Filling His Own Shoes

Aside from this feature, there was slight family resemblance between the two. Dick Downing reverted to the pioneer type of his American ancestors in his bold features and powerful frame, while his sister inherited her lithe, supple figure from their mother, the granddaughter of an Irish earl whose son had emigrated to California in the days of '49. Ruth looked a child beside her big, deep-chested brother and might easily have passed for his daughter, although he was but seven years her senior. Ruth was just turned twenty.

Brother and sister were of the finest type which a nation can produce, and of which it is safe to say the American product is the greatest. They were the wholesome, industrious children of strong, hard-working parents.

Ruggles stepped back as they entered, his face quite pale from sheer excitement, and his eyes very bright and round. He looked like a mere boy. Dick Downing glanced at him with a sudden flash of recognition which gave to his big features, harsh in repose, a strikingly pleasant expression.

"Hello!" said he. "So you're over here, are you? Remember me?" And he thrust out a hand that might have throttled a bear.

"I certainly do, sir," Ruggles answered, meeting the firm clasp. "You're Dick, aren't you?"

"That's right," A laugh rumbled in the throat of the young giant. "I'm Dick Downing. How long have you been here in Paris?" He turned to his sister. "Ruth, this is Mr. Ruggles, who used to be in the Twenty-third Street store."

Ruth, smiling with delight at being thus remembered, took the young giant's hand that was offered her and introduced him to her mother. In response to the girl's kindly greeting, but he did not lose his head, for the simple reason that it was not a part of his nature so to do. He was thinking not of himself, but of the splendid people these were, and how glad he was to see and talk to them. He was like a little child meeting a friend, and when he saw the mother's sudden and violent affection, that he had been fourteen years younger, he would have proceeded immediately to hug her then and there.

But, coming to the sense of his responsibilities, he said to Dick:

"The mother, sir, but the manager, Mr. Downing, has just gone out to lunch. I could tell you the story

"Oh, that'll have to wait," said Dick smilingly. "Our call is not official. We want some shoes. You see, we're off on a flying tour to Switzerland and might want to do a little tramping around, and we've got nothing with us but light walking-shoes. What have you got in stock?" He shot a quick, appraising look about the store, then glanced at his sister. "Nice, isn't it, Ruth?"

"Very," she answered, "though I must say I'm not so terribly keen about this transition period between Art Nouveau and late Cunard Line. But it is awfully neat and sound and practical," she added hastily.

"Sure—that's what you want," said Dick genially. "It's got this Early Pullman plush junk beaten a length and a half against the tide. These individual chairs are so much better than those old plush settees that held about a hundred billion microbes to the square inch. Comfortable, too—He cast his great frame into one of these stanch articles of furniture and the oak frame creaked.

"Perhaps Miss Downing might like to step upstairs to the ladies' department," Ruggles suggested.

"Thanks, I won't bother, now that I'm here," Ruth answered, smiling. "I can tell you precisely what I want, and it's bound to fit, because the shape was got out from a plaster cast of my own foot."

She gave the necessary data to Ruggles, who fled away to secure the desired article. A moment later, when he returned, Dick was chatting pleasantly with the cashier, to whom he had introduced himself and who appeared to be in that state of self-possessed embarrassment peculiar to a Frenchman when in conversation with one representing the powers that be. The salesmen present appeared to have gathered the fact that the shop was entertaining exalted personalities and had spread the information to the floor above, where the pretty French saleswomen were peeping over the balcony, examining Ruth through admiring eyes. Sibilant whispers descended therefore. "Qu'elle est chic! Regardez-moi sa fourrure! Et quel joli teint—". More whispers. "Mon dieu, qu'elles sont fraîches, ces Américaines—".

But Ruggles was no more embarrassed than might have been a high priest officiating before the shrine of a patron saint. If his fingers trembled a little as he slipped off the little shoes, it was from pure devotional exaltation. He guided the slim, shapely little foot into the high walking-boot with the skill of an orthopedic surgeon fitting an artificial limb, and was rejoiced, but not surprised, to find that the adaptation was perfect. The wonderfully accurate machinery of the Walkeasy factory had followed those perfect contours to the fraction of a millimeter. The shoe fitted as if cast upon its model.

He laced it up with deft hands, to find that above the ankle a certain unsuspected fulness of limb exhausted the length of the lacing and spread the shoe-top rather too far apart for a perfect fit. Ruth, it appeared, had slender ankles, but plump legs. Observing Ruggles' concern, she laughed.

"I posed only for the foot," said she. "Some other girl must have furnished the model for the ankle. Leave them on, please. They fit perfectly and are just the thing for the road. We're off for Vichy this very minute. Father is waiting for us at the Travelers', and we're to pick him up and lunch at Fontainebleau. Oh, and I'd like some trees, of course, and half a dozen pairs of silk stockings—these new, reinforced ones, if you've got them in stock. Dick and I will probably do a lot of tramping about."

Ruggles ran up to the ladies' department to secure these last necessities, and when he returned one of the other salesmen was fitting Dick with a pair of heavy-soled country walking boots. His wants were quickly supplied, and brother and sister left the shop with a friendly word or farewell to cashier and clerk. Ruggles followed them out to the street, and both got in his Dick, catching sight of a stationary shop across the street, was reminded that he had left his bag in a fountain

"That's how you have been with the company, Mr. Ruggles," Ruth asked as they waited for Dick's return.

"Seven years, Miss Downing," he answered. "My mother and father both worked in the factory of the old Golden West Shoe Company, which was taken over by the Walkeasy. We're a shoe family." He smiled.

"Just as we are," said Ruth. "Father started in the leather business, you know, and some day Dick will probably succeed him, and Dick's son succeed him, and so on through generations, I hope. A good business ought never to go out of a family, I think, even after its fortune is made. Are your parents still with the company?"

"No," answered Ruggles, "they both died some years ago. I was an only child."

"Oh, I'm sorry," said Ruth, and her eyes softened. She regarded thoughtfully for a moment the handsome face with its fresh color and light blue-gray eyes, and the sun flashing from the yellow, wavy hair. "It seems to me," said she slowly, "that the company might give you something better than a salesman's position."

"Oh, I guess that'll come in time," said Ruggles cheerfully. "Promotions are slow with us, because everybody in the Walkeasy gets a square deal and sticks to his job. I draw top pay now for a salesman."

"You ought to, I'm sure," said the girl. "But there must be openings, as the business increases. I heard father say not long ago that they were planning to establish a new store in Vienna. Why don't you try for the managership? Put in your application to the European general manager and get your own local manager to endorse it. Don't wait for the company to push you ahead. Companies don't do business that way. There's no harm in trying."

Ruggles, looking into the earnest violet eyes, was conscious of the rush of some new and very stirring emotion.

"You're mighty kind, Miss Downing," said he. "I guess I will. I've heard about that new Vienna store. Trouble is, though, I don't speak a word of German."

"Then get busy and learn it," said Ruth, briskly. "You speak awfully good French. I heard you talking to the saleswomen upstairs, and your accent is perfect. I shouldn't say it, I suppose, but well — trying on shoes isn't the most—er—distinguished sort of work for a man."

"I never saw anything to be ashamed of about it," said Ruggles.

A line of annoyance drew itself across Ruth's pretty forehead.

"Of course not," she answered, "but—well, all the same — Oh, all right, stick to it if you like it better." Her face grew slightly pink, and she drew back as her brother approached with his plunging stride.

"Well, good-bye, old chap, and good luck," said he, shaking hands with Ruggles. Then, to the chauffeur: "Back to the Travelers'—where you left Mr. Downing."

Ruth did not offer her hand, merely returning Ruggles' shopman's bow with a friendly nod. The big car glided quietly away and, after standing for a moment staring thoughtfully after it, Ruggles re-entered the store. (To be continued)

First Commercial Voyage To Arctic

Expedition to Start Soon to Look Into Resources of the Far North

New York, N.Y.—The first expedition to Arctic regions for commercial exploring is scheduled to start from New York under the direction of the Norwegian explorer, Christian Leden, on the 136-foot yacht Finback. Mr. Leden, who has made four other expeditions to the far north, will explore mineral deposits which he discovered on an earlier trip, with a view to their commercial possibilities. It is said that this information is sought for a group of Boston bankers and Americans of Norwegian birth who are financing the expedition in order to determine the desirability of investing in Arctic resources. These mineral deposits, believed to be of great value, include copper, iron, and possibly gold. The expedition has been in preparation for two years, but was delayed by the war.

Mr. Leden has announced that he will take a motion picture outfit and films to show the Eskimos how the white man lives, also phonographs to record the music and language of the people, and will make a study of their customs.

To pay for the metals he expects to bring back, he will carry sugar, molasses and other sweets, matches, knives, needles, hand mirrors, beads, colored handkerchiefs, perfumed soap, and other articles which the Eskimos accept in lieu of money.

The exploring party consists of seven men and the crew of eight. The yacht, which is strongly built and modelled on the fisherman's, is equipped with a 250-horsepower engine, electric lights, and wireless apparatus, and is capable of a speed of from 10 to 16 knots. A motor launch, two whaling boats, canoes and dories will also be carried for closer exploration of coast and inlets.

Never place your clock at the head of the stairs; it might run down.

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out thrashing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Huns Intended to Smash Vancouver

Toronto.—"Canada's great naval day is not Trafalgar nor Jutland; it is the day on which the British squadron broke to pieces the German fleet at Falkland Islands," said Rev. Dr. Alfred Hall, senior chaplain of the Canadian naval institutes, in an address delivered at Earl's Court Methodist church. Dr. Hall stated that the shores of Canada were preserved by the battle at Falkland Islands, and that the German squadron intended to smash Vancouver.

Memorial City In Belgium

Inter-Allied Commission Will Recommend Founding International City of "Geopolis"

Brussels.—The inter-allied commission which discussed the question of commemorating the war with a permanent memorial, will recommend the foundation in Belgium of an international city to be known as "Geopolis." The city would be built on one of the sectors of the fighting front in Belgium, which would be neutralized, and, according to the plans of the committee, would become the permanent seat of the League of Nations.

Thanks America

Appreciation of Hospitality to New Zealand Troops Visiting the United States

Auckland, New Zealand.—Appreciation of American hospitality to New Zealand troops visiting the United States, and the camaraderie of the battlefield, have brought the big republic and dominion of New Zealand nearer than in pre-war days. This feeling was emphasized by Lieutenant Morton, who recently returned to Auckland from a lecturing tour in America. An official recognition was also given by the Wellington City Council, which sent a vote of appreciation to officials at Panama and Colon in connection with the treatment of New Zealand soldiers passing through the canal. It is interesting in this connection to note that Australia has cabled its gratitude to the Panama Canal administration, through the imperial government.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply for Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, whiten and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Canada Wants Big Poultry Industry

Preaching the Gospel of Increased Poultry Production to Canada

Montreal.—The hens of Canada, if properly encouraged, could pay the nation's war debt in a few years, according to F. C. Elford, apostle of the barnyard chicken.

The 1,000,000 farms of Canada should have 100,000,000 hens on them, and there should be 10,000,000 additional hens in towns and villages. At a low estimate of ten dozen eggs from each hen, these hens would produce 1,100,000,000 dozen eggs. If these eggs sold at 60¢ a dozen, which is below the present price, Canada's egg crop would bring in $660,000,000 a year.

Mr. Elford is preaching the gospel of increased poultry production to Canada. He wants especially to get across to the settlers who are pouring in upon the land the message that under present food conditions the barnyard fowl lays golden eggs.

Nearly a billion chickens are raised yearly in the U.S. In 1900 Uncle Sam's wealth from poultry and eggs was greater in money value than the world's output of gold or silver. In 1899 the value of all the wheat, corn, barley, rye, buckwheat, rice, flax, small fruits, sugar cane and sugar beets raised in the United States was less than the revenue from chickens.

Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture Encouraging Mixed Farming

The Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, with a view to encouraging mixed farming, will supply farmers with breeding stock at first cost. The department has at Regina 24 pure-bred bulls, including Short-horns, Herefords, Polled Herefords and Aberdeen Angus. Britain Leads

Britannia Rules the Air as Well as the Waves

The New York Tribune points out that in 1914 Germany was first, France was second, Italy was fourth and the United States was last in the appreciation of aircraft, as shown by the amount of money each was willing to spend on that arm of preparedness. When the armistice was signed, on November 11, 1918, the personnel of the military air force in each of these countries was as follows:

	Officers and men
Great Britain	297,000
United States	185,852
Italy	100,337
France	80,000
Germany	Unknown

Great Britain is determined to maintain her lead, in evidence of which appropriations for the year 1919-20 follow:

Experiments and research in civil aviation	$15,000,000
Military and naval (joint service)	$315,000,000
Total appropriated for the air	$330,000,000

It is now as appropriate to sing "Britannia Rules the Waves" as it is to sing "Britannia Rules the Air."

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, AUG. 1

A Good Friend Gone

Kaslo loses a mighty good citizen, Kootenay, a good booster, and the B.C. newspaper fraternity a valued member in the departure, last week, of H. W. Power, former editor of the Kootenian, who goes to Spokane to become assistant editor and managing director of Mining Truth, a well-known weekly publication devoted to the mining industry in the northwestern States and British Columbia.

Constituency considered the Kootenian had no superiors and a whole lot of inferiors in Canadian newspaperdom, and the same intelligence and industry that was put into making the Kootenian worth while from the technical and news content angles, was equally manifest in the thorough manner in which he promoted and safeguarded the interests that spell out development and prosperity for the diversified constituency the paper served. In this respect the Power motto was ever, "What is worth doing is worth doing well." And personally he exhibited the same sterling qualities.

After eight years of close newspaper and direct contact with mining one has no hesitation in predicting that he will make good in his new venture, and certainly if the universal good wishes of the members of the fourth estate are of any avail Mining Truth is more than fortunate in securing his services.

In bidding godspeed to our parting guest it were also meet to congratulate Kaslo in having a B.C. journalist of the calibre of James Grier to succeed Mr. Power. When the former gets acclimated to Kaslo and its environs THE REVIEW has every confidence that The Kootenian will give the news and mould public opinion in the same satisfactory manner that it has done in the past.

No Long Tarrying

The withdrawal of H. W. Power within two months of the disappearance of W. B. Wilcox of the Trail News forcibly reminds one that the life of the average B.C. newspaperman in one location is not of long duration.

Next week the writer will have accomplished five years at the head of THE REVIEW and it will surprise many to know that with in even that short time that with one exception every newspaper published in the whole Kootenay country has undergone one or more changes; two have disappeared entirely; and two have been resurrected. If we may term the Cranbrook Courier a successor to the late lamented Prospector of the same town.

The other survivor of the five-year period is Bro. Wallace of the Fernie Free Press. The papers that have come to an untimely end were the Record of New Denver, and the old Mail Herald of Rossland. The Review now serves Rossland with a record of three editors in the five years, while at Rossland and Trail there have been changes within the same period. The Cranbrook Herald has had half a dozen, though it is not so long since it was founded, while at Golden the Star has averaged two new editors a year almost since the war broke. Even the Daily News at Nelson has made two changes in the same space of time. As covering a period when than the rule in established businesses Kootenay newspaperdom has witnessed rejuvenation that is indeed unique.

Your Subscription

In chronicling these various exits and comebacks in Kootenay journalism we trust it will be found quite in order to remind that, seeing as how we will next week celebrate another anniversary of our advent into THE REVIEW ownership, that quite a number of subscriptions will expire, and that following the excellent custom of other years we are again this year holding a sort of a birthday party throughout the month of August and that the presents of all whose subscriptions have expired is particularly requested by way of the time-honored $2 renewal fee.

The accounting department has been busy all week getting out the subscription accounts. If you happen to be one of those favored with a "dun" we will very fully appreciate your promptest attention.

Operating on the before-the-war price of $2 a year it is imperative that subscriptions should be paid in advance. In the year just closed we are not a bit too modest to believe that you get your money's worth, and we are not a bit more bashful in promising that the same excellent value will be accorded in the coming twelve months. Besides, by paying now you make sure of your paper at the old price—something no publisher can guarantee indefinitely with paper prices and living costs in every direction travelling steadily upward.

In the expansion period that the Valley has just entered the value of a live newspaper was never more recognized. Prompt payment of your subscription will facilitate THE REVIEW's co-operation in the forward movement. Do it to-day. To expedite matters at this season we have the necessary receipt awaiting your pleasure.

Music Hath Charms

Next to the newspaper brand of boosting come several other sorts whose order of precedence is largely a matter of personal interest in one direction or another.

In this connection the value of music must not be overlooked. For instance no one ever hears of a certain brand of pills without instantly recalling that on one occasion a well-known hymn was re-written to distinctly commercial advantage by a proprietary medicine manufacturer who in a donated lot of hymn books one Christmas morning had the choristers shouting "Hark the herald angels sing, Beecham's pills are just the thing," etc.

To-day it gives THE REVIEW great pleasure to be able to announce that the Kootenay country is like to get no inconsiderable amount of publicity in likely places due to the fact that Rev. J. S. Mahood, the well-known rector of Christ Church, Creston, has disposed of his equally well-known song, "The Call of the Kootenay" to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company who are undertaking to have it rescored for orchestral use, and will make it a regular number on the orchestra programmes of their various hotels all across the continent.

The song is quite familiar to many in these parts who will agree that it has that "something" to it that makes it instantly popular, and doubtless in due course we will be hearing it for waltzes, two-steps, as well as the many numerous and newer terpsichorean dances. With all Canada about to hear of this part of B.C. both in song and story as well as in the dance, there will certainly be no resisting the call of

School Grounds

As soon as the trustees get well clear of such troubles as securing the new teaching talent and have the new high school complete and ready for use by September opening date, it will not be a bit too early for them to be taking into serious consideration the matter of securing a little more school ground area.

Even without a consolidated school we believe the future development of this section is sufficiently disclosed to warrant the most conservative school board in securing more grounds—while the securing is good. This year has witnessed land buying and development in that neighborhood that pretty well defines the direction in which additional property may be had, and it may not come as news to hear that the owners of the tract at present most desirable for more school grounds are seriously considering sub-dividing their holdings and putting them on the market as building sites.

If they are allowed to proceed with subdivision effort certainly prices will advance over to-day's values, and the way things are moving in Creston it is equally certain that there is like to be some demand for such rather nicely located property both for building and speculative purposes.

The board was given $1000 in excess of the estimates presented this year. There are more than a few who believe that a good place to invest a part of that spare cash would be in acquiring additional school property—part of which could be utilized immediately were a little needed encouragement given in the right direction.

NEWS OF KOOTENAYS

The Ledge says considerable meat is being shipped out of Greenwood by parcel post these times.

Hugh McKee of Greenwood had the hard luck to lose 60 cords of stove wood in a bush fire in that section last week.

The Okanagan started shipping the 1919 new potato crop last week. Vern loaded out three cars that were sold at $60 a ton.

The Herald says the grain crop on St. Mary's prairie at Cranbrook will not be a total failure, neither will it be quite an average yield.

Kaslo is giving home talent a chance at school teaching in that town next term, two local ladies having being engaged by the trustees.

The Bank of Hamilton has also opened a branch at Trail, giving the place three of these institutions. The Bank of Montreal and Commerce being the other two.

At Grand Forks the pool rooms and theatres are to be given a refund on

The C.P.R. has cut out its daily train service between Grand Forks and Phoenix, and is now running trains but two days a week.

At Vernon returned soldiers complain that the ranchers overlook the veterans when in need of extra help for the fruit harvesting.

P. Burns & Co. has closed its store at Phoenix, but looks after its customers by a twice-a-week delivery from butcher shop at Grand Forks.

At Vernon the demand for electric power has increased to such an extent that the laeger engine in the plant has now to be run to take care of the day load.

Grand Forks council has just sold its entire holdings of Victory bonds, some of which were bought below par, and the sale shows a profit of over $3000 to the city.

At Vernon last week D. Gellatly planted a considerable area to potatoes. He soaked the seed in water for two days before planting, and is confident that the late rains this year will give a splendid yield from these.

Synopsis of

Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records will be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptors are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of monies accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enrollment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for insurance of Crown lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately.

When used, applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers tagged, priority for established owners. Stock owners may form Association for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for hunters, campers or recreation to ten head.

Work Is Our Salvation

The signing of the peace treaty, and with demobilization of the army so well advanced that, so far as Canada is concerned, July 31 has been fixed as the official date by which demobilization will be considered as having been completed, brings the nations of the world to close grips with vital domestic problems of reconstruction. It was, of course, impossible to turn the world upside down for five years during which the energies of almost all mankind and the resources of all civilized nations were devoted to works of destruction without creating conditions which will require much time, great patience and almost infinite wisdom to restore to normal.

The necessities of war forced the abandonment of many sound business principles. The need of securing supplies in huge quantities at a moment's notice resulted in the payment of unheard of prices for these supplies, and the payment of higher scales of wages in order to secure the necessary output than had hitherto been known, especially as countless millions of men had been withdrawn from productive enterprise into the armies. The inevitable result was the doing of business in many extravagant ways because output was demanded regardless of the cost. And this excessive cost of production, coupled with the wholesale destruction of property and wealth which was taking place all over the world, led to an increase in the cost of living which has become a burden almost too great to be borne. This, in turn, led to still higher wages, and higher wages again increased costs of production.

It is recognized that this cannot go on. If it does, the point will finally be reached where inflation will end in depression, a stoppage of industry, and widespread unemployment. Should that unfortunate condition be reached, then wages will take a tumble, because under the stress of necessity men will work for almost anything in order to get work and supply the needs of themselves and families. In Canada, we do not want to reach that stage, and it is, therefore, the duty of government and people alike to direct their minds and bend their energies to eliminating further waste and reducing the cost of living.

As yet undoubtedly most and should be maintained at a fairly high level, and there will be much sympathy with the demand of all workers for an adequate return for their labor. But a halt must be called to the almost universal demand for a marked shortening of the hours of labor and a consequent decrease in production which means an increased price for the article produced. In these days people should be willing to work longer hours and thus assist in increasing production to make good the waste and destruction of the past five years, rather than insist upon performing less work. By so doing they will be working out their own and their country's salvation and warding off depression and further loss.

Great Britain, for example, is facing a national crisis as a result of the high wages and short hours demanded by the coal miners and which have made necessary an increase of $1.50 a ton in the price of coal. This means an increased cost of fuel to the people, increased transportation charges on railways and steamships, increased manufacturing costs of all goods, and because of these increased costs of production a decreased ability to compete for trade in the export markets of the world, and consequent loss of trade. The coal mining industry could stand the paying of the higher wages, but the shorter hours of employment means such a loss in output that the combined loss is staggering and, of course, in the final analysis, the people must pay it.

In Canada we are face to face with somewhat similar conditions and the country is passing through an era of industrial strikes which, as Premier Borden has pointed out in an appeal to all the people for co-operation, are almost as destructive as war itself. There should be no strikes in Canada. They entail loss all round. And they are an unnecessary survival of a bygone age, because we now have all the necessary machinery of arbitration to settle any disputes which may arise.

Canadians need to arouse themselves to full recognition of the fact that true patriotism at this time demands the rendering of just as unselfish service as was given by our soldiers in the war. If the call of patriotism will not lead men and women to render such service, then in self-interest they should do so in order to avert nation-wide depression and unemployment. Our soldiers did not cavil at the long hours of labor they put in for us and our country's cause. Nor should the workers of Canada now demand a reduction of hours of labor to an extreme minimum.

In some quarters the fallacious doctrine is preached that it is necessary to shorten the hours of individual labor in order to supply employment for all. The reverse is true. The greater the production, the greater the wealth produced and the greater the amount of new employment which will be provided. Adversely, restrict the output of any essential commodity, say coal as in Britain, and the output of all other industries is adversely affected and the amount of employment lessened.

Let a high standard of wages be maintained, but let our people be willing to work even longer hours than before the war, and throw their whole energy and capacity into their work during their hours of labor. Only so will they save themselves and their country from an even more perilous position than that of the Great War.

LISTLESS, PEEVISH GIRLS

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia, and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold upon the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. New, rich red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Policy Of "Grab"

Hard to Get Back to the Same Days of Moderation and Peace

It is difficult for the ordinary man to understand why, now that the war is over and industries everywhere are once more busy producing for peace purposes, there should not be a return to something like normal conditions. Financial experts can explain the matter completely to their own satisfaction, but to the ordinary man on the street it appears as if it is just a case of grab. The "easy money" of the war has demoralized all classes, and it is hard to get back to the same days of moderation and peace. The rate's progress cannot go on indefinitely, however, and the sooner this is recognized by governments and profiteers the better.

Don't hurt defiance unless your aim is good. Life.

Land Settlement

For British Soldiers

1,000,000 Former Imperial Soldiers Planning to Leave for Overseas Dominions

Toronto, Ont.—When passing through this city en route to Calgary Christopher Turner, of England, who is in this country for the purpose of investigating the Union Government's land settlement plans for imperial soldiers, said that there are 1,000,000 former soldiers of the imperial forces in England who are planning to leave for one of the overseas dominions within the next two years to engage in farm work, and declared that there is immediate need on the part of the Government of Canada of strong effort to attract the greater part of these men to the Dominion.

Speaking of the land settlement of the British Empire, Mr. Turner said: "It is appalling that out of about 60,000,000 white population, only about 13,000,000 are on the land, while Germany, one-sixty-fourth as large as the British Empire, has 22,000,000 on the land, and France 18,000,000." In order to remedy this condition of affairs, he explained that there is being formed in England a ministry of emigration, whose duty it will be to settle as many as possible on the lands of Great Britain and create a steady surplus of land-tilling countrymen who will be encouraged to come to Canada and other dominions. These men, he said, would probably settle in communities of about 150, the plan most attractive to the former soldier being a small holding with sufficient capital to operate it.

The labor sub-committee is an offshoot of the cabinet reconstruction committee, and has among its members representatives both of capital and labor.

It is expected that the conference will be held in Ottawa. The date will be as early as possible, possibly in August.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests, which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freeze-one applied directly upon a sore corn will soothe, soothe, and even the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freeze-one, which costs very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and paste on your wife's dresser.

Ulster Leader's Speech Is Severely Criticized

London.—Sir Edward Carson's speech has brought the Ulster leader under the lash of the newspapers of all parties, primarily on account of his references to the United States, which are criticized as tactless and calculated to breed bad blood between the two nations, and, secondly, because he reiterated his old threat to call out the Ulster volunteers to resist any attempt to place the Home Rule Act in operation.

The Attorney-General, Sir Gordon Hewart, announced in the House of Commons that there were no grounds for setting the law in motion against Sir Edward because of his threat to call out the Ulster volunteers against Home Rule.

By a vote of 217 to 73, the House rejected a motion by J. R. Clynes, Labor member, urging the government to prosecute Sir Edward Carson for his speech as incitement to violence and breach of the law.

The debate turned on the legal point, in which, the Attorney-General said, he had the concurrence of the Solicitor-General. But almost all the speakers without distinction of party condemned the Carson speech. Sir Donald Maclean, Liberal, appealed to the government to try to regain the moral authority of parliament by condemning the language the Irish Unionist leader used.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, contended that the government was bound to be guided by its legal advisers, though nothing could be more painful to him. If the government had been advised that the law was broken he would have insisted on action being taken or would have resigned. The whole thing was a very unfortunate affair, said Mr. Bonar Law.

The Labor organizations are not slow to point out how such incitement to "direct action" could be improved upon in the industrial field for securing political ends. The Liberal pro-Irish papers are really quick to point out that in point of tactics there is no difference between "King De Valera" and "King Carson."

Labor Conference Called At Ottawa

Ottawa.—It was decided at a meeting of the privy council to call a national industrial conference for September 11. To this meeting all provincial premiers or accredited representatives will come to talk over with representatives or organizations of employers and employees just what legislation would best help bring about an era of co-operation and concord in Canadian industry. Great efforts will be put forth to secure the hearty cooperation in this conference of all elements of labor and all organizations of employers.

Prices Drop In Germany

Profiteers, in a Panic, Flood Markets With Stocks of Food

Berlin.—Prices on all foodstuffs have fallen with a crash in Berlin as a result of the lifting of the blockade. They began to show weakness when it was rumored that the embargo would be lifted, but the real drop came only when illicit dealers with huge concealed stocks brought them out in universal panic to unload before competing supplies entering Germany.

Tons of provisions are being shipped in from occupied territories, while everywhere in the city German stores of coffee, cocoa, butter, sausages, and other supplies have made their appearance. Coffee prices fell from an average of forty marks to fifteen, and the price of butter easily be bought for fifteen.

Other food prices were correspondingly cut. Restaurants, however, still maintain high prices and apparently intend to continue to do so as long as possible.

Minimum Price Of 1919 Crop

Winnipeg.—An afternoon paper prints the following from its Ottawa correspondent:

Confirmation was given by Sir Thomas White of the report that a minimum price for wheat will be guaranteed in all probability by the government. What this price is to be Sir Thomas would not say. The intention is to give commercial and financial stability to the marketing of the crop, in view of unsettled world conditions, the unique situation created by the United States fixed price, and the uncertainty as to how the world demand would react to the queer conditions now obtaining. The fixing of a price gives a guarantee which will facilitate the placing of the crop, it is hoped.

Hot In India

Troops Campaigning in India Suffer Terribly From Heat and Cholera

Peshawar, India.—The continued heat is appalling, but everything is being done to mitigate the sufferings of the troops. Ice plants have been fitted up at Landikotal and Dakma, and an attempt is being made to supply a pound of ice daily to each British soldier. Special huts have been equipped in the Khyber district for treatment of heat cases. The violent epidemic of cholera, which broke out in June, lasted nearly three weeks. There were 1,663 cases and 566 deaths, principally among the camp's followers. Six British officers and 15 men also died, but the disease is now practically stamped out.

A special train now daily carries troops for short spells to the Murree Hills. The troops are now better housed and fed than in any previous campaign. The firm steadiness of the British troops in facing the heat deserves the utmost admiration.

Set Price Of U. S. Wheat

Wheat and Wheat Flour Imports and Exports Put Under Prescribed Limitations

Washington.—President Wilson has signed an executive order increasing the guaranteed price of the 1919 wheat crop to $2.30 per bushel at Galveston and New Orleans.

At the same time a presidential proclamation was issued declaring that in order "to protect the United States against undue enhancement of its liability" under the law guaranteeing wheat prices, that on and after July 31 no wheat or wheat flour should be imported into or exported from the United States except within prescribed limitations to be prescribed by the wheat administrator.

Raisuli Again On Warpath

Spanish Position Is Attacked By the Bandits

Madrid.—Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit, according to an official communication, again has attacked the Spanish positions at El Arish, but was repulsed after a long and bitter fight. The bandit, realizing that the Spanish forces had cut off communication between his camp and Tangier, decided to attack, and the communication said it was carried on furiously. Raisuli suffered heavy losses, leaving many dead or wounded on the field. The communication adds that the Spaniards also lost heavily, but they are pursuing Raisuli, who is fleeing into the mountainous country.

Co-Operative Plan Suggested

To Aid Stockmen To Get Feed to Cattle, or Cattle to Feed, as Needed

Ottawa.—To relieve the stock-raisers in the dry areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan whose herds are threatened through scarcity of feed, the federal government has submitted two proposals to the provincial governments interested. It is proposed to cut hay on the Dominion lands in the north, bale it and ship it south to feed the cattle or to send the cattle from the southern areas to the hay lands of the north, where moisture has been adequate and grass is abundant.

To carry out either or both of these proposals the Dominion government has proposed to the provincial authorities that the cost of securing and moving the hay and cattle be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments, railway companies and stock owners.

Another proposal for division of expense is that it be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments and railway companies. This latter probably will be adopted, as the stock owners may not be in a financial position to assume any part of the cost. The Alberta authorities have signified their willingness to co-operate, and it is believed will advise that the whole expense be borne by the Dominion and provincial governments and the railway companies.

Forest Fires Caused By Heat

Three Men Trapped in Tunnel of Mine in Salmon River Valley

Nelson.—Three men are trapped by forest fires in a tunnel at the Second Relief mine, near Erieh in the Salmon River Valley. The men are known to have provisions enough to last them for four days.

According to a telephone message received here from Erieh, the men are believed to be safe for the time being, although there is danger that they may be suffocated should the flames close in on the mouth of the tunnel.

Several forest fires have started in this district during the past few days as a result of the hot wave. Forest rangers say that the fires are due to the spontaneous combustion of gas generated by the heat from the resin in the trees.

Slogan City, about 25 miles from here, is surrounded by fires. Fire hose have been stretched to outlying sections of the town.

Manitoba Taking Alberta Cattle

Winnipeg.—As a result of the present crisis in the cattle industry in Alberta, where there has been a total failure of hay and other fodder crops, leaving, according to reports, approximately 150,000 head of cattle without food, the Manitoba Department of Agriculture has decided to purchase between 25,000 and 30,000 head for the farmers of this province. Action by the government was announced by Hon. V. Winkler, minister of agriculture.

Britain May Have New Political Party

U.S. Opinion And Irish Question

London.—The British government does not regard the action of the United States senate with respect to Ireland or the acts in the same connection of other persons or bodies representing the United States people, as in violation of Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, said Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons.

The government, Mr. Law added, would not put the question of the future government of Ireland on the program for consideration at the next meeting of the council of the League of Nations.

Predicts Split In Labor Ranks

Dominion Trades and Labor Council Will Have to Take Some Action

Winnipeg.—In the opinion of many union officials, summary action by the Dominion Trades and Labor council is expected to follow the adoption by the local Trades and Labor Council of the Calgary convention report, amounting to full endorsement of the One Big Union project. The possibility that the local council's charter will be cancelled and formation of a new council comprising unions loyal to the congress authorized, was widely discussed in labor circles.

R. A. Rigg, general organizer for the congress in Western Canada, announced that he had telegraphed the Ottawa headquarters about the action taken by the local council and that he expected to learn what steps would be taken soon.

Mr. Rigg spoke for half an hour against the One Big Union before the vote was taken. "It was all arranged, anyhow," he said, "and there was no chance of winning our point so long as the Trades and Labor Council retains its present make-up."

Rioting in Stettin

Copenhagen.—A general strike, accompanied by rioting, has started at Stettin, capital of the province of Pomerania, Prussia, according to advices received from German sources. The strike involves all trades, including harbor transport, water and electrical power workers. The object of the strike is to secure abolition of martial law in Pomerania and other political reforms.

No Military Entente With U.S.

London.—A report that Great Britain and the United States has entered into an agreement regarding their respective military establishments was denied in the House of Commons by Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

London.—A sensation has been caused in political circles by the news that Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of War, who has just returned from visiting Premier Lloyd George at Criccieth, delivered a speech at a dinner in the west end, at which over a hundred members of the House of Commons were present, urging the necessity of a new and permanent coalition party, rechristened the "Centre" party.

The dinner was organized quietly, and only became known of when some of the diners returned to the House.

It appears that Col. Churchill, speaking as a disciple of Lloyd George, spoke for an hour, and reviewed old political differences, and emphasized the necessity for continued combination of the moderates among the Unionists and Liberals in order to preserve what had been won in the war.

Col. Churchill insisted that co-operation was necessary in order to fight Bolshevism.

The supporting speakers included the chief coalition Liberal and Unionist whips.

The Lord Chancellor referred sympathetically to the future of the Labor party, but some speculation exists as to the new party's attitude of alliance or opposition towards the saner elements. The diners gained the impression that Lloyd George would lead the new Centre party.

He was given three days in which to mow the noxious weeds or take a penalty of $25 and costs.

E. C. Hunt, provincial horticulturist in charge of this district, has issued the following estimate of the 1919 crop in the Creston Valley: Apples, early, 10 per cent. increase. Apples, late, 20 per cent. increase. Pears, 15 per cent. decrease. Plums and prunes, normal crop. Peaches 25 per cent. decrease. Cherries same as 1918. Crabapples, 10 per cent. decrease. Strawberries, 65 per cent. increase. Raspberries, 30 per cent. decrease. Gooseberries same as 1918. Currants, 10 per cent. increase. Loganberries and blackberries, same as 1918.

The first of a number of Old Country fruit buyers made the Valley a visit on Friday and Saturday last in Wm. Crossley of the well-known firm of D. Crossley & Sons, who operate warehouses at London, Liverpool, Glasgow and New York. He is in the market for at least ten cars of winter apples of the medium sizes, with a special desire for Jonathans, Yellow Newtowns and Cox Orange. Owing to the inability to secure unlimited ocean shipping space the buying of Canadian fruit will be restricted to a considerable extent this year.

The Gerrard hatchery is said to have placed something like 1,500,000 salmon and trout fry in Kootenay lake by way of the Lardeau river last year.
