THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XI. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1919 No. 35

Wynndel

Mrs. Rudd was a Nelson visitor the fore part of the week, returning on Tuesday.

Edward Butterfield, who is taking treatment at the sanitarium at Balfour, was home for a few days visit last week.

Ashley Cooper is taking advantage of the existing fine weather to get along with clearing operations on the 20-acre tract to the north of his residence.

Wynndel district made quite a showing in the plum section of the fruit class at Creston fair. In six chances they captured four first prizes and one second, the Moon and Ashley Cooper ranches being responsible.

Sam Moon, however, carried off the big end of the prizes for the local exhibitirs with five firsts and one second on ten entries. His red tickets were on the crate and plate of tomatoes. Lombard and Green Gage plums, and Grimes Golden apples. His second was on the plate of tomatoes—getting both prizes in that section.

Paul Hagen was another quite successful exhibitor at Creston fair, with a first on saddle pony and second on dairy cow over two years. Mrs. Hagen won first on butter—prints.

John Bathie was a business visitor at Cranbrook a few days last week. Mr. Dewar, Monrad and Joe Wigen and Miss Olga Wigen were also at the fair, making the trip by auto.

The box factory is still running to capacity on the day side, with an occasional overtime shift to take care of rush orders. The apple box output will exceed last year's considerable, and everyone pleased with the pine end and cotton wood side box that is being made.

The twelve acres next the Dixon ranch has just changed hands, the buyor being J C Clark, a brother of Mrs. Moon, who visited here a few months ago. He is awaitsng a supply of lumber to run up a house and will then get busy on clearing operations.

Sirdar

Misses Myrtle and Margeory Goodman are Nelson residents at present, where they are attending college.

Mrs. Jones of Kuskanook was here on Friday on her return from Creston where she had been on a business visit—transferring Edgar Wright's bank account to Vancouver, where he is now located.

Rev. J. S. Mahood of Queen's Bay was a Sunday caller here for the usual every-three weeks' Church of England service.

Creston callers this week include G. Cam, Billy Morris, and Mesdames Grundy, Aspey and Loasby.

Sirdar had but one exhibitor at the Creston fair, the North ranch having entries in fruit and vegetables. In the ladies' work class Mrs. North had a number of articles of embroidery on exhibit, which helped materially to brighten up that department of the exhibition. The North peaches were the best at the show.

Mrs. Brewis, wife of the school principal, is leaving shortly on an extended trip to the Peace River country, where she will visit her sister for a time.

All the local employees were highly complimented by Supt. Maharg for the excellent time and manner in which they handled the Prince of Wales special train out of here last Wednesday night. In their new overalls and gloves Messrs. Loasby, Tuohey, Dennes, et al certainly presented the best possible appearance.

Conductor Joe Jackson was in charge of the royal train, which was made up of ten coaches and two engines, and is said to be the heaviest passenger engine handled over the Crow line. His trainmen were Messrs. McIntosh and Wallace, while Engineers Brock and Magee were at the throttles. Although at least three hours late out of here the train reached Macleod only half an hour behind schedule. As a slight token of appreciation of Con. Jackson's masterly handling of this leg of the prince's trip Mayor Daly suggests that Joe be made governor of Ireland when home rule is inaugurated.

Canyon City

L. H. Hussack last week sold his 20-acre ranch here to a Mr. McQueen who is from Alberta, and who takes posession shortly. The ranch is quite well improved, and it is the buyer's intention to make it one of the show places in these parts.

Canyon on Wednesday last wished Mr. and Mrs. Con. Hall godspeed and a safe return on a trip east that will take them to the old home at Woodstock, N.B., where they will visit for some time. The Hall place was sold to G. Davey, a returned soldier, at $5000, which includes everything but wearing apparel belonging to the seller's. At that figure certainly Mr. Hall sold at at least $1000 below today's value, and such tangible consideration for a war veteran cannot be too highly commended. Mr. Davey has secured one of the choicest places in the Valley.

The soldiers' memorial fund dance and entertainment in the schoolhouse on Friday night last was splendidly attended, and a most enjoyable evening was spent throughout by the large crowd. The affair will net at least $40 for the proposed memorial.

Mrs. Knott, who has been a Glenlily visitor since the end of August, arrived home last week.

The trustees haye decided to take a slightly different type of desk than originally intended—and which were out of stock at the coast. The new sort haye been shipped, and are expected any day now.

Engineer Ramsay and Foreman Moor were in this section last week in speeting the raad making that is being done on the Erickson-side approach to the new high level bridge. The irrigation authorities, Comptroller Cleveland and Engineer Biker, were also visitors in this section last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. G. Hamilton is reorganizing the Methodist Church work here on a business basis, the latest move being the formation of a quarterly board of which the following are the members: Mrs. Knott, G. Strong and W. S. Gil[illegible] When the seats and [illegible] seats are installed at the school it is expected the church services will be held in the schoolhouse.

Apple picking and packing is still the chief occupation of the rancher and from present appearance the Canyon section will have almost 3000 boxes to ship—a gain of 25 per cent over 1918.

Larger Crowd Few Less Entries

Creston Valley's 1919 fall fair is now a matter of history. While there was a falling off in entries in some departments, amounting to a matter of about fifteen per cent. on the whole as compared with last year, when one remembers the adverse conditions the fair people were up against, especially in the miserable weather that prevailed the day previous as well as throughout fair day itself, this year's exhibition may rightly be described as eminently successful in every way—the gate receipts running 50 per cent. in excess of a year ago.

The new main building comfortably housed all the exhibits, except the stock and poultry, and was electrically lighted by a Delco plant supplied by the Cranbrook Electric Light Co., who had Messrs. Eakin and McPhee in charge.

During the afternoon there were sports of various sorts, including races for the juveniles, as well as a couple of Indian events. These, along with baseball matches in which Creston handlily disposed of Porthill and were in similar fashion beaten by the crack Wycliffe team, who took home the $50 cash prize, helped the crowd which numbered almost 1000 of all ages to pass the afternoon as pleasantly as possible in the rather frigid weather that obtained.

In the fruit section the show was fully equal to 1918. There were fewer boxes on dxhibit, but this was amply made up by an increase in the plate stuff. The coveted Speers' cup, for the best five boxes of apples in the show was won by the Truscott Bros. with Delicious, with Jas. Cook second with the same variety, and Jas. Adlard third with a show of Wealthy and McIntosh Red. Last year this cup was won by Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, while previous to that it was held by Mr. Cook. The best colored box of apples (for variety) was won by W. V. Jackson with Kings, while Jas. Cook scored firsts on both the best box as well as the best packed box, his Delicious being scored the best box in the hall. There was an especially heavy showing in the boxes in MacIntoshes in which Miss Hazel Andrew was again winner, while in competition with six others in Jonathans and with four in Wagners the Cook ranch took the red tickets in each case. In the plates there was some outside competition, the Mackie ranch at Bsowell winning Cox Orange, and taking second on Wagner, while in peaches Arthur North was the winner, with E. Simmons second. In the fruit department of the hall Truscott Bros. had their Gifford apple grading machine at work and it attracted much favorable attention all afternoon.

The dry season, of course cut down the show of roots and vegetables there being entries in about two-thirds of the sections listed. E. Simmons had a fine display in the best collection, and well deserved a first prize on it. Sam Moon had things all his own way on tomatoes getting first on his crate, and both first and second on the plates As was the case in 1918 his display of tomatoes were just about perfection for color and were splendidly uniform as to size. The North ranch at Sirdar had some of its product on exhibit, the display of egg plant and marrow being very noticeable.

In the ladies' section there was a larger display in the needlework class than last year. The entry was largest in the corset cover yoke in filet crochet where Mrs. Compton won over eight other competitors. Another large entry was in the buttoholes, where Mrs. W. V. Jackson took the red ticket in competition with half a dozen others. Miss A. Doyle very kindly loaned the exhibition a collection of [illegible] pieces comprising the lot attracting no end of attention from the lady visitors, while a smaller display of ornamental embroidery by Mrs. North of Sirdar was also very much admired.

In the cookery the show was almost equal to last rear, though the exhibit of bread was disappointing. The feature of this was the tie for second prize on the Robin Hood special between Mrs. Birney and Mrs. C. Cotterill. The same state of affairs happened in the canned goods where Mrs. Downs and Mrs. Cook were equal for first honors on the three jars of canned fruit.

The show of cattle was similar in size to last year, but representing more exhibitors. The coveted Bank of Commerce medal for the best beef breed cow went to J. H. Webster of Alice Siding, with Paul Hagen of Wynndel second, while W. V. Jackson captured the other Bank of Commerce medal for best dairy breed cow. Messrs. Rodgers, Compton and Maxwell were other winners in the cattle class, with S. A. Speers scoring first on registered Jersey heifer.

The judges in the different classes were: Fruit—Ben Hoy of Vernon, and W. J. White of Victoria. Livestock and Poultry—Dr. Rutledge, Cranbrook, and E. C. Gale of Vancouver. Juvenile—Principal Smith and Vice-Principal Pearce of the Creston school. Needlework—Mrs. MacKenzie of Nelson, and Mrs. C. B. Garland. Cooking and canned goods—Mrs. Chalmers of Thrums, and Mrs. (Rev.) Hamilton.

Erickson

H. Martin and family arrived back from Red Deer, Alta., a few days ago, to which point they moved from here in 1916. For the present they are occupying the house on the Lewis ranch.

Indian harvest help has had to be requisitioned to get in the vegetable crop, W. H. Kemp having some of the reds busy at potato digging. Spuds are running about 4 tons to the acre.

Miss Asseltine of Calgary, Alta., is a Erickson visitor this week with Miss Jane Long, with whom she went to college in the Alberta city about three years ago.

The Union Sunday school is now meeting in the afternoon of each Sabbath at 2.30, instead of in the morning Every second Sunday Rev. G.H. Hamilton, the Valley's new Methodist pastor, pays the school a visit. The attendance is around 40 at present.

Another prairie visitor is our former citizen, Frank Martin, who is stopping at the Martin ranch. Frank has been with the Mounted Police the last three years, joining up at Maple Creek, Sask.

Miss Palmer reports an enrollment of 25 pupils at the Erickson school for September, with an average attendance of 21. Those registering perfect attendance are Lloyd Cartwright, Walter and Robert Dodds and Aubrey Kemp.

Erickson growers were much to the fore in the fruit exhibits at the Creston fair last month—as well as in some other classes. In fact this section accounted for more than 50 per cent. of the stuff shown.

A number from here are showing fruits and vegetables at the Creston fair to morrow, with some interest attaching to Sam Moon's show of tomatoes, which are counted on to beat Erickson,s best.

Alice Siding

Miss Ruth Smith is a Nelson visitor this week, a visitor with her sister, Mrs. Fred Taylor, now resident there.

The first deer of the season were taken by local hunters on Sunday when Ron. and Hector Stewart got a couple of nice ones in the timber back of the schoolhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Wells and young daughter, arrived last week from Victoria, on a visit to the former's father, Dr. Primrose Wells. Misses Mona and Ursula Wells are also here from the capital on a visit to their father.

Miss Edna Parker, who has been a visitor with Miss Bertha Pease, returned home on Monday.

The season's hay cutting operations were officially closed last week and the cattle are again finding pasture at their old haunts on the flats.

Rev. T. McCord was here for the inital Presbyterian service in the schoolhouse on Sunday afternoon, and was favored with a turnout of fifteen.

S. E. Beyts, C.P.R. special investigator, Cranbrook, is the buyer of the Bartholomew ranch, paying $3200 for the place. As soon as Mr. Long secures another residence the Beyts family will take possession.

G. H. Bohlee is now a resident of Creston, moving there last week, into Mrs. M. Young's property on Fourth street, which he has purchased.

Harry Farrell was a visitor with Nelson friends a few days last week.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon on October 1st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webster, when their eldest daughter, Miss Ella, was united in marriage with Mr. Howard B. MacDonald of Calgary, Rev. T. McCord officiating. Only the family and a few immediate friends witnessed the happy event, the couple being unattended, and the bride gowned in her travelling suit of navy blue serge. The bride was given away by her father. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald left on the afternoon train on a wedd ng trip to Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, after which they will make their home at Calgary, Alta., where the groom is manager for a well known insurance company. During the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Webster here the past four yeare the bride won the friendship of quite a few of the Valley citizens, all of whom extend best wishes for their future happiness.

"Well," said Ruth, slowly, "I would put these two women 'way back of my mind, and work hard for the day to come when they'd be mighty glad to resume their friendship with me. I'm pretty sure that that day will come, and so are you. All you've got to do now is to make good, do you understand? You've got your future pretty well marked out. Think of that. You expect to get the managership of this Vienna branch, and you certainly deserve it. After that, you may get the managership of Austria, and perhaps in time the managership of all of Europe, and then of the whole continent, and then perhaps the whole thing. You're young, and you know the business, and you're going to know it a lot better before you get through. Don't let a little thing like this get in your way."

Ruggles's face glowed. "You're right, Miss Downing," said he. "After all, the company's the main thing."

"Don't let any silly woman put you off," said Ruth. "Remember that you [illegible] me. You owe it to [illegible] company. You're [illegible] now in your position [illegible] work for the sake of [illegible] have their minds [illegible] of [illegible] something" she [illegible] with her [illegible] self to speak. "There's no danger of my ever going off and forgetting it," said he, almost inaudibly. "Thank you — ever so much. I guess I won't worry much about—about all that I've been telling you—now that I've got this. You've helped me more than—more than anybody else ever did, Miss Downing. I'd better go, now—"

"Wait a minute," said Ruth. "I'll wrap it up for you."

She disappeared again, to return immediately with a piece of wrapping-paper in which she hastily enveloped the portrait and handed it to Ruggles, who took it like one in a trance.

"Good-bye, Miss Downing," said he.

Ruth gave him her hand. "Don't forget to let me know how you succeed," she said. "We're leaving tomorrow after lunch for London and Liverpool. Good-bye and good luck, Mr. Ruggles."

Ruggles walked back to Passy with the rhythmic step and glazed eyes of a somnambulist. He did not awake from his trance until his buxom Swiss landlady handed him a letter with an apologetic smile.

"It came this morning, Mr. Ruggles," said she, "but Josef was careless and slipped it under the door of our new boarder. He does not get up until noon, so the error was not discovered."

Ruggles thanked her and took the letter, and as he glanced at the heading of the envelope, his heart, already sorely taxed, gave a sudden bound. Here, at last, were the long expected official orders to go to Vienna and take command of the new store. What a pity, he thought, that Josef had been so careless! With this letter in his pocket, how much better equipped he would have been to talk to Miss Challand and Darthea. But, after all, it was not the fault of the company. The company had done its part and backed up his claims as he had known all the time that the company would. "Put not your faith in princes and other nobility," Ruggles thought, "but put it in the Walkeasy Shoe Company, and you can't go wrong."

He hurried to his room and, standing with back to the last rays of the autumn sunset, tore open the envelope and read as follows:

Mr. Richard P. Ruggles,
Walkeasy Shoe Company, Paris, France.

Dear Sir,—We regret to inform you that we find ourselves unable to offer you the managership of the new branch store of the Walkeasy Shoe Company at Vienna.

For such an appointment, we find it preferable to assign, when possible, a person thoroughly conversant with the business methods and language of the country in which the store is situated. Inasmuch as Mr. Max Lorenz, recently employed in the Paris store, appears to possess the necessary requirements, besides having been formerly employed in a rival establishment, and being therefore well acquainted with the trade, it has been found preferable to appoint him as manager of the new Vienna branch.

We assure you that your application will remain open to our consideration, and, no doubt, in the event of another European branch store being established at a later date, we may be able to offer you the desired opportunity.

Yours very truly,
B. F. HASTINGS,
European General Manager W. S. Co.

CHAPTER VIII.

There are times in the lives of most of us when the whole universe appears to become one big, cruel, practical joke, of which we are the helpless, undeserving victims.

So it seemed now to Ruggles. He had worked honestly and faithfully for the Walkeasy Shoe Company, giving it his most earnest efforts and trying to prepare himself to serve its interests in a broader capacity. What had been the result? Not only had the company failed to give him the reward which he felt to be his due, but, what was far worse, it seemed to Ruggles that it had been guilty of broken faith. It had given him its assurance that his services were soon to be recognized according to their merits, then preferred above his head a man who had been in its employ for less than four months, and who [illegible] of his natural [illegible] ity, was convinced had not the half of his own ability and knowledge of the business. What had Lorenz ever done for the Walkeasy Shoe Company? What had his father ever done before him? Lorenz was an indifferent salesman, rather slow and sometimes none too patient with undecided or difficult customers, apt to be irritable or taciturn with his fellow employees, and, as he had proved himself in his relations to Ruggles, treacherous and dishonest.

Australia's Shipping Needs

Serious Position of Outward Goods' Traffic Has Not Shown Improvement

Melbourne, Victoria.—"More steamers, especially with insulated space," is the constant demand of Australian merchants, and the serious position of the outward goods' traffic has not shown the improvement which peace was expected to bring. For nearly two years 2,000 casks of pickled pelts have been waiting transport, and 100,000 cases of canned fruit and jams and 50,000 cases of canned meat cannot be shipped. Six thousand tons of tallow and edible fats, and 250 tons of powdered milk are among the accumulated exports in Australian sheds and on Australian wharves.

Old Age Deferred

BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

Business men who must speed up the works and make business boom during these days—after the war—must recognize the necessity of keeping fit. When mind is befogged, when you have dull headaches or feel logy, when not "up to snuff," keep the bowels free with a mild laxative. In the morning take a tepid sponge bath (cold water may be used if it does not chill), follow with a brisk rub down; a sufficient "setting up" exercise in good air until you are in a warm glow. Have you tried it lately?

Don't let the poisons accumulate in the intestines either, but try a dose of castor oil the first thing on arising, or a pleasant laxative occasionally, such as one made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, rolled into a tiny sugar-coated pill, and sold in every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Then a cup of hot water before breakfast, and you'll feel better than a king! If you continue in life thus, you can pass a Life Insurance examination at sixty.

If you wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if you want to increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of soft (rain) or distilled water daily between meals. Then procure at the drug store Dr. Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid). This "Anuric" drives the uric acid out and relieves backache and rheumatism, as well as kidney trouble. Anuric dissolves uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

Impurities of the Blood Counteracted.—Impurities in the blood come from defects in the action of the liver. They are revealed by pimples and unsightly blotches on the skin. They must be treated inwardly, and for this purpose there is no more effective compound to be used than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They act directly on the liver, and by setting up healthy processes have a beneficial effect upon the blood, so that impuritites are eliminated.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipated children can find prompt relief through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are mild but thorough laxative, which never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Gaspard Daigle, Demain, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of great benefit to my little boy, who was suffering from constipation and indigestion. They quickly relieved him, and now he is in the best of health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Butte, Montana.—In July no prisoners were fed in the city jail at Anaconda, Montana, a city of 12,000 people. SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

Howell: "Your wife is a decided blonde, isn't she?"

Powell: "Well, at times, but just before she goes to the drug store she is a little undecided."

Eighty-five per cent. of lame people are affected on the left side.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

First German Cargo Arrives

Former Hamburg - American - Atlas Liner at New York

New York.—The 1,500-ton steamer Jason, formerly the Virginia, of the Hamburg-American-Atlas line, has arrived here bringing the first cargo from Germany since the war ended. The ship left Hamburg, Germany, September 5, in charge of Captain W. H. Bevans.

Bevans said he took a cargo of meat to Germany and brought back 350 tons of sugar beet seed, plate glass, artificial flowers and beaded handbags.

The port of Hamburg is practically stripped of shipping, Bevans said. He saw only six steamers in the harbor there, and said three more were being constructed, including the Bismarck, which will be the largest vessel afloat. Food is plentiful in Hamburg, he asserted.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, OCT. 10

Ministers Visit

Creston Board of Trade had a special session on Monday night for the purpose of meeting Hon. J. H. King, minister of works, and Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, who had spent the day in this section, for the purpose of discussing with them matters which had been taken up by correspondence within the year. There were about thirty members in attendance, with President Constable presiding.

For the board's agriculture committee Jas. Compton impressed upon Mr. Barrow the need of a resident horticulturist here, who might, possibly, also conduct a small experimental farm. In reply Mr. Barrow assured that as soon as the right man for this section was available he would be located here. Men with the practical as well as the college training in both agriculture and fruit growing were scarce, but that was the type of man required, especially in view of the development at Lister. As to small experimental farms Mr. Barrow had little or no faith in their usefulness, and it is not the department's intention to place one in the Valley. Robt. S. Stark spoke upon the irrigation question, but as this is a matter for the minister of lands to handle the visitors did not feel competent to make any statement whatever.

The need for greater attention to the Valley roads was urged by C. O. Rodgers, chairman of the board's transportation committee, who gave some interesting facts as to the auto traffic as well as the dimensions of the crops that are now being hauled to market. President Constable handled the new highways situation, specially emphasizing the need of a good road to connect up with the new U.S. north and south road which will be built next year. Mr. Constable also urged action on completing the present road through from Sirdar to Kuskanook.

In reply Hon. Mr. King tackled the whole provincial road situation pretty thoroughly. The road troubles the Valley is having is duplicated in almost every part of the province, and the department has now evolved a policy which will satisfactrily handle the main or trunk roads by as speedily as finances will permit converting them into permanent highways. Experiments have been successfully carried on to discover a suitable quality of gravel that will combine with the sand and clay and give a road surface that will stand the wear and tear and next season road construction on this basis will be proceeded with. As to the Kuskanook road, as soon as the federal government advises that the necessary bridge piers will be erected and the C. P. R. assures that boats will make the stop there to load on autos the Sirdar-Kuskanook road will be gone on with.

As to reclamation of the Kootenay flats the minister of works pronounced himself strongly in favor of turning the area over to the federal authorities for soldier settlement provided Ottawa would proceed with reclamation effort. Other crown lands in B.C. had been offered the Dominion for soldier settlement and Mr. King could see no reason why these flats should not be similarly handed over. On the Kootenay River ferry he assured something would be undertaken next year to provide a new scow as well as to settle the queston of location. In the matter of location all parties interested one way or the other will be given opportunity to present their case to the engineer when the enquiry is made.

The Expenditure of $610,000,000

How the last Victory Loan was spent

For Demobilization

For Trade Extension

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers This included $312.900.000 for paying them feeding them bringing them home separation allowances to their dependents maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools

$59.000.000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers gratuities

$9.000.000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster

✦ ✦ ✦ ✧ ✦ ✦ ✦

Other disbursements were not strictly speaking expenditures, but National Re-investments

To Great Britain for example.

$173.500.000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals
$9.000.000 for our fish
$30.000.000 for other Foodstuffs
$2,900,000 for Canadian built ships
$5,500.000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.

The Lure of the Kootenay

Mid the ceaseless throb and sob of the city:
A wafted voice is borne in on me,
Its insistent urge keeps calling—come away.
As it visions a fair valley—the lure of Kootenay.
Witn its mild congenial climate, unrivalled, 'tis true,
Evidence, the luscious fruit, or ask the honey bee.
There to wander 'mid the everlasting hills,
Whose rocky rugged peaks pierce the sky:
With a cedar-scented cabin at their feet,
And a clear rippling creek near by.
'Tis there! 'Tis there! one's longing to be,
Where all nature charms in fair Kootenay.

You may have the city with its surging life,
Its wanton wearying ennui of aping society
But that alluring valley, the gem of Kootenay,
Out rivals all your cities, and most appeals to me.

Where nature's face, unmarred by man,
Offers a free feast of unending variety
As one wanders and ponders, lost amid wonders
And the elixir of life blows ever free.
When all things are hushed, and silence reigns
Save for the cooing owl, and the lone coyote calls;
'Tis then the evening zephyrs come whispering near,
From their far glacier homes, with sheening ice walls;
As they play hide and seek 'mid the cedar-pine crest,
Their cool breath one's being doth enthral.
At one with all nature, one turns in to rest,
And lose one's self musing—just musing that's all.

You may have the city with its vitiated air,
Its monkey teas and dog shows, and social mimicry:
More pleasure fills one moment spent midst the scenery,
With all nature atune in sunny Kootenay.

Where, on every hand, moves the wild life;
Timid creatures of earth, water and wing,
To know of your life, haunts and habits,
Fitting study,—aye, for a prince or a king.
Yet man with his savage survivals,
Still hunts you, his sport and his prey;
Until this human creature becomes more humane,
You are wise in instinct to fear and to flee away.
Here the meadow lands spread their bright carpet,
In varying rainbow colors suffused with green;
And the waterways wander away to the lake,
Here's colors so rare, ne'er seen on a queen.
See those knarled willow clumps dotting the landscape,
How aged and decrepid many of them seem;
And the more stately cottonwoods skirting the bays,
How many high waters indeed have they seen?
In their serrated bark coats, a marvel to view,
Offering free shade and shelter to dusky aborigine.
Where the young mother squaw croons to her baby papoose
By the glowing wood embers in a smoke-tipped teepee;
Near by squats her "moyice" puffing his knickanick;
All children of nature, mostly contented, care-free,
Caring little for the white man's civilized craze,
They live the simple life, unconcerned for the morrow.
Free to wander they cling to their forefather's ways,
Take more joy out of life, and less of its sorrow.

You can have the painted city, with its dollar-driven day;
Its vulgar vaunting wealth, social vice and decay.
Millionaire mansions, want and misery alongside,
Fruits of a vicious social system doomed to pass away.
Would society avert evolution's on-coming tide,
Then economic social justice its dictum, only fools will deride.

From that rustic cedar cabin a fall picture behold
No city art museum ever held its compeer:
Of inter lacing color tints, of every shade and hue,
Depicted on the meadows, and wooded hills near.
A shading and a coloring that eludes' artists brush:
For a faithful reproduction, priceless—but not dear.
Oh the lure of it all as the evening shadows fall,
In this valley where one's happy to be.
Watching the golden glow on the far away hills,
As the sun sinks to rest, westward by the sea:
And the shadows deepen and darken the cabin door,
Nestling on a Crest—on the breast of this fertile valley.

You can have the city with its restless, sweltering life:
With all its social shamming, and veneer of gaiety.
May the valley be spared from its withering blight,
Soul-searing dollar worship, all same heathen Chinee;
It's mostly all as froth, and tests much like dross
Compared with the alluring charms of fair Kootenay.

When passing at last o'er the "Great Divide,"
And the lone trail links us up with eternity;
Satisfied for to rest, by nature caressed,
Beside the purling waters of the Kootenay.

Proportional Representation

The action of the recent Industrial Conference held at Ottawa in unanimously endorsing the principle of proportional representation, and asking the Dominion Government to take the necessary steps to study the question, with a view to its application in elections in this country, coupled with announcement that the Government had decided upon such a course, brings appreciably nearer the day when this reform in the electoral machinery of Canada will become an accomplished fact.

The principle of proportional representation has now been approved by such large and influential bodies as the Canadian Council of Agriculture, representing the organized farmers of Canada; the Great War Veterans' Association, the National Liberal convention at Ottawa last August, the Labor party, Social Service Councils, and numerous other smaller organizations. The Speaker's Electoral Reform Conference of the British Parliament has reported in favor of the application of P.R. to certain classes of constituencies; it has been incorporated in the constitution of the new German republic; is already in operation in Belgium, Tasmania and other countries, and has been tested with complete satisfaction and success in municipal elections in the British Isles, and also in the Universities elections for the British House of Commons.

Nevertheless, we venture to say that if the average Canadian was asked to explain what proportional representation means, and how it operates, he would be hard put to it to give an intelligent answer. And it may as well be frankly admitted that it is not an easy matter to explain in a short article, especially to those who have our present system of election of representatives to parliament, legislatures and municipal councils by bare majority vote firmly fixed in their minds. However, in view of the fact that proportional representation is now a live issue in this country, it is well that an attempt, at least, should be made to explain this new system, its method, and the results which are sought to be attained by it, even though such an attempt may necessitate a series of two or three articles.

[illegible] electoral [illegible] should be to secure justice [illegible] all Races, whether [illegible] minority, to the [illegible] be fairly represented, and also that [illegible] possible [illegible] who are to [illegible] Government. Ed[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

Land Settlement For War Veterans

Ottawa.—At the opening of the session of the special committee of the House on soldiers' civil re-establishment, the telegram from the United Veterans' League, formerly the Gratuity League, demanding representation before the commission, came up.

The Imperial veterans of Vancouver had also asked that a representative be heard, and it was proposed to hear their delegates this week.

Brig.-Gen. McLean suggested that the secretary of the Imperial veterans at Winnipeg be asked that a delegate be appointed and notify the Vancouver branch what had been done, and asking if that was satisfactory. This was finally put in the form of a motion and carried.

Commandant J. G. Evans, of the Army and Navy Veterans, Kingston, requested that his organization be given a hearing by the committee. It was decided to get in touch with W. J. Tupper, Dominion president of the Army and Navy Veterans, asking that he take any action necessary toward appointing a delegate representing the whole organization.

S. Maber, secretary of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, was recalled and questioned regarding costs of administration and the advances made to soldiers. By the end of this year it was expected the total outlay for the department would be $48,600,000 for loans and administration. The estimate of $150,000,000 for fifty thousand soldiers who were expected to take loans, did not take into account the settlement of British ex-service men. Many enquiries from this class of men were being received.

About two-thirds of the 4,128 soldiers taking up grants, exercised their rights to take up homesteads. It has been the policy of the board to try and settle men near railroads. In that case there were few homesteads available for entry.

In reply to Mr. MacNeil, Mr. Maber said there were no figures available of the number of men disqualified because of inability to provide the necessary 10 per cent. cash payment. It would be difficult to secure any figures.

The matter of settling imperial soldiers, ex-service men, on the land was receiving serious consideration, said Mr. Maber. It was felt that it would be about all the load the board could handle in placing Canada's soldiers, he said.

Mr. McNeil asked if there was not a considerable amount of land available in unimproved land, now held under reserve.

Major Ashton answered that some sixty thousand acres of Indian reserve land would soon be made available for sale to the soldiers. Several townships of forest reserves had also been freed and several other townships were under investigation. These lands go to the soldiers free of purchase. Certain grazing leases are being investigated.

No grazing lease lands had yet been released for soldier settlement.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries" now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of this paper wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 615-A Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer yourself, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

Big Problem For D'Annunzio

Increase In Number of Men Brought About Question of Maintenance

Trieste.—Additional reinforcements to Gabriele D'Annunzio's forces have raised the military strength of his contingent to more than 12,000 men, according to the estimates of allied officers returning from Fiume.

The great increase in the number of D'Annunzio's men has brought about the serious question of their maintenance, in view of the blockade of the port, and D'Annunzio has been compelled to request other persons who have offered him their services to stay at home and hold themselves in readiness for a call.

Paris.—An Italian detachment with several armored motor cars has crossed the line of demarcation near Toguire, Dalmatia, and penetrated the town after having overcome the resistance of a dozen Jugo-Slavs, according to a dispatch from Belgrade received here.

The dispatch adds that the United States vessels have left Spala for Toguire.

Anti-Bolshevik Plot

London.—A Bolshevik wireless dispatch reports the discovery of an anti-Bolshevik plot, with ramifications throughout Russia, which led to the capture and execution of 66 men on charges of conspiracy. The plot is said to have originated in Moscow.

HER LITTLE GIRL HAD DYSENTERY

Bowels Moved as Many as 25 Times a Day

Dysentery manifests itself with varying degrees of intensity, but in well marked cases the attack is commonly preceded by some amount of diarrhoea, which gradually increases in severity, and is accompanied with griping pains in the abdomen. The discharges from the bowels succeed each other with great frequency, and the matter passed from the bowels, which at first resemble those of ordinary diarrhoea soon change their character, becoming scanty, mucuous or slimy, and subsequently mixed with, or consisting wholly of blood. Never neglect what at first appears to be a slight attack of diarrhoea or dysentery may set in.

Cure the first symptoms by the use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Mrs. Jno. V. Tanton, R. R. No. 8, Watford, Ont., writes:—"My daughter was taken down, two years ago, with dysentery, and I could find no help for her until I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. She was only two years old, and ate something different to what she was used to. She had as many as twenty-five movements a day, and mostly blood. We had the doctor several times, but no relief came until we used 'Dr. Fowler's.' I would not be without it in the house for a good bit."

Be sure and get "Dr. Fowler's" when you ask for it. Price, 35c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Around The World By Plane

Aero Club of America Will Set Plans for Huge Aerial Derby

New York.—Plans have been formulated for an aerial derby around the world, for which the prizes may total $1,000,000, it was announced here by the Aero Club of America.

A special commission has been appointed to make a tour of the world to arrange stopping places, obtain referees and organize committees in every country through which the racers will pass.

Dirigibles may be used by the competitors for a part or all of the trip.

General A. Ross Sworn In

Toronto, Ont.—Brig.-Gen. Arthur Ross, of Kingston, was sworn in by the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir John Hendrie, as minister in the Hearst government without portfolio.

As announced by Premier Hearst, the Soldiers' Aid Commission and the Soldiers' Settlement are to be under the administration of the new minister.

Senate Labor Probe

Labor Commission's Investigation of Nation-Wide Steel Strike

Washington.—Arrangements have been completed for the beginning of the senate labor commission's investigation of the nation-wide steel strike. Chairman Kenyon announced receipt of assurances from John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the strikers' organization committee, that he would be on hand to present labor's side of the controversy.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, in an address on the floor of the senate, criticized the strike in bitter terms, declaring it had been called on the thinnest excuse, and that the principal object was "to disturb and bedevil industrial conditions," and that the participation of hundreds of thousands of men in strikes throughout the country becomes almost civil war.

Primary objects of the senate investigation, Senator Kenyon said, would be the setting forth before the public the real causes and objects of the strike. Fitzpatrick, as well as Chairman Gary of the United States Steel Corporation, who is said to appear Wednesday, according to Senator Kenyon's plan of procedure, first will be asked for a detailed statement and then be subject to cross-examination by all members of the committee. It is hoped to complete the enquiry and return a report to the senate within a fortnight.

Senator Kenyon holds the hope that the investigation, in its enlightenment of the public, may affect the progress of the strike. The committee intends to learn from both sides of the dispute, exactly how many men and plants are affected, how many steel employees are union men, and how many non-union, what percentage remain "loyal," what collateral unions and industries are involved, and what conditions immediately led to the strike.

No Danger From Germany

Paris.—When the Chamber of Deputies resumed discussion of the German peace treaty, Andre Tardieu refuted certain objections to the treaty made by M. Marin regarding the military forces Germany will be allowed to maintain. M. Tardieu declared the German army should be reduced, under the terms of the treaty, to a sort of gendarmerie, and asserted that France had sufficient guarantees for the execution of the military clause in the treaty.

China's Peace Decoration

Pekin.—In the mandate issued by President Hsu Shih Chang, formally declaring the state of war between China and Germany at an end, General Tucai Chi Jui, the former Premier who was responsible for China's declaration of war, was awarded a decoration. The honor accorded him is in the bestowal of the Grand Order of Merit.

Grain Act Amendment

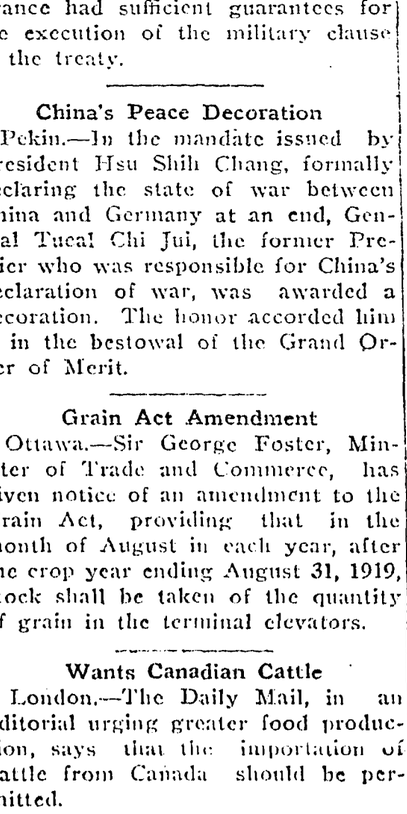
Ottawa.—Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has given notice of an amendment to the Grain Act, providing that in the month of August in each year, after the crop year ending August 31, 1919, stock shall be taken of the quantity of grain in the terminal elevators.

Wants Canadian Cattle

London.—The Daily Mail, in an editorial urging greater food production, says that the importation of cattle from Canada should be permitted.

Have Large Membership

There are 114 branches of the Great War Veterans' Association in Sask., with a total membership of 17,000.



May Avert Strike On British Railways

Salvaging Old Bullion

Difficulties of Getting Up Bars of Specie Are Immense

Londonderry.—A good many exaggerated estimates have been put into circulation regarding the success of the bullion salvaging operations in connection with the steamship Laurentic, which lies a few miles off the entrance to Lough Swilly. The facts are that of the $35,000,000 worth of specie which the liner was carrying to America when mined in January, 1917, probably less than $2,500,000 has been recovered. Of this about $1,250,000 was salved a year ago, when operations had to be suspended owing to German submarine activities.

It is not so much the actual hooking up of the bars of gold that is difficult, as the dealing with the hundreds of tons of metal plates of the wreck. These have to be blown up with gelignite and shifted before the bullion can be reached. Each bar is worth about $6,000, and the recovery of two bars is reckoned a fair day's work. When a sufficient consignmen has been got together it is sent in charge of a naval paymaster under a strong escort to London, and at various points on the journey the officer is met by government officials, to whom he reports "all safe."

League Can Exist Without U.S.

Paris.—In an explanation to the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Clemenceau, after declaring that the League of Nations could exist even though rejected by the United States senate, asserted that it was precisely because the French felt that the League of Nations was an insufficient guarantee for some years to come that the protective treaty of alliance between France, Great Britain and the United States was drawn up.

For A New Palestine

Proposal For a Union of Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia

London.—Habibi Lotfallah, chief European representative of the Syrian union committee, informed the Associated Press that Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, has tentatively accepted a proposal drawn by the committee for a union of Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia. Prince Feisal's acceptance, he said, was given on condition that the British Government approved the plan. The proposal already has been laid before the Government, [illegible] which is considering it.

The scheme provides for the appointment over the united nations of a governor-general to be selected by Great Britain, France and Syria the executive bodies, a chamber and senate representing three different states on a democratic basis and the drafting of a constitution.

London.—By a curious coincidence on the day Sir Eric Geddes has formally taken up his new duties as Minister of Transport, the Government was confronted by an ultimatum threatening stoppage of the whole railroad system of the country, unless a basis for the standardization of the men's wages, which has been in dispute since the month of March, is settled to the men's satisfaction. When it is remembered how fierce was the opposition the Transport Bill, which created the new ministry, met in its passage through parliament, the coincidence is perhaps not without significance.

The suddenness of the action of the National Union of Railwaymen is the more inexplicable as, by an agreement, the war wages of the workers would operate until the end of the year, allowing still three months for further negotiations.

It is recalled that the Glasgow congress avoided a straight vote on direct action, and the Miners' Federation is at present engaged in a great campaign to secure nationalization of the mines, which the Government has so far refused. The question is being asked by the public whether there is some political motive behind the railwaymen's ultimatum.

The cabinet sat for three hours considering the crisis, after which it is authoritatively announced that the Government had intimated its willingness to continue the negotiations on the ground that "some misunderstanding" existed.

Sir Eric Geddes consented to meet the men's leaders, and the possibility of avoiding a strike, therefore, looks more hopeful.

Good Crops In Dry Districts

Late Flax Proving Most Profitable Crop in Swift Current District

Swift Current, Sask.—No frost has yet appeared in this district, the year having established a record in this regard. As a consequence many farmers have started cutting fields of flax that promise excellent yields in many instances. Fortunately, taking the district as a whole, there is a large amount of late flax, and it now seems assured that most of it will be successfully harvested. One farmer in the vicinity who counted on no crop is realizing over $4,000 from his flax, besides having a goodly amount of feed from late oats.

Fire in New Parliament Buildings

Ottawa.—The new parliament buildings were the scene of a fire, and but for the fireproof construction a conflagration such as that of February, 1916, might have ensued. The blaze occurred in an inside room in the basement among some boxes, and the firemen had to drag their hose through corridors, etc., in order to reach the fire. The damage to property was about $2,000, but whether the dense smoke which resulted will injure any of the new painting or plaster is problematical.

PIMPLES ITCHED AND BURNED

Face Was Badly Disfigured. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

"Small red pimples and blackheads began on my face, and my face was badly disfigured. Some of the pimples festered while others scaled over and there were places where the pimples were in blotches. They used to itch and burn terribly.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura and I tried them. They stopped the itching and burning and I used four cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment which healed me." (Signed) Miss V. A. Hayne, Stormont, N. S., Dec. 26, '18.
