Students vote for 1 school

Elphinstone Secondary school students during last week conducted a vote on the issue of one or two schools. The result was out of 644 votes, 532 for one school and 112 for two schools.

Those voting for two schools were 76 from Sechelt, four from Roberts Creek and 32 in Gibsons.

Those favoring one school were 183 from Sechelt, 57 from Roberts Creek and 293 from Gibsons. A total of 258 Sechelt students voted and of that number 182 or 70% wanted one school. The Sechelt area included Wilson Creek, Davis Bay, Selma Park, Sechelt and West Sechelt.

Information coming out of Roberts Creek reveals that one resident of the area has approached parents with students at Elphinstone, for their attitude on the new school building issue. Early reports said she had obtained 50 signatures to the petition and expected to obtain more.

Elphinstone's 1973 class of Graduates

Elphinstone Secondary school's graduation exercises for 1973 in the Elementary school, Saturday night, presented a curtailed version of ceremonies held in the secondary school before the June 30 fire.

On a smaller stage 40 of the 60 graduates faced an audience which pretty well filled the smaller Elementary hall. The audience had visual entertainment in studying the Zodiac, the 12 sections being fitted according to the availability of space.

Rev. Nancy Dykes, pastor of Glad Tidings Tabernacle offered the invocation. Principal D. L. Montgomery in opening remarks said an awful lot of tradition had gone up in smoke but in looking back he said he thought of people, not buildings.

He recalled long term members of the school staff such as Stan Trueman and Syd Potter, former principals and both present, Mrs. Cloe Day, Mrs. Fallows, Mrs. Birkin, Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Glassford, all present.

Mrs. A. Labonte, school board chairman congratulated the graduates, wishing them good luck and Supt. R. R. Hanna praised the staff on their efforts to get the school in operation under most difficult circumstances. He also thanked all organizations which had contributed towards the efforts of getting the school together again.

Vice-principal Larrie Grant was of the opinion this class of graduates was some of the finest young men and women he had ever known.

Mrs. Day delivered the address to the graduates and the first half of the notes to her speech will be found on page two of this issue. On page eight will be found the Valedictory address by Bill Sneddon, the list of awards, and a list of the complete graduating class.

300 attend public meeting

About 300 persons attended the school board's public meeting Thursday night in the present library of the burned-out Elphinstone School.

The meeting was orderly throughout and the questions and in one case a demand to get the school constructed as quickly as possible, ranged from finances to various methods of educating.

Mrs. A. Labonte, school board chairman conducted the meeting. Other trustees outlined the board position as a result of the fire, that it was now awaiting the adjudication of the total fire loss which was not expected to be complete until mid-October. In the mean time the insurance company had advanced $250,000 for immediate expenses. It was explained that the process could not be speeded up.

Supt. R. R. Hanna said that if there was a split secondary school it would be grades 8, 9 and 10 only at a junior school with grades 8 to 12 at the senior school. The teaching level of staffs at both schools would not be equal.

Debate centred on other school sites with Selma Park taking the limelight. The board maintained it would take a long time to get that site ready for school construction purposes and then there were other problems such as water and road access to be considered.

A two-acre site in Roberts Creek received some attention. Main emphasis of speakers was that the school should be built as soon as possible.

The meeting, scheduled for one-and-a-half hours, lasted closer to an hour and three-quarters. (See editorial on page two).

Council bucks MacKenzie curling rink

Tuesday night's Gibsons council after hearing Ian MacKenzie Jr. speak on behalf of a proposed curling rink to be on land owned by the village, opposed his plan. Mr. MacKenzie published a map of his proposal in the Coast News of Sept. 12. Mr. MacKenzie is also a candidate for the vacant council seat, election for which falls on Saturday with voting at the Municipal Hall. He is opposed by William R. Laing. Both men are CFP employees.

Council Tuesday night was composed of three, Aldermen Winston Robinson, acting mayor, Ald. Kurt Hoehne and Ted Hume.

Letters from the Kinsmen and Kiwanis club expressed their approval of a local curling rink. Ald. Hume said the letters were a bunch of nothing as they had no basis of established fact.

The MacKenzie petition asked for two and a half acres of land at the bottom of Shaw Road. This land is now under provincial agricultural reserve.

Acting Mayor Robinson said council hoped to develop Brothers Memorial Park shortly. Ald. Hoehne felt the land Mr. MacKenzie sought would be of great value to the village as residential property. Ald. Hume said he could not see a private club operating on public land. Ald. Hoehne felt the club as a non-profit club differed somewhat as a private club.

Acting Mayor Robinson said the village real estate involved was purchased by the village to eventually be a source of funds when sub-divided and lots sold with the proceeds to be used for village improvement.

The matter was turned over to Rob Buchan, professional planner, for his comment.

The letter which follows was presented to council by members of the organization proposing the curling club:

To Mayor Peterson and Gibsons Village aldermen:

"We are extremely concerned with the problems of obtaining land for a curling club in Gibsons village. In all good faith the Gibsons Winter club has held a public meeting, formed an executive, and made application for the recreation grant from Victoria. This application was held over to the next session because we were unable to provide a legal description of the land. It now seems as if we are to miss the Oct. 1 deadline for the next allocation of funds.

"If the village council wishes to have a curling club built as a recreational facility it must make some real effort to give immediate encouragement to this project.

"Your motion of June 26 seemed very clear but is now past due as far as our enthusiastic members are concerned. If Brothers Park is truly unavailable because of a lease clause we request that council give their immediate attention to alternative sites."

About one year ago when the proposal first came up favorable reaction had been received from the provincial recreation department for a grant covering one third of the proposed $100,000 cost for the building.

Gibsons council was approached for the use of a two-and-a-half acre site in Brothers Memorial Park or on Highway 101 in vicinity of Twilight theatre.

Gibsons council approved the idea of a curling rink as a community project offering favorable consideration in reviewing land possibilities. The club received a tentative go-ahead from Victoria calling for plans, objectives and a firm location of site. Further delay on the site quesion delayed the club's application to Victoria until the October sitting of the review board. That time elapsed and a meeting was called during which the chairman Mr. McDevitt characterized progress to date as an exercise in futility.

Ron Lacey presented a report to the club meeting on ten pieces of land, privately owned in the village. He also suggested an ideal location above the sewage plant but it is on council's reserve list for housing development he said. Laurie Grant was instructed to draw up a petition signed by club members to be presented at the council meeting (last night).

Ian Mackenzie arranged for the presentation of a petition to be signed by the public which was also to be placed before council.

The situation now facing the club is that it cannot make application to Victoria until December which would mean construction if possible would not start until January.

Two Blood Clinics planned

The Co-ordinating Council of Auxiliaries to St. Mary's Hospital appeals to the people of the Sunshine Coast to contribute to the Blood Donor Clinic in St. Mary's Hospital, Tuesday, Oct. 2 between 4:30 and 8:30 p.m.

There will also be a clinic in Gibsons Friday, Oct. 5 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Gibsons Health Centre. It will be sponsored by Gibsons Kinsmen club

Everyone between the ages of 18 and 65 and in good health may be a donor.

The results of the 1972 and 1973 clinics were disappointing The total number of units of blood donated at these two clinics amounted to only 171 units. St. Mary's Hospital ordered 384 units from Sept. 1, 1972 to Sept. 1, 1973. Donations from this area do not meet the needs of our one hospital.

There is an alarming shortage of blood in the Red Cross blood bank and hospital demands for this vital resource already have had to be drastically cut as donations are only approximately one-third of the minimum requirement. All elective surgery in B.C. will have to be cancelled unless the public responds in large numbers.

TO FILL DITCH

Gibsons council Tuesday night decided to go ahead with filling the ditch in front of Elphinstone school This will be done on the basis of the roads department paying for half of the culverts while the village assumes the rest of the cost.

Board under pressure!

The meeting of the school board to which the public had a direct invitation to attend drew a crowd of about 300 persons and of that number there were not more than 20 questioners most of whom sought information on the problem of building a new school. The others were inclined towards discussing the philosophical side of education.

If there is to be any criticism of the meeting the seating arrangement for the public would be the reason. Spreading tables between the board members and the main audience pushed the bulk of the audience to the back of the room making hearing not always the best. The result was a jam of public in vicinity of the door.

The school trustees had little to fend off in the way of argumentative discussion and had no difficulty in controlling the meeting.

The reason for the meeting seemed unusual from the writer's point of view as the board revealed little beyond what has already been printed in the Coast News during the last two weeks.

It appeared conclusive that what the audience sought most was the building of a school to replace burned-out Elphinstone and they wanted it done as quickly as possible.

Possibilities of building another school in Sechelt, Selma Park or Roberts Creek brought up by questioners did not result in support from the bulk of the listeners. The question receiving widest approval was the matter of a lunchroom or cafeteria for Elphinstone. Even the board agreed it would be a good thing and suggested the hall occupied by the meeting would be the best place for it.

It was not possible to ascertain how many of the audience came from the Sechelt area and there did not appear to be any bloc in the audience determined to get a Sechelt school across. There were discussions on the relative value of two schools compared to that of one school but the board's explanation of the monetary situation which meant going to a referendum with the possibility of defeat had a cooling effect.

The public should realize the school board has to operate within limits laid down by the provincial department of education. It is also restricted by the budget within which it conducts its affairs.

As regards insurance on the burned school, the insurance company is paying such insurance for the replacement of the destroyed school on the land it occupied. Therefore a school constructed elsewhere is a matter of new financing, something which the majority of taxpayers would not receive with jubilation.

If you separate what you want from what you can get under the circumstances and realize the board is faced with an existing situation and not as some people would like it, you should feel inclined to support the board. It still has to make its final decision and what that will be depends on how the votes fall when the trustees reach that point.

When the board gets to a point of taking a vote it has before it now the motion of August 9 meeting which authorized the architects to prepare plans for a secondary school for approximately 550 with provision for a second phase for approximately 300 students. Some trustees are in an uncomfortable position. Right now it is anybody's guess how they will vote.

Mrs. Day's Graduation speech

In her address to Elphinstone Secondary school's graduation class at Saturday night's graduation function Mrs. Cloe Day, rambled back 25 years and informed the graduates of early school days in Gibsons. Her notes reveal the following:

In some respects and to some degree, the high school is right back where it was 25 years ago. Mr. Montgomery thought it might be interesting to take a quick look at the history of our secondary school Where did we come from? And where are we going?

In 1948 the only high school in School District 46 consisted of two rooms. Mr. Trueman was Principal and I was his staff. That building behind and beyond the Maintenance shop, now called The Paint Shop, was Mr. Trueman's classroom. It had been the old Legion Hall (and what is now the OLD Legion Hall was then the NEW Legion Hall). The school board had acquired the building and moved it just here to the road edge of this school grounds. Under the lower side of the Maintenance shop is a small basement which was my classroom. It currently has a pink door I believe.

As I remember class sizes, we had 30 grade nine students and 6 grade 12. Mr. Trueman's classroom was big enough to accommodate that many; so he enrolled grades 9 and 12. There were only 19 students in grades 10 and 11, and by snuggling a little we could fit them into the little basement where I enrolled those grades. Grade 8 was still part of elementary school, housed then in the old Elementary school building which I believe is being used now for high school math classes.

The present Maintenance shop was then known as the Women's Institute Hall. We had the use of it for a gym. Washroom facilities were in the Elementary school basement. Our only playground area was that just beyond the old Elementary school, and sometime during that year a bulldozer came and levelled it. I recall that many of our gym classes were spent in forming chain-gangs to pick rocks off it and smooth it so that we could lay out a ball diamond. We had to stagger break periods and gym classes with those of the Elementary school so that we could all have a turn at facilities.

I'm sure you can recognize some similarities in the situation of that time and the current juggling for use of over-lapping facilities. There were differences, however. One big one (apart from numbers of students and quality of buildings) was that students did not scuttle from building to building as they do now. You remember our classes had been fitted to the space available. At the end of a period, Mr. Trueman would step out the door and ring an old hand-bell, which was the signal for teachers to pack up books and lesson plans and dash across to the other building. He would come to teach maths and science to my group while I went to teach English or socials or something to his.

Another great difference was in the roads or trails from room to room. School road was then called Rocky road — and it was. I'm not sure whether the highway was known as mucky road or not, but it could have been. The ditches were not covered then and for part of each year were much like the ditch in front of the Maintenance shop after our flood last December. We laid logs across ditches as bridges and did some fancy balancing on our not-always-successful journeys across. But we had no traffic to dodge.

The building just below the present district library was at one time a store in the front section, living quarters in the east wing, and a coffee bar in the west or upper wing. By 1948 both the store and coffee bar had gone out of business, so I rented the coffee bar and turned it into my dwelling. The store with its large store-front windows was empty. By the fall of '49 enrolment had increased to the extent that we had to find another classroom. Mr. Goostrey joined the staff and the old store became his room.

By the next school year we had added Mrs. Glassford (part time) and Mrs. Faulkner to the staff and used, I believe, a basement room in the elementary school. In addition the board had moved an old, original one-room school building (one built in 1890) on to the lower part of the back of this school grounds, and it became a classroom. It was a temporary measure and the building was not on a foundation. It sagged and swayed. We used it in part for typing classes, but we had to spend the first of each period balancing up tables with bits of board so that typewriters would not scoot off. Then, because the room was also used for other classes, we had to spend the last few minutes of each period picking up our typewriters and storing them on shelves in what had originally been the cloak room.

Our school population growth during that early period must have exceeded that of any time since on a percentage basis because by the fall of 1951 we had added another classroom teacher in Gibsons, and had a three room high school in Sechelt under Mrs. Rankin with Mr. Peterson and Mrs. Pearson on her staff. In addition we had two travelling teachers, a shop man and a Home Ec. lady who spent part of each week with Gibsons classes and part in Sechelt

They must have used the first term for teaching ideas, theory, pattern making, drafting, recipes and whatever could be done without the tools. Finally in February of 1952 we all moved together into the shining, elegant, new Elphinstone. At that time the school consisted of the west wing only, from the main entrance up to the shop which was much smaller then — a small drafting room and one

That first Elphinstone seemed positively palatial to us, but enrolment kept growing. Some where along the way, grades 7 and 8 were transferred to the high school and we were bursting at the seams again. We added the next wing down to include the art room and language lab. A few years later came the extension of the shop and the addition of the library above what had been built for a cafeteria but had become a typing room almost immediately.

Even the transferral of Grade 7 back to the elementary schools did not give us a reprieve for long, and for two years we had little prefabs scattered around on the grounds to give us classrooms for the overload. So then we added a Commerce wing, followed by a Music wing, and the new Science lab. And you know that last year we were in need of more room —more shop, more science, and more gym. That gym, which had been more than adequate when we moved to it with about 250 students, had been far from adequate long before we reached the 700 enrolment figure.

And now it has gone up in smoke, at least the bigger part of it. And where do we go from here? It is a controversial question with proposals and counter-proposals flying all over the place. I overheard one conversation at a coffee table in the bakery where one of you — I think, at least an ex-student — said, 'I don't care what they do. I'm through school.'

And that brings me to a brand new topic. You DO care. I feel sure that many of you were right there on that fiery day this summer doing your utmost to save any part of Elphinstone. And your care is not just a sentimental one either — not just an 'oh-oh-my-dear-old-Elphie' kind of care. The kind of education we have in this district, this province, this country, the whole world, matters very much to all of us. I'll bet two cents that ever so many of you, during your high school years, have done some fuming and storming about students' rights. And you have heard much fuming and storming about taxpayers' rights. parents' rights, tenants' rights, individual rights, the Bill of Rights. It is a topic of current concern, and I am concerned, very concered, with what I consider a whittling away of the rights of people.

(As time and space does not allow the completion in this issue of Mrs. Day's notes for her address the remainder, in which she develops her discussion on rights will appear in this space next week).

Time running out Witnesses say

Time is running out for mankind. Earth's problems can only be understood through the eyes of the Bible writers, Ernest Funk, B.C. spokesman for Jehovah's witnesses says.

North Vancouver's Recreation Centre, Sept. 8 and 9 hosted the first of a series of province-wide two day circuit conventions. Plans were concluded for a massive 10 day pamphlet distribution.

Visitors to the convention were encouraged to share in a Bible study program with local witnesses and see for themselves that the Bible has the only solution for man's critical situation. Peak attendance of 1,604 heard Mr. Ernest Funk of Toronto deliver the highlight public address Sunday entitled Act Wisely as the End Draws Near.

Park supervisor named

W. C. (Bill) Davies who was on the Forest Ranger staff operating out of Sechelt from 1949 to 1964 has returned to the Sechelt Forest Ranger station. He comes from Mission where he had been with the correctional department of the provincial government.

Hon. Jack Radford, minister of recreation and conservation, announces that Ole N. Johansen, regional supervisor for the Mount Seymour Park region, has been transferred to the newly created Sechelt Park region with headquarters at Porpoise Bay Provincial Park near Sechelt. The Sechelt region is bounded by Howe Sound, Toba Inlet, the Strait of Georgia, and the height of land west of the Squamish River.

Mr. Johansen joined the parks branch in 1945 when it was a section of the British Columbia Forest Service. An ardent and experienced skier, Mr. Johansen has applied his talents in this field to the management of the skiing facilities in Mount Seymour Park where he has been stationed since 1959.

Movie News

Concert for Bangladesh, a general type of movie will be featured Thursday to Saturday at Gibsons Twilight Theatre. George Harrison, a former Beatle, moved by the plight of the Bangladesh people, organized what has been called "the most fabulous concert of our time." Some 40,000 people at two shows at Madison Square Garden and a record album of the concert raised close to five million dollars to aid Bangladesh people.

For next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Savage Messiah will be screened. The joie de vivre and the beauty of a May-December relationship is the thread around which this story is woven, providing moments of sheer delight. This film is restricted. It is interesting in the study of sculpture and art forms.

Have a look at the colorful "Poole" pottery bowls and platters at Miss Bee's, Sechelt.

Open meeting on school issue

The Sechelt Indian Band announces that an open meeting will be held at 12 noon, Sept. 29, in the Indian Band gymnasium located on the grounds of the Residential School. This meeting is to discuss the proposals for a new secondary school.

The Band Council announces that Harry Olaussen, M.P., officials from the Indian education department and the Band Council will attend.

CARL BOBARDT

Cable Vision appoints new area manager

Coast Cable Vision announces the appointment of Mr. Carl Bobardt as district manager filling the vacancy left by Mr. John Thomas.

Mr. Bobardt has been in the employ of Northwest Communications and associated cable television companies during the past 12 years and comes to Coast Cable Vision with a great deal of experience in this field.

Mr. John Thomas, district manager has been promoted to assistant general manager of both Coast Cable Vision and Delta Cable Vision. His new responsibilities have required his re-location in Delta where Mr. Thomas has purchased a new home. He will continue to be a commuter to the Sunshine Coast as a part of his enlarged area of operations.

Mr. Bobardt, his wife Judy, and two of their four children, Andrea 16, Bobby 10, will be residing in Davis Bay upon completion of their new home.

Mr. Bobardt, with the able assistance of the company's technician Mr. Gerry Wood, and secretary, Mrs. Ethel Jure, will endeavour to continue to provide the best possible cable television service to Sechelt and Gibsons areas.

Mr. Thomas was responsible for the planning and development of both the Gibsons and Sechelt cable vision systems. He has managed the entire Sunshine Coast operations of Coast Cable Vision since the start of construction in January 1970.

During their stay on the Coast, John and Mrs. Thomas took an active interest in various community activities. John was a director of the Sechelt and District Chamber of Commerce and an executive member of the Sechelt Peninsula Rod & Gun Club.

John and Linda made a host of good friends over their years on the Sunshine Coast and plan to return frequently to the area to enjoy and maintain the friendships they treasure.

NOTE FOR TYPISTS

Are you a former typist or business machine operator? Are you out of practice? Would you like to get back into the swing of things? The Commercial department of Elphinstone would like to help you renew your skills. For more information, phone D. L. Montgomery at 886-2204.

New bond issue offers 7.54 percent

Finance Minister John N. Turner announces that the new series of Canada Savings Bonds will have a term of 12 years and an average annual yield of 7.54 per cent when held to maturity.

The bonds will go on sale Oct. 3, dated Nov. 1. They may be purchased until Nov. 15 at face value without paying accrued interest. The maximum individual purchase will remain at $50,000, and the bonds may be acquired only by bona fide residents of Canada and by estates of deceased persons.

As with previous issues bonds of the new series will be cashable at any time for full face value plus earned interest. They will be sold by all Canadian chartered banks and authorized sales agents, including investment dealers, stockbrokers, trust and loan companies and credit unions. They may be bought for cash or by instalments, including convenient payroll deductions, available to most employees through company payroll plans.

Interest rates for the annual coupons will be 7 percent for the first year, 7½ percent for each of the subsequent six years, 7¾ percent for each of the next three years, and 8 percent for the final two years.

A compound interest feature is again incorporated, providing for three extra interest certificates during the 12-year life of a bond. The purchaser of a $100 bond will receive $239.50 when it matures Nov. 1 1985, if he holds all regular coupons and compound interest certificates uncashed until then.

If an investor holds his $100 bond and its first six regular coupons uncashed until Nov. 1, 1979, a first compound interest certificate becomes payable on that date for $9.25. Similarly, if the $100 bond and the six remaining coupons are held uncashed until Nov. 1, 1985, a second compound interest certificate becomes payable for $9.75. If he holds his bond until maturity without cashing any of the regular annual interest coupons or compound interest certificates, a final compound interest certificate also becomes payable for $29.25 This brings the total proceeds at maturity of a $100 bond to $239.50.

Interest payments, including compound interest, must be reported as income for tax purposes. The coupons and compound interest certificates may be reported when they fall due or when actually cashed. Whichever option is chosen, the taxpayer is required to be consistent in reporting interest received from the new series and from other issues of Canada Savings Bonds and similar securities.

Interest charges paid on the purchase of Canada Savings Bonds through the payroll savings plan or the monthly savings plan may be deducted for tax purposes.

Band council adopts planning

Sechelt Indian Band council is seeking a better planning base between the Band and Sechelt's municipal council. The Band asks for a multi-disciplined master - planning study.

The issue came before last week's municipal council by letter in which the Band offered the opinion that the artificial boundaries imposed on their lands need not hamper the working together of the two units, in areas of mutual concern and benefit.

The Band desires to arrange for badly needed planning data and information through a proper planning approach and not under unrealistic dictates. The letter was signed by Chief Henry Paull.

The Band letter was attached to a submission for initial study proposals for an exploratory study which the Band informed council has been sent to several planning consultants for consideration. The initial study was not to cost more than $5,000.

Background information explains that Sechelt No. 2 Reserve, because of its strategic location in a rapidly developing scenic area near Vancouver, offers considerable potential for intensive and exciting developments of all types. Over a period of 20 - 25 years it would not be unreasonable to suggest that the Reserve has the capability for being comprehensively developed for single family and apartment residential uses, a regional shopping centre and institutional complexes.

'Our Indian population of nearly 400 persons is living in two villages on the Reserve. We have established liaison between ourselves and the Village of Sechelt, as well as the flourishing Regional District organization. The Band Council confers closely with other authorities regardng land development and servicing proposals, but without the benefits of an effective planning base.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor: In a Sechelt newspaper printed on Vancouver Island is an article about the Beachcombers by Philip Keatley in which he states Gibsons is situated on Sechelt Peninsula.

Gibsons is NOT on Sechelt Peninsula being some 16 miles southeast of that area on the shore of Howe Sound. I noted that the Coast News corrected Mr. Keatley's article by placing Gibsons on the Sunshine Coast where it actually is, along with Sechelt.

—JOHN L. GORDON

Editor: Please correct the following statements as published in the last edition of your paper, dated Sept. 19.

I was not on the organization group responsible for the Japanese Garden in Lethbridge though I did manage the gardens for a period of time. The information as published by you makes me a liar, an impression I do not want to live under. The two people for whom the most credit for getting the gardens built and operating, were Cleo Mowers, editor and publisher of the Lethbridge Herald and A. W. Shackleford, a former mayor of Lethbridge. Confusion may have arisen in your reporter's mind by the fact that I was largely involved in organizing and managing the Lethbridge Symphony Orchestra.

The impression given that the Canada Winter Games was in any way my project is also false. As an alderman I did support the application but the work of preparing a submission and organizing the project was done by a group of people who are recognized in the brochure which was loaned to your representative.

—C. W. CHICHESTER

This letter has been sent to Mrs. Agnes Labonte, Chairwoman of the Board of School Trustees of School District 46, Gibsons.

Dear Mrs. Labonte: Allow me to thank you, and through you the other board members, for scheduling the public meeting at Elphinstone on Sept. 20.

As a Sechelt parent, I went to the meeting believing that a junior secondary school should be constructed at "our" end of the school district. I had reached this conclusion after attempting to summarize (to myself) what has been written and said on the subject. My experiences as a student at Elphinstone when it was first opened, also had a bearing on my thinking.

I have changed my mind. The best decision the board could reach, for the students, is to reconstruct a better Elphinstone. The public meeting allowed a cross-section of the parents to air their views, and (hopefully) listen to the views of others. It was hearing other views during and after the meeting that changed by mind. For example, I objected to the thought my children would be leaving home so early, and arriving home late because of the bus schedule. It was a Gibsons parent that pointed out since her children had to walk, they left home within 15 minutes of when the bus would leave my home.

A large, well equipped Elphinstone will be best for all the students. By well equipped, I do not just mean in the classroom. Mr. McLeod's point about a school which is designed to provide a congenial atmosphere for education is well taken. Why not? The students are at school for a better part of the day. In my opinion, this should include a cafeteria (not just a lunch room), adequate study rooms, and space for extra-curricular items such as clubs.

As a by-product, these facilities would encourage their use by the public generally. I feel the board should, in fact, encourage such usage.

Now, as a Sechelt parent, I raise a concern of parents from "our end" of the school district. Under present bus schedules, our children would be unable to make use of many of the extra facilities available to one large school. I therefore feel strongly that an in-depth study of school transportation should go hand in hand with the re-construction of Elphinstone. A vastly improved bus schedule from the school through to Sechelt is what is needed to make the school fully usable by all the students.

I realize the cost of an expanded bus schedule must be considered by the board. However, I am sure that this cost would be less than those of adequately running a second school in the Sechelt area. When the difference in initial construction costs are considered, the transportation costs are even more insignificant.

Also the administrative problem at the school would increase but are they more important than the proper supervision and education of our children? I think not.

In summary then, my opinion is that this is our opportunity for a well equipped school to be re-constructed at Elphinstone, but that a greatly expanded transportation schedule be instituted so that all the students can equally participate in the school activities. —R. W. McKIBBIN

The Secretary,
Sunshine Coast Regional Board
Davis Bay, B.C.

It would seem the Regional board has put itself into a very compromising position in relation to the Chapman Creek watershed area, a position which, by itself, it is unable to resolve.

Another gate has appeared on the West Road of the Wilson Creek logging road, placed there by Jackson Brothers Logging with the blessing of the Regional Board. A sign which proclaims that this is now a restricted area and that trespassers will be proseduted by the Regional board makes this abundantly clear.

During the latter part of last year an area was logged at the far end of the West road but the logs were not brought out due, presumably, to the lateness of the season. We were told at the time that this was the extent of the logging to be allowed in this area.

Since the new gate was installed we find that the logging operation has started with renewed vigor. It would seem to be too much of a coincidence that this should start immediately after so called unauthorized people were barred on the ground that this was a watershed and as such should be protected.

Last year the Regional board approved on O.F.Y. scheme to establish a trail into the Chapman Lake area at a cost of about $4,000 of taxpayers' money. The trail has now been well established and has been well used by people who enjoy hiking and back packing. There is no garbage or litter to be found and this fact alone would give some indication of the sort of people using the trail, people who appreciate their surroundings and do not wish to spoil them in any way.

Now the trail has been closed off to everyone on the grounds that this is a watershed area and as such must be protected from the people. The board must have known last year when the OK was given for the trail that this was a recognized watershed so why the change of heart? One of the directors went to see what was happening for himself and said that as far as he could tell no logging should be going on in the creek area but that the Regional board was powerless to stop it themselves.

There would appear to be so many inconsistencies in this matter that could stand study by someone removed from the Regional board or the logging industry and the idea of this letter is to open the door to discussion and to introduce some of the facts as known to the public at large in order to get some dialogue going.

It should be pointed out that this letter does not set out to criticize individuals but rather to question the system which allows such things as this to happen.

—J. HIND-SMITH.

Valedictorian address

(By BILL SNEDDON)

Mr. Chairman, Honored Guests, Fellow Graduates, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a very special honor to have been chosen by my fellow graduates to express, on their behalf, the tremendous emotional feelings we are now experiencing; and to speculate on what the future holds for us.

And that future is a promising one, indeed. We are alive. Modern medicine and science are making great strides forward. Leisure time is becoming an important facet of life. But most important, we have our hopes and ambitions. As long as we each have something to look forward to, eagerly, for tomorrow, and for the next day, and for ten years from now, then there is reason to be alive; there is true meaning to our existence on this earth.

Admittedly, some of us may not attain the goals we have now set for ourselves; but we are flexible. Of course we will suffer disappointments. But we can, and will, change our goals if we are not pleased with the way our lives are going.

As we look out towards the world that not so anxiously awaits us, we can see headlines that tell of hate, of inflation, of pollution, and of letter bombs. But, somehow, these do not seem to worry us. We live in one of the finest countries in the world. And even with all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams, the world is still a beautiful place. Our parents and teachers have given us the basic tools to make it an even better place to live in.

School has produced many memories. At school we have had both good and bad experiences. Many of these experiences will be remembered for years to come and even put to practical use during our lifetimes. We each have met many different people and many different kinds of people. Some have become our closest friends.

It is popular to joke about graduation and say, "Well, I finally made it through the grind. It sure is nice to get out of that prison." But I think that, deep down, every one of us grads is saddened by the fact that we are leaving these happy times behind us now.

Yes, we will have our memories. And, for the graduating class of 1973, that statement is particularly true. We are in the unusual situation of having no material object to form the basis for our memories. There will be a nice shiny new school eventually, but it will not be ours. In the years to come, when we thing of Elphie, we will think of that good old two storey thing with the stucco walls, the crowded corridors the wooden lockers, and the dusty old gymnasium whose floor was almost slick enough for an ice arena.

Most certainly on behalf of my fellow grads, I would like now to convey our deepest appreciation to all the teachers we have had throughout our school years and to Mr. Montgomery and Mr. Grant, and especially to convey our most sincere and heartfelt thanks to our own wonderful parents for having given us such a fine start in life.

NEW HORIZON GRANTS

Retired Canadians have been assisted by New Horizons grants totalling $867,434 in the 9th group of projects. Group 9 involves 150 projects. Since Health and Welfare Canada introduced New Horizons more than a year ago, 966 projects have been granted a total of $6,470,372. New Horizons is designed to assist groups of retired men and women in activities to benefit themselves and their communities.

The editor of this paper might be willing to lend you his copy of The Christian Science Monitor.

But don't count on it.
He's an expert newsman with access to many news sources and a good paper of his own. But he still wants to get the Monitor's worldwide coverage and commentary on events.
Apart from 2,711 editors, there are 20,000 educators and students, 82,000 businessmen, 495 U.S. Senators and Congressmen, 3 Supreme Court Justices who read the Monitor. Why should they know more of what's going on, and why, than you do?
For less than 11¢ a day, you can get your own special insight into the news. Everyday, like they do.

Send me 4 months of the Monitor — over 100 issues — for only $11.

Point of Law

(By a Practicing Lawyer
Copyright)

Readers have asked a variety of questions concerning the sale of a dwelling house and the signing of an interim agreement.

Firstly there is no such thing under our law as an interim agreement. Either there is a contract or there is not a contract. There is no half-way step or cooling off period. Secondly, do not sign any document dealing with anything as important as the sale of land without legal advice. Better still, if you are the buyer, have the documents drawn by your lawyer, he will make a land registry search.

First check the state of the title and advise you of the dimensions of the lot as appearing in the land registry records and of the existence of such things as a right-of-way for a power line or sewer or the right of the municipality to take a portion of the land for a lane allowance.

If you decide to use a lawyer engaged by the real estate firm, make sure you and not the real estate firm are his clients. Make sure you only are paying his fee. In this way he will be obliged to advise you and you only. Your interest and the interest of the seller and the interest of the real estate firm are not the same and a lawyer cannot act for more than one party who have a conflict of interest.

Generally the buyer pays the lawyer's fees and land registry fees, and the seller pays the real estate commission. A wise seller will consult his own lawyer. There is usually very little for the seller's lawyer to do. He merely checks the documents as drawn by the buyer's lawyer and the fee for this is generally small.

Golf news

The Sunshine Coast was ably represented at the 2nd annual tournament of champions at Shaughnessy Golf Club Sunday, Sept. 22.

Champions who made up the team were Virginia Douglas, Ed McIlwaine, Harry Robson, senior mens and Bill Sneddon, junior mens. Although they were not among the winners, the Sunshine Coast can be proud of their efforts. With the experience they gained the team who represents the club next year will move up the ladder.

Congratulations and thanks to them for making the club better known in the lower mainland golfing circuit.

On Wednesday, Sept. 19, ladies of the golf club held their annual general meeting. The 41 who attended were served a luncheon by Mrs. Isabel Barnes and Mrs. Ruth Marsh.

Lucille Mueller announced the trophy winners and these were presented by captain Belle Dube. For the fifth year Virginia Douglas is the undisputed champion, and Doreen Gregory is runner-up.

The Senior Ladies trophy winner was Betty Turnbull with Priscilla Leith coming a close second. Consolation prize was awarded to Margaret Langdale.

First flight winner in the championship division was Norma Gaines and Wilma Sim was runner-up. The back-to-school trophy was presented to Audrey McKenzie.

The Marion Hopkins Memorial trophy was awarded for the first time to Vera Farr for showing the most improvement in the Eager Beaver division. Jeannie Meadows received a gift for the best attendance on Ladies Day and Val Boyes a gift for helping the match committee.

Following the business meeting the election of officers for the 1973-74 term took place. These include Norma Gaines, captain; Lenore Inglis, co-captain; Eve Moscrip, secretary; Vera Farr, treasurer; Audrey McKenzie, rules and handicap; Wilma Sim, match committee, and Priscila Leith, publicity.

Lockstead asks for government air service

Close to 100 met in Courtenay for the first Vancouver and Mackenzie riding regional conference, one of six such conferences in the province, to draft policy questions for the provincial conference in Vancouver Nov. 9 to 12.

MLA Don Lockstead for Mackenzie called for a provincial airline. Minister of Transport Robert Strachan said it was a good idea but the first priority was to grade all local airports before the start of a provincial air ambulance service.

John McNevin of Hopkins Landing asked the minister for better ferry service, reduced fares for locals and special lanes for local cars or reservations. Mr. Strachan said he was not in favor of special treatment for people in any part of B.C.

Washroom facilities for car decks were also requested, also an elevator to the upper decks for the aged or handicapped. Ferry builders say it would be next to impossible to provide them on present Langdale ferries.

SOCCER

All boys interested in playing soccer, 6 years and over, are to come to Gibsons Elementary All-Weather field Sunday, Sept. 30 at 2 p.m. This includes all boys whether you played last year or registered this year.

Anyone having uniforms not turned in from last year, please bring them to the field on Sunday.

Mr. Alex Turkington of the Juvenile Soccer Association for B.C. will be at the Athletic Hall, Gibsons, Friday evening at 7 p.m. Anyone interested can attend. Mr. Turkington will answer questions and discuss local soccer activities.

Shopping list advice offered

One good rule to follow in preparing your shopping list is to go through the newspaper ads and check the specials.

Try to shop in an organized fashion and exercise caution in filling your food basket. As you go down the aisles systematically, note the location of certain foods. Knowing your way around a store is the best method of saving time and possibly money. If you have to look in every aisle to find what you want, your attention will be caught by other things often resulting in impulse buying.

Before you pick up any food product, be sure to check the label. Read it carefully to find out the name and description of the product, the name and address of the packer or distributor, the brand name, the grade mark (Canada Choice canned tomatoes or Canada No. 1 potatoes), the net weight or volume, and a list of ingredients in descending order of their proportions in the product.

Note other information on the label such as storage instructions, direction and recipes for use, number of servings and expiry date for using the product. If unit pricing is available, use it. Otherwise, compare prices by dividing the quantity, usually in ounces, into the price, to get the price per-ounce of the product. To help you in your comparison shopping, why not order a handy pocket size Consumer's Cost Calculator available for 75 cents from Information Canada, Ottawa, K1A OS9.

Olaussen tells Sechelt council of procedures

M.P. Harry Olaussen advised Sechelt's municipal council how to obtain the best advice and assistance from government authorities at last week's meeting of council.

Mayor Ben Lang and the aldermen sought information on assistance for parklands within the village, the bird sanctuary north of the village and how to get the airport paved.

Mr. Olaussen explained that under L.I.P. grants in which municipalities have some say, a constituency advisory group has been formed of nine members, two of which are from the Sunshine Coast, They are John Burnside of Gibsons and Howard White of Pender Harbour. They will be advisors to the member of parliament and government officials in Vancouver.

Mr. Olaussen was not too hopeful of having the airport paved. He suggested the airport management committee should present the transport department with an engineering and economic study of the airport.

Sunshine Coast Craft Workshops and Mr and Mrs Murray presented applications for federal government LIP grants. Council approved their plans but stated they would have to make their own applications to the LIP authorities.
