weekend there were 75.

Hon. Robert Strachan and Don Lockstead, the MLA for this area, had arranged a meeting with Premier Barrett to see what could be done. Crux of the trouble was an existing agreement with ferry personnel which they refused to honor, according to Mr. Strachan, while new negotiations were proceeding. However pressure has resulted in the matter being solved as regards running extra ferries when the situation warrants it.

CFP negotiations broken off

The Port Mellon Local 1119 UPIU negotiating team, returned home June 8, and reported that the 18 local unions of the United Paperworkers International Union, representing some 7,200 workers in British Columbia, broke off negotiations with the B.C. Pulp and Paper Industrial Relations Bureau.

Considerable progress has been made since bargaining commenced May 7, but in the opinion of the delegates headway has been disappointing in view of the excellent state of the industry and the rocketing pace of inflation.

Talks foundered mainly on money matters, the reluctance of the industry to meet the union's requests on health and welfare, long term disability, pensions, vacations, adjustments for steam plant and maintenance personnel, as well as the main wage demand.

The industry's latest wage offer was 7½% in each year of a two year agreement, the same as in 1970. They moved slightly on a number of other items, and partially met the request for a dental plan, but balked at the cost sharing formula.

Companies' demands for changes in work schedules during the Easter shut down, as well as the right to select relief foremen without regard to seniority also created problems. Their refusal to discuss contracting out, job security, and their adamant no to the Union's request for full disclosure on the millions of dollars tied up in pension funds, further aggravated the situation.

The delegates are returning to their local unions to give a full report to the membership and to conduct a strike vote. It is hoped that further grounds can be found to resume negotiations and resolve the outstanding issues before the contract expires on July 1.

Vince Prewer funeral Friday

Vince Prewer, 76, prominent in the commercial life of Gibsons area, died Monday in hospital. The funeral service will be held Friday, June 15, at 11 a.m. in Harvey Funeral Home chapel with Rev. David Brown and Rev. Dennis Morgan officiating.

He leaves his wife Ann, daughters Louise Buchanan, Anne Tyson and Cathy Lyne also son Vincent Jr., 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, also two sisters Anne and Rita.

Born at Champlain, Ontario, young Vince Prewer was educated in lower schools and later at Trinity College in a family life which incuded a great-grandfather who was one of the factors in Canada of the Hudson Bay Company.

Before he moved in Vancouver in 1947 he served during the war with the Armored Corps and in the Intelligence Corps in Ottawa, later being a special agent with the RCMP during the days of the Gouzenko case.

He settled in Gibsons area in 1947 where he and his wife opened Anne's Coffee Bar later extending it with a branch at Port Mellon. In later years he took over the business now known as Marine Men's Wear and expanded his operations to include Gibsons Theatre which was the top storey of the Bal block, later completely destroyed in the Bal Block fire.

A little more than five years ago he sold the men's wear business to Floyd and Gladys McGregor. Mr. Prewer then turned to real estate and at the time of his death was a member of the Ewart McMynn Realty firm.

Mr. Prewer was best known among the young folk as manager of the moving picture theatre which operated above the Bal Block stores, destroyed in a fierce fire one August night 11 years ago.

Vince had lived in Gibsons area close to 20 years in more than one vocation. He was best known as Vince Prewer of Marine Men's Wear and was a well-liked pal of the young men.

In April of 1968 some 50 who regarded themselves as his Powell River for a special boys travelled from as far as event at Cedars Inn, honoring Vince Prewer.

Bernie Mulligan and a few of the old gang, now grown up and holding respectable jobs, married with families and respected members of the community, decided it was time to do something for Vince in acknowledgement of a heaped-up debt of gratitude.

Speakers recalled that Vince was always there when needed. Many times he opened his store to the boys on their way to logging camp on short notice, at night, Sundays or holidays. Vince would open up, give what was needed, often on credit and sometimes even be hit for a loan for plane fare. As a matter of fact his concern for the boys would include on a number of occasions a trip up the hill to bail somebody out!

TV hearing in Vancouver

Reporting direct from Ottawa by phone, Harry Olaussen MP stated that some 30 petitions had been received on behalf of the CBC and about 15 on behalf of commercial TV over the acquirement of Channel 10.

In 1967 this channel was reserved for the CBC for use at some future date. This reservation was revoked in 1972 and the issue became one involving others in acquiring this channel.

The hearing opened Monday in Vancouver and will likely go on for some days. It is not expected any decision will

Well behaved

At the Twilight Theatre last Saturday evening, 20 younger girls of the Sechelt Residence, escorted by Sister Anne and Miss Pat Piche, supervisor, attended the evening show, enjoying every moment of the feature, Oliver. On Friday night, a similar group of 20 boys from the residence also saw Oliver. Ray Boothroyd, manager, was impressed with the excellent behavior and whole-hearted enjoyment of both youthful audiences.

Tennis courts now complete

A Gibsons Athletic Association executive meeting last Wednesday learned from Larry Labonte and Des Plourde that the tennis courts are now complete. New nets were purchased and the backboard installed. The courts are in constant use and the executive is working on setting up an instruction program for this summer.

The swim instruction program registration will take place July 2 and 3. Lessons start on July 4.

The mobile concession is back in operation under direction of Mrs. Arlene White. Several events have been scheduled where the concession will be operating and help is needed. Anyone willing to assist for a hour or two please call Mrs. White at 886-7097.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kurucz with the help of some senior girls operated the concession last weekend for a Girls Softball tournament. Rudy coaches girls softball and Carol was a vauable member of the executive for several years.

Eric White is finding himself rather busy as not only is he baseball co-ordinator for GAA but has had to fill a coaching position as well. Eric also assists his wife with the mobile concession, both doing a good job.

Baseball and softball will wind up by the end of June. Good sportsmanship trophies will again be awarded to one member of each team, under GAA. The principles of good sportsmanship cannot be overemphasized and along with promoting sports programs and providing necessary funds it is the club's chief objective.

VISIT TO PARK

Sixteen girls and 14 boys, all grade 6 and 7 students at Langdale Elementary school, accompanied by their principal, C. E. Passmore, teacher Ian Jacob, and volunteer house mothers Mrs. Nancy Douglas and Mrs. Millie Schmidbauer, left by auto Monday for a five day field trip to Manning Provincial Park. The party will occupy housekeeping units and enjoy supper at the Park

Swim classes set for July

Enrollment for summer swimming classes will take place at Gibsons Athletic Hall and Hopkins Community Hall, also Roberts Creek, July 2 and 3. Instruction will commence directly following registration. Anne Letham, last year's instructor, will again be in charge. Anne is well qualified for the job, having taught swimming for two years in Sechelt and for some time at the Crystal Pool, Victoria, Mrs. letic Association announces. Nancy Douglas of Gibsons Ath-She will again be assisted by Debbie Willis.

Evening groups will be organized, and sessions will continue for eight weeks, concluding with the distribution of awards on the third week of August.

The program is under auspices of the Canadian Red Cross training non-swimmers to obtain their senior badge. The Royal Life Saving Society takes over from there with the awarding of the Bronze Badge for general swimming proficiency.

Council opposes Sunday shopping

When Leona R. Spangler of Snug Village, Bal Block, where handicraft goods are sold, asked that she be allowed to open her shop Sundays, Gibsons council, at Tuesday night's meeting with Acting Mayor Winston Robinson, did not agree wth Sunday opening.

Mrs. Spangler in her letter requesting Sunday opening maintained there were people suspected of working under federal grants peddling their wares openly on Sundays. Council suggested if she had such evidence she should present it. At the same time Ald. Ted Hume was of the opinion the federal grant situation where sales are involved will need watching.

The Sea Cavalcade obtained use of the Municipal wharf for its celebration Aug. 3, 4 and 5, also a grant of $600.

Mrs. Roberts who lives adjacent to a lot which the village has bought in the Bay area wants to have the lot cleared up. She maintains it has been an eyesore for the last 13 years. Council agreed it should be cleaned up. Ald. Ted Hume said the council should set an example for other property owners.

A Week for Coaches!

Gibsons area is fortunate with sports programs available for almost all who wish to participate. Many are responsible, including Gibsons Athletic Association executive, sponsors, donors, co-ordinators, umpires and especially the coaches.

Coaching is not an easy job and although one may not always agree with a coach they must be given credit for their fine efforts. It is time consuming, for coaches not only hold practices and attend games but also arrange transportation, attend meetings, take responsibility for collecting fees, handling uniforms and raffle tickets, mend hurt feelings and real bruises and much more. A coach is usually a dedicated person, a friend to the players and his rewards are often few and far between.

Gibsons Athletic Association salutes their coaches and declares June 17 to 23 Coaches Week. There are many ways in which the public can show its appreciation and just being aware of their involvement and remembering to say thanks is a start.

Individuals who devote a considerable amount of their time in looking after the young and endeavor to confine their minds to achievement through sports, deserve the respect of their community.

There is one section of sports in which this area falls down badly and that is on the water. With the sheltered area adjacent to Gibsons the young fry should be more adept in the use of that water, for sail boats, chiefly.

We have the greatest collection of what sailors would call landlubbers. An effort was made to start a sabot sailing class a couple of years ago but it apparently faded. What could be finer than learning navigation by sailing your own vessel no matter how small.

Three cheers for Chuck

There is one member of the Vancouver TV media with a rather good understanding of geography. He is Chuck Davis, of CBC fame. He has published an interesting book titled "Chuck Davis' Guide to Vancouver." The book actually covers more than Vancouver.

But his recognition of the finer points in understanding geography is rather keen compared to what the average Vancouver TV-radio-newspaper staff member can muster. For instance his book dares to be factual. He writes about Highway 101 and the Sunshine Coast as follows: "Heading west from Gibsons...you'll come to Roberts Creek...Eight miles farther, at the southern end of Sechelt Peninsula is the settlement that gives the peninsula its name."

Ten years ago the Coast News started campaigning to have Gibsons area in its right place and not on Sechelt Peninsula, 14 miles away. There are still some people who believe this Elphinstone area, Roberts Creek, Selma Park and Wilson Creek are on Sechelt Peninsula. Geographically they never will be. A map will prove this.

However, thank you Mr. Davis for your support in placing points along the Sunshine Coast in their proper perspective. Your book covers a wide area of the south coast country including Victoria and it will be of value to people new to the area.

As Mr. Davis is a man of discernment we can recommend his book to all who seek something with wide coverage of the coastal area centering on Vancouver. Your friends will learn considerable from this pocket-sized book of 226 pages containing considerable detail newcomers should know.

Oil crisis under suspicion

BY HARRY OLAUSSEN, M.P.

The oil industry is like a giant octopus with tentacles reaching out into the fields of financial and political decision making.

My concern is that the huge, multinational oil companies are orchestrating the people of Canada to the fact that there is an energy crisis. I do not doubt that we have been going through an energy crisis considering the tremendous growth in the economy of North America.

However, I have already voiced my suspicion as to an oil crisis as I believe that the oil companies are trying to bring on an instant crisis in order to get their Alaskan oil moving as well as strengthen their hand in the international oil poker game.

My suspicion is further strengthened by the recent views of some U.S. politicians, one of whom, state Assembly Speaker, Bob Moretti of California, has accused oil companies of spreading horror stories Moretti said: "It just doesn't seem logical that an industry known for its ability to project needs could be caught napping and that a crisis should appear so suddenly.

Here in Canada we may feel a gasoline shortage unless there is a clamp down on exports to the United States. A fuel crisis is gradually shaping up and I think that it's time for this country to reassess its industrial and energy policies and the need for better planning and control of our own resources.

David Lewis, federal leader of the New Democratic Party, has urged that the government consider the establishment of a public owned Canadian Petroleum Corporation in order to break the existing monopoly enjoyed by multinational corporations. "The establishment of such a corporation is essential to protect Canada's economic future and fundamental to an effective national energy policy." said Mr. Lewis.

In the meantime we are faced with the mounting environmental consequences of energy use and the need for moderating demand. There is an intensifying interest in energy problems on the part of goverment, industry and the public. On the other hand, energy is the prime mover of technology and an essential ingredient in fashioning a decent standard of living. On the other hand, it is a central component of man's growing impact on his environment.

There is no doubt that we do have many difficult decisions to make in the years ahead as to how we can best preserve the environment and avoid the frivolous and wasteful use of energy in this country.

Hot Dog history

The National Hot Dog and Sausage Council, a U.S. based organization recently reported that sausages are mentioned in literature as far back as the 9th century B.C. in Homer's Odyssey. But tradition has it that Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, is the birthplace of the hot dog.

This claim is disputed by those who assert that the hot dog was originated in the late 1600s by a butcher named Johann Georg Lahmer, who lived in Coburg, Franconia, in what is now Central Germany. They claim Frankfurt is credited as being the birthplace of the hot dog because Lahmer, in later years, promoted his new product among the butchers of that city. But the people of Vienna dispute both these claims and point to the term "wiener" as proof that their city gave birth to the hot dog.

CANCER - June 22 to July 22
The stars look bright indeed for nearly all persons born under this sign. If things aren't exactly 'a bed of roses' it's because your own personal chart had an adverse aspect at the time and year of your birth

LEO - July 23 to August 23.
Nothing whatsoever for Leo persons to worry about during this time. Other aspects especially those dealing in business matters are moving into fa vourable position. Your decisions will be good ones.

VIRGO - Aug. 24 to Sept. 22
There just might be a "clash" of opinion" between yourself and others sometime during the week. Don't allow this to upset you, as it will be magically cleared up very shortly.

LIBRA - Sept. 23 to Oct. 23
"Stick to your guns" this week and don't allow others to push you into doing something that you feel is wrong. You'll have great help from the zodiac in coming out "on top"!

The Scorpio chart is just the opposite of Libra this week. Be willing to see both sides of any argument that might come up. You'll gain if you stop and think before taking action.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23-Dec 21
Don't let "frustration" drive you "up the wall" at the present time. Everything should be "clear sailing" by this time next week. Keep your head on your shoulders and remain calm.

Finally, Jupiter, the great benefactor in astrology will be moving into a very beneficial position by this weekend. Your business affairs should improve tremendously starting next week.

AQUARIUS - Jan. 21 - Feb. 18
You have a nice combination of planets sitting in Gemini right now that can do you much good if you use the benefits they bring properly. Travel, at the present is not well aspected.

PISCES - Feb. 19 to Mar. 20
Communications "snarl - ups" and those aspects dealing with printing and publishing matters may get you a little weary this week. However, by next Thursday everything should be clear again.

Freezer packaging important

When freezing foods, packaging is all-important! Because foods dry out rapidly in the freezer, they should be well wrapped in special freezer containers and wrappings that are moisture-vapor-resistant, odorless and tasteless.

Freezer wrappings that may be used for frozen foods include aluminum foil, special freezer paper and plastic film. Aluminum foil is a good wrap for all foods and offers protection against objectionable tastes and odors. It is best to use a heavy weight foil; be careful not to puncture it when wrapping bone-in meats. Aluminum foil can also be used for wrapping foods that need heating before serving. Freezer paper is specially coated to protect frozen foods. It should be tightly sealed with freezer tape to exclude as much air as possible.

Plastic films are convenient wrapping materials that conform to the contour of the food Use only films that are labelled for use in freezing.

Freezer containers are available in several shapes, sizes and materials such as aluminum, plastic or waxed cardboard. Square and rectangular containers take up less space than round ones, and those that are flat on both top and bottom are easier to stack.

Plastic freezer bags in various sizes are widely used for packing food. Excess air should be pressed out of the bag before freezing and an airtight seal made by twisting the top of the bag several times and securing tightly with a closure

Properly packaged foods may be stored in the freezer for several months. Frozen fruits, vegatables and herbs may be stored for 1 year. The maximum recommended storage time for beef roasts and steaks is 12 months; cooked meats and roasts may be stored for 2 months.

Variety meats are best kept no longer than 4 months. Whole chickens and turkeys may be stored 1 year. Plan to use prepared foods such as breads, cakes, sandwiches, casseroles within 4 months, although some will keep longer.

For additional information on freezing foods, write to information Division, Agriculture Canada Sir John Carling Build ing, Ottawa, K1A OC7, for a free publication: Freezing Foods — 892.

Who owns a Credit Union?

Who cares?

You should.

It's a fact of life. . .the owners of any successful business get a lot of benefits that ordinary customers don't.

At a credit union, every one who does business there--either as a depositor or a borrower--automatically becomes an owner-shareholder. He has a direct say in the policies of his credit union and at year end receives a share of its earnings. Nearly half a million British Columbians now profit by using credit unions as a great place to save or borrow.

Women's Lib. group planned

A notice in last week's issue of Coast News, headed Sisters Unite, calls on women in Gibsons' area to attend meetings of what is hoped to be a local Women's Liberation movement

Judy Kolind, who placed the notice in the Coast News firmly believes Gibsons could well do with such a group. It was high time this and every other community in Canada, no matter how large or small, should each have its Lib. Unit, so that women everywhere would get an eyeopener and become more aware of what is going on in this all too male-orintated world, she said.

While she didn't sound militant over the phone Judy is firmly determined to rouse local women and is coming out swinging for Women's Lib.

A comparative newcomer to Gibsons, as a permanent resident, she, her husband Karl and 2½ year old son Jason have been summering in these parts for several years and only arrived from Edmonton in May to make their home here in the School Rd. apartments. A sister, Mrs. Joan Covey and her mother and father, Lillian and Bernard Thibault also reside in Gibsons.

Judy caught the bug as recently as last November large ly through reading Germaine Greer's book The Female Eunuch. She was further influenced by Lib-minded friends in Edmonton and Vancouver. Mrs Kolind pointed out the movement was centered largely about a growing concern for the children of the future, emphasizing careful screening of non-sexist literature. She also strongly advocates liberating those mothers who have need of getting out and on the job by placing the youngsters in a properly conducted day nursery.

Although a comparitive new comer, Mrs. Kolind is already impressed by the friendliness of those with whom she has come in contact and is determined to enlighten and liberate the put-down sisterhood. To use her own words she's coming out swinging for Women's Lib. and all that it stands for.

Takeover faces Regional board

The Regional District board is being invited to take over a subdivision water and sewage system after it has been completed by the subdividers.

The subdivision involved is Suncoast Developments Ltd., Mason Road, West Sechelt 40 lot project but as applications for approval of the layout are being negotiated it would take some months for the system to be a reality.

The proposal is now in the hands of Regional District com mittee who will explore admin istration, financing and maintenance problems and report back to the board.

Roads will also be constructed with the idea the provincial roads department would take them over.

Night driving!

Motorists are advised by the B.C. Automobile Association to take these measures when driving at night on the open highway:

Look ahead as far as the headlights show - avoid looking immediately in front of the car. When meeting cars, watch the right edge of your lane as far ahead as possible. When a driver approaches from the rear, avoid the glare from his headlights by not looking at the rear view mirror.

Point of Law

(By a Practicing Lawyer Copyright)

Q: I signed for a debt of $10,000 payable at $40 per month at 5% interest. I have been paying the loan company for years but can't ever seem to get paid off, according to them What can I do?

A: The loan company is correct. You never will be paid off but there is plenty you can do about it. I presume the interest is 5% per year on the unpaid balance from time to to time owing. This is $500 per year interest. One month's interest is 1/12th of this or $41.67. This is more than your first monthly payment. Your debt, instead of getting smaller and smaller will get larger and larger - forever.

This is, what in law is known as, a perpetuity, that is, something which goes on forever. Our law prohibits this sort of transaction. It is void, or subject to being declared void. This means that the law will set it aside as being a nul lity or something that is not or never was in existence at all.

You didn't say if the debt was secured by a mortgage or promissory note or if there is any collateral. In any event, you should see your lawyer who will take the necessary steps to set you and the other party back in your original position.

If you have paid back $10,000, you are entitled to a return of whatever security the loan company holds. If you have paid back more than $10,000, you are in general entitled to a return of the excess. The exact legal remedy you are entitled to will depend upon the circumstances of the case. Make no further payments and see your lawyer.

HEARING AID DONATED

Hon. Dennis Cocke, minister of health services and hospital insurance, and Mr. Robert K. Coulling, chairman, Purple Cross Fund of the Elks announce an addition to the program of the health branch in the division of speech and hearing. A mobile Hearing Conservation Unit is in transit to Vancouver at the present time. The cost of this unit is being met 50 percent by the Elks Purple Cross and 50 percent by the province.

Funds needed

Elphinstone students who billeted people from Quebec early in May are busy developing projects with which they hope to raise the money for the return trip this fall. The goal is $1,500 to $2,000.

Donations, or suggestions for raising money, or odd jobs to be offered, will be greatly appreciated. There will be a bake sale at Sunnycrest Plaza and a car wash at Trail Bay Centre, Saturday, June 16. Also, students will be selling ready cut alder cord wood. Phone Mrs. Rankin at 886-2204.

New gifts and cuddly toys for the new baby — Miss Bee's, Sechelt.

Want trails

Members of the Timber Trail Riding club of Gibsons have formed a trail committee of interested riders concerned over vanishing riding trails.

The committee seeks to conserve existing trails and open new ones and to do this it needs the support of interested groups. Increased traffic on Highway 101 is proving more hazardous to riders and consequently to motor traffic as well.

The committee has asked the Regional District board to do what it can to help them. The club's letter to the board was turned over to the planning committee for advice.
