Dramatic Club's First Performance

It has been definitely decided to present the first effort of the Creston Dramatic Club on Easter Monday. This will be given in the Opera House and it goes without saying that a bumper house will result. The play is a three act comedy, entitled "Arabian Nights," and it will take two hours and a half to get through with it. The proceeds of the first performance will be devoted to defraying the present and future expenses of the club, and all later performances will be in aid of some worthy local object. The cast, which has been somewhat amended, is now as follows:

- Arthur Hummingtop (very much married) J. J. Albertson
- Ralph Ormerod (Hummingtop's friend) R. Pemberton
- Joshua Gillbrand (Mrs. Gillbrand's Son) W. J. Albertson
- Dobson (Hummingtop's Man-Servant) R. O. Fitzgerald
- Mrs. Hummingtop (Hummingtop's Wife) Mrs. Darbyshire
- Mrs. Gillbrand (Mrs. Hummingtop's Mother) Mrs. McPeak
- Rosa Columbar (an acrobatic artist) Mrs. E. Fitzgerald
- Daisy Maltland (Hummingtop's ward) Miss M. Moore
- Barbara (Hummingtop's servant) Miss E. Leamy

We Lead--Others Follow

At a meeting of the directors of the Kootenay Fruitgrowers' association held on Friday, plans for the disposal of the season's crop were further considered and decided upon. An offer made by the Kootenay Jam factory, Ltd., which was considerably in advance of the price paid for berries last year, was also brought forward and discussed. The plans as formulated by the directors will be brought before a general public meeting of the association to be held on Friday next, March 20.

Eastertide.

The Rev. Prof. Kilpatrick, D.D., of Knox College, Toronto, is expected in Creston, in connection with the Evangelical campaign to be held throughout the Kootenays.

His arrival here is announced for Wednesday, April 7th, and he will hold services in the Mercantile Hall, for the awakening and strengthening of Spiritual Life.

Special arrangements are being made to make these services of interest and benefit to all. Everyone is asked to keep these dates open, and to join in welcoming Rev. Prof. Kilpatrick, D.D. to Creston, when he comes.

The Athletic Club members held a general meeting on Tuesday evening last. The by-laws as submitted by the committee were adopted. The question arose as to the advisability of renting the building recently erected by Mr. F. Baast, and it was thought that the offer of Mr. Baast was too high. The Athletic club is particularly desirous of either owning or renting a building wherein an up-to-date gymnasium will in the near future be established.

A Unique Ceremony

On Sunday at the Holy Cross Church, there was conducted a most unique ceremony, at least, for Creston. It was the baptizing of the new church bell for the Catholic church, which was hung the following day. The bell was manufactured by Meneely & Co. of Troy, N.Y. and is a gift of the parishioners and friends of the surrounding towns. It weighs 250 lbs. and is in the key of G.

The bell was blessed on its trunnions in a presence of a fairly good sized congregation. Rev. J. Wagner, O.M.I., gave an interesting discourse on the origin of church bells, and spoke at length on its usefulness and power. Then with an acolyte and a thurifer bearer at each side of him he began the ceremony. The sponsors for the bell were Mesdames C. O. Rodgers and R. Riel and Messrs. F. Baast and J. J. Grady. The bell was named "Anna Rosa," in honor of the two lady sponsors. After a hymn had been sung and the priest had intoned a psalm, the ceremony was at an end.

A collection was then taken up to pay off the indebtedness of the church building, and when the plate was counted up there was $69.85. This, together with the substantial sum netted at the St. Patrick's concert will about clear off all the indebtedness on the church. Creston has a beautiful Catholic church, and the members of that community are very proud of it. It was built only last spring and now it is lavishly embellished in the interior.

Rev. Fr. Wagner wishes to thank all those who helped to make the St. Patrick's Concert so pronounced a success, and he wishes to particularly thank those members of other denominations who worked so hard.

Young George Riel is lying very ill at the home of his mother. We all wish the nipper a speedy recovery.

Geo. Munro has taken advantage of the quiet spell to indulge in a vacation. He left for Enleyon Hot Springs, in company with Teddy Haskins, his private secretary, on Tuesday.

W. F. Teetzell, Nelson, is a visitor to town.

Indians are Bucking

The question now confronting Mr. A. Grigg, who at the Government land sale in October last purchased about seven acres of land at $108 an acre, is whether the improvements upon the land he purchased are or are not his property. It appears that the land under notice was held prior to the government land sale by several Indians, and they built a barn and fenced a portion of the land; but they were apprised of the fact that they had no right to occupy the land and diplomatically they were given marching orders. The Indians, no doubt, felt hard hit at that time and they stood out for permission to remove the building they had constructed. Rather than have any bother with them Mr. Teetzell gave them permission to remove the barn, but at the time of the auction sale nothing was said as to this. We have a distinct recollection ourselves of hearing the land under notice described as improved land by the auctioneer, and naturally the purchaser, according to law, would expect to take everything then on the land.

Mr. Grigg arrived from Rossland a few days ago to begin to get his land in shape for the reception of fruit trees, and after toiling on the ground for several days he was advised by a deputation of redskins that the fence belonged to them and also that the barn was their property. It appears that Mr. Grigg was not apprised of this officially, nor had he any knowledge of anything of the kind.

He parleyed with them for some time, but finding them obdurate, he paid a visit to town to solicit the aid of Mr. J. Wilson, the Government agent here. Mr. Wilson informed him that both Mr. Teetzell and Jas. Schofield would be in town in a few days and that the matter would be settled for all time.

The lot under notice is 51 and immediately adjoins the Indian reserve. Mr. Grigg is of the opinion that as he is to be a neighbor of the Indians he would rather meet them in a friendly spirit than otherwise, but he has enough ginger in him to find out just how the law stands on the matter, and no doubt all will agree with him.

Fruit-inspector Compton is now going his rounds to see that the ranchers are complying with the provincial law as regards spraying their fruit trees. The cleanliness of every orchard in the Creston district should be rigidly enforced without fear or favor. It is too serious a matter for the rising industry to take any chances. Now is the time to spray. Remember, Mr. Fruit Farmer, your trees will be destroyed if you disobey the law. That should be a good reason to get busy; but there is a stronger reason, and that is, the duty you owe to the industry and to your neighbor. One dirty orchard will infect all the others!

Accident to Fred Little

All the friends of "Mayor" Little in town, and those at outside points will learn with regret of an accident that befell him on St. Patrick's night. He had some business to transact with a member of the train crew of a work train, and as he jumped off the train in the dark, his feet struck a tie and he was hurled to the ground. Picking himself up, he felt none the worse at the time for the mishap, and he continued his way and attended the St. Patrick's concert in the Opera House. The next morning he was in bad shape and Dr. Henderson was called in to attend him. He discovered that one of his ribs was fractured. Fred is now resting easily although he has had troubles of his own for the past few days. All will join in our wish that he will be Johnny-on-the-spot speedily.

A meeting of the Creston branch of the East Kootenay Farmers' Institute was held in the Schoolhouse on Saturday evening, and a large number of members put in an appearance. One of the principal matters of importance brought up for discussion was the purchasing direct from the wholesalers a large quantity of "feed." This matter will again be discussed at a meeting that has been called for next Saturday evening at the same place.

Mr. G. R. Northey attended and offered to provide the feed to the institute on a 5% basis over invoice price, and also made a proposition to the members to handle all the fruit and produce of the members of the institute with the exception of the strawberries, which have been guaranteed to a Calgary firm.

Mr. G. R. Northey, representing the firm of the Creston Realty and Timber Co., left on Tuesday's train for Calgary, where he has gone to transact important business for the firm.

Clem Payette has returned from a visit to Nelson. He now sports several new molars.

There was a flutter of excitement among the local sporting fraternity on Friday last, it being brought about by a wager between Ed. Fulljames and C. Merrill, the latter essaying to make a standing jump of 8 ft. 4 ins. The match came off on the cinder track, and a large number of people turned out to witness it. The distance was measured off and Merrill failed in three attempts to clear it. Bob Reid was the referee and the "Review" held the stakes.

Don't overlook the fact that the Creston Mercantile Co. have just received from the manufacturers a full line of the latest patterns of Linoleums. These are from Scotland, and we invite inspection. The price is 60c. per square yard.

The overflow school will be opened on April 1st. A room in the Mercantile Hall has been engaged by the school-trustees.

Sheep Creek Mines

Appropos of the great interest that is now being displayed in the Sheep Creek district, as a result of the recent gold strikes and encouraging reports from the other mines, Mr. R. R. Dennis, one of the four parties who recently bonded the Echo group, has the following to say in a letter to the editor. The communication, whilst being distinctly a personal one, is of such interest on account of the importance of the new mining field, we have no compunction in publishing it. It must be borne in mind that the direct route to the new ground is not excellent, and that directly the Government have fixed up the new trail from this end, the distance from here to the heart of the district will not exceed 25 miles or so. Mr. Dennis says:

"Referring to our conversation of last Thursday morning, I might say that in connection with the bonding of the Echo group of mining property in Summit Creek, that Mr. Maher is now in Spokane closing the deal, along with Mr. Cavanaugh, of Nelson, who is acting on behalf of outside interests. Upon the return of Mr. Maher we hope to begin operations right away, and by the 1st of May we hope to have the trail leading to the property repaired and in good shape for the summer's packing. In view of these negotiations the wagon road under construction will no doubt be pushed ahead, and let us hope that the effect may be similar to that of a railroad entering a new territory. As an old-time resident of this district, I venture to assert that the day is not very far off when Summit will be the hive of mining and ranching industries; it should have been years ago had former projects come to the end intended for them.

"What we now require is the co-operation and support of local ranchers and good business men to help in the good work of developing Summit Creek, either in a mining capacity or ranching. From close observation I am satisfied that we have, almost at our door as it were, a tract of country, which, for richness of soil and climatic advantages compares very favorably with the prairie country of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

"The above-mentioned property adjoins that of Mr. Angus Curry, whose claims are closely related to the famous Bayonne property. The fact of the latter mine being so close should relieve sceptics of all doubt as to the richness of the Echo group, upon which we pin our faith."

Jim McLeod left Tuesday for Calgary, where he will take up a position in Sereth's lumber yard. Mr. McLeod will be greatly missed by many of the boys here. For a long time he was the life and soul of the dances held in town, and for some time acted as master of ceremonies. It was therefore quite in order that his many friends should hold a dance in his honor before he retired from our midst. This was held on Monday night in the Opera House. We echo the wishes of the townspeople when we wish him all the good luck he wishes himself.

The Creston district has made a name for itself. Although it has not yet entered into its own as a great fruit shipping district, yet that time is approaching with ever hastening strides. Enough has been done already to prove the high quality of its strawberries, peaches and apples. All that is now required is the quantity; and that will soon be forthcoming. We have the land, we have the climate, we have the strategic positions for the markets of the claims and the coal fields; and the settlers whose labors will make the whole valley bloom with gardens and orchards are coming every day.

But let no one imagine that fruit growing is the beginning and end of Creston's resources. There is good reason to believe that the day is not very far distant when, through the treasures of its hills, the name of Creston will have the world-wide fame of Johannesburg, Cripple Creek, or Coolgardie. Gold has been in all ages the great magnet to attract the adventurous spirit of mankind. It has been a great obstacle to the progress of the province that up to the present it has contained no great free milling gold mine. In the boom days of '95 there were the most extravagant expectations that a new Rand had been discovered in British Columbia, and the resulting disappointment has done the country endless harm. Great low-grade gold and copper mines—like that of the Granby Company—might be developed, but they can never capture the world's imagination like great free-milling gold property, or attract immigration from the ends of the earth.

The reaction from the boom of '95 has made the British Columbia prospector's lot anything but a happy one. Every one was from Missouri when it came to mining propositions from this province; but the Sheep Creek country is showing the doubting Thomases. It is delivering the goods. Already the coast papers, to which the interior has as much interest as Central Africa, are beginning to sit up and take notice; and there is no doubt that before the summer is over, an army of prospectors will be engaged in searching the hills on Summit and Sheep Creeks, and the surrounding districts; and that the development of the year will initiate another boom that will make Gonganda look like a dirty dence in a clean deck.

Now the point that the Creston people must not overlook is this—that the greater part of the rich mineralized Sheep Creek belt extends over the divide on Summit and Corn Creeks, and is directly tributary to Creston. One group of claims has already been bonded on Summit Creek. The Bayonne, also on Summit Creek, has $550,000 worth of ore opened up on three sides, and there are tales told about the shut-down of this property, which, if true, show great reserves in addition.

There is a tradition among the aborigines, that in the early days a live prospector came over the Dewdney trail to Summit Creek, rigged up an arastra, and in the fall took out four pack horses laden with gold. It is known as a fact that some prospectors still living in this district, found coarse gold in the gravel of Summit Creek. In 1901 "Snoppie Louis" found gold quartz on the mountain between Corn and Summit Creeks, which lies just across the valley from Creston. There were only a few here at the time to make a rush—but rush they did. Similar float was found, but no quartz in place, as the face of the mountain was covered to such a depth with wash that it was a heart breaking task to do stripping except by sluicing. Attempts will be made this spring, when the water is abundant from the melting snow, to sluice as much as possible of the face of this mountain. In the Autumn of 1901 an Indian with his squaw were hunting up on Summit Creek. The Indian died suddenly and his squaw came down and reported it. Four of the tribe then went up to bring down the body, which they found in a bowl shaped basin, and in the hand of the corpse they found a piece of marvellously rich gold quartz. But no white man has ever learned the situation of that basin from that day to this.

Prospectors would act wisely to go in by way of Creston. Pretty much all the available ground on Sheep Creek has already been staked, and the opportunities for newcomers lie on this side of the divide.

What are we going to do about clearing up our streets? The time is opportune.

Winter has gone, and the merry tinkle of the sleigh bell is a thing of the past. The warm sun of the past few days has helped considerably to clear the mud from the streets.

Facts About CRESTON.

Climate

The climate of the Creston district is so mild in winter that seldom does the mercury touch zero, and in summer the weather is very warm which is so beneficial for the cultivation and coloring of fruit. Cool evenings, however, are a persistent factor for the enjoyment of repose. The early springs are very favorable for gardening and budding fruit tree. The autumns are very long and the weather is of an ideal Indian summer. Violets and wild strawberries bloom as late as November.

Soil

The soil is an alluvial clay on a clay sub-soil. This does not apply, however, to the entire valley, as the lower bench lands are of a black vegetable mould, while the land in the vicinity of Erickson is of a sandy character. Four-fifths of the entire valley is free from stones and gravel. The land is practically level and mostly covered with timber. Fine Government roads are plentiful, one being thirteen miles in length. Soil to suit any kind of vegetation may be secured in this valley.

Moisture

Moisture is plentiful, as it rains every month and is sufficient for bountiful crops of every description.

Products

The famous strawberry fields of Creston have outclassed every district in British Columbia this year for production, quality and prices. In addition to this we raise hay and all kinds of vegetables, apples, peaches, pears, plums, cherries, nectarines and grapes as well as all the smaller bush fruits, which grow in abundance

Markets

While there is a splendid local demand for products, the principal markets for the Creston district are the big centres of the Crows' Nest Pass and all cities as far east as Fort William and Chapleau, and as far north as Athabasca Landing. We are absolutely the closest producing point to the markets, therefore we receive higher prices by reason of our products reaching the markets in shorter time and better in condition than can be done by any other district.

Transportation

Creston is well favored in the matter of transportation. The C. P. R. passenger trains call here twice daily, going east and west. The eastbound passenger and express passes through here at 12.1 p.m. therefore allowing berries and fruits to be picked in the forenoon and shipped in a refrigerator car with no further handling of fruit until the markets are reached. The G. N. runs trains into Creston. The railroads pass through the Creston Valley, and fruit may be loaded at eight points along the line.

Progress

The progress of the Fruit Growing Industry of the district has been very rapid. Five years ago there was 150 fruit trees shipped to the Creston district, while in the spring of 1908 about 48,000 were received at this point. There were also several hundred thousands of strawberry plants and berry bushes shipped in. We have a rural telephone system, which will shortly be connected with Nelson and Cranbrook, it being already connected with Spokane. A system for waterworks and also for generating electric power has been installed at Goat River Falls. Electricity will also aid in opening up some of our large mines. We have a good Graded School with an attendance of 65 pupils, two large general stores, gent's furnishings, Canadian Bank of Commerce, photograph gallery, 3 restaurants, 2 hotels, hardware store, tinshop, jewelry store, 2 barber shops, poolroom, 2 laundries, blacksmith, furniture store, tailor, building contractors, harness and saddlery store and two livery stables. The professional men are a doctor and government surveyor.

The social advantages are, Catholic, Anglican, Presbyterian and Methodist churches, several fraternal lodges and three halls.
