INVESTIGATES OFFICIALS' ACTS

P. ASKS FOR OWN INVESTIGATION

B. Shoebotham, Appointee of Atty-Gen. Conducts Case

An investigation as to the methods ployed when on the 17th of August, stice of the Peace H. Weber heard stimonials, behind closed doors, of number of interdicts and several her men supposed to be connected th the obtaining of liquor for the erdicts, as to where the liquor was tained, and as to the manner in hich evidence was obtained by S. Tuck, a supposed secret service n, who took a bottle of whiskey o the cell where the arrested men d been placed, and the way in which nstable Geo. M. Gunn arrested se men, was held in the local court m on Tuesday afternoon by T. B. oebotham of Vancouver, who was ointed by the attorney-general to ke the investigation.

The investigation was made at the uest of George Meade who on the ht the testimonials were taken, s arrested when, he and several nesses say, trying to gain entrance the room to give bail for one of the soners, by Mr. Gunn on the charge disturbing the court, and also by request of Mr. Weber, who apparly believing that he was within the v in his proceedure, desired to have matter cleared up.

With the exception of the arrests the men involved in the "blind pig" e, which Policeman Gunn claims re not done in any out of the y manner, Mr. Weber freely and ndidly assumed the blame for the ole trouble, saying that at that ne he believed that he was right and what was done was wrong, it was mistake, for it was at his order at no one was allowed to enter the urt room, and that Mr. Meade was rested, and that it was in his knowlge that Tuck was put in the cell to ure evidence from the prisoners. . Weber and Mr. Gunn however nied knowing anything about Tuck's e of the whiskey in the cell. Tuck s cleared out, the last being heard him is that he was on the way to Klondike. Mr. Shoebothan said at the use of a secret service man is mmon and is justifiable in such a se as this.

According to a clause in the statutes e public may be excluded from a urt room during trial of certain ses and it was with this in mind r. Weber said, that he heard testionials behind closed doors, fearing at the crowd might influence the stimonials, and also because he had intention of sitting on the case, t was merely taking testimonials der oath with the intention of reusing the prisoners for trial latter. owever, A. Johnson, attorney from elson, who had charge of the case ainst the officers, brought out that is clause refers to a different class cases, and that Mr. Weber had ade a mistake. He then suggested course which the prisoners should have pursued.

John Black, chief of police for the West Kootenay district was here to assist in the investigation but had little to say during the trial.

What the result of the investigation will be is not known. Mr. Shoebotham who heard the case will only make a report of the evidence to his department and he says that this is probably all that Creston will hear of the matter.

Geo. Mead has filed charges at Nelson against Gunn for arresting and assaulting him and he intends to sue for $5000 damages. Mr. Gunn has filed an appearance and the K. C. will handle the case.

Mr. Shoebotham is at the present time engaged in a commission of investigation of all the municipal jails in the province regarding their self-maintenance and their relations with the provincial government. The investigation is for the information of the department of the attorney general. His visit to Creston was due to emergency and was taken up outside of his regular work.

A Night View of the Spokane Interstate Fair

In all the world's history there is no episode more thrilling than Cortes' conquest of Mexico. Prescott's history of this invasion is more fascinating than fiction, and it seems increditable that this little band of Spanish adventurers could invade a populas civilized country, inhabited by men as brave and courageous as the ancient Aztecs and by strategem and pure nerve overthrow the Emperor Montezuma and assume the reins of government themselves. What could make a more gorgeous pageant than a reproduction of this invasion with the Spanish knights in armor, the Aztec Caciques in their gaudy feather costumes and as a background the beautiful capital city of Tenochtitlan, with the volcano Iztaccihuacl overshadowing the weird temples of Mexitli and Huitzilapochtl where grewsome sacrifices were offered to propitiste these grim deities.

The Spokane Fair has taken this subject for the night spectacle to be given every night during the week of Sept. 30, and it promises to eclipse all previous efforts in this line, even though the night show of 1911, "Pioneer Days In the Palouse," drew almost as large an attendance as did the day races. Four hundred performers will take part in this pageant, and it will be staged with absolute accuracy in every historical detail.

The climax of the play, when the Spaniards have finally repulsed the Aztecs and burn the city, is said to be intensely thrilling and is followed by a marvelous display of fireworks, $1,500 worth of glittering pyrotechnics being burned each night.

Other night attractions include band concerts, vaudeville program and three new contests—viz, the log chopping contest, the firemen's tournament and the miners' rock drilling contest, in all of which preliminary entries insure keen competition. The night admission to the fair is only 25 cents and the same at the grand stand, and nowhere else will four bits buy as much amusement.

—FOR SALE—Several fine thoroughbred field spaniel pups to be bought cheap. A bargain. Apply Primrose Wells. 5-3t*

Creston Post Office Too Small

The business at Creston's post office is getting too large for the size of the office and in another year the need for a more roomy office will be very pressing. This, although well known by the users of the office and the post master, is according to a statement made by J. F. Murray of Vancouver, first assistant post office inspector, who was looking over the conditions at the local office last Saturday. Among other things that he mentioned was that E. C. Gibbs kept things at his office in the best of condition; that few offices are to be found in as good shape. "One thing," he said, "that many of the Creston people do is to abuse the privilege of mailing letters on the train. The mail clerks do not have the time to sort a lot of letters on the train; that is the work of the local post master, and the privilege of mailing letters on the train is given only to accomodate important mail which could not be mailed at the office in time for sorting. The train should not be made your post office." He closed his remarks by complimenting the district.

SHIPPING CAR-LOAD EACH DAY

GROWING SHIPPING POINT

Three Cars of Tomatoes This Week, Sent Via Crows Nest

A carload of fruit and vegetables for every day of the week is what is being shipped from Creston at the present time. As a growing and shipping point this district is showing a most remarkable development this year. Although the majority of the ranches are five years old, the Fruit Growers Union is now making its sales in carload lots. By tomorrow evening, this week will have seen the loading of four refrigerator cars, a carload of ripe tomatoes, two carloads of green tomatoes and a car load of apples. The regular amount of daily express averages two carloads a week. This then makes the total amount six carloads for the six days.

D. S. Timmons, the salesman for the Union and Mr. Staples, the secretary are fairly swamped with work, Mr. Timmons is in great demand. When working at a car, a rancher wants him at the storehouse for some boxes or whatnot for the fruit or at the store on other business.

What Creston's standing will be as a growing and shipping point in a few years can now be well estimated. Next year young orchards will be bearing for the first time and the several hundreds of acres of land that were cleared of bush this year will be under cultivation, possibly largely in tomatoes as there seems to be a great demand for them. Mr. Timmons has not been able to get enough this season to fill all his orders.

Sweet corn is something that many may doubt the possibility of its being grown in this district, however it has been grown this summer and not merely enough for home use but hundreds of crates have been shipped east in the Crows Nest. One rancher says his corn paid him two dollars a rod in the row.

The daily express and local freight shipments are made up principally of apples, crabapples, plums, pears, tomatoes, corn, cabbage, squash, citron, beets carrots, turnips, parsnips, celery and potatoes.

To Build New Office Building

R. Lamont will soon build a new two-story office building on the property which is now owned by Mrs. E. E. Johns and son of Calgary but will soon be in the hands of Mr. Lamonts sister, Miss B. Lamont, who now holds an option on the two acres of valuable land north of Creston Realty Companie's office. The office is to have a plate glass front and there will be living rooms on the second floor according to Mr. Lamonts present plans. He will conduct his real estate business in the office room.

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED

May could not repress a smile.

You are always sanguine, she said. In fact, if you were less sanguine, you would hardly be in your present position. I suppose you pin your faith to what old Raffles says. But we need not discuss that. I want to forget all about the past few days. I suppose nobody knows.

Only Harry Fielden, Sir George said thankfully.

And, I suppose, we shall have to regard him as one of the family, though what he is going to live on and how he is going to keep you, goodness knows. I've got nothing.

A smile crossed May's face.

Oh, we are all going to make fortunes out of the colt, she said. If you are so sanguine yourself you must not grudge a little bit of a similar spirit to us. I know that Harry has backed the colt for all he is worth. It is very dreadful and wrong and extravagant, but Harry tells me that this will be the last time. How singular it is that the fortunes of two families should depend upon a horse, but that is the fact and there is no getting away from it. Only think, too, that but for the merest accident the Blenheim colt would never be in the Derby at all. That makes me think our good fortune is to continue. I don't think fate would play us a low-down trick. It is impossible that the colt has been saved only to speed us to ruin at the last. But I don't like to think about it. I shall be in a fever of anxiety from now till May. But I'll try to be calm. I must realize that this is my last bet.

Sir George was content to let it go at that. He was glad to have his daughter back, glad to think that things were no worse. And Fate had been kind to him, for he had preserved his name and reputation. He had lost nothing; indeed, he stood to be in a better position than he had ever yet occupied. For the first time for weeks he was looking forward to his dinner with gusto.

CHAPTER XLII

Things turned out much as Sir George's lawyer had predicted. After several adjourned hearings Copley was committed for trial, together with his associates, and Aaron Phillips had the satisfaction of giving the most damning evidence against the accused. Of Foster nothing whatever had been heard, and it was assumed he had got safely out of the country. Copley's trial was set down to take place in June, and in the meantime some of his creditors had made him a bankrupt. The bubble was pricked. Copley had nothing to gain by carrying on the pretence of being a man of integrity and substance. He stood out now unabashed and unashamed, and refused to give any information about his business affairs. Perhaps he was looking forward to the time a few years hence when on his release from goal he could blackmail Sir George Haredale.

But Sir George had already taken steps to obviate that. He had learnt his lesson and was not likely to put himself in Copley's power again. A proper statement of the relationship between Copley and himself had been rendered by Sir George's lawyer and ample time had been given by the Bankruptcy officials to pay the debt. Therefore Sir George could look forward with easy mind to the momentous event at Epsom.

Everything went smoothly and Raffle pronounced the colt as fit to run for a kingdom. The horse was established in the betting once more and at that moment there were few more popular men in England than Sir George Haredale. He was anxious, of course, for so much depended upon what was to take place between now and next Wednesday, and Harry Fielden was not very far from the spot; indeed, his feelings were like those of Sir George. His whole fortune, too, depended upon the running of the colt. About the only member of the party who was not unduly anxious was Raffle himself. He went about his business with a knowing smile, and refused to discuss even the possibility of defeat.

Bless you, sir, he said to Fielden two days before the race, I can't see what you've got to fret about. The race is in our pockets. It wouldn't do to disappoint the people now, for Epsom is Epsom. But that colt will just win from the start. There ain't going to be any risks because so much depends upon it. And what a story it would make, Mr. Harry, wouldn't it?

Fielden nodded. They were standing in the Blenheim colt's stall admiring the noble animal, which looked fit to race for his life. There was no sign of staleness about him. He was apparently trained to the last ounce and, as Raffles said, his temper was perfect.

He won't mind the crowd and the horses, he said, laying his hand on the colt's glossy neck. I never saw such a tractable animal. And it is a proud day for me to live to see the Blenheim blood doing a big thing like this. I always believed in it, sir, though we had a good many failures. And I wonder what the public would say if they knew everything.

They are not in the least likely to do that, Fielden laughed. I think we were wise to keep the whole thing to ourselves. It is just as well, too, to let the colt run as Sir George's property. At any rate, there's no harm done, and we haven't broken any rules. Besides, it is all in the family. And now, what are your plans for to-morrow, Raffle? If you don't mind, I will go to Epsom with you. Sir George and Miss Haredale can follow on Wednesday morning. I don't want to lose sight of the colt if I can help it. I wish Wednesday was over.

Raffle highly approved the suggestion, so, on the morrow, they went off to Epsom with the colt. They literally slept with it all Tuesday night. The fateful Wednesday dawned without a cloud in the sky, and by noon the Downs were crowded with people.

Children Only

It's a wonderful ride to the Land of Dreams,
Tho' it's funny how short the journey
seems,
For it's ever so far.
The Dream-man warbles his whistle and lo!
You're off—and you're there before you know
Where you really are.
See a little head on the pillow laid
Two eyes with a heavy burden weighed,
That suddenly close.
Two winks—and he's there, and the game's begun—
That nobody knows.
How often we grown-up folks would fain
That the deamland people would build a train
So big as to let Us all embark for the country where
A man can get rid of his load of care,
And, perhaps, forget!

Our Henry, aged 4, was much afraid of dogs. One day his mother, putting on his hat and coat, bade him go out in the yard to play. Returning to the room some time later, she saw the bow standing at the window watching a small dog which was running about the yard in a lively manner, now here, now there, on the steps and on the walk, etc. Knowing this to be the reason he had not gone out she said: Why, Henry, you are not afraid of that little dog, are you?

The child drew a deep breath and said:

Little dog! That little dog! It looks to me as if the yard was full of dogs.

Untold

The sandy haired little man was quite a joker.

He said to the boys in the lobby the other night: I've got the best story you ever heard on the male suffragettes. It's a scream.

Go ahead and tell it, Pinkey, said one of the listeners.

All right, the sandy haired man responded; then he chuckled and looked around. Maybe I'd better ask first if there's any male suffragette in the party.

A big man with thick shoulders, a heavy lower jaw and large, knotted hands, crowded a little closer.

I'm one of 'em, he said. Let's hear the story.

But just at that moment Pinkey fancied he saw a friend over near the big doors and hurried away.

And the scream remains untold.

Irate Father—I'm getting tired of this nonsense. You've been engaged to that young man for six months. Does he ever intend to marry you?

Daughter—You must have patience, papa. Remember, he's an actor.

Irate Father—What has that to do with it?

Daughter—Why, he's fond of long engagements.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literary casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczma. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczma!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

The Lighthouse on Bird Rocks

The life of the lighthouse keeper is a dreary and monotonous one. There are among the many stations along the Canadian Atlantic seaboard a number of isolated and barren places on which it is necessary to maintain lighthouses for the guidance of the mariner. One of them is Bird Rocks, situate about ten miles from Magdalen Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The rock is 140 feet above sea level, of solid red slate and does not possess enough soil to grow a peck of potatoes. It is the haunt of innumerable sea birds and the home of the light-keeper. To reach the top of the rock one has to climb a perpendicular ladder 130 feet in length.

During the month of March last the Halifax steamer Seal, then hunting for seals, observed the flag at the light station half-mast. Captain Farquhar forced the vessel through the hoary ice to the barricade of ice which was between forty and fifty feet high, and on climbing the ladder found the inhabitants—one woman, one young man and a little girl—in deep distress. The lightkeeper's body was in an outhouse. He was drowned two days previously while duck shooting. The Seal took the body to Magdalen Islands for burial and the widow took up the duties of tending the light.

Mrs. Bourque is not likely to see another visitor's face until the government steamer arrives there during the summer with the regular supplies. Hers is a weary vigil, a lonesome life.

Necessary to Go

Yes, I really must go tomorrow.

You can just as well stay till Monday.

But the folks are expecting me.

Telegraph them that you're going to stay.

I'm sorry, but if I stay I'm liable to lose $1,000 on that deal I told you of.

Oh, pshaw, the deal can wait a few days.

My manager has written me that my business needs my attention.

Yes, but he is only afraid to assume a little responsibility. The business will be all right.

There is an important meeting of the directors that I really must attend.

Oh, they'll get along all right without you.

You know how much I'd like stay, but the fact is my railroad ticket runs out tomorrow.

Well, in that case, I suppose you will have to go. Be sure and come up to see us again in a month or two.

The Other View

William M. Chase at the recent sale of his pictures in New York, said to a reporter:

Yes, these are all good things—things collected with great care. You can't comment on them as the teacher once commented on the pupil's drawing. I draw what I see, the pupil said complacently. Well, the shock will come the teacher answered, when you see what you have drawn.

Hold ye' head high when you meet Thouble an' let him pass on, complainin' dat you is too proud to recernize him.

Corporal Mechanics

The motor-'bus snorted slowly along the street, gave three loud groans, and stopped with a jerk right opposite the cab-rank.

The driver got off, hurriedly dived beneath the bonnet, and then, throwing himself on the ground, crawled underneath the 'bus.

After a while he came out again, and, with a confident smile, attempted to restart the engine. But no, the engine wouldn't go.

Then he glared at the silent machine and scratched his head, and his mouth worked as if he communed with himself.

A cabby silently took his whip out of the socket, and, crossing to the infuriated man, held it out to him.

'Ere y'are, mate! he said, with a [illegible] 'It 'im!

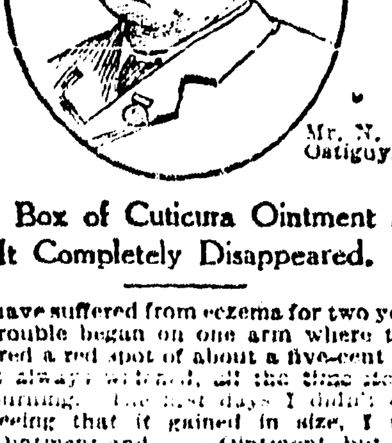
Eczema Always Burning and Itching



Mr. N. Ostiguy.

Used Box of Cuticura Ointment and It Completely Disappeared.

"I have suffered from eczema for two years. The trouble began on one arm where there appeared a red spot of about a five-cent size, and it always itched, all the time itching and burning. The first days I didn't care, but seeing that it gained in size, I tried —— Ointment and —— Ointment, but both without success. It was always burning and itching. Having seen in the newspaper the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies, I tried a little, and seeing that it improved, I bought a box of the Cuticura Ointment. After having used one box, my eczema completely disappeared. The Cuticura Ointment should be kept in every home." (Signed) N. Ostiguy, Marieville, Que., Jan. 14, 1911.

More About The Loading Platform

The present generation of Western farmers will never know the difficulties and vexations experienced by their predecessors in the earlier years when no one could get a carload of grain shipped in bulk except by loading it through an elevator. The system forced the majority of farmers to sell their grain to the elevator owners at arbitrary prices, and oft times to submit to heavy dockage and other annoyances, causing continual dissatisfaction. Now however the distribution of cars as fixed by the Grain Act, and the use of the loading platform, provide facilities which enable the farmer to secure satisfactory treatment in the disposal of his grain, and the highest market prices at time of sale. Every farmer therefore, should more and more endeavor to use the loading platform in shipping his grain to the terminal elevators. It is the safeguard of the farmers' freedom in disposing of his grain to the best advantage for himself. If farmers refrain from using the loading platform freely, it might result in its being done away with, because railway companies and elevator owners are strongly opposed to it. It is easy to understand why elevator people desire the loading platform abolished. The railway people on their part say it delays the loading of cars and helps to cause car shortage. This we know to be nonsense, because frequently after cars are loaded whether with grain, coal lumber or other merchandise, they are sidetracked for days and even weeks instead of being promptly moved forward to destination. It is engine shortage and shortage of competent train men that mostly causes grain blockades on railways and not lack of cars. Let every farmer therefore, do all he can to use the loading platform and become an independent shipper. In subsequent advertisements we will state in detail the savings and other advantages of direct loading into cars compared with loading through elevators.

We handle the farmers grain strictly on commission, make liberal advances on car bills of lading, supervise the grading at time cars are inspected, secure the highest prices at time of sale and make prompt returns when sold. Write us for shipping instructions and market information.

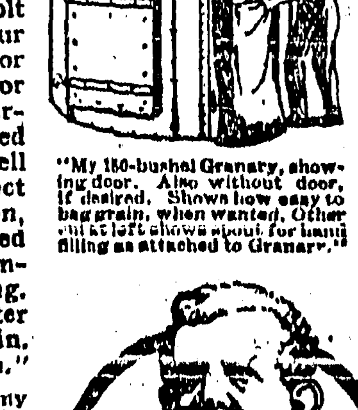
"I Want You to Have My New Portable Granary"

"I have a money-saving invention—handy granaries to allow field threshing over your farm. Move them about each year. You save long hauls at harvest time. In spring you scatter small straw stacks—no burning of straw."



"My 150-bushel Granary, showing door. Also without door, if desired. Shows how easy to bag grain, when wanted. Other cut at left shows spout for hand filling as attached to Granary."

"These granaries come in compact bundles. A boy can set up and bolt one together in a few hours. Four padlocks protect the grain. Separator delivery into a spout on the side or into roof manhole—saves work during threshing. Your grain is protected from vermin, wet and thieves. ¶Sell it when you are ready, loading direct from the granary into your wagon, or bagging it. No musty or heated grain. ¶Get my granary and be independent of elevators for selling. Sell at the highest price, no matter how long you store your grain. The Pedlar Granary protects you."

Many Sizes: 150, 200, 300, 400, 500, 600 and 1,000 Imperial Bushels. Full Measure Guaranteed.

A Soft Answer

John P. Irish spoke in California against woman suffrage. One night after a meeting in Sacramento a militant suffragette came up to him and said in stern, cruel tones:

John P. Irish, you're a lowdown liar! The truth isn't in you.

Madam, Irish rejoined, is it so bad as that? Wouldn't you believe anything I say?

Not a thing. I wouldn't believe a word you utter. You can't tell the truth!

In that case, replied Irish, permit me to say, madam, that you are a perfect lady.

LETTER-HEAD SWINDLERS

Warnings to Tradesmen and Others

The up-to-date swindler has to be something of a student of human nature. And one of the human weaknesses that he has discovered and made use of is the unreasoning confidence placed by the average business man in an imposing letter-head, especially if the letter-head is that of a firm of known respectability. One is apt to forget that a letter-head is an extremely easy thing to forge, with the result that one rarely suspects that the letter was not written by the firm whose name is printed on the note paper.

Of course, the letter-head swindler is not so clumsy as to walk into a printer's and order the name of a firm to be printed on note-paper. The chances of detection would be too great. He goes to work much more subtly.

He obtains, by any of a dozen different ways the letter-head of a business concern. This he takes to a printer in the neighborhood, and asks him to set up a proof of the letter-head. If satisfactory the printer is to receive a good order.

In due time he calls for the proof, expresses satisfaction, but states that before giving the order, he must take it back to the governor.

He has now a clean piece of paper inscribed with the name of a reputable firm. He immediately writes upon it an order to another firm in the same line of business, stating that the goods are required in a hurry, and that our representative will call for them at a certain time.

Before there is time for correspondence he calls, and, stating that he has come for the goods referred to in the letter, coolly takes them away and leaves his victim to find perhaps some three months later, when an account is presented, that he has been duped, and that the firm to whom the goods were supposed to have been supplied have never even heard of the transaction.

When he is dealing with heavy and valuable goods this swindler, true to the principle that thoroughness pays, will frequently present himself with a cart which he has hired, and upon which he has invested a few shillings' worth of paint. And when the victim sees a substantial cart, with the name of his supposed customer on it, he is less likely than ever to request cash with order.

Another dodge of the letter-head swindler is to use this device as a means for persuading tradesmen to cash worthless cheques. He will loaf about small districts and note the names of the tradesmen's carts that deliver goods.

He will then have expensive note-paper headed with the name of one or more houses. On this he will write a request to the tradesman to cash a small cheque for my friend Mr. Cheatem. Armed with this, he will dress himself well, lounge into the shop in the earlier part of the morning, explain that he is staying at the particular house, drawl an excuse for being suddenly short of cash, and in most cases obtain money for his worthless cheque.

It is more than probable that the tradesman will not carry in his head an accurate recollection of his customer's handwriting. He may never have seen it, as these bills are usually paid in coin. But if it happens that he does notice the handwriting the swindler is perfectly prepared.

The swindler will immediately explain that the lady of the house is indisposed and that it is the handwriting of her sister who is staying with her. However, if the tradesman would prefer it, he could doubtless obtain the lady's own written request, though he would have to send it into her bedroom; and, as he wants the money at once, he would be very greatly obliged if the tradesman could manage to send a man back with him to the house with the money, to be handed over when the man is satisfied.

This impudent bluff generally does the trick. The tradesman will not make trouble, even if he still suspects. He might possibly refuse, or send the man as requested, in which case the swindler would contrive to give him the slip.

Brave Marmaduke

Darling! The young man's tones were low and impassioned as he knelt at the fair girl's feet and pleaded with her. I would do anything for you, he vowed! For you I would give up all I have in the world; for you I would journey out to the ends of the earth; for you I would even lay down life itself, and count myself honored!

The maid cast down her eyes.

Marmaduke, she replied, in dulcet accents, if you would do all that for me, perhaps for my sake you would do one little thing more.

Yes, yes, he raved, his voice thick with love; only tell me, beloved—tell me your command, and I will fulfill it, though the whole world be against me!

The maid looked at him pretty straight.

Then would you kindly take your left knee off my right foot? she said calmly. You're kneeling on my favorite corn.

A Railway Expert

A Scotsman who had been employed nearly all his life in the building of railways in the Highlands of Scotland, went to the United States in his later years and settled in a new section on the plains of the Far West. Soon after his arrival a project came up in his new home for the construction of a railway through the district, and the Scotsman was applied to as a man of experience in such matters.

Hoot, mon, said he to the spokesman of the scheme, ye canna build a railway across this country.

Why not, Mr. Ferguson?

Why not? he repeated, with an air of effectually settling the whole matter. Why not? And dinna ye see the country's as flat as a floor, and ye hae nae place whatever to run your toonnels through!

SPARKLING WATER, cool and sweet, refreshes the farmer who builds a

Concrete Well or Tank

THE FARMER, above all others, appreciates good water. He drinks more water than the city man. The city-dweller is dependent upon the public water-supply for the purity of his water, while the farmer can have his own private source of water, and thus be sure that it is pure and healthful.

MAN hasn't found a better drink than cool water, properly collected and stored. But in order to keep water fresh and pure, a tank or well casing that will keep out every possible impurity must be used.

CONCRETE IS THE IDEAL MATERIAL FOR TANKS AND WELL-CASINGS.

IT is absolutely water-tight, protecting your water from seepage of all kinds. It cannot rot or crumble. It is easily cleaned inside. Time and water, instead of causing it to decay, actually make it stronger.

THERE are scores of other uses for concrete on your farm—on every farm. If you would like to know of them, write for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." The book is absolutely free.

OUR Farmers' Information Department will help you to decide how to build anything, from a porch-step to a silo. The service is free—you don't even have to promise to build. When in doubt ask the Information Department.

Doctor Recommends Postum from Personal Test.

No one is better able to realize the injurious action of caffeine—the drug in coffee—on the heart, than the doctor. Tea is just as harmful as coffee because it, too, contains the drug caffeine.

When the doctor himself has been relieved by simply leaving off coffee and using Postum he can refer with full conviction to his own case.

A Mo. physician prescribes Postum for many of his patients because he was benefited by it. He says:

"I wish to add my testimony in regard to that excellent preparation—Postum. I have had functional or nervous heart troubles for over 15 years, and a part of the time was unable to attend to my business.

"I was a moderate user of coffee and did not think drinking it hurt me. But on stopping it and using Postum instead, my heart has got all right, and I ascribe it to the change from coffee to Postum.

"I am prescribing it now in cases of sickness, especially when coffee does not agree, or affects the heart, nerves or stomach.

"When made right it has a much better flavour than coffee, and is a vital sustainer of the system. I shall continue to recommend it to our people, and I have my own case to refer to." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Oh, yes, Tommy knew that! His answer was swift.

It is a little late to write about thistles but the gust of wind we experienced a few days ago forcefully brought to mind that are such weeds still in existance. Thistle-down filled the air almost like snow in a biizzard.

If everyone would be particular in obeying the laws of the province pertaining to this pest, it would seem that the nuisance could be done away with, but when the plants are allowed to go to seed as many evidently have this year, in succeeding years the fight for a thistless country becomes more difficult.

A thick layer of rotton straw will kill a patch of thistles. Sprinkling the weeds with kerosene from a watering can on a sunny day, taking care that the leaves are well oiled, is another method advocated. This may not prevent your neighbors thistles from going to seed and running into your orchard, but it will prevent your thistles from spreading to other parts of your ranch and to your neighbor's orchard.

A little care by everybody in this matter in one year will mean that less time will have to be devoted to the pest the next year, and the time may then be used more profitably.

Fine clothes sometimes cover a multitude of sins. Sometimes fruit wrapping papers are made to serve the same purpose but the purchaser knows where not to buy his next supply of fruit.

Conserve the Man On The Farm

Among all the ideas that have been advanced about conservation, none seem to have included the most important of them all. The man himself is vastly more important and more worthy of conservation than any material thing he may have on the farm, or even the farm itself. Without him all else would be of no account.

There are yet farmers who have an exalted idea of the value of muscle in farming operations and who pride themselves upon their early rising and long hours of work. Such men despise modern machinery and think its use indicates laziness. They get out of bed at 5 o'clock every morning, winter and summer, whether there is anything to do or not. They deprive themselves of opportunities for reading and self-culture because they can't keep awake after supper, and they wear out years sooner than they should.

Such men were necessary in pioneer days, when both methods and machinery were imperfect, when there were more farmers than of other classes and their products in small demand and low priced. With the crude methods and machinery of early days long hours and great physical strength were necessary A premium was placed upon this method of living and working, and those who cared lie in bed till rested did so under the penalty of being called lazy.

Modern knowledge, conditions and machinery have removed the necessity for such ways of living, says the Kansas Farmer, and have taught the farmer that he is a business man and not a day laborer, and that he may and should use business methods on the farm. The successful business man works hard and puts in more hours during the year than does the farmer, but he takes care of himself. His hours of rising are fixed by habit, so he gets up when he is rested and when the day has begun. He could do nothing during the azoic hours of the very early morning, which are very profitably spent in resting. He gets to his office in time to meet other business men, and his hours are regulated by method.

With the farmer the hours must be different, as he has different work to do and his business is with nature more than with men; but he can still have system and method and prosper for it. Except in the emergencies of cropping he can and should observe such hours of labor as are demanded by his business and by his physical well being. He should study and adopt systematic methods and he should take care of himself.

Only the healthfulness of his occupation has saved many a farmer from premature breakdown, and, even though saved from this, there can be little doubt that he wears out sooner than necessary. What can it profit a man to earn a whole section and so wear himself out that he cannot enjoy its fruits?

And this applies with intense force to the farmer's wife. The first step in true economy and conservation should be to conserve the wife, then the man, and after them the fertility of the soil. Own the farm, boss it and run it. Don't let it own and enslave you.—Dry Farming.

Made of highest grade Saskatchewan wheat, in the newest, best-equipped, largest mill on the prairies.

Made with the determination to give users better flour-value, greater certainty of baking-success, fuller satisfaction with the final result, whether with biscuits, cake or bread.

Housewives throughout all the West admit that Robin Hood Flour gives all this. Therefore, Madam, it is the flour for you.

This flour cannot be described in an advertisement. We use this paper merely to give the introduction—to say:

"Let us make you acquainted with Robin Hood Flour."

It is the guaranteed flour. If you are not satisfied with it after two fair trials, ask your grocer for your money back. He will give it to you.

Add more water than usual when using Robin Hood Flour. Made of such hard, dry wheat, it absorbs more moisture—producing a larger, whiter loaf.

The difference between Robin Hood Flour and other flours you have to find out for yourself. That there is a difference every woman who now uses Robin Hood admits.

CANYON CITY NEWS

Mrs. E. A. Lamberton left Tuesday for a trip to Spokane, Wash.

Noel Loveland of Hillyard, Wash., spent a couple of days the first of the week with relatives here.

Mr. Jarvis had a "pi" at the box factory Monday.

We wish to correct a mistake in one of our last weeks items in which was said that Mr. and Mrs. Weyland had moved here. It should have been Weylett. He is our accommodating storekeeper at the mill.

That Canyon City is as good a fruit country as you will find any place is shown by a tree that is grown on C. S. Hall's ranch. This is a crabapple tree and is loaded with delicious fruit, at the same time having blossoms among the ripe fruit showing that there might be a possibility of raising at least two crops of fruit a year and I am sure there is no one so greedy as to want more than that.

Mr. and Mrs C.S. Hall and Mrs. Weylett spent Tuesday with friends in Creston.

There are still reports of many good bags of game being shot by Creston and surrounding sportsmen. On Monday Messrs. C. H. Wynn, T. Malone, T. Hickey and Clarence Maxwell were here from Creston trying their luck with the grouse and the report is that they got 23. "I guess they meant 23 grouse and not 23 skiddoo."

While at work in the Canyon City lumber mill, A. J. Swanson had the misfortune to accidently get his right hand in front of one of the saws injuring it so as to necessitate the amputation of the fore finger. Mr. Swanson is one of our ranchers and has a wife with several small children dependent on him which makes the accident more unfortunate.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Wharf at Shutty Bench, B. C.," will be received at this office until 4 p. m., on Monday, September 30, 1912, for the construction of a Pile Bent and timber decking wharf at Shutty Bench, District of Kootenay, B. C.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of F. W. Aylmer, Esq., District Engineer, Chase, B. C., C. C. Worsfold Esq., District Engineer, New Westminster B. C., and on application to the Postmaster at Kaslo, B. C.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupation and places of residence. In the case of firms the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank payable to the order of the Honourable Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

Scars That Stay

There are people who tell you that everything in the body is changed every seven years, and that there is no part of it which was there seven years ago. This does not mean that the body changes its form all at once, as a snake does its skin or a deer its antlers, but simply that the innumerable and tiny atoms which are used up by the daily wear and tear are replaced by fresh atoms supplied by our food and drink, which keep the body going just as coal and water keep the steam-engine at work.

But these changes are so minute and gradual that the form of the body remains the same, although such things as scars take a long time to disappear, and sometimes they remain for life, although they always lose a great deal of their prominence.

You may have noticed that if you cut your finger lightly it will soon heal up and the scar presently disappear, just as the marks of a superficial burn will gradually go away; but if the cut is deep the scar remains. This is because it went down to what is called the true skin. Any cuts, stains, or burns on the outer skin are gradually pushed up and worn or washed off, just as the hair on the back of your hand wears off without your cutting it and grows again; but anything that goes down to the true skin, like tattoo marks, always remains.

Jim—What did the telephone girl say when she handed back Jack's solitaire and broke the engagement.

Tom—Ring off.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Like many another Newfoundlander living far from doctors, Mr. Stone feels unbounded gratitude for the benefits obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

For years he had suffered from a congested condition of the liver and kidneys, with headaches, backaches, pains in limbs and body. Words fail to describe his sufferings as well as the gratitude he wants to express for the cure.

Mr. Alex J. Stone, West Point, Nfld., writes:—"I suppose you thought I had forgotten all about you when I got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, but I haven't. You must excuse mistakes, for like many Newfoundland men I have not much education, but I want to thank you many times for your medicine.

"I cannot tell you what I suffered from liver and kidney derangements, indigestion and constipation, nor can I find words to express how much good this medicine has done me. I feel better than I have for five years and have given some of these pills to friends, who tell me they have done them a wonderful lot of good. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude for the benefits derived from the great medicine."

PRISON TIGERS

Exploits of Untamable Convicts

No, it is not the old lags who give the most trouble, said an officer in one of our great convict prisons to a newspaper representative. Men who have served several terms invariably learn sense. One of the best-convicts in prison has served a term of thirty years in all. They say he was like a wild beast when he first came in, and that he was bashed (flogged) three times during his first lagging. Now you could trust him to do his job without an officer in sight of him.

You believe in flogging, then?

Certainly I do. It's the only hold we have over the desperate type of criminal. Now and then we get a kind of wild beast in the shape of a man that is every bit as dangerous as a tiger fresh out of the jungle. Nothing but a bashing does one of that sort any good. They had one of that kind in Portland lately. On May 11th of last year he was being brought in from the quarry, when the officer in charge of the gang told him to walk quicker. He lifted his pickaxe and caught the warder over the head and very nearly killed him. The visiting justices ordered him thirty lashes with the cat, which is the severest punishment that has been given in Portland for more than twenty years past.

You don't often hear of a man being taken out of prison, tried afresh, and given a fresh sentence for something he did in prison. But that is what happened at Parkhurst a few years ago. A chap who was just one of these mad beasts I'm telling you about went for another lag and precious nearly killed him. They had him up at Winchester Assizes. The judge gave him another ten years and said he wished he could have made it fifteen.

The suffragettes give a deal of trouble? ventured the contributor.

I believe they do; but they're not the only ones that have to be forcibly fed. They had a man in Carmarthen Prison—a German, accused of murdering three people all at once—who would sit quite still all day, without speaking or moving; he wouldn't eat, and would have died of starvation if they hadn't used the tube. Everyone tried their hand with him—governor, chaplain, doctor—but no one could do anything with him. He even had to be dressed and undressed like a doll. Anyone might have thought he was crazy; but the doctors didn't believe so. They reckoned he was the finest malinger that ever was seen in prison.

Some of the younger prisoners are worse than the older men. What do you think of this case, now?

A middle-aged man named Cully was arrested at Darlington about two years ago, and put in the same cell with a lad whose name I won't mention, as he is still alive. In the middle of the night Cully took out a piece of cord which he had hidden in the lining of his coat.

Who's going first? he said to the lad.

Well, I'm not going, said the boy.

Cully then hanged himself, while the boy lay and watched him, and never made a sound.

Why didn't you shout? asked the coroner, at the inquest next day?

I forgot said the boy.

The worst prisoner on record was a big Italian named Mayoni, who was lying in a Northern prison charged with murder. One morning early he began smashing everything in his cell, and before the officers could gather he had managed to burst the door. How he did it was a wonder, for three ordinary men couldn't have made any impression on it.

Then he came rushing out, armed with a piece of lead pipe, which he had wrenched from the wall, and it looked as if someone was going to be killed. One of the officers ran upstairs, got on the gallery above and chucked a bucket of cold water down on Mayoni's head. Then the others made a rush. You'll hardly believe it, but it took fifteen men to get him down and handcuff him!

The great preacher's reply was characteristic. Said he, I don't see why he should not, but—after a pause—I doubt whether the man next door will.

At last she was aboard, and she glared viciously at the conductor.

Why didn't you stop the car for me? she demanded.

How was I to know you wanted to get on? he retorted.

Didn't you see me swinging my arms and jumping up and down and vigorously waving my umbrella?

'Course I did, he said agreeably. Nobody could help it. The whole street was looking at you!

Then why didn't you stop? she asked in exasperation.

Oh, I thought you were just dancing to the street-organ! was the conductor's quiet reply.

On one occasion, when one of these visiting divines asked the president of the university how long he should speak, that witty officer replied:

ROAD TO NORTH SEA

COCHRANE BELIEVES IN HUDSON BAY ROUTE

Visits the North and Returns With First Hand Information—Has Now Every Faith In Practicability of the Undertaking, and Will Put Energy Into the Work.

Ottawa.—I have returned from the North a convert to the Hudson Bay route, if I needed conversion. I have returned with every faith in the scheme; I will shove this road for all I'm worth.

Thus spoke Hon. Frank Cochrane on his return to his office from his trip over the route of the railroad and home by the Bay Straits.

He was in conference most of the day with J. P. Gordon, assistant engineer of the road, and other experienced men as regards the terminals.

I see, said Mr. Cochrane, that the papers are saying Port Nelson has been selected as the terminals. This is not correct; I have not come to a decision. The engineers are working on the pros and cons of the route and weighing the advantages and disadvantages of the two ports. I want to be absolutely right in my decision.

I expect the answer of the engineers within a day or so and then there will be a final announcement.

It is understood that Mr. Cochrane found Fort Churchill by far the best natural route. It will take several millions to make Nelson an up-to-date terminal.

On the other hand the Nelson route is eighty five miles shorter. This is one thing the engineers are estimating, as to whether the saving by the shorter route to Nelson overbalances the extra harbor cost or not.

We intend to make this a good road and make no mistake, said Mr. Cochrane with emphasis. It will be a splendidly built line; we have a fourtenths' grade, we are using 80lb rails so you will see it is no poor line.

I believe that the Hudson Bay route will mean much to the West in the way of lower freight rates. It will be a real leveller East and West. Just consider how much cheaper iron, steel, and coal for instance, from Sydney, could be shipped to the prairies. It will be of the greatest advantage to the East and I believe Eastern opposition is dying out.

We found the bay free from ice—in face the only ice we saw to amount to anything was the bergs near Belleisle, where all the Atlantic steamers encounter them.

The straits are very wide, and with the aid of the wireless I believe can be kept open for a long period. Wireless stations and other aids to navigation will be established as soon as needed. The Government steamers Arctic and Minto are under orders to remain as long as possible in the straits to find out definitely how long they are open. If the route was only open two months after the wheat of the west started to move it would be worth while, as you are as near Liverpool as from Halifax.

Saskatoon which is about the centre of the wheat growing district, I am told, is six hundred miles from Nelson and nine hundred or thereabouts from Fort William.

At Fort William there is still fifteen hundred miles to go to reach Montreal, while the ocean route to England is about the same as from Hudson Bay.

The insurance of course will be higher for some years at least while the season is short and it may be hard to make ends meet in the race first. However, I believe they will shortly, in fact the will have to, if at all possible be reduced.

NATIVES TO VOTE

One of India's Rulers Will Try Interesting Experiment

London.—That the 500,000 natives who form the population of the Indian state of Jhalawar are to have a chance of trying constitutional government is due largely to their ruler's desire for a new sensation. The Maharaja of Jhalawar, is an enlightened despot who is allowed a pretty free hand by the British authorities, and while in London he amused himself by looking into the constitutional system. He was tickled to death by British parliamentary methods and immediately decided to experiment on his own account. Like a cautious despot, however, he isn't going to allow his subjects too much freedom all at once and he does not figure on giving votes to more than about five thousand of his most trustworthy men just yet.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY SURVEY

Party Reach Dawson After Marking Line Between Yukon and Alaska

Dawson.—The International Boundary survey party, which has been marking the line between Alaska and Yukon Territory, arrived here recently, having completed the task of surveying the 142nd meridian from the Pacific to the Arctic Ocean.

Geologists accompanied the expedition and made a complete survey.

LLOYD-GEORGE MAY VISIT U.S.

Says He Will Take First Opportunity of Visiting the States

London.—Replying to a deputation of American-Welshmen who invited him to attend the International Eisteddfod at Pittsburg next year, Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George said he had received many invitations to visit the United States but of late years he had been rather busy—much busier that some people would like to see him. He certainly meant to avail himself of the first opportunity of paying that visit. It was, however, out of the question to accept an invitation for the next Fourth of July, but if there was a possibility that a more convenient day could be fixed, he would certainly take the matter into consideration.

Nothing, said Mr. Lloyd-George, would give him greater pleasure than to talk in their own tongue to his fellow countrymen in the great continent of America.

MONEY ORDERS IN THE YUKON

Post Office Department Re-Arranges Maters so that Cost be Halved

Ottawa, Ont.—The Finance Department announces an important improvement in the conditions under which business is transacted between the Yukon and other ports of Canada and the United States.

By an arrangement dating back to January 1, 1905, the cost of money orders issued at post offices in the Yukon, payable in Canada and the United States was double that charged elsewhere in Canada. The post office and Finance Department have recently been looking into the matter and have re-arranged the agreement with the Canadian Bank of Commerce so that the business is done on the same basis as that which prevails in other parts of the country, no special tolls being charged. Thus the cost of these transactions has been halved.

TOUR OF ENGLAND AND FRANCE

The "Presse" of Montreal Commends such a trip for Canadian Business Men

Montreal.—The Presse editorially commends the scheme of the Chambre De Commerce to organize a tour of England and France by Canadian business men representing all chambers of commerce throughout the Dominion.

The idea, says The Presse, is easy of realization. We are convinced every chamber of commerce throughout Canada will be glad to aid in the perfecting of such a scheme.

To a body of business men thus brought together the Government itself would, we feel sure, be happy to accord the sanction of its authority.

Grain Elevator Syndicate

Toronto.—Inquiry at the Toronto office of the Royal Securities Company regarding the purchase of 80 grain elevators in the west by Sir Max Aitken and R. B. Bennett M.P. for Calgary, elicited the fact that Sir Max's trip to the West was taking with the expressed intention of putting this deal through.

The capacity of the elevators just purchased is three million bushels.

It is the intention of the new company to ship their cargoes by way of the Pacific and through the Panama Canal.

Alberta Lumber Merger

Lethbridge.—One of the biggest deals which has been consumated this year, affecting the lumber business in southern Alberta was closed when the Farmers' Lumber Company sold out its outside yards to the Citzens' and Pioneer Lumber Companies, which are now practically merged, with their head offices here.

Ten yards are affected, those sold are at Grassy Lake, Purple Springs, Winnifred Whitla, Milk River, New Dayton, Magrath, Diamond City, Taber and Burdett. The Lethbridge yard is retained by the Farmers' Lumber Co. No figures as to the amount of money involved in the deal have been made public.

Sir Thomas Lipton to Visit West

Toronto.—The Mail and Empire says:— Sir Thomas Lipton has at last definitely decided to visit Canada. He will be in Toronto and other Canadian cities some time during October. The details of his itinerary have not been completed but will be known before long. He is leaving near the end of September with the object of taking a pleasure trip through the United States and Canada, especially the north-western portion of the Dominion. He intended to take this trip when he was in America in 1909 but was prevented from so doing. He intends this time to go as far the Pacific Coast.

Lloyd's Gives China Loan

London.—An agreement for a loan to China for $50,000 000 at 5 per cent. for forty years, was signed August 30, by the Chinese minister and representatives of Lloyd's Bank. The loan is secured upon unpledged revenue, chiefly the salt duty. It is to be free of control and supervision, which proved an obstacle to the loan by the six nation group. The salt duty however is to be controlled by the British inspector-general of customs, in case of default.

Wendell Jackson, an American, is said to have arranged the agreement. It is contended in some quarters that the Chinese minister was without the power to sign the agreement.

How it Affects Canada

Montreal.—The department of public works will shortly issue a report on the probable effect on Canadian transcontinental traffic, particularly as regards grain, on the opening of the Panama canal. It will be stated that wheat going through the canal and coming in contact with the heat that will inevitably be experienced in that latitude will be liable to what is technically known as sweating and conditions will be created that will foster weevils. For these reasons shippers will be advised in their own interests to continue shipping their grain by northern water routes

GREAT RAILWAY CHAIN

HUGE RAILWAY PROJECT IN CHINA IS ADVOCATED

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Has a Progessive Programme for the Modernization of China—Concessions to be Given to Foreigners, and Country to be Opened to Foreign Enterprise.

Pekin.—The project for a great scheme for Chinese railways, which holds the foremost place in Dr. Sun Yat Sen's programme for the modernization of China, has commanded the support of the Pekin Government and it may involve a great extension of the privileges of foreigners in the country, and the possibilities of an immense increase in Chinese foreign trade.

The Government has authorized Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who was formerly provisional president of the Republic to establish a railway corporation to carry out a system of national railways covering territory 70,000 miles in extent.

Mixed Chinese and foreign companies will be granted concessions throughout China proper, for periods of 40 years, after which time the lines are to revert to China.

Simlier concessions are to be given to foreigners for the intermediate districts, but the railroads in the frontier provinces will be under exclusively Chinese control and will be financed through foreign loans apart from the other railways.

Dr. Sen's proposals are to open the whole of China to foreign enterprise but to make foreigners amenable to Chinese laws, for which special courts are to be established.

The Government has not sanctioned the last feature of the projects, but Dr. Sen fully expects they will approve.

The French, German and American banks will participate with Lloyd's Bank in the new loans to China of $50,000,000 the agreement for which recently was signed.

The terms of this agreement include the starting of a bank, having its head office in London, with a prominent English financier as chairman of the board of directors, and a subordinate board at Pekin.

The bank is to be capitalized at $10,000 000, half of which will be subscribed by Chinese.

President Yuan Shi Kai proposes to give Dr. Yat Sen 30,000 taels ($20,000) monthly to promote his scheme of railways throughout China, and the Provincial Assembly is expected to agree to this.

Dr. Sen proposes to borrow abroad giving the railways as security until the profits will pay the loans, whereupon the lines will become Government property.

This is considered a clever political move, for while many sections of the country distrust Yuan Shi Kai recognizing only his capability, Dr. Sun Yat Sen is a popular hero, who is most likely to persuade the National Assembly to accept foreign railways, which was the cause of revolution.

75,000 DEATHS IN CHINA STORM

Typhoon Means Millions Homeless and Destitute as Crops are Ruined

Shanghai.—That the number of deaths in the typhoon which swept Chekiang Province, August 29, was nearer 75,000 than 40,000, as first reported is indicated by messages received from Hankow, the provincial capital.

The number of homeless and destitute, it is stated, run into millions; unless aid is immediately forthcoming hundreds of thousands will die of starvation.

Local relief committees are doing their best to relieve the situation, but the magnitude of the disaster has swamped them.

The government lacks funds.

Several foreign missionaries are reported to have drowned.

The catastrophe's suddeness was appalling.

The storm began early in the morning and during the forenoon the wind attained hurricane violence.

About time for high tide there came a sudden torrential downpour of rain, which overflooded numerous streams, emptying into the Yellow sea along the Checklang coast.

With rivers already over their shallow banks, the incoming tide rushed up their estuaries to an unprecented height.

The water rose faster than a man could run and almost in an instant all the coast towns were inundated.

Then it receded with a rush, carrying several towns with all their inhabitants with it, leaving scarcely a trace of them behind.

Wenchow, with a population of 80,000, among the cities is practically obliterated.

Of Chu Chow and Tsin Tien little remains and of Koeno nothing it left whatever.

Chekiang is the smallest, but one of the most thickly populated provinces in China.

It has nearly 127,000,000 inhabitants. Along the coast, very low and flat and gridironed by an immense number of canals and rivers the most intensive culture of its farm is necessary to support the people, and the destruction by the flood of thousands of acres of crops inevitably means an enormous loss of life by famine.

Shanghai and Hangchow, two of the most important cities in Eastern China also suffered considerably by the typhoon.

Russian Marines Arrested

London.—Four hundred men attached to the Battleship Ioann Zlatoust and the protected cruisers Kagul and Pamyat Merkuria, of the Russian Black Sea fleet have been arrested at Sebastopol according to an Odessa dispatch to the Standard. Captain Shubin, one of those taken into custody attempted suicide. Many petty officers are included among the prisoners.

Arrests continue in connection with the arrests on warships and the private quarters of officers ashore are being systematically searched.

KING AND QUEEN OF NORWAY AND PRINCE OLAF

BEAUTIFYING OTTAWA CITY

Sir Thomas Mawson Makes Some Suggestions to Premier Borden

Ottawa.—Sir Thomas Mawson, the celebrated English landscape architect who is in Ottawa, en route to Vancouver, for which city he has drafted a scheme of natural developments had a conference with Premier Borden in regard to the Government plans to further beautify the Capital.

It is understood that Mr. Mawson made some suggestions which would improve the plans of beautifying outlined by the existing improvement Commission.

Mr. Mawson declined to discuss the report tha he is likely to be engaged by the Government to carry on the work for the present Government.

No Joke About It

London.—The Times, in an editorial this morning declares that the idea advanced by some American papers that the British Panama protest is not meant seriously is erroneous. The Times adds:

Great Britain has no intention of allowing her treaty rights to go by default, but will assert them by all the diplomatic means at her disposal and if these fail, she will demand arbitration at The Hague.

Naval Triple Alliance

London.—The Daily Graphic suggests that the decision of France to concentrate her fleet in the Mediterranean taken together with England's virtual desertion of the Mediterranean in favor of the North Sea, is the corollary of the recent Russo-French naval agreement, and indicates a practical understanding for a naval triple alliance between England, France and Russia

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—During the past week there has been no improvement in the character of the weather over the spring wheat country of the United States and Western Canada. Days of bright sunshine and drying breezes have alternated with downpours of rain. In South Dakota and Minnesota threshing and movement is being delayed and where grain is standing in the fields in stooks the alternate soaking and drying is damaging the quality. In the north and west parts of North Dakota much of the crop is still uncut and where cut and ready to thresh is being delayed and to some extent depreciated by the rains. In the province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta the situation is really discouraging. We have one of the finest crops on the ground ever raised in western Canada, taking yield and quality together, but probably not more than 50 to 55 per cent. of it is cut yet. It is practically all fully matured, very different from last year's crop at this time vast quantities of which were never matured but perished by the cold rains and frosty nights during August, and then later on could not be harvested owing to continued rains and in some places snow, the same being most unfavorable for saving and threshing the grain that was cut, and yet for all that the west turned out within the twelve months a tremendous quality of wheat of one grade and another, all of which has seemingly been used up. This season up to the present time, frost which is always watched for in August has scarcely been mentioned, and in fact that the temperature, has been averaging about 15 degrees higher than at this time a year ago has along with the superabundance of rain, produced atmospheric and soil conditions which while not preventing the maturing grain from ripening, have laid down a good deal of the uncut unmatured grain, delayed cutting and the subsequent work of stacking and threshing, and is now in danger of causing damage by sprouting the grain standing in stooks. The weather during the latter part of August and up to this date has been distinctly unreasonable. The rains and thunderstorms and high temperature have been such as would be called seasonable in June and first half of July. The trees which should be beginning to change to autumn tints are still luxuriantly green, and lawns and grass fields are as green as one looks for them to be in June. After last year's experience, however, when the weather from August to December was the worst for maturing and saving the crops over Western Canada which we had seen in nearly thirty years, and after all had at least 180,000 000 bus. of wheat of one grade and another, we think there is no fear but that out of this year's crop we will produce quite as much grain, and of much higher average quality than the farmer and his family, who after the hard work of starting the crop, and having their hopes raised throughout a fairly favorable growing season (with the exception of the short drought and hot weather scare in June) are plunged in the worry and almost impossible hard work and expense of securing the crop now that it has come to satisfactory maturity. A spell of cool weather, even with some sharp night frosts would, we think, be generally welcomed if it would only settle the weather, and bring a period of dry and bracing conditions which would allow harvest and threshing work to go ahead. In regard to the market situation while the old crop supplies have been worked down to a very low point, resulting in the prices being kept very high, the anticipated large production of this years' crop in the United States, Canada and Russia has caused a very pronounced bearish speculative sentiment in regard to the values of the new crops, and prices for future delivery months are at a very large discount from cash wheat for immediate delivery. This difference will gradually adjust itself as the days go by and supplies of new wheat become larger. The unseasonable weather over America and in a less degree in Western Europe, has served to check the downward trend of futures but in spite of this prices in the various speculative markets have declined 2c. to 4c. on the week. Along with this decline there is seen a large increase in the commercial demand. The unfortunate weather in western Europe has delayed the movement of wheat from farmer to miller, so that a considerable extra demand for foreign wheat has resulted which has led to increase purchases for immediate export from the United States and Russia, and U.S. flour trade is enjoying a great increase in trade the grinding by Minneapolis mills being only limited by the slow movement towards them of the new crop. Ocean freight continues to advance which in a measure handicaps export trade in the meantime. There has been very little change in the position of visible stocks and supplies over the week, but with a free movement of the new crop these will soon begin to increase. Favorable soil conditions await the preparing for and seeding of the new winter crop in the U.S. and the latest report about the growing crops in Australia and the Argentine are entirely favorable.

Our Winnipeg market has not been so active during the past week, although there has been a good demand for all grades of old wheat and there is about 1c. advance on these from a week ago. There is, however, very little of this old wheat left that is fit for the miller. The total quantity of all grades in store terminal elevators is 2 511,000 bus., but of this 1,737,000 bus. is under No. 5, a lot of it being condemned bin burnt stuff hardly fit for hog feed. The remainder amounting to about 774,000 bus. is made up of 60,000 bus. 1 Nor.; 118,000 bus. 2 Nor.; 242,000 bus. 3 Nor.; 169,000 bus. No. 4 wheat and 183,000 bus. No. 5. For several days past only about 10 cars of good milling wheat per day have been inspected at Winnipeg. Up to and including today only 22 cars of new wheat have been inspected, 17 of them Alberta Red Winter and 5 Spring Wheat. Last year at this time new wheat was arriving at Winnipeg at the rate of over 100 cars a day. Prices now paid or offered in this market for old crop and new crop show a wide difference. To-day's cash prices are as follows Old Wheat 1 Northern, 105¾c; 2 Nor. 104c; 3 Nor. 97c; No. 4 wheat, 87c; No. 5, 74½c; No. 6, 64½c; Feed, 58½c. New wheat 1 Nor., 100c; 2 Nor., 97½c; 3 Nor. 95c. No lower grades of the new wheat than 3 Nor. are mentioned yet, so much for absence of frost. Alberta Red Winter Wheat new crop No. 1, 96c; No. 2, 95c; No. 3, 92c. Futures closed October 91⅝c; December, 88⅛ & ¾ and May 93c.

Oats—

The demand for oats continues good, and as the quantity of old crop oats left of the higher grades is very small prices continue high. To-day's cash prices are: 2 C.W., 43c; 3 C.W. 41½c; Ex. 1 Feed, 42½c; 1 Feed. 41½c; 2 Feed, 37c. Futures closed October 35⅞c; December 33c.

Barley—

There is nothing doing in barley.

Flax—

There is a fair demand for flax at about 4c. decline. To-day's cash prices are 1 N.W., 166c; 1 Man. 164c; Rejected, 158c. The October future closed 161c.

All prices are on basis of delivery

All prices quoted are on basis of delivery in store Fort William, Port Arthur and Duluth.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XII.—THIRD QUARTER FOR SEPT. 22, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark vi, 30-44. Memory Verses, 41, 42—Golden Text, John vi 35—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The words of verse 30 are most practical and remind us of our great privilege of telling all that we do and teach to Jesus, receiving our messages from Him and trusting Him to work in us to will and to do of His good pleasure. It is the old lesson of Prov. iii, 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths," and the new one of Phil. iv 6, 7. There is nothing like talking it over with Him both before and after. I am always reminded by this verse in our lesson of a little book entitled "Tell Jesus," by Anna S. Hopton.

The words "No leisure so much as to eat" (verse 31) give us some idea of His day by day busy, crowded full life, for others, seven days a week, even on the Sabbath day (Mark i, 21-31; Matt. xii 12; John ix, 4, 14), for he taught that it is lawful to do well on that day also. Our own works or words are not lawful on that day (Isa. lvii, 13, 14), neither do they count at any time. "Come apart and rest awhile" does sound refreshing to a weary one, but we shall see how they rested. When the people knew that He had started across the sea they ran afoot out of all cities and outwent them, and when Jesus came He saw much people and was moved with compassion and received them and, as was his custom spake unto them of the kingdom of God and healed them that had need of healing (verses 33, 34; Luke ix, 11). May the mention of the kingdom always lead us from the heart to say "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven" (Matt. vi, 10), for less than that will not be the kingdom of God. John tells us that it was Passover time and that also suggests a phase of the kingdom, for at the last Passover Jesus said, "I will not any more eat thereof until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God" (Luke xxii, 16). That will be the time of Israel's restoration at the beginning of the millennial kingdom.

As the day began to wear away the disciples came to Jesus, asking Him to send the multitudes away that they might buy themselves bread, and to their astonishment, He said: They need not depart. Give ye them to eat." To prove Philip He asked him "Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?" For He Himself knew what He would do, as He always does, for He is perfect in knowledge, and every purpose of His shall be performed (John vi, 5, 6; Job xxxvi, 4; Jer. li 29). Philip might wisely have replied, Lord, Thou knowest; Thou didst feed many thousands in the wilderness for forty years and there is nothing too hard for Thee (Jer. xxxii, 17). But Philip knew neither his Lord nor himself, and on the night before the crucifixion Jesus had occasion to say to him, "Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thau not known me, Philip?" (John xiv 9). Philip's reply in our lesson story (John vi, 7) shows that he was capable of and evidently did some mental figuring, but to him the case was hopeless.

Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, somehow found out that ther was a lad in the company who had five barley loaves and two small fishes, and he ventured to mention it but with no hope that they would be of any service among so many. (John vi 8, 9). Jesus said, "Bring them hither to Me," just as He said concerning the lunatic boy at the foot of the mount of transfiguration, "Bring him hither to me!" (Mat. xiv, 18; xvii 17). The unfailing remedy for every trouble is, Tell it to Jesus, Bring it to Jesus, for He said, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Having made the multitude sit down in companies by hundreds and fifties on the green grass (verses 39 40). He took the loaves and the fishes and looked up to heaven and gave thanks, blessing the food, and then gave it to the disciples to pass on to the multitudes. There would be at least fifty companies of a hundred each or a hundred companies of fifty each, so the disciples, had enough to do to make them forget themselves for a while. We might like to know how He could divide five loaves and two small fishes among twelve disciples and how much each had to start with and just how the food multiplied as they gave it out but we are not told and so must leave it. We are told that they did all eat and were filled. 5,000 men men besides women and children (Matt. xiv, 21). And that twelve baskets full of the fragments were gathered up when all was over. A little later he fed 4,000 men with seven loaves and a few little fishes and they were filled and seven baskets of fragments gathered up (Matt. xv, 32-38; Mark viii, 1, 9). Yet soon after when crossing the sea with His disciples they had only one loaf with them, they thought from something He said that He was upbraiding them for forgetting to take bread seemingly forgetting the miraculous supply of the two great recent events (Mark viii 13-21).

That which a little boy possessed was used on this occasion to abundantly satisfy more than 5,000 people. If we are as unreservedly in His hands as were the lad's loaves and fishes He will use us beyond our utmost thought.

An Appeal to Canadian Methodism

Toronto.—An appeal from the Methodist conferences of Saskatchewan and Alberta for 100 young men to enter the ministry and fill existing vacancies is published in the current issues of the Christian Guardian, and is characterized editorially by the Guardian as one which will test the Methodism of this country as it has not been tested in many days. The appeal is signed by John A. Doyle, president of the Saskatchewan conference, and P. P. Perry, president of the Alberta conference.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

DUCK CREEK NEWS

Harry Bathie of Cranbrook was down spending the week end with Mr, and Mrs. Johnson of Lakeview ranch.

O. H. Slack last week purchased a block of land from J. J. Grady at a price that set new values on Duck Creek property.

J. J. Grady of Calgary spent a couple of days here last week.

Geo. W. Taylor, a mining engineer of Lethbridge, Alta., last week purchased 10 acres of land from Monroe Wigen.

A meeting of the school board was held Monday evening at the home of the secretary Ashley Cooper, the board is considering the selection of a school site and the erection of a new school house.

Mr. Weirmouth of Fernie was looking over land here one day last week He went from here to Nelson and will probably return in a few days.

Mr. Baines is busily engaged building a two roomed house and clearing two acres of land on his ranch at Wynndel.

There will soon be a trail from here to Kuskanook, the gang is now working between Sirdar and Kuskanook.

That place known as the point over the channel was last Sunday the scene of one of those picnics for which Mrs Butterfield is famous.

Paul Ofner who has been here but a short time and who came from a coal mining district, is a settler of the most progressive type having already made extensive clearings on his ranch besides building the finest house in the district. He has taken to ranching like a duck takes to water and he says no more coal ming for him as Duck Creek looks good to him. Mr Ofner will also engage in the poultry business using the Philo system. He has now 26 fine looking white wyandottes which he purchased last week from Mr. Embree.

Don't forget the dance at Mr. Ofner's new house Saturday, Sept. 28.

Big Auditorium Being Erected

Ground was broken the first week in September for the erection of an auditorium capable of seating 2,000 people, with stage room for upwards of 200 more, in preparation for the big meeting of the International Dry Farming to be held at Lethbridge the fourth week in October. With only five weeks ahead in which to construct this mammoth coliseum, the contractors have a large force of men employed, and are pushing the work with might and main.

The auditorium is being built by C. J. Eckstrom, a public-spirited citizen who recognized that the hall facilities were likely to be inadequate for the congress, and who offered to rush the building to completion and turn it over to the board of control for their uses on October 10th. Although a week or so delayed in the beginning of operations, there is every assurance and promise that it will be completed by the time set.

It is contemplated to hold a grand oratorial concert one or two evenings early in October, prior to the congress week. with selections by the Cardston Choral Society of 150 voices, which has been training for weeks in preparation for the congress, giving to the people of Lethbridge a sample of the fine singing and the enthusiastic meetings in store for them.

Mr. Pound of Calgary is visiting with his daughters, Miss Pound and Mrs. C. Adams.

Geo. Meade went to Cranbrook, Wednesday.
