THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XI. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1919 No. 40

Sirdar

Capt. Crompton of Creston was a visitor here a couple of days last week sampling the duck shooting at the Landing, with excellent success.

Misses Marion Swanson and Muriel Hobden of Creston were week end visitors at Sirdar, guests of Mrs. Loasby.

The attention of Mayor Daly is called to the need of better street lighting. With extensive excavations by the Davis Construction Co. travelling is dangerous at nights just now. A well-known passenger conductor had to be rescued from one of these dugouts one night recently, the way freight crew headed by Ald. Balment forming the rescue squad.

Sidrar school looks much better, both outside and in, since it recieved a stylish new coat of paint.

Mrs. Jones of Kuskanook was a visitor here one day last week. She reports that the C.P.R. has agreed to make Kuskanook a regular port of call, and that 1920 will see the Sirdar-Kuskanook link of the transprovincial highway completed.

Mrs. Grundy has quite a list of visitors at the C.P.R. Hotel this week, including her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Simister of Alice Siding, and her sisters, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Lane of Edmonton and Macleod respectively.

Mrs. Brewis, Mrs. Loasby Mr. Loasby and Mr. Morris were Creston callers on Monday. The latter was making final returns on the Victory Loan canvass and we hear Sirdar bought about $3500 worth of the bonds.

The C.P.R. Hotel now has its own heating plant. The place has also recently been repainted. Both improvements are very much appreciated, and greatly improve the house.

The Davis Construction Co. is making fair progress on the improvements to C.P.R. property here. The foundation is in for the new water tank and also for the new turntable, the latter being unloaded here a few days ago. Work on the new roundhouse ir also pretty well along.

Owing to the improvements under way at the schoolhouse Sunday evening English Church service was held at the dining room at the C.P.R. Hotel and was well attended. Mr. J. Davis presided at the organ, and the musical service was enhanced by the vocal numbers by Mr. E. Skryme.

Alice Siding

E. Jackson, who has been holding down his recently acquired ranch near W. Barraclough's, left this week for Kitchener, where he will spend the next few months in the Paulson Co. employ.

Morgan Pease left on Sunday on a short holiday trip with friends in Nelson.

The past couple of weeks has seen considerable activity in the moving line. Tom Ross has come to Alice Siding to reside, taking the house at the rear of the A. Miller ranch. Mrs. McConeh and family have moved from the Todd place th the former Divine residence, while T. Trevelyan now occupies the Compton cottage lately vacated by Mr. Summers.

Cecil and Jacky Moore are reported to have taken a contract from the Wynndel box factory to cut and skid about 200,000 feet of logs on the B. Palmer place this winter, and will start operations very shortly.

Dick and Jack Smith seem to be having better luck than ever this season at goose shooting. Up to the end of last week they had taken about a dozen birds each

Cattle owners are getting more than anxious as to the whereabouts of a number of young stock has not been seen since being taken to the hills early this summer. From this section about 20 animals are as yet unaccounted for, fifteen of which belong to one party.

Alice Siding folks took up almost $2000 of Victory Loan bids slightly more than a year ago, though hardly as much as was looked for by committin charge at Creston. Ranchers hereabouts are holding their money to put into needed improvements of various sorts.

Local students at the Kootenay Business College at Nelson made quite a name for Alice Siding on Friday afternoon last when at an old-time spelling match Harry Farrel was the only student who went through the contest without a misspelled word, while Miss Bertha Pease was the very last to be counted out for bad spelling.

Wynndel

Cecil Moore, who has been employed here all season, has gone back to Alice Siding at which point he will take out 200.000 feet of logs on contract for the Wynndel Box Factory.

Tom and Nels. Ramstad were looking up friends here last week, prior to their starting on a trip to the old home in Norway, where they will remain for the winter. Since early fall they have been working at Kitchener.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hagen got away on Wednesday on a trip to Spokane, where they will visit friends for a few days.

The staff of employees of Winlaw & Son have about deserted Wynndel. They are now getting ready for bush operations on the firm's limits in the Erickson country,

A dance is announced for Saturday night at the clubhouse, to which the usual hearty welcome is extended all to attend.

D. J. Dewar reports the sale of Victory Bonds in this section close to $3000. This is rather less than a year ago, due entirely to the fact that ranchers are preparing to invest their surplus cash in irrigation systems and other improvements.

Monrad Wigen has a small crew of men working up Duck Creek taking out some timber he has purchased there.

Local and Personal

Mrs. M. J. Boyd was a week-end visitor with friends in Kitchener.

Mr. and Mrs. Beninger arrived from Weyburn, Sask., this week, and will spend some time with the latter's perents, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron.

The mild weather with rain that has prevailed the past week has enabled ranchers to resume fall work, and a number of them are busy ploughing.

Mrs. St.Jean has resigned at secetary of the Creston Women's Institute and the position for the balance of the year will be filled by Mrs. R. Thurston.

Mrs. and Miss McMahon of Port Arthur, Ont., who have spent the past month with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Speers left for home on Webnesday.

Just a few days left in which to place your order for the Christmas number of Gold Stripe. Jack Smith is the local agent and will be pleased to book your order.

Final returns on the sale of Victory Bonds show that the Valley bought $92,000 worth of these securities, representing about 200 buyers. A year ago 180 purchasers took up $48,000 worth.

The second ration of sugar the Valley has had in over two months came in yesterday, and storekeepers report a very busy day selling it out in five-pound lots. Each store got about 600 pounds.

A little extra prosperity is in evidence this week, due to the fact that Secretary Constable has mailed the cheques covering the prizes won at this year's fall fair. About $400 was disbursed.

Prizes for the hard times masquerade which is billed for Friday, Nov. 28th, may be seen in the drugstore window. It will be held in the Peekin theatre, with dancing to start at 8 p.m. $1.50 per couple.

Mr. Obrey of Cardston, Alta., arrived here on Saturday with a carload of milch cows, which he is disposing of in the Valley. There are eighteen head of them. He is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. C. Olsen.

CARD of THANKS—The Sisters of Charity of St. Eugene Hospital, Cranbrook, wish to express their sincere thanks to the citizens of Creston Valley, who so generously contributed fresh fruits for the hospital.

Owing to the inability of outside speakers to get here the Forward Movement public meetings announced for this week in the Presbyterian Church had to be cancelled. They will probably stand over now until January.

CATTLE FOR SALE—Thoroughbred registered Shorthorn bull. 5 young cows, first or second calf. 6 eighteen-months old heifers. 5 spring calves. Will sell in one lot. Arrangements could be made for wintering them if desired. John W. Williams (Summit Creek), Creston.

Sold $92,000.00 Victory Bonds

Approximately 200 buyers with $92,000 worth of bonds taken is the rather tidy showing the Creston Valley made in the Victory Loan 1919 which closed on Saturday night, after a three-weeks' selling campaign, during which time all points in the Valley were vigorously canvassed for buyers of these excellent securities.

As compared with 1918 bond sales this year's buying is rather remarkable. A year ago there were about 180 buyers whose average was $266 per buyer, while for 1919 the average works out at $460 per buyer. Following is a statement of the bonds sold in the different denominations:

$ 50	Bonds	54
100	"	60
200	"	21
300	"	10
400	"	6
500	"	29
700	"	1
1000	"	16
1500	"	1
2000	"	4
3000	"	1

At the start of the campaign the local central committee worked out a quota for each canvassing disrrict, and it is satisfactory to know that with 1 exceptions all of them went away over the top, with speeial mention due Kitchener where Messrs. McGonegal and McCowan between them wrote up in the neighboroood of $8000. Honorable mention is due Lister, also, where Messrs. Stone and Layton rolled up a total sale of well over $3000, while W. H. Morris was not far short of again placing Sirdar in the $5000 class despite the fact that there was no "outside" capital available as in 1918.

And speaking of outside capital reminds that very little of it was secured at any of the points in the district. Traveller Binns was nicked for $400, while C. R. Walker, the urbane circulation getter for the Nelson Daily News, demonstrated that paper's interest in all Kootenay, by swelling Creston's quota by the purchase of a fairly good sized bond.

Another noteworthy feature of the selling is that fully 90 per cent. of the bonds were paid for spot cash, very few being taken on the five months' payment plan, and practically none at all on the ten months pay scheme.

That great things were expected of Creston Valley is evidenced in the quota of $50,000 which was fixed for here. Last year with a half billion loan being floated this section was only asked for $40,000. In 1919 with a floatation of only $300,000,000 the Valley quota was raised a matter of $10,000 instead of being lowered in proportion to the lesser amount asked from all Canada. Kaslo which was asked for $40,000 1918 was only asked for the same amount this year.

While the splendid success of the effort is in the last analysis due to the exceptionally liberal buying by the general public, it is not putting it too strong to say that from Chairman Henderson down the loan was handled here by the best squad of canvassers that could possibly be chosen—as the result amply indicates, and which is also revealed in the uniform satisfactory showing on the individual canvassers returns made to headquarters. Nor are we too modest to insist that the full page advertising space used in The Review was also a contributing factor to the success of the loan locally. On the returns it is made apparent that after the appearance of the first of the two advts. bond sales were speeded up wonderfully.

The Prince of Wales flags awarded all districts achieving their quota came to hand on Saturday, but there are still four crests to come for it, a crest being awarded for every 25 per cent. of bonds sold in excess of the quota.

The alien enemy internment camp at Vernon is being made use of for a new purpose at present. Last week eleven Bolsheviks were landed there to await the conclusion of deportation proceedings.

Filling His Own Shoes

HENRY C. ROWLAND

Strong, supple, quick of thought and action, he raged like a young wolf beset by a pack of clumsy curs, and when presently his bayonet was torn from its fixtures he gripped the piece by the muzzle and lashed about him like a blond demon.

Then suddenly the moon gashed its way through the black curtain of cloud, and Ruggles saw vaguely that he had to do with but two of his enemies—the one a squat creature muffled to the chin in rags, the other an officer. Screaming with the hope of despair, he sprang upon the former, struck his weapon aside, and dashed the butt of his rifle into the swarthy face. And then, as he flung himself upon the other, the moonlight struck upon the face of his antagonist, and Ruggles gave a cry of recognition. It was the Balkan gentleman to whom he had sold a pair of shoes in the Paris store.

"I know you!" he roared. "I'll send you where you won't need any bunion stretcher!"

The wavering call of Turkish bugles was borne down pulsating on the flaws of the gusty wind. There came a rattle of rifle fire, cries of "Allah! Allah!" and the rush of many feet. Ruggles did not hear. The moon blazed on his pallid face as he lay unconscious across the body of his late client, the Bulgarian gentleman.

CHAPTER XI.

On the sunny terrace of what had formerly been a royal palace on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, an old man, with snowy hair and beard and a skin the color of antique ivory, reclined upon the silken cushions of his chaise-longue and listened with quiet pleasure to the verses of Swinburne which were being read aloud by his companion:—

"The storm-winds of ages
Blow through me and cease,
The war-wind that rages,
The spring wind of peace—"

There was a delicately perfumed spring wind wafting from Therapia across the Straits, and Colonel Hamid Pasha prayed that it might be fraught with peace. No one glancing at the sere and yellow skin stretched like parchment over the lofty, benevolent features of the old man could doubt but that it would at least bring peace to him, for the coming change was written plainly there, and the dark, luminous eyes held that expression of slightly troubled curiosity sometimes to be seen in the eyes of a dying man or a prospective mother whose hour is upon her. Yet they were serene, for the old Ottoman had been true to his God, his country, and himself, and felt that he had naught to fear.

"Read the 'Super Flumina Babylonis,' my son," said he. "I recall a stanza which has frequently been expressed in our poetry:—

"'On the mountains of memory, by the world's wellsprings,
In all men's eyes,
Where the light of the life of him
is on all past things,
Death only dies.'"

At his elbow, Ruggles turned the pages of the beautiful copy of Swinburne's "Songs Before Sunrise," which an English friend of Hamid Pasha, who knew the old Ottoman's love of poetry, had sent him from the limited edition. Like his host, Ruggles was propped in his chair with many cushions of silk and embroidery, and rare Bokhara and Rhodes. A crutch lay at his side, and one foot was still enveloped in bandages. Ruggles was never to mount his wheel again, for a Bulgarian bullet had so shattered his ankle that only the skill of Lord Pembroke had prevented amputation, and the young man was destined to limp for the rest of his life. This wound, with three others, he had received in his desperate defense of Colonel Hamid Pasha.

Ruggles found the desired poem and read it slowly in his clear, pleasant voice. It is a rather curious fact that the vocal tones of the Turks are more similar to those of English-speaking people than those of any other nationality. Hamid Pasha, to whom the English and French languages were as familiar as his mother tongue, listened to the reading with quiet pleasure. Ruggles had a natural lingual facility and read with smoothness and expression. These exercises had been for several weeks a pleasant feature of their convalescence. Hamid Pasha's wound was in the liver and still open. Ruggles had all healed, but Pembroke limited his physical activity.

Ruggles read on. He had developed a love of poetry during his convalescence, and gave to his diction a lilting quality which his kindly host found most harmonious and soothing. Hamid Pasha slept very little, but of recent days he had fallen more and more into the habit of long periods of semi-somnolence, during which his body became numb while his mentality was clear and tranquil. It was the approaching dissolution between the physical and the spiritual and Hamid Pasha knew it and was glad.

Now, as Ruggles read on, the old Osmanli Turk looked out across the vivid blue of the deep-flowing Bosphorus and thought of many things. No doubt his mind dwelt most upon his religion, which was of the orthodox faith of Islam, but not bigoted, or, when all is said, particularly devout in outward demonstration. He prayed when it pleased him, and where, and the call of a muezzin from a minaret did not always bring him to his knees, for which he had been at times severely censured. Hamid Pasha was a freethinker and a man of the world. He found all religions good, and the lack of any more bestial and stupid than fraught with any especial danger of hell fire. For him God was God, and while Mohammed was his prophet, it was quite possible that he might through the ages have found need of other prophets, such as Grahma and Confuscius and Zoroaster and Jesus Christ.

Hamid Pasha was childless, and this fact had been the sorrow of his declining years. Earlier in life he had taken wives in accordance with the laws of the Koran and Ottoman social custom, but these marriages proving unfruitful, he had divorced his womenkind, amply providing for them. He was enormously rich, having inherited estates in Egypt and stock in the Suez Canal. The Egyptian property he had converted into cash, which he had invested, with prodigious subsequent profit, in the oil fields of Batoum, at that time undeveloped. Still later, he had disposed of these holdings and reinvested through his London bankers in British, African, American and other securities. Oddly enough, he was the holder of large blocks of American industrial stocks.

Hamid Pasha had never been a sensual man, but he was sensuous to the point of aestheticism. His pleasure lay in such things as the sight of his almond trees in full blossom, or the odor of the jasmine which clothed the columns surrounding his Persian fountain, whereof the basin was composed of ancient tiles, each of which would have been found worthy of a glass case in the Musee Guimet. Their traceries were partly hidden by delicate moss of a vivid green, which the gardener was permitted to remove only in certain spots.

Hamid Pasha loved also music, poetry, and the dance. To entertain guests he had sometimes brought gypsy troupes from their mahallah in Stamboul. He loved also the musical sunsets of the Bosphorus tides, and as a spectacle the mosques and minarets of Stamboul aflame in the summer sunrise with ancient Agia Sophia rearing its bulbous domes above the morning mist like bubbles of gold swelling upward from a caldron of silver. A bite into the heart of a ripe pomegranate crisp and sparkling, or a fish taken from the deep, cold waters of the Bosphorus where it lapped the wall of his estate, marked the extreme of his pleasure as a gourmet. Heavy foods he abominated, as he did also alcohol, tobacco, and other noxious poisons, with all forms of gross, physical indulgence.

Keen of intelligence, learned, fearless in battle as a Bashi-Bazouk, gentle in his household, a poet at heart, and a man of deep, broad, fundamental religion—such was Hamid Pasha.

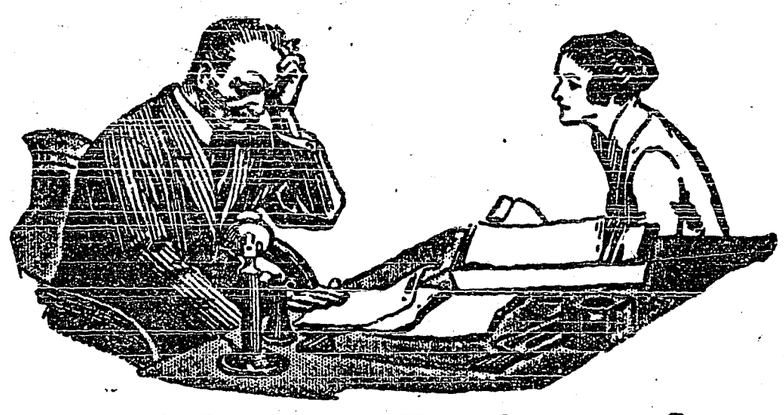
GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds — one day is warm, the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mother's best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.



Old Age Deferred

BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

Business men who must speed up the works and make business boom during these days—after the war—must recognize the necessity of keeping fit. When mind is befogged, when you have dull headaches or feel logy, when not "up to snuff," keep the bowels free with a mild laxative. In the morning take a tepid sponge bath (cold water may be used if it does not chill), follow with a brisk rub down; a sufficient "setting up" exercise in good air until you are in a warm glow. Have you tried it lately?

Don't let the poisons accumulate in the intestines either, but try a dose of castor oil the first thing on arising, or a pleasant laxative occasionally, such as one made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, rolled into a tiny sugar-coated pill, and sold in every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Then a cup of hot water before breakfast, and you'll feel better than a king! If you continue in life thus, you can pass a Life Insurance examination at sixty.

If you wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if you want to increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of soft (rain) or distilled water daily between meals. Then procure at the drug store Dr. Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid). This "Anuric" drives the uric acid out and relieves backache and rheumatism, as well as kidney trouble. Anuric dissolves uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWING INFLUENZA

Strength Can Only Be Regained By Enriching the Blood

Following a widespread epidemic of influenza, general debility is on the increase, and its effects may be noticed in the worn, listless appearance of so many of the men and women you meet. Influenza always leaves behind it impaired vitality, and with the modern conditions of life, that use up nerve force so rapidly, general debility becomes one of the most common maladies. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present. There is poor digestion, langour, weak, aching back, wakefulness at night, often distressing headaches and a feeling of fatigue. These symptoms indicate impure and impoverished blood. It is significant of nearly every attack of influenza that it is followed by anaemia and debility.

For all such run-down conditions, new blood is the most reliable cure. Sufferers should at once begin to make thin blood rich and red with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under a fair treatment with this medicine, they will realize more and more the health-restoring influence of good, rich blood, and how this new blood brings a feeling of new strength and increased vitality. Proof is given in the case of Mrs. G. Robertson, Wingham, Ont., who says: "When the Spanish influenza spread over our town I happened to be one of the first attacked, and the attack was a very severe one, and, worse still, the after-effects of the trouble left me in continuous misery. I had severe pains in my side, felt low-spirited, and with no ambition whatever. My head ached almost continually, my eyes felt heavy, and pimples broke out on my face. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for a time I felt like my old self, able to do my housework, and feeling well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the serious after effects of influenza, as I am sure they will restore all sufferers to good health."

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Miller's Worm Powders attack worms in the stomach and intestines at once, and no worm can come in contact with them and live. They also correct the unhealthy conditions in the digestive organs that invite and encourage worms, setting up reactions that are most beneficial to the growth of the child. They have attested their power in hundreds of cases and at all times are thoroughly trustworthy.

Restore French Railways

The Petit Parisien says that during a recent trip of Albert Claveille, minister of public works, to the devastated regions he learned of the excellent results being made in repairs to the railway system and the roads. Thirty-three thousand kilometres of destroyed track have been almost completely restored, and of 48,000 kilos of devastated roads 12,000 kilos have already been repaired.

The Same Here

This has been a year of apologies for us. First we had to tender an apology for our spring frost which did some damage to the fruit flowers Later on came the drought. Then we had high winds which brought down a lot of apples. Finally came the stiff October breeze and the heavy snowfall of early November.

The sunny Okanagan is not what it used to be, sighs the old-timer who remembers the days ten and fifteen years ago when he wandered around in his shirt sleever in the middle of January.

But even with all our set backs this season we have enjoyed a fairly prosperous year and most of the fruit ranchers will have respectable bank balances by December 31. If the Okanagan can do as well in the face of untoward circumstances, what may we expect with a change of fortune? Let us hope that Nature will smile on us all the way through 1920 and our orchardists will then show the country a thing o· two.—Penticton Herald.

Too late for last week.

News reached here this week of the wedding of Miss Violet Chambers, formerly of Canyon City, to Mr. V, D. Sullivan of Cranbrook. The young couple will reside at Cranbrook.

Several deer have been seen close around, but Earl Carver and Clarence Maxwell are the only two who have bagged any to date.

The mill is again running at full capacity, with an ample supply of men, several being turned away for lack of bunkhouse accommodation.

Andy Wickholm has rejoined his family at the ranch here, and intends to stay foa the winter.

Mr. Rhodes and Milt Beam are with a hunting party at Paulson's mill, but though camped there for almost two weeks we have not heard of them having any great run of luck at deer taking.

Mrs. Arthur Pochin, who has been delayed in England because of the difficulty of getting passage has now booked to sail on Nov. 15th. Mrs. Pochin, sr., is returning with her.

Fernie has an outbreak of mumps of a mild sort. Over 100 children are detained from school on account of them, and three of the rooms are closed for want of pupils.

If the present early winter lasts out till its usual length patrons of the Cranbrook skating rink will get their moneys worth on season tickets this winter. The tickets cost $3.50.

NEWS OF KOOTENAYS

Trail city council had only $5,500 to invest in Victory Bonds this year.

The moving picture theatre at Greenwood has again gone out of business.

During the cold snap last week Cranbrook had it 12 below zero a couple of mornings.

This year the cannery at Penticton put up 23,000 cases of soft fruits and about 8000 cases of apples.

Fernie skating rink opened for the season on the 12th—the earliest opening date in the city's history.

At the swell Incola hotel at Penticton they now have an orchestra to supply music for the Sunday dinner.

Owing to the difficulty of getting material to work on the concentrator at Kaslo has been forced to close down.

Last year Cranbrook curling club had a membership of 80. This season a drive will be made to secure at least 125.

The early part of November saw the sugar famine acute at Vernon, and hotels and boarding houses were forced to use the brown variety for the first time.

Kaslo Red Cross is still carrying on, devoting its energies to sending all sarts of supplies to the sanitarium at Balfour.

Vernon housewives are paying 95 cents a dozen for strictly fresh eggs—the highest price hen fruit ever fetched in that city.

At Trail with the exception of one purchaser bond buyers were all below the $3000 sort. Bushels of the $50 kind were marketed.

Trail had eight births, one marriage and no deaths during October. Of the new arrivals six were prospective smeltermen and two stenographers.

For the five years it was in active operation the Kaslo Red Cross Society coaxed $17,000 out of the natives for the carrying on of their good work.

The Vernon News figures that the late October freeze-up will mean a loss of not less than half a million dollars to Okanagan fruit and vegetable growers.

A Pullman, Wash., sheepman has just arrived at Cranbrook with 1500 head of sheep, which he will winter in the foothills of the mountains in that section.

The Great Northern has commenced lifting steel on its branch between Grand Forks and Phoenix. Doukhobors from Brandon, Manitoba, are doing the work.

Vernon and other Okanagan points had it down to zero on the morning of the 12th. The News states that winter has set in at least a month ahead of time.

Already almost 87 per cent. of the 1919 taxes have been paid at Trail. For the last six years the showing has never been better than 84 per cent. at the end of December. At Penticton 74 per cent. of this year's dues have already come in.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrberg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Co-operation in Politics Predicted

The following article is an interesting prediction as to the solution of the political situation, by an independent, but close student of political matters:—

The result of the Ontario elections held recently have aroused Dominion-wide interest. Much conjecture prevails as to the ultimate outcome of the groups of parties elected which will necessitate a re-alignment politically before a stable Government can be formed.

The success of the Farmers' party, whereby they secured the largest group numerically, at once puts that party in a leading position and entails upon its members important responsibilities of government. There should be no valid reason why that party should not call to its aid support from other groups, and organize a Government to carry on the affairs of the Province. There is no great gulf, for instance, between the views of the average Farmer member for a mixed rural and small town constituency, and the Liberal member for a similarly comprised riding. The Provincial Legislature is a magnified county council, and, aside from extreme or faddist members, sufficient unity to carry on a stable progressive Government should not be difficult to secure.

One feature, however, that may tend to prevent getting together on the part of the Liberal and Farmer members was the attitude assumed during the contest by Hartley Dewart, K.C., the Liberal leader. There was no justification for his attacks on the Farmer candidates. They had every right to run. They practically and in principle represented Liberal and democratic viewpoints, and the results at the polls indicated that the people upheld their entrance into the political field. In these circumstances it was folly to divide the Liberal groups and to create division as between them.

Following the Ontario results, and of more particular interest in the West, is the result of the Federal by-election in Assiniboia constituency, where Hon. W. R. Motherwell was overwhelmingly defeated by O. R. Gould, the Grain Growers' candidate.

These contests should serve as a warning to those sincerely in favor of a policy of reform and fair taxation, low tariff and progressive government, of the lack of wisdom displayed in dividing the forces of those who are united in main principles. In Assiniboia, Mr. Gould has for years been an active supporter of the same principles and policies as those contended for and upheld by Mr. Motherwell. During the past ten years Mr. Gould supported and actively campaigned in behalf of the Provincial Government of Saskatchewan, of which Mr. Motherwell was a member. In 1911, Mr. Gould was an ardent supporter of Reciprocity, of which, also, Mr. Motherwell was a foremost exponent. For these reasons alone Mr. Motherwell's action in opposing him was not justified, but even had Mr. Gould been previously a Conservative, and had changed his views to conform to Liberal sentiments, the defeated candidate would still have been wrong in contesting the seat in view of the strong public sentiment which existed favoring the Grain Growers' policy and political movement.

The strength and showing of the United Farmers' movement in the East came as a surprise to all. In the Prairie Provinces the party is now thoroughly organized, and has had greater experience in political affairs, and bids fair to make every bit as great, if not a greater, showing than in the East. In these circumstances, therefore, what folly it is to divide the forces in the West largely because a very small minority of old-time Liberals will not, for purely partizan reasons, co-operate with the really Liberal Grain Growers' party. There are small groups of these old-time partizans in the East and West, who, largely for personal reasons, and principally because they cannot control and direct the new forces, refuse to co-operate. The rank and file Liberals, farmers or otherwise, should not tolerate this dictation or allow candidates to be foisted upon them because of these few malcontents.

The overwhelming mass of Liberals and Farmers in the West see eye to eye on main principles. Their forces should not be divided. Co-operation and harmony in political action is plain common sense if results are to be achieved. The Prairie Province Provincial Governments and the great majority of the members of the Legislatures realize the facts and heartily approve of united action. They realize that in three-cornered contests the reactionary forces may win out, since division of Liberal support ensures domination by the interests of Privilege.

The platform and aims advocated by the farmers are essentially Liberal. The majority of the better class and intelligent farmers of Canada are Liberal in their views. At present the farmers', or Grain Growers', wing of Liberalism is in the ascendant, and should receive the undivided support of sane Liberals. Since that element of Liberalism is in the majority, they have the right to assume a certain measure of control and leadership. But they are fair and reasonable and desire co-operation and support. There should, therefore, be no division, and the personal views of the few Liberal reactionaries should be disregarded. Adherence to a common-sense course of united action in the selection of well qualified candidates would ensure triumph for progressive principles at the next Federal general election.

New Way of Selling Old Furniture in Paris

Second-hand furniture dealers in Paris have thought of a profitable scheme to sell their stocks to great advantage. A flat is rented in the aristocratic quarter of the city and filled with the finer pieces of furniture. An advertisement is inserted in the dailies that an elderly woman, widowed by the war, will sacrifice her furniture in order to get enough money to return to the country of her birth.

A buyer visits the flat, the woman shows a bookcase, the price is agreed upon, but when the doors are opened a row of old school books is disclosed. The widow bursts into tears and explains that the books belonged to her son who left his studies to take up arms and was killed two months after he had left home. The prospective buyer consoles her, and to help her forget her grief pays her double the price asked.

Saskatchewan Farmers to Try for Honors at the Chicago Show

Visitors to the International Hay and Grain Exhibition to be held at Chicago in connection with the International Stock Show, November 29 to December 6, will have an opportunity of seeing some of the fine grain and other crops that are produced in Saskatchewan. The farmers in this province are arranging to send samples of wheat, oats, barley, rye and various grasses and vegetables. At the International Soil Products Exposition at Kansas City, Mo., this year Saskatchewan farmers won the sweepstakes both for wheat and oats, as well as many first and other prizes. They feel confident that they will be able to repeat these triumphs at Chicago next month.

AUTUMN

THERE is a nip in the air these mornings that must be rather sharp to the man who scrapes his chin when shaving himself.

If he used a Gillette Safety Razor, he would positively enjoy shaving every morning, he would look his best at all times, and there would be no cutting or chafing of the skin!

Furthermore, in the time he now takes to get his old razor edge as near right as he can, he could finish shaving with the Gillette.

Stropping and Honing would be a thing of the past for him. That alone is worth $5,—the price of a

"There's a Reason"

Labor Decides on Hours of Work

Washington. — After nearly five hours of constant fighting, the international labor conference adopted the 48-hour week convention of the organizing committee as a "basis for discussion." But as to exactly what that means the delegates are not agreed. Does adoption of the motion confine discussion to the application of the 48-hour week, or will amendments be admitted for a maximum eight-hour day and the 48-hour week? That is the question all sides are asking.

The vote came on a motion presented by Mr. Barnes, British government delegate, that "the draft convention prepared by the organizing committee be adopted by the conference as the basis for discussion," with reference to a special committee of matters concerning its application to tropical and other specified countries.

Originally, Mr. Barnes' motion reads: "The draft convention on the 48-hour week," but an amendment by Mr. Fontaine, French Government delegate, struck the words "48-hour week" from the motion, and, as amended, it was adopted by 55 to 2.

Mr. Rowell and Mr. Acland, Canadian Government delegates, and Mr. Parsons, Canadian employers' delegate, voted for the motion.

Mr. Draper, Canadian workers' delegate, voted against it. The other vote against it was that of Sam. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Metal Workers Of Berlin Strike

Minister of Economy Refuses to Intervene in View of Strike Order Being Issued

Berlin. — The metal workers proclaimed a general strike. The minister of economy had intended to offer mediation between the men and the employers, but he has announced that he will not intervene in view of the order to strike.

The strike is nearly general, although three thousand workers of the Siemens-Holske plant returned to their jobs. The strike is said to have been called in violation of rules in the metal workers' union, which require a two-thirds majority of the workers on a vote to decree a general strike.

Says Car Situation is Bad

Prof. W. J. Elliott Also Denounces Conditions at Calgary Stockyards

Calgary.—Describing the car situation in the province as "awful," Professor W. J. Elliott, of the U.G.G., dealt strongly with the situation at the U.F.A. secretaries convention. He also denounced the conditions at the stockyard here, stating that the yards were entirely too inadequate to handle the present business.

Discussion of the business and condition of the U.G.G. also occupied some time. Further criticism of the condition of the organization was heard, and it was stated that the financial condition of the company was none too good, and that were the company to close down now it would show a loss of a quarter of a million. Officials of the organization claimed, however, that this did not represent the true condition of the company. The opinion was strongly expressed during the session that the company should trade on the basis of a wholesale concern.

It was stated that the entire wheat crop of Alberta was about five million bushels, and officials said that the company could handle every bushel that did not go back into the ground or was fed to stock.

Plan Merging Agencies

Dominion Employment Bureau May Supplant All Others

Vancouver, B.C.—The World says: "A move is on foot to place all governmental employment agencies throughout Canada under the supervision of the department of civil reestablishment. This would mean that the Dominion employment bureaus now operated here would be operated from the S.C.R. offices under the direction of the unit commander in British Columbia, and to complete the scheme as it has been mooted the provincial authorities would be asked to come into line and merge their employment services with the soldiers' organization.

Judgment Reserved On Pork Prices

Decision of Board of Commerce on Packers' Protest Will Be Announced Shortly

Ottawa. — The decision of the Board of Commerce as to whether the price prevailing on March 10 for pork products will apply at the present time or not will be made in writing shortly. After hearing representations from the packers, who are seeking to have the board rescind its order fixing prices at the March level, Commissioners Robson, O'Connor and Murdock reserved judgment. Commissioner Murdock stated to J. S. McLean, representing the Harris Abattoir company, his firm conviction that the packers and not the farmers fixed the price of livestock. This contention Mr. McLean disputed.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder, then, that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

The supreme council discussed its own uncompleted work preparatory to deciding upon exactly what questions must be passed upon before the peace conference ends.

Fuel is Held Up

Coal Shipments From U.S. to Be Allowed Firms on Priority List

Toronto. — Although coal consigned to Canada has been held up at the border, H. A. Harrington, Ontario fuel administrator, had been advised that shipments will be permitted to come forward for industries on the priority list, which are in immediate need.

Mr. Harrington has received the following message from Washington in this connection:

"The United States Railroad administration has seized all coal on wheels, which has been sidetracked pending distribution under priority schedule. The director of purchases of the United States railroad administration will have charge of the distribution. It is essential that you get absolute proof that the preferred industries are in immediate need of coal upon receipt of which information the administration will take up the advisability of immediate release to preferred industries, according to priority list."

Enemy Delegates' Passage Arranged

Washington. — The German and Austrian delegates to the International Labor conference here having failed to obtain passage to America, the supreme council at Paris has agreed to endeavor to arrange bookings, according to a cablegram received by the conference.

Love's young dream is all right until the matrimonial alarm clock goes off and causes a rude awakening.

Washington. — Organized labor's proposal for ending the coal strike through withdrawal of injunction proceedings against officials of the United Mine Workers of America was bluntly rejected here by the department of justice.

The government's answer to the union's suggestion, advanced by Sam. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was given by Assistant Attorney-General Ames, who declared the strike in itself was a violation of the law, and that as long as it continued the only place to fight it out was in court.

The labor leaders were visibly disturbed by this refusal, and agreed with the operators on one point — that the statement of the government's position swept away all hope of immediate settlement of the strike, involving more than 400,000 soft coal miners, in twenty-eight states.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests, which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS

The Union Turnover for 1919—What it Means to Creston Valley

What Others Say About Your Business

"In talking to some of our dealers in Alberta, and also to Mr. —— of Winnipeg, they stated that the Creston Fruit Growers Union Domestic Pack is absolutely the finest pack shipped out of British Columbia. The quality cannot be excelled."

"We thank you for the treatment you have given us this year. We are very well satisfied, indeed; both as to the service you have given us as well as the quality of the stuff and consideration in every way."

"Your account has been, without exception, one of the most pleasant we have had on our books this year."

The above are extracts from letters from different firms who together handled over 75 per cent. of your total shipments, and is a good indication that your business has built up a valuable asset in the goodwill of Prairie fruit dealers that are valuable to the goodwill of your Upper and Larger in the Creston Valley. Are you doing your part in keeping this good will? Your business is worth the effort.

UNDER the present system of distributing Fruit products an efficient selling organization is the greatest asset a fruit district can have, and is absolutely essential to success.

That we possess such an asset is fully proven by the fact that the Creston Fruit Growers Union, Ltd., has this season found market for 14,000 crates of Small Fruits, 6000 crates of Plums, 2000 boxes of Crabapples; these marketed in spite of the sugar shortage, and in addition to 95 straight cars of Apples.

Out of this quantity not one pound of fruit was dumped because of sugar shortage, nor one box of apples frozen in the warehouse, or in transit.

These figures measure up big when we recall what has happened in other districts, and remember that two years ago our output of Small Fruits was 8000 packages; Plums 2400 crates; Crabapples 850 boxes; and the total Apples shipped only 24 cars.

Keep in mind, also, that this season your business has imported and distributed for your benefit $75,000 worth of supplies, which includes $50,000 worth of Flour and Feed.

We submit that the Creston Fruit Growers Union, Ltd., is a success, and as such deserves the support not only of every rancher but of every citizen in the Valley.

We submit, further, that the Union is a success solely because of the support it has received from the individual ranchers; and will continue successful only as long as it receives this support. What we have done in the past two years is nothing compared to what we will be called upon to do during the coming two seasons.

Whether your selling organization falls down or stands up under the load will depend upon the support it gets from the people.

Do not expect your employees to take a greater interest in your business than you do yourself. They depend upon the Union for their monthly wage; you depend upon it—whether you realize it or not—for your existence as a successful fruit rancher.

The time has come for expansion. We must prepare for increased export, and can just as easily—at the same time—prepare to take care of your increasing requirements. IT IS UP TO THE RANCHER.

CRESTON FRUIT GROWERS UNION, Ltd.

Now, What About this FEED Business

We looked after your needs when turnovers were slow, prices uncertain, and our time valuable in other departments. Now that turnovers are quick, prices established, and time not particularly valuable you have the opportunity given you of supporting the other fellow and letting your own employees stand idle. Remember they are not on piece work, and you pay them full time whether you let the other fellow do their work or not. Its YOUR business.

Flour sales are the life of your feed business. Purchases of Bran and Shorts are regulated by the mills according to the flour purchased. Why kill your own feed business by buying flour from your opposition.

Others advertise and, no doubt, sell flour at the same price as the Union. And they done this five years ago there would be no need for the Union to have a trading department. If you buy feed elsewhere in five years time the Union will have no trading department. Will there be need for it? Think it over!
