Eckstein heads ratepayers

Victor Eckstein was elected chairman of the newly formed Gibsons Ratepayer association with Nelson Moore as vice-chairman and Mrs. Amy Blain as secretary.

While the association has not yet been named officially it is an association of Gibsons ratepayers. About 30 persons attended the initial meeting in the United Church hall Thursday of last week.

The meeting opened with Ald. Kurt Hoehne expressing the feeling that Gibsons should have a ratepayer sounding board because today everyone is involved. If you listen to hot line programs you find plenty of steam being blown off but nothing is done about it, he said.

Organization can have effectiveness but when you are alone you are just a loner. That was why a ratepayer association was needed. Now we have a new government, passing plenty of legislation and the public without organization has no say at all in what is taking place, he added.

After seating the executive appointed so far it was decided that meetings would be held on the third Thursday of each month with the next meeting falling on Feb. 21.

Three members of Gibsons council attended, Mayor Larry Labonte, Ald. William Laing and Ald. Hoehne. The mayor congratulated the audience for getting ahead with organization.

The new chairman said it was the purpose of an association to inform council of its problems. There should be 100 persons in the hall he added. He hoped the association would be able to do something while he was chairman.

Lorne Blain inquired about the park situation and Mayor Labonte said he hoped the recreation committee would be doing something with Brothers Memorial Park and that a park be established in the lower part of town. He urged the meeting not to expect too many trees this year as it will take two or three years before anything could happen.

The chairman pointed out the populace had the waterfront problem, senior citizen problems, future water and sewer problems and others to contend with during the next year.

Larger Rescue truck wanted

Fire Chief Dick Rannager in his annual report to Gibsons Council and to the Regional District board recorded less structural fires than in the last two years but a heavier damage total because of the Elphinstone school $1,500,000 fire.

Grass and bush fires were showing an increase but he hoped that with a longer fire season and local permit control there should be a reduction.

The inhalator rescue truck conveyed 15 persons to St. Mary's hospital. He added some consideration should be given towards obtaining a larger truck. Additional training and equipment have contributed to a very efficient life saving service.

The report showed 19 fires, six structural, four chimney and nine grass, bush and miscellaneous. Inhalator and auto accident calls numbered 14.

There were 369 calls over the emergency phone with 254 being wrong numbers or nuisance calls.

The fire hydrant situation showed improvement with three added in the village and one in the Regional District area.

There are 27 men in the fire department who tallied a total of 3,704 hours broken down into 820 hours at fires, 133 hours in rescue work, 61 hours on inspections, 1,591 hours in practices, 620 hours for administration work plus 480 hours on special training, fire prevention and public relations.

Under the Fire Marshals act there were 35 inspections, and one charge laid which is still pending.

Menu contest announced

Provincial Secretary Hon. Ernest Hall, has announced a menu planning contest open to professionals in the food business, home economics or cooking school students and their teachers who are resident in British Columbia.

Entries will be divided into two groups for judging. Professionals in the food business, including cooking and home economics teachers, will compete in one group. Home economics and cooking school students will be judged in the other group.

Mr. Hall says the competition is designed to help obtain a selection of interesting and creative luncheon and dinner menus, so that the government can promote the preparation and enjoyment of a wide variety of British Columbia foods. 'We produce some of the finest foods,' Mr. Hall said. 'We want to encourage professional meal planners to think British Columbia when they are making up their menus. If the thousands of tourists who visit us each year go home and talk about our wonderful food we'll have more visitors and possibly even increase our exports.'

Assisting Mr. Hall in this project is M.L.A. Rosemary Brown. The competition seeks spring, summer, and fall winter luncheon menus which can be prepared for $4.50 or less and for $5.75 or less; and dinner menus that can be prepared for $6.50 or less, and $8.00 or less. Judging will be on the basis of over-all appetite appeal, variety of British Columbia foods used, appropriateness for the season, imagination and creativity.

A total of $4,800 and certificates will be awarded as prizes. The winner from each of the two groups in each of the six categories will be awarded $250 and a gold certificate. The 12 second prize winners will receive $100 and a silver certificate. Bronze certificates and $50 will go to the third prize winners.

Co-op meeting passes dividend

Elphinstone Co-operative association of Gibsons at its annual meeting Jan. 23 in the United Church Hall announced a three percent dividend for members.

There were 25 persons at the meeting and it was announced by Fred Holland, president, that 25 new members were added during the year. Two employees who had resigned after 25 or more years with the store were presented on retirement some months ago with gold watches. They were Jimmy Haining and Dora Benn.

Three were nominated to fill two vacancies on the board. The election resulted in Fred Holland and Eric Inglis being re-elected. Fire Chief Dick Ranniger was third man out.

The meeting after reviewing the financial situation decided the store's produce department would be brought up-to-date in order to accommodate customer requirements. The hamper door prize was won by Helen Shoebottom.

TOPS MEETING

A meeting of TOPS No. 578 was held on Jan. 24 with nine KOPS and 25 TOPS present, with a weight loss of 10¼ pounds. Meetings are held Thursdays at 1:30 p.m. at the Lower Floor of Health Centre, Gibsons.

Mothers' March door-to-door to aid helpless

Locally Kinsmen Rehab are helping two persons in the Gibsons area. Anyone knowing of any person who could avail themselves of the found ations' services please contact Haig Maxwell at Western Drugs.

Bart Duteau (886-7148) is the chairman of this years Mothers March. So far he reports he has recruited 30 Marching Mothers and concerned teenagers. There is a need of at least 14 more marchers to cover the Gibsons area which includes Granthams, Hopkins, Langdale and Roberts Creek.

In Sechelt area, Mrs Wilma Stephanson (885-2192) reports a tremendous need for marchers. At the present time she has 8 volunteers. On Wed., Jan. 30 at 12 noon there will be a slide presentation at the old Sechelt Legion hall showing how the money collected by the canvassing mothers is used.

Mothers' March, originated in the early 1950's with fund raising promotions for the fight against the polio epidemic. Housewives were rallied, behind group captains who led the advance in great numbers for the one night blitzes on their communities.

Mothers' Marches throughout North America have been credited with making possible the intensive research which led to the discovery of Salk vaccine in 1955 and the defeat of the polio epidemic.

The first Mothers' March in B.C. was organized by the Kinsmen Club of Vancouver in 1953. Within a few years the fund raising method was adopted by many of the Kinsmen Clubs in the province who had been actively supporting the fight-polio cause as far back as 1944.

Freedom debated

The Round Table idea of discussion was practiced Monday night at the first monthly meeting of the AOTS club in Gibsons United Church hall.

This club, for men, attracted 14 persons. A dinner prepared by UCW members was served by juvenile table attendants.

The subject for discussion after dishes were cleared was Freedom. Andy Randall, introduced by Ed Burritt spoke on his experiences during peace and war which made freedom more than just a word. Argument followed resulting in varied expressions of what freedom meant. The next meeting will be held Feb. 28.

School board secretary plans to retire Aug. 31

J.S. Metzler, secretary treasurer of the school district has decided to retire and live in Gibsons. He made the official announcement at last week's school board meeting. His letter of resignation follows:

'It is with very real regret that I confirm the previous verbal notice of my intention to take early retirement. In my opinion now is the time of decision as changes are occurring in the educational system which favour the attention of a younger individual, someone who can develop new ideas and grow up with changes, as I was privileged to do under the old system.

'With your approval the effective date of my retirement would be August 31, and my last day of work July 31. This early notice will allow the board ample time to find a replacement, ensure that details relating to the building program will have been completed and, hopefully, not leave too many loose ends for my successor.

'Please accept my sincere thanks for the co-operation and encouragement you have given me in carrying out my responsibilities. While last year was probably the busiest and longest in my career I am aware it was also a most trying year for trustees who had to contribute so much of their free time with very little reward, or thanks.

'I will continue to reside in Gibsons and will be available to the Board or my successor if I can be of help. Yours truly, J.S. Metzler.

The school board appointed Mr. Metzler to succeed Peter C. Wilson as secretary-treasurer following Mr. Wilson's resignation.

Mr. Metzler was selected from among 26 applicants and under-went extensive testing by a firm of management consultants prior to being interviewed and appointed by the board. He had been a school district secretary-treasurer for 21 years, including seven years in Princeton, three years in Campbell River and 11 years in his present position as secretary-treasurer of School District No. 75 (Mission). Mr. Metzler well respected in his profession and was a past president of the British Columbia School District Secretary-Treasurers' Association.

Ratepayer power!

The latent power of ratepayers in most communities is a power which if it ever reached the explosive point would shatter the placidness of any type of government, be it federal, provincial or municipal.

The possibilities of such power are shown in the recent remark of Pat Walsh, president of the B.C. School Trustees Association. He pointed out to Hon. Eileen Dailly, minister of education, that while she appears to be devoted to the cause of the teachers in the matter of salary negotiations, to the exclusion of the school trustees association, she should remember that the trustees represent the taxpayers who are a much greater political force than teachers.

If the entire ratepayer strength coverged on the Hon. Mrs. Dailly she would most certainly be forced to reconsider the position of her relations between teachers and ratepayers, who are beginning to take notice of what is going on in the field of education.

This editorial is not written in defence of Mrs. Dailly or of the ratepayers. It is pointing out that there is a ratepayer bloc which can be aroused and the sooner the better.

Gibsons now has a ratepayer association. It was formed last week by 25 people who assembled in the United Church hall. Forming an association is one thing but making it a potent force in the community is another. It is not necessary that an association of this type should continually bombard authorities with a mass of unanswerable questions. Exploration of conditions would be better.

The 1974 Gibsons ratepayer has a lot to look forward to and not all of it is likely to leave the taxpayer in a happy frame of mind. This being the situation why not strive to find out why instead of ranting against a council, school board or any other government which finds itself in a position where there is only one way to go. That one way, in 1974, is to battle continually rising costs in the best manner they can.

Gibsons has for the next two years a council which is more open-minded than what we have had over the last few years. It is comletely divorced from the real estate aura, therefore its decisions can be more clear-cut. This will be a great help.

Now what is required is a ratepayer association which will attract the ratepayer to come and find out what makes the municipal system tick. There is a great deal to be learned and it should be tempered with the fact that the municipal council, school board and the Regional District board are made up of men and women who are ratepayers just like you.

They are doing a job which warrants better pay than they are getting. Time occupied by the work they do plus the responsibility they must assume for the benefit of the taxpayer, is invariably overlooked.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, the power of running a well-organized municipality really is up to you. Why not get out and attend a once-a-month meeting and find out what kind of authorities you have elected to look after your interests.

Women will work

It seems strange that in an economy with reasonably high unemloyment among the male force that mining companies in Canada are developing a field in their industry for women. Not only that but mining companies are attracting married couples so the man and wife can work within the industry. Right now women are driving 100 ton trucks. One company has 44 applications from single women and 60 from married couples.

One company is negotiating with the Quebec government to establish rules permitting women to work in mines ranging from truck driver to janitor. One British Columbia company is considering hiring women to work in its mill. In Quebec women may soon become union members. It would appear that a willingness to work is a greater factor among women than men.

Progressive education?

The recent rebellious attitude of students in Canadian public schools, the forthright statements of Alberta public and private school trustees, would indicate a new hardening of attitude on the part of school boards against the present frustrating and liberal policies of provincial education departments.

The elimination of moral training from our public schools began with the movement known as 'progressive education.' This was a general term dealing with educational theories and had as its founder and advocate John Dewey, who won many disciples and resulted in the elimination of school standards, values and discipline.

In essence, the Dewey theory means there is no such thing as right and wrong, there are no absolutes, discipline must give way to permissiveness, elimination of students competing against one another in the area of academics, and standards of conduct and achievement replaced by 'life adjustment' education.

All this means that no matter how disorderly the classroom, no matter how decadent community morals or irreligious its atmosphere, the chief purpose of education is to accommodate the child to the group.

The easiest way to see how moral training has been taken away from education is to compare the old McGuffy readers with todays elementary school readers.

The McGuffey text book taught the time honored virtues of respect for parents, school and teachers, love of God, patriotism, thrift, honesty and where there is a will there is a way of accomplishment.

The reader advocated everlasting employment of the Golden Rule, courage, manliness, kindness to the less fortunate, obedience to parents, the consequences of idleness and truancy and lastly that breaking the law never paid off.

The McGuffey text also taught an appreciation of literature, poetry, geography, social science, civics and history.

British Columbians who have watched their sons and daughters progress from kindergarten to secondary school have noted the many changes in as many years the policies handed down from Victoria under the umbrella of progressive and liberal education; changes in curriculum; more freedom and time in a days' school schedule and the frustrations of the student in coping with everlasting and ever-changing educational philosophies and curriculum.

Somewhere between McGuffey and the modern day education will be found the answer which will bring stabilization in B.C. education and at a cost the taxpayers can handle, all resulting in the graduation of all round and prepared students.

Lately Alberta daily newspapers carried page one stories in which school trustees call for a new deal in education.

John Boras, Lethbridge separate school trustee said 'the time has now come when school trustees must begin to fight for the power they had in the past in order to return control of education to the people.

'Trustees are now lost little people on the bottom of the totem pole in an educational system that is controlled by the department of education and teacher's federation.'

He blamed the present situation on an apathetic public and school trustees for not taking a firmer stand years ago to make the government aware they should have a voice in the educational policy of children.

The spokesman pointed out trustees and public were led to believe by educators 'that good education is the direct result of having qualified and high paid professional teachers. I have come to the sad conclusion that this is a forlorn hope and that teaching must be more than a good salary.'

The statement concluded: '. . . . education is not just to find and educate people for an occupation. It is to help find a way of life.'

The present and questionable overhaul and review in Minister Eileen Dailly's educational department to come up with some basic philosophy of education, borders on the elaborate and futile with nobody benefitting and the child in the school a possible victim of circumstances.

But a gleam of hope was announced last week when Mrs. Dailly formed a group of school trustees, teachers and civil servants to come up with some answers by the end of January. Again the theory sounds good as long as the agenda is strictly education and benefits - not petty jealousies and salary problems. - Creston Review

TAURUS - April 21 - May 21
Your business sense is very sharp right now, but watch out for legal entanglements that involve your partner or business associates Things can be rather 'high strung' at the present.

Elocution teacher buried

At 12 noon Saturday, relatives and many friends paid their final respects to Mrs. Hazel Irene Critchell, nee McArthur, formerly of Vancouver and Davis Bay, who died Sunday, Jan. 20 in Surrey at the age of 74.

The service was conducted by Rev. David Brown at the Harvey Funeral Home, followed by burial in the Seaview Cemetery family plot.

Mrs. Critchell, a woman of artistic attainments, was a well known figure in west coast entertainment circles, as a teacher of elocution, a drama coach and active member of Vancouver Little Theatre. She counted many gold medalists in her elocution classes, and was a well qualified professional teacher as a graduate of A.T.C.L. Eng.

Among her many pupils now performers on stage, concert, radio and television are Don Frankes, CBC actor and former radio announcer.

Mrs. Critchell was a native of New Brunswick and the last surviving member of the older generation of the McArthur clan in that east coast early childhood in Vancouver area. She was brought up from and pre-deceased by her first husband, Ernest Walker in 1949, her son Ernest died in 1950 at Davis Bay and her second husband, George Critchell four years ago. Following his death, Mrs. Critchell who had been a resident of Davis Bay for 20 years, retired to Vancouver.

She was a member of Sechelt Garden Club, and Sunshine Rebekah Lodge No 82. Members of the Lodge conferred the last rites of that organization at the graveside. Mrs. Critchell is survived by a niece (Mrs. Don Hauka), who was a member of one of her earlier elocution classes. A nephew, Arthur McArthur came from London, Ontario for the funeral.

Mrs. Critchell lived to attain her heart's desire two years ago, a long hoped-for visit to Shakespeare's England.

The fact is, unless more people arrange for their insurance right away, we simply won't be able to handle everyone later.

That's why we're worried

And, unless you already have your Autoplan insurance, you should be worried too.

Versatile Lamb

According to consumption figures published by Statistics Canada, Canadian women are neglecting a delicious, lean, tender, juicy meat which makes a versatile alternative to beef in the family diet. The meat is lamb.

Each year the average Canadian eats some 165 lbs. of red meat, but only about three lbs. of this is lamb.

In the past, this was understandable since relatively little lamb is produced in Canada, and it is only available for a few weeks each year. In recent years, however, this problem has disappeared with the year round availability of Spring Lamb from New Zealand.

Recognizing that Canadian women are not entirely familiar with the multitude of dishes which may be simply prepared with lamb, the New Zealand Meat Producers Board has produced a beautifully illustrated, full color 36 page cookbook. The book is free and post-free. Just write to the New Zealand Lamb Information Centre at 36 Toronto Street, Toronto, Ontario.

Irish Stew

2 lbs. lamb shoulder cut in 1" cubes
2½ cups water
2 beef bouillon cubes
1¼ tspn. salt
¼ tspn. pepper
¼ tspn. ground thyme
½ cup sliced celery and leaves
3 medium carrots, quartered
1 small green pepper, sliced
6 medium onions, peeled
6 medium potatoes, peeled
2 cups or 12oz. pkg. frozen peas
3tblsp. chopped parsley
3 tblsp. flour
½ cup water

Trim fat from lamb, place in large saucepan; add water, bouillon cubes, salt, pepper, thyme and celery; cover tightly and simmer 1½ hours, stirring occasionally. Add vegetables; simmer 45 minutes or until tender. Add parsley. Combine flour and ½ cup water; mix to a smooth paste; stir gently into broth. Makes 6 servings.

Touch-of-Dill Lamb Chops

4 lamb chops (½-inch thick)
1 tblsp. shortening
1 10 oz. cream of celery soup
½ cup water
1 tspn. dill seed

Brown chops in shortening. Add soup, water, dill seed. Blend well; simmer 35 to 40 minutes, stirring occasionally until chops are tender.

New Peterson book artistic

A rather unusual book, Poems and Sonnets by Lester R. Peterson has just made its appearance from the Coast News press.

The unusual element arises from the illustrations, which were created by students of Elphinstone Secondary school.

Lloyd and Robert Barnes during their last year of school began the project. These artistic twins took home poems to study for imagery. Each would then depict in India ink something of what he saw in his inner mind.

Where Lloyd and Robert left off, Joka Zuidema, then only 14 years old, continued the work. Drawing on her own unique imagination, Joka illustrated poem after poem.

When Joka transferred to Pender Harbor Secondary school at the end of her grade nine year, Pam Sommerfield undertook to add her inner vision to the few more poems needed to complete a booklet of about 50 pages.

Neither author or illustrators presume to say to what extent a generation gap may have herein been bridged. Perhaps though, it is safe to say that sometimes at least poetry needs no bridge.

Area study on health continues

Since the first meeting of the Sunshine Coast Co-ordination Committee for Health and Human Resources (SCCC-HHR), last July 10, many concerned citizens on the Sunshine Coast have been devoting time to a study of area health care and related problems.

The committee represents all local agencies and professional groups that are concerned with health problems. The overall objective is to improve the quality of living for many persons in our community. There are agencies here who are very active in the task of helping others, but there is still a lack of many services that may be provided through SCCCHHR.

The committee plans to examine the need for services to provide transportation for older citizens to keep hospital and doctor's appointments, a senior citizen drop-in centre, Big Brother services, homemakers, day care centres, meals on wheels, mental health assistance, and a guidance service for young people.

SCCCHHR is already engaged in establishing an information and counselling centre. There are many such centres in our province which are being staffed by trained volunteer and by professionals. The department of health is interested in the creation of this co-ordination committee and is prepared to assist in financing.

SATELLITE CROP SURVEYS

Satellites orbiting hundreds of miles above the fields may replace teams of government workers, farmers and elevator agents who must call or drive from farm to farm to estimate the size of maturing crops. The satellites may provide earlier acreage estimates for the Canadian Wheat Board and may one day be able to measure the extent of drought, and frost damage.

Let us show you how to defer your income tax.

Do you want to pay less income tax for 1973? Of course you do! Then why not take a few moments to drop in and talk about Registered Retirment Savings Plans.

Here's how they work. Under the present income tax regulations you are entitled to set aside a tax-deferrable amount for your retirement years. This amount is 20% of your earned income up to a maximum of $2,500 for people who already participate in a company pension plan and up to $4,000 for self-employed people.

These tax deferrals, together with any income and capital gains they earn, don't become taxable until you withdraw them; and if you wait until you retire, chances are your tax rate will be lower than it is now.

So you defer income tax today and you build a nest egg for tomorrow.

We can help you chart your R.R.S.P. program. Don't let this opportunity slip by. Your plan must be registered before the end of February to qualify for your 1973 tax deferral. Drop in and see us soon.

BAHA'I

A NEW MAN

The organic unity of the world necessarily goes hand-in-hand with the spiritual unity of the entire human race. This new civilization can be built upon a universal unity only by a new sort of man. The failure to recognize this fundamental concept is the reason for the disintegration of all the systems, projects and doctrines of the past.

The Baha'i teachings speak not only to the spirit of man, but also to the heart, acting as the sun and rain upon the full blossoming of Spring.

"O Son of Spirit! Noble have I created thee, yet thou hast abased thyself. Rise then unto that for which thou wast created.

"O Son of Being! Thy heart is My home; sanctify it for My descent. Thy spirit is My place of revelaton; cleanse it for My manifestation."

BAHA'U'LLAH.

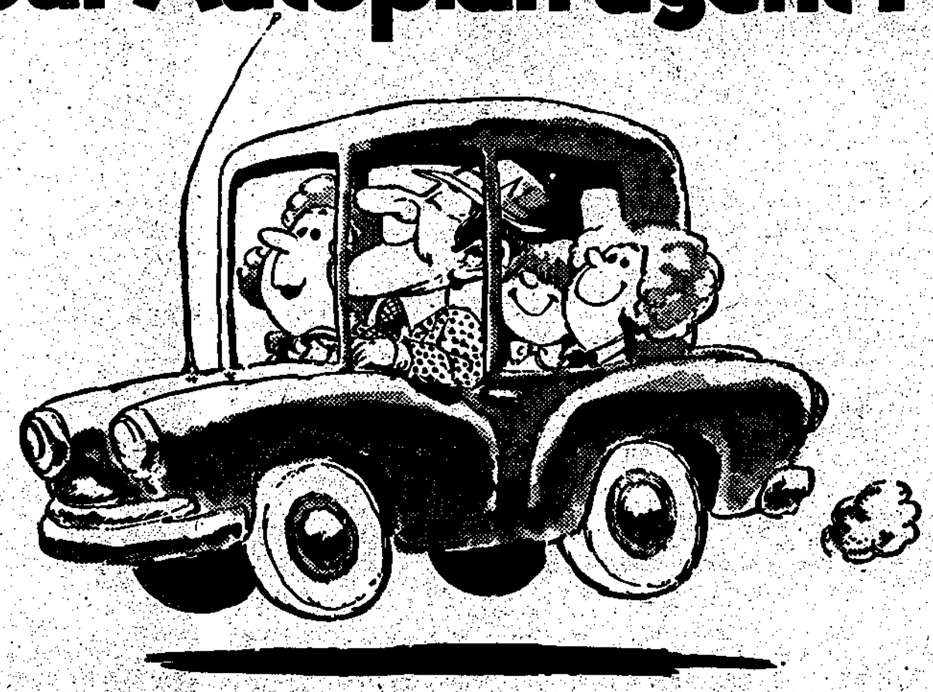
Get off to a good start. See your Autoplan agent NOW!



To operate your car after February 28, it will need to be covered by Autoplan, your new B.C. auto insurance.

This insurance is now available from nearly 1,000 Autoplan agents throughout B.C....provincial Motor Vehicle Licence Offices and independent insurance agents authorized by the Insurance Corporation of B.C.

Even with all these Autoplan outlets, you could still run into frustrating line-ups and delays if you wait until the deadline draws near. Your best bet is to do it right away!

By now, you should have received your Autoplan application forms in the mail, one for each motor vehicle and trailer you own. Take each vehicle form to your Autoplan agent right away. With the computer printed information on them, together with a few facts from you, he can quickly calculate your basic premium, advise you on optional extensions, and supply your 1974 vehicle registration cards and licence plates or decals. He can also arrange time payments for your insurance premium, if you wish. If there is any incorrect information printed on your form, your Autoplan agent can make the necessary corrections.

If, for any reason, you have not received an Autoplan application form for each vehicle you own, just take your last year's motor vehicle registrations or licence transfer certificates to your Autoplan agent. He'll see that you get the coverage you need.

It is possible to obtain Autoplan insurance on some types of vehicles by mail. This is explained in the booklet that accompanies each Autoplan form. But mailed applications must be sent in by February 1st to ensure you are covered by March 1st.

It is important that you act now. Your Autoplan agent is ready and able to provide you with valuable assistance at no extra cost to you. But he will be pressed for time as March 1st approaches. See him early and avoid the last-minute rush.

Point of Law

(By a Practicing Lawyer Copyright)

Q. I am the landlord under a lease of commercial property for three years at $300.00 per month. The tenant paid for four months. He has some furniture on the premises. He wants to pay me six months rent as a full settlement and move out. Can he do this? What can I do? Can I forceably eject him? How do I get my rent?

A. You have a number of alternate remedies here. You can seize the furniture for back rent. It would be best to employ a bailiff whose charges would be added on . You cannot eject the tenant. If you want him out you can commence eviction proceedings by court action. This can be done in one of two ways - either with a view of collecting the rent and forcing the tenant out, or with a view of collecting the rent and allowing him to stay on.

You can sue him by an ordinary lawsuit for arrears of payments under the lease and continue to do so as future rent falls into arrears. The tenant has no right to insist that you accept six month's rent - or any less than the full amount owing under the lease. If the tenant is evicted or leaves and as long as he pays the rent or you collect it by suing you cannot re-rent

You should, however, consider allowing him to 'break the lease' by agreeing to accept a mutually agreeable sum in full settlement. You may then immediately re-rent to a new tenant. Perhaps you could re-rent for a higher rent. You cannot collect 'double rent',

Your income tax!

Q. Regarding the tax on capital gains, what if property was acquired before Jan. 1, 1972, at a cost of $2,000 and was worth only $1,000 on Valuation Day. If later this property was sold for $2,500, will the capital gain in this case be $500 or $1,500?

A. In this example the capital gain would be $500, the actual gain over the period of ownership, one half of which would be taxable.

Q. How would I be affected if I acquired an investment before Jan. 1, 1972, at a cost of $800, the fair market value of the investment on Valuation Day is $400 and I sell the investment at a later date for $300. Do I have a capital loss of $500 or $100?

A. In this case you would have a capital loss of $100, the difference between the fair market value on Valuation Day and your actual selling price, one-half of which, or $50 would be deductible from income.

Q. What is the general rule as far as capital gains or losses are concerned? How are such gains or losses accounted for by a taxpayer?

A. The general rule is that one-half of capital gains are included in income and taxed at a person's normal rate of tax. When dealing with capital losses, one-half of such losses may be deducted against one-half of capital gains. In addition an individual taxpayer may also deduct up to $1,000 of capitol losses against other income.
